THE STANDARD SOUTHERN NEWSPAPER

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE

VOL. LX., No. 235. Entered at Atlanta P. O. As Second-Class Mail Matter. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928 ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA. Single Copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c. Daily and Sunday: Weekly 20c; Monthly 90c.

POLICY OF UNITED STATES IN CENTRAL AMERICA IS BITTERLY ATTACKED AT HAVANA CONFERENCE

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Governor Urges Presidential State Convention

HARDMAN FAVORS STATE DELEGATION NAMED BY PEOPLE

Governor Says That He Has Entered Into No Trade With Any Political Faction in Georgia.

DENIES AGREEMENT WITH JOHN HOLDER

Hardman Urges People To Name Delegates Who Will Fully Represent Progressive Democracy.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Governor L. G. Hardman favors the selection of Georgia delegates to the national democratic convention in a state convention to be called at an early date by the state democratic executive committee, which meets in Atlanta Saturday, February 11, he announced in a statement made public Saturday afternoon.

The governor said the people of the state should be given the opportunity of naming the state delegation through a state convention. He declared that he had entered into no trades or combinations of any kind with any other political factions in Georgia, either as regards the state delegation or in regards to a race for re-election as governor.

Discussing a rumor printed in a Georgia newspaper to the effect that "Governor Hardman, having laid off of John Holder as chairman of the highway board, Holder will now lay off Hardman for re-election," the governor denied emphatically that he had made any trade of any kind with the Holder forces. He said he had complied with the law in appointing a successor to Holder and that the responsibility for Holder's continuance in office rests on the shoulders of the members of the Georgia state senate.

"A great deal has been said about the manner in which the delegates to the democratic national convention shall be selected," the governor said. "As far as I am concerned, I am willing to leave it to the people and let the people elect their delegates through a convention called by the state committee. The delegates then should be governed by the wishes of the people as then expressed."

The governor said he was upholding the principles which were fought out and won in the campaign of 1926 in Georgia. He said he had not and would not enter any trade or combination which would in any manner compromise the principles he advocated in 1926 campaign.

"The issues championed by me were efficiency and economy in governmental affairs," the governor continued. "These principles are just as important today as when they were first fought out before the people and there will be no let-up on my part to see that the entire state is free forever of designing politicians who would wreck the state for their own selfish purposes. I urge the people to enter wholeheartedly in the selection of delegates to the Houston convention who will fully represent the progressive democracy of the state."

Referring to the newspaper editorial repeating a rumor that the governor had entered into a trade with John N. Holder, his former opponent for governor, the executive denied that he had entered any kind of a trade of this nature.

Monday Is Last Day.

Monday is the last day in which candidates who desire to oppose Senator George can enter and it is virtually certain that no name other than that of the junior Georgia senator

Continued on Page 2, Column 3

WIFE ACCIDENTALLY STABBED BY KNIFE HELD BY HUSBAND

Accidentally stabbing herself Saturday night by walking into an open knife held by her husband, Mrs. Leola Brooks, of 898 McMillan street, suffered a severe wound in her abdomen, necessitating an operation at Grady hospital.

According to the story she told City Detectives J. M. Austin and H. W. Armstrong, her husband was talking to two friends in the living room of their home about 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, and was holding an open pocket knife in his hand. He did not see her approach, she said, and without noticing the knife she walked against it.

At Grady hospital she requested that no case be made against her husband, stating that the stabbing was an accident.

Marion Wolff Named Film Contest Winner

FAMOUS STARS ACT AS JUDGES

Photo by Winn's Studio.

MISS MARION WOLFF.

BY ELMO HAMBY.

Miss Marion Wolff, beautiful and prominent figure in Atlanta's youngest social set has been pronounced winner of The Constitution and Howard theater's $200 prize contest to select an Atlanta-written film synopsis for an all-Atlanta movie to be presented by local talent at the Howard theater week of February 13.

The judges, Clara Bow, Adolphe Menjou, Bebe Daniels and George Bancroft, after carefully examining a group of ten manuscripts sent them by the local judges as the best of the hundreds submitted, wired back the verdict, and the telegram is reproduced with this story.

Miss Wolff is the daughter of Mrs. Bernard Wolff, of 38 Peachtree place, and a granddaughter of the late Judge George Hillyer, one of the most brilliant and distinguished jurists in the south, and for many years a member of the Georgia railroad commission.

She is a naitve Atlantan and is a student of play-writing under Dr. James E. Routh, dean of the school of literature of Oglethorpe university. She is a graduate of Washington seminary, and has become quite prominent in a histrionic way, due to her appearance in productions of the Oglethorpe Players club, of which she is a member. She was one of the featured players in "Petrel Follies," which

Continued on Page 2, Column 4

MAN SLAYS GIRL THEN ENDS LIFE; JEALOUSY HINTED

Prominent Georgia Merchant Shoots Woman Five Times; No Eyewitnesses to Double Killing.

Whigham, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—T. W. Swicord, a leading merchant of this town, otday shot and killed Miss Arizona Proctor, owner and operator of the local telephone exchange, and then killed himself. The murder and suicide occurred in the store of Swicord Brothers, of which firm the slayer was a member.

According to reports the young woman walked into the store, whereupon Swicord locked the door. This was followed shortly afterward by the shooting. Jealousy is said to have been the motive.

Swicord was 60 years old and unmarried. Miss Proctor was about 30. Swicord had been showing her attentions and is said to have quarreled with her for going with another man.

There were no eye witnesses to the tragedy. A policeman on duty nearby heard the shot and rushed to the front of the store. Through the glass he said he saw Swicord standing over Miss Proctor's prostrate form with a pistol in his hand. The officer fired through the glass at Swicord's hand in an effort to prevent Swicord from shooting the young woman again. Swicord is then said to have stepped behind the counter and blown his brains out with the last bullet in the pistol.

Though Miss Proctor was alive when the doors of the store were broken down and persons attacted by the pistol fire rushed in, she made no statement before dying so far as could be learned.

Miss Proctor resided here with her mother, Mrs. Zimmie Proctor. Some time ago she purchased the local telephone exchange and had been successfully operating it ever since.

Surviving Swicord are three brothers, S. B. Swicord, Joe Swicord and B. S. Swicord, and one sister, Mrs. Ivy Brinson, at whose home Swicord boarded.

Garden Hills Battle Scene Of Signboards

Fight Goes to Courts as Signs Go Up and Come Down Just as Quickly.

Three substantially built signboards at the Rumson road entry to Garden Hills, has been going up and coming down as rapidly as the flash and vanish of electric ads on the city skyline.

While civic clubs have deplored their erection, the bobbing billboards have proved more amenable to crowbars in the hands of negro workmen.

Twice last week they were placed in position, and three times thrown down again.

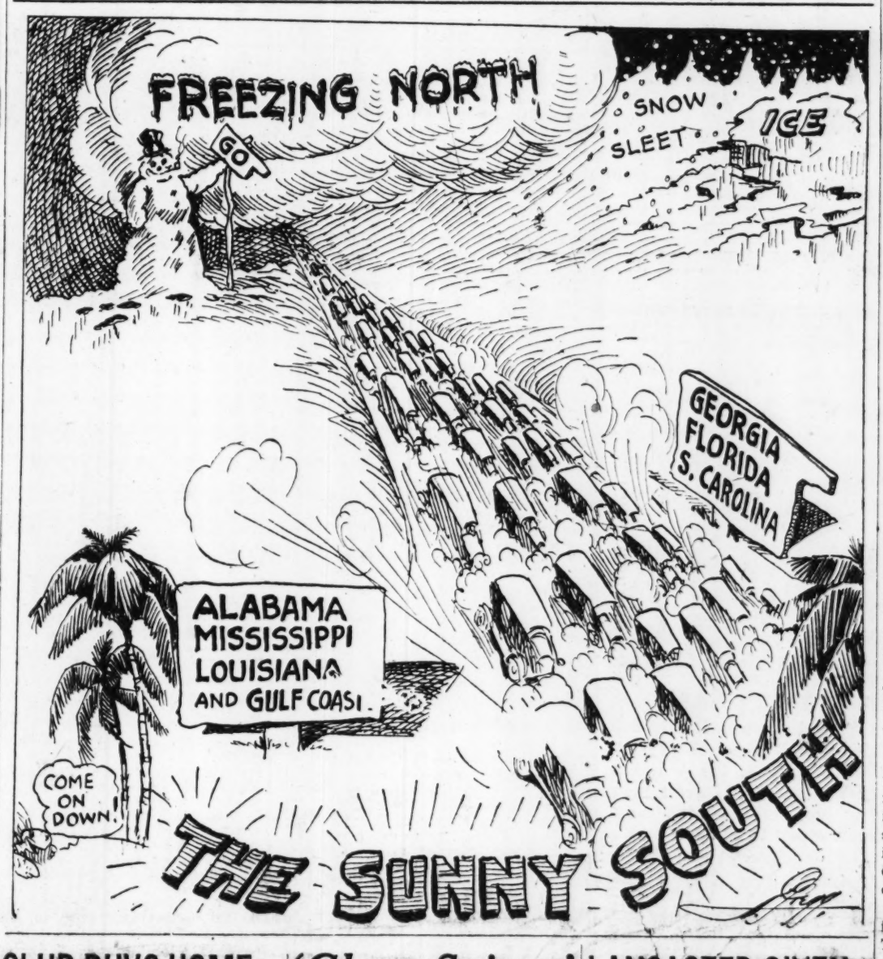

The Munn Sign and Advertising company wants them up, the Garden Hills, Inc., wants them down.

No sooner had the Munn crew driven the last nail in a brand new billboard Monday than the Munn lawyers procured a superior court injunction ordering all hands off the sign. But before the sheriff's office could serve the papers the brand-new signboard had kissed the ground.

Then the anti-signboard faction got a cross-bill prohibiting the Munn interests from rebuilding on the old site.

With the hands of both parties legally bound, the matter will go before Judge E. E. Pomeroy in Fulton superior court Friday for settlement.

The Ever-Increasing Stream!

CLUB BUYS HOME ON PONCE DE LEON

Standard Club, Leading Jewish Organization, Acquires Armstrong Property for Quarters.

Reports of purchase of the large home and property of Harold R. Armstrong, at 396 Ponce de Leon avenue, N. E., by the Standard club, to be used as new quarters of the prominent Jewish club, were disclosed Saturday. The Armstrong home is valued at $60,000, and, according to plans of the club, is to be extensively remodeled with construction of a large ballroom as an addition on the rear and tennis courts and a swimming pool to be built in back of the residence. A stockholders' meeting of the club is to be held some time this month to ratify the action of its committee.

The deal is one of the largest transactions for a clubhouse to be negotiated in some time. It involves the acquisition of large and handsome quarters on the north side for members of the Standard club, a move that has been afoot since the old quarters of the Standard club at 314 Washington street were considered to be inadequate by the members.

Space for Additions.

The new home is situated on a site large enough to provide any needed additions to the club, the lot measuring 200 feet on Ponce de Leon avenue and extending back 450 feet. The lot, located in the heart of a prominent north side residential section, is improved with a three-story and basement brick structure, containing 13 commodious rooms, suitable for a club. The residence is on the north side of the avenue, just opposite the Ponce de Leon termination of Hunt street. In addition to the big Armstrong residence, the lot is improved with a garage for four automobiles and a servants' house.

According to the terms of the transaction, it is understood that the present club quarters were given as part consideration on purchase of the Arm-

Continued on Page 6, Column 3

'Ghost Sniper' Baffles Police In New Jersey

"Shoot Him on Sight" Order Issued Searchers for Maniac Gunman.

Camden, N. J., February 4.—(United News.)—The "Ghost Sniper" was ordered "shot on sight" today after the 16th appearance of the maniac with the Maxim silencer nearly added a White Horse Pike motorist to the victims who had been wounded by his noiseless gunfire.

The experience of Harry Cheesman, of Magnolia, increased apprehension of residents of Camden and vicinity, which has been mounting for a month. Like other victims of the Sniper, Cheesman was unable to give a reason for the attack. It occurred within two blocks of the Haddon Heights police station.

Driving Along Street.

"I was driving north when the lights of another automobile blinded me," said Cheesman. "I slowed down to avoid a collision. The bullet then crashed through the windshield. By the time I had stopped the other car was gone."

Pedestrians, motorists and persons standing by lighted windows have been fired on by the Sniper. Their first warning has always been the crash of glass or the sting of a steel-jacketed bullet.

Three of the Sniper's targets have been wounded since the police admitted that apparently a maniac was at large and kept count of the almost nightly incidents.

LANCASTER GIVEN 10 TO 20 YEARS

Atlanta Attorney Found Guilty of Charges Brought by Young Woman; New Trial Sought.

Guilty with a recommendation for mercy was the verdict returned at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon against Carl Lancaster, Atlanta attorney, accused of a serious offens by a young woman, in Fulton superior court. Punishment was fixed at from 10 to 20 years. Defense counsel, which had waived Lancaster's presence, gave Judge E. D. Thomas notice they would file motion for a new trial.

Formal sentence will be passed on Lancaster when the court convenes Monday morning, the judge said.

Following a four-day hearing the case reached the jury at 11 o'clock Friday night; immediately afterward the jury retired for the night. They resumed deliberation at 9 o'clock Saturday morning and reached a verdict only after returning during the day for a second charge from the judge.

Boykin Leads Prosecution.

The prosecution was directed by Solicitor General John A. Boykin, while the leading defense attorney was Paul Etheridge, Fulton county commissioner. The entire trial was fiercely contested, and marked by some of the sharpest legal tilts in the history of the Atlanta bar.

Lancaster was at liberty under a justice of peace warrant for several days following the alleged offense, on January 9, but voluntarily surrendered at the Fulton tower when jurisdiction in the case was transferred from the lower to the county court.

Held without bond, a preliminary hearing was set for the municipal court of Atlanta, this being called off when the grand jury indicted Lancaster one day before the scheduled arraignment. A few days later he was denied bond following a hearing before Judge Thomas.

3 YOUNG BANDITS HALT AUTOMOBILE AND ROB TWO MEN

Three youthful white bandits, two clad in lumberjacks and the third in his shirt sleeves, early Saturday night leaped upon a running board of a light coupe occupied by J. W. Setze, Jr., of 155 Prado, and C. A. Griffin, of 737 Myrtle street, as the car neared the intersection of Techwood drive and Fowler street, and robbed them of some small change and their gold watches, police were told.

Two of the bandits had black-jacks in their hands and commanded Setze to stop his car. The trio of bandits worked quickly and disappeared in the darkness.

Call Officers W. D. Wallace and W. M. Holland were furnished a description of the trio, who didn't appear to be more than 16 years old.

Skin Writing Test On Hickman Aids Defense Attorneys

SCHOOL CONTRACT MEETING CALLED

Award of $723,714 worth of school contracts, representing additions for the Bass, Brown and O'Keefe Junior high schools, will be considered at a special called session of the Atlanta board of education at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, it was learned Saturday night.

Recommendations of the contact committee of the board and the school contact committee of the Atlanta bond commission were made Friday night at an executive session of the two bodies and will be transmitted to the board Tuesday.

Following action of the board, they will be forwarded to the bond commission for approval and then will go to city council and the mayor for approval.

Low figures for the contracts, which will be offered at the board session, will exceed the estimate of the administration department by $73,714, the amount tentatively set up being $650,000.

It was learned late Saturday night that the contact bodies have recommended individual bids on electrical work which place the total figure at $53,938.59, while the consolidated

Continued on Page 6, Column 5

Dramatic Experiment in Courtroom Fails To Be Entire Success for Prosecution.

Hall of Justice, Los Angeles, Calif., February 4.—(AP)—An expert's attempt today literally to write on the skin of William Edward Hickman proof of the sanity of the confessed killer of Marian Parker provided the youth's defense with the claim that by this test at least his insanity had been established.

Dr. Paul E. Bowers, prosecution alienist, stated on the witness stand that "dermatographia," or skin writing, would show whether Hickman's skin was in the condition which would necessarily be present if his mind was affected, as claimed by the defense.

Standing in the middle of the court room Hickman, obviously embarrassed, was stripped to the waist and the experiment tried. On the prisoner's back and chest, Dr. Bowers drew with his thumb nail the letter "H."

How Test Was Made.

If the skin condition of insanity were present, said the physician, the marks would remain after three minutes; if not they would disappear.

Watches were produced, three minutes were ticked off and the defense

Continued on Page 6, Column 4

CHAMBER TO OPEN OFFICE IN ATLANTA

Establishment in Atlanta of headquarters for the southeast of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was announced Saturday by William Candler, a director of the national chamber and vice president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

John W. Stokes, of the headquarters offices at Washington, has been appointed district secretary, with his territory embracing all of the southeastern states, and will open his office this week in the building of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. For the next month he will devote most of his time to traveling and establishing contact with local chambers of commerce and business men who are members of the national body.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is a national organi-

Continued on Page 2, Column 6

JUDGE W. H. DAVIS DIES SUDDENLY IN WASHINGTON, GA.

Waynesboro, Ga., February 4.—(AP) Judge W. H. Davis, city court judge and one of the most prominent men in this section died at his home here late tonight.

Judge Davis was about 66 years of age. He recently resigned as president of the Mercer board of trustees. He has represented this county in both the state senate and legislature. He was president of the First National bank here and widely known in church circles.

NEW BUS COMPANY FORMED IN MERGER

Consolidation of a large number of bus lines operating out of Atlanta, into the Dixie Safety Coach Lines, Inc., involving rearrangement of schedules, expansion of passenger facilities and plans for a new bus terminal, was announced Satuqday by J. C. Steinmetz, manager of the merged lines. The merger follows the recent affiliation of the Dixie Safety Coach lines, which has been operating bus service between Atlanta and Macon, with the Motor Transit corporation, a $3,000,000 coast-to-coast passenger service company with headquarters in Chicago.

The consideration involved in the local consolidation is in excess of $100,000, including new coaches to supplement the service, Mr. Steinmetz stated. Changes in the local organization, contingent upon the merger.

Continued on Page 2, Column 4

LEADERS OPPOSE VIEWS OF HUGHES ON INTERVENTION

Ex-Secretary of State Is Objective of Indignation at Times Violently Sarcastic.

CUBAN RALLIES TO U. S. DEFENSE

Dr. Ferrara, Ambassador to Washington, Cites History and Flays Critics of Our Policies.

Havana, February 4.—(United News.)—The first major attack on United States policy in Central America was heard by delegates to the Pan-American conference today.

It represented for the first time in the session open disagreement by leading delegates with ex-Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes. It brought the question of sovereignty of western hemisphere nations and intervention out for public debate. Finally, it caused Hughes to be the objective of indignation which at times was violently sarcastic and bitter.

Peruvian Starts Debate.

Victor Maurtua, Peruvian delegate, precipitated the argument when he read an official secretarial report urging declaration by the conference that states, although having the right to independence, must respect the rights of others while holding that independence.

Maurtua's resolution was made before the international law committee. There was a noticeably tense atmosphere as the delegates assembled. The declaration held no mention of intervention but it was taken as a defense of United States intervention in other American republics by leading delegates to the conference, all of them quickly anxious to gain recognition of the chairman. Honorario Pueyrredon, president of the delegation from Argentina, and last Saturday a colleague of Hughes in opposition to a somewhat similar though less drastic move by Mexican delegates, today put himself on record immediately as against the Maurtua move.

Gustavo Guerrera, Salvador's delegate, demanded that Maurtua's proposal be put aside as a new project already had been handled by a jurists' meeting in Rio de Janeiro.

Hughes Makes New Plea.

"I am not discussing Senor Maurtua's report," said Guerrera, "because it projects another matter into discussion, whereas we are supposed to be discussing the Rio de Janeiro code, not new projects."

Hughes opened the plea to adopt Maurtua's new resolution. In an eloquent speech he called it a "magna charta" of the American republics. When he had finished, and the opposition had been heard, he stood alone in defense of the Peruvian delegate's motion. Honduran and Uruguayan delegates announced, however, that

Continued on Page 2, Column 3

The Weather

CLOUDY.

Washington—Forecast:

Georgia—Cloudy, followed by rain in interior Sunday night; Monday probably rain, not much change in temperature.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature	65
Lowest temperature	47
Mean temperature	56
Normal temperature	44
Rainfall in past 12 hours, in.	.00
Deficiency since 1st of month, in.	.72
Deficiency since Jan. 1, in.	2.83
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, in	2.83

	7 a.m.	N'n.	7 p.m.
Dry temperature	47	61	62
Wet bulb	44	53	54
Relative humidity	76	58	57

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature 7 p.m.	Temperature High	Rain 12 hrs Ins.
ATLANTA, cloudy	62	65	.00
Augusta, pt cloudy	62	72	.00
Birmingham, cloudy	64	68	.00
Boston, cloudy	50	54	.00
Buffalo, cloudy	38	44	T
Charleston, clear	58	64	.00
Chicago, cloudy	38	48	.24
Denver, cloudy	54	62	.00
Des Moines, cloudy	42	50	.02
Galveston, part cloudy	62	64	.48
Hatteras, clear	56	66	.00
Havre, clear	30	38	.00
Jacksonville, pt. cldy.	60	70	.00
Kansas City, rain	38	60	.04
Memphis, rain	60	68	T
Miami, cloudy	72	74	.00
Mobile, cloudy	62	70	.00
Montgomery, cloudy	66	72	.00
New Orleans, cloudy	66	72	.00
New York, cloudy	48	52	.00
North Platte, clear	52	62	.00
Oklahoma City, clear	62	72	.00
Phoenix, cloudy	68	70	.02
Pittsburgh, rain	50	56	.02
Raleigh, clear	58	68	.00
San Francisco, clear	56	60	.01
St. Louis, rain	54	54	.78
Salt Lake City, cloudy	46	50	T
Savannah, part cloudy	58	70	.00
Tampa, clear	70	78	.00
Toledo, rain	44	48	.48
Vicksburg, rain	62	66	T
Washington, cloudy	56	52	.00

C. F. von HERRMANN, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

Largest Home Delivered Circulation in Atlanta

Complete City and Suburban Circulation
Largest of Any Daily Paper in Atlanta

HUSBAND IS FOUND GUILTY OF SLAYING

Purvis, Miss., February 4.—(AP)—Jack Hartfield, 25, farmer, was found guilty by a jury in Lamar county circuit court here tonight of the murder of his 26 year old wife, and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

His attorneys declined to state whether an appeal would be taken. Hartfield, the prosecution charged, early on the morning of last January 4, crushed his wife's skull with an ax during an argument, wrapped the body in tar paper and burned the body on a funeral pyre of pine knots in his cabin, saturated with kerosene.

Charges Home Burned.

Neighbors of the couple found the charred remains in the ruins of the Hartfield home and the husband, who claimed the house caught fire while he went to a spring for water, disclaimed any connection with the woman's death.

J. H. Logan, father of Mrs. Hartfield, identified a blanket introduced as a state exhibit at the trial, as one in which he claimed the defendant carried the baby of the couple out of the burning cabin.

M'LENDON'S CONDITION REPORTED UNCHANGED

S. Guyt McLendon, secretary of state, who has been confined to his room at the Henry Grady hotel with influenza since Christmas, was reported to be "about the same" late Saturday night. Mr. McLendon's attendants stated that he was conscious a large part of Saturday, and seemed to be "holding his own."

NICARAGUA REBELS FLEE SOUTHWARD

Managua, February 4.—(AP)—Evidence that the rebel general, Augustino Sandino, has quit the El Chipote region and is fleeing southward from marine corps patrols was in the hands of marine corps headquarters today.

Reports that Sandino men in considerable numbers have appeared in the vicinity of San Rafael Del Norte and Jinotega have been received. Indications are that Sandino and his remaining followers, after being forced from El Chipote and Quilali, have been moving southward. Marine corps and government officials believe that he is seeking refuge in towns in the belief that marine corps airplanes will not drop bombs on them or strafe them with machine guns.

Election Law Deadlocked.

Scout airplanes returning from the vicinity of Quilali and El Chipote today reported there were no signs of rebels in the department of Nueva Segovia. This kind of report has been received almost daily since Sandino's evacuation of El Chipote and its occupation by marines.

The electoral law designed to provide American supervision of the October presidential elections still is deadlocked in congress and will not be taken up until Tuesday when congress reconvenes after the week-end. The antagonism of conservatives toward the bill is still unchanged. If anything, feeling against it has grown stronger. Supporters of the bill state, however, that it will be passed.

Dry Chief Dies.

Boston, February 4.—(AP)—William J. McCarthy, former prohibition director for New England, dropped dead of heart disease as he walked into the Emergency hospital at Washington, D. C., today to apply for treatment, according to word received here tonight.

Criminals 'Talk' When Given 'Tear Bomb' Test by Police

:: NEW METHOD SUCCESSFUL IN CHICAGO ::

Chicago, February 4.—(United News.)—Third degree by tear gas has been tested and found effective by police here, it was learned today.

It has virtually supplanted other third degree methods, it was understood. Police officials refused officially to verify the use of tear gas, but poor ventilation in the Cook county jail gave away the new system. The gas leaked from the room where it was being used, and set husky policemen and sheriff's deputies to wiping their eyes.

A prisoner who refuses to talk is led into a vault and his hands are fastened behind him. A small quantity of tear gas is released, and the police retire.

A few minutes later, the prisoner is taken out with tears streaming down his face. The combination of smarting eyes and tears, it was said, reduces the morale of the prisoner more effectively than any of the old third degree methods.

GOVERNOR WOULD NAME DELEGATES

Continued From First Page.

will be presented to the state democratic executive committee at its meeting June 11 in Atlanta.

With the virtual certainty of the Georgia delegation being instructed to vote for Senator George for the presidency, the questions which now seem to be attracting widespread interest relate to how the delegation is to be selected and as to what candidate will get the support of the Georgia delegation in the event that Senator George is eliminated as a serious candidate in the early balloting.

Some political leaders have declared that the state democratic executive committee should be allowed to name the delegation to the Houston convention. Others express themselves as being willing for Chairman G. E. Maddox, of the state committee, to name the delegates. Still others declare that the truly democratic way of selecting a delegation is to call a state convention for this purpose and permit the county executive committees to name the delegates to the state convention.

In view of the surprising harmony that exists among the democrats on the face of the situation, the first suggestion that the state committee be allowed to name the delegation was expected to prove popular, but for some reason or other rumblings of discontent have recently been voiced in the weekly press of the state.

"Everything is too harmonious," is the curt way one man put it.

Harmony Causes Surprise.

Those familiar with the stormy days of previous presidential years in Georgia are unquestionably surprised at the "harmony" that is existing and some of them want to know what it all means, anyway. It is virtually certain that few democrats in Georgia are really opposed to Senator George for the nomination and he undoubtedly will get the solid support of the Georgians of all factions and creeds at the Houston convention, but many democrats who have visited the capitol in the last few weeks and who are considered leaders in their sections are asking pointedly the question what candidate the delegation will support in the event Senator George is eliminated.

A prominent south Georgia politician and supporter of Governor Hardman stated at the capitol Saturday that the fair and democratic way of selecting the personnel of a Georgia delegation would be to call a convention. The delegates to the convention could be named by the county democratic executive committees and these delegates could caucus by congressional districts to select the men to be nominated for places as delegates. The delegates thus named could be instructed to vote for Senator George all through the convention or they could be instructed to vote for Senator George until the senator released the delegates. The unit rule could be adopted or the delegates could be permitted to vote their own personal choice for the nomination if Senator George released them.

The entry lists will close Monday and according to well informed politicians there will be no candidate against Senator George. In Georgia politics anything can happen, however, and a last-minute entry would not be surprising, although not expected.

After the entries are closed the next development will come at the meeting of the state committee called for Atlanta for February 11 at the Ansley hotel. It will have several knotty problems to solve, according to present indications.

U. S. POLICY SCORED AT HAVANA PARLEY

Continued From First Page.

they would offer what might be considered a compromise motion later.

Early in his attack Pueyrredon translated the resolution as an attempt to uphold intervention in Latin America.

"Diplomatic or armed intervention, permanent or temporary," he declared, "is an attack against the independence of states without being justified by the duty of protecting the interests of nationals, since that right cannot at the same time be exercised by weak nations when their subjects suffer damages by convulsions in strong ones."

Pueyrredon, as did Guerrera later, refused to recognize the Maurtua resolution. He spoke from a prepared statement.

CUBAN AMBASSADOR UPHOLDS U. S.

Havana, February 4.—(AP)—Cuba's ambassador to Washington, Dr. Orestes Ferrara, in an eleventh-hour attack tonight on critics of the Maurtua report on fundamental principles of international law and the definition of rights of states, defended the right of intervention. He flayed critics of United States policies who had maintained a continuous barrage of oratory today condemning any intervention by one state in the affairs of another.

Dr. Ferrara declared that the question of intervention or non-intervention has no place in the present discussion, and added that Cuba cannot join other nations in expressions on intervention, because, "in the case of Cuba, the word intervention has been one meaning honor, glory and goodness." He told his colleagues there is no use talking against history, asserting that intervention has been asked by all oppressed peoples, and even in modern times the cases of the Syrians and Armenians are eloquent examples.

Points Out "Real Issue."

"For the Syrians and Armenians, the word intervention has been a promise of life itself and of a future," he said.

The real issue, Dr. Ferrara continued, is not concerned with intervention, but whether there should or should not exist an international paternalism which eventually will be eliminated, just as it works out in private life.

SMITH IS INVITED TO MONTGOMERY.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Governor Alfred E. Smith has an invitation from Mayor W. A. Gunter, Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., capital of the home state of his antagonist, Senator Heflin, to be the city's guest on his way to or from the democratic national convention at Houston in June.

The governor has not yet replied to the invitation, but indications have been that he will not attend the convention.

WOMEN TO AIR VIEWS BEFORE ENVOY

Havana, February 4.—(AP)—Women of Pan-America will have their day in court Tuesday when delegates to the Pan-American conference, in plenary session, will hear a plea of feminist workers for the inclusion of an equal rights for women treaty in the projected modification of American international law.

The occasion will mark the first appearance of women on any Pan-American conference floor. The full glare of publicity will be thrown on the cause for which leaders of the United States national women's party have been laboring here during the past month.

Miss Doris Stevens and Mrs. Clarence M. Smith, representing women of North America will plead their case while Cuban, Porto Rican and Dominican suffrage leaders will speak for women of their race. The entire proceedings will be broadcast.

MARION WOLFF NAMED FILM CONTEST WINNER

Continued From First Page.

the club produced recently at the Forsyth theater.

She has never written a scenario or film synopsis before, except those prepared in class work at Oglethorpe.

With the choice of a story to be used, the next step in the production of the all-Atlanta movie is the selection of a cast of local amateurs to present it. In the theater section of today's issue, there will be found a coupon, which, when filled out properly and mailed to the Howard theater, entitles the bearer of the coupon stub to admission to the big "casting party" which is to be held at the Howard at 7:30 o'clock Friday night for the purpose of selecting the complete cast of the picture.

S. Gordon Gurwit, prominent Hollywood scenario writer, will begin work immediately writing a full-fledged scenario from the prize-winning synopsis written by Miss Wolff. Mr. Gurwit states that this story combines love, romance, pathos and comedy.

While the part of the heroine is not of a sob type, Mr. Gurwit states, she is vivacious and can be played by some young lady who aspires to fame such as achieved by Clara Bow, Betty Bronson and others.

The male lead will take an energetic, athletic college type, and it is entirely probable that the young man who is fortunate enough to play this part will become as famous in Atlanta as Richard Dix is to the general motion picture public.

Incidentally, Mr. Gurwit makes it emphatic that there are many important roles which will afford wonderful opportunity to local amateurs to participate in this, their first effort, before a motion picture camera. This does not mean, however, that the lesser roles will not be recognized. For Mr. Gurwit quotes an incident in one picture where a great star played the most important part and an extra player played just a minor role, but on screening the production, it was found that the "extra" had, in motion picture terms, "stolen" the picture from the celebrity.

The above incident only goes to prove that it is up to the individual playing of the part to make the most of his or her opportunity, and it is not the part that makes the actor.

While it is true that you may not reach the height of stardom through participation in the movie, still it will give you something to talk about and also remember. And should your endeavor prove worthy, you may wish at some time to step out for a screen career. Opportunity knocks but once—fill in the application blank in the theatrical section of today's Constitution and mail it to the Howard theater, retaining the stub.

NEW BUS COMPANY FORMED IN MERGER

Continued From First Page.

will be put into effect within the next few weeks, it was said.

McGuire Lines Acquired

According to terms of the transaction, the Dixie Safety lines acquired the good will, assets and coaches of the McGuire Bus lines and the Georgia coaches operating services on the Atlanta, Carrollton, Bowdon route; of the same two companies for the Atlanta, Monroe, Athens route, and for the Atlanta, Carrollton route, and of the Gate City Coaches line, serving the Atlanta, Columbus route, at the same time effecting a coordinated schedule on this route with the Nicholls Sedan line.

The Dixie Safety Coach lines company was organized to take over the Peach-Belt lines. It was at this time that the affiliation with the big Chicago transit company was consummated. The Motor Transit corporation is now operating about 400 buses, with 200 radiating from Chicago. It also operates a coach service from New York to Los Angleses, Cal. The possibility of Atlanta being connected with the coast-to-coast line was intimated, but Mr. Steinmetz declined to discuss the project at this time.

25 De Luxe Coaches

The local consolidated organization will operate 25 de luxe coaches when the new schedule is put into effect. Five of these are now being built for the company. It will also have in operation ten sedans, which will be replaced with coaches as soon as road conditions permit, Mr. Steinmetz stated. Touring cars formerly in service will be supplemented by more commodious equipment.

The merger gives Atlanta one of the largest coach lines in the south, in addition to connecting it with transcontinental organizations. Through the service regular schedules will be instituted between Atlanta and Jacksonville, where direct connection will be made for Miami, Tampa and other points south. Connections are to be made with the Florida Blue lines at Lake City for service to Tallahassee and the west coast route to Tampa. Connections will also be made at Valdosta for Albany and Thomasville, Ga.

The Dixie Safety lines acquired in the transaction the Union Bus terminal on Peachtree street and the Union Bus station on North Forsyth street. Plans are now being formulated for a large consolidated terminal.

MOREHEAD HERE FOR MOUND WORK

Eager to continue his search for a Georgia civilization that has been lost through the ages, Dr. Warren K. Morehead, head of the department of archaeology of Andover academy, will be in Atlanta today and in a short time will resume his research, where he left off last spring, in the study of mounds in the neighborhood of Cartersville.

Miss Margaret Ashley, of Atlanta, daughter of Atlanta's provisional temporary mayor, Claude Ashley, will be associated with him in this work. Miss Ashley is to meet him today and together they will go over the plans for unearthing data from north Georgia's mounds with which they hope to establish the fragmentary history of a civilization of millions of years ago.

To Dr. Morehead and Miss Ashley the mounds of north Georgia indicate possibility of rare archaeological discoveries.

To this end Miss Ashley is going to Rome Monday where she is to be the guest of the Rome Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary club. These organizations, on reading in The Constitution of Miss Ashley's appointment by Dr. Morehead as his assistant, immediately got in touch with her, furnishing valuable data concerning the mounds in the vicinity of Rome and inviting her to come and see them.

Next Thursday, February 9, she is to speak before the Rotary club of that city on the work which she and Dr. Morehead are undertaking. In the meantime she will make her headquarters in that city for a week and devote herself to the study of the mounds in Floyd county.

POLICE TO GUARD SUNDAY SERVICES AT NEGRO CHURCH

The regular Sunday morning service will be held at the Providence Baptist church, colored, at 590 Greensferry avenue, with two members of the city police department standing by as protectors, according to a special order issued Saturday by Police Chief James L. Beavers.

There has been a feud in the church recently and the deacons asked the aid of the police department, in order to quell any disturbance that may arise. Services are to be held as the result of a court order restraining interference.

SLAYER CONVICTED IN PRISON MURDER

New Lexington, Ohio, February 4. (AP)—Patrick Riley, inmate of Ohio penitentiary, was found guilty of murder in the second degree by a jury here tonight in the slaying of Grant Weakley, prison guard, during a sensational break for liberty last fall.

Riley must serve a life term in Ohio penitentiary under the provision of second degree murder penalty. The slaying of Weakley followed a trip to a dentist's office here by Riley and Fred Kellogg, another prisoner, both in the custody of Weakley.

Riley Opened Fire.

According to evidence introduced, Riley obtained a gun from the washroom of the dentist's office and shot Weakley as the two prisoners fled from the building.

They were captured several hours later. Several other persons, held on charges of complicity in the murder, still face prosecution. Police declared at the time of the slaying that the gun had been planted in the office by friends of the prisoners.

Riley was originally sentenced to the penitentiary from Cincinnati on a pickpocket charge. He is a world war veteran, having served over seas with an ammunition train.

U. S. CHAMBER BRANCH FOR CITY

Continued From First Page.

zation made up of 1,553 local chambers of commerce and tradp bodies and many individual business firms and corporations. The Atlanta chamber is one of its members and is represented by Alfred C. Newell, national councillor, while William Candler was recently honored by being elected a director representing the southeast. The national chamber owns a magnificent building in Washington.

"The establishment of a southeastern district office with headquarters in Atlanta is recognition by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States of the growing importance of this territory in business and industry," said Mr. Candler, who recently returned from a visit to the headquarters at Washington. "It is in line with the new policy of the national chamber to get more closely in touch with various sections of the country, and thus be able to render greater service to its members.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce is the one comprehensive organization representing American business in Washington, the national capital. It keeps in intimate touch with the trend of legislation affecting business, does an enormous amount of research work, and has proved of immense value to business all over the country.

"Every important economic question is given intensive study by the experts connected with the national chamber, but no action is taken except upon vote of the various chambers of commerce and similar bodies which make up the membership. When it is to be desired that the national chamber take a position as favoring or opposing some important legislation, both sides of the question are submitted to the various members and a referendum taken. The national chamber merely voices the majority opinion of its members.

Service, Research Departments.

"The national chamber also conducts nine research and service departments for the benefit of its members, keeping constantly in touch with the trend of business and informing its members of new developments in commerce and industry. It is so far-reaching that it can present a comprehensive picture of national affairs instead of merely a local or sectional view.

"The United States Chamber of Commerce also publishes a magazine, 'The Nation's Business,' which has proved to be of such value, under the able editorship of Merle Thorpe, that in seven years its circulation has grown from 76,000 to more than 250,000. It has to a large extent become the spokesman of American business."

Mr. Stokes, the new district secretary, has been in Atlanta several days, meeting officers and members of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and conferring with Mr. Candler, the director for the southeast. With Mrs. Stokes he motored from Washington to Atlanta.

"The national chamber has been impressed with the rapid development of this territory and its growing importance in business and industry," he said Saturday. "But since spending several days in Atlanta and meeting representative business men here, I have begun to think that we had not fully realized just how much the southeast means in national affairs. I am very glad, indeed, that Atlanta was chosen for my headquarters, and I hope that the establishment of the district office will enable the national chamber to be of even greater service to the business men of this section."

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 999-122 M, Third St., Milwaukee, Wis., for a limited time is offering a free device to those who will help introduce it. He also needs men everywhere to make over $100 weekly in their own territory taking care of local business. Write him at once for free sample and big money-making offer.—(adv.)

"OLDEST TWINS" IN OHIO CELEBRATE 94TH ANNIVERSARY.

Woodville, Ohio, February 4.—(United News.)—The Bruns boys celebrated their 94th birthday anniversary today.

The "boys" are William H. and Henry Bruns, pioneers of Woodville, and probably the oldest twins in America. They are active but admitted they don't get around like they did a few years ago.

Auto Kills Woman.

Birmingham, Ala., February 4.—Mrs. C. W. Finegan, 65, of Talladega, Ala., was killed here tonight when struck by a coupe driven by J. Ralph Kramer, of Ensley, as she was crossing the street in front of the Nurses' home at the Baptist hospital.

SCHEDULE CHANGES Atlanta & West Point R. R.

Effective Sunday, February 5, Train No. 35 will leave Atlanta for Montgomery and New Orleans at 5:40 a. m. Train No. 31 will leave Atlanta for Montgomery at 8:25 a. m. Train No. 40 will arrive from Montgomery at 2:05 p. m.—(adv.)

LOFTIS BROS. & CO. EST'D 1858

The Old Reliable Credit Jewelers—Largest in the World

36 Broad St., S. W.

Corner Broad and Alabama Sts., Entrance on the Corner

DIAMOND IMPORTERS SELLING DIRECT TO THE PUBLIC

DIAMONDS ■ WATCHES

Genuine Diamonds Guaranteed.

CASH OR CREDIT

February Value-Giving Sale

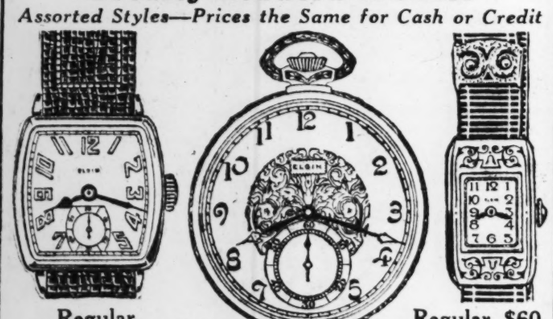

February is a "party month", and Lincoln's Birthday Washington's Birthday, St. Valentine's Day as well as graduations and pre-Lenten weddings all call for beautiful jewelry. The Loftis February Value-Giving Sale is your opportunity to obtain the best in jewelry at the most reasonable prices. Liberal credit terms to all.

$1.00 a Week $1.25 a Week $2.50 a Week

Standard Elgin Boxed Watches Greatly Reduced in Price

Assorted Styles—Prices the Same for Cash or Credit

Regular $40 Elgin Strap Watch — 25-year quality, guaranteed white gold case. $35 — $1.00 a Week

Regular $40 Streamline Elgin — 17 Jewels, 25-year quality guaranteed white gold case. $32.50 — $1.00 a Week.

Regular $60 Wrist Watch — Solid 14-k white gold—15 jewels. $50 — $1.25 a Week

Regular $35 Elgin Strap Watch Reduced to $30
Regular $45 Elgin Wrist Watch Reduced to $40
See Our Store Windows for Special Bargains

Watches repaired, all work guaranteed. Diamonds remounted. Old jewelry repaired and remodeled. Old style wedding rings modernized. Lowest prices. Call or write for catalog 374. Phone Bell, WAlnut 8737, and salesman will call.

Open Mondays and Saturdays Until 9:30 P. M., Other Days Till 6:30

MOTHER

A Cross, Feverish Child is Bilious, Constipated

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels, without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When the little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—(adv.)

W. E. HARWELL

First Candidate to Announce for Tax Receiver of Fulton County

FIRES THE FIRST GUN

in a fight to stop forever extravagance in Fulton county offices, ridiculous and scandalous increases in salaries and the adoption of a definite program of economy.

W. E. HARWELL

has served ten years as city marshal of Atlanta, a TAX OFFICE. He is qualified by experience and study for the office of TAX RECEIVER. His public and private life are without blemish.

W. E. HARWELL

is opposed by Edwin F. Johnson, for years a dictator in Fulton county affairs. Edwin F. Johnson is a member of the Fulton county commission and has not resigned as a member of that body to enter the race for tax receiver and as far as any person can learn he has expressed no intention of resigning.

W. E. HARWELL

has opened campaign headquarters in Room 303, Thrower Building, formerly Austell building, and asks his friends and supporters to call any time and aid in the fight to rid Fulton county, at last, of BOSS and RING RULE.

(Published by Harwell Campaign Committee, 303 Thrower Building, Atlanta, Georgia.)

Savings you can't afford to pass by

DANIEL'S FINAL CLEAN-UP SALE

Your choice of any overcoat in the house priced up to $30 and also twenty-four suits left

$17

A wonderful assortment in this group --- plenty of patterns--- plenty of sizes---priced up to $40

$27

Your choice of any suit or overcoat in the house $45, $50, $55 and $60 values

$37

Some mighty big reductions on Shoes, Hats and Furnishings, too

DANIEL'S GUARANTEE

Absolutely every article sold here unconditionally guaranteed—to your satisfaction or your money refunded.

Daniel Bros. Company

45-49 Peachtree — Founded 1886

Mayor Defies State To Save City's Dogs But Goes to Defeat

BY JOSEPH S. WARD, JR.,
Staff Writer for Central Press and The Constitution.

Lynn, Mass., February 4.—Suppose that a love for dogs was one of the great enthusiasms of your life, and that in addition, you were mayor of a city and a strong believer in law and order?

Then suppose that the state authorities directed you to enforce an edict muzzling all dogs for a period of 90 days, and that you felt such action to be unnecessary?

It would be a hard position to be in, wouldn't it? Which would win, your love for dogs, or your respect for authority?

Defied State Law.

In the case of Mayor Ralph S. Bauer, of Lynn, the dogs won, hands down. He defied the entire law enforcement authority of Massachusetts, and threatened to arrest any officer who entered his city in an attempt to enforce the edict. For a time it looked as though the national guard would have to be called out to settle the controversy with bayonets.

The minute the order was issued, directing policemen throughout the state to require all dogs to be muzzled, restrained or leashed for a period of 90 days, the Lynn chief executive went up in the air. He warned the policemen under his command not to heed the order, and to arrest any state agents who entered the city with intent to shoot unmuzzled dogs, or otherwise to enforce the order:

Where Dogs Won't See Them.

When a delegation of state police went to city hall, armed with posters quoting the muzzling order, and showing statutory authority to force the city to post them up, Mayor Bauer said: "Sure, go ahead, post them in the basement of city hall. The dogs won't see them there." But again he told his police force to follow his instructions, not those of th state.

MAYOR RALPH S. BAUER.

Then he issued "A Proclamation to the Dogs of Lynn." It read, in part: "The Mayor of Lynn wishes to assure the dogs of Lynn, those dogs that are properly licensed, that the dog law, so-called, has no legal standing anywhere except in the minds of a few bureaucrats connected with the state government, who do not possess the judgment ordinarily shown by the average dog."

Next he announced that any Lynn urchins who were unable to get together the fee necessary for licensing their mongrel pets could come to his office. He promised to dig down in his own pocket and give the youngsters the necessary cash, and he carried out this promise.

But after he had given the dogs of Lynn an added month of freedom from muzzles, his own city council went against him. They passed an ordinance muzzling all canines for 90 days, and the dog-loving mayor threw up his hands.

SAYS KIDNEYS CLOG AND NEED FLUSHING

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—(adv.)

Corns
Lift Off—No Pain!

Hard corns, soft corns, corns between the toes and callouses lift right off! You'll laugh—it is so easy and doesn't hurt a bit!

Just drop "Freezone" on any tender, touchy corn. Instantly it stops aching; then shortly you just lift that old bothersome corn right off with your fingers. It works like a charm, every time. Seems magic!

A tiny bottle of "Freezone" costs only a few cents at any drug store. Try it!

Woman's Responsibility—Can You Meet Yours?

—The Howard Studio.

Mrs. J. C. Lynch

Orlando, Fla.—"Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has given me the greatest help of any medicine I have ever taken. Since the arrival of my last child I suffered with backaches and other distress. My nerves were in a terrible condition—at the least thing I would go all to pieces. At times I could not stand on my feet, but since taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription I have had no distress from the above conditions. I have full control of my nerves and am getting along fine."—Mrs. J. C. Lynch, 618 W. Pine St. All druggists. Fluid or tablets.

Your health is most important to you. Why not write Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice.—(adv.)

IL DUCE INSTRUCTS FASCISTS ABROAD

Rome, February 4.—(United News.) Premier Mussolini today, in the name of the fascist party, banned participation by Italian fascists living abroad in internal politics of their adopted countries.

A statute drafted personally by the premier contained eight rules to govern members of the party which governs Italy living abroad. The word Italian, Italianism or fascisti appeared in almost all of the rules. In addition to ordering abstinence from part in election campaigns or other foreign political endeavor, the decree called upon fascists to obey all instructions and directions of Italy's representatives in the countries where they might be living.

"ENVOY" ARRIVES IN NEW YORK.

New York, February 4.—(United News.)—Following close on Premier Mussolini's orders to all fascisti living abroad as to their course of conduct in foreign nations, Commander Leopoldo Zuinini, arrived in the United States and announced that he had been sent as Italy's new minister to Chicago.

CLAIM NOT TAKEN SERIOUSLY AT CAPITAL.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—Commander Leopoldo Zuinini's claim that he bears Italian credentials as minister to Chicago was not taken seriously at the state department today.

Jurors Barred From 'Playing' In Kansas City

Kansas City, February 4.—(AP)—Justice no longer will hinge on the turn of a card here, nor will jurors while away their time dealing the pasteboards.

Signs have been posted in the jury rooms in the county courthouse warning against card playing and bailiffs are enforcing the order. For 40 years it had been the custom of jurors locked up for deliberations to take time out for a sociable game of cards, court attaches say.

The ban was established, however, when it was learned that some verdicts were the result of card playing.

In one recent case, according to court officials, the jury was divided, six to six, on the sentence of a man charged with burglary. The opposing sides chose a representative and these two jurors played casino, the difference in their scores being accepted as the prison sentence recommended for the defendant.

9-YEAR-OLD YOUTH IS KNOCKED DOWN, INJURED BY AUTO

Red Riggins, 9, of Argoane avenue, was taken to Davis-Fischer hospital Friday night with serious injuries received when he was struck down on Peachtree street, at Peachtree place, by an automobile said by police to have been driven by Alto Bellis, of 490 West Peachtree street. The youth is not in a dangerous condition, hospital attaches stated Saturday afternoon.

The accident was reported to Police Lieutenant J. A. Scott Friday night by P. B. Camp, who is said to have witnessed the accident and who gave police the license number of the car which struck the youth.

Saturday afternoon Bellis reported the accident to Captain A. J. Holcombe and stated that the youth ran suddenly into the street directly in front of his automobile. He added that he took the youth to the hospital and then notified the injured boy's parents. No case has been made.

NEW SUGAR RATES TO BE PROTESTED

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Rates on sugar transportation throughout the south and on sugar shipped from eastern refineries to points in the Carolinas, as recently revised by the interstate commerce commission at Washington, will be protested by the Georgia public service commission as too high and as "damaging to Georgia interests," Chairman James A. Perry announced here Saturday.

The federal commission, Mr. Perry declared, lately undertook a revision of sugar rates generally throughout the south, following a number of complaints. This was done, he said, despite the fact that the Georgia commission had already, in November, 1923, revised rates within the state, removing discriminations between different points and satisfying a New Orleans concern which had complained of the rates in Georgia.

Mr. Perry charged that the new rates prescribed by the interstate body "are much higher than the present rates in Georgia and much higher than the present rates from New Orleans to Georgia." He further declared that the rates prescribed for sugar moving from Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York to points in North and South Carolina "are on a much lower level than the rates prescribed from Savannah to these same destinations."

As for the effect of this discrepancy the chairman said:

"There is a large, independent sugar refinery located at Savannah, this being the only sugar refinery on the Atlantic seaboard between Baltimore and New Orleans, and the Savannah refinery competes with Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York in all North and South Carolina territory, and competes with New Orleans in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, and therefore the rates prescribed by the interstate commerce commission from the eastern refineries to these Carolina points, being on a much lower level than the rates prescribed from Savannah, will have a very damaging effect upon the Savannah industry."

COAL HEADS LINKED IN WAGE CUT PLOT

Pittsburgh, Pa., February 4.—(AP)—Completing his second day of investigation of the coal strike in western Pennsylvania, Congressman LaGuardia, New York, said "the operators are seeking by a systematized organized campaign of wage reduction to make the workers pay for the unstable condition of the industry that they themselves have created."

"An industry that cannot continue without reducing wages below the American standard of living," he said, "has no right to exist." Congressman LaGuardia said he would present his findings in the house next Wednesday morning, consent having been gained for that purpose, and would urge that an investigation be started immediately.

"Coal Business Unsound"

"Every other industry in the country with the exception of agriculture," LaGuardia declared, "adjusts itself to marketing and labor conditions. But here I find there is no attempt to adjust the industry to a sound business basis, but the plan is to meet competition and overproduction by wage reduction. The coal business is unsound, and cannot continue."

After several hours in which he interviewed officials of coal companies and inspected the striking miners' camps and coal company properties, Congressman LaGuardia said he believed "it will be a long drawn out fight." The congressman said he found the "morale of the strikers excellent." He said there were few pickets and the picketing was done peacefully.

Suffragette Veterans

:: REUNION HELD AT SCENE OF FORMER BATTLES ::

Of British Jails Banquet

London, February 4.—(AP)—A reunion banquet of women, who were imprisoned in the cause of suffrage before the war, was held tonight in a restaurant on Whitehall street, which had been the scene of some of their fiercest conflicts with police in their struggle to force an obdurate parliament to give them the vote.

The gathering tonight was a private one to celebrate the tenth anniversary of suffrage in England and talk over old times of jails and policemen. Mrs. How-Martin presided over the meeting and only a handful of men with spotless records of sympathy with the women's movement were privileged to attend. Politcial speech was taboo as the banquet was a preliminary to a political meeting of suffragettes Monday.

The customary toast of loyalty was reversed, having been drunk to the "queen and king" instead of to the "king and queen."

Officer Finds Girl He Wooed

POLICEMAN FORCED TO ARREST WAR-TIME SWEETHEART

By Mail Is "Real Bootlegger"

Denver, Colo., February 4.—(United News.)—Ten years ago Patrolman Jack Hargrave, then in the army, was fighting mud, bullets and lonesomeness in Flanders fields.

In Denver, Mrs. Lizzie Holland also was lonesome and patriotic. "I hope the person that receives this will write me and tell me his troubles, but when he comes back to his home he must never look me up," said a note she placed in a package containing a sweater and sweets.

The package fell into Hargrave's hands. He wrote. Mrs. Holland answered. Then the war ended and Hargrave came home. He told his mother of his friendship, but did not violate his promise.

Today the young officer learned her secret. He was called upon to arrest a woman charged with selling liquor and operating a disorderly house.

It was Mrs. Holland.

INTERURBAN CAR STOPPED BY DOG OF SCORNFUL MIEN

Louisville, February 4.—(AP)—Enacting with reservations the role of Horatius at the bridge, a large police dog, caught by an interurban car as he was crossing the bridge here over the Ohio river, halted the car when he faced it and refused to budge. Shouts of the motorman and the carload of commuters failed to excite him.

Finally, with casual dignity, the dog turned and walked slowly over the ties in the direction the car was traveling. With the interurban within a few feet of him, he set a pace in utter disregard of railway schedules, and when he reached the Kentucky end of the trestle gave the motorman a final glare and stalked

COOLIDGE CONFERS ON U. S. FLOOD AID

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—President Coolidge held a two-hour conference late today with three of his cabinet members to determine what could be done to aid the progress of the administration's $296,000,000 Mississippi river flood control plans in congress.

The cabinet members were Secretaries Mellon, Hoover, who was the president's personal representative in the flood district, and Davis of the war department. They were joined at the white house by Major General Edgar Jadwin, chief of army engineers and author of the plan. A general discussion of flood legislation was said to have taken place, but it was announced at the white house that no conclusions had been reached.

WILLIS DEMANDS FURTHER QUESTIONING OF HOOVER.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The appearance of Secretary Hoover and Secretary Davis of the war department before the senate flood committee was demanded again today by Senator Willis, republican, Ohio, although Major General Jadwin, chief of army engineers, assumed full responsibility for the administration flood control program.

THOMPSON ADVOCATES U. S. FLOOD AID

New Orleans, February 4.—(AP)—Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago gave notice here tonight that he would fight to have a plank included in the next republican platform calling for flood relief by the federal government.

Speaking at a banquet in honor of himself and Representative Frank R. Reid of Illinois, chairman of the house flood control committee, Mayor Thompson declared that both political parties should incorporate such a plank in the platform.

ATTEMPTS TO RESCUE ICE-BOUND BOAT FAIL

Conneaut, Ohio, February 4.—(AP)—Rescue operations were called off at dusk tonight in the attempt of two tugs and a sister ferry to free the car ferry Maitland No. 1, imprisoned in the ice of Lake Erie near here since one week ago yesterday.

A late afternoon rain complicated the work of breaking through the 100 feet of ice which separates the Maitland from the tugs Vermont and New York, and the car ferrys Marquette and Bessemer No. 2. The arrival of nightfall made it impossible to continue. A shift of the wind from its southwesterly direction into the northwest was feared tonight, for a lowered temperature might cause the ice to imprison the rescue vessels.

NEW KIND OF SPECTACLES

1,000 PAIRS TO BE GIVEN FREE

Chicago, Ill.—A new, true-vision spectacle has been created. Its popularity is now sweeping the country. These spectacles will enable almost anyone to read the very smallest print, thread the finest needle and see far or near. They are guaranteed unbreakable, cannot tarnish and are a vast improvement over all other makes.

The manufacturers, True-Fit Optical Co., 1445 W. Jackson Blvd., Dept. RA S F, Chicago, Illinois, are offering to give a thousand pairs free to those who will help introduce them. Write them today. They will also explain how you can get the agency and without experience or money make $200 to $500 per month.—(adv.)

Rich's Semi-Annual Sale!
RUGS and DRAPERIES

Savings of 10% to 30%
Specials in Persian Rugs

—We wish to thank Atlanta for the cordial response to the Opening of our New Room of Oriental Rugs. It you haven't already visited it—won't you call? It's worth seeing, whether or not you are purchasing! Featuring rugs such as have charmed us for centuries . . . rugs in which lies written in glowing colors the mysticism of the Orient . . . But the most spectacular thing of all—are the low and modest prices!

—Special purchase—given us at tremendous concession price—to open the new room of Oriental Rugs—and to make even more brilliant our Semi-Annual Sale! We feature genuine Persian Rugs in a gorgeous selection of colors and intricate designs—at prices so low that it scarcely seems possible!

7-7x5-1 Persian Rugs $69.75	8-5x5-5 Persian Rugs $82.75
8x10-6 Persian Rugs $154.75	9-8x5-7 Persian Rugs $103.75
9x12 Persian Rugs $225

Size 38x75 Hamadan Rugs

—Persian—handwoven rugs—soft and silk-like in coloring and texture. Only a very special purchase can make such a low price possible. Other sizes at equally generous savings! $42.75

$59.75 Seamless 9x12 Axminsters

Finest Quality Florentine Rugs $49.75 Designs Exclusive with Rich's!

—The best proof of the value is in the buying! Then this is decidedly a good value! For Atlanta has bought! Everyone marvels at the lovely colors—the distinctive patterns—certainly unusual in a rug at this price!

—Patterns and colors for every room in the house! We advise selection tomorrow—for the rugs are certainly going in numbers!

$49.75 Seamless Axminsters

$39.75

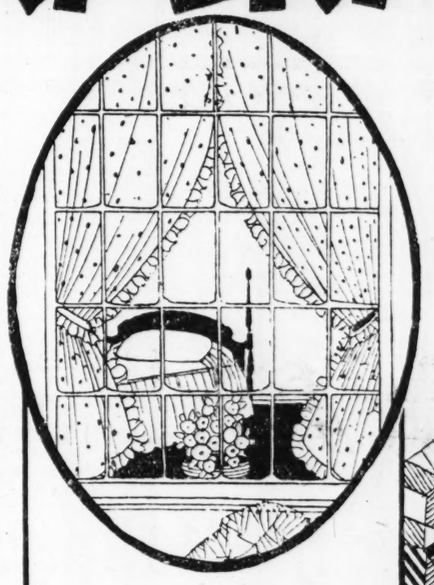

—Imagine saving a $10 bill on just one rug! Such are the really tremendous savings the Semi-Annual Sale is bringing! Axminster rug of $49.75 quality—full 9x12 size. In lovely selection of colors and patterns.

$1.60 Inlaid Linoleum

$1.44 Sq. Yd.

—Now is the time to look to your floors—to your kitchen and bathroom—and to your hallway! For the Semi-Annual Sale is bringing exceptional values in linoleum. Fine inlaid linoleum in tile patterns—in choice of colors—just $1.44 Sq. Yd. No Extra Charge for Laying.

Examples of Tremendous Savings!

$2.49 Quality! Rayon Damask

$1.79

—Quality that never sells at less than $2.49! And a good value at even that price! Full 50-in. wide. Rich and heavy. In blue, in rose, mulberry, or jade. Striped — or all-over damask.

$2.49 Voile Ruffled Curtains

$1.98

—One shipment went out in two days last week! Here are another 500 pairs! Of voile in a soft Paris tint. Trimmed with inserted bands in colors—rose, blue, orchid, green, gold. Set complete with valance and tie-backs—at just $1.98!

$12 Cedar Chests

$9.85

—Time to be thinking of where you are going to store your winter outfit! A cedar chest is so handy! Semi-Annual Sale brings a $12 chest to you at just $9.85. Finest Tennessee Red Cedar. 36 in. long. Copper trimmed. With fine lock.

—RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

'MYSTERY WIDOW' HELD FOR ASYLUM

Santa Fe, N. M., February 4.—(AP)—Failing to produce proof of her story that she had been married a month ago to W. Barton French, of New York, who killed himself here Wednesday, a young woman who had claimed his body for burial was taken into custody today.

Authorities refused to believe she was the widow and District Attorney J. J. Kenney announced the woman, whom he identified as a Mrs. W. L. Brackett, would be sent to the state hospital for the insane at Las Vegas. Tonight the body of French was en route to Richmond, Va., where it will be buried in compliance with the cabled request of his mother, Mrs. Seth Barton French, who is in France.

"Fled Temptations."

French, the descendant of a prominent New York family, recently experienced financial reverses and had told friends he came west to "escape the temptations of the city."

He had been residing on a ranch near Bland, N. M. Last Wednesday French visited a friend here and was found dead later in a bathtub, with a bullet wound in his head. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide.

French was born in Paris October 8, 1894. His father, the late Seth Barton French, was a native of Virginia and was connected with J. P. Morgan & Co.

Said She Was Widow.

The woman who introduced herself as the widow yesterday said she and French were married January 4 at Albuquerque. Records there disclosed no marriage license had been issued in their name. She later declared the wedding took place in El Paso, and then changed it to Juarez.

Thomas L. Mabry, Albuquerque attorney, said the woman, who declined to give any information about herself, had attempted to engage him to straighten out the estate of William Brackett of Las Animas county, Colorado. At that time, the attorney said, she had papers tending to prove her claim to being Brackett's wife.

Story of Attack Only Girl's Alibi For Bobbed Hair

Fort Smith, Ark., February 4.—(AP) To bob or not to bob was the question the 17-year-old daughter of O. T. Looper neat here settled to the discomfort of Fort Smith police.

The girl dreamed of bobbed hair but her father's threat of punishment if the tresses were shorn turned the dream into a nightmare. Then came a call to police who buried to the Looper home to be told by the girl that "three men dressed in white attacked me, cut off my hair and then ran away." The girl finally admitted she bobbed her hair herself and concocted the story to evade her father's wrath.

GETS LONGER TERM AFTER APPEALING FOR SECOND TRIAL

Chicago, February 4.—(AP)—Convicted for the second time for slaying his 3-year-old daughter, William Goeschel, 30, today was sentenced to 20 years in prison.

At his first trial the father had been sentenced to 16 years and it was on his motion for a new trial that he was granted the second hearing.

Dr. T. Y. Young Famous Herb Specialist in Atlanta 15 Years

Don't Delay! Call at Once!
Male or Female. Call or Write

No matter what your trouble is, no matter how serious your disease may be, Dr. Young's Herb Treatment will surely help you.

No dangerous drugs or surgical operations. All diseases treated with my pure nature herbs—with astounding results in every case.

THE ORIENTAL HERB CO.
53 Houston St. Atlanta, Ga.
Hours 9:00 A. M. to 7:00 P. M.

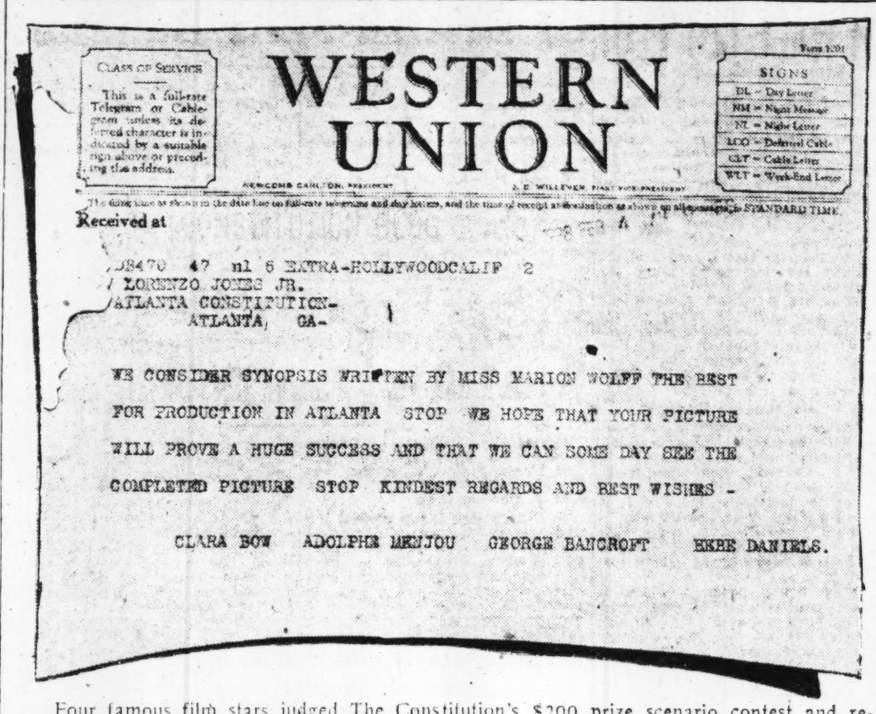

Dr. T. Y. Young, Jr.

Wanted Experienced Feed Salesman

Must be a producer. Salary and expenses with bonus. Address box 728, Memphis, Tennessee.

Film Stars Name Scenario Contest Winner

CLASS OF SERVICE

This is a full-rate Telegram or Cable-gram unless its day-letter character is indicated by a suitable sign above or preceding the address.

SIGNS
DL = Day Letter
NM = Night Message
NL = Night Letter
LCO = Deferred Cable
CLT = Cable Letter
WLT = Week-End Letter

WESTERN UNION

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — J. C. WILLEVER, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

The filing time as shown in the date line on full-rate telegrams and day letters, and the time of receipt at destination as shown on all messages, is STANDARD TIME.

Received at

1847O 47 nl 6 EXTRA-HOLLYWOODCALIF 2
/ LORENZO JONES JR.
ATLANTA CONSTITUTION-
ATLANTA, GA-

WE CONSIDER SYNOPSIS WRITTEN BY MISS MARION WOLFF THE BEST FOR PRODUCTION IN ATLANTA STOP WE HOPE THAT YOUR PICTURE WILL PROVE A HUGE SUCCESS AND THAT WE CAN SOME DAY SEE THE COMPLETED PICTURE STOP KINDEST REGARDS AND BEST WISHES -

CLARA BOW ADOLPHE MENJOU GEORGE BANCROFT EBBE DANIELS.

Four famous film stars judged The Constitution's $200 prize scenario contest and returned their verdict Saturday.

GALE-BATTERED VESSEL REACHES PORT SAFELY

Portland, Maine, February 4.—(AP) Battered for 25 successive days by gales of hurricane force, the big American Scantic line steamship Casper limped into port today, 12 days overdue from Gothenburg.

The liner was hove to for six days while oil was poured on the mountainous seas without effect. Her life boats were smashed from the davits. Captain H. Langer, master of the heavily-laden freighter, said it was the worst voyage within his experience, but no member of the crew was injured. It was necessary, however, he said, to keep a sharp lookout for oncoming waves and to signal to the men in the leaking forepeak by blasts of the whistle when it was safe for them to run aft.

Members of the crew said that the freighter's deck was more often under water than above the surface.

ST. LOUIS SLEUTHS RAID BOOKMAKERS AND ARREST 92

St. Louis, February 4.—(AP)—Efforts to halt betting on horse races was brought to a dramatic climax here today when 140 detectives swooped down on 64 alleged handbook places and arrested 92 men suspected of bookmaking.

Those arrested were released on bonds of $200 each and their cases will be taken up with Circuit Attorney Sidener Monday.

Man Is Forgotten In San Francisco Jail for Month

San Francisco, February 4.—(AP)—Guido Simoni was released from jail today on his own sayso and Federal Judge Frank H. Kerrigan expressed displeasure because Simoni had been kept in so long.

Two men named Guido Simoni were arrested New Year's eve for violating the prohibition law. One was later released for lack of evidence. The other was forgotten and stayed in jail until Judge Kerrigan got a letter from him yesterday asking what was to be done with him.

The United States district attorney blamed it on the prohibition agents.

U. S. BANK TO LOAN TO HOME BUILDERS PROPOSED IN BILL

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—Establishment of a federal home loan bank system to encourage home ownership and to stimulate the buying and building of homes is proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Copeland, democrat, New York.

It provides for establishment of banks under supervision of a commissioner in the treasury department and for the issuance of currency on first mortgages up to 75 per cent of the value of the home.

DARBY DAY, JR., DIES ON OPERATING TABLE

Santa Monica, Calif., February 4. (AP)—Darby Day, Jr., 24, son of a wealthy Chicagoan, died here at a sanitarium today. The coroner's office reported that Day was about to undergo an operation and died while the anaesthetic was being administered.

As a result of a quarrel in February, 1925, Day's 20-year-old bride, Bernice Day, threw acid into his face. She was tried, convicted and sentenced to San Quentin penitentiary where she served 13 months. Last October she was paroled to her mother for the remaining two years of her sentence.

Day's face was badly disfigured by the acid, but most of the scars were eradicated by face lifting.

PIONEER SENORA OF CALIFORNIA DIES, AGED 103

Glendale, Cal., February 4.—(AP)—Senora Maria Verdugo Chabella is dead at the age of 103. She was the granddaughter of Joe Maria Verdugo, who in 1784 received the first of the great Spanish land grants in southern California.

Senora Verdugo lived to see the passing of the extensive Ranch San Rafael into the hands of Americans and its lands now form parts of the towns of Glendale and Eagle rock and portions of the city of Los Angeles. Death was attributed to old age.

GOVERNOR POTHIER DIES AFTER SHOCK

Woonsocket, R. I., February 4.—(AP) Governor Aram J. Pothier, of Rhode Island, died at his home tonight. He was stricken with a shock last night and failed to rally.

Governor Pothier was the first man of French-Canadian birth to become the chief executive of one of the states. Elected seven times to the office, he served continuously from 1909 to 1921, and from 1925 until his death.

Interested in Banks.

Outside of politics, his principal activity was in banking. Beginning work as a clerk in the Woonsocket institution for savings in 1875 he was connected with that bank for the rest of his life, becoming its president in 1913. He had also served as president of the Union Trust Company of Providence.

He came to Woonsocket at the age of 18 from the Province of Quebec, where he was born on July 26, 1854. He had attended Nicolet college. He was largely instrumental in the establishment of the woolen and worsted yarn and cloth industries in and near Woonsocket.

DIXIE NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS MEET IN CHATTANOOGA

Chattanooga, Tenn., February 4.—(AP)—Important matters will come before the officers and directors of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association meeting here tomorrow and Monday.

Delegates began arriving tonight and among those who have notified Secretary Cranston Williams that they will be present are: Robert Ewing, New Orleans States; John A. Park, Raleigh Times; V. H. Hanson, Birmingham News; J. S. Parks, Fort Smith Times-Record; Herbert Felkel, St. Augustine Record; John A. Brice, Atlanta Journal; L. K. Nicholson, New Orleans Times-Picayune; J. H. Skewes, Meridian, Miss., Star; J. B. Sherrill, Concord, N. C., Tribune; E. K. Gaylord, Oklahoma City Oklahoman; B. H. Peace, Greenville, S. C., News; J. G. Stahlman, Nashville Banner; J. P. Fishburn, Roanoke Times; H. I. Shott, Bluefield, W. Va., Telegraph.

SPANISH SARDINES BACK HOME AGAIN; FISHERS REJOICE

Vigo, Spain, February 4.—(AP)—Spanish sardines have come back to their usual haunts in neighboring waters, which they had failed to visit, in full force, in the last few years. Consequently, Spanish fishermen are in a jovial mood. Together with sardines other species of fish seem to be plentiful and a successful season is expected.

Vigorous measures are being demanded on the part of the authorities to put a curb to illegal means of fishing, which, it is said, kept sardines away in the preceding years and determined a crisis in the fishing industry.

IOWA GIRL USES LEAP YEAR RIGHT; WEDDING IS FREE

Clinton, Ia., February 4.—(AP)—Miss Elllen Calvert, 29, of Davenport, exercised her leap year right by proposing to Vale Pestle, 21, Davenport, that she might get the free marriage license offered by Harold Grumdtrup, clerk of the Clinton county district court for the first leap year marriage.

The ceremony was performed without charge by Rev. Harry E. Harned, pastor of the Congregational church here.

BURIED TREASURE HUNT FRUITLESS; MUST FILL HOLE

San Francisco, February 4.—(AP)—Horace L. Spiva dug for buried treasure at the San Francisco presidio today.

He worked for eight hours, cheered with the belief that he would find $100,000 said to have been hidden on the reservation by bandits in the early mining days. Then he gave up in disgust.

Now he has to fill up the hole in accordance with an agreement with Colonel Frank C. Bolles, commandant at the presidio.

Limited Group of Regular—

$6 Shell Spectacle Frames

Comfortable, Durable, Stylish

SPECIAL
FOR A
FEW DAYS LONGER

Dr. John Kahn
Registered Optometrist
Will Gladly Examine Your Eyes Without Charge With Modern Equipment

only $2

All Lenses Ground to Order at Lowest Prices

Use Your Charge Account

J. M. HIGH CO.

Optical Dept. — 45 Years' Faithful Service and Value Giving — Street Floor

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell was Right

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then, the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

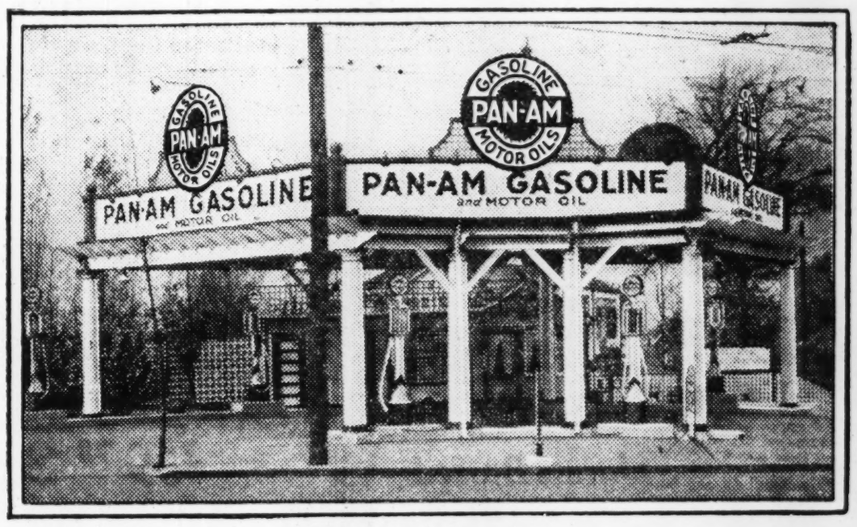

A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

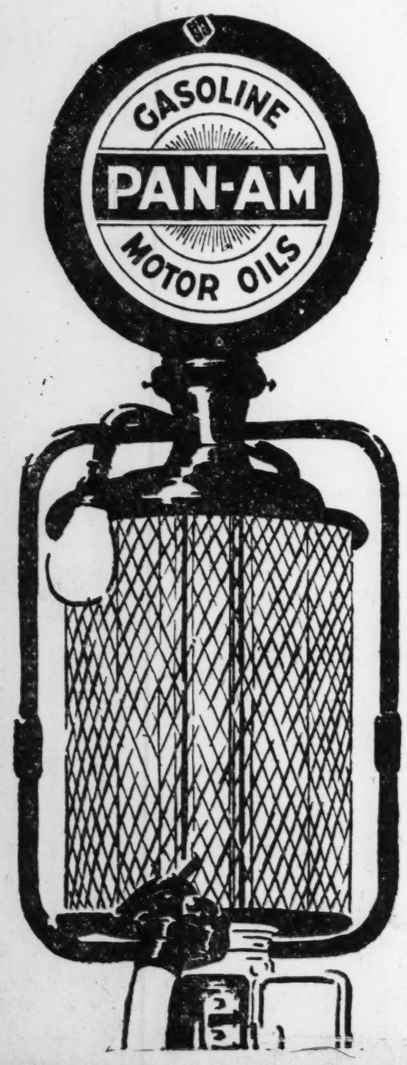

W. B. Caldwell M.D.
AT AGE 83

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.—(adv.)

New mileage economy with this CLEAN Gasoline

YOU'LL find motoring less expensive and more enjoyable with Pan-Am gasoline in the tank of your car.

This gasoline is clean! It is processed with unusual care to remove all dirt and foreign matter. Note its crystal-clear color in the visible bowl next time you see a Pan-Am pump. Pan-Am refining does away with the carbon-forming elements found in many other gasolines.

That means a motor clean as a whistle, for tip-top performance! It means less carbon trouble and knocking—a wealth of extra power for both the quick start and the long pull—and mileage economy such as you have never known before.

Fill up today at the first Pan-Am pump you see. You can be sure of honest service from any Pan-Am dealer. And you know that the products he sells are produced and distributed by one reliable organization.

This attractive service station at Ponce de Leon and Boulevard is owned and operated by Pan-Am. In addition to having many licensed dealers in Atlanta, Pan-Am also operates its own stations at the following places:

623 Whitehall St.
463 Peachtree St., N. E.
437 Fair St., S. E. — 210 Piedmont Ave., N.E.
664 N. Highland Ave., N.E. — 130 W. 14th St.
169 Edgewood Ave., S.E. — 617 W. Peachtree St., N.E.
798 Cascade Ave., S. W.

SAFE oil

PAN-AM motor oil is refined from paraffin base crudes that produce a much tougher oil than other kinds.

That is why Pan-Am holds its body under punishment that soon breaks down less hardy oils. It keeps the hottest friction spots in any motor safe from destructive wear—seals extra power in the cylinders—prevents dilution and fouling.

Yet Pan-Am actually costs you less than ordinary motor oil, because it stays on the job long after others thin to the danger point.

Pan American Petroleum Corporation

NEW LAW FRATERNITY INSTALLED AT MERCER

Macon, Ga., February 4.—Theta Phi, Mercer university fraternity, was installed into the Delta Theta Phi fraternity, a national legal organization, at a meeting here today.

A banquet tonight at Hotel Dempsey closed the events of the day.

The local body will be known as the Lamar senate. Carlton Mobley is president. The installation was in charge of Raymen E. Hyre, of Cleveland, Ohio, chancellor of the Delta Theta Phi; Ralph L. Adams, Kansas City past chancellor and Ralph J. Wynne, Atlanta, marshal.

The officers of the local chapter are: Carlton Mobley, Gray, president; Frank Twitty Camilla, vice president; Will Ed Smith, Valdosta, secretary, and Harvey Jay, Fitzgerald, treasurer.

The other members of the Mercer chapter are D. S. Beeland, John Gilbert, Aubrey Abbott, Robert Cranford, Joe J. Chappell, John D. Ferguson, P. K. Coleman, L. A. Parrish, Robert Strickland, Emerson Squires, Charles Cork, L. Buchanan Loser, Roy Hale, T. J. Hollis, O. T. Flourney, Lawson Beil, Turley Warlick, T. R. Watkins, J. A. Currey, W. E. Spinks, Stokes Walton, Louis Peacock and Oliver Custer.

The alumni taken in at the same time as the active members were: Leonard Young, John Averill, Eugene Cook, W. B. Freeman, W. E. Bartlett, L. T. Gillen, Kay Tipton, John B. Evans, Oscar Long and H. W. Gunn. The honorary members are Harry Strozier and W. O. Cooper, Jr.

The Mercer Law faculty, a representative from the Macon Bar association, and Miss Elmina Chambers, sponsor, were guests at the banquet. The principal address of the evening was made by Mr. Hrye, and acting Dean Joseph A. McClain spoke in behalf of the Mercer Law school.

RETAIL TRADE LINES TO SELECT CHAIRMEN

During the next week or ten days the various retail trade lines of which the Atlanta Retail Merchants association is composed, will hold separate group meetings for the purpose of electing trade line chairmen who will be the official representatives of their respective lines on the general board of directors of the merchants association.

About a dozen lines in the association are entitled to elect these chairmen, and as soon as this is completed, the first official meeting of the board of directors will be held. At this time President G. C. Green, recently elected to head the association for 1928, will lay before the board of directors a number of important projects.

New Power Line.

Waycross, Ga., February 4.—T. R. Fluker, Waycross manager for the Georgia Power and Light company, announces that all of the material has been placed in Jesup for the extension of the line to Odum. Construction work will begin within ten days.

This will give Waycross extensions to Odum, Jesup, Screven, Offerman, Patterson, Blackshear, Waresboro, Homerville and Lakeland.

Second Week! Furniture Sale

The first week was a glorious success! The second offers equally exceptional values and the choice of tasteful furniture is as varied as ever.

DAVISON-PAXON Co.

ATLANTA

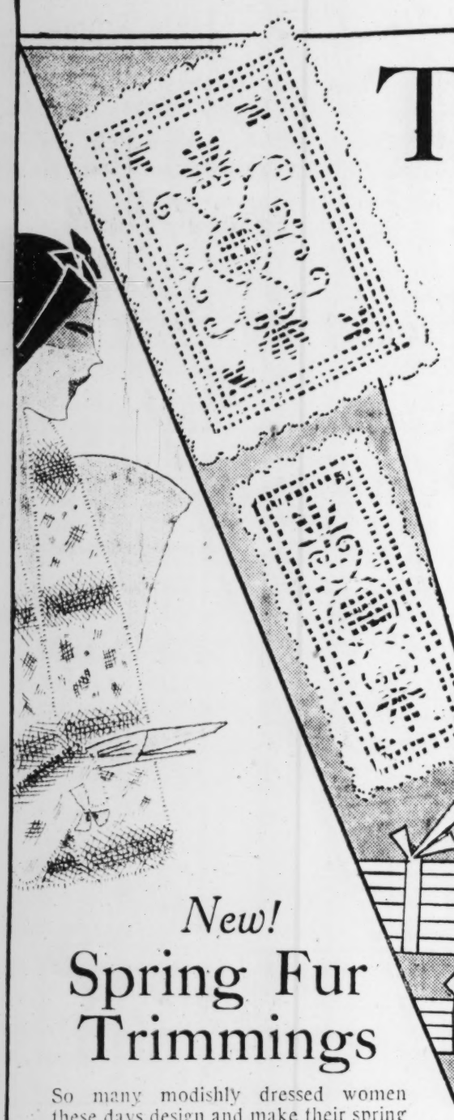

Affiliated with MACY'S—New York

New Things! Arriving Daily

Spring is in the air everywhere in our store—with new frocks, hats, accessories, silks and cottons arriving daily. They are displayed in charming variety.

Table Linens--Spring Cottons

at prices that will interest every thrifty housekeeper

Imitation Filet Pieces

Imitation filet pieces that can be matched into beautiful Vanity or Buffet Sets. In six sizes.

Size 6x14 In. 18c Ea. Size 14x35 In. 59c Ea.
Size 10x14 In. 24c Ea. Size 14x42 In. 69c Ea.
Size 12x18 In. 29c Ea. Size 14x48 In. 79c Ea.

Turkish Towels

All white or colored borders of rose, gold, and blue. In large sizes—18x36 and 20x40 inches. 19c Ea.

Cabarrus Sheets

$1.24 Ea.

81x99 inches—larger sizes for those wishing extra length. Very durable sheets of close sturdy weave.

Permanent Good Will vs. Temporary Gain

We do not believe that a store can be successfully built up on special sales.

It is not possible to constantly sell worthy, desirable merchandise at half the normal market price, and stay in business.

It IS possible occasionally to sell a lot of desirable merchandise at less than its usual price, because of a change in style or a manufacturer's difficulty.

Too many sales include some merchandise which is unusual value, at the sale price, and much that is worth little more than the advertised sale price.

We do not believe in giving values only in proportion to the customer's ability to judge quality. Anyone can purchase in our store, whether they know anything about quality and value or not, and always be assured that they are buying at as low a price as though they followed the advertised special sales of all the other stores—except in such instances where we may not carry the same or similar merchandise.

This store meets the lowest price prevailing in every store in Atlanta, if we have merchandise that is the same, or is of equal quality or value. Therefore, A SPECIAL SALE IN ANY OTHER STORE BECOMES AN UNADVERTISED SPECIAL SALE IN OUR STORE.

Cluny Centers

Lovely quality linen centers with real Cluny edge. Truly unusual values!

6-Inch Finger Bowl Doilies of Cluny, 12½c and 24c Each.
6-Inch Finger Bowl Doilies of Filet, 12½c and 24c Each.
12-Inch Centers, 39c Each.
18-Inch Centers, $1.29.
22-Inch Centers, $1.69.

Linen Toweling

Extra heavy quality, all linen toweling, 18-inch width, with pretty blue border. Unusually low in price for this grade. 19c Yd.

Heavy Crinkled Spreads

$2.49 Ea.

81x105 in.—Surprisingly heavy weight, crinkle spread — seamless with scalloped edges and many color combinations in stripes.

New! Spring Fur Trimmings

So many modishly dressed women these days design and make their spring coats and frocks! Here they may select the newest spring and summer fur trimmings—the correct things—straight from New York.

4-In. Moufflon, in blond and twin leopard $7.94
4-In. Twin Leopard $9.94
4-In. Palumine Plucked Coney ... $9.94
4-In. Steel Lapin, plucked Coney .. $9.94
4-In. Rosewood Lapin, plucked Coney $9.94
4-In. Squirrel Rump, in natural and cocoa $14.94
4-In. Real Mole, in natural color $16.94

Davison-Paxon Co., Street Floor.

Spring 1928 Classic Prints

Fast Colors! 59c Yd. 36 Inches Wide

In floral and fruit designs which promise to make this a colorful spring. Sheer material that launders crisply and is guaranteed fast in color.

Fenimore Taffeta Checks

Very attractive taffeta checks in small designs for children's and misses' dresses. The finish is silk-like and will launder beautifully. Fast colors. 79c Yd.

Gay Punjab Prints

29c Yd.

Polka dots, flower and other neat designs in fast color prints. Ideal for morning dresses, rompers and school clothes. 36-in. width.

Year-Round Zephyrs

45c Yd.

Bright new patterns—colorful and gay with the same freshness in appearance after laundering. Combines attractively with solid color.

Davison-Paxon Co., Second Floor

Housewares

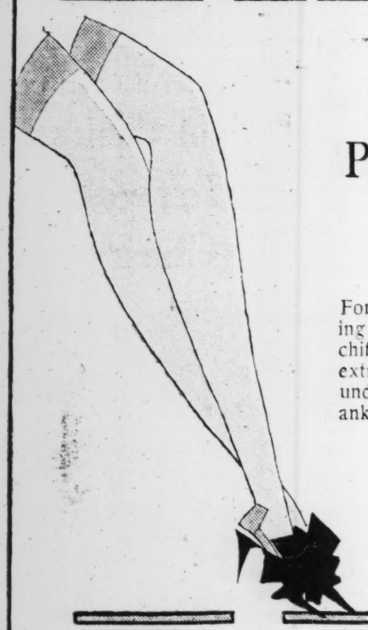

No. 8 Size Wagner Drip-Drop Dutch Oven $2.29
Home Comfort Bread and Cake Cabinets $2.24
Larger size $2.94
Colored Cannister Sets—4 size cans in set. Green and red 89c
Genuine Mirro Aluminum Layer Cake Pans ..... 2 for 59c

Everything for the Gardener

D. M. Ferry's flower and vegetable seeds ..... 10c to 25c
Spading forks, rakes, hoes. All sizes ..... 69c to $1.98
Garden trowels and tools ..... 19c to 24c
Suwanee or Dixie Queen garden hose. 25 feet ..... $3.69 to $4.64

A complete range of garden implements, including shears, sprinklers, etc., in our Housewares Dept.

Davison-Paxon Co., Fourth Floor

Long-wearing

All Silk Phoenix Hose

$1.75

For those who must consider the splendid wearing quality of their hose . . . Phoenix all silk chiffons and semi-service weights have proven extremely popular. Their smartness, too, is undisputed. Fitting perfectly the slimest ankles. In the following shades—

Twilight Evenglow Dust Peach French Nude Champagne Morn Nymph Grain

Davison-Paxon Co., Street Floor.

Ogilvie Sisters

Ogilvie Sisters, world-famed hair specialists, have a corrective treatment for each condition. All their tonics, pomades and shampoos are on sale in our Toilet Goods Department.

Davison-Paxon Co., Street Floor

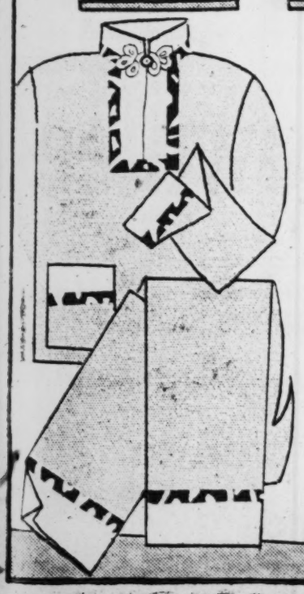

New! Imported French Kid Gloves

$4.95

In the finest French kid . . . and the extremely popular cocoa brown, and black and white combination. Novelty tailored cuffs . . . styles that add smartness to the chic ensemble.

Davison-Paxon Co., Street Floor

New Pajamas

$2.95

Very attractive pajamas for spring and summer—made of lustrous checked charmeusette and crinkled crepe in plain pastel colors. High neck and long sleeves. Some are attractively tailored and finished with braid and frog fastenings. Sizes 15, 16, 17.

Davison-Paxon Co., Third Floor.

Silver Plated Frames

$3.49

Usually $4.94

Unusually beautiful frames in size 8x12 inches. Attractively finished and made to be used as standing frame or attached to the wall.

Davison-Paxon Co., Street Floor

Stamped Pieces

Hemstitched Cases

89c Pr.

Full size pillow cases of finely woven, full bleached casing. Hemstitched ends and choice of five stamped designs.

Fudge Aprons

39c

Ready made and stamped in simple design for embroidering. Good unbleached material.

Luncheon Sets

98c

45-inch cloth and 14-inch napkins stenciled for outlining. Good quality unbleached material. Choice of two designs.

Crib Spreads

69c

Stenciled in attractive design to be outlined. Pillow stamped to match. Good values—49c.

Pillow Tops

29c and 39c

Voile and organdy boudoir pillow tops in round and oblong styles. Stenciled and stamped designs, some sheered.

Davison-Paxon Co., Needlework Dept., Fourth Floor.

TOLL OF ARKANSAS HUNT INCOMPLETE

St. Joe, Ark., February 4.—(AP)—The hunters are home from the hills, but because there were so many hunters and in so many hills a check tonight of the great one-day wolf hunt was impossible.

Gathering at Compton at dawn today several hundred shepherds of the Ozarks began the greatest hunt ever staged in the mountains. Organized under captains and with certain territory to cover, the hunters tramped the hills of three counties in search of wolves, lynx, panthers and other beasts that have been destroying their flocks.

Reports of successes and failures reached here tonight but details could not be gathered.

Automobile Wrecked On Peachtree Road; Hits Telephone Post

A man said by police to be James Whatley, of a local automobile agency on Peachtree street, was severely cut and bruised early Saturday night when an automobile he was driving south on Peachtree road struck a parked car at Piedmont avenue, and then zigzagged into the yard of Clarence Haverty, tearing down some shrubbery. After leaving the yard the auto was wrecked against a telephone post.

Whatley was treated at a local hospital, but when police went there to investigate they were told that the victim had been allowed to go home.

New 48 Hour Test For Getting Up Nights

If you feel that your pep, health and strength are being lowered by bladder weakness, disturbed sleep, backache, burning or itching sensation, and leg and groin pains, the new Cystex 48 Hour Test may be the very thing you need.

Just step into any drug store, and ask for Cystex. Put it to a 48 hour test. If you soon feel like new, full of pep, able to sleep soundly with pains alleviated it will cost you only 60c, otherwise nothing.

Don't give up. Don't wait. Feel better tomorrow. Learn the joy of healthful living. No need to risk a penny on unproved things because you are the sole judge of your satisfaction under the Cystex legal, binding, money back guarantee.—(adv.)

Brisk Ticket Sale Presages Big House For Rabbi Wise's Lecture Tuesday Night

Photo by Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographer.

Prominent Atlantans purchasing tickets for the lecture to be given next Tuesday at the auditorium by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, of New York. From left to right: W. Bayne Gibson, president of the Bayne Gibson Mortgage company, receiving his pasteboard from Miss Sara Shuman, chairman of the ticket committee for the Junior Hadassah, sponsors of the lecture, and Milton Dargan, Jr., president of the chamber of commerce, buying one from Miss Mayme Jacobs, a member of the committee.

Members of the Junior Hadassah, local organization of prominent young Jewish women, have been busy for the past week selling tickets for the lecture to be given Tuesday night next by Dr. Stephen S. Wise, rabbi of the Free Synagogue of New York. Dr. Wise will deliver his famous lecture, "Jew and Gentile," at the auditorium and all proceeds will go to the maintenance of a colony of young war orphans in Palestine, which obligation the Junior Hadassah has taken upon itself in Atlanta.

Dr. Wise, founder of the Zionist movement in America, is coming in order to help forward this cause and, with the fame as an orator which attaches to his name, and the work of the Junior Hadassarites helping, it is expected that several thousand people will hear him at the auditorium.

Dr. Wise was recently the loser, by a narrow margin of votes, in a debate in New York on companionate marriage. Judge Ben Lindsey spoke in favor of the new matrimonial idea, while Dr. Wise supported the old style mating. At the close of the lecture Dr. Wise received 941 votes compared to 992 for Judge Lindsey.

It is quite probable that companionate marriage—and other controversial subjects of the day—will come in for comment and debate at the auditorium on Tuesday. For Dr. Wise has a habit, in his lectures, of making startling comments upon all manner of subjects. He has been known to say that he likes to make people think and the most effective way to do so is to tell 'em something that will startle them and, preferably, arouse their opposition.

This habit, taken in conjunction with the fact that Dr. Wise has no objection to answering questions from the floor, promises possibility of excitement Tuesday night.

Tickets for the lecture may be secured from any member of the Junior Hadassah, and they are also on sale at Cable Piano company, Phillips and Crew Piano company, the Penelope Penn desk on the first floor of the M. Rich & Bros. department store, and the main store of Jacobs' pharmacy on Marietta street.

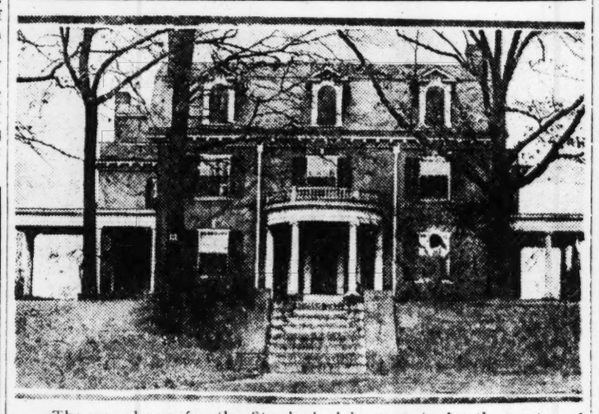

The box office at the auditorium will be opened at 7 o'clock on Tuesday night, an hour and a half before the lecture is to begin.

BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

Charlie Hacker, 6, of 82 Fair street, S. E., is in the children's ward of Grady hospital in a serious condition as the result of a fall from the second story window of his home Saturday morning.

Roscoe Suddeth, 7, of 512 Venable street, was treated at Grady hospital for burns about the face. Mary Everett, 12, of Gordon road, received treatment for a dog bite on the left leg.

Bought by Standard Club

The new home for the Standard club, soon to be the center of Jewish social affairs. Palatial residence of Harold R. Armstrong, on Ponce de Leon avenue, which has been purchased for the Standard club, now occupying a building on Washington street.

CLUB BUYS HOME ON PONCE DE LEON

Continued From First Page.

strong home. The Washington street property consists of a lot measuring 100 feet on Washington street and 200 feet deep, improved with a club-residence. The club plans to occupy its new home in about 90 days. The Washington street property acquired by Mr. Armstrong is to be placed on the market for a suitable purchaser, it was said.

To Live at Biltmore.

Mr. Armstrong, who is a prominent business man and investment broker with principal offices in New York, where he is required to spend much of his time, stated that he and his family would probably move into the Atlanta Biltmore hotel. He plans to spend eight months of the year in Atlanta in order to educate his children in the south.

Principals representing the Standard club in the transaction were Simon Selig, president; Ben Massell, chairman of the new club building committee, and A. W. Rosenfeld, chairman of the board of directors and of the finance committee. Other officers of the club are Donald Oberdorfer, vice president; Emil Dittler, secretary, and L. J. Regenstein, treasurer.

Acting as agents in the deal were Charles L. Greene and John C. Lusk.

HICKMAN STRIPS FOR TEST IN COURT

Continued From First Page.

contended that the letters were visible at the end of the 180 seconds. The doctor himself admitted there was present a slight indication of a diffused skin writing condition but asserted that the diffused condition was not proof of a diseased condition.

Prior to the dramatic experiment, Dr. Bowers had repeated a statement which he said was Hickman's own denial of the "divine guidance" insanity plea set up by the defense in the sanity trial of the confessed killer of the schoolgirl.

Dr. Bowers said Hickman had denied he had had such a delusion and had added: "It wouln't have been a very kind providence" if the kidnaping and killing had been so directed.

Blow Again Hits Defense.

Dr. Bowers aimed another stiff blow at the defense when he deduced from statements made by Hickman that the prisoner knew right from wrong, and the test of sanity under the California law.

The witness told of a cinversation he had with Hickman on the subject of love and marriage. The slayer, he said, had remarked that to love and have a family without marrying "would be contrary to law and rules of society."

Dr. Bowers summed up his conclusions with the statement that he "would say Hickman was sane."

Reversing the order of yesterday when defense alienists found themselves the object of prosecution attacks, today found defense Attorney Jerome Walsh hammering away at the state's experts, who testified Hickman was sane.

Defense Questions Alienist.

Dr. Cecil Reynolds had said yesterday that he believed the prisoner normal mentally, able to determine between right and wrong. Today, he stood up under a flood of questions from Walsh and left the stand without having contradicted his previously expressed beliefs. He said that Hickman was not suffering from meningitis, as had been stated by one defense alienist, and added that Hickman was as normal physically as he was mentally.

As to the delusions and hallucinations pointed to by defense experts as governing factors in Hickman's mental reactions, Dr. Reynolds asserted that Hickman had no such delusions.

Further, the witness stated, he was informed a defense alienist had been overheard coaching the prisoner in his role of a delusion-ridden incompetent.

Cross-examination of Dr. Bowers was still in progress when court adjourned until Monday.

FATHER CHARGES SON WAS TERRORIZED.

El Paso, Texas, February 4.—(United News.)—Thomas Hickman, father of "The Fox," slayer of Marian Parker, charged on his return from Los Angeles tonight that his son told Mrs. Hickman that officers threatened to "throw him to a mob" in Oregon if he did not confess.

Hickman was tired from the ordeal of testifying at Edward's trial in Los Angeles and he sobbed at times when he spoke.

NEGRO IS KILLED WHILE ATTEMPTING TO STAB OFFICER

Call Officer M. D. Cartwright Saturday night shot and killed Early Thomas, negro, of 10 Solomon street. The shooting occurred in the rear of 257 Fraser street.

Call Officers Cartwright and E. E. Brackett were called to quell a disturbance in the vicinity of Fraser and Rawson street, in which Thomas and his brother are said to have chased Eddie Blake, negro, of 388 Fraser street, for several blocks, firing a number of shots at him.

As the officers neared the scene Thomas took refuge in a house at 257 Fraser street, while his brother fled. Officer Brackett went into the house and the negro tried to escape from the back. Cartwright flashed his light on him and the negro lunged at him with a knife. The officer drew his pistol and fired once, the bullet entering the negro's heart.

BELL INSURANCE NOT PRECEDENT, HINES REASSURES

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The refusal of the veterans' bureau to make a lump sum payment of $10,000 on the insurance policy of the late Major General George Bell, Jr., apparently has caused uneasiness among a number of war veterans who have no reason to be uneasy about their government insurance.

Reassuring such veterans in a statement today, Director Hines said that "the adjudication of the Bell case has no bearing whatever upon the thousands of converted policies now held by veterans throughout the country."

SCHOOL CONTRACT MEETING CALLED

Continued From First Page.

bid of the Howard P. Foley company, of Atlanta, is $53,799.07, $139.52 lower than the individual bids, and the lowest consolidated figure submitted.

Total cost of the complete Bass project under recommendations of the committee will be 222,229; Brown $251,259, and O'Keefe $240,226.

Fleming Construction company was recommended for the general contract on Bass at $167,100; Stephenson Plumbing company $13,588; Jackson Heating company $26,066; Eryan Electric company $15,475—total $222,229. Griffin Construction company for Brown at $190,257; Shepard Plumbing company $13,286; Seeley Heating company $27,253, and the Woodward Electric company $20,463—total $251,259. Wagar & company was recommended as the low bidder on O'Keefe at $182,935; Fearrell Plumbing company $19,880 and $29,411, for plumbing and heating, respectively; Walker Electric company $18,000.

Turn Hair Dark With Sage Tea

By JEAN MACON

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product for only 75 cents, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. —(adv.)

FRECKLES

Tells How to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots and Have a Beautiful Complexion.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine from any drug or department store and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine, as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove your freckles.—(adv.)

OLD SORES

Since 1869 ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE has healed more old sores than all other salves combined. It is the most powerful salve known and heals sores from the bottom up, drawing out the poisons. By mail 65 cents. Book free.

I. P. Allen Medicine Co., Dept. R, St. Paul, Minn.

SANTAL MIDY

Night Bladder Weakens or Pains Relieved Safely with Santal Midy

Sold by All Druggists

HOT WATER

No. 50 Double Copper Coil Heaters, as illustrated.....$12.50
No. 40 Heater.....$10.00
No. 25 Rudd.....$15.00
Kerosene Heater.....$22.50
We stock repair parts for these heaters, ranging in price from 5c to $10.50. Consider this point in your purchase of a water heater.
30-Gal. Riveted Boiler (Weight 77 lbs.).....$8.00
Less 10% for Cash.

PICKERT
Plumbing Supply Co.
Wholesale and Retail
197-199 Central Ave., S. W. WAl. 8169

ASPIRIN

The whole world knows Aspirin as an effective antidote for pain. But it's just as important to know that there is only one genuine Bayer Aspirin. The name Bayer is on every tablet, and on the box. If it says Bayer, it's genuine; and if it doesn't it is not! Headaches of all sorts are dispelled by Bayer Aspirin. So are colds, and the pain that goes with them; even neuralgia, neuritis, and rheumatism promptly relieved. Get Bayer—at any drugstore—with proven directions.

Physicians prescribe Bayer Aspirin; it does NOT affect the heart

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid

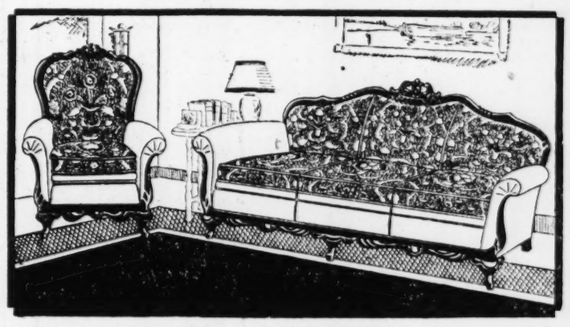

February Furniture Event

Matching Your Dollar During February

HERE IS THE PLAN: Come to our store and select what you want, no matter how small or how large and for every dollar you pay down we shall give you a receipt for $2.00. For instance if you buy $100.00 worth of furniture and pay $10.00 down, we will issue receipt for $20.00. Buy $200.00 worth and pay $15.00 down and we issue receipt for $30.00. We match your payment on any size purchase up to 10% of the purchase during February.

A Clean Complete Stock Fresh From the World's Largest Furniture Markets

LIVING ROOM WEEK

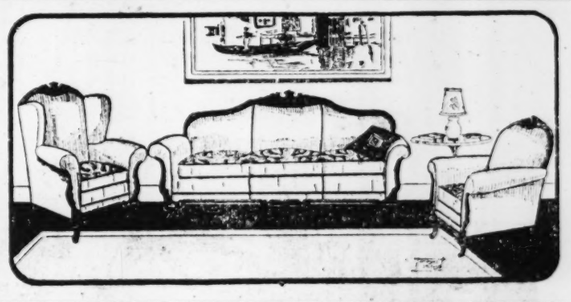

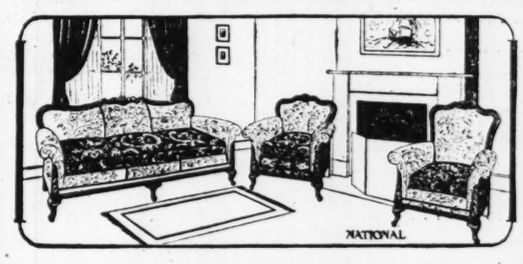

A handsome two-piece wood rail back suite in a high-grade taupe and rose mohair with tapestry reverse cushions. This suite will lend charm to your living room at a small cost . . . $134

12 equal monthly payments

This two-piece suite has a solid mahogany frame of the best construction, high-grade taupe and rose mohair and a striking jacquard reverse cushion. The edges of the cushions are corded which adds to its beauty . . $137

Can be sold in three pieces

A neat carved wood frame three-piece taupe and rose mohair suite with attractive tapestry reverse cushions. A suite priced special for this event . . $169

When we match your dollars, this suite can be bought as low as $152.10 for 3 pieces
35 other suites priced from .....$115.00 to $265.00

12 equal monthly payments on any purchase.

Group of Floor Lamps

A large shipment of floor, table and bridge lamps just received from the markets. Priced surprisingly low.

Special END TABLE

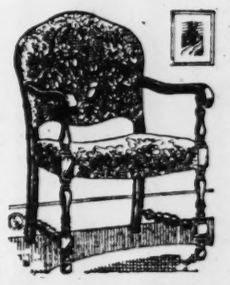

$1.95 Less 10% $1.75

Cash and Carry

Occasional Chairs

Spot Chairs Coxwell Chairs

$19.50 TO $65.00

Robert F. Brownlee FURNITURE

"A Good Furniture Store Out of the High-Rent District"

457 Edgewood Avenue
At Boulevard

Much Interest Is Shown In Oratorical Contest; Many Desire To Enter

Inquiries Are Received From Points in South Carolina and Tennessee; Pointers Are Given.

Interest in the fifth national oratorical contest, sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution, is spreading. As a matter of fact, it is spreading to places slightly out of the Constitution's territory.

During the past two weeks, The Constitution and Dr. J. S. Stewart, of the University of Georgia, in charge of the contest in Georgia, have received numerous inquiries from Tennessee and South Carolina cities.

Much as The Constitution would like to have them do it, schools in cities in these states cannot enter under the wing of The Constitution. The Charleston Gazette is sponsor for the South Carolina schools, while Tennessee has no district sponsor.

During the week closing Saturday, a number of Georgia students have added their names to those desiring to enter. From Braselton, Ochlochnee again, and Canton among others, have come inquiries.

Fifth Contest.

This is the fifth national contest. The subject is the United States constitutionn, and it has been divided into two branches—the development of the constitution, and the present significance of the constitution.

Following is reproduced suggestions to contestants made by Randolph Leigh, national director of the contest.

"Having decided upon an oration subject, the contestant should go systematically about the task of gathering material and utilizing it. Of course, the school and public libraries should be consulted. The encyclopedias will furnish a concise working background of information. In addition, read one or two good and reasonably brief books very carefully. Use the lengthy books mainly for reference remembering that an intelligent use of the index will save time and increase the amount of information actually retained.

Specialize in Oration

"As a practical proposition, it is well to avoid trying to gather too much data for your oration. You should determine the particular line along which you are to construct your speech and not be led aside by extraneous ideas, even though they may have their appeal.

"The ten minute time limit on the oration makes it imperative that everything be concentrated upon giving a vivid and single impression in your address. Under the rigorous rule of brevity, Lincoln, rather than Burke, should be your oratorical model. That is not equivalent to saying that Burke was not one of the greatest orators but simply that his particular technique is totally unfitted to the specific problem before you.

"Guard against too many quotations, particularly long ones. When you quote, give credit for the quotation.

"Do not use obvious quotations, such as, for example, the opening paragraph of the U. S. Constitution.

"Gather your own materials, in your own way, shape them in your own language and make up in sincerity anything that you may lack in polish.

Make Your Address Brief.

"Keep your oration within the specified time limit of 10 minutes. Special attention should be given to the time limit. It is not enough to have an oration which can sometime be kept within the specified time limit. It must be one that can be kept within the time limit whenever you are in competition. The only way to be certain on this point is to give yourself a safe margin, say 20 or 30 seconds. Remember that your speech will lose its effect if you appear to hurry through with it, and you will invariably hurry in the crucial contests if you are not absolutely positive that you have time enough.

"In case a speaker exceeds the allotted time for delivery he is not to be disqualified, provided he stops immediately after the blowing of the 10-minute whistle. In such a case he will be judged on his performance up to that time. IF, HOWEVER, HE CONTINUES TO SPEAK AFTER THE BLOWING OF THE WHISTLE, HE IS AUTOMATICALLY TO BE DISQUALIFIED.

"Contestants having mastered the rules of the contest should show sportsmanship in abiding by them without quibbling. One of the most important things to bear in mind in this connection is that the decision of the judges must be final.

"By all means get excited over the contest, but do not forget that you must play the game and stand by the results.

Watch The Constitution for dates, results and so forth, and look to your school principal or superintendent for rules, procedure and assistance.

School Problems To Be Discussed At 25 Meetings

Problems facing public schools of Georgia in 1928 will be discussed at a series of educational rallies to be held under auspices of the state department of education during February in 25 towns of the state, according to a recent announcement from M. L. Duggan, state school superintendent.

Places and dates for the meetings were listed as follows: Alpharetta and Cumming, February 6; Dawsonville and Dahlonega, February 7; Blairsville and Hiawassee, February 8; Clayton and Clarkesville, February 9; Cleveland and Gainesville, February 10; Winder, February 11; Canton and Jasper, February 13; Blue Ridge and Ellijay, February 14; Calhoun and Chatsworth, February 15; Ringgold and Trenton, February 16; LaFayette and Summerville, February 17; Rome and Cedartown, February 18; Madison, February 20, and Monroe, February 21.

The county school superintendent in each locality named will be in charge of the meeting, Mr. Duggan said, and those invited to attend will include county and city boards of education, local trustees, patrons, ministers, leaders of civic organizations and others interested in education.

Representing the state school organization at each of the rallies, the announcement said, will be J. O. Martin, state school supervisor; Miss Lurline Parker, of the health division of the Georgia State College for Women at Milledgeville, and probably Mr. Duggan.

Matters coming up for discussion at the rallies will include the state equalization fund for schools, the 1928 school census, questions of enrollment and attendance, and the 1928 Barrett-Rogers fund.

American Girl Central Figure In Marie's Book

Bucharest, February 4.—(AP)—A little American girl is the central figure in a fariy story just completed by Queen Marie.

In the book Queen Marie takes a tiny American from a humble home across the ocean to the queen's feudal castles in Bran in the Transylvania mountains overlooking the Black sea. There the child sees how kings and queens and princes and princesses, of which she knows only from reading fairy tales, actually live.

Under the escort the girl sees golden thrones and jewels and as a special treat is allowed to play with little King Michael.

RADCLIFFE OFFERS 15 SCHOLARSHIPS TO GIRL STUDENTS

Announcement was made Saturday afternoon of the decision of Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass., to award 15 scholarships of $500 each to girl students throughout the United States who excel in their preparatory school studies at the end of the present scholastic year.

One of the awards will go to a southern student, it was announced. Students who are interested in the scholarship should apply to Miss Cleveland Zahner, 1428 Peachtree street, and to be eligible they must be among the best students to graduate this June.

Radcliffe alumnae living in Atlanta include Mrs. Samuel N. Evins, Mrs. Henry Cooper, Miss Frances Hatcher, Miss Cleveland Zahner and Mrs. Reginald Fleet, the chairman for Georgia.

Man Claims Wife Eats Too Much

Due to stomach trouble, Mrs. F. M. Noble was hardly eating anything. After taking Adlerika, her husband says she keeps him hustling to buy food.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc. (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists.—(adv.)

ORGANIZED LABOR OF WORLD TO ASK EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Berlin, February 4.—(AP)—The newspaper Vorwaerts says today that at a recent committee meeting of the international trades union in Berlin it was decided to make a special feature of the next May day celebration in a grand demonstration for ratification of the Washington agreement for an eight-hour working day.

All affiliated countries have been asked to join in intensive propaganda to make the demonstration effective.

NORMAN TO ADDRESS ALBANY ROTARIANS

R. C. Norman, state tax commissioner, has announced that he has accepted an invitation to address the Albany, Ga., Rotary club Thursday of next week on the subject of Georgia's taxation system. The Albany message will be the third delivered by Mr. Norman in Georgia this year advocating abandonment of the state's present ad valorem tax system in favor of a tax on sales and income.

STUDEBAKER

The Great Independent

Behind every Studebaker and Erskine car are $105,000,000 in actual net assets and great modern research and engineering facilities.

Behind Studebaker Performance Records —engineering genius!

AS a result of the engineering genius in Studebaker motor cars, Studebaker now holds all the highest endurance and speed records (from 1 mile to 25,000 miles) for fully equipped stock cars, regardless of power or price. Headed by D. G. Roos, Studebaker's engineering staff leads the industry in point of actual achievement.

It is the work of genius to produce such a car as The Studebaker Commander—the car that went 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes. Nothing else on earth ever ran so far so fast. Studebaker engineering genius is reflected, too, in the increase of the power of The Studebaker Dictator from 45 to 70 h.p.—with greater economy of operation—and with no increase in price.

Constantly kept up-to-date

During the past three years Studebaker engineers have adopted such advancements as the magazine lubricating system; thermostatic cooling system; no-draft ventilating windshield; engine thermometer on dash; full-vision welded steel bodies; coincidental lock to steering and ignition, etc. Some of these improvements were pioneered by Studebaker and are still exclusive Studebaker features.

Studebaker engineers have provided such an ingenious lubricating system that you need change oil but once every 2500 miles.

And now, as a result of advanced engineering, Studebaker and Erskine cars may be driven 40-miles-per-hour the day they are delivered. No more tedious "breaking-in" at 20-mile speed.

Studebaker spends millions to make sure

Engineering and laboratory facilities for experimentation and research are of the utmost importance. Studebaker provides its brilliant staff of research men headed by W. S. James, former section chief of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, with the most complete facilities that money can buy.

In Studebaker's laboratories technicians test all raw materials. Over the diversified roads and grades of Studebaker's million-dollar Proving Ground, Studebaker and Erskine models are driven in extended tests of speed and mechanical endurance.

Studebaker gives more; costs less

Because Studebaker builds bodies, engines and chassis for Studebaker cars, profits of outside manufacturers are reduced to a minimum. These savings are passed on to you in the form of higher quality materials and the highest type of precision workmanship—at a low One-Profit price.

Before you buy a car, take the wheel of one of the new Studebakers. It will reveal the most advanced engineering of 1928 combined with Studebaker's 76-year-old traditions of quality.

VALUES IN FOUR PRICE FIELDS

	Brake H.P.	Miles Per Hour	Prices
The President Eight	100	80	$1985 to $2450
The Commander	85	72	1495 to 1695
The Dictator	70	65	1195 to 1295
Erskine Six	43	62	795 to 965

All prices f. o. b. factory, including shock absorbers

Yarbrough Motor Co.

560-569 WEST PEACHTREE STREET

Duffell Motor Co.
784 Gordon St., West End

Al Martin's Garage, Inc.
181 South Pryor St.

Sears, Roebuck and Co.

RETAIL DEPARTMENT STORE

Ponce de Leon at Glen Iris Drive

STORE HOURS:
8 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.
Saturdays Till 9 P. M.

FREE AUTO PARK
No Time Limit
No Waiting

February Furniture Sale

Offers Unusual Savings On

Pianos and Players

Studio Upright

Our famous guaranteed Beckwith upright—ideal for studio, apartment or small home. Beautifully finished in brown mahogany. The pleasure derived from such a fine toned instrument will more than repay this low price. See these pianos tomorrow—the quantity is limited—an early selection guarantees your satisfaction.

$280

Easy Payment Price

Upright Player Pianos

$275

Easy Payment Price

A fine-toned piano in English brown mahogany finish. Contains a fine player action. A purchase of a lifetime for a lifetime—and the unbelievably low price brings them in the range of everyone's purse. At these low prices they will be sold quickly.

Beckwith Baby Grand

$468

Easy Payment Price

In a beautiful English brown mahogany finish—one of the best known and liked actions on the market, and carrying the strongest guarantee to protect you in every way.

Such features as solid copper strings, smooth action, beautiful finish—all go to make up this beautiful Baby Grand model. Terms very reasonable.

Our Great Sale offers impressive savings on Furniture for every room in the home.

ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY BACK

STEPHENS REPLICA PROGRAM READY

A large list of honor guests will be in attendance at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of February 11 at the city auditorium at the presentation to the state of Georgia of the plaster replica of the recently-unveiled statue of Alexander Stephens in Statuary hall in Washington, D. C., according to announcement Saturday.

In addition to Governor and Mrs. L. G. Hardman and their party and Mayor and Mrs. I. N. Ragsdale and their party, representative bodies from schools and colleges of the state will attend, as well as the Confederate veterans.

The plaster replica arrived in Atlanta Friday and following the exercises will be placed in the state capitol. The exercises will be preceded by a great parade beginning at the Georgian Terrace hotel at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and proceeding to the city auditorium.

Many Military Units.

Practically every military unit in the city, together with cadets from Milledgeville, Macon, Barnesville and Griffin, will participate in the parade.

On the distinguished list of speakers for the program will be Judge Alex Stephens, John M. Graham, Attorney General George M. Napier, Judge Richard B. Russell, Senator John I. Kelley, William H. Fleming, of Augusta; Seaborn Wright, of Rome; and Mrs. Rebecca L. Felton, of Cartersville; Governor Hardman, Mayor Ragsdale, Major Scott Candler, of Decatur, and others.

Among those who will occupy boxes at the exercises will be Mrs. L. G. Hardman and guests, Mrs. I. N. Ragsdale and guests, Councilman and Mrs. Howard C. McCutcheon, Councilman and Mrs. Frank H. Reynolds, Alderman and Mrs. R. F. Pennington, Alderman and Mrs. Robert E. Gann, members of the Fulton county commission and their wives, Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America, Daughters of the American Colonists, Daughters of Barons and Runnemede Order of the Crown, and the Stephens family.

Other Delegations.

Among other guests will be delegates from Crawfordville, the Atlanta Woman's club, the board of Federated Women's clubs, Girls' High school, Commercial High school, Agnes Scott college, North Avenue Presbyterian school, Washington seminary, Woodberry school, Atlanta and Fulton chapters and executive boards of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, woman's executive boards of Oglethorpe university, Tech and Emory, the Helen Gould auxiliary of the Spanish war veterans and the Roosevelt auxiliary of the Spanish war veterans.

Boxes will also be provided for the faculties of the several colleges in the city and state.

Daughter and Grandson Of Mayor Enjoy Air Trip

Photo by Francis E. Price, staff photographer. S

Mrs. Joseph E. Brown, daughter of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, and Joseph E. Brown, Jr., the mayor's grandson, are shown with Pilot Ben Faulkner, of the Pitcairn corporation, just before the take-off Saturday afternoon to visit the Brown home in Rockmart. Mrs. Brown and her little son made their first voyage and just to show they were thinking about the old home, dropped a note in the Rockmart homestead yard, where Mr. Brown was standing. The picture shows the trio just before they left Candler field.

National Leader Of Odd Fellows To Speak Friday

Leon S. Merrill, dean of the University of Maine and grand sire of American Odd Fellows, will speak at the First Christian church, South Pryor street and Trinity avenue, at 8 o'clock Friday night. Atlanta Odd Fellows are planning a large reception in honor of their visiting leader and Judge Richard D. Russell, chief justice of the Georgia supreme court, who is past grand master in the organization, will deliver an address of welcome, as will Mayor I. N. Ragsdale.

LEON S. MERRILL.

Dean Merrill will arrive in Atlanta Friday morning and will be met at the station by a large delegation. During the day he will hold a conference with the grand lodge officers, grand encampment members and the Rebekah assembly.

Among others scheduled to speak at the meeting Friday night are Mrs. J. E. Bodenhamer, president of the Rebekah assembly of Georgia and Past Grand Masters James A. Perry and D. L. Nichols. Grand Master M. L. Ledford, of Cairo, Ga., will be toastmaster.

The organization which Dean Merrill heads has a membership of 3,500,000 in the United States. He is at present touring jurisdictions in the south, arranging programs for the promotion of lodge activities.

Savannah People Living in Atlanta To Form Society

Plans for the organization of a Savannah society, the membership to be composed of former Savannahians who are now living in Atlanta, were made Saturday night at an informal dinner given by Charles G. Beck, Georgia manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company, at the Capital City club, in honor of Fred J. Robinson, executive general agent of the Central of Georgia railway, the latest Savannahian to move to Atlanta.

The society will hold two meetings a year under the plan suggested Saturday night. Its motive will be to hold together in the bonds of friendship Savannah folk whose business connections have caused them to move to this city.

Among those present at the dinner were Mr. Robinson, Mr. Beck, William V. Davis, Sr., T. J. Davis, W. B. Spann, Edgar Nichols, the Rev. Luther R. Christie, Allen Artley, Haygood Clarke, Campbell Krenson and Ben Cooper. A list of prospective members of the society was prepared, and letters of invitation to join will be mailed out within the next week or so. Former Savannahians now living in Atlanta are requested to call or write Ben Cooper, in care of The Constitution, and give their names in for membership.

First Rehearsal In Grand Frolics Set for Tonight

Preliminary rehearsal, and additional try-outs for positions in the cast of the Constitution—Loew's Grand Frolics to be staged at that theater week of February 13, will be held at 6 o'clock tonight at Loew's Grand theater, following a try-out session Saturday night at the Ansley hotel, when a portion of the cast was selected.

Jack Oberdorfer, musical director for Victor Hyde, noted stage director, who is supervising the production, interviewed almost 200 applicants Saturday night in the Civic room of the Ansley and made preliminary instructions regarding music to members of the cast.

Those who did not report Saturday night will accept this as official notice to appear for try-outs at 6 o'clock tonight at the theater. This will be the last time try-outs will be given and those having applications submitted are eligible to receive trials for the cast.

Victor Hyde will arrive here early this week to begin vigorous rehearsal for the production. Many of the brilliant new costumes and lavish stage settings already have been received and others are on the way from New York.

Each local boy or girl accepted for the cast will be paid a regular salary for the week's engagement and in addition will have the invaluable training of Mr. Hyde.

700 PLAIN CITIZEN ATTEND BANQUET IN ROYAL PALACE

Vienna, February 4.—(AP)—If the Emperor Francis Joseph could by some miracle have returned to his old haunts last night he would have found in the great imperial ballroom of the Hofburg palace, for seven centuries a gathering place resrved for kings, queens, and nobles, a sight to dazzle his eye and daze his senses.

Seven hundred citizens of Vienna and their wives, deciding that they would be kings and queens at least for a night, spread a great banquet for themselves in the great gilt ballroom. The feast was followed by a grand ball and a night of revelry unrivalled since Austria's most spacious monarchical days. The merriment and laughter, which continued until daybreak, was led by Louis de Sealmes, formerly Austrian imperial chef, who is known here as the chef of kings and the king of chefs.

GOUNOD CANTATA TO BE PRESENTED BY NEGRO SINGERS

Gounod's "Gallia," one of the popular cantatas, will be rendered this afternoon at Spelman college under the direction of Professor Kemper Harreld, of Morehouse college. A mixed chorus of sixty voices from Spelman and Morehouse, with piano and pipe organ accompaniment, will take part. The concert will be given in the Sisters' chapel at the entrance of the Spelman grounds, beginning at 3 o'clock. The public is invited.

COOLIDGE'S SON HELPED ARRANGE DANCE AT COLLEGE

Amherst, Mass., February 4.—(AP)—John Coolidge, son of President Coolidge, and a senior at Amherst college, was a member of the committee on the senior hop, the biggest social event of the winter at the college, which took place tonight, and was in charge of the music.

BANKSTON MAY SEEK PUBLIC SERVICE POST

W. Trox Bankston, prominent newspaper publisher, stated Saturday while on a visit to Atlanta, that he probably would be a candidate in the next Democratic primary, for the unexpired term on the State Public Service commission of the late O. R. Bennett, of Eastman. This position is now filled by Perry Knight, of Valdosta, who was appointed a few days ago by Governor L. G. Hardman.

Mr. Bankston ran for a place on the commission several years ago, polling more than 90,000 votes.

For more than a quarter of a century he published a newspaper at West Point. He recently sold a newspaper at Covington, where he now resides. He stated that friends all over the state have urged him to make the race.

NEW PROBLEMS FACED BY CHEST

In rendering Saturday to the public an account of its stewardship for January, showing payment of the greater part of its funds directly to its 35 agencies for Atlanta's work of charity relief and human reconstruction, the Community Chest revealed a program of new problems in practical philanthrophy which it has undertaken to solve this year, as a means of broadening its usefulness and filling every human need of the community.

With a balance on hand January 1 of $1,207.81, according to the financial statement, the chest collected in January $62,935.90, making available for charity work $64,173.71.

Of this sum $40,393.86 was paid directly to the agencies in allotments apportioned to their respective budgets. Loans by banks, totaling $10,000, were repaid, and bills from last year's campaign and administration expenses totaling $10,394.55 were paid. These three items accounted for $60,788.41 of the money on hand.

It was explained that approximately $100,000 was due and payable by contributors January 1 on the quarterly payment basis of most pledges, of which sum the collection of $62,935.90 represents a considerable shortage. A large portion of this deficit is expected to be collected before April 1, when another quarterly installment of the pledges will be payable. In the meantime, with the chest obligated to pay $26,800 to the agencies during each of the months of February and March, or a total of $53,600, it will be necessary, it was pointed out, to resort to bank advances against future collections, that Atlanta's poor and needy will not suffer.

ALLEGED GAS STATION BANDIT APPREHENDED

Frank Hames, who gave his address as 452 Lindsey street, was apprehended by county officers early Saturday morning and lodged in Fulton tower in connection with the attempted robbery of a filling station on Campbellton road, near Fort McPherson, Thursday night.

According to officers, J. S. Lightburn, manager of the filling station, has identified Hames as one of two men who made an unsuccessful attempt to loot his cash drawer.

Wesley Memorial Church Will Hold Visitation Program

A special program has been arranged to celebrate Visitation day at Wesley Memorial church Sunday evening, February 12, and between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon every member of the church will be called on by a group of workers and urged to attend the services.

Between 200 and 300 workers have been assigned to this task. They will be divided into committees of five each and in this manner make their rounds.

The Wesley chorus choir of 100 voices, directed by A. C. Boatman, with Mrs. Boatman at the organ, will feature the celebration service.

CHARLES DANIEL DIES IN NEW YORK

News of the death Saturday at his home in New York of Charles Daniel, 57, former prominent Atlanta newspaper man and for many years connected with The Constitution, was received here Saturday by his brother, L. J. Daniel. The body will be brought here for funeral services and interment.

Mr. Daniel was born and raised in Atlanta and after serving on the editorial staff of The Constitution, he moved to New York where he was engaged in the newspaper business for many years. Recently he had been engaged in the bond business.

While in Atlanta he was connected with the Daniel Brothers clothing firm and at the time of his death was a large stockholder in the company.

Mr. Daniel is survived by his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Frances Miles; a sister, Miss Minnie Daniel; a brother, L. J. Daniel, and two nephews, Charles D. and Clayton Daniel.

LIONS TO ENTERTAIN INTERNATIONAL HEAD

Plans for entertainment of Irving L. Camp, international president of the Lions club, and Mrs. Camp, who arrive in Atlanta Monday, February 13, on a tour of the south, are being formulated on an elaborate scale by members of the local club, it was announced Saturday. Mr. Camp is a resident of Johnston, Pa. He is visiting the Lions clubs of this section and making a series of introductory addresses.

The outstanding feature of the program here will be the reception, banquet and dance Monday night at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel.

The Atlanta Lions club will be the only one visited in Georgia by President Camp. Delegations from the 15 Lions clubs of this state have been invited to attend the affair here.

"HARMONY" RECORDS (Made by Columbia) 35c—3 for $1

Men's 79c and 98c
Shirts & Drawers
About 75 garments of heavy and medium weight in long sleeve, ankle length style. Some slightly soiled.
48c

The L. F. M Store
LEONARD, FITZPATRICK, MUELLER STORES CO.

Unusual Values in
Men's Fine Shirts
Fine quality broadcloths, percales and silk striped broadcloths in plain and novelty colors. All sizes.
$1.00

Every Item In This Ad Is A Value Worthy of Your ATTENTION!

36-In. Celanese Silk Voile
Stamped on Selvage!
A sensational purchase and sale of genuine "Celanese" printed voiles in a wide range of patterns. Beautiful colors—pure silk! A wonderful opportunity for spring sewers!
89c Yd.

54-In. Wool Flannel
54-in. all-wool flannel in a complete range of colors. Excellent quality!
$1.79 Yd.

40-In. Sport Satin
Extra heavy lustrous quality sport satin in all wanted colors. Guaranteed washable!
98c Yd.

36-In. Striped Broadcloth
A remarkable value here! Silk and self striped broadcloth of an excellent quality. Suitable for dresses, shirts, etc. Fast colors.
39c Yd.

Flat Crepe
Beautiful quality pure silk, washable flat crepe in all the popular shades, full 40-inch wide.
$1.48 Yd.

LINEN TOWELS
Usually 48c to 59c pure linen guest towels. Neat hemstitched edges. Surprisingly low priced!
29c

Lovely New Spring
Dresses
Decidedly Smart!
Fashioned of fine quality flat crepe, georgette and Canton in one and two-piece styles. Junior sizes 13-19, women's 16-48, stouts 16½ to 50½.
$14.50

Spring Coats
Sports and dress coats in beautiful colors and materials. All sizes.
$19.50

Pictures Enlarged
Just a Few Days Left at This Low Price
Only 49c Size 10x16 Convex

Boys' Wash Suits
Attractive one and two-piece wash suits of assorted materials in many colors and combinations. Sizes 3 to 8.
79c

Boys' Union Suits
Nicely made unions of good quality pajama check material. Wide yokes, double stitched.
25c

Special Sale of Women's Comfort Shoes
Straps, Oxfords and lace styles of soft kid leather with flexible soles and rubber heels. Broken sizes to clear at—$1.98 Pr.

Girls' Rayon Undies
Children's rayon silk slips, teddies and sets, consisting of vest and bloomers. White and pastel shades. Sizes 6 to 14.
98c

Girls' Wash Dresses
Splendid values in fast-color broadcloth and print dresses in sizes 7 to 14. Good assortment of colors. Short sleeves.
$1.98

Fine 220
Blue Denim
Extra heavy quality blue denim at a remarkable low price. Come early!
19c Yd.

72x90 Bleached
Bed Sheets
Full bleached sheets—Indian Head finish—no starch or dressing. Special
$1.00 Ea.

Fast Color
Eng. Prints
Good quality English prints in a large assortment of colors and attractive patterns.
15c Yd.

39-In. Unbleached
Sheeting
Good, smooth quality unbleached sheeting at genuine savings. Come early!
9c Yd.

BASEMENT BARGAINS

9 to 10 O'Clock Only
54x32 in. Table Cloths
Extra fine quality damask tablecloths in pure white with self designs. Only 144 to go. 9 to 10 only!
39c Ea.

Extra Heavy Unbleached
39-in. Sea Island
Extra heavy, smoothly woven unbleached Sea Island sheeting—Would be a wonderful value at 19c—Monday—
15c Yd.

Sale! Fine Quality
58-in. Table Damask
Usually 59c fine quality table damask with white and attractive colored borders. Very special at—
39c Yd.

Famous "Feature Brand"
9-4 Sheeting
Genuine 81-in. heavy quality unbleached sheeting. Limit 12 yards to customer. No orders. (Also 90-in. sheeting at 39c.)
25c Yd.

Greatly Reduced!
Heavy Outing
Excellent quality heavy outing flannel in neat stripes and checks. A value worthy of your attention!
10c Yd.

81x105 Full Bolster Size
Rayon Spreads
Beautiful silk rayon bolster spreads in blue, rose and green with gold stripes. Perfect! Limit 4, please.
$1.98 (Limit 4)

Look! Yale
Percales
Good quality Yale percales in a large assortment of colors and patterns.
5c Yd.

Famous
Lad Lassie
Genuine fast color Lad Lassie cloth in all the new spring patterns.
19c Yd.

Ruff & Tuff
Play Cloth
Fast color Ruff and Tuff and Tom Boy play cloths in many patterns.
15c Yd.

Madras and Percale
Shirtings
Usually 25c striped shirting Madras and Percales. Guaranteed fast colors.
17c Yd.

Hotel Astor
- NEW YORK -
Where one rubs elbows with New York's most interesting people!
"At the Crossroads of the World"
F. A. Muschenheim
TIMES SQUARE
BROADWAY 44 ST. - 45 ST

Friendly Bird Houses
3 for $1.00

The birds will soon be here with their cheery songs and flashes of color. As destroyers of insect pests and weed seeds, birds are most desirable yard and garden occupants. Attract them with Friendly Bird Houses. Carefully made of waterproofed fibre board representing natural bark. Three types, one for blue birds, swallows and warblers, another for wrens, chickadees and nuthatches and still another for robins and phoebes. Send $1.00 for all three complete. Send now for after seeing these you will want more before bird arrival time. Money back guarantee.
A. B. Cowles Company
13 Commerce St., Rochester, N.Y.

Cured His Rupture
I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to sell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. Pullen, Carpenter, 481-A Marcellus Ave., Manasquan, N. J. Better cut out this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation.

Free for Asthma During Winter
A Remarkable Method That Has Come to the Rescue of Asthmatics and Checks the Worst Attacks—Send Today for Free Trial.
If you suffer with those terrible attacks of Asthma when it is cold and damp; if you choke as if each gasp for breath was the very last, don't fail to send at once to the Frontier Asthma Co. for a free trial of their remarkable method. No matter where you live or whether you have any faith in any remedy under the sun, send for this free trial. If you have suffered for a lifetime and tried what you thought was the best skill known to cope with the most terrible attacks of Asthma, if you are discouraged beyond hope, send for this free trial.
FREE TRIAL COUPON
FRONTIER ASTHMA CO.,
699F Frontier Bldg., 462 Niagara St., Buffalo, N. Y.
Send free trial of your method to:
.....
.....
.....

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

FIVE NOTABLE PLANE FLIGHTS, TWO FAILURES MARK CELEBRATION OF LINDBERGH'S BIRTHDAY

Record-Breaking Grand Opera Season Is Seen

VARIETY, ARTISTRY OF NEW PROGRAM HAS WIDE APPEAL

Tentative List of Selections for This Season Announced by Music Festival Officers.

TWO NEW SINGERS ON LIST OF STARS

Operas Selected for 1928 Are Expected To Carry More General Appeal Than in Any Other Year

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Eclipsing all previous programs in variety and artistic importance Atlanta's season of grand opera, to be presented here the week of April 23 to 28, inclusive, gives promise of being one of the most successful, if not the record-breaking season of all, according to the tentative list of selections to be offered by the Metropolitan Opera company announced Saturday by the Atlanta Music Festival association.

Nine operas, some of them rated as all-time classics, some offered here for the first time, some chosen for spectacular effects and all of them of unusual standing in the musical world, will be offered on the new program. These operas will bring the foremost stars of the Metropolitan and will carry with them more popular appeal than any of the previous seasons, in the opinion of the officers of the Music Festival association.

Two new stars will be heard for a certainty and perhaps others, according to the announcement made by Harry M. Atkinson, president; Charles Howard Candler, vice president and treasurer, and Robert S. Parker, secretary of the association, who selected the operas after visits to New York and after conferences with the heads of the Metropolitan Opera company.

One of the new stars will be Grace

Continued on Page 10, Column 1

DIXIE BANKER SUED ON FRAUD CHARGES

Clarksdale, Miss., February 4.—(AP) A suit seeking to collect approximately $9,000,000 from W. P. Holland, former president of the defunct Planters' National bank, of Clarksdale, was filed in chancery court here today by the First National bank, of Boston.

The petition alleges that Holland had guaranteed more than $10,000,000 indebtedness of the Planters' bank to various other banking firms. Holland is now vice president of the Planters' National bank, of Clarksdale, which was formed by the consolidation of the old Planters' National bank with the Bank of Clarksdale. His wife, Mrs. Florence T. Holland, is president of the institution.

Suit Charges Fraud.

The petition claims that in contemplation of the alleged guarantees, or after they were made, Holland fraudulently transferred to his wife all his property, and as Mrs. Holland is now president of the Planters' National bank, of Clarksdale and owner of large property holdings, formerly in Holland's name, the suit asks that transfer of money and property to Mrs. Holland be declared void and a lien be fixed on her estate and property.

The suit also alleges that Holland did business in the name of various other relatives, and asks to have set aside a settlement Mrs. Holland made with a Missouri Life Insurance company in payment for claims against her husband. Seeking judgment against Holland for $8,700,000, the suit names the Planters' National bank, of Clarksdale, and several other banking institutions in the delta as defendants.

Complainants Named.

The complainants in the bill besides the First National Bank of Boston are: National Bank of Commerce of New York, Chemical National bank, Hanover National bank, American Exchange, Irving Trust company, Bank of America, Philadelphia; Girard National bank, Continental National Bank and Trust company, Illinois Merchants' Trust company, Mississippi Valley Trust company, National Bank of Kentucky, Union and Planters and Trust company, Bank of Commerce and Trust company, Citizens and Southern National bank and Hibernia Bank and Trust company.

The suit is an outgrowth of financing in connection with the merger of the two banks.

1928 Grand Opera Season To Bring Great Array of Stars Here

Atlanta's season of grand opera, to be presented the last week in April by the Metropolitan Opera company, will bring to this city one of the greatest arrays of operatic stars ever heard in one season.

In the picture (upper left) is the veteran Giuseppe DeLuca, popular baritone, as he will appear in "The Barber of Seville." The young woman at the piano is Grace Moore, the Jellico, Tenn., girl who is making her debut this season with the Metropolitan. She will sing "Mimi" in "La Boheme" for the first time at the Metropolitan Opera house Wednesday night.

Perennially popular Rosa Ponselle, dramatic soprano, is seen in the next picture, upper row, in one of the costumes she wears in the sensational revival of "Norma." The little girl at Miss Ponselle's right is Stella Jackson Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gratton Condon, of New York. This pretty little girl spends her summers in Atlanta with her grandmother, Mrs. J. J. Loeb. Upper right is seen the glorious Lucrezia Bori as "Mimi" in "La Boheme."

In the second row are (left to right) Mme. Amelita Galli-Curci, coloratura soprano; Giovanni Martinelli, tenor; Marion Talley, soprano; Florence Easton, soprano, and Beniamino Gigli, tenor, all of whom are too well known for further comment.

On the bottom row (left) is Antonio Scotti, veteran baritone, who is one of the most popular singers in the world. The next picture shows the ballet of the Metropolitan Opera company, which will appear here in several operas. Lower right is seen Lawrence Tibbett, famous American baritone.

COOLIDGE 'VOICES' NEWSPAPER IDEALS

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—President Coolidge, in an address tonight at the dedication of the National Press club building, urged the American press "to undertake to recapture the dominant position it formerly held as a distributor of current information and a director of public opinion."

Characterizing the press as indispensable to the business enterprise of the nation, the president pointed out that it ought to compete with universities as an influence for education and match the pulpit in supporting a scrupulous moral standard. Due to many other avenues of information, the country was less dependant than formerly upon the press for its knowledge of men and affairs, he asserted.

"In a republic the field which is

Continued on Page 12, Column 8

Marion Talley Denies Report Of Retirement

New York, February 4.—(AP)—The World will say tomorrow that Marion Talley, youthful soprano of the Metropolitan opera, announced today that without doubt she will sing in concerts next season.

F. C. Coppicus, under whose management Miss Talley has sung in concerts for the past two seasons, was quoted in dispatches from Kansas City as saying in a letter to a newspaper there that he had suggested that Miss Talley "retire for a year or two in order to study further."

Displeased With Manager.

The World quotes Miss Talley as saying she had refused to sign a new contract with Coppicus because she "was dissatisfied with the work he was doing for her," and that "to get rid of him" she told him she was not going to sing next season when he sought a new contract with her.

Continued on Page 12, Column 6

GROCERY CHANGES WILL AID ATLANTA

Purchase by the Southern Stores corporation, which formerly operated only in Florida, of Piggly Wiggly units in Nashville, Chattanooga, Knoxville and Tampa, and assumption of active management of Atlanta's Piggly Wiggly stores, will greatly benefit this city by additional pay rolls, commissions and other expenditures, R. J. Marshburn, head of the new chain, said Saturday. The Southern Stores corporation now represents capital in excess of $1,000,000.

The linking of these stores climaxes a nine-year steady rise of the corporation from one store in Miami with capital of $6,000 to the million-dollar concern that it now represents.

The Southern Stores corporation

Heavy Winds And Rain Hit S. California

Los Angeles, February 4.—(AP)—Windstorms and heavy rains, both welcome and unwelcome, including a mild "twister," visited southern California today.

Santa Ana, in the orange belt east of Los Angeles, was hostess to the midwest variety of dipping wind spirals. The storm spun a real estate office on the west side into so much lumber. Diving into a nearby section where small poultry farms are the order, numerous coops were demolished and 300 chickens killed. Several private garages were shifted about and damaged. Only one residence was damaged in the 20-block area affected by the storm.

Imperial Valley, where lettuce and green crops are in the marketing stage and easily damaged by moisture, a heavy rain which began this afternoon spread alarm through the section.

23 NOW QUALIFIED FOR FULTON RACES

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

Twenty-three qualified candidates Saturday were ready to take off in the county primary of March 7, when several of the most hotly contested campaign in recent years will be staged. Entry and registration lists close at noon Monday and all other aspirants must enter formally by that time.

Only one new entry, County Surveyor Eugene W. Robert, incumbent, announced his bid for votes during the past week. He brought the total number of candidates to 23, but failed to raise the number of contests, only six of which were assured when the office of the secretary closed at noon Saturday.

Predictions were that no other contests will be made, but that any other

Continued on Page 12, Column 4

U. S. COURT HALTS PLAN OF SENATE TO JAIL OIL MAN

Teapot Dome Committee Traces $800,000 Bonds; Stewart Obtains Habeas Corpus Writ From Court

Washington, February 4.—(United News)—Court action temporarily blocked the United States senate today in an attempt to jail Robert W. Stewart, millionaire oil man, for definantly refusing to answer questions about the mysterious $3,000,000 Liberty bonds profits made by the Continental Trading company in 1921.

Meantime, the senate Teapot Dome committee traced $800,000 of the bonds. W. L. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the board of the Prairie Oil and Gas company, testified that James E. O'Neil, after resigning as president of the Prairie company in 1923, "made restitution" of $800,000 in bonds to the company in 1925. Fitzpatrick said O'Neil, one of the leaders in the Continental deal who has been missing in Europe for three years, estimated in 1925 that he "didn't have more than 18 months to live." O'Neil's whereabouts now are unknown.

Stewart Obtains Writ.

The defiant Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Justice Jennings Bailey in District of Columbia supreme court less than an hour before he was to be hailed before the bar of the senate.

That body was set to pass a resolution sending him to jail for criminal contempt, after having had him arrested last night and held a "prisoner" in his magnificent suite at the Willard hotel.

The writ, returnable Tuesday, throws into the courts the controversy precipitated by Stewart's refusal to testify. Stewart decided at the last minute to appeal to the federal judiciary.

The oil man arranged to go to New York for the week-end after Justice Bailey signed the order releasing him from custody of Sergeant-at-Arms David S. Barry and his assistant, John J. McGrain, on $1,000 bond furnished by a local bank president.

Senate Sets Aside Funds.

The senate, cheated of its prey, adopted a resolution and appropriated $2,500 to employ legal talent to defend its authority and obtain the discharge of the writ.

This action, if successful, would remand Colonel Stewart to the custody of the senate. Owen J. Roberts, famous government prosecutor

Continued on Page 10, Column 4.

SMITH DEMOCRATS ACT IN WISCONSIN

Milwaukee, Wis., February 4.—(AP) Four candidates for delegates-at-large to the national convention at Houston instructed to vote for Governor Al Smith were placed in the field today by a state democratic conference which met despite the opposition of National Committeeman John Callahan and the state central committee.

In a harmonious session the conference indorsed a practically complete slate of candidates for the 26 places of Wisconsin in the national convention, lauded Governor Smith, commended Senators Walsh and Reed for the investigation of "republican corruption in high offices, and laid plans for a complete state and congressional ticket next fall.

The convention indorsed delegates-at-large will run against Mr. Callahan and three other candidates who voluntarily entered the field. Both tickets are avowed Smith supporters. The convention was held as a revolt against "handpicking" of candidates.

OPPOSITION TO HOOVER GROWS STRONGER.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—Opposition to Hoover and Smith stiffened in their respective parties this week, giving more promise of real struggles at both conventions than was indicated by the previous drift of affairs.

Developments operating against Hoover chiefly were: The decision of New York republican leaders to work for an uninstructed delegation favorable to Coolidge, the object being to check the activities of Hoover workers in the state, and Senator Watson decided to file as a favorite son in Indiana.

While this prevents Lowden from entering, he has much support and Watson is expected ultimately to throw his strength either to Lowden

Continued on Page 10, Column 5

FRENCH AVIATORS AND LONE EAGLE ARRIVE AT GOALS

Marine Fliers Reach Managua Safely; Gene Shank Breaks Record With 515 Loops.

LEVINE'S MYSTERY TRIP POSTPONED

Chamberlin Smashes New Belanca Plane in Attempt To Break Endurance Record.

BY UNITED NEWS.

Five notable airplane flights and two others that failed marked the twenty-sixth birthday of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh today.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, Charles A. Levine and Lindbergh himself figured in the day's news of fliers, while lesser lights of the air who joined in an unusual day of midwinter aviation included Joseph Donnellan, Lieutenant George T. Towner and the French trans-Atlantic fliers, Costes and LeBrix.

Three Air Feats.

Peculiarly, two of the three more famous of the fliers failed in the feats to which they had set themselves today.

Chamberlin's effort to take A. R. Martine's new Bellanca aloft at Richmond, Va., for an attempt at the world endurance record, ended in a disheartening crash at the take-off. Chamberlin and his copilot, Roger Williams, emerged from the wreckage uninjured and Martine announced a new plane would be provided for them to try again.

Levine had the Columbia, which he and Chamberlin flew to Germany, wheeled out on the Roosevelt field runway and proposed to start a mystery flight to Havana or some other southern country.

Wilmer Stutz, once pilot on the ill-fated Dawn, and Miss Mabel Boll, of New York and Paris—the "Queen of Diamonds"—were to go with him. But at 11 a. m. Miss Boll hadn't finished shopping and by early afternoon there were cross winds on the runway at Roosevelt field, so the start was postponed for at least 48 hours because of weather conditions.

Lindy Flies Over Ocean.

Lindbergh himself, however, functioned to true Lindbergh fashion.

He celebrated his birthday by a prompt take-off alone as usual, in the spirit of St. Louis from San Juan, Porto Rico, and flew 250 miles or so over water straight to San Domingo, there to become the center once more of another reception such as the world never seems tired of giving to Lindbergh.

Lieutenant George T. Towner, with Lieutenant B. McHugh and Corporal Robert Wench, took off from Miami at 5:15 a. m. for a nonstop flight to Nicaragua. They landed at Managua at 4:15 p. m.

Theirs was a grim mission. Their plane is for the use of marines now fighting Sandino, the rebel chief. They flew over the Caribbean and reports showed their progress good.

Donnellan, flying from Chicago to Latin America, started at noon from Miami, Fla., for Havana, but was forced down at Key West, Fla. From Havana his flight will take him through Central America and down the west coast to Santiago, Chile.

Complete Nonstop Flight.

Dieudonne Costes and Joseph LeBrix, French aviators, who were the first to fly across the south Atlantic, left Mexico City early this morning planning a nonstop flight to New Orleans, where they landed late in the afternoon.

Gene Shank, a 22-year-old flying student at St. Paul, Minn., made his celebration of Lindbergh's birthday a bit more hilarious. He took up a plane and looped the loop 515 times in four hours, 25 minutes.

It broke the record for continuous looping. Lieutenant B. W. Maynard, "The Flying Parson," having set the previous record of 315 loops. Maynard, now dead, made his record during the war in France.

LINDBERGH LANDS SAFELY ON ISLAND.

Santo Domingo, February 4.—(United News.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, foremost explorer in aviation, landed his Spirit of St. Louis at 2:05 p. m., today in this capital, chief city of an island where Christopher Columbus first knew he had found a new world.

America's veteran flier, who was 26 years old today, made the 235-mile trip from San Juan, Porto Rico, in three hours and five minutes. He was on one of the last laps of his circuit to Central America, which he began when he left Bolling field, Washington, D. C., for Meixco City December 13, nearly seven weeks ago.

Five thousand people, led by President Vasquez and his cabinet, cheered the American flier and extended him birthday greetings. Since early morning the populace, granted a national

Continued on Page 12, Column 6

CREWS 'CLEAN UP' FIRE-SWEPT TOWN

Fall River, Mass., February 4.—(United News.)—Cheered by the promised financial aid of state and nation, fire-stricken Fall River faced the future optimistically tonight, convinced that out of the ruins of its greatest disaster a new and finer city would rise.

Fall River's reaction to the conflagration that laid waste to its business district was reflected in a "municipal message" posted on billboards along all roads leading to the city.

Debris Being Removed.

"Yes, we had a big fire," the message reads. "It was a real one. But we also have a big city with real people in it. We are going to make it bigger and better than ever."

Some 2,000 volunteers today began the tremendous task of clearing the debris from the half square mile area to which the fire was confined only through the combined efforts of firemen from a score of Massachusetts and Rhode Island communities.

Explosive experts will come here early next week for a tour of inspection preparatory to the dynamiting of gutted structures that must be razed.

Many days' work lay ahead before the fire area could be put in condition to permit actual rebuilding of the approximately 50 structures swept by the flames.

SPLENDID OPERA SEASON EXPECTED

Continued From First Page.

Moore, a girl reared in Jellico, Tenn., who will make her debut with the Metropolitan Opera company Wednesday night in Puccini's "La Boheme," singing the role of "Mimi." A large delegation of friends from Tennessee will visit New York to be present at her first appearance and many of her friends are expected to come to Atlanta to her her sing here. She formerly sang in musical comedies but after two years of study won a place with the Metropolitan Opera company.

Another new star will be Frederick Jagel, tenor, a Brooklyn, N. Y., product, who has won a big success with the company. This will be his first appearance in Atlanta. According to the tentative program, he will sing in "Norma."

One of the high marks of the new season, in the opinion of the officials, will be the presentation of "Norma." This is the masterpiece of Bellini, whose scores sparkle throughout with brilliance. The revival of this magnificent opera has proved to be one of the outstanding sensations of the Metropolitan seasons in New York. This opera will be offered Friday evening, April 7, with Rosa Ponselle singing the title role and with Frederick Jagel, new tenor; Ezio Pinza, Leon Rothier and Marion Telva in other roles.

Another German Opera.

This year another German opera, Wagners "Die Walkure," will be sung Friday matinee, April 27. That able singer, Walter Kirchoff, will papear in this opera with Tibbetts, Maria Mueller, Julia Claussen and Clarence Whitehill. On Saturday Bizet's immortal "Carmen" and Puccini's "La Boheme" will be sung. This will provide a rarely attractive program for out-of-town visitors who will thus be afforded an opportunity of enjoying four great operas in two days.

For the opening night, Monday, April 23, the officials have selected Meyerbeer's stupendous "L'Africaine." This opera is one of tense dramatic interest, is a great big showy offering and with many spectacular scenes is believed to be an ideal opera for the opening night of the season. Tuesday evening will bring Rossini's light and lilting "Barber of Seville."

Wednesday matinee will bring a double bill which will be of much appeal to children as well as adults. The first to be sung will be Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel," to be followed by Leoncavallo's "Paglinci." Thursday night the ever-popular "Rigoletto" will be sung by a star cast.

Close With "La Boheme."

The season will come to an end with Puccini's "La Boheme," to be sung here with the incomparable trio, Lucrezia Bori, soprano; Beniamino Gigli, tenor, and Antonio Scotti, baritone.

"L'Africaine," to be sung Monday evening, April 23, is one of the most celebrated works by Meyerbeer. It has been described as "the most purely lyrical of Meyerbeer's operas." None are so melodious, so pathetic, so free from blemishes of conventionality. It approaches the domain of poetry more nearly than any of his other operas.

"L'Africaine" was first produced in Paris in 1865. It was sung in many parts of the world, and had important New York revivals in 1901 and 1906.

It is undisputed that Gigli's singing diso ("Oh, Paradise"), will be one of the tremendous sensations of the Atlanta opera season. Added to this will be the wonderful soprano of Rosa Ponselle and the incomparable baritone of Mario Basiola.

"The Barber of Seville."

"The Barber of Seville," to be sung Tuesday evening, April 24, is one of the great favorites of opera patrons in Atlanta. With such artists as Gallicurci, DeLuca, Tokatyan and Pinza the performance this year promises to be the greatest of any in the history of Metropolitan opera.

"The Barber," rich in melody, vivid, and with fascinating climaxes, is classed as one of Rossini's greatest works. Galli-Curci's rendition of "Un Voce Poco Fa" ("A Little Voice I Hear"), promises to be one of the most delightful treats of the season, particularly since this aria is among the loveliest and most famous of coloratura numbers.

Rossini possessed the admirable gift, technically, of a thorough understanding of the voice of the singer, and in none of his operas is this more cleverly displayed than in "The Barber of Seville," in which the composer has given the singer every chance to make the most of vocal skill without in any way impairing the spontaneous, natural flow of the melody.

"Largo al factotum" (Room for the Factotum) is perhaps the most celebrated basso buffo number ever written, and, sung by Giuseppe de Luca, will measure up to the highest expectations of Atlanta opera lovers. This widely beloved opera is expected to be one of the most popular of Atlanta's 1928 season.

Hansel and Gretel.

The combination of the sandman, who, as every mother's child knows, comes along nightly to lull you to sleep, and Canio, whose heart-throbbing "On With the Play" was one of Caruso's great songs, will make the Wednesday matinee of the 1928 season of Metropolitan Grand Opera one of the most memorable in Atlanta's opera history.

Hansel and Gretel, that delightful and charming phantasy which was said to have been written by Engelbert Humperdinck to please his own children, will entrance not only the little children of Atlanta but the grown-up children as well. Throughout the quaint fairy tale the experienced musician will be captivated by the skillful workmanship displayed by the composer in the handling of his theme, in the melody which is rich with inimitable humor, and at times exquisitely beautiful.

The roles of Hansel and Gretel will be charmingly sung by Queena Mario and Editha Fleischer. Such favorite numbers as "Suse Liebe Suse" (Susy, Little Susy,) "Der Kleine Sandmann" (I Am the Sleep Fairy) and "Hexenritt und Knusperwalzer" (Witch's Dance) will delight the audience, and linger in the memory.

Apart from the eager interest and enthusiasm always inspired by Pagliacci, this season bids fair to rival all previous performances of the opera by the introduction to Atlanta audiences of Miss Grace Moore, the little Tennessee girl. Miss Moore will sing the role of Nedda, the faithless wife of Canio, whose heart-breaking and tragic role will be taken by the matchless Martinelli, while Silvio, the lover of Nedda, will be sung by Lawrence Tibbett, beloved baritone of unfailing popularity.

The Familiar Rigoletto.

Rigoletto, to be sung on Thursday evening, April 26, needs no introduction since it has long been considered one of Verdi's finest achievements, and has never flagged in popularity since its first presentation in Venice, 1851.

The role of the lovely and pathetic Gilda will be sung by Marion Talley, whose exquisite coloratura soprano won her instant acclaim on the occasion of her debut in 1926, and who has been steadily increasing in popularity since that time.

The tragic role of Rigoletto, the hunchback jester, will be sung by the incomparable DeLuca, who reaches the pinnacle of dramatic art in the beautiful "Piangi fanciulla" (Weep My Child).

Martinelli will sing the role of the profligate duke, delighting his audience with the well-known and beloved "La donna e movile" (Woman Is Fickle), while such numbers as "Caro Nome" (Dearest Name) and the famous quartet, which, with the "Sextet from Lucia" enjoys the greatest popularity of all operatic concert pieces, need scarcely be mentioned in an introductory or descriptive sense. The splendid cast scheduled for Rigoletto assures the Atlanta opera patrons of enjoyment even beyond their hopes.

Ever-Popular Carmen.

Carmen, to be presented Saturday afternoon, April 28, is the most noted and popular of all the works of Bizet.

It was first produced in Paris in 1875 and due to prudery and utter lack of appreciation it failed, and was rather neglected until revised in New York in 1893.

Florence Easton, whose beautiful soprano is well loved and admired, portrays the role of Carmen perfectly. Her first solo "Habanera" (Love Is Like a Wood-Bird) is so appealing it touches the hearts of all.

As Don Jose, Martinelli is incomparable, and the depth of his love for Carmen is first shown in his wonderful love song, "Aie de la Fleur" (Flower Song).

Lawrence Tibbett, who won his way into the hearts of all Atlanta several years ago, is the dashing Escamillo who vies with Don Jose for the love of Carmen.

Perhaps the best description of Carmen is—a dash of color and action—sensuous rhythm, and delicious melody. Probably the March of the Toreador, the first theme of the prelude, and which is intense and vivid, is the most invigorating theme of the opera.

Atlanta City Salesmen's Association Plays Host to Former Presiding Officers

Photo by Rogers & Farmer, studio.

Eighteen presidents and past presidents of the Atlanta City Salesmen's association Saturday were honor-guests of the active organization at the Thrower building. From left to right, front row, the above picture shows R. L. Harwell, president 1909-10; W. S. Gaston, 1916-17; C. H. Burge, 1900-01, oldest living president; W. W. Moore, present present; R. O. Estes, 1921-22; Carter C. Harrison, 1926-27, and B. H. Messer, 1923-24. Back row, left to right, W. G. McNair, 1912-13; F. E. Kibler, 1905-06; J. H. Owen, 1903-1904; E. B. Thomas, 1914-15; Bert Simmons, 1911-12 and 1922-23; J. A. Massey, 1908-09; Paul S. Pause, 1910-11; J. C. Harrison, 1920-21; T. N. Clyatt, 1915-16; O. T. Camp, 1919-20, and Robert F. Pennington, 1924-25.

Eighteen presidents and past presidents of the Atlanta City Salesmen's association were guests of honor Saturday at the weekly meeting of the organization.

W. W. Moore, youngest of the many leaders of this body, and present ruler of the sales force, and C. H. Burge, who presided over the association during the "good old days" of 1900-01, held the center of the stage as J. C. Harrison, president in 1920-21 and toastmaster of the unique gathering, presented the former chiefs.

The association has been in existence since 1897 and only six former presiding officers have died. Included in the 18 present Saturday was Bert Simmons, who bears the distinction of having been the only member of the organization to serve two terms. Mr. Simmons served as chief executive in 1911-12 and 1922-23.

Former officers reviewed activities of the organization for the past three decades, and told stories of the days before Volstead's name was ever mentioned.

The session Saturday will be an annual affair, it was announced by Mr. Moore, and former presidents and old members will be urged to attend the meeting in the future.

A silent tribute was paid the following deceased presidents:

C. H. Kelly, president, 1897-98; F. B. Law, president, 1898-99; J. W. Stallings, president, 1899-00; Morris Schlesinger, president, 1902-03; C. F. Holt, president, 1913-14, and C. C. Ray.

Among those who spoke, in addition to Mr. Harrison, were J. A. Massey, C. H. Burge, W. S. Gaston and W. G. McNair.

Refreshments were served.

U. S. COURT KEEPS STEWART FROM JAIL

Continued From First Page.

of other oil cases, probably will represent the senate.

Another resolution was adopted referring the record of Stewart's refusal to testify before the senate Teapot Dome committee to United States Attorney Peyton Gordon for grand jury action. The district grand jury is in recess until Monday, when Gordon probably will place the record before it.

He is expected to obtain an indictment in a few days. The indictment would charge Stewart with contempt of the senate, which is punishable by from one month to one year in a "common jail," and $100 to $1,000 fine. Harry F. Sinclair is now free on bond pending appeal from a three month jail sentence imposed on such an indictment resulting from his refusal to testify before the same committee in 1924.

Crowd Throngs Galleries.

Senate and public interest was at a high key and somewhat reminiscent of the tense days of the Teapot Dome and Daugherty investigations of 1923-24.

The senate galleries were jammed with people expectiug to see the great oil man—"shrewdest trader in the country," according to some of his colleagues—haled before the bar of the senate. The gallery was eager for clashes such as had marked Stewart's appearance before the committee.

The adamant Stewart had defended to the committee his actions in 1921, discussing the mysterious deal fully except for his knowledge of the disposition of the Liberty bond profits, $233,000 of which are known to have been turned over to former Secretary of Interior Fall by Harry F. Sinclair, shortly after Fall leased Sinclair the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in Wyoming.

The galleries were disappointed when the news spread that Stewart had hastened from his hotel "jail" and with his jailer-companion, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms McGrain, had obtained temporary freedom under a writ.

Seventh Criminal Case.

Thus started the seventh criminal case resulting from the famous senate investigations of the oil leases made by Fall. Colonel Stewart is the fourth millionaire to be charged with a felony. The others were Sinclair, E. L. Doheny and Harry M. Blackmer.

KENTUCKY BREWER IS UP FOR U. S. TRIAL

Cincinnati, O., February 4.—(AP)—Trial of Charles Weidemann, president of the $1,500,000 Weidmann Brewing company of Newport, Ky., and twelve associates for illicit liquor dealings is scheduled to open here Monday with the government prepared to resist any effort for postponement.

Weidmann, his son, Carl Weidmann, William Anschutz, office manager, and eight employees were indicted by the federal grand jury for 22 violations of the prohibition law and manufacturing 1,534,638 gallons of alcohol for alleged illicit beverages. Bertram Weil and Jacob Stein, of New York, were indicted also as operators of the Anti-Freeze company of Hoboken, N. J., to whom the Weidemann brewery, was alleged to have sold large quantities of alcohol.

Elder Weidemann Ill.

The elder Weidmann may not be brought to trial at this time because of illness lasting more than a year, but District Attorney Sawyer Smith said he would proceed against the others.

Weil and Stein, who are resisting removal to the Kentucky court also may not be present but Smith said they could be arraigned later when their removal contention is settled in New York.

Federal officials seized a truck load of beer at the Weidemann brewery in January, 1927. A padlock order for a year was issued in March and 60,000 gallons of beer were dumped into the sewers.

Later the court ordered that 70,000 gallons of alcohol valued at between $35,000 and $40,000 be sold at public auction, and in October the grand jury indicted and was subsequently amended in November, last. The defendants all pleaded not guilty.

SMITH DEMOCRATS ACT IN WISCONSIN

Continued From First Page.

or Dawes, depending on circumstances. Hoover is the real loser because it would be difficult for him to go into the Indiana primary now, although his friends hope to obtain second choice pledges to some extent.

Encourage Favorite Sons.

Leaders opposed to Hoover hope to see more favorite sons enter. Friends of Senator Curtis, of Kansas, are pushing his boom.

Senator Willis and his friends are engaged in negotiations which they believe will keep Hoover out of Ohio. Lowden's friends in Iowa have sounded a warning that friends of Hoover, particularly John T. Adams, former national republican chairman, and Hanford MacNider, former assistant secretary of war, are conducting secret activity for Hoover.

Lowden seems certain of most of the delegation, however, his farm relief program having made a deep impression. Representative L. J. Dickinson, of Iowa, has been negotiating with Maryland republicans for Lowden support. The big state leaders, however, including the Weller and Marchant factions, have pledged to Hoover.

SUPPORTERS OF SMITH TO MEET IN HOUSTON.

Houston, Texas, February 4.—(AP) An organization meeting of a "Smith-for-President" club will be held in Houston February 21, it was announced today by R. L. Henry, attorney and former congressman.

"Several thousand persons have pledged themselves in writing and signed lists to organize a club in behalf of the presidential ambitions of Governor Al Smith," said Mr. Henry, who represented the eleventh Texas district in congress for about 20 years.

REPUBLICAN LEADERS TO MEET THURSDAY.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—Complaints of insufficient accommodations in Kansas City for the republican national convention in June will be taken up at a called meeting here Thursday of the committee appointed to make arrangements, with the prospects of taking the convention to some other city if Kansas City cannot show she can house the convention crowd.

OHIO CONGRESSMEN OPPOSE HOOVER.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—The suggestion of Representative Burton, republican, Ohio, that Secretary of Commerce Hoover be entered in the Ohio primary against the state's favorite son, Senator Frank B. Willis, today brought a chorus of opposition from the congressmen from Ohio.

Turk Druggists Must Pack Pills, Move Tomorrow

Constantinople, February 4.—(AP)—All but 85 of the city's 390 druggists must pack up their pills and start for the wilds of Anatolia Monday, or else give up business altogether. On that day a drastic law passed at the last session of parliament goes into effect limiting pharmacists to one shop for every 10,000 population. There are 850,000 people in Constantinople.

"My ministry has opened 150 free clinics in various parts of Anatolia where medical science never permeated before," Dr. Refik Bey, minister of hygiene, told the Associated Press. "But the government can't afford to open drug stores, too, so realizing that there are more pharmacies in Constantinople than in all the rest of Turkey we decided to limit the number and force druggists to move into Anatolia."

A number of druggists undesirous of either going to Anatolia or shutting up shop are evading the law by consolidating.

6 MURDER TRIALS START THIS WEEK

Two white men and four negroes, all of whom are charged with murder, have been scheduled to go on trial next week in Fulton superior court.

R. H. Shepard, sentenced to death last May for killing Homer Fowler with an ax, will go on trial for the second time. His case is set for Thursday before Judge E. D. Thomas.

The Georgia supreme court recently granted Shepard a new trial on the ground that insufficient time had been permitted his attorneys, appointed by the court, to prepare his defense.

Jack Wood, a white man, accused of having fatally injured his wife with a hammer several weeks ago, will be placed on trial Thursday before Judge Virlyn B. Moore.

Anderson Evans and Lee Mooreland, negroes, are booked for trial Tuesday and Wednesday before Judge Thomas, while Sam Nealous and Robert Griggs, negroes, are on Judge Moore's docket for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Next week is one of the heaviest murder dockets of recent months, the solicitor's office says.

CHAMBERLIN TO VISIT AIR DERBY IN MACON

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(Special.) Clarence Chamberlin, world-renowned aviator, will be one of the principal visitors to the Southeastern Air Derby, to be held here at Miller aviation field on February 17, 18 and 19.

Announcement that Colonel Chamberlin would attend the derby was made today by the Macon Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event in cooperation with the Crader-Ashcraft-Steele Flying school.

MEXICO MAY SEIZE HEARST PROPERTY

Mexico City, February 4.—(AP)—Property owned by a company in which William Randolph Hearst, American publisher, holds a majority of stock, is threatened with confiscation under the Mexican land laws.

Julio Trens, well known Mexican journalist, has filed an information with the government charging that the Bavicora Development company has failed to comply with the land laws and regulations requiring a report to be filed with the foreign office mentioning the percentage of stock owned by foreigners. The penalty for failure to file such a report is forfeiture of the property.

Zone Barred To Foreigners.

It is alleged that the company, situated in Chihuahua, is included in the zone along the border barred to foreign ownership of agricultural properties and that Hearst owns a majority of stock in the company.

It is not believed here, however, that the government will take drastic action as the secretary of agriculture recently declared that the government did not intend to confiscate the Hearst properties in Mexico as a retaliation for the campaign of his publications against the government.

DYNAMITE BLAST KILLS TWO CANAL LABORERS

Niagara Falls, Ont., February 4.—(AP)—Two men were killed and several injured this afternoon in an explosion of dynamite on the Welland ship canal construction work near Allenburg, five miles from here. The men killed were Loren Whitewell, 30, of Allenburg, and Carlo Bianko, 35, of Thorold.

They were drilling rock and it is believed their drill struck a charge of dynamite which exploded.

Airplane on Way To Greet Lindy Lands in Augusta

Augusta, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—An all-metal monoplane carrying a party of eight en route from Washington to Havana, where the party will greet Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his arrival there, landed at Daniel field late today.

The plane took off from Washington today on a flight to Miami, but when darkness overtook it the party decided to spend the night here and continue to Miami and thence Havana tomorrow.

J. H. Rand, Jr., New York sportsman, owner of the plane and president of the Remington-Rand Typewriter company, and Colonel H. Breckenridge, former assistant secretary of war and manager for Colonel Lindbergh, are members of the party.

300 CONTRACTORS GATHER MONDAY FOR 4-DAY MEET

Nearly 300 leading contractors of the United States and Canada are expected to attend the four-day convention of the Mason Contractors' association which will begin Monday morning at the Henry Grady hotel, according to information made public Saturday by the Atlanta Convention and Tourist bureau.

Beginning with the opening session at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, the convention will continue through Thursday, with a large number of social and entertainment features scheduled for the visitors and their wives.

R. M. Gillespie, of St. Louis, president of the association, will preside at the opening session, during which the delegates will be welcomed to Atlanta by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, and to Georgia by A. B. Mobley, superintendent of banks of Georgia, in behalf of Governor Hardman.

G. L. Tarrant, secretary of the local chapter, is in charge of arrangements and has worked out many details of the program with Fred Houser, secretary of the tourist bureau, including a luncheon for the women visitors at the Atlanta Woman's club followed by an automobile tour of the city, and a theater party for all visitors. In addition, the first day's program includes a visit of the delegates to the cyclorama at Grant Park, an informal reception, a ladies' tour of the shopping district, a visit to Stone Mountain and a banquet.

D. L. STAMY ADDRESSES LOCAL ASTRONOMERS

D. L. Stamy, a professor at Georgia Tech, was principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Atlanta Astronomical society Saturday night in the Chamber of Commerce building. "The Sun" was his subject and he spoke of a number of the latest discoveries of present-day astronomers regarding the sun.

Paper Suspended.

Valdosta, Ga., February 4.—Subscribers to the Valdosta Journal were notified this week that the paper would not be published for the week, following the second attempt which has been made to wreck the plant.

Prove This Fit Treatment Free

This wonderful Epilepsy remedy is safe, reliable, economic, and not habit forming. It produces actual results, so writes O. M. Daniel.

"I take pleasure in recommending your marvelous treatment to anyone who is afflicted with the disease, Fits, Epilepsy or Falling Sickness, for it completely stopped my attacks and will say all I can to anyone who cares to write me."—O. M. Daniel, Box 253, Alvin, Tex.

Let it help you to relief, also. It will in no way interfere with your home or business life. Your name, address and case history, sent today, will bring by return mail a generous supply, postpaid and FREE, as a convincing test. Dr. Fred E. Grant Co., 723 Davidson Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.—(adv.)

After Stock Taking Clean-Up of Suits

After Taking Stock We Can Still Offer You A Splendid Selection Of Fancy Suits—Odd Lots and Broken Sizes—But All Sizes In The Combined Lots Which We Have Arranged Into Three Groups—

GROUP 1—CHOICE
$23.85

GROUP 2—CHOICE
$28.85

GROUP 3—CHOICE
$35.85

Group 3 Consists Of Stein-Bloch And Fruhauf Hand-Tailored Odd Fancy Suits.

If Your Size Is Among Any Of These Groups It Will Be A Wonderful Buy For You—As Every Suit Represents A Remarkable Value.

We Advise An Immediate Selection.

All Regular Suits And Overcoats 25% Off

Parks-Chambers Inc.

Infant Care

Mothers, you can't start too early to establish a child's serene and tranquil disposition. Even an infant can have a happy, fretless state of uninterrupted health. What will help do this? A simple, purely vegetable product as old as you are: plain Castoria.

A few drops of Castoria will settle all uneasiness in a jiffy. Will dispel colic or ward off constipation; and just as surely check diarrhea.

In real sickness, call a physician. But many physicians urge only Castoria for those little childish disorders that need nothing more. You need never be afraid to give pure Castoria. It is safe and perfectly harmless, for it contains no paregoric, no opiates, no dope of any kind. At least this is true of the genuine Fletcher's Castoria*—and that is the kind doctors tell you always to buy.

Fletcher's Castoria is fine for any child. All children love to take it. Delicious tasting, and as good as it tastes. Just look for the Fletcher signature on the package and you will know you have the genuine and pure Castoria.

*SPECIAL NOTE: With every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria is wrapped a book on "Care and Feeding of Babies" worth its weight in gold to every mother or prospective mother.

Children Cry for

Fletcher's CASTORIA

February Furniture Savings

Many Special Offerings Bedroom and Dining Room Suites

Special Values—Easy Terms.

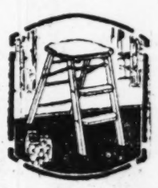

Trade In Your Old Suite

9-Piece Overstuffed Living Room Outfit

$4.95 Cash
$2.50 Weekly

Club Chair, Floor Lamp and Shade, Wing Chair, Magazine Rack, Overstuffed Davenport, 2 Book Ends, Davenport Table

$114.95

Step Ladders Special

99c

24-Inch Step Ladders, sturdy and strong. Regular $1.95 values, while they last at 99 cents. No phone orders, or C. O. D.'s.

Special! End Table

$1.99

An Extra Special Value. Attractive Mahogany End Table. Well made. Nicely finished. No. C. O. D. or phone orders.

Mahogany Phone Sets

$2.99

Beautiful Mahogany Telephone Stand and Stool. Extra strong. A regular $4.95 value. Be here early Monday.

Monday Only

"Satisfaction in Every Transaction"

Exclusive Agents Buck's Stoves And Ranges

Acree-Kornegay Furniture Co.

Simmons Beds Cavalier Furniture

172 Whitehall, S. W. WAl. 8932 Corner Trinity Ave.

Masonic $250,000 Campaign For Tubercular Children's Cottage at Alto Opens Soon

Dr. E. C. Thrash Is Drive Director; State Will Maintain Institution After Its Completion.

The campaign to raise $250,000 for a children's tubercular cottage at Alto, Ga., which, when erected, will be maintained through legislative appropriation of the state, will be begun early in the spring, it was announced Saturday by Dr. E. C. Thrash, state director of the drive which is being made by the grand Masonic lodge of Georgia.

When completed, the cottage will be turned over, fully equipped, to the state, which will operate and maintain the institution, the legislature already having passed an acceptance act to the proposal, which was sponsored by the state lodge of Masons.

Throughout the state, it was announced, each lodge will designate a night which will be observed as "tuberculosis children's night," and arrangements have been made with officials of the state board of education to inaugurate a "children's day" in Georgia schools, where children may contribute to the fund.

Indorsed by Officials.

The campaign has received the indorsement of Governor L. G. Hardman, Commissioner of Health T. F. Abercrombie, State Superintendent of Schools M. L. Duggan, James P. Faulkner, managing director of the Georgia Tubercular association; E. W. Glidden, superintendent of the State Tuberculosis sanitarium, and a number of other prominent heads of institutions, both state and private.

In a recent address over radio Governor Hardman estimated that there are more than 60,000 tubercular children in Georgia and pointed out that because of the peculiar form which the disease assumes in children it can easily be cured.

"An institution for tubercular children in Georgia has been a crying need of the state for many years," Governor Hardman declared. "The state tuberculosis sanitarium at Alto accepts only adults, and there has been no public institution in Georgia to which the pathetic little childhood victims of the great white plague could be sent.

Movement Is Lauded.

"Now, however, the great body of Masons of Georgia are moving to erect a cottage adjoining the Alto sanitarium, for the care of tubercular children. It is indeed a worthy movement, and one that we should expect such men as Masons of Georgia to be interested in."

In a letter to Dr. Thrash, Superintendent Duggan declares:

"The state board of education agrees with me in my decision to designate some day during March or April at which time I shall ask all teachers in the Georgia public school system to bring this matter before the school children of Georgia and give them the opportunity for small contributions. It is my wish that there should be many, even several hundred thousand small contributions rather than large contributions by a few."

Commenting on the acceptance act of the Georgia legislature, Commissioner of Health Abercrombie pointed out that passage was by unanimous vote, and added:

"Never have I had an obligation more pleasing to me, or fraught with more good to Georgia than this one. I am ready, at your service. The sanitarium should be built quickly, as the need is most urgent. The Masons of our state have promised to do a fine humanitarian job. It is indeed an exemplification of the wonderful tenets of the noble order. It should be as unanimous as was the vote of our general assembly when it was proposed to them."

Cottage Commission Named.

The campaign is to be conducted by the Alto Cottage for Little Children commission, which was appointed by the grand master immediately after the last annual grand communication of the grand lodge in October, 1927, and consists of the following members, in addition to Director Thrash:

Past Grand Master F. O. Miller, Fort Valley, chairman; Past Grand Master Joe P. Bowdoin, Adairsville, state at large; Past Grand Master Charles L. Bass, director of Masonic welfare, Atlanta, state at large; Past Grand Master A. G. Miller, Waycross, state at large; D. A. Bragg, Millen, first district director; J. G. Standifer, Blakely, second district director; Zach Arnold, Fort Gaines, third district director; Past Grand Master J. D. Hamrick, Carrollton, fourth district director; Third Grand Steward Judge E. D. Thomas, Atlanta, fifth district director; Charles R. McCord, Macon, sixth district director; T. D Ridley, Dalton, seventh district director; W. L. Erwin, Athens, eighth district director; Junior Grand Warden W. G Mealor, Gainesville, ninth district director; L. M. Pelot, Augusta, tenth district director; W. W. Webb, Habira, eleventh district director; J. P. Watson, Jr., Hawkinsville, twelfth district director; Grand Secretary Frank F. Baker, Macon, secretary.

Write now for my new 1928 cut price catalog—see the biggest bargains ever offered on Poultry Fence, both stiff stay style and close mesh poultry netting. Gates to match at money-saving prices.

Prices Lowest in 15 Years

In addition to a complete line of poultry fence, this catalog shows over 150 styles of Farm Fence, Lawn Fence, Gates, Steel Posts, Barb Wire, Roofing, Furnaces, Cream Separators, Paints, etc., at prices way below the cost to you elsewhere. My

Direct from Factory—Freight Paid

Straight Line Selling Plan enables me to give better quality for less money. You save the difference. Over a million satisfied customers. All products guaranteed. 24 hour shipping service.

NEW CUT PRICE CATALOG FREE

Write a letter or post card for catalog NOW—we will send it free. Be sure to get this money saving catalog before you buy.—Jim Brown. (2)

THE BROWN FENCE AND WIRE CO
Dept. 3132 CLEVELAND, OHIO

Rising Mercury To Bring Rain, Says Forecast

An ascending thermometer presages rains which are expected to set in late today, according to the forecast by C. F. von Herrmann, United States meterologist. The weather outlook for the week, as seen by the government forecaster, indicates a period of rains at the beginning of the week and again about the middle, with temperatures mostly normal or above.

Increasing cloudliness, followed by the rains late today, is forecast. The weather bureau expects the mercury to register a minimum of 54 degrees this morning, and a maximum of 58 or 70 this afternoon. From the present condition of the weather map, there is not any real cold in the offing for Atlanta, and warm weather is in sight as far as the weather eye of the bureau can see, it was stated.

BOGUS SOLICITOR OF PRESSING CLUB OPERATING IN CITY

Police were warned Saturday to be on the lookout for a negro who has been stealing clothes by representing himself as the solicitor for a pressing club, according to announcement at the police station.

Among those who have reported thefts of this nature to police is F. R. Hardity, of 687 Cherokee avenue, who described the negro as one about 20 years old, 5 feet, 8 inches in height, 135 pounds in weight, and light brown in color.

Losses to burglars Saturday morning included a quantity of candy and tobacco stolen from the store of S. J. Belden, at 152 West North avenue, according to a report by Patrolmen S. I. Belcher and H. W. Wiggins.

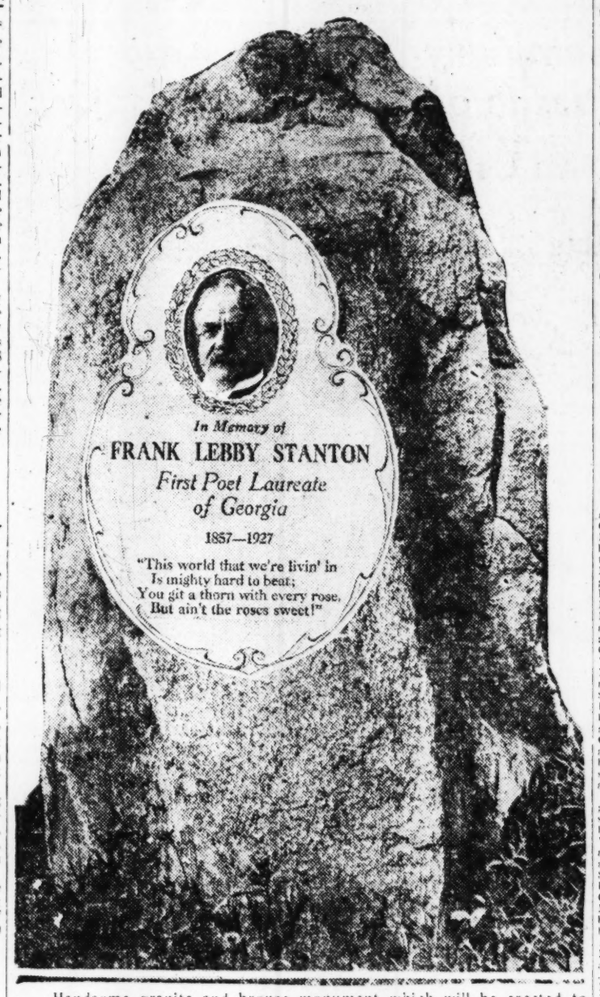

Miss Lulu Jones, of North Side drive, reported the loss of a wrist watch, and Mrs. Claud Harmon, of 552 Wabash, reported the theft of $40 and a ring from her home.

U. S. PEN INMATE SEEKS FREEDOM ON HABEAS CORPUS

John B. Carter, inmate of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, believes that he is being illegally deprived of his liberty because the federal court judge in Roanoke, Va., failed to specify the counts on which he was sentenced, according to a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed Saturday in United States district court.

Carter was sentenced to serve eight years and to pay a fine of $8,000 on prohibition charges, but the presiding judge did not specify the counts on which sentence was passed, according to the petition. Federal Judge Samuel H. Sibley set the petition for a hearing on February 11.

Monument Will Perpetuate Memory of Frank L. Stanton

Handsome granite and bronze monument which will be erected to the memory of Georgia's immortal poet—Frank L. Stanton.

Erection of a splendid granite and bronze monument in memory of Frank Lebby Stanton, Georgia's first poet laureate, one of the most famous literary products of the south and late beloved columnist of The Constitution, is planned by the Atlanta Writers' club, it was announced Saturday. It is the plan of the club to place the memorial at the grave of the noted poet, in West View.

First steps toward erection of the memorial to this famous son of Georgia have already been made. Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Mason have donated the massive granite boulder on which the bronze tablet is to be placed, and The Constitution has headed the subscription list by a donation of $100.

The subscription list will be open to those who may desire to aid in the erection of a lasting memorial to the great southern poet, it is announced, and the Writers' club will attempt to have all subscriptions in hand by February 22, Stanton's birthday.

The memorial will be a handsome rough-cut boulder faced with a large bronze plate which will bear Mr. Stanton's picture and the inscription, "In Memory of Frank Lebby Stanton, First Poet Laureate of Georgia."

In addition there will be placed on the plate, the verse which achieved world-wide prominence, and which best expressed the wonderful philosophy of life held by the great and lovable poet of Georgia. This verse is composed of perhaps the most famous lines Mr. Stanton wrote:

"This old world we're livin' in
Is mighty hard to beat;
You git a thorn with every rose,
But ain't the roses sweet!"

The Writers' club committee in charge of the memorial is composed of Mrs. C. Gainer Turner, chairman; Mrs. James A. Watson, Miss Blossom Tucker, Daniel Whitehead Hicky and Dr. W. F. Melton.

Contributions may be sent to Mrs C. Gainer Turner, at 46 Golf circle. Mrs. Turner's telephone number is HEmlock 7563-J.

FORMER EAST LAKE BONDS SOLD BY CITY FOR $400 PREMIUM

Atlanta Saturday sold $13,500 worth of bonds, formerly owned by the city of East Lake, to the Robinson-Humphrey company at a premium of approximately $400.

The sale was made because of the custom of the city to invest only in United States, Georgia state or city of Atlanta bonds, and East Lake had purchased the securities as a sinking fund to secure a bonded indebtedness of approximately $65,000.

When East Lake came into the city January 1, it brought with it the liability and the assets in the form of bonds. These bonds were the ones which were marketed Saturday by B Graham West, city comptroller.

They were divided as follows: Thomasville, $3,000; Colquitt county $8,000; South West LaGrange, $1,000; Brunswick, $1,000, and Pulaski county $500.

Mr. West explained that the securities which the city sold Saturday are perfectly good, but that they were marketed so that the money could be reinvested by the city.

Births

Mr and Mrs J. Kalvinas, 324 Central avenue, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Cochran, 992 West Peachtree street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Sargent, 1362 Bankhead avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Whitten, 714 Edgewood avenue, twins; Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Powell, 18 Montgomery, S. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Slaton, Jr., 191 Huntington road, girl; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Moon, 188 Hunter, S. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Conner, 340 Eugenia, girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Powers, 685 East avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. H. Barrett, 587 Cameron street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Willis, 573 South McDaniel street, girl; Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Lyons, 575 Federal terrace, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hearn, 1027 St. Charles avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Feathers, 417 Central avenue, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. M. Cohen, 491 Central avenue, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Coleman, 27 Brown's Mill road, girl; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Aycock, 1027 Berne street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Shaw, 614 Tennelle street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. F. Leake, 362 Bryan street, girl.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Thomas, Eagan, Ga., girl; Mr. and Mrs. C. Hirsch, 20 Little street, S. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallace, 772 Fulton terrace, boy; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wynn, 656 Bryan street, girl; Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Morris, 1806 New York avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Estes, 256 Simms avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Finch, 881 Grove street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barton, 348 1-2 Peter street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. Earnest, 120 Estoria street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Howard, 1243 Altamaple avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Anderson, 693 Capitol avenue, S. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Nabers, 693 Gresham avenue, girl; Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Horton, Jr., 595 Hill street, S. E., girl; Mr. and Mrs. F. Speck, 528 Wabash avenue, boy; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bell, 1046 White Oak street, boy; Mr. and Mrs. C. Butler, Poole drive, boy; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hill, Jr., 161 Alexander street, S. W., boy; Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Rennet, 304 Fair street, S. E., boy; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Anderson, 474 Griffen street, boy.

'ANTI-SUB' TREATY URGED BY KELLOGG

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The American government was represented today by Secretary Kellogg as willing to sign a treaty with all world powers to prohibit the use of submarines for any purpose.

The head of the state department disclosed this position in a letter to Chairman Porter of the house foreign affairs committee, which today discussed at some length the Forthingham resolution proposing the abolition of the undersea craft. The secretary emphasized, however, that while the Washington government was ready to sign such an agreement, it would be impossible for one country to abolish submarines and leave other nations free to operate and build them.

Butler Is Consulted.

The resolution, which the secretary indorsed, would provide that the United States "continue to use efforts to bring about" the discontinuance of this type of vessel.

Chairman Butler of the house naval committee, was called in by the foreign affairs group for consultation, and agreed that the submarine could be dispensed with only by the agreement of all powers. He touched upon the administration's $740,000,000 new warship building program, saying that it proposed construction of 32 new submarines.

Butler added that the navy department's total construction plan for a 20-year period would approximate $3,000,000,000, and Porter said that as regarded this as "cheap" insurance for a nation as wealthy as the United States. The foreign affairs committee head contended that the United States must build submarines as long as any other country did.

Representative Frothingham, republican, Massachusetts, author of the resolution, said the world war had demonstrated that the submarine was an inhuman weapon and that the S-4 disaster showed that its use in peace was hazardous.

'Dancing Boys' Ordered To Get Paris Licenses

Paris, February 4.—(AP)—Because many of them have proved to be as light-fingered as they are light-footed, the gigolos, professional dancing boys of Paris, are to be licensed like taxi chauffeurs.

By a new police order, every gigolo must register and obtain a card bearing his number, description and photograph. Minor offenses will be noted on these cards, and if the total mounts high enough or if the youths just can't learn to keep their fingers out of their partners' pocket books, they will be banned from the waxed floors of the dance places.

In announcing the registration of the gigolos, police described them as a menace to morals and a phase of low life introduced by foreigners.

MAN HELD BY POLICE ON BAD CHECK CHARGE

A man giving the name of Bill Greer, 30, of 480 Elm street, was arrested Saturday by Detectives Stone and Brown and charged with suspicion, while detectives instituted an investigation of worthless and forged checks the prisoner is alleged to have passed. Detectives said that four checks, totaling around $100, figure in the case.

NARCOTIC VIOLATIONS CHARGED; BIND 2 OVER

Richard A. Preston, of 265 Forsyth street, S. W., was held for the federal grand jury under $1,000 bond, while Mary Hill, negro maid at 265 Forsyth, S. W., was held under $300 bond Saturday by United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter. The defendants are charged with violation of the Harrison narcotic act, federal agents claiming to have secured "buys" of narcotics.

Pile Victims Read!

Men and women by thousands are loud in their praise of this new, scientific treatment which usually ends all pain and discomfort from Itching, Bleeding, Blind or Protruding Piles in a hurry. Results are really amazing, for this method attacks the trouble from both inside and outside. No matter how severe your case—or how long standing—don't despair.

As an example of how quickly the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment ends pain and suffering, even in extreme cases, a letter from Mrs. M. L. Buckner, of Kansas City, Mo., follows. She writes: "One week ago yesterday I was in bed, helpless. Today I have cleaned my home, cared for my children, and feel fine. I feel sure I would have been dead if relief had not come when it did."

Don't neglect a single day. Write now. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below today and a free trial package will be sent promptly in plain wrapper.

(2)

Free Package Coupon

E. R. PAGE CO.,
554-F Page Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Without cost or obligation on my part, send me in plain wrapper a Trial Package of the Page Internal Tablet Combination Treatment for pile suffering. Fill in name plainly with pencil.

Name .....
Address .....
City ..... State .....

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

Reduces Prices!

Effective Feb. 1st

Martin Nash Motor Co.

R. H. MARTIN, PRES.

Peachtree at North Ave.

(7411)

Activities of the Week in Atlanta's Schools

EDITED by RICHARD CLARK

Tech High Poetic Fraternity Announces Year's Pledges

Last Wednesday the Smithies received their report cards and on last Thursday the new third quarter started.

For the seniors and perhaps a few others there will be some advanced courses in a few subjects if enough boys will sign up for the course. Steps have been taken to organize a Spanish 5 class under E. L. Barlow, and judging from the interest in the proposition no trouble should be encountered in getting the required 15 students to form the new class.

A course in economics is offered in the history department by J. P. Barron for those who think they would be interested in taking it.

Last Thursday night W. Cheney gave a banquet in honor of the Rainbow staff. The editor - in - chief of the different high and junior high school papers were also invited. The staff has accomplished some fine work this year and is to be congratulated.

The staff of the Rainbow for last half includes: Henry Maddox, editor-in-chief; Joe Veal, associate editor; Tom Sanders, feature editor; J. P. Hubbard, social editor; J. Y. Adams, alumni editor; L. B. Kingsbery, exchange editor; P. L. Lahyman, joke editor; H. H. Whittman, military editor; Fred Reynolds, advertising manager; W. M. Davis, manager circulation; Jim Sanders, clerk; E. M. Shropshire, clerk.

Henry A. Maddox retired from the editor-in-chief position in favor of Joe E. Veal, who will take over the reins for the rest of the school year. Last year near the close of school an examination was given by W. J. Scott, head of the English department, for the editor-in-chief position of the Rainbow. Henry Maddox and Joe Veal both had such excellent papers that it was finally decided that Henry take it over for the first half of the year and Joe the other half.

Maddox is to be congratulated on his fine work during the time of his editor-in-chief position for besides doing this big piece of work he acted as the football manager, the basketball manager, a class leader, an associate editor of the annual, and also a member of several time taking activities.

Veal is also very popular around the Smithy institution in the way of activities. Both men are seniors and well-thought of by both the faculty and student body.

The school annual is progressing well. The faculty adviser, J. B. Sojourner, and his staff of editors are working hand in hand and a very fine year book is expected by the senior class.

At the Parent-Teacher association meeting held last Tuesday night at the chamber of commerce, the chorus of the Tech High minstrel gave several selections from their show which was presented last December 6 at the Atlanta Woman's club. Albert Whitfield and Freddy Logan gave a very delightful duet, "Highways and Byways." The opening course was given by the entire members and Albert Whitfield sang a solo, "My Blue Heaven."

The Poetae, Tech High poetic fraternity, have announced their pledges for the year. The men honored by being selected for membership are Edward Lamar Dial, Vernon Hill Shearer, William Willson Taylor, Jack Carl Brannon, and James Barney Folds. This fraternity has just finished celebrating their third year of existence and now plans are being completed to make it a national fraternity. The active members in the poetical fraternity are: Tom Sanders, Jim Fluker, J. P. Hubbard and W. A. Horne, Jr.

The "Fight'n Smithie Five" have been doing fine work, they have met and defeated the following teams: Canton High, Lawrenceville High, North American Insurance company, Fulton High, G. M. A., Commercial High, Ind[illegible]l High, G. M. A. (second time), [illegible]d Commercial again, also. They have totaled up 398 points in nine games.

TOM R. SANDERS.

Washington Seminary Students Edit 1928 Issue of 'Facts and Fancies'

Active work on the 1927-1928 edition of the Washington seminary senior yearbook was begun with the naming of the editorial and business staff last week. The young ladies in the pictures are those selected to fill the positions necessary for the successful production of a fine annual. They are, left to right, first row: Mary McCord and Gerry White, assistant advertising managers; Elinor Memminger, literary editor; Jean Nutting, advertising manager; Hannah Sterne, business manager; Eugenia Naff, editor-in-chief; Susella Burnett, associate editor; Phoebe Rhett, class editor, and Martha Mizell, assistant advertising editor. Second row: Laura Nell Anderson, boarding department editor; Mimi O'Beirne, joke editor; Laura Hoke, athletic editor; Margaret Arnold, society editor; Hazel Stamps, assistant society editor, and Elizabeth Kimbell, assistant class editor.

Last week all the students of Washington seminary were greatly excited over the results of the election of the annual staff. Each one had waited anxiously to hear the outcome of his vote, and when the time of announcement arrived, very few were disappointed. After serious voting it resulted that the staff for 1927-1928 is: Editor-in-chief, Miss Eugenia Naff; business manager, Miss Hannah Sterne; assistant editor, Miss Suzella Brunett; assistant business manager, Miss Cornelia Orme; class editors, Miss Phoebe Rhett and Miss Elizabeth Kimball; literary editor, Miss Elinor Memminger; advertising manager, Miss Jean Nutting; assistant advertising manager, Miss Mary McCord, Miss Martha Mizell and Miss Gerny White; society editor, Miss Margaret Arnold; assistant society editor, Miss Hazel Stamps; art editor, Miss Ruby Carter Adams; athletic editor, Miss Laura Hoke; boarding department editor, Miss Laura Nell Anderson, and joke editor, Miss Mimi O'Bierne.

It was very unfortunate that there wasn't an office for every senior. Surely there is enough material in the senior class to make up another equally good staff. Every student who was chosen for an office will certainly have to work hard for she knows that if she falls down, another eager girl is waiting to take her place. Each member of the staff is ready to start with earnest labor. They have all declared that the 1927-1928 "Facts and Fancies" will be the best one that Washington seminary has ever claimed. At the conclusion of the study of the classical period in musical history a program was presented by the following girls:

Sonata Pathetique (Beethoven), Emily Matthews; sonata in G (Beethoven), Helen Cornwall; concerto in E minor (Nardini), Florence Bryan.

The seniors will give a bridge party in the parlors of the seminary on Friday, February 10, at 3 o'clock. This will be for the benefit of the young girl whom they are sending to the Vashti Industrial school and for the annual, Facts and Fancies.

Enthusiasm for basketball is still running high at the seminary. The team has played two games. Though Commercial High beat us in the first game of the season the team played splendidly, and we were very proud of it. Saturday night the seminary team defeated Athens High in a very exciting game. The team showed marked improvement, especially in the pass work. The student body was well represented and the cheering was beyond all the fond expectations of the cheer leaders. Anyone who comes to a seminary game will surely be rewarded.

The College Prep club was delightfully entertained Tuesday afternoon by Gertrude and Mary Askew at their home on Peachtree road.

Hollins college was represented by Miss Billie Johnson. She told us all about the college. After her talk the girls asked her questions about various matters. Billie convinced several girls that Hollins was the one and only college.

MARTHA MIZELL,
ELINOR MEMMINGER.

MARIST SELECTS CADET MAJOR

Due to Major Schmidt's absence last Friday, the examinations for cadet-major were not held. They were held, however, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the last week. They consisted of two days' exhaustive written examination, questions given by an officer of the United States army. The third day, the contestants were obliged to demonstrate their practical knowledge on the drill field. Results will be announced shortly.

The contestants were: Cadet Captains Voorhis and Darby; Cadet Lieutenants Fair, Shepard, Stephens, Murray and Murphy.

Faith Low Two Demonstration Well Attended

The children of Faith school are gladly welcoming all our new kindergarten children, but we surely are missing our high six class, which went to Junior High. Their graduation exercises last Friday were greatly enjoyed by as many people as we couldp ack into our auditorium. We were lucky enough to have with us Mrs. West, who made an address and presented the diplomas. Miss Wesley was honored by having picture given her by high six, and Miss Simpson received a Georgia project which had been carefully worked out by the boys and girls.

Charlie Barnes, Theo Braswell, Allen Compton, Sidney Hampton, Albert Jones, Mack Nix, Boyd Roberts, Catherine Cagle, Ruennell Davis and Hazel Simpson, of the new high six are on the honor roll for perfect attendance since September.

The "all-promoted" class is our high five, every single child came up from low five. We are glad Pauline Pair returned.

The boys and girls of the new low five surely appreciate the prettily decorated room the recent high five left them.

It was a great pleasure for low two last week to have so many teachers come to their arithmetic demonstration. Miss Slocub, Miss Rainwater, Miss Smith, Miss Boylston, Miss Graves and several principals, Miss Taylor, Mrs. Whitworth and Miss Jarrell were honor guests.

The children of high three are quite proud of Hoyt Allison and Marion Thacker, who received the highest grades for the first semester.

Many new pupils have joined high two. They found a real welcome for them.

We are glad to hear that group thre in high one have already begun to show their interest in the new reading. Andrew Hampton and Thelma Smith have joined the class.

You may be sure that the children of low one feel proud to have been promoted from the kindergarten.

Ralph and Roy Cannon are moving out of town and the ungrade dhigh is sorry to lose them. N. E. Knight has had perfect attendance since September.

Everyone is happy in the ungraded low, for all were promoted. Mary Knight, Lillie Stone and Ahreda Hicks are our new friends. We are proud that Annie Helms and Daisy Moss have had perfect attendance since September.

RUENELL DAVIS.

A Message From Superintendent Sutton

Dear Boys and Girls:

In my visits around to the schools I have noticed a large number of our school books lying about on the ground and sometimes placed in positions where they could be easily stolen or injured. I wish to write and ask your cooperation in assisting the school department to care for the school property. The city of Atlanta has been good enough to guarantee to us free textbooks. Your city is spending nearly $100,000 per year to furnish the children of Atlanta with school books to read and to study. These books contain the most precious truths of all times.

The great laws of science coming down to us from Newton and Harvey and Franklin and Edison, and hundreds of others, are contained within these books. The stories of the great men of the world make up the pages of our history. The lives of Socrates and Plato, of Napoleon, Pasteur and Kepler, of Washington and Lee, of Grant and Lincoln, of Stevens and Toombs, and a hundred others are in the pages of these histories.

The most precious gems of literature, the great life saving facts of health science, the problems of mathematics and arithmetic and other great truths are contained in these textbooks.

We ought to respect them enough to see that none of them are marked, torn, or abused. Our very meat and bread depends upon the lessons we learn from these books. The welfare of our families, our health, our life itself, are bound up with these great truths.

In addition to all this, the city has generously given us these books to use. Will you not see to it that every copy is carefully covered, that when you use it no finger marks are placed upon it, and that it is not left lying around?

Always your friend,
WILLIS A. SUTTON,
Superintendent of Schools.

Lee Street Graduates Class At Close of First Semester

The graduating exercises of the high sixth grade of Lee Street school were held Friday, January 27, at 12 o'clock in the main auditorium of the school.

The program was opened with a Bible reading and prayer by the class, followed with a song. Rachel Shamos, valedictorian, read a well written essay entitled "Keys," based on the class project. The class history was presented by Frances Purvine, and much laughter was provoked by the witty prophecies of Georgia Lee Herron.

Prior to the delivery of the certificates Dr. M. Burns made an address in which he pointed out to the boys and girls the great advantage to be derived from the specialized studies in the school program of today.

Miss Marinelle Garner, teacher of the high sixth grade, presented the rewards. Dorothy Stewart won the reward for the greatest improvement.

At the close of the exercises, the class repaired to the dining room of the school where a delightful luncheon had been prepared by the grade mothers. The decorations were in red carrying out the valentine idea with valentines for place cards. A special border with valentine suggestions had been put up by Miss Archer, low first grade teacher.

Nellie Margaret Gilroy presented Miss Garner with a beautiful platinum pin in the name of the class. The farewell address was made by Paul Eldredge, president of the class, with response by Miss Rusha Wesley, principal of the school. Miss Garner made a short talk thanking the mothers for their cooperation.

The graduating class was composed of the following members: Eunice Evelyn Bell, J. D. Benefield, Janie Louise Clark, Lillie Cleibron, Mary Louise Coleman, Eloise Georgiana Davis, Ada Nell Duke, Paul Judson Eldredge, Mary Bright George, Aletha Glenn Gill, Nellie Margaret Gilroy, Georgia Lee Herron, Edward William Lovitt, Charles Lester Marks, Lois Gertrude May, Nell Linda Layne, Moreland Frederick Moncrief, Martha Lola Morgan, Sara Eleanor Parker, Mary Allene Peek, Dorothy Josephine Philips, Vivian Margaret Pope, Frances Clyde Purvine, Herbert Ivan Rainwater, Harry Lee Richman, Lee Bob Ridley, Evelyn May Rivers, Bryce LaFrances Rodcheaver, Kathleen Augusta Rogers, Rachel Shamos, Norman Wilbur Smith, Robert John Smith, John Robert Spence, Dorothy Louise Stewart, Kathleen Stewart, Anne Webster Johnson, Nell Baxter White.

The high kindergarten pupils have been busily engaged stringing beads and drawing pictures. The class welcomed several new pupils into their room last week.

High first graders have been making family books, many of which are almost completed.

High two made some posters of children drinking milk. The new high six class has gladly taken up the monitor work of the former high six students.

Pupils in the ungraded class are having an arithmetic contest.

SPRING HIGH SECOND HAS HISTORY GAME

Each child in high six has large milk posters.

Eight children in low five were very sorry to leave Miss Sauze, their teacher. They are trying to do their best in their new room.

High four is trying hard to get accustomed to their new room.

High four-two has moved downstairs. They are enjoying their new room.

Low three is very proud to make the good record of having 46 enrolled and 46 to be promoted.

The children of high two have made some arithmetic and history games. They enjoy playing them very much.

The high first children are very proud of the fact that they are now in the low second grade.

All the children in low one had good teeth when the dentist visited them last week.

The kindergarten is glad to have many new children.

—MARVIN R. M'CLATCHEY II.

N. A. P. S. French Club Holds First Meet of Year

The last few days have been busy ones at Naps. Basketball season is in its prime and the squad is practicing daily for perfection. The schedule this year includes a variety of good games, and both the team and the school are looking forward to a victorious year.

On Tuesday morning the sing song contest was held. Each class presented one or two songs which could be used as a school song or at a basketball game. The senior song was voted the best, and the junior song was given second place.

On Friday, January 27, at chapel the Dorothy Partridge memorial cup was put into the hands of the sophomore class. This cup, given by Mr. and Mrs. Partridge in loving memory of their daughter, Dorothy, will at the close of each year be inscribed with the name of a member of the class of 1930 who has rendered to her school the most unselfish service. After the class of '30 has left Naps the cup will bear the name of that freshman who nearest meets the same qualifications. The cup is lovely, and a great honor will be given the girl whose name is engraved on it.

Monday was election day for the student body officers. Each class was represented on the two tickets, Green and Gold. On the Green ticket were Mary Dell Carson, president; Edna Lockart, vice president; Frances Word, treasurer, and Lucy Yundt, secretary. On the Gold ticket were: Sara Croft Smith, president; Marie Shaw, vice president; Linda Cox, treasurer, and Jennie Champion, secretary. After an exciting time at the polls the Gold ticket won. These new officers took charge officially in chapel Wednesday and will continue to preside over the student body until the close of the school year in June.

Miss Gussie Fraser was the guest of the school on Tuesday morning. Miss Fraser has just returned from China and gave a very delightful talk about the Chinese and their customs.

The French club held its first meeting of 1928 in Inman assembly hall on Tuesday afternoon, January 31. The new members of the club, who include the French I students, were made members at this meeting. One of the most outstanding features of the very delightful program was a play, the story of "La Belle France." As part of their initiation the members of French I were made to participate in the egg races and sack races for the entertainment of the old members of the French club. Refreshments served in a "French cafe" added the finishing touches to the most enjoyable meeting.

—ELIZABETH HOWARD.

UNUSUAL PROGRAM FEATURES EXERCISES

A program of unusual merit featured as the promotion day exercises given by the sixth grade pupils of Peeples street school, to an appreciative audience of parents and teachers. This program was arranged entirely by the pupils themselves:

Welcome, John Cowden; chorus, (a) Aurora, (b) Gondolier; penmanship in rhythm, at blackboard, Hudson Hardin and Viola Tupper; voice, Mady Carter; reading, "Riding in the Air? Not Me;" Elizabeth Mosely; song, "Georgia Land," girls; reading, "Georgia," Margaret Pearsall, costumed as the Cherokee Rose; reading, "Atlanta, the Dogwood City," Louise Edens; drama, "Nebuchadnezzar's Dream;" reading, "South America," Jeanne Crowell, in native costume; dramatization, "What the Old World Gave to the New," seven girls in costume, representing Babylon, Persia, Greece, Rome, Egypt, China and Palestine; the Young Citizens' league in costume: Columbia, Young America, and six little citizens; class prophecy, Jeanne Crowell; an original class poem, Elizabeth Mosley; song, "Peeples Year by Year," boys; goodbye, Morgan Watson.

Lindbergh Medals.

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—Legislation authorizing the treasury to strike off bronze medals in recognition of the achievement of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in flying the Atlantic is before both the senate and the house.

Sweaters Awarded Men On B.H.S. '27 Grid Squad

Nineteen members of the 1927 Boys' High football squad were awarded the school sweater at a recent assembly of the School Athletic association. Faculty members of the athletic committee had charge of the delivery of these sweaters, and after Mr. Floyd, of the faculty, opened the meeting, "Shorty" Doyal, coach of the Purple Hurricane, presented the warriors with their sweaters. Each boy had the privilege of expressing himself to the student body; in fact, this was required before Shorty would hand over the coveted purple garment. Great was the enjoyment of the school, and many a laugh was had at the expense of the gridiron heroes.

Debating progrms were resumed Friday in nearly all home classrooms, and the regular work of the Aleiphonian Literary and Debating society was thus given a start for the second semester. The subject under discussion in the class had the privilege last week of hearing Mr. Dennison, a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who addressed them on the subject "Why a Boy Needs a Technical Education." The advantages of such training were clearly pointed out in his talk.

Girls' High Holds Celebrity Contest; Seniors Are Named

Monday, January 30, brought to a close the first semester of the Girls' High school year. During the lull between final examinations and the beginning of the new semester several events of importance to the school occurred.

Wednesday, January 25, a dinner was given by Mrs. L. J. Elsas, head of the Atlanta Junior Red Cross, in honor of the Junior Press club. The Junior Press club, composed of the staffs of all the city high school and junior high papers, was organized to bring the publications closer together, and to give them practical instruction in newspaper work. At this the initial meeting, officers were elected, and Vernon Ogletree, editor of the Girls' High Times, was elected secretary. Three members of the High Times' staff, Vernon Ogletree, Margaret Ridley and Doris Camp, and a faculty adviser, Mrs. Kathleen Hoffman, were present at this meeting.

Thre staff members were present at the banquet held at the Daffodil tea room, by the Tech High Rainbow, the night of Thursday, January 26. The banquet was given in honor of the newly elected officers of the publication.

An event of much interest and importance to the school was the celebrity contest held Tuesday, January 31. The results were as follows: Prettiest, Muriel Arkels; most popular, Pritchard Gayle; most representative, Maragaret Harris; most lovable, Edythe McConnell; most intellectual, Miriam Thompson; most athletic, Bess Weddington; most original, Helen Garrison.

Home Economics Teachers Meet At Fulton High

Miss Bess M. Baird, of the Georgia Home Economics association, met with the home economics teachers of Atlanta and Fulton county and Fulton County high school to make plans for the state meeting to be held here in April. All committees were appointed and Miss Baird stated that she was anxious that arrangements be made so the teachers of Georgia could visit the schools and inspect the equipment while they are in the city. This will be the ninth annual meeting and is expected to be the largest and best meeting ever held.

Thelma Howell, who is president of the Home Economics club, presided at the recent meeting of this group. Miss Annie Mae Walker introduced Judge Humphries, who spoke on "Family Relationships," the subject of the state home economics essay. Judge Humphries stressed the importance of home economics training for boys as well as for girls. He also showed how each member of the family may help in making the home life happy and successful.

A very interesting program was given. Miss Pauline Baker, in charge of the Dramatic club, gave a reading, which showed the importance of amusement in the home. Miss Hermina Baum gave several selections on the violin. After the program refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

Georgia Avenue High Six Makes Savings Record

Georgia Avenue school has had a busy moving day since the new semester started, for all the low grades moved to high and the high classes up to the lower section of the next grade. We think that now is the time to be making good resolutions about the work we will do from now until June.

We are missing our class that went to high school, but are expecting the present high sixth to try to take their places.

We are delighted to have a clerk to help us in our school, and we think we couldn't have a nicer one than Mrs. Wiggins, who came to us twice each week. We want her to know how much we appreciate her.

High six had a spelling match with the children that went to Junior High and Thelma English, of the former low six stood up the longest. We have had 100 per cent in banking for the past ten weeks. We wer every glad that everyone was promoted from low six to high six. We are looking forward to being a great help to Miss Faver and our school, now that we are the oldest grade here.

These students left Georgia Avenue for high on Friday: Francis Barnes, Margaret Boyd, Roxana Cotrakis, Sophie Calomiaos, Nancy Collins, Nannie Lee Davis, Margaret Doyal, Willie Moe Echols, Lena Mae Farmer, Rae Fitzgibbon, Lucile Howard, Doris McDonald, Antigine Papasgeorge, Annis Poulos, Vivian Slate, Wilma Stephens, Adelaide Speights, Miriam Orenstein, Clara Thrailkill, Sara V. Viltra, Nanna Lee White, Thelma Allen, Beulah Hosnofski, Matilda Ouziel, George Chotas, George L. Garakitis, Berl Ginsberg, Claude Ledford, Harold Marshall, Roy Norton, Robert Norton, Perry Rubin, George Stovall, Herman Wellborn, Frank Coffy and James Mothis.

High five is making milk posters and are glad to have a new pupil, Curtis Green.

High four is going to have a Georgia program. Mr. Sutton wants us to learn cooperation. They are making Georgia maps.

Low four has moved to the portables, and added some new pupils from other schools.

High three pupils are reading about Robinson Crusoe.

High two made some lovely milk posters.

Low one has a fine class from the kindergarten.

The ungraded class was very happy to receive three new pupils, and are very sad to have Jack Lowry to leave for Junior High.

23 NOW QUALIFIED FOR FULTON RACES

Continued From First Page.

aspirants who qualify will be for posts where there is opposition at this time.

Five are in the field for the two positions on the county commission to be filled in the primary. Edwin F. Johnson, who is opposing Walter E. Harwell for the post of tax receiver, will not retire until after the primary, it is said, but will retain his office as county commissioner.

Those in the five-cornered contest for the commissioners' positions are Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county board of commissioners; Captain George M. Hope, for the past eight years a member of the commission; Dr. A. H. Cochran, former councilman, mayor pro tem, as a member of the aldermanic board from the second ward and prominent in city and county political, fraternal and civic circles; Sam Hewlett, prominent attorney, and Edward H. Inman, former member of city council and prominent Atlanta financier.

Carlton W. Binns, solicitor of the criminal court of Atlanta, is opposed for reelection by John McClelland, defeated in the last election by Roy Dorsey, who subsequently resigned. Governor Clifford Walker named Mr. Binns to fill the unexpired term, and the appointee is asking that he be given a full term. Both Mr. Binns and Mr. McClelland are making strong bids for the position and have selected their tickets. This probably will be one of the most closely contested races of the primary.

Three women—Mrs. Mabel Abbott MacNeill, daughter of Tax Receiver William H. Abbott, who is not offering for reelection; Mrs. Beulah Donehoo Manston, former Atlanta school teacher, and Mrs. J. R. Wakefield, also a former school teacher—are qualified to fight it out for the office of Fulton county treasurer to succeed Miss Margaret Culberson, who is not again offering. J. C. Harrison, former member of city council and ex-president of the City Salesmen's association, is an avowed candidate for the office.

Lowry vs. Corrie.

Sheriff James I. Lowry, for the past 11 years incumbent, is opposed for reelection by A. M. Corrie, railroad man. Both are making strong bids for the position.

Judge Jesse M. Wood, of the criminal court of Atlanta, is opposed by R. E. Church, attorney. Judge Wood is asking for a full term, having been appointed to his position following the death of Judge Andrew Calhoun.

There are only a few hours left prospective candidates to qualify in the races, and while several other entries were anticipated at the last minute the number of contests was not expected to be raised materially.

The office of the secretary opens at 8 o'clock Monday morning and the lists close promptly at noon.

After the closing, the aspirants will launch an intensive drive for votes, and will stump the county in several joint debates, according to predictions Saturday. Several skirmishes already have taken place in several sections of the county, but the principal engagements are in the offing. Incumbents in all positions with the exception of two—tax receiver and treasurer—will seek reelection and predicate their claims for renomination on their records in office and ask voters to give their official actions microscopic examination.

Those Qualified.

Those who have qualified for the races to date follow:

For county commission, Walter B. Stewart, Captain George M. Hope, Dr. A. H. Cochran, Edward H. Inman, Sam D. Hewlett; for tax receiver, Edwin F. Johnson and Walter E. Harwell; for solicitor criminal court of Atlanta, Carlton W. Binns and John McClelland; for sheriff, James I. Lowry and A. M. Corrie; for treasurer, Mrs. Mabel Abbott MacNeill, Mrs. Beulah Manston and Mrs. J. R. Wakefield; for tax collector, W. S. Richardson, incumbent; for ordinary, Thomas H. Jeffries, incumbent; for superintendent Fulton county schools, Jere A. Wells, incumbent; for judge criminal court of Atlanta, Judge Jesse M. Wood, incumbent, and R. E. Church; for clerk Fulton county superior court, Thomas C. Miller, incumbent; for coroner, Paul Donchoo, incumbent; for judge city court of Atlanta, Judge Hugh M. Dorsey, incumbent, and for county surveyor, Eugene W. Robert, incumbent.

GROCERY CHANGES WILL AID ATLANTA

Continued From First Page.

will control 100 stores in the south, in addition to 63 meat markets, four warehouses and one bakery, the last mentioned being in Tampa.

The buying center for these 100 stores will be in Atlanta, and enlarged warehouse facilities will be necessary. Larger offices also will be necessary and the tremendous increase in merchandise handled for the Southern Stores corporation through Atlanta will go to make up the increase in pay roll and commissions from which Atlantans will benefit. A large bulk of this merchandise formerly was handled through the Memphis office of the Piggly Wiggly corporation.

The Atlanta unit consists of 31 groceries, and of this number 19 have meat markets. These stores will be under active management of the Southern Stores corporation and Harry G. Brown will continue as vice president and general manager of the Piggly Wiggly company.

Mr. Marshburn will direct the activities of the chain. Associated with him will be experienced men, who, he says, have been responsible for the growth of the firm.

Sauls Made Comptroller.

At the same time Mr. Marshburn announced the appointment of R. J. Sauls, formerly assistant manager of the Atlanta branch of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell and company as comptroller of the Southern Stores corporation.

Only stores of the Piggly Wiggly system will be operated by the Southern Stores corporation.

"The policies of this company will, of course, be to provide the best merchandise obtainable at a fair price to the consumer," Mr. Marshburn said.

"We are doing the best we can to benefit every city in which we maintain stores. We are not concerned with any one city especially, but with all of them equally. Atlanta is selected as a centralization and administrative point because of its strategic position. That this is to Atlanta's advantage is obvious."

R. W. MARSHBURN,
Head of the Southern Stores Corporation.

FLIERS CELEBRATE LINDY'S BIRTHDAY

Continued From First Page.

holiday in honor of Lindbergh, had crowded the streets and sought word of the take-off.

Receives Another Medal.

The throngs pressed close together, their gaze following every detail of his progress as the flier repeated his success in reaching other capitals of the world and brought his famous plane to a landing.

For a time it appeared that he would be forced to remain beside the Spirit of St. Louis until the cheering thousands could be pushed back to give him a lane of exit. The president, aided by local police, led the way and Lindbergh was conducted to the city hall, where once more he was made the guest of a national capital. A gold medal was President Vasquez's decoration of the flier.

Tomorrow morning Lindbergh will honor the memory of Columbus. He will visit the Columbus monument, where Santo Domingans believe the bones of the discoverer of America are buried.

A ball at the presidential palace was the chief item on the Lindbergh program tonight. Tomorrow he will be the guest of the American minister at luncheon. His itinerary calls for a take-off Monday for Haiti and his arrival Wednesday at Havana, where the Pan-American conference is in session.

FRENCH AVIATORS REACH NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, February 4.—(AP)—Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix, "flying ambassadors" of France, completed another leg of their air journey from Paris to New York when they landed at Alvin Callender field here this afternoon after a non-stop flight from Mexico City.

They took off from Mexico City at 7:08 a. m., and landed here at 5:16 p. m., completing the 1,100-mile hop in 10 hours and six minutes. It was the first non-stop flight between the two cities. Several hundred persons, most of them from New Orlean's French quarter, were at the field to greet the intrepid airmen who have blazed an air trail between France and the United States by way of Africa, South America, Central America and Mexico.

Their journey will be resumed Tuesday morning when they take off for Washington, going by way of Pensacola, Fla. From Washington they will proceed to New York. Three army planes escorted the fliers here.

CHAMBERLIN ESCAPES INJURY IN CRASH.

Richmond, Va., February 4.—(AP)—Clarence D. Chamberlin and Roger Q. Williams, whose big Bellanca monoplane crashed at Byrd field here today when they sought to take off for a third attempt to break the world's endurance record, were making plans tonight for their fourth effort at the mark of Johann Ristiez and Cornelius Edzard, German holders of the record.

LEVINE DELAYS HOP-OFF FORTY-EIGHT HOURS.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., February 4. (AP)—Charles A. Levine failed to get off on a projected flight to Havana today, and later delayed his "mystery flight" for another day or two because of weather conditions.

Levine said definitely that he would fly to Havana, but speculation was rife because he would not explain why he had loaded the plane with enough gasoline for a 4,000-mile flight, while Havana is but 1,400 miles away. Also he declined to explain why David H. Strother, of the National Aeronautical association, was present to seal the barograph which is done ordinarily for the purpose of establishing record flights.

LOOPING RECORD IS SHATTERED.

St. Paul, Minn., February 4.—(AP)—Gene Shank, the flying St. Paul law student, established a world's record for airplane looping when he made 515 loops in 258 minutes over the St. Paul airport today.

This number exceeds by 200 loops the record of 315 aerial somersaults turned in France by Bevlin W. Maynard, "the flying parson." Taking off from the airfield at 12:05 p. m. in the same plane he used in his attempt to beat Maynard's record Friday when he was forced down by engine trouble after 137 loops, Shank climbed to an altitude of 3,000 feet in five minutes and started his looping.

MARINE CORPS PLANE REACHES NICARAGUA.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—A marine corps Fokker transport monoplane late today completed a one-stop flight from Washington to Nicaragua, the navy was notified tonight.

DONNELLAN LANDS AT KEY WEST.

Key West, Fla., February 4.—(United News)—Captain Joseph Donnellan, en route from Chicago for an air tour of Central and South America, arrived here late today from Miami, Fla.

BALTIMORE TO GET MARTIN PLANE PLANT.

Baltimore, Md., February 4.—(AP)—Transfer of the Martin bombing airplane plant from Cleveland to this city was announced tonight by Mayor William F. Broening after conferences with Glenn L. Martin, aeronautics designer and owner of the Martin plane concern in Ohio.

GERMANY BUILDS BLIMP FOR OCEAN AIRLINE.

Madrid, February 4.—(AP)—Lieutenant Colonel Herrera, aviation expert, today said that a dirigible now being built in Germany for an air line between Seville and Buenos Aires will be so constructed as to permit transfer of passengers and cargo, in mid-air, to airplanes.

PLANE FORCED DOWN BY SNOW, RAIN.

Sharon, Pa., February 4.—(AP)—A Fairchild plane on the way from New York to Milwaukee was forced down here late this afternoon when rain and snow was encountered.

COOLIDGE "VOICES" NEWSPAPER IDEALS

Continued From First Page.

open to the press as an instrument of clean and sound government is limitless," Coolidge said. "It ought to be the supporter of efficient local administration and wise national statesmanship. In international affairs it should cooperate with the government and extend to foreign interests tolerant and sympathetic candor."

The address, carried throughout the country by a network of adio broadcasting stations, was made in the assembly room of the new Press club building, which occupies a historic site in the heart of Washington's business district long associated with the journalistic profession. Nearby is the street known formerly as Newspaper row, the haunt of newspaper men from shortly after the civil war to the early seventies.

Detailing plans of the Press club, the president pointed out the club management hoped the property, valued at $10,000,000, will be relieved of incumbrances within 25 years. Its annual income of $500,000 then would be devoted to the benefit of the club, he said, tentative projects calling for awards for journalistic achievement and the use of surplus profits for the promotion of the general welfare of the newspaper business.

Sees National Safeguard.

Publicity, he said, was one of the strongest safeguards of the integrity of official action.

"This does not mean an espionage of all personal and private action of government officials," he explained, "but it does mean publicity concerning the discharge of the duties which they have chosen to perform."

The president asked for a patriotic press and one that would not neglect virtue in its campaign against vice. He said constant criticism weakens and disintegrates a necessary spirit of patriotism nd emphasized the need of discrimination along with the need of censure.

Publicity was characterized by President Coolidge as being not only the main agency of reform, but, likewise, the dominant factor in prevention. In its true function, he believed, it was not the voice of the individual reporter or editor, but the voice of public expression.

"It represents the thought, the hope, the aspiration and the faith of the people," he declared.

Club President Speaks.

In an address preceding that of Coolidge, J. Fred Essary, president of the National Press club, declared the building was dedicated to the highest ideals of journalism and to faithful public service.

Frank B. Noyes, president of the Associated Press, told the club members that the ethical standards and practices of the press today were higher than at any time in the past.

PUBLISHER URGES FEDERAL CONTROL.

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—The Mississippi flood control problem is "far more complex and far greater" than construction of the Panama Canal, and required Roosevelt an strenuousity for its solution, James M. Thomson, New Orleans publisher, declared in a comprehensive statement issued here tonight urging adequate legislation at this session of congress.

He indorsed the principle of the tentative Reid bill for flood control providing for entire payment of cost by the federal government and placing jurisdiction in an enlarged Mississippi river commission.

RICH'S Bargain Basement

Special Sale.

$1.49 Silks

98c

Silks consisting of flat crepes, plain and printed georgettes and printed crepes and brocades. 38 and 40 ins. wide. In all of the desired colors. These silks are specially priced for Monday in Rich's Bargain Basement at 98c a yard!

$2.98 Rain Slickers

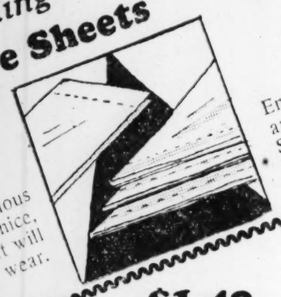

Women's and girls' rain slickers. Girls' sizes 6 to 14 with hats to match. Other sizes 16 to 44. In all bright shades. Cemented shoulder and arm holes. Raglan sleeves. Reversible collars.

$1.98

Bedding at Drastic Reductions!

$1.39 Empire Sheets

$1

Empire sheets of the famous Mohawk quality. Of a nice, smooth finish. Sheets that will give long and serviceable wear. Size 81x90.

35c Empire Cases

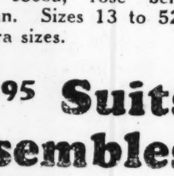

25c Ea.

Empire cases of the same make and quality as the sheets. Size 42x36. A real Bargain Basement special for tomorrow at 25c.

$1.49 Blankets

Wool mixed gray blankets with striped borders of blue and rose. Size 66x80. SPECIAL for tomorrow at 79c.

79c

Hour Special 9 to 10 Only!

$2.98 Voile Curtains

Only 50 pairs of fine voile curtains to go tomorrow at $1.98. Silk braid and embroidery trimmed. Also scalloped edges. In deep cream color only.

$1.98

25c Percales

Percales in stripes for making women's and children's dresses. Also shirting stripes in fast colors. 36 ins. wide.

19c

$2.95 Rayon Spreads

$1.94

—Beautiful rayon spreads in blue, rose, gold, green and orchid. Striped with embroidered edges. Size 81x105. 9 to 10 o'clock only!

$7.95 to $10 Frocks

$5

172 frocks, some of them left from Winter selling . . . many of them Spring models! Flat crepes, georgettes, satin crepes, silk failles, poiretsheen and twills. Metallic top and velvet skirt dinner frocks! Sizes 14 to 42 only. Tremendously cut in price for quick clearaway tomorrow!

$19.95 Spring Coats

$14.95

New Spring coats just from their wrappings—all ready for Monday's Sale! Brisk twills, whipcords, kashas and sports weaves. With soft fur collars or simply finished. Lined with crepe or rayon. Navy, black, natural, cocoa, rose beige, green, tan. Sizes 13 to 52½. Also extra sizes.

$19.95 Coat Suits

$14.95

62 new spring coat suits in the new twills and whipcords. Fashionable sports tweeds and mixtures. Double and single-breasted styles. Silk crepe lined. Wrap-around skirts. Beautifully tailored. Covert and hair line stripes. Navy, black, beige and sports mixtures. Sizes 14 to 42.

$12.95 Suits Ensembles

$10

87 ensembles and tailored suits. Ensemble coat and dresses of flat crepe in plain colors and prints. Can be worn separate. Suits single and double-breasted. Hip length coat silk crepe lined. Wrap-around skirts in tweeds and new sports weaves. All spring shades. Sizes 14 to 40.

Girls' $2.95 Wash Dresses

$1.95

—Girls' better wash dresses of imitation blocked linen, broadcloth, fine gingham and prints. In plain colors, checks and plaids. All fast colors . . . guaranteed. Bloomer dresses for 7 to 10. Other styles for 10 to 14. These little wash dresses are real bargains at $1.95. Get yours early tomorrow morning!

Girls' $1.29 Wash Dresses

98c

—Girls' wash dresses of linene, gingham, prints and chambrays. Bloomer styles for girls 2 to 10. Other styles for girls 7 to 14. All fast colors in stripes, prints, and plain colors. Special at 98c.

Sample Knit Unions

39c and 59c

—600 manufacturers' samples of women's 50c to 75c fine knit unions in mercerized cotton, lisle and lisle and rayon mixed. Straps and built-up shoulders. Open and closed styles 39c

—Women's 75c to $1 fine knit Unions 59c

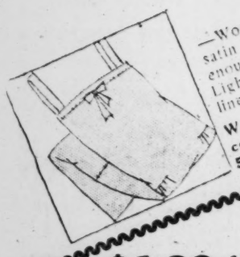

$2 Costume Slips

$1.49

—Women's lustrous baronet satin costume slips. Heavy enough to be shadow proof. Light enough to give graceful lines. Sizes 36 to 52.

Women's $1.19 "Non Cling" costume slips. Sizes 36 to 52 ..... 94c

$1.39 to $1.50 Outing Gowns

—Women's heavy outing gowns with double yoke. Satin ribbon, silk braid and hemstitching trimmed. Stripes, figures and solid colors.

$1.19

Women's 98c outing gowns 68c

Women's $1 Bloomers

Women's rayon silk bloomers in a large variety of colors. Both pastel and street shades. Sizes 25, 27 and 29. Special for Monday in Rich's Bargain Basement!

85c

Men's 39c Sox

Men's 39c to 59c silk and wool and fibre silk sox in a variety of colors and novelty patterns. Sizes 9 to 12.

29c

Wed 61 Years, Pair Laughs At Idea of Trial Marriage

Happily married after a union which has extended for a period of more than three score years, Mr. and Mrs. William Warren West will celebrate their 61st wedding anniversary on February 7.

All the noise about trial marriages and such is a source of constant amusement to Mr. and Mrs. William Warren West, of Campbellton road, aged 82 and 77 respectively, for, come February 7, they will have been married 61 years, no less.

On February 7, 1867, Elder Kenian Branan perfected this union in Eatonton, Ga. Tuesday, after three-score years and one of wedded happiness, Mr. and Mrs. West will again observe the perfection of their union and their five sons, three daughters, 42 grandchildren and 22 great grandchildren will join in the observance.

Strangely enough, there has been little tendency among the West children to leave the vicinity of their parents' home, and most of the numerous progeny live in and around Atlanta.

James W. West is the oldest son, and he is a policeman in East Point. Next is Thomas, a minister. John W. West, the third son, is an Atlanta policeman, and his next youngest brother, E. D. serves Fulton county in the same capacity. Boyd West, the youngest of the sons, is employed by the city of Atlanta.

The three daughters are Mrs. E. J. Glore, of Atlanta; Mrs. W. W. Hornsby, of East Point and Mrs. R. L. Clay, of Atlanta.

William Warren West was 21 and not long home from the Civil war when he married. Until 1882 he lived in and near Eatonton. Then he moved into Cobb county, near Mapleton, where for eight years he was a justice of the peace.

Later he came to Atlanta and for 22 years served the city as an inspector.

Though merely a lad, Mr. West served with distinction during the last two years of the civil war as a private in company E of the First Volunteer regiment, of Savannah, of which Colonel Charles A. Armstead was commanding officer.

He was 17 when he enlisted at Fort McAllister. He was in the battles of Lost Mountain, New Hope church and Kennesaw mountain.

Though his company took part in the battle of Atlanta, Private West did not. He was ill and out of active service at that time. He rejoined his company later, however, and fought Sherman's forces with General Joseph E. Johnston at Bentonville, N. C., one of the last engagements of the war. There he surrendered, with the rest of his comrades, and he still has the parole given him by General Sherman on April 26, 1865.

Mr. West has one hobby, a hobby that he has followed whenever chance permitted, and that is preaching in Primitive Baptist churches. For 50 years he has preached whenever he could.

ROAD RECEIVERS AND LAWYERS GET MILLION AND HALF

Chicago, February 4.—(AP)—A million and a half dollars in fees and the federal court to the receivers and salaries today were ordered paid by organizers of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. The receivership for the road recently was discharged.

Judge James H. Wilkerson of district court, awarded $100,000 to each of the receivers, H. E. Bryan, Mark W. Potter and Edward J. Brundage. They also were awarded smaller salaries for other duties. The largest single item is $250,000 compensation to Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Gardiner and Reed of New York, Counsel to the trustees in the receivership and foreclosure litigation.

GRASS FIRES KEEP DEPARTMENT BUSY

Grass fires, with a false alarm and a residence blaze sandwiched in, kept the Atlanta fire department on the jump Saturday.

The first alarm came in from Wellington and Mimms streets, where woods were on fire at 11:45 o'clock in the morning. The next call was from the rear of 853 Zachary street, where a grass fire was reported, and the third was a call from the rear of 894 York avenue, also for a grass fire.

The other alarms were for grass fires at Bigsby and Warren streets and 23 Standish street, N. W., a false alarm from McLendon and Sterling streets, and a small residential blaze at 447 Washington street, the home of Mrs. Mollie Bowden.

Stops a COLD in One Day

because it does the 4 necessary things in One!

HILL'S Cascara Bromide Quinine

In the red box with portrait, 30c Everywhere

COSGRAVE LEAVES; MISSES DE VALERA

New York, February 4.—(AP)—William T. Cosgrave, head of the Irish Free State, was aboard the Olympic homeward bound today without having met Eamon de Valera, opposition leader, although both were guests of New York for several days.

The two Irish political leaders had no opportunity to meet, neither being invited to attend functions at which the other was a guest. President Cosgrave, as the last event on his program, was guest at the Emerald ball at the Waldorf-Astoria, the hotel at which De Valera is stopping. The latter, however, had not been invited.

During his two weeks' visit in this country and Canada President Cosgrave had traveled thousands of miles by train, been shaken and bruised in a railroad accident in Canada, suffered from a cold and had his right hand squeezed from handshaking until it was sore and swollen.

BUTLER DENIES STUDENTS HISSED COSGRAVE.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—President Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia university, today issued a statement denying published reports that President Cosgrave, of the Irish Free State, had been hissed by a small group of students during his visit to the university on Friday. Newspapermen who were with the Cosgrave party as it passed through the buildings reported the incident.

Dr. Butler made public a wireless message he had sent to President Cosgrave deploring the newspaper accounts. "Cannot understand origin of these baseless reports," the message said in part. "Your reception was hearty and affectionate by entire university."

EARL STRADBROKE BRITISH SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE

London, February 4.—(AP)—George E. J. M. Rous, earl of Stradbroke, today was appointed secretary of the ministry of agriculture succeeding Sir Charles Bathurst, Lord Bledisloe, who has resigned.

The earl of Stradbroke, governor of Victoria, Australia, has long been interested, not only in agriculture, but fisheries, and has been connected with a number of agricultural associations. He was colonel of field artillery in the world war. He owns estates amounting to 10,000 acres in Suffolk.

UNIV. EXECUTIVE TO BUILD MOTHER STATUE WITH PAY

Montclair, N. J., February 4.—(AP)—Burt Brown Barker of this city has gone to Eugene, Oregon, to assume the vice-presidency of the University of Oregon, leaving behind him the announcement that all of his salary would be devoted to the erection of a statue of his mother, "commemorating the courage and devotion of the pioneer women of Oregon."

Barker's family settled in Oregon in 1847 and he is a native of that state. He will have charge of business and financial matters of the university.

England Wars On 'Smugglers' Of Saxophones

London, February 4.—(AP)—England is making war on saxophones smuggled from America.

Two brothers, William and Geoffrey Gann, are held by the police without bail until Monday, charged with "knowingly harboring" four saxophones, contrary to the customs act. Another man, Charles Edwards was fined 48 pounds sterling ($240) for attempting to smuggle a saxophone from the steamer Aquitania, on which he is a musician.

William Gann is also a musician on the Aquitania, which arrived from New York Friday.

WELL-KNOWN FORSYTH CITIZEN ENDS LIFE

Forsyth, Ga., February 4.—Chas E. Tribble, 54, member of the undertaking firm of Chas. E. Tribble and Bro., ended his life at his home here today. Mr. Tribble had been ill for two or three days and was in bed when he fired the fatal shot. No one was in the room.

Besides his wife, he leaves five sons and two daughters, Wallace, Willie Mack and Walter Tribble and Miss Louise Tribble, Forsyth; J. C. Tribble, Macon; Cecil Tribble, Thomaston and Mrs. R. J. Adams, Juniper, Ga. Also several sisters and brothers, among the latter being Geo. W. Tribble, Forsyth, who was the other member of the firm. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church, with Rev. J. H. Barton officiating.

FORT VALLEY YOUTH LEADER IN STUDIES

BY GEORGE CLARK, JR.

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(Special.)—Professor Joe McClain, acting dean of the Mercer law school, announced today that J. Quintin Davidson, Fort Valley, of the second year law class, led the entire school for the past term.

Davidson's average was 89.

An Atlanta boy, Lewis H. Fowler, also of the second year class, was a close second, his average being 88.2.

Two other students made unusually high marks for the term—Charles M. Cork, Macon, with an average of 86.6, and W. E. Smith, Fitzgerald, with an average of 86.5.

Students who averaged high grades in the school were:

Seniors: H. S. Barnes, Franklin, 82.7; Dan S. Beland, Reynolds, [illegible]2; Carlton Mobley, Gray, 77.7.

Second year class: J. Quintin Davidson, Fort Valley, 89; Lewis H. Fowler, Atlanta, 88.2; Charles M. Cork, Macon, 86.6; W. E. Smith, Fitzgerald, 86.5; Ed L. Benton, Macon, 81.3; W. New, Oneida, Tenn., 81.2; G. S. Walton, Helena, 80.4; Harvey L. Jay, Fitzgerald, 80.1; Pollard Jent, Macon, 79.

First year class: R. F. Searboro Eastman, 83.8; S. C. Calloway, Ashburn, 81.3; R. R. Gunnels, Elberton, 77.6; T. R. Watkins, Lexington, 77; Paul R. Hampton, Bowling Green, Ky., 75.2.

ONE MAN KILLED WHEN FAST TRAIN PLOWS INTO TRUCK

Athens, Ga., February 4.—(United News.)—One man was killed and two injured today when Seaboard railway train No. 5, Washington to Birmingham, plowed into a truck at a grade crossing near Statham, Ga., 12 miles from here.

The engines and two forward cars of the fast train left the trucks.

C. B. Benton, of Athens, driver of the truck, was killed; his brother, G. B. Benton, and Engineer A. McCleskey injured.

No passengers were in the two forward cars of the train, according to railroad officials.

The two injured were expected to recover.

JONES SHIP BILL LINKED TO HOUSE TAX CUT MEASURE

Washington, February 4.—(United News.)—A move to link destinies of the Jones shipping bill and the tax reduction bill was made late today in the senate. Senator Jones, republican, Washington, introduced the shipping bill passed by the senate as an amendment to the tax reduction bill passed by the house.

The tax reduction bill is due to be reported by the senate finance committee March 15 and the house must act on the Jones bill before that time if the senate is to concur in the tax cut plan. Jones took this method of assuring action in the house on his bill for continued government operation of the merchant marine. It had been rumored that the house was planning to sidetrack the measure because of white house opposition.

For Economy's Sake!

82-84 Whitehall Street

W. T. GRANT CO.

25¢ 50¢ and $1.00 Department Stores

Known For Values!

Free Deliveries In Atlanta

A Few of the Many Values Offered for Monday

Springlike Pastel Shades

LINGERIE of New Rayon

Dainty, intimate garments, cut along the new lines, plain tailored styles, or more frilly lace trimmed models.

Chemises
Step Ins
Bloomers
Panties
Combinations

$1

New Spring Line Of

Women's PURSES

In genuine leather and Keratol. $1.00 Each

Latest Spring Styles In

Women's BELTS

10c and 25c

Big Assortment

A Day-In Day-Out Economy Item

Women's Rayon and Silk Hose

$1.00 Per Pair

Service weight with V-heel back—full assortment of colors. All first quality.

Men's Union Suits

Of 72x80 Count Nainsook

59c Each

Better workmanship, roomier sizes. Improved in many ways.

Special Lot

Children's Dresses 50c Each

Sizes 6-12. Made of fancy print materials. Nicely trimmed.

Women's Union Suits 50c Each

Made of soft combed yarn, knit in shell knee style.

Children's

Fancy rayon plaited. Turn-over top

HOSE

39c Pr.

Sizes 6 to 10.

Children's Nainsook Union Suits

35c Each

In waist or straight styles. Sizes 4-16.

School Children Need Vitamins

A child who is signally bright and efficient in class-room achievement, usually is well-nourished, heavier in weight, and has greater resistance to infection, than a child who is held back by vitamin-starvation or undernourishment.

Keep your boy or girl adequately vitamin-nourished at all times. Supplement the daily diet with easily assimilated emulsified cod-liver oil as in Scott's Emulsion—to assure an abundance of health-building vitamins.

To be at their best and have the ability to do their best, children should be kept well-nourished. Children relish and like

Scott's Emulsion

Full And Accurate Program Information

RADIO IN THE HOME

Conducted by Will Smith.

RADIO-ING The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH.

Articles in this column on chain broadcasting during the last week have brought from W. Van Nostrand, United States supervisor of radio, department of commerce, for this radio district, with headquarters in Atlanta, a letter in which Mr. Van Nostrand states he wishes "to suggest to you that this is a matter which should be treated most carefully; in fact, I believe that to treat this subject in the manner which you have in your column is very undesirable."

The Dial Twister is herewith printing in full Mr. Van Nostrand's letter. We believe it will be of vital interest in all radio listeners. Our beliefs in the matter are strongly entrenched. We have no intention of swerving from our course. We demand a clearing of the air to the end that the radio listener will have no interference from stations on the same wave channel and from stations too close together. We stand for immediate action by the federal radio commission, at their own pleasure or by the compulsion which the congress can and should demand and put into effect.

Mr. Van Nostrand's letter, written February 2, in full, follows:

"My attention has been drawn to a series of articles appearing in your column of The Constitution recently, wherein you have requested the listener-readers of your column to write you concerning matters of interference within the broadcast band, for reference to the federal radio commission through my office.

"Especially has my attention been drawn to your suggestion (and some of the replies received thereto from broadcast listeners) concerning the matter of placing the broadcasting stations which participate in the transmission of chain programs on the same frequency when they are broadcasting chain programs. I wish to suggest to you that this is a matter which should be treated most carefully; in fact, I believe that to treat this subject in the manner which you have in your column is very undesirable.

"The listening public will naturally concur in your suggestion that all chain stations should operate on the same frequency for, in their ignorance of the problems of radio transmission, they look upon this as a panacea for much of the interference which now exists in the broadcast band, whereas the plan to operate chain stations on the same frequency is impracticable from an engineering standpoint in the present stage of development of the radio art. I am certain that every reputable radio engineer in the United States, including all of those radio engineers who have no interest whatsoever in chain broadcasting, will concur with me in the opinion that such a plan, while possessing future possibilities, is not permissible at this time.

"If you care to have me do so, I will be pleased to prepare an article for publication in your column explaining, in language which can be readily understood by the readers of your column, the technical reasons why such a plan is not feasible at the present time."

* * *

Mr. Van Nostrand, may we make this reply in our column to your letter:

"The Dial Twister will be very glad to receive from you an article for use either in this column, or if too lengthy for that purpose, then on our radio page next Sunday, along the lines you set forth in your letter. The column and the radio page both are open to a discussion of this problem of interference.

"If, as you say, it is not feasible at this stage of radio development to place all chain stations transmitting the identical program on the same frequency, then how can the federal radio commission, the department of commerce and your office hope to give radio listeners, 20,000,000 and more strong, radio without interference when better than 650 broadcasting stations are now crowded into and operating on 89 wave channels? For one solid year, the federal radio commission has attempted to untie the Gordian knot. Conditions have not been bettered.

"Will not, Mr. Van Nostrand, a decrease in power for chain broadcasting stations, if all placed on the same frequency when transmitting chain programs, solve the interference, or at least better it? The Atlanta station then would come through in its territory without others interfering, would it not? Why should New York stations and the chain program advertiser want to reach Atlanta direct when the Atlanta station is broadcasting the identical program far better for local listeners than New York could possibly transmit it?

"What are your suggestions, Mr. Van Nostrand, for clearing up the interference problem?

"The Dial Twister appreciates your letter and wishes to thank you for it and a further expression of your views."

* * *

The Dial Twister, in our mail the last week, has had such favorable comment on the Stromberg-Carlson hour last Tuesday night that we quote the following:

John W. Milam, Atlanta: "The Stromberg-Carlson hour was splendid with no interference. We also had them from KDKA."

M. V. Olson, Atlanta: "Took your advice and tuned to KDKA tonight at 7 o'clock and the Stromberg-Carlson hour was all you said it would be and more. In fact, enjoyed it so much that we are writing them commenting on their program care of KDKA."

The Dial Twister is using a Stromberg-Carlson "Treasure Chest," A. C. operated, with a Stromberg-Carlson wall type loud speaker, and if we get over-enthusiastic we can only say it is because of the excellent reception we get and the wonderful tonal qualities of the speaker we are using. According to the above letters, however, we did not pass the boundaries of truth.

FEATURE PROGRAMS ON AIR SUNDAY

3:00—Cathedral Hour; semi-religious and classical music—WOR, WADC, WAIU, WKRC, WGHP, WQJ, KMOX, KOIL, WOWO, KMBC.

4:20—Acousticon Hour; Fiske O'Hara—WEAF, WGY, WEBH, WOC, WHO, WOW, WDAF, KVOO, WFAA, WHAS, WSB, WMC, WWJ, WRHM, WRC.

6:20—Capitol Theater Family; vocal and instrumental program—WEAF, WRC, WGY, WWJ, KSD, WHO, WOW, WHAS, WSM, WMC, WSB, KVOO, KFAA, KPRC.

7:00—Sunday Evening club—WMAQ.

8:15—Atwater Kent Hour; Jacques Thibaud—WEAF, WRC, WGY, WGR, WTAM, WWJ, WSAI, WGN, KSD, WCCO, WOC, WHO, WOW, WDAF, KVOO, WFAA, WSB, WMC, WSB.

9:00—Don Voorhees' band; semi-popular melodies — WOR, WADC, WAIU, WKRC, WGHP, WMAQ, KMOX, WOWO, KOIL, KMBC.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Programs in central standard time. All time is P. M. unless otherwise indicated. Wave lengths on left of call letters, kilocycles on right.

526—KYW, Chicago—570 — 2:00, concert; 4:30, National Religious services; 5:30, Cook Travelogue; 7:15, Collier hour; 8:17, Twenty Minutes' Good Reading; 8:37, Home Folks hour; 9:15, Don Amaizo.

365.6—WEBH-WJJD, Chicago—820—5:00, Twilight musicale; 6:00, organ recital; 6:30, dinner musicale; 7:30, studio program; 9:00, studio program.

416.4—WGN-WLIB, Chicago—720 3:30, Salernos; 4:00, sports review; 4:30, Arabian Nights; 6:00, Million Sing; Uncle Quinn; 6:30, Old-Fashioned Almanak; 7:30, Correll and Gosden; Auld Sandy; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Our Music Room; 10:10, Sam 'n' Henry; recital; 11:00, Mardi Gras.

344.6—WLS, Chicago—870—1:05, concert; 1:30, Cross Roads Sunday school; 6:00, Little Brown church.

447.5—WMAQ-WQJ, Chicago—670 —6:15, Stevens Symphony hour; 7:00, Sunday Evening club; 9:15, same as WOR; 10:00, DeLuxe Dreamers.

428.3—WLW, Cincinnati—700—12:00, Gold Strand Group; 6:15, church services; 7:15, Collier hour; 8:15, Band Box hour.

361.2—WSAI, Cincinnati—830—2:00, Cincinnati Art Center; 3:00, Men's Conference; 5:30, Stetson Parade; 6:30, Chime concert; 7:15, Congress String quartet; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

399.8—WTAM, Cleveland—750—5:00, concert orchestra; 5:30, Stetson Parade; 6:25, Willard Cavaliers; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, orchestra; 10:15, Fifty City Neapolitans; 11:00, dance music.

374.8—WOC, Davenport — 800—4:30, Acousticon hour; 6:00, Old Folks musicale; 7:00, church services; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

535.4—WHO, Des Moines—560—3:00, Men's Conference; 4:30, Acousticon hour; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 7:15, dinner program; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

440.9—WCX-WJR, Detroit—680—4:30, Twilight hour; 5:30, Cook's Tours; 6:00, dinner music; 6:30, Radio Vespers; 7:15, Collier hour; 8:15, Vibrant Melodies; vocal; 8:45, Utica Jubilee Singers; 9:00, Happy Half Hour.

352.7—WWJ, Detroit—850 — 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:00, piano recital; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

228.9—WOWO, Ft. Wayne—1310 —8:00, same as WOR.

422.3—WOS, Jefferson City—710—7:30, church services.

370.2—WDAF, Kansas City—810 —2:00, Young People's Conference; 4:30, Acousticon hour; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

293.9—WTMJ, Milwaukee—1020—6:00, orchestra; 7:00, Tune Tinkers; 8:15, quintet; 9:15, Don Amaizo; 9:45, Journal trio.

405.2—WCCO, Minneapolis-St. Paul —740—5:50, church services; 7:15, Collier hour; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Don Amaizo; 9:45, organ.

508.2—WOW, Omaha—590—3:00, Men's Conference; 4:30, Acousticon hour; 5:00, Sonata program; 5:30, Bible study hour; 6:30, Capitol theater; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

545.1—KSD, St. Louis—550—6:00, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

348.6—KVOO, Tulsa—860—4:30, Acousticon program; 5:00, violin and piano; 5:30, Old Fashioned Gospel; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent Hour; 9:15, Biblical 344.8—WCBD, Zion—870 — 8:00, mixed quartet; Hire trio.

EASTERN.

491.5—WEAF, New York—610—5:30, Stetson Parade; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

454.3—WJZ, New York—660—6:00, Sweet and Low; 6:30, vocal duets; string quartet; 7:15, Collier hour; 8:15, vocal; Vibrant Melodies; 8:45, Utica Jubilee Singers; 9:15, Don Amaizo.

422.3—WOR, Newark—710—3:00, Cathedral hour; 6:45, Sunday Evening musicale; 8:00, Effervescent hour; 8:30, American Singers; 9:00, Don Voorhees band.

272.6—WPG, Atlantic City—1100 —8:10, concert orchestra; 9:00, Sunday Evening musicale.

285.5—WBAL, Baltimore—1050—5:30, Cook Travelogue; 6:00, concert orchestra; 7:00, cantata.

302.8—WGR, Buffalo—990—5:30, Stetson Parade; 6:30, church services; 9:00, Tanke Time.

315.6—KDKA, Pittsburg—950—5:15, Little Symphony; 6:00, church services; 7:15, Collier Radio hour; 9:15, Don Amaizo.

379.5—WGY, Schenectady—790—5:30, Stetson Parade; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

468.5—WRC, Washington—640—6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

SOUTHERN.

296.9—WWNC, Asheville—1010—3:00, Sacred music; 6:30, church services.

243.8—WDOD, Chattanooga—1230 —5:00, Sacred program; 6:30, ensemble; 8:30, church services.

545.1—WFAA, Dallas—550—2:00, Young People's Conference; 3:00, Men's Conference; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour; 9:15, Biblical drama.

499.7—WBAP, Fort Worth—600—4:30, Virgil Whitworth; 5:00, sacred concert; 6:00, Vesper services; 9:15, Seven Aces (until 12.)

384.4—KTHS, Hot Springs—780—7:30, Crawford's orchestra; 8:00, organ; 9:00, Music Lovers' hour; 10:00, frolic.

293.9—KPRC, Houston—1020 — 6:20, NBC program; 8:00, church services.

340.7—WJAX, Jacksonville—850—5:30, dinner music; 7:00, church services; 9:00, organ recital.

322.4—WHAS, Louisville—930—4:30, Acousticon program; 5:00, Choral Evensong; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Bankers Bond orchestra.

516.9—WMC, Memphis—580 — 3:00, Men's Conference; 4:20, Acousticon hour; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

336.9—WSM, Nashville — 890 — 3:00, Men's Conference; 6:20, Capitol Theater Family; 8:15, Atwater Kent hour.

249.9—WCOA, Pensacola—1200 — 7:30, church services.

499.7—WOAI, San Antonio—600—7:30, church services.

WESTERN.

352.9—KOA, Denver—920— 6:30, organ recital; 7:30, dinner concert; 8:45, church services.

468.5—KFI, Los Angeles—640—8:30, Standard Symphony hour; 9:35, Sole Killers; 10:00, organ recital; 11:00, concert orchestra; 12:00, dance music.

336.9—KNX, Los Angeles—890—8:30, church services; 9:00, church services; 10:00, concert orchestra; 11:00, violin and piano.

384.4—KGO, Oakland—780—5:00, NBC program; 6:00, vesper service; 8:30, Standard Symphony hour; 9:35 church services.

491.5—KGW, Portland—610—8:30, Standard program; 9:30, two pianos; 10:00, concert; 11:30, Don Amaizo; 12:00, Little Symphony.

422.3—KPO, San Francisco—710—8:30, Standard Symphony hour; 9:30, organ recital; 10:00, NBC program; 10:30, concert orchestra (1 1-2 hours.)

348.6—KJR, Seattle—860—8:15, International Bible students; 9:15, organ recital; 9:30, church services; 11:00, trio.

370.2—KHQ, Spokane—810—8:30, Standard Symphony hour; 9:30, Don Amaizo; 11:30, International Bible students.

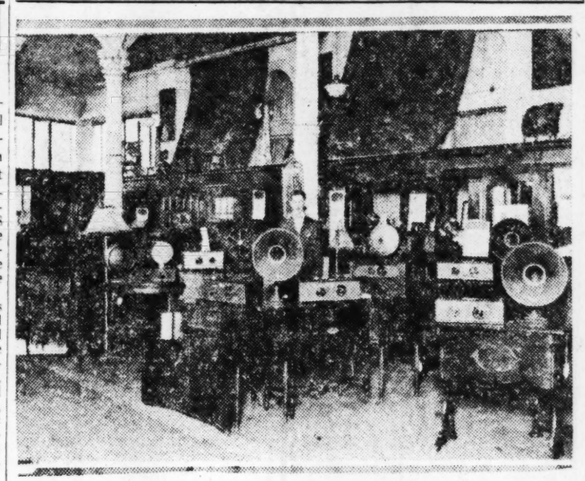

BROADWAY ACTS ON SEARS TONIGHT

Radio fans will have the opportunity of listening to a reproduction of all theatrical acts of Broadway, including an overture, blackface comedian act, ballet, prima donna, male quartet and clog dance during the Sears-Roebuck agricultural foundation broadcast Wednesday night between 7 and 8 o'clock. "The Radio Revue" will be preceded by 30 minutes of dinner concert music by Paul and John, "the two disciples of harmony," and the Sears-Roebuck instrumentalists.

Dinnerbell R. F. D. club programs will be broadcast by the agricultural foundation Monday, Wednesday and Friday noon. Paul and John and the Honolulu duo are scheduled for Monday noon, while Lawrence Smith, tenor the Long sisters, radio team, and Dwey Burnet, harmonica and banjo, will be heard Wednesday noon. Harry Pomar with his Sears-Roebuck players will share the hour Friday noon with Bruce Waggoner, singer and ukelele, and John Clotworthy, tenor.

During the week Mrs. Whelchel, home advisor, will discuss "A Culinary Dictionary for a Very Young Lady," "Commonplace Dishes in Company Dress," "Mary Alice Entertains the Sewing Club," "Flavors and Spices," "Menu Questions and Answers," and a playlet will be presented on Friday morning.

RadioAttractivelyDisplayed

The radio department at Haverty Furniture company, at Edgewood avenue and North Pryor street, is shown in the photograph above. The department, which is in charge of Ralph Conklin, who is shown in the picture, has been specializing in the merchandising of Atwater Kent radio receivers and accessories. Under the direction of Mr. Conklin an exceptionally attractive Atwater Kent window display has been shown during the past week. The new Atwater Kent model 37, in combination with the model H speaker, is featured in the window display.

Atlanta Radio Fan, Bound

VOICES OVER ETHER, GOOD PROGRAMS HIS RECREATION

To Room by Illness, Active

BY WILL SMITH.

There sits nightly in Atlanta at a six-tube radio set, exploring the ether from beyond the Rockies to the New England states and from the Canadian border to the Florida straits and the Texas panhandle, a radio fan who has proved himself a patient and appreciative listener.

Once a New Englander, now an Atlantan, this radio enthusiast has been confined to his room most of the time for seven years, what with trips to hospitals and sanitariums to break the monotony.

Of real interest to Atlanta's radio fans are his expressions on radio conditions. He feels, as does your Dial Twister, that chain broadcasting is not all it could be if listeners are to be satisfied with present-day transmitting and improvements. He is philosophical, however, and states he "supposes the stations would rather join the network and get pay for the use of their stations than pay out for their entertainment." Philosophical and tolerant, also.

"Your idea," he says in a letter to the Dial Twister, "to have all chain stations on one wave channel is the best I have heard and I heartily indorse it."

And another thing, he believes there are too many stations on the air. "If two-thirds of the stations now on the air were to divide their time, thus eliminating nearly one-half the wave lengths, it would help in many ways," he believes.

Of all the "Monday night adventurers" who have written to the Dial Twister this radio fan par excellence has to date covered the most territory and bagged the greatest number of "kills."

However, we are of the opinion that hospital and doctor bills are unpleasant to the most cheerful, and with the evidence of real radio interest shown by this great Atlanta fan, he has lived in this city for the last two years, we want to quote a line or two from his letter, at which we are hoping he will not take offense:

"A friend sent me a radio (Thompson neutrodyne 6-tube), have had a small set for five years. To cut down cost of opeation I have run my set for the past six months on five tubes. If one gets volume they must sacrifice some selectivity, and vice versa, I find. I will see if I can find another tube so I'll be hitting on all six and ready to start hunting at 6 p. m. and will enclose a record of my kill. (Here he is speaking of "adventurers' night" every Monday.) Some day if I get better, or rich, I want to get an AC eliminator and other proper equipment, also a drum or cone type speaker instead of a horn."

And these excerpts have been gleaned from his three pages of well written long hand, as they appeared. What do you think?

WSB PROGRAMS FOR SUNDAY

9:30 a. m., Agoga Sunday school lesson; 10:55 a. m., First Presbyterian church service; 3 p. m., Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, NBC feature over the national network; 4:30 p. m., Acousticon program, NBC feature over the national network; 5 p. m., vesper services from North Avenue Presbyterian church; 6:20 p. m., Capitol theater program, NBC feature over the national network; 8 p. m., David Lawrence, NBC feature over the national network; 8:15 p. m., Atwater Kent concert, NBC feature over the national network.

High School Credits For C.M.T.C. Attendance To Be Given in Georgia

Georgia educational officials indorse the granting of high school credits for youths attending the citizen's military training camps, according to an announcement made Saturday by the headquarters of the Fourth Corps area of the army.

E. A. Pound, state high school superintendent, is among the school officials of this state, North and South Carolina, who recognize the educational and physical development of the training camps, the announcement asserted, the leaders in other southeastern states are showing indications of doing likewise.

Usually one-fourth credit is authorized for each month of attendance and under the subject of physical training, it is added, and in some sections of the country colleges and universities are also beginning to give credit toward graduation from their courses to students who attend the annual training camp.

KOLSTER BRINGS OUT NEW SETS FOR AC POWER

Two additions to the line of Kolster radio sets are announced by Federal-Brandes, Inc. They are known as the 6M and the 6R.

The 6M is a six-tube electric set, using AC tubes, in a console cabinet, with a built-in power cone. The combination of an all-electric console set containing the latest type of power speaker, such as is used in the Columbia-Kolster electric phonograph, is going to be popular, judging from early orders. The 6R is a fully electric six-tube console with a built-in cone speaker. Both models are ready for immediate delivery.

FISHING PARTY LANDS DEVIL FISH AFTER HARD FIGHT

Key West, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—A 2,500-pound devil fish, subdued only after a five-hour fight in which 32 bullets from a rifle were fired into it, was towed into Key West harbor today by a Miami fishing party.

It fell victim to L. A. Short and J. M. Dykes, of Miami, who had chartered a boat for a week-end fishing cruise. The monster measured 17 feet across. It was harpooned seven miles off shore.

Lighters today were to take the devil fish from its moorings at a wharf to the Florida East Coast docks to be exhibited to tourists returning from Havana.

Gold Sent to Argentina.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Another shipment of $1,000,000 in gold to Argentina was made today, making a total of $2,000,000 including the shipment announced by the Seaboard National bank yesterday. The Chase National bank is understood to be the other shipper.

STROMBERG-CARLSON POWER BRINGS TONE

The advantages of power in a radio receiver are almost invariably linked up with the ability of such a receiver to reproduce distant programs. It has had its value expressed most often in terms of volume. However, there is another factor which makes power doubly desirable in the well designed receiver, and that is naturalness of reproduction. The two are very closely tie dtogether.

There are two days of looking at this question of power. Some engineers determined power by the gain obtained in each amplification stage. Others hinge it entirely upon sensitivity of the receiving circuit. Of course the model receiver possesses the utmost in sensitivity and also the utmost gain per amplification stage. It is the sensitivity of a receiving set which determines its ability to pick up extremely weak signals, but it is its ability to amplify through its different stages which produces volume on these extremely faint signals.

Naturalness of reproduction has a direct tie-up with volume, for it is common knowledge that too much volume destroys naturalness. The most that a receiver should be expected to do is to reproduce distant programs with volume and naturalness closely approximating the original. If greater volume than this is produced, naturalness is usually destroyed. At least it is not comfortable to listen to. But engineers of the Stromberg-Carlson company have designed their receivers to produce this great volume, not because of the expectation that all of it will be used, but so that the receiver may constantly operate below its capacity and thus produce a naturalness of reproduction that is impossible when a receiver is being operated at its fullest capacity. When, however, extremely faint distant signals are received this surplus of power makes it possible for them to be built up to the volume of the original, when this would be impossible with receivers not possessing this vast surplus of power.

1,000,000 Canadian Fans.

Licenses have been issued in 1927 by the radio branch, Canadian government department of marine, to over 200,000 radio users, but it is officially believed that the radio users and listeners in Canada total about 1,000,000.

R. C. A. Executive Promises Radio Television in Homes

Boston, February 4.—Radio is on the threshold of bringing television to the home, David Sarnoff, vice president and general manager of the Radio Corporation of America, declared in an address delivered before the University club here.

He was confient, he asserted, that public interest in sight transmission would be as great eventually as it now is in sound broadcasting.

"Within the last few weeks," he said, "we have seen radio television emerging from the laboratory and preparing to enter the home. The demonstration made recently at Schenectady, impressive as it was, showed an art that is yet in the "earphone" stage of development. Many technical, broadcasting and service hurdles must be leaped before the art will become firmly established in the home. Nevertheless, its direction is sure and its progress is inevitable. The mission of television is to bring to the home the panorama of life of the great world outside. To a large extent, radio already has brought the opera, the concert stage, the theater, to the fireside. Television will complete the picture by bringing to the home the visual spectacle made possible by the stagecraft of the opera and the theater; the stirring events of life that must be seen as well as heard in order to make their due impression. In the field of education, television will add the force of demonstration to the exposition made possible by the present-day status of broadcasting. Industry, it is not unlikely, will find in television as valuable a means of communication to the home as it has already discovered in the broadcasting of sound."

Some of the latest achievements of the electrical arts of sound reproduction, Mr. Sarnoff declared, hold out great possibilities for "the motion picture. "We have developed," he told his audience, "a complete system of synchronizing sound with motion pictures on the screen." In furtherance of plans for expansion in this field, we have secured a financial interest in the F. B. O. company, a leading and progressive institution in the motion picture industry. The development of what is popularly called the "talking-movie art" requires that the facilities of the electrical laboratory be closely combined with the technique of the motion picture studio.

"In the motion picture art," he said, "the recognition is not as yet general, as to what the advancing art of radio may accomplish in the field of combined sound and sight transmission. In some quarters there is still an inclination to measure the theaters which the industry is erecting progress of the art by the size of the and the magnitude of the productions which come out of the studios. Great the technique of motion picture phoprogress has been made, it is true, in tography; nevertheless, the motion picture art cannot rest upon its present laurels. Of the distinct lines of progress now open, mention might be made of the synchronization of sound and motion on the screen; authentic natural coloration, and dimensional or stereoscopic projection."

FROST IS ELECTED FEDERAL-BRANDES VICE PRESIDENT

At a meeting of the board of directors of Federal-Brandes, Inc., Herbert H. Frost was elected a vice president of the corporation, in charge of merchandising.

Mr. Frost has been one of the leaders in the radi industry since its inception. From 1921 to 1925 Mr. Frost was president of Herbert H. Frost, Inc., a large radio manufacturer in Chicago. He resigned that position in 1925 to become general sales manager of E. T. Cunningham, Inc., manufacturers of the nationally famous Cunningham radio tubes. He has just tendered his resignation to that company to accept his new appointment as vice president of Federal-Brandes, Inc.

Precaution.

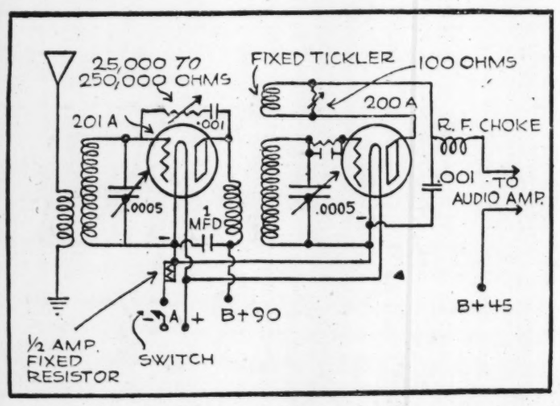

Foreman—"Pat, you had no right to touch that wire. Don't you know you might have been killed by the shock?"

Pat—"Sure, I felt it carefully before I took hold of it."

Most Sets Shielded.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Shielding has been universally adopted in the modern radio receiver in view of the necessity for selectivity and as an aid to oscillation control.

4 Tuber Aided by Regeneration

Regeneration aided by a step of tuned radio frequency gives a radio receiver of four tubes that will equal and sometimes surpass a larger set. The diagram shows the first half of the circuit, the audio section being of the conventional type.

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD,
Associated Press Radio Editor.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—A regenerative detector preceded by a step of tuned radio frequency amplification provides a radio receiver giving ideal results under almost any condition. Two steps of audio amplification will produce plenty of volume on four tubes.

Simple in construction, such a set can be put together in a few hours. The current drain is not heavy and may readily be supplied by batteries.

While storage battery tubes will give better service, 199s may be used. A suitable power tube should be placed in the last audio socket.

Any type of regeneration control is satisfactory, although a fixed tickler shunted by a variable resistance of 100 ohms or so will give smooth adjustment. A resistor of the carbon pile type is quiet in its operation.

Oscillation in the radio frequency stage is mastered by the use of a grid-plate resistor. This is connected in series with a blocking condenser of .001 capacity and hooked to the grid and plate connections of the socket. The resistor may be placed on the panel to provide a volume regulator.

Filament control of the first two tubes is obtained through a fixed resistor of a half ampere capacity. The audio tubes may be controlled in the same manner.

The two coils needed are wound to accommodate .0005 condensers. The secondaries contain 50 turns, with from six to ten turns on the primaries, depending upon the amount of selectivity desired. The tickler of 22 turns may be wound so that it is semi-adjustable. It is set in the best position when the receiver is placed in operation, regeneration afterward being controlled through the 100-ohm resistor.

The detector preferably should be of the 200A type, although a 201A will give satisfaction. A radio frequency choke coil of a size to cover the broadcast band is incorporated in the detector plate circuit to aid in keeping the RF current from the audio circuit.

If the audio amplifer contains good apparatus, lifelike tone quality will result. A 1 mfd. bypass condenser should be shunted across the B battery, with another of the same size incorporated in the radio frequency circuit.

$88

ATWATER KENT RADIO

All-Electric

The Greatest Value in Radio

On Easy Payments at

PHILLIPS & CREW PIANO CO.

181 PEACHTREE ST.

Opposite Macy's WAl. 8061

Complete Stocks of All Types

CUNNINGHAM TUBES

Bremer-Tully & Sparton Receivers

ALEXANDER-SEEWALD CO.

WHOLESALE RADIO

Atlanta and Jacksonville

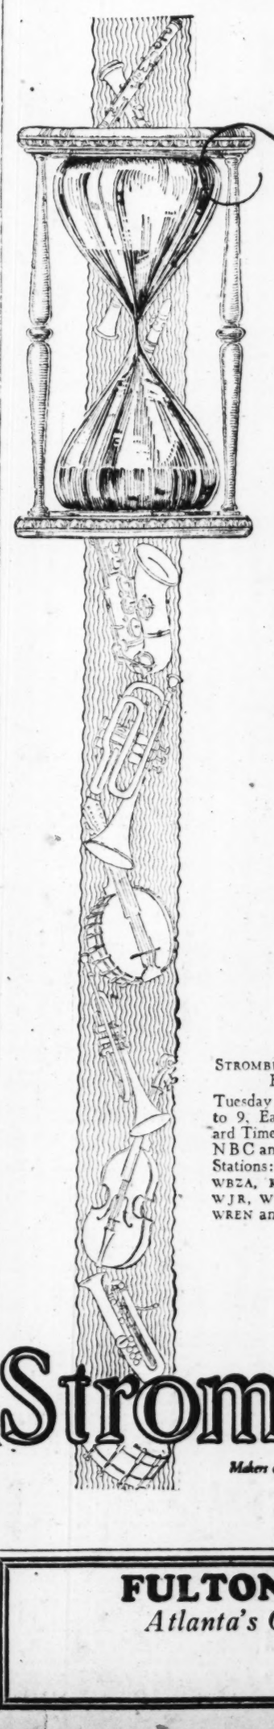

The Choice of Millions

Cunningham RADIO TUBES

Authorized Stromberg-Carlson Dealers

DUFFEE-FREEMAN

Broad at Hunter

The FATIGUE TEST for TONE

A person with astigmatism may be able to read a page of print and scarcely realize he has an eye defect—but after a while the eye is tired by the unnatural effort. One may hear a Receiver with tone that is not natural and scarcely realize that the tone is wrong—but after a time he becomes tired of listening.

Apply the fatigue test when you are buying a Receiver to make sure of the tone quality.

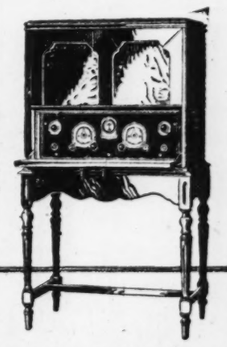

Listen steadily for two or three hours; the Receiver with inferior tone — tone that is not "right"—will fatigue you. Listen to a Stromberg-Carlson for the same length of time and you will find it does not tire you because the tone is natural.

Your nearest Stromberg-Carlson dealer's address may be learned from his advertisements in your newspapers or in your telephone directory.

STROMBERG-CARLSON TELEPHONE MFG. CO.
ROCHESTER, N. Y.

Southern Representative
Scoville Mercantile Company
609 Rhodes Bldg., Atlanta

THE STROMBERG-CARLSON HOUR
Tuesday Evenings, 8 to 9, Eastern Standard Time, through the NBC and Associated Stations: WJZ, WBZ-WBZA, KDKA, KYW, WJR, WBAL, KWK, WREN and WHAM.

No. 524 Stromberg-Carlson. Price, with Audio-Power Unit and 8 R. C. A. Tubes—but not Cone Speaker . . . $425.00

Every new Stromberg-Carlson has handy jack to facilitate playing phonograph records.

Stromberg-Carlson

Makers of voice transmission and voice reception apparatus for more than thirty years.

FULTON BROS. ELECTRIC CO.

Atlanta's Only Exclusive Stromberg-Carlson Radio Dealer

133-135 Peachtree Arcade

BOOK REVIEWS IN TABLOID

The following comment by a well-known critic and friend of Mrs. J. Bayard Schindel, of New York city, formerly Miss Isa Glenn, of Atlanta, will be of interest to her many friends and readers:

"If it had not been for her cousin, James MacNeill Whistler, Isa Glenn, famous southern novelist, might never have became a writer. Miss Glenn, while still in her very early teens, was sent by her father, John Thomas Glenn, at that time mayor of Atlanta, Ga., to Paris to study under the great American artist. She had shown more than the average child's interest in drawing, and Whistler was glad of the opportunity to 'start her right,' as he expressed it. At the end of a year, however, he told her, without mincing words, that she was no artist and she never would be one, and that she had better take to 'scribbling.' Fortunately for Isa Glenn, she took him literally and took to writing.

"The south has always been proud of the author of 'Heat' and 'Little Pitchers,' and now, with Miss Glenn's third book, 'Southern Charm,' it has special reason for pride. Miss Glenn, herself a southern aristocrat, has given us a picture of a southern woman with beauty and breeding and a thoroughbred in every way. The book, written from the point of view of Mrs. Habersham, has caused wide discussion in other sections of the country as well as in the south.

"Isa Glenn, who is related to the Cobbs, Garrards and Spencers of Georgia, the Catlemans of Kentucky and the Urquharts of New Orleans, was married to a West Pointer, the late Brig. Gen. Bayard Schindel, who was for many years stationed in the Philippines, the South Sea Islands and South America. Her travels in the Orient and remote corners of the world have given her a wealth of material to draw upon.

"Miss Glenn's two former novels, 'Heat' and 'Little Pitchers,' were laid in the Philippines and in South America, respectively. 'Southern Charm' is the first book in which she has drawn upon early childhood scenes of her native south for material. Miss Glenn was successful as a short story writer before she started to concentrate on novel writing, and was one year awarded the O. Henry prize for a short story.

NEW FICTION RECEIVED.

Eden for One. By John Gunther. Author of "The Red Pavilion." There is some imagination and yet not all imaginary—an adventure of one Peter Lancelot.

"Peter looked ahead to the low ripple of hills bounding the horizon. He had seen these hills all his life and he was very tired of them. While by night he did not see them but he knew they were there. Always.

"I wish I knew what lay beyond them," said Peter, who lived in the valley, and his best friend was a very old man, Mr. Dominey, whose past no one knew. While not a magician, he decided that Peter, who was a great dreamer, should have his wish and see what was beyond the hills.

The reader from this time on follows Peter out into the world of happiness and sorrow, of sunshine and shadow, adventure and romance, boyhood and manhood, until the end of his days in which he learns life and love. "It is not wholly whimsey, and not in the least a 'significant, realistic novel,' but it is blending of the real and unreal"—and will interest. (Harper and Brothers. New York.)

Lois. By Laurence W. Mynell, author of "Mockbeggar," whose prophetic novel of the social and political future of England which has become such a matter of uncertain speculation that Mr. Mynell's prophecy of strange things to happen in the future in this unsettled country will be of exceeding interest.

The strange title is perhaps given for the reason that "Lois," a young woman of so much beauty and talent naturally is ambitious to be at the head of everything political, social, or otherwise, that will place the reins of power into her hands and therefore she brings danger to everyone with whom she comes in contact.

The author created a power character in Lois, but another appears upon the scene in the person of Anthony Stuart-Cranberry, a young Englishman of the most appealing type, who Lois selects to be a political leader under her direction. She elects him to parliament solely for the purpose that she may through him have the power to sway all political events. A time comes when a revolutionary faction begins to grow stronger until it becomes a menace.

The story of love, hate, romance, ambition, power, from this time on becomes tense and the finale is one in which all the above are brought together and the climax brings the realization that life holds something more lasting than worldly power for its creatures. (D. Appleton & Co. New York.)

The Entertainment and Other Stories. By E. M. Delafield, author of "Jill." This is the day of the short story, and "everybody knows" that the author's short stories possess the same charm which marks her novels. A critic in writing of these stories says:

"They are different, arrestingly different. Sophisticated, provocative, illuminating the unexplored corners of human life and conduct—they are stories which do not depend upon plot alone for an extraordinary keen interest."

They are different from the usual short story whose first page tells the reader what to expect, even to the last page. There are sixteen stories in this collection and while "they are English in their setting they are universal in their appeal." (Harper & Brothers. New York.)

The Lookout Girl. By Alice Ross Colver. This is another story which has a plot that will appeal to the reader as well as will the unusual heroine around whom the story is so interestingly told.

The state of Florida for the past few years has been the mecca for the old and the young, for the rich and the poor, for the healthy and the sick, so it was not at all a surprise when a man doomed to die within a year should meet a girl who was so desperate that she wanted to die at once.

Dr. Richardson, a young physician, landed in a certain city in Florida with nothing to do but to watch the days go by. He finally offers to not only cure the unhappy girl, but offered to marry her. It proved in time to be a happy love affair with the return of health to both, but the girl's happiness was brief for the shadows began to hover over her path and from this time on the reader will find special interest in a mystery story in which a well-known detective played an important part. The jacket is by R. Pallen Coleman. (Penn Publishing Company. Philadelphia.)

Cursed Be the Treasure. By H. B. Drake, whose story writers—both English an American—say is the best of its kind since Conrad's "Rescue." It would not be doing the author justice to say that it is a mystery story or a ghost story, but the reader simply drifts into an atmosphere so heavy with mystery and so ghostly in its presentation as to make it uncanny—an atmosphere it holds to the end of the last chapter. It is a story so completely interwoven with ghosts and fear that the reader allows his imagination to have full sway as he meets spooks at every cross-roads and hears them in the soughing of the wind. It will hold the reader's attention to the very end and even afterwards it is not forgotten.

The story is divided into three parts —My Father, Captain Field, and the Dirk Stowaway. The first chapter, "The Tapping at the Window;" the last chapter, "Into the Morning." (Macy-Masius, publishers, New York.)

The Joy Girl. No, this story is not by Temple Bailey, author of "Glory of Youth," so the reader will have to guess again. The world is really full of joy girls and when May Edginton decided to write a story that everybody would read she could find no title that seemed so appropriate for her young heroine as to make her the real Joy Girl of this century.

Masquerading as the daughter of wealthy parents the Joy Girl, young and attractive, through the training of a superficial mother, does not possess the qualities of the real girl, her foolish mother having taught her that it is only through a wealthy marriage that she can obtain real happiness, lasting happiness.

With this lesson so well instilled into her shallow brain she starts her career of smoking, drinking, visiting cabarets, pretending to be the daughter of wealth, waiting, watching and hoping to meet some eligible young man who will become attracted by her youth and beauty and offer her a bridal trip to Europe.

With this lesson so well learned she meets a man who evidently had learned the same lesson, for he, too, was out for a wealthy marriage. The story of the young heroine whose nature was so shallow that she failed to recognize the gift of love when opportunity tried to be her friend portrays the lesson which so many girls are taught in the home. It was only through this sad experience that she learned the true lesson of life and became a woman of courage, of sincerity and one worthy of the love that finally crosses her path again and makes her indeed the real Joy Girl. (Th Penn Publishing Co., Philadelphia.)

They Call It Love. By Louis Joseph Vance, author of "The Lone Wolf," and also author of many stories of various kinds and classes. There is but little doubt that Mr. Vance knows his ground in his new story, as well as his characters, whom he calls Lona, Fay, Don, Jerry, etc.

The author locates his story in the southland and his heroine is a young girl who had gone to New York for a career and for the first time had attended a "studio" party. Not being accustomed to this style of entertainment she found little to interest her until a young man, dressed as a chauffeur with a gardenia in his buttonhole, rescues her from the mad throng. It was here, though, that she met Lona and Lona loved her; but who was Lona? And who was Jerry and who was Don?

It is a story of the modern girl's loves and friendships in a big city—"the story of a girl torn between a memory and life as it seemed to be"—and a story of romance and love as it should be. (Lippincott Co., Philadelphia.)

Alma. By Margaret Fuller. While this is her first novel in five years she is not unknown to literary and fiction readers. A veteran publisher in writing about this story says: "I want to congratulate ou on Margaret Fuller's new book. She is a real genius and I believe the world will wake up to it some day."

The author has spent most of her life in Norwichtown, Connecticut, a community which is full of literary associations. She has woven her story around a woman with child-like confidence. The story is full of human interest appeal and will hold the reader's attention to the last page. (William Morrow & Co., New York.)

EARLY AMERICAN GLASS.

Early American Glass. By Rhea Mansfield Knittle, and which belongs to the Century library of antiques, is one of the most attractive books of the season of 1927. The book is not only a valuable contribution to the reader but to every dealer and collector. The cover is of two shades of blue with the title of the book and the author's name in gold, making it most attractive.

The interest in American glassware continues to increase—this is very noticeable in the glass and china shops and in the questions asked about it. The author is well known for her research work, the result of which can only be really known except through her work as presented in this handsome volume.

It is a real story which begins with the erection of the first glass furnace at Jamestown, Va., which continued through a period of 256 years to 1864, when the Leighton process was introduced. Mrs. Knittle not only tells the story of the beginning but tells the location of the different glass furnaces in America, their style and sizes. She most interestingly describes our early glassware, the different patterns and the popularity of the different designs.

There are 496 pages with many attractive illustrations of different ages, all of which will be of value not only to the connoisseurs but to the students of American history, industries, etc., for in this volume it is the American glass that is being written about and presented as the central figure of a most attractive American story. (The Century company, New York.)

THE GREAT AMERICAN BAND WAGON.

The Literary guild announces that the choice for its February book is "The Great American Band Wagon," by Charles Merz. The John Day company will publish the book.

"The Great American Band Wagon" is a study of the American scene and is unique in that the author likes his country. Mr. Merz has watched the American spectacle with the raking eye of a reporter and has written his story in a spirit which is chiefly gusto and rarely malice. He has produced a mirror of America which is as true as it is amusing. Philosophers who like to argue that American civilization is reaching perfection and those who argue that it is sliding down to destruction may both with perfect safety read this book.

CURRENT MAGAZINES RECEIVED.

The Red Book for this month—February—is unusually interesting in that it continues to make a feature of presenting on the front cover the picture of an attractive young woman in colors, and the names of some of the leading writers. For instance, Margaret Culkin Banning has a new serial, "Money of Her Own," the title being followed by the lines, "Men and women, you'll welcome to your friendship people this story of young love and an old bank account." Another serial is "The Wolf Woman," by Arthur Stringer—"Daughter of the North Blazes a Strange Trail to New York." The illustrations are by James Montgomery Flagg: "Hot Toddy"—that's what this girl's friends called her, the story shows why. Illustrations by John La Gatta.

This is only three selections mentioned in this beautiful Red Book, which is running over with the contributions of popular writers.

The Century Magazine always carries on its front cover quite an interesting selection of live articles by up-to-date writers—"The New Idol of the Market Place—Getting and Spending. We Lay Our Powers," by Joseph Jastrow; "Outlawing War," by Lord Thomson; "Nicaragua," by Moorfield Storey; "Youth and the Old World," by James Waterman Wise, and a story of much interest is by Morris Fishbein—"Twenty-five Years of Medical Progress."

Harper's for February, carries a story by James Truslow Adams, that should be widely read. It is entitled "Is Science a Blind Alley?" An attractive frontispiece is "Spanish Good Friday, Ronda," by Muirhead Bone. Among other contributions are the following: "The Lawn Tennis Industry; Are Women a Success in Business? Blue Laws for School Teachers; The Riviera: In and Out of Season; Heart or Intellect, and others, all by well known writers.

LITERARY DRIFTWOOD.

Writes Book in Head First.

It was at a literary party that Isa Glenn was asked how long it had taken her to write her new novel, "Southern Charm."

"Six months in my head, two months on the typewriter," replied Miss Glenn promptly. Her listeners were somewhat mystified, and Miss Glenn continued:

"I always have to write a book in my head before I write it on the typewriter. I have to know everything about my characters; down to the last detail, and I find that the longer I carry a book in my head, the greater the ease with which I set it down. In the case of 'Southern Charm,' I got to know the 'old lady' intimately before I wrote down a word. When I came to the actual writing, it was almost like copying, for the book had already been written in my head."

Poem Wins Two Awards.

The 1927 George Sterling memorial prize, awarded by the Order of Bookfellows for the best poem appearing during the year in its monthly journal, The Step-Ladder, has been awarded to Daniel Henderson for his poem, "Nantucket Whalers."

The same poem won the first award of the Poetry Society of America for the best poem read before that association during the past season.

"Nantucket Whalers" is one of a series of ballads which Mr. Henderson is writing on American historical subjects. His novel of Betsy Patterson and the Bonapartes, "The Golden Bees," with a background of old Maryland and Napoleonic France, will be brought out in March by Frederick A. Stokes company.

Bromfield Wins O. Henry Special Award.

Louis Bromfield, far from resting on his laurels after the Pulitzer prize, the success of his best selling, "A Good Woman" (Stokes), a lecture tour, broadcasting, etc., has just won the O. Henry special prize of $100 for the best short story of 1927. His story, "The Scarlet Woman," which appeared in McClure's, is the prize winner—selected by the Society of Arts and Sciences.

On January 19 the O. Henry memorial annual prize story dinner was held at the Hotel Astor, New York, when the award was presented. Mr. Bromfield was one of the speakers of the evening.

For the last few years this cosmopolitan author has been dividing his time between this country and France. In his Paris apartment, he says, he can write of America while viewing it is perspective, and also find a more peaceful atmosphere for work.

Genealogy: If interested in your family history, our priced Catalogue listing 5,033 genealogical books for sale by us will be mailed to you for 10c in stamps.

GOODSPEED'S BOOK SHOP
9A Ashburton Place, Boston, Mass.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the six months ending December 31, 1927, of the condition of the Union Central Life Insurance Co.

OF CINCINNATI.

Organized under the laws of the State of Ohio, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.
Principal Office—No. 1-7 West Fourth Street.

I. CAPITAL STOCK.
1. Amount of Capital Stock	$ 2,500,000.00
2. Amount of Capital Stock paid up in cash	2,500,000.00—	2,500,000.00
II. ASSETS.
1. Market Value of Real Estate owned	$ 15,822,582.48
If encumbered, to what amount	960,417.00—	$ 14,862,165.48
2. Mortgage loans, first liens	178,581,571.07—	178,581,571.67
4. Stocks and bonds owned absolutely:
Par value	3,957,000.00
Market value (carried out)	3,962,336.60—	3,962,336.60
5. Cash in company's principal office	10,303.50
6. Cash deposited by company in bank	2,099,236.37
7. Cash in hands of agents and in transmission	173,842.81
Total Cash Items (carried out)		2,283,382.68
8. Premium notes on issued policies		5,618,790.14
10. Interest due and unpaid		9,407,561.32
11. All other assets, real and personal, not included in above		3,995,210.43
Loans on company's policies		45,745,380.26
Total assets of Company (actual cash market value)		$264,456,398.58
III. LIABILITIES.
1. Policy claims due and unpaid	$ 40,390.60
2. Claims in process of adjustment, or adjusted and not due, including reported or supposed claims	981,401.39
3. Claims resisted, including interest, expenses, etc.	332,384.03
Total policy claims	$ 1,354,176.02
Difference	$ 1,354,176.02
4. Policy dividends declared and not due	9,387,057.35
7. Taxes accrued and unpaid	1,345,628.73
	17,693,528.57
Installments and proceeds of policies at interest	8,352,595.57
Present value of disability claims	977,373.00
Surrender values payable on demand	250.91
Dividends left at interest and accrued interest on same	1,948,186.94
Installments due and unpaid	443.35
Premiums paid in advance	482,365.52
Unearned interest and rents paid in advance	321,286.27
Commissions due agents on notes when paid	878,587.31
Commissions to agents due or accrued	2,056.20
Cost of collection over loading	0.00
Salary, rents and unpaid bills	28,311.22
Medical fees unpaid	19,468.00
Dividends or other profits due policyholders	920,709.96
Life rate endowment accumulations	396,867.00
Contingent reserve	2,500,295.27
Accrued interest on unpaid policy claims	16,919.75
Surplus interest on dividends at interest, installment premiums paid in advance and policy deposits	71,649.18
Warrants issued to policyholders and others and not presented for payment	369,999.33
Due upon individual accounts	84,042.03
Salary left by employees at interest	138,478.55
Due reinsuring companies	183,643.21
	$ 17,693,528.57
Life Companies will insert: Net present value of outstanding policies	$227,595,272.00
Deduct net value of company's risk reinsured in other solvent companies	8,265,508.00
Net premium reserve		219,329,764.00
9. Cash capital paid-up		2,500,000.00
10. Surplus over all liabilities		12,846,243.91
11. Total liabilities		$264,456,398.58
IV. INCOME DURING THE LAST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1927.
1. Amount of cash premiums received		$ 15,675,586.19
2. Amount of notes received for premiums		5,618,790.14
3. Interest received		5,887,368.34
4. Amount of income from all other sources		5,874,994.99
Total income		$ 33,056,739.66
V. DISBURSEMENTS DURING THE LAST SIX MONTHS OF THE YEAR 1927.
1. Claims paid	$5,537,860.01
2. Matured endowments paid	1,445,014.95
Total	$6,982,874.96
3. Deduct amount received from other companies for losses or claims of policies of this company re-insured	705,000.00
Total amount actually paid for losses and matured endowments		$ 6,277,874.96
4. Annuitants		36,652.45
5. Surrendered policies		3,114,318.42
6. Policy dividends paid to policyholders or others		4,336,267.76
7. Stock dividends paid		75,000.00
8. Expenses paid, including commissions to agents and officers' salaries		4,874,468.64
9. Taxes paid		542,378.15
10. All other payments and expenditures		1,489,461.09
Total disbursements		$ 20,746,421.47
Greatest amount insured in any one risk	$ 100,000.00
Total amount of insurance outstanding	1,428,513,291.00

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF GEORGIA—COUNTY OF FULTON.

Personally appeared before the undersigned Thos. H. Daniel, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is the General Agent of the Union Central Life Insurance Co., and that the foregoing statement is correct and true. THOS. H. DANIEL.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 3rd day of February, 1928.
(Seal) CHAS. B. POWERS, JR.
Notary Public.

Thomas H. Daniel, General Agent —Associates—

B. L. Daniel	J. V. Boehm
D. W. Reynolds	J. C. McKinnon
W. L. Meador	A. Clarke
N. F. Wolfe	R. W. Hansard
J. B. Wolfe	B. T. Wilkinson
M. Gershon	W. S. Hale
J. S. Gershon	H. F. Mewborn
W. H. Smith	W. Burckel

409-416 Fourth National Bank Building

ECZEMA

No matter how bad your case or what you've tried for ECZEMA or similar SKIN TROUBLES, we urge you to try DERMA-TOX entirely at our risk. This new Guaranteed home treatment stops itching right away, actually kills the germ and permanently heals. Thousands say it is different and AMAZING RESULTS are being reported in some of the most stubborn cases. It is quick, sure and pleasant. Easy to use anywhere, anytime. No greasy salves or ointments. Write FREE today for FREE BOOK, "The Story of Derma-Tox" with convincing proof and our MONEY-BACK OFFER. No cost or obligation.
Derma-Tox Laboratories, 413 Holland Bldg., Springfield, Mo.

WINNER OF THE NOBEL PRIZE FOR 1927

GRAZIA DELEDDA, Italian novelist, is the second woman in twenty-five years to win the coveted honor of the Nobel award for literature. Her best work, now given this international recognition, has not been widely known outside of continental circles. It is represented in American translation by The Mother (La Madre), a dramatic story of life in a Sardinian village.

Blue Ribbon Malt Extract Demand Reported Booming

Due to tremendous development in demand in this section of the country for Blue Ribbon Malt Extract, nationally known product manufactured by the Premier Malt Product company, of Peoria, Ill., extensive changes and improvements in the southeastern distribution organization have been effected and a great advertising and selling campaign will be launched immediately.

This announcement was made Saturday by H. S Entwisle, widely known here for his connection with the distribution of Blue Ribbon Malt Extract, who will be at the head of the enlarged southeastern distribution force as district manager.

George M. Cox, of Georgia, Inc., the company which handled Blue Ribbon Malt Extract in the southeastern zone for two years, has been superceded by the Premier Malt Sales company, the new and larger concern which has taken over this work under direction of Mr. Entwisle. The Premier Malt Sales company will be located at 298 Marietta street, N. W., the same location, and will be factory branch distributor for Blue Ribbon Malt Extract. Business will be transacted in the same manner, but on a much larger scale, Mr. Entwisle says. The territory of the Premier Malt Sales company will be Georgia, North and South Carolina and eastern Tennessee.

Big Business Growth.

"Our business," Mr. Entwisle stated Saturday, "has experienced great and steady growth since our location in Atlanta as the pioneer malt extract distributor of this section. Our January business of 1928 was greater than the best month in 1927, during which year we show a 300 per cent increase over 1926.

"Such vast increases in demand necessitated a corresponding enlargement in distribution facilities, and this resulted in the organization of the Premier Malt Sales company for handling Blue Ribbon Malt Extract in this territory. As proof of the fact that our business all over the country has increased in proportion to our southeastern zone volume, the Premier Malt Products company will launch immediately a nation-wide campaign of advertising which is destined to still further enhance the demand for Blue Ribbon Malt Extract."

Features of Campaign.

Mr. Entwisle said that the campaign will run in newspapers from coast to coast and will be featured by big display advertisements, a great number of which will be full-page size. The purity, food value and general excellence of Blue Ribbon Malt Extract will be emphasized, he said, and arrangements are complete for meeting the increased demand slated to be created by the publicity campaign.

George M. (Big George) Cox, president of George M. Cox, Inc., and the man who is given credit for putting Blue Ribbon Malt Extract so prominently on the map in this section, will expand his interests in this product under the new distribution arrangement. He will be supervisor of the southern district's distribution, states under his direction being Georgia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Florida, Alabama and Mississippi.

Mr. Cox is well-known in Atlanta through his vistis to the city and through his unique campaign of advertising here. Mr. Entwisle, who moved here two years ago with his family from Richmond, also has a wide circle of friends in the city.

H. S. ENTWISLE.

COMMITS SUICIDE BEFORE HIS BRIDE OF SEVEN DAYS

Houston, Tex., February 4.—(AP)—W. F. Chamberlain, 25, unwrapped a package and produced a pistol in the presence of his bride of a week.

"If you didn't love me, I'd shoot myself," he said, pressing the weapon to his head. Before she had time to reply the pistol was discharged. Mrs. Chamberlain, 22, has laid aside her wedding clothes for mourning.

'NUDE DANCE' BAN ASKED IN VIENNA

Vienna, February 4.—(AP)—Prohibition of the nude dances of Josephine Baker, American negro dancer from Paris, was asked by a deputation of the nationalist party who called today on Chancellor Seipel and Minister of the Interior Hartleb. Almost simultaneously there was a parliamentary interpellation on the subject.

Although her prospective appearance is a month away the deputation said the party is receiving thousands of letters daily protesting against "brazen faced heathen dances and scenes" which, if permitted, are likely to provoke riots. The chancellor promised to take the matter under consideration.

Dancer Under Police Guard.

When the negro girl dancer, who has captivated Paris, arrived in Vienna a few days ago she had to be taken to her hotel under police guard to protect her from students protesting against the appearance on the Vienna stage of any negro artist.

Last Saturday students threw chemical bombs containing sneezing powder into an audience witnessing the jazz opera, "Johnnie," in which a negro boasts that all white women capitulate to him. On this occasion twelve students were arrested.

STRANGERS, BEWARE!

Don't Buy City Hall From Well-Dressed "Slickers."

"Hello, stranger! Welcome to our fair city. Want to buy a nice city hall? We'll make the price worth your while. Or perhaps you might be interested in one of our 14-karat gold bricks?"

Chief of Police James L. Beavers warns gullible visitors to Atlanta from listening to the above sales talk, coming from "city slickers."

The city hall is for sale, but not by any smooth-tongued "grafters" with an envious eye on the stranger's pocketbook, Chief Beavers explained. The sale of the city hall, or rather, its lease, is being conducted by a committee of city council, and if you are a stranger in Atlanta and a well-dressed man with the gift of gab makes you an offer of the city hall for "what have you," make sure that your pocketbook is free from danger before you talk with him.

Here's Speedy Relief for Tender, Aching, Swollen Feet

Jacobs' Pharmacy Says Emerald Oil Must Give Complete Satisfaction or Money Cheerfully Refunded.

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness, and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Your feet may be so swollen and inflamed that you think you can't go another step. Your shoes may feel as if they are cutting right into the flesh. You feel sick all over with the pain and torture—You'd give anything to get relief wouldn't you? Then try this:

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in fifteen minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the swelling reduces.

And as for Soft Corns and Callouses a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off.

No matter how discouraged you have been with powders, footbaths or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics so marvelous that thousands of bottles are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins.

Jacobs' Pharmacy and every good druggist guarantees Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.—(adv.)

ANNOUNCEMENT!

COCHRAN FURNITURE CO. ANNOUNCES THE

FORMAL OPENING

OF ITS BEAUTIFUL NEW STORE AT 145-147 WHITEHALL ST.

Starting 9 A. M. MONDAY

At last—after weeks of remodeling, the new store is ready, with large beautiful new stock of Furniture for every room in the home—bought specially for the grand opening and

Our Great Annual FEBRUARY SALE!

Which Starts Tomorrow!

For the benefit of those unable to attend our Formal Opening during the daylight hours we have arranged to remain open Monday only until 9 p. m. Special attractions for both day and night visitors to our opening. Don't fail to see our window displays and plan to be here tomorrow!

FREE Souvenirs
For everybody — men, women and children. Everybody cordialy invited to attend, see a modern furniture stock and enjoy yourself.

We save you money
Cochran FURNITURE CO.
TWO STORES
79 ALABAMA ST., S. W. ATLANTA, GA.
114-116 N. MAIN ST. COLLEGE PARK, GA.

February Values
and assortments will be greatest in the history of this store! Save now! Our usual easy ferms on any purchase.

Wanted! 25,000 Sufferers from DEAFNESS

Head Noises from Ear Tubal Catarrh—or Nasal Catarrh Only

Startling Free Offer!

This announcement is being published in order to secure the names of 25,000 people who are suffering from catarrhal deafness, dullness of hearing, head noises or ordinary nasal catarrh. To everyone so afflicted, a wonderful trial treatment, originated by Dr. W. O. Coffee, for many years a nationally known specialist, will be sent to try without obligation or expense.

Dr. Coffee, himself, suffered for many years from ear tubal catarrh, deafness and head noises. He tried many different treatments which failed to give permanent relief. Then he began experimenting on himself and finally developed a method which completely healed his ear tubal catarrh, restored his hearing and stopped the distressing head noises.

You can test this remarkable treatment, originated by the doctor and since then used with such astounding success by thousands of people afflicted with these troubles. Coupon brings free trial without the slightest cost. Mail it today. You incur no obligation whatever.

W. O. COFFEE, M. D.
Originator of This Home Treatment

Don't Neglect These Troubles!

Deafness, Ear Tubal Catarrh, Head Noises, and Nasal Catarrh generally grow worse when neglected. Authorities claim that ninety per cent of all deafness is primarily caused by catarrh of the head and air passages. Others state that nasal catarrh often causes indigestion, rheumatism, catarrh of the stomach, and many other diseased conditions. If you suffer from dullness of hearing or nasal catarrh, do not neglect this condition.

There are thousands, who are now practically stone deaf, whose hearing could no doubt have been saved had the right measures been taken in time. Dr. Coffee restored hearing in hundreds of cases, where the patients were so deaf they could hear nothing. Of course, those were cases which, in spite of their severity, fortunately had not advanced to the stage that the actual tissues or nerves had become affected. Just remember this—you can prove the value of this treatment entirely without risk or expense. It will come to you absolutely free. Just fill out and mail the coupon.

FREE

25,000 Trial Treatments Given This Month

Naturally, the doctor was proud of the results reported by so many thousands of sufferers who have used his simple home treatment. It is because of this success that these 25,000 demonstration treatments are being prepared and sent absolutely free to all who answer this offer within the next 30 days. This liberal plan should convince you that Dr. Coffee's Original Home Treatment will give you relief from catarrhal deafness, dullness of hearing, head noises and also nasal catarrh. The results are quick and convincing. You feel the difference the first day. Try it. This treatment costs you nothing whatever. Simply send coupon or write and say you are suffering from deafness or head noises or catarrh. You will receive a free treatment which Dr. Coffee always claimed was the best treatment he ever found in his 45 years' practice as a specialist. Every sufferer should take advantage of this offer. The demonstration treatment is FREE.

Hundreds Praise this Original Method

Deaf Since Childhood; Her Hearing Greatly Benefited This Way

Mona McBride

Here is a recent picture of Mrs. Mona McBride, an Illinois woman whose remarkable case and glowing testimonial letter show what this treatment can accomplish. From childhood, Mrs. McBride's hearing was affected, the result of serious illness. Her story is the most convincing proof of the merits of Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment. Mrs. McBride says, "This is to certify that since having scarlet fever when a little girl, I have been hard of hearing, and for the past four or five years I have been almost entirely deaf. A few months ago my left ear began to discharge. I found it to be abscessed and discharging a foul fluid. Nothing seemed to stop it and finally I tried Dr. Coffee's Treatment. To my surprise and delight the hearing in the ear which was partially deaf for nearly 20 years has returned and the abscess has healed. Now I can hear a conversation six feet away. I didn't believe it possible and I certainly advise anyone suffering with deafness to try this treatment. I obtained relief in a short time."

An Octogenarian's Praise

At eighty years of age, D. B. Simmons, of Maine, ascribed partial deafness with which he was afflicted to his advanced years. Developing severe head noises, however, he determined to seek relief from the Dr. Coffee Treatment, the success of which he had heard in similar cases to his own. "I am glad to be able to tell you," he writes, "that after using your treatment as prescribed, the head noises left me entirely and I am rid of the deafness besides. Can hear well again."

Greatly Benefited at 86

"I had suffered with nasal catarrh for seven or eight years; I had terrible head noises, my hearing was bad. It was necessary for people to talk loud, otherwise I could not hear them. I used Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment for four months, and it restored my hearing to such an extent that I can now take part in an ordinary conversation. The head noises are a thing of the past. I am 86 years old."

J. C. Patterson, Indiana.

Head Noises Disappear

With Mrs. Reed Page, of N. Y., Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment quickly relieved a serious and rapidly developing case of deafness and head noises. From normal hearing, in scarcely four years, Mrs. Page became quite deaf. People had to shout close to her ears for her to understand them. Now she writes, "I am happy to tell you how good I feel and how much improved I am. Can hear everything, and the head noises are gone entirely."

After 10 Years' Suffering

"My hearing is now even better than when I was a boy," writes Peter Storm of Iowa. Gradually but surely growing deaf over a period of nearly ten years, Mr. Storm became afflicted with severe head noises which alarmed him greatly. Much to his amazement and when he had practically given up hope of regaining his hearing, Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment relieved him within two months.

Relieved After 48 Years

"I had been gradually growing deaf for 48 years. I had not been able to hear over a telephone for 17 years. Naturally I was discouraged for I had tried everything and found no relief. Dr. Coffee's treatment restored my hearing so I could hear over a telephone in either ear, quite plainly. I no longer suffer with intense headnoises."

Mrs. M. Sherier, Missouri.

Restored Hearing in Month

George Bishop, a native of Saskatchewan, tells how he suffered for 12 years and spent hundreds of dollars seeking relief to no avail. Read what he says of Dr. Coffee's Home Treatment—how his hearing has improved and the head noises disappeared as a result of this simple method: "My hearing grew so bad that people had to shout into my ear for me to understand. Dr. Coffee's Treatment helped me greatly in one month. It is wonderful."

DONT SEND ONE PENNY

Mail Coupon Today for This Book and Treatment

You are not asked to send one penny for this treatment. It is sent free to you prepaid without cost. This is done to quickly introduce Dr. Coffee's original home treatment to sufferers from deafness, or head noises caused by ear tubal catarrh, or from nasal catarrh itself. Dr. Coffee probably treated more cases of deafness, head noises and catarrh than any physician in the United States. He considered this treatment the best he ever found in over 45 years active practice. The fact that it cleared his own case and restored his hearing to normal, after the condition had grown really acute, gave him absolute confidence in it. Then, too, he witnessed what it has done for hundreds of sufferers. Send your name and address today. State whether you have catarrhal deafness or head noises or just have catarrh. This notice may not appear again so mail the coupon at once.

You will be keenly interested in Dr. Coffee's Book on Deafness. In plain, simple language it describes the symptoms of the many various types of deafness. From reading it, you should be able to determine something of the nature of your own trouble. Bear in mind, Dr. Coffee's treatment is not recommended for those who are totally deaf from disease of any kind, from shock, or, in fact, from any cause whatever. In fact, this book frankly states so. Mail coupon today and get the Free Book and Treatment without obligation or cost. Offer is limited—Act!

DR. W. O. COFFEE CO. (D)
650 St. James Hotel Bldg., Davenport, Iowa.

Please send me your Free Trial Treatment, and your Free Book on "Deafness, Head Noises and Catarrh," both by prepaid parcel post. It is understood that this does not obligate me in any way. (Either print your name and address or write plainly.)

Name .....

Street or R. F. D. .....

Town..... State.....

Do you want treatment for deafness and head noises or simply for nasal catarrh? State which.

.....

.....

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

Keely Company

The Straw Hat

Takes a Prominent Place in the Mode for Spring

The Sanmere Shoppe

Presents the Mode

—While the felt hat is still decidedly in the picture, many women are buying smart straw hats to wear with new spring costumes. Very popular among these are the new brimmed styles of baku, sisol and bali buntl straws. They incorporate the exotic, artistically framing the face and lending enhanced value to personality and individual expression. Bindings and bands of grosgrain ribbon are their trimming. Natural baku straws are sometimes draped into interesting turban shapes. The newest are here.

Maline

Dressmaker's Tulle for the Valentine Dance, Party, Receptions, Etc.

We are offering the very best grade of English made net for exquisite dance frocks. It is waterproof and the most durable quality, and has the correct crispness. Keely's maline is 72 inches wide, and all the newest colors are here.

Price, per yard $2.00

Gold	Brown
Flesh	Gold Brown
Peach	King's Blue
Red	Turquoise
Orchid	Peach
Maize	White
Sand	Black

Ornaments

Rhinestones and Flowers Are the Correct Additions

New display of rhinestone ornaments, buckles, slides, flowers and bands. Also strings of loose rhinestones. Prices 50c to $8.50. Dress flowers to match any color at $1.50 to $4.50 each.

Spring Fabrics

The Newest Cottons for the 1928 Season

Novelty Palm Prints

29c

This lovely new material is being featured in the spring washable fabrics this season; especially good for children's dresses; in dainty florals; all colors guaranteed fast; width is 36 inches.

Printed English Broadcloth

59c

The most beautiful fabrics of the spring season—shown in striped patterns and cubes, blocks and floral designs. It is 36 inches wide, and all colors are fast.

Diana Prints and Punjab Percales

29c

Always popular fabrics, especially at the beginning of the spring season. This season's patterns are new and novel, principally of floral motif, and may be had in all the latest colors. Width is 36 inches.

Zephyr Tissues

49c

This is an old-time favorite to be featured at Keely's tomorrow. The patterns are beautiful and the colorings gorgeous; novelty plaids and checked effects; width is 36 inches; colors are blue, rose, green, helio and gold.

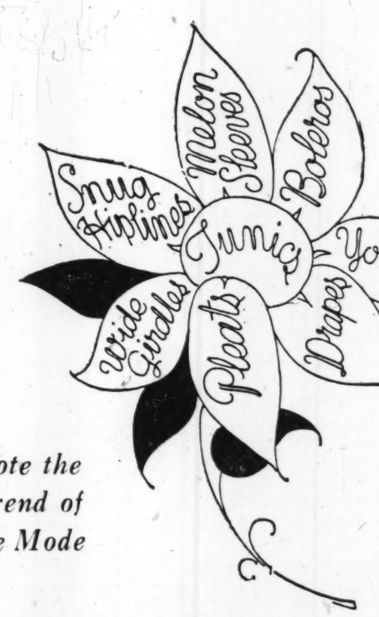

Advance Showing of SPRING COATS

Although this is an early showing, it offers a very comprehensive assortment of authentic coat styles. In it you will find the most dominant model of the Spring season, the cape collared coat; coats with scarf collars; sleek looking styles which employ both surfaces of crepe satin, utility garments of tweed and homespun, and dozens of stunning designs in kasha and other smart woolens. Cape lines are not becoming to many, and for those the mode provides stunning coats that favor curved lines, interesting scarf treatments and flares. Fur trimmings, which are not used as lavishly as in former seasons, are very frequently light in tone.

We cordially invite you to visit Keely's this week and see the new Spring styles now on display. The showing embraces a wide variety of fetching models, and the price range is attractive.

$24.75 to $125.00

Note the Trend of the Mode

See the New Models Monday

Keely Company

Whitehall at Hunter, Same Location Since 1869

Keely Company

Sheer Fabrics

For Lingerie and Spring Dresses, and Materials for Shirts and Blouses

White English Broadcloth

25c

This excellent material for boys' and men's shirts and small boys' blouses and rompers is a feature at Keely's tomorrow. It is shown in white only, and is 36 inches wide. Special price is 25c yard.

White Flaxon, Striped and Dotted Swisses

29c

A special sale Monday of striped flaxons, lino stripes and dotted Swisses, for dresses, curtains and other home uses. These fine fabrics are 36 inches wide, and are specially priced for tomorrow at 29c yard.

Jersey Nainsook of Silk and Cotton

49c

A vey popular material for lingerie, and at the low price at Keely's tomorrow they are values indeed. The width is 36 inches, and the colors are pink, flesh, light blue, helio, green, honeydew and white.

Solid Color Wash Organdie

69c

Just received a new shipment of this popular fabric. It is a specially imported Swiss organdie of fine permanent finish, and is shown tomorrow in the new spring shades of rose, blue, pink, green, helio, lavender, red, tan and yellow. Width is 45 inches.

New Spring Shoes

Featuring "Polyanna" the Newest One Strap

You are going to be mighty pleased when you visit our display of new spring footwear, for you'll see styles that give just the right finishing touch to your various new costumes. There are trimly tailored models for you to wear with your chic suit; dressy styles for afternoon and formal occasions; and the sturdier shoes for walking, business and sports wear. The newest model is the "Polyanna" illustrated below, in blond kid and in patent leather with tan trim at $12.50.

A Monday Clearance

Good Silk Hosiery

Well-Known Standard Brands No Values Under $1

49c

For Your Choice

Because of the ridiculously low price at which we are offering these silk hose we must refrain from mentioning the makers' names in this announcement. Some are full fashioned and some are semi-fashioned. The color range in a few instances are incomplete. All values are $1, or over, a pair, and the sale price should crowd the store Monday morning with eager buyers. All sales must be final. No phone or mail orders. None sent on approval.

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

THE SOUTH'S STANDARD NEWSPAPER — CONSTITUTION — ESTABLISHED 1868

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WAl. 6565.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

	1 Wk.	1 Mo.	3 Mos.	6 Mos.	1 Yr.
Daily and Sunday	20c	90c	$2.50	$5.00	$9.50
Daily	16c	70c	2.00	4.00	7.50

Single Copies—Daily 5c. Sunday 10c.

By Mail Only

	1 Mo.	3 Mos.	6 Mos.	1 Yr.
Sunday	10c	25c	$1.25	$2.50	$5.00

R. F. D. and small or non-dealer Towns for 1st and 2nd zones only
Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr $5.00

ATLANTA, GA., FEB. 5, 1928.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, sole advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city by 2 p. m. the day after issue. It can be had: Hotaling's News Stand, Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner); Schultz News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscription payments not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of the Associated Press.
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE DELIVERER—Quicken me, O Lord, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble.—Psalm 143:11.

PRAYER—Deliver us, our God, from evil.

THE NORTH ECHOES THE CALL.

In his "Random Comment" column on the editorial page of the Colorado Springs Gazette—one of the old and great daily newspapers of the Rocky mountain states—L. D. Cunningham, political commentator, says:

"Without the electoral vote of those states (the south) there is utterly no hope for the democratic ticket. Yet, that great democratic section, whose vote at the general election is indispensable if we are to have a democratic victory, has been completely foreclosed in the matter of providing a candidate for the democratic party since the nomination of James K. Polk, 84 years ago!

"Not only has the south been obliged to submit to the unwritten law which excludes its sons, however deserving, from even harboring a hope for political preferment, nationally speaking, but its delegates are confronted at every national convention with an array of democratic delegates from hopelessly republican states in numbers greatly exceeding their own.

"Take a single illustration: In the last democratic convention Pennsylvania was represented by 76 delegates while Texas had but 40. And this, in the face of the fact that Texas cast 488,605 democratic votes at the election which followed, while Pennsylania cast but 409-192. And Texas chose 20 democratic electors, whereas Pennsylvania has not chosen a single democratic elector since James Buchanan was the candidate of that party—72 years ago! . . . . Must the south, with her teeming cities and phenomenal growth and her imposing bloc of democratic electoral votes, for 21 times in succession, submit to the implication that she has no son worthy to aspire to the presidency?"

This is a heartening comment and reflects the viewpoint of a number of leading editors and commentators in the states far removed from the south. The Constitution has expressed the same views, with definiteness and vigor, for several years, and especially during the past few months as relating to the duty of the democratic party in the 1928 national convention. It is far past time for the south to be recognized in naming the national ticket, and the test is to be made this year.

In presenting Senator George for the presidential nomination this state will put forward one of the outstanding old-line democrats of the nation, who is known by his statesmanship and sound leadership, from coast to coast.

North Carolina will very probably present the name of Governor McLean, than whom there is not a more able democrat or executive in America. Arkansas will probably present Senator Robinson, nationally known as an intrepid leader, not only endowed with courage but with the soundness of his convictions, and the untarnished type of his democracy. Maryland will probably back Governor Ritchie, and Missouri Senator Reed, both outstanding democrats of the old state-rights faith that is dear to all voters of the party ticket who continue to worship at the shrines of Jefferson and Jackson. Tennessee will present its nationally-known representative, Cordell Hull, who at one time was chairman of the national democratic committee—a great statesman.

Of course the south, the bed-rock of the party, should be recognized, and the time has come! It is an encouraging note that floats from the north—the note of assent so audibly heard. There are no greater or more worthy democrats in America, or democrats more fitted to be president, than many who can be found in any state of the south.

John Ringling and Sam Gumpertz, two great amusement magnates, are heading a mardi gras for their home town, Sarasota, Fla., and ask all to "wear something Spanish during the festal week." We suggest a pepper and salt suit.

A "MILLIONAIRE CHURCH."

The First Baptist church, of Atlanta, organized 80 years ago, with a building investment around $500, is today one of the wealthiest Protestant organizations in America.

The sale of the site it has owned and occupied at the corner of Peachtree and Cain streets for the past twenty years for a consideration of around $1,000,000, illustrates more forcibly, perhaps, than words can tell the enhancement of realty when in proximity to or in the path of real development.

When the church organization built its present magnificent structure it was considered "far out." It then stood in front of the old governor's mansion, which had been erected in the city's suburbs.

As the march of commercialism out Peachtree moved with new momentum each year, and old homes gave way to the procession, values began to move upward, and finally to jump by leaps and bounds.

Then came the marvelous, almost sensational, strides in the immediate vicinity of the First Baptist property, first by the building of the Henry Grady hotel, the Henry Grady office building and the Red Rock building. Then followed the construction, on the same block, of the great Davison-Paxon department store, followed by the construction of another great department store diagonally across the street by the J. P. Allen company. The latter is directly across Cain street from the First Baptist church.

The property of the latter easily became, by reason of these developments, one of the most valuable business sites in Atlanta, hence the enormous price received for it in the transaction with the Peters Land company by which the church organization acquires the old Peters block on Peachtree street, running from Fourth to Fifth street, and which is one of the most beautiful and desirable properties in the entire city.

Besides a fee-simple title to this valuable block, held at a valuation of around $650,000 minimum, the church receives $325,000 in cash. It will erect on this block one of the finest edifices in the south, which will be in close touch with the great Shrine auditorium, soon to be erected, and with the fashionable Biltmore and Georgian Terrace hotels. It will be diagonally across the street from the St. Mark M. E. church.

On the old church site, thus transferred, a great business structure will be erected.

Atlanta's 1928 building progress promises to eclipse that of any year in its history. An illustrated news summary would startle even the citizens of the city who have not taken the time to analyze it. The expenditures will total far into the millions.

The First Baptist church has had a remarkable history. Not only has it become a "millionaire church" by reason of land enhancement, but it has a great membership personnel, and has had some of the nation's most noted ministers as pastors. Recently Dr. Daniel resigned to accept a call to Richmond.

The present supplying pastor, Dr. E. M. Poteat, is one of the most distinguished ministers and pulpit orators in America. He has held pastorates in the largest cities of the country. He is a brother of Dr. W. L. Poteat, president of Wake Forest college.

The First Baptist has always been noted for its high and inspiring spirit of Christian service.

IRREFUTABLE PROOF.

In a leading editorial, stressing its statements with detailed official reports, the Manufacturers Record says:

"During the calendar year 1927 the south paid into the federal treasury income taxes to the amount of $325,221,818, or more than double the combined amount of all the payments made by the New England states, which totaled $159,541,837. Considering the enormous accumulated wealth of New England, its vast industrial interests and its great investments in business enterprises all over the country, it is remarkable that its payment should have been less than one-half of the amount of income taxes paid by the south.

"Moreover, if the south had received full credit for the income produced in that section, but which went into the coffers of New York, Boston and other eastern cities, its showing would have been still greater. To a large extent the south's railroad properties, its great steel mills, some of its cotton mills and other industries are owned in the north, and when their headquarters are located in New York and other eastern cities, their profits go to swell the volume of income taxes in those cities. Thus, New York especially gets credit for an enormous amount of income taxes which are paid through that city but are not earned there."

Not only does the south pay more income tax than paid by the New England states, but it paid in 1927 an excess of $100,455,312 in income taxes in excess of 17 western states, including a combination of Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and California.

The facts are significant. It does not take an expert economist to see the situation as it is. The south today leads the nation, not only in volume of raw and finished production, and in business generally, but in gross profits from operations.

OUR NATIONAL FORESTS.

The government, through its national forest reservation commission, has now acquired approximately three million acres for national forests in the eastern states. Several thousand additional acres are in "purchase areas" to be subsequently acquired.

In these forest areas Georgia holds a particularly enviable position, the Georgia, Savannah, Nantahala and Cherokee units all reaching into this state with a total of approximately 200,000 acres acquired today.

These Georgia forests, chiefly in the mountain sections, not only protect the headwaters of numerous mountain rivers, thereby preventing floods, draining rich valley lands, and making colossal hydro-electric developments possible, but they are open for recreational purposes, the same as national parks, and thousands of people, during the warm months, take advantage of these privileges. The United States forestry department maintains roads and hundreds of miles of trails, also provides camping sites with running water, and other modern and sanitary conveniences.

When the commission was established the late Congressman Gordon Lee, of the Seventh Georgia, took a deep interest in the passage of the bill, and served on the commission from its inception until the close of the 69th congress, at which time he voluntarily retired on account of illness. It was through his efforts, to a measurable extent, that Georgia today figures so conspicuously in eastern national forests.

The commission report just issued shows that the purchase program is now nearly one-half completed. No lands have ever been acquired, however, in Kentucky, in Wisconsin or within the pine region of the southern states. The ultimate objective looks forward to a total of about six million acres in the Appalachians, White Mountains and the mountains of Arkansas; to the purchase of 2,500,000 acres in the lake states and an equal amount in the southern pine region to complete the national forest systems of these regions.

Upon the 2,892,741 acres acquired since 1911 there is a total stand of timber of about five billion feet of salable material.

A forest nursery was established in 1919 for the purpose of raising seedlings with which to plant devastated lands. It is planned to increase the capacity of this nursery to an output of about 1,000,000 two-year-old seedlings a year of white pine, spruce and larch, which would be sufficient for the planting of something more than a thousand acres.

Taking from the report the activities in units in which Georgia is peculiarly interested:

Savannah purchase unit—During the past year purchase was authorized of eight tracts containing 2,043 acres at an average price of $3.39 per acre. All of these small tracts adjoin lands already acquired, and their purchase will effect desirable consolidations. When these tracts are acquired the area of national forests will be increased to 177,431 acres, or 38 per cent of the lands desirable for purchase. Within the unit there are 20,147 acres of farming land, 30,182 acres of land held for power development, and 20,000 acres of privately owned land being managed for permanent timber production.

Georgia purchase unit—During the past year purchase of seven tracts was authorized having an aggregate area of 44,738 acres at an average price of $4.75 an acre. When these lands are paid for the national forest area will amount to 151,029 acres, or 51 per cent of the area available for purchase, there being 25,000 acres of agricultural land and 86,000 acres of private land held for timber production which should not be acquired. The greater portion of this land consists of a single large tract located along the south side of the Blue Ridge mountains on the headwaters of the Chattahoochee and Alabama rivers. The other lands consist of a number of small tracts which are of value in effecting consolidation.

Cherokee purchase unit—Purchase work on this unit during the past year was restricted to two small tracts, the purchase of which was authorized, involving 350 acres at a price of $5.07. These lands are of value in effecting consolidation. Their acquisition will increase the national-forest area to 206,031 acres, which is 40 per cent of the lands the purchase of which is desirable, there being 45,000 acres of agricultural land and 3,814 acres of land held for water-power purposes which should not be acquired.

So far it has not been possible to reach price agreements with owners of any lands lying within the extension of this unit into the Cohutta mountain section of north Georgia which was authorized in the year of 1925.

Georgia ought to be proud of her national forests, and utilize them more for recreation. Timber conservation and power development are the two factors that compel the support of every citizen. It is to be regretted that this state at present has not a member of its delegation on the commission.

UP TO COUNTRY BANKERS.

On this page is a thoughtful communication from Percy D. Campbell, of Bainbridge, on the growing importance of the production of poultry products in Georgia. Every farmer should read it, for every farm should have upon it a sizeable flock of pure-bred chickens. They should be handled with the same care and business system as any other of the features of a balanced farm program. They should be fed and housed properly, and maximum egg capacity should be maintained. Then, aside from home uses, profitable markets should be found for the products—table eggs, hatching eggs, baby chicks, market poultry, etc. Like the merchant who must provide a variety of merchandise to succeed so the farmer must provide a variety of production, but one part of the program must not be neglected in order to strengthen another.

All of the items of the program must be kept strong. By this method, coordinating proper marketing with good production, the financial end will always be satisfactory.

Poultry product production, on a marchantable scale, has increased marvelously in the past few years. It is no longer a haphazard proposition of "barn-yard scrubs," except in far too many instances in which farmers do not realize its economic importance. Fresh yard eggs, properly packed in packages of one dozen, according to the rules of standardization, bring a premium on any market, and it is not difficult to find one stable market the year around for a farmer's complete output at prices from five to ten cents above the quotations of the day. The same applies to marketable chickens, provided standards are maintained. That it is a profitable feature of the progressive, up-to-date farmer is proven by scores of illustrations in Georgia. We can cite a farmer who made $5,000 net from 1,000 white leghorns in 1927. Some prefer the white leghorn for egg production while others prefer heavier stock for a combination of eggs and meat.

One point in Mr. Campbell's communication is especially worthy of comment and of thoughtful analysis by every country banker in Georgia. He says:

"Our country banks do not seem disposed to encourage them (poultry growers) while if the would-be poultryman has to rely on the long-loan companies he finds their requirements often so exacting as to be prohibitive."

This is true. There are a number of bankers who do encourage the production of poultry products along pure-bred, standard-pack lines, and they find such loans safe and sound and community building.

Entirely too many bankers, however, refuse to encourage this feature of farm industry. They continue to force increased cotton production—and thereby lower prices—by making cotton production the immutible requirement of farm activity.

It is a mistake, and it is hoped the note sounded by Mr. Campbell may put some of these bankers to thinking along more helpful lines.

THE NATIONAL PRESS CLUB.

The new home of the National Press club in Washington was dedicated Saturday evening. Among the speakers was President Coolidge.

This dedication marked the completion of one of the most ambitious projects in the history of America, undertaken and consummated by the Washington newspaper correspondents and members of the local staffs.

The new building, which stands on the old Ebbitt House site, cost $10,000,000. It has been financed by the able assistance of a group of wealthy men headed by John Hays Hammond.

It will pay its own carrying charges from the beginning and will be the finest newspaper men's club in the world.

Felicitations!

An Atlantan was apprehended transporting twelve gallons of booze in a wheelbarrow, and the vehicle and load was confiscated. According to law the wheelbarrow has to be sold at auction, which leads us to believe the police made a water haul.

A Kansas City judge decided that a wife was within her rights to bend her husband's toes to awaken him. But it is a crime to tickle the soles of one's feet.

The University of Chicago is showing housewives how to feed their husbands on 51 cents a day, but the husbands feel that their lives are being fed with bunk.

In an open-air band concert it can be said of the selections rendered that they are played out.

Chicago gleefully claims that there are fewer hold-ups there. Possibly because the gangs have made the circuit.

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL

The Big Circus Chief Who Is Glorifying a Florida City.

Sarasota, Fla., February 4.—(Special.)—Here a person from anywhere, even the planet Mars, will find one of the liveliest, loveliest and most luxuriant young cities on this or any other continent. I have been coming here, off and on for many years and have seen the community frow from a small shore-village into a truly metropolitan area. The skyline, looking from the bay, is expansive, impressive and suggestive of one of the ciudads of lower Spain.

The principal thoroughfares are broad and finely paved, the gardens and esplanades are beautifully adorned with the flowering plants and trees that make the semi-tropics attractive to eyes and olfactories, while the greater buildings are majestice and magnificent.

On thing can be confidently said of the men permanently interested in the municipal fortunes of Sarasota, and and that is they are not tightwads and tortoise-gaited. They have vim and vision. They have not built for purely present profit, but for a future that they wisely foresee will be rich in solid progress and prosperities.

They have not paid me a copper cent to say these things, and outside of my personal luggage, I don't own property in the town to the value of a toothpick. But I do admire genuine American pluck, daring of enterprise, and the spirit of optimism that converts dreams into dynamics and conceits into concrete. Hence my hearty admiration for these strong-brained men of Sarasota who wagered their all upon the wisdom of their ambitions, and have won to the point where only a general panic, an awful convulsion of nature, or the collapse of civilization on the continent, can prevent their city from becoming the golden center of great achievements.

* * * *

The Evolution Goes Forward.

It is easy to be extravagant in terms over such typical American accomplishments as are seen in Sarasota, but I resist that temptation. What I have said are the cold-blooded facts of the case. And there are few who visit here who will not fully confirm them.

A city takes its character from its leaders, who are the products of its popular psychology, and not from its marble, bricks and underfoot asphalt.

A city has civic, social and moral characteristics that are identically human. A "Boss" Tweed made New York odious throughout the civilized world and it has not yet shaken off that odium. A Bill Thompson is making Chicago almost as ashamed of itself as the people of America are ashamed of it. And Atlanta's civic repute is as fair and clean as the character of her Mayor Ragsdale.

* * * *

The Mogul Out in Front.

It is quite usual to find in all progressive communities some man who stands out as the inspirer and leader of its civic, financial, or promotive enterprises. In Atlanta we have agreed to accolade Henry M. Atkinson as the "first citizen" of our present era. Here in Sarasota the "first citizen" by common consent is John Ringling, known throughout both hemispheres as the greatest circus owner and manager of the age. As executive of the famous Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus enterprise he has made that form of amusement and instruction one of the dignified and universally popular institutions of America. In that business the Ringling brothers acquired great fortunes. John Ringling is now the chief survivor of the family name and possessor of its largest wealth.

But John Ringling is much more than a successful circus showman. To look at him as he quietly goes about his business affairs, one would judge him to be just a strong and sensible "business man," as thousands of others are.

* * * *

A Man With Big Visions.

John Ringling, however, possesses some very unique and unsual distinctions. His travels, contacts and observations have given fine culture to his concepts of the objectives and opportunities of an equipped and influential life. He has in a remarkable degree the visions of an altruistic spirit and both the ambition and the power to put them in the way of practical and permanent realization.

He has voluntarily become godfather of Sarasota and its district for profitable developments. His local, landed and island investments run into millions of money. He and his brother Charles, now deceased, erected here magnificent home estates; they established a strong bank to finance improvements in the area; and John has made on the islands, in plain view of the city, hotels, casinos, bathing establishments and amusements rivaling any in the world; he is building her an art museum, a memorial of his parents, that is to be an architectural triumph and in which he will deposit and display art treasures collected throughout the world at a cost of many millions of dollars. It will be one of the treasures of the nation.

* * * *

He Has Faith in Florida.

John Ringling, with all his quiet, everyday ways, is a genius. He is a big money-wizard, all right, but under his hat is a brain fertile with ideas of usefulness to humanity and under his shirt-front is a big heart that covets the satisfaction of having enriched the people who have enriched him. Consequently, he is busily devising ways to employ his wealth and resources so that they may continue, after his life is finished, to bliss and benefit oncoming generations.

It is because he is that sort of big unselfish man that his fellow-citizens here will, on the 27th of this month, make him the honor guest of a great banquet, which will assemble from all over the nation, influential men of affairs who esteem John Ringling as an exemplar of public enterprise and a benefactor of his generation and its posterity.

* * * *

Another Man Who Moves.

The Chinese divide men into there classes—"The immovable, the movable and those who actually move."

Sarasota has an eminent exemplar of the last class in Colonel George D. Lindsay, editor and general manager of its morning newspaper, the Herald.

Colonel Lindsay is not a "native Floridian." Not a handful of the Florida newspaper conductors are of that category. He is a Hoosier who transferred his journalistic abilities and activities from Marion, Ind., to Sarasota and has, in a few years, made his newspaper one of the beacons of influence and progress in this upbuilding state. He is one of those "tall sycamores" of the Dan Voorhees type whose vision can reach far horizons. He doesn't bother himself about "booms," and the rise and fall of shoestring speculators, or any of the pains of a commonwealth's evolution.

On the contrary, he sees the inevitable developments that God and nature predestine for Florida and every motion he makes is to insure those culminations. He is not one of those editorial recluses who have to be reached by card through the guardianship of an office-door Cerberus. Colonel Lindsay has his sanctum right out in front of the shop, with a wide-open door, through which you hop and say "Howdy?" and get a warm glad-hand.

He is the sort of man that the folks just naturally like, and put confidence in, and say "Here's me" to when he hollers. After a careful survey I do not know of any one man, after John Ringling, who is a more valuable asset and wiser headed in the city's life than this Editor Lindsay, who rings brains, taught intelligence and indomitable faith to the service of his fellow-citizens and the state's highest interest.

NEW YORK SKYLINES

City's Social Center Moves Farther North—Blue Book No Longer Bars Divorced Persons — Permanent Waves for Men.

BY CHARLES ESTCOURT, JR.

Written Exclusively for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance

New York, February 4.—By social register standards the geographical center of the city has shifted north again. It is now in Seventieth street, between Fifth and Madison avenues.

In this block lives LeRoy W. Baldwin, Empire Trust company president, and with William H. Vanderbilt, the owner of the Equitable building, that $41,000,000 pile of 40 floors on lower Broadway, occupied by the Bankers' club, General Electric, Union Pacific, other big corporations and lawyers, and some 18,000 employees.

Also in this high society block is John Wing Prentiss, who has two qualifications for the best society rating: family history and money power. His father's forbears reached New England in 1638, his mother's in 1632, and he is a Harvard man of the most pronounced type. As president of the Investment Bankers' association, and a leading Wall street broker, he attained a strong business position, and, despite the fact that Henry Ford turned down his offer of 1,000 millions to buy him out, Mr. Prentiss sticks fast in the social register.

* * *

FIGURING THE BEST FAMILIES.

Who's dropped? Who got in? These are questions of moment, to those caring, when a new social register comes out. It used to be that persons figuring in divorces were automatically dropped, but not any more. What standing, socially, would the social register have, if it kept on snubbing so many of the "best families?"

Yet if they once slip out the return is difficult. The James A. Stillmans, after shocking the country with charges and counter-charges, finally reunited, but that has not reunited them to the social register—not yet.

The only change of large consequence in social register policy this year is the reduction in the size of the locater. The compilers simply left out a number of western and southern towns, where actually social prestige is far more static and trustworthy than in this metropolis, whose distinctions cannot be clearly defined. Society bugs here have a notion that this action has infuriated society in the towns concerned.

* * *

CLIVETTE, JESSE JAMES, SAPPHO.

At the age of 80 Merton Clivette is preparing an exhibition of his paintings, to go on tour next year in South America, where collectors have been absorbing his work with avidity. Mr. Clivette doesn't look 80, but hear an account of his career and you'll wonder how it could be compressed in that period.

Born on boat in Indian ocean. Ran away at six with circus. As tight-rope walker fell, killing two people on way to earth. Crossed ocean 32 times. Friend of Rodin, French sculptor. Did tricks of magic for Queen Victoria and Russian czar. Back bears 200 knife and bullet wounds. Married, settled down in store called "Soul Light Shrine," in Greenwich Village, and brought up daughter, Juanita, who insists she's reincarnation of Sappho, and at 20 has written 4,000 poems to prove it. Mrs. Clivette, married nearly 34 years, has been president of Greenwich Village Historical society.

* * *

JAM AT LIBRARY SHELVES.

The metropolitan congestion has reached the public library. While questing there for books about horrible murderers The Skyliner observed, in the main reading room, which has the proportions of a railway terminal, that all of the chairs were occupied, that men and women were sitting all along the raised strips of floor that skirts the wall bookshelves, and that a dozen or so were standing.

The many and expansive tables were laden with piles of books and attendants passed out more as fast as the elevators could bring them up from the vast, invisible stacks, where other attendants were scurrying around with slips of paper, filling the orders shot down to them by pneumatic tube.

Meanwhile Edwin Hatfield Anderson, formerly of Zionsville, Ind., and the zinc and lead mines of Missouri, sat calm and serene behind the windows of his Fifth avenue office. He is the director of this, the most widely used library on earth. He is 67, but by being philosophical and walking all over Westchester county, he manages to look 45.

* * *

WHY AMBULANCES GO WRONG.

It's unprofessional, they say, for the medical profession to talk much for publication, and therefore the world knows nothing about the pretty custom of some private hospital ambulance drivers, in delivering the dying or desperately severe cases of accident, to hospitals maintained by the city.

They won't be quoted, these doctors in the private hospitals, but they acknowledge being annoyed by it. A private hospital gets a call for an ambulance. The doctor and driver aboard it see that the person injured is bound to die within an hour. Well, it does the hospital no good when the newspaper, in giving an account of accidents, states that the victim died there. So the ambulance clangs off to a municipal hospital and deposits the prostrate passenger.

Forty hospitals here have more than 100 ambulances, answering more than 70,000 calls a year; 6,000 and more for cases of acute alcoholism, some 600 bullet wounds, above 400 for dog bites. Bellevue hospital alone has received 13,000 ambulance cases in a year.

TEXT AND PRETEXT

BY M. ASHBY JONES

"In Times of Peace"

Of course, the rest of the quotation, to make my title complete, reads: "Prepare for war." But most of us, in our innocence, thought we had progressed beyond that pagan philosophy, and were determined, "so far as in us lieth, to live at peace with all men." Now we receive the rude awakening from the president that we are to embark upon the most tremendous naval building program which has ever challenged the taxable ability of a nation.

The figures first announced just below the shocking total of one billion. Now, before we have been able to adjust ourselves to that enormous advance in preparation for war, the experts tell us that the plans outlined and submitted to congress will require, in this unthinkable expansion of our fighting forces, the expenditure of seven billions of dollars, within the next 15 years. Of course, these figures are not accurate. It is impossible to think and plan in billions with anything like accuracy, but these estimates are sufficiently near the mark to give us some idea of the war madness which has seized our navalists, and spread like a deadly contagion throughout the administration.

For Defense.

This shocking program for preparation for war is published to the world simultaneously with our spectacular offer to make treaties with the rest of the nations, never to make war again, under any circumstances. Then we are greatly surprised when other nations, comparing our words with our works, dare question the sincerity of our purpose. When Admiral Plunkett shouts the alarm, that we are on the eve of another war, the president rebukes him. But if we are not, what possible justification can there be for these unparalleled war preparations?

Of course, we are told that this building program is necessary for keeping our navy in a condition for adequate defense. We might well raise the question, defense against whom? France has offered to make a treaty with us, which would banish forever the prospect of her ever attacking us. (There never has been the remotest possibility of her doing so.) Great Britain has stood ready through five administrations to sign an arbitration treaty with us, which would submit every possible cause of war to judicial settlement. Japan, in her poverty, would welcome the opportunity to decrease the frightful expenditure of attempting to build against our naval development.

Carrying a Gun.

I am quite conscious of the fact that no amateur could very intelligently state just what would be an adequate navy for a purely defensive policy, and this critic is not attempting the task. On the other hand, the people of this country have a right to demand of the authorities at Washington that they place their emphasis upon making peace in the world rather than upon preparation for war. The man who carries a gun carries in his consciousness the thought of shooting, and provokes in the consciousness of others the fear of being shot. Naval rivalries, keeping pace with commercial rivalries, was the immediate cause of the world war. For the United States to enter upon this huge naval program at a time when her ever-increasing commercial interests are coming into acute competition with the interests of all other nations—while she is the creditor nation, and has refused to enter into a league where conflicting interests are sought to be adjusted by reason, instead of by warships—is to invite the fear and ssupicion of the world, by becoming a threat to the peace of the nations.

It is inevitable that the other nations should be profoundly puzzled and disturbed by the ever-changing attitude of our administration toward this whole question of peace and war. Men cannot shut their eyes to the fact that our war power follows closely upon our commercial investments. Is Nicaragua to be taken as a definition of what we mean by a navy "for defense?" Ex-Secretary Hughes explains to the world that our government will only intervene in the affairs of other nations "in cases of emergency." There is little comfort in this explanation when it is remembered that, refusing to enter into any court or council of the nations, the United States maintains the right to be the judge as to when there is such an emergency.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

BY DR. S. PARKES CADMAN.

Minneapolis, Minn.

Do you not think it would be a good idea to teach in the public schools such subjects as history and the sciences by moving pictures? In the case of history, for example, would not a child more easily grasp a historical situation from not only reading about it, but from seeing it enacted through a moving picture?

Do you not think there is a great field for the moving picture industry in the realm of education?

Undoubtedly there is a large educational future for the motion picture, especially in the teaching of historical and scientific subjects. But pictures themselves are too fleeting to be an adequate method of instruction.

The subjects they set forth should be carefully studied before and after seeing their filming. "The King of Kings" is an instance in point. One who had never heard of Jesus would obtain from His presentation in this scenario a radiant conception of Him, but its appeal is far more powerful to those who are familiar with His life and doctrine.

The matter of expense is an important factor in educational pictures. They do not return their cost nearly so soon or surely as do those of high-grade entertainment, and boards of education have not as yet provided for this contingency. But you may be sure that the time is near when a film equipment will be deemed essential in all public schools.

* * *

Boston, Mass.

Will you kindly explain the meaning of Tennyson's poem "Merlin and the Gleam?"

Just what does "Merlin" stand for in this particular connection and what is "the Gleam?"

Tennyson was the poet of the romantic, the chivalrous and the knightly. His poetry is conspicuous for its treatment of love as a pure flame of devotion to the highest things of life. His reverence for womanhood, his passion for the charms of nature, his old-world courtesy, marked by conventionalism, his artistic sense, his feeling for creative values and, above all, his religious spirit, appear in his poems. They express these qualities with superb dignity of diction.

All are reflected in "Merlin and the Gleam." The laureate interpreted Merlin as the spirit of poetry and the Gleam as the higher poetic imagination. His interpretation is to be understood from the standpoint of culture and character and not merely of literature. He who follows the Gleam listens to the inward voice and is not disobedient to the heavenly vision of ideal perfection.

The truth is further brought out in "Idylls of the King." Arthur is the incarnation of the true, the good, the beautiful. The fall of the round table was due to the moral failure of some who sat about it.

Unless we keep tryst with Tennyson's ideal, which is fully realized in Christ, "that purest light of God," we shall be worsted by the warring elements of the flesh. No lesson is more needed in our day of Bohemian misadventures. The call is to chivalrous knighthood and to the practice of those virtues which make for genuine Christian manhood.

* * *

Raleigh, N. C.

Is not religion decaying? Have not the churches failed to maintain their hold? I believe this is the case and that the foundations of your various faiths are shaken. Please tell us candidly what you think.

I do so with pleasure. Religion was never more vital and active than now. A single sermon by Bishop Barnes, of Birmingham, England, on the relation of the Darwinian theory of evolution to the teachings of the Bible recently aroused all Britaip. The newspapers were deluged with letters discussing it from various viewpoints. They demonstrate that the Christian faith is woven into the fiber of the nation.

The Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn., did the same thing for the United States. A trifling incident in itself, nevertheless, it involved the rights of reason, faith and conscience, whereupon the petty action of a rural board of education and its consequences were transmitted to the ends of the earth.

There is a fixed gulf between militant materialists and believers in a divine order. But the great body of intelligent public opinion has no acute difficulty in retaining firm faith in that order while frankly facing every hypothesis of science. Theologies will be recast. Ecclesiastics and scientific investigators will have to restate or recant their respective positions. But the grand verities of religion remain unshaken and unshakeable.

These verities do not depend on magic, force or superstitious fear. They are not hangovers from a primeval past of darkest ignorance nor the the lingering fringe of a black belt of despair and delusion. Their inestimable services make Biblical teachings the sole alternative to world-wide catastrophe. The controversies raging around them will ultimately clear and leave their central purposes secure and resplendent. They are the spiritual essentials of man's unconquerable mind.

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

Let Country Banks Help In Poultry Production

Editor Constitution: I have been much interested in the recent editorials in The Constitution calling attention to the importance of Georgia producing its own poultry products, and it is encouraging to note that this industry is steadily growing in our state. Look at any number of the Market Bulletin, published by the state bureau of markets, and you will be surprised at the number of advertisements of poultry products offered for sale and the great interest in purebred stock. There are already hundreds of successful commercial egg farms in Georgia, to say nothing of the rapidly growing hatchery business, and the international egg-laying contests conducted by the State Agricultural college at Athens is not only a great stimulus to the industry but is attracting the attention of the whole country to Georgia.

Poultry culture can be and is being made to pay well, but, like any other business, it requires capital to make the proper start. With good buildings, high producing layers, proper and sufficient feed and constant attention to details there is no earthly reason why Georgia should not become one of the leading poultry states of the union. The climate is ideal and the markets uniformly good.

But for the matter of sufficient capital I know of many who would like to adopt poultry farming. And although our weekly newspapers are constantly stressing the importance of small industries, (poultry plants included) our country banks do not seem disposed to encourage them, while if the would-be poultryman has to rely on the long loan companies he finds their requirements often so exacting as to be prohibitive.

However, there is one thing the ambitious poultryman or poultrywoman may do who has the time to wait for results. That is, procure from some reliable breeder a pen or two of first-class hens from pedigreed stock of whatever breed may be selected, and a cock from birds of the same class, or better; cross them and continue to cross by introducing new blood until he or she has built up a strain that will be a pleasure to own. Many of the country's greatest breeders thus made their start.

PERCY D. CAMPBELL.
Bainbridge, Ga., January 26, 1928.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

Keely Company

The Straw Hat

Takes a Prominent Place in the Mode for Spring

The Sanmere Shoppe

Presents the Mode

—While the felt hat is still decidedly in the picture, many women are buying smart straw hats to wear with new spring costumes. Very popular among these are the new brimmed styles of baku, sisol and bali buntl straws. They incorporate the exotic, artistically framing the face and lending enhanced value to personality and individual expression. Bindings and bands of grosgrain ribbon are their trimming. Natural baku straws are sometimes draped into interesting turban shapes. The newest are here.

Maline

Dressmaker's Tulle for the Valentine Dance, Party, Receptions, Etc.

We are offering the very best grade of English made net for exquisite dance frocks. It is waterproof and the most durable quality, and has the correct crispness. Keely's maline is 72 inches wide, and all the newest colors are here.

Price, per yard $2.00

Gold	Brown
Flesh	Gold Brown
Peach	King's Blue
Red	Turquoise
Orchid	Peach
Maize	White
Sand	Black

Ornaments

Rhinestones and Flowers Are the Correct Additions

New display of rhinestone ornaments, buckles, slides, flowers and bands. Also strings of loose rhinestones. Prices 50c to $8.50. Dress flowers to match any color at $1.50 to $4.50 each.

Spring Fabrics

The Newest Cottons for the 1928 Season

Novelty Palm Prints

29c

This lovely new material is being featured in the spring washable fabrics this season; especially good for children's dresses; in dainty florals; all colors guaranteed fast; width is 36 inches.

Printed English Broadcloth

59c

The most beautiful fabrics of the spring season—shown in striped patterns and cubes, blocks and floral designs. It is 36 inches wide, and all colors are fast.

Diana Prints and Punjab Percales

29c

Always popular fabrics, especially at the beginning of the spring season. This season's patterns are new and novel, principally of floral motif, and may be had in all the latest colors. Width is 36 inches.

Zephyr Tissues

49c

This is an old-time favorite to be featured at Keely's tomorrow. The patterns are beautiful and the colorings gorgeous; novelty plaids and checked effects; width is 36 inches; colors are blue, rose, green, helio and gold.

Advance Showing of SPRING COATS

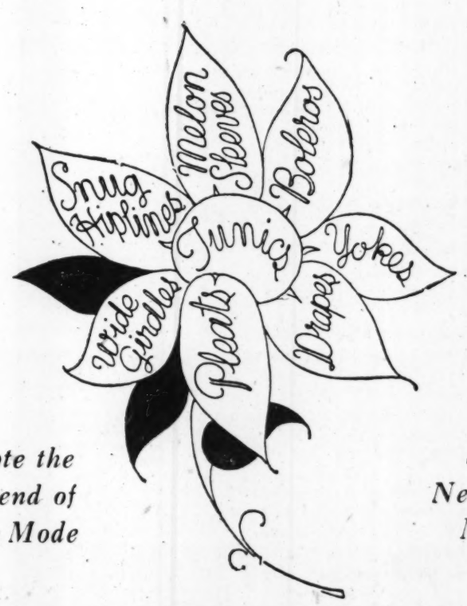

Although this is an early showing, it offers a very comprehensive assortment of authentic coat styles. In it you will find the most dominant model of the Spring season, the cape collared coat; coats with scarf collars; sleek looking styles which employ both surfaces of crepe satin, utility garments of tweed and homespun, and dozens of stunning designs in kasha and other smart woolens. Cape lines are not becoming to many, and for those the mode provides stunning coats that favor curved lines, interesting scarf treatments and flares. Fur trimmings, which are not used as lavishly as in former seasons, are very frequently light in tone.

We cordially invite you to visit Keely's this week and see the new Spring styles now on display. The showing embraces a wide variety of fetching models, and the price range is attractive.

$24.75 to $125.00

Note the Trend of the Mode

See the New Models Monday

Keely Company

Whitehall at Hunter, Same Location Since 1869

Keely Company

Sheer Fabrics

For Lingerie and Spring Dresses, and Materials for Shirts and Blouses

White English Broadcloth

25c

This excellent material for boys' and men's shirts and small boys' blouses and rompers is a feature at Keely's tomorrow. It is shown in white only, and is 36 inches wide. Special price is 25c yard.

White Flaxon, Striped and Dotted Swisses

29c

A special sale Monday of striped flaxons, lino stripes and dotted Swisses, for dresses, curtains and other home uses. These fine fabrics are 36 inches wide, and are specially priced for tomorrow at 29c yard.

Jersey Nainsook of Silk and Cotton

49c

A vey popular material for lingerie, and at the low price at Keely's tomorrow they are values indeed. The width is 36 inches, and the colors are pink, flesh, light blue, helio, green, honeydew and white.

Solid Color Wash Organdie

69c

Just received a new shipment of this popular fabric. It is a specially imported Swiss organdie of fine permanent finish, and is shown tomorrow in the new spring shades of rose, blue, pink, green, helio, lavender, red, tan and yellow. Width is 45 inches.

New Spring Shoes

Featuring "Polyanna" the Newest One Strap

You are going to be mighty pleased when you visit our display of new spring footwear, for you'll see styles that give just the right finishing touch to your various new costumes. There are trimly tailored models for you to wear with your chic suit; dressy styles for afternoon and formal occasions; and the sturdier shoes for walking, business and sports wear. The newest model is the "Polyanna" illustrated below, in blond kid and in patent leather with tan trim at $12.50.

A Monday Clearance

Good Silk Hosiery

Well-Known Standard Brands No Values Under $1

49c

For Your Choice

Because of the ridiculously low price at which we are offering these silk hose we must refrain from mentioning the makers' names in this announcement. Some are full fashioned and some are semi-fashioned. The color range in a few instances are incomplete. All values are $1, or over, a pair, and the sale price should crowd the store Monday morning with eager buyers. All sales must be final. No phone or mail orders. None sent on approval.

SIDNEY LANIER

Poet---Master Painter---Musician

BY ANNIE LOWRY BERRYMAN.

There is a pearl in the rosary of our year that we lovingly caress: a day that marks the anniversary of the birth of our sainted Georgian, Sidney Lanier, poet-musician, whose gentle life began in Macon, Ga., on February 3, 1842.

It seems fitting that we should have paused Friday and paid tribute to this modest, gentle, wonderful artist, whose soul-power expressed in music and in verse of musical cadence challenges the world with his rare interpretation. Soul-power lit from that source of all light, his crystal Christ. Soul-power whose purest rays reveal the indissoluble union of the God Spirit with the spirit of man. Surely the soul vibrates with the thrill of his potent expression breathed through his verse that glorifies our God whom he adored.

People of culture in Europe and in America concede to Lanier first place among American poets. They also concede that the tone-coloring of his verses arouses emotions with an indescribable charm: a charm that reveals the artistic temperament of the musician, combined with the master touch of the artist in harmonious blending of a marvelous series of word-paintings, presented in most original style through his comprehensive use of color-tone.

Poet-musician—master painter! Sidney Lanier! Whose musical gift found vent in his mastery of the violin and several musical instruments, but whose musical genius found fullest expression, not only through his flute notes that encircle the globe—for he was premier flute player of the world of his time—but through his verse, in which he wove with surpassing skill a sequence of the most beautiful tone pictures the world has ever known. Tone-pictures of exquisite appeal, the dominant note of which is love: Love for God, love for man, love of nature and love of country.

Yes, let us rejoice with Lanier in his appreciation of nature that is presented with successive charm in his poems. Individuality, clover, corn (yes, he idealized corn) and the cloud. Observe his arraignment of the cloud. Oh, the beauty of his interpretation of God in nature!

Clouds.

Lanier:
Sail on, sail on; fair Cousin Cloud!
Oh loiter hither from the sea,
Still-eyed and shadow-browed,
Steal off from yon far-drifting crowd,
And come and brood upon the marsh with me.

Cloud: (Pauses, glooms, stares).

Lanier:
Well marst thou pause, and gloom, and stare,
A visible conscience, I arraign
Thee, criminal Cloud, of rare
Contempts on Mercy, Right and Prayer—
Of murders, arsons, thefts—of nameless stain
(Yet though Life's logic grew as gray
As thou, my soul's not in eclipse.)
Cold Cloud, but yesterday
Thy lightning slew a child at play,
And then a priest with prayers upon his lips.

Cloud:
What the Cloud doeth
The Lord knoweth.
The Cloud knoweth not,
What the artist doeth,
The Lord knoweth:
Knoweth the artist not?

Lanier:
For thee, Cloud—if thou spend thine all
Upon the South's o'erbrimming sea
That needs thee not, or crawl
To the dry provinces and fall
Till every covert clod shall give to thee
Green worship; if thou grow or fade,
Bring on delight or misery,
Fix east or west, be made
Snow, hail, rain, wind, grass, rose, light, shade—
What matters it to thee. There is no thee.
Pass, kinsman Cloud, now fair and mild;
Discharge the Will that's not thine own.

Cloud:
I work in freedom wild.
But work as plays a little child,
Sure of the Father, Self, and Love alone.

Now, let the bright stream, the Chattahoochee, show you his innermost reflections: Listen to the impelling power of duty's call in "The Song of the Chattahoochee:"

But oh, not the hills of Habersham,
And oh, not the valleys of Hall
Avail: I am fain for to water the plain.
Downward the voices of duty call—
Downward, to toil and be mixed with the main,
The dry fields burn, and the mills are to turn,
And a myriad flowers mortally yearn,
And the Lordly main from beyond the plain
Calls o'er the hills of Habersham,
Calls through the valleys of Hall.

And who has not gained inspiration from his "Two Springs" that feed his fair Lake of Dreams? In whose liquid depths he found all that man holds as dear? Let us rejoice with him in the fact that in his wife's dear eyes he found all the completeness of life's little things, which he traced with bewitching grace that culminates in the wonderment expressed in these lines:

Dear eyes, dear eyes, and rare complete—
Being heavenly sweet and earthly-sweet,
—I marvel that God made you mine.
For when He frowns, 'tis then ye shine.

Again, Lanier is peer of American writers in dealing with atmosphere of reality and environment, idealizing his passionate love in his series of nature poems of unsurpassed charm.

Master Word Painter.

Few artists ever qualify for but one style in presentation of pictures—one specializes in morning tints, another prefers the noonday glare of the brilliant sun upon his landscape, while another produces twilight effects. Lanier has demonstrated what no artist has ever achieved; has painted, with wonderful effect, picturization of every gradation of light from the darkest hour that precedes dawn, through the blazing noonday, and has presented twilight effects and evening glow with master touch in a series of word paintings "the like" of which the world has never known. Come, let us verify this statement: Hear his apostrophe to the leaves: (One says hear, because full enjoyment of musical cadence is gained by reading aloud these exquisite tone-colorings.) Hear his apostrophe to the leaves in the dark of that early morning when he sang the swan-song of his soul—Sunrise!

Oh, cunning green leaves, little masters, like ye gloss
And the dull-tissued dark with your luminous darks that emboss
The vague blackness of night into pattern and plan;
So,
(But would I could know. Would I could know)
With your question embroidering the dark of the question of man,
So, with your silences purfling the silence of man
While his cry to the dead for some knowledge is under the ban,
Under the ban—
So, ye have wrought me
Designs on the night of our knowledge—yea ye have taught me,
So,
That haply we know somewhat more than we know,
Ye whisperers, whisperers, singers in storms,
Ye consciences, murmuring faiths under forms,
Ye ministers, meet for each passion that grieves,
Friendly, sisterly, sweetheart leaves,
Oh, rain me downe from your darks that contain me
Wisdoms ye winnow from winds that pain me—
Sift down tremors of sweet-within-sweet
That advise me of more than they bring—repeat
Me the wood smells that swiftly but now brought breath
From the heaven-side bank of the river of death—
Teach me the terms of silence—preach me The passion of patience, sift me, impeach me—
And there, oh there
As ye hang with your myriad palms upturned in the air,
Pray me a myriad prayer.

Now, let's turn the light of our introspection upon his vision of the dawn.

List! somewhere—mystery, where?
In the leaves? in the air?
In my heart? is a motion made;
'Tis a motion of dawn, like a flicker of shade on shade.
In the leaves 'tis palpable; low multitudinous stirring
Upwinds through the woods; the little ones, softly conferring,
Have settled my lord's to be looked for; so; they are still:
But the air and my heart and the earth are a-thrill—
And look where the wild duck sails round the bend of the river—
And look where a passionate shiver
Expectant is bending the blades
Of the marsh-grass in serial shimmers and shades—
And the invisible wings, fast fleeting,
Are beating
The dark overhead as my heart beats—and steady and free
Is the ebb-tide flowing from the marsh to the sea—
(Run home little streams,
With your lapfuls of stars and of dreams)—
And a sailor unseen is hoisting a peak,
For list, down the inshore curve of the creek,
How merrily flutters the sail—
And lo, in the east! Will the east unveil?
The east is unveiled, the east hath confessed
A flush: 'tis dead; 'tis dead, ere the west
Was aware of it: nay; 'tis a bidding, 'tis unwithdrawn:
Have a care, sweet Heaven, 'tis dawn.
Now a dream of a flame through that dream of a flush is uproled
To the zenith ascending, a dome of undazzling gold
Is builded, in shape as a beehive, from out of the sea:
The hive is of gold undazzling, but oh, the bee,
The star fed bee, the build-fire bee,
Of dazzling gold is the great sun-bee
That shall flash from the hive-hole over the sea.
Not slower than majesty moves, for a mean and a measure
Of motion—not faster than dateless Olympian leisure
Might pace with unblown ample garments from pleasure to pleasure,
The wave-serrate sea-rim sinks unjarring, unreeling,
Forever revealing, revealing, revealing,
Edgewise, bladewise, halfwise, wholewise—'tis done!
Good morrow, Lord Sun!
With several voice, with ascription one,
The woods and the marsh and the sea and my soul
Unto thee, whence the glittering stream of all morrows doth roll,
Cry good and past-good and most heavenly morrow, Lord Sun!

Marvelous! We will agree it is! Marvelously beautiful.

Another Scene.

Now the canvas unfolds another scene. The noonday glare. Yet, how wonderful its beauty and serenity as painted by Lanier. Hear his greeting at noon:

To Clover: A grave, good-morrow to your gracious all,
Fair filth and fruitful sea sons! No!
Lo, how still,
The mid-morn empties you of men, save me;
Speak to your lover, meadows! None can hear
'Tis a perfect hour,
From founts of dawn the fluent autumn day
Has rippled as a brook right pleasantly
Half way to noon, but now with widening turn
Make pause in lucent meditation locked
And rounds into a silver pool of morn,
Bottomed, Clover, else my soul is thine,
Since I am fain give study all the day,
To make thy ways my ways, thy service mine,
To seek me out thy God, my God to be,
And die from out myself to live in thee.
Now, Cousin Clover, tell me in mine ear:
Go'st thou to market with thy pink and green?
Of what avail this color and this grace?
Wert thou but squat of stem and brindle-brown,
Still careless herds would feed.
A poet, thou:
What worth, what worth, the whole of all thine art?
Three Leaves, instruct me! I am sick of price.
Framed in the arching of two Clover stems
Where—through I gaze from off my hill, afar,
The spacious fields me to heaven take on
Tremors of change and new significance
To th' eye, as the ear a simple tale
Begins to hint a parable's sense beneath.
Lo! What bulk is here?
Now comes the course-of-things, shaped like an ox,
Slow browsing, o'er my hillside, ponderously—
The huge-brawned, tame and workful course-of-things,
That hath his grass, if earth be round or flat,
And hath his grass, if empires plunge in pain
Or faiths flash out. This cool, unasking ox
Comes browsing o'er my hills and vales of time,
And thrusts me out his tongue, and curls it, sharp,
And twists them all in, in one sheaf—and champs and chews,
With silently churning jaws, and swallows down;
Then slowly plants a mighty forefoot out,
And makes advance to futurewards, one inch.
So: They have played their part.
And to this end?
This, God? This, troublous-breeding earth?
This, sun of hot quick pains? To this no end that ends,
This was all? This ox?

Nay, God's Clover, we, and feed this course-of-things:
The pasture is God's pasture; systems strange
Of food and fiberment He hath, whereby
The general brawn is built for plans of His.
To quality precise, Kinsman, learn this:
The artist's market is the heart of man;
The artist's price, some little good of man.
Tease not thy vision with vain search for ends.
The end of man is art that works by love.
End of Ends—in God's Beginning's lost."

Opalescent Tints.

And now, we will share his delight in the opalescent tints of the late afternoon as painted in his Hymn to the Marshes:

"Oh, like to the greatness of God is the greatness within
The range of the Marshes, the liberal Marshes of Glynn.
And the sea lends large as the marsh: lo out of his plenty the sea
Pours fast: full soon the time for flood-tide must be:
Look, how the grace of the sea doth go
About and about through the intricate channels that flow
Here and there!
Everywhere!
"Till his waters have flooded the uttermost creeks and low lying lanes
And the marsh is meshed with a million veins,
That like as with rosy and silvery escences flow
In the rose-and-silver evening glow.
Farewell, my lord Sun!"

Here, let us observe the beauty of landscape in his Evening Song—that has been set to music by several composers. The most lovely interpretation by Dudley Buck:

EVENING SONG.

Look off, dear Love, across the sallow sands,
And mark yon meeting of the sun and sea,
How long they kiss in sight of all the lands.
Ah! longer, longer, we.
Now in the sea's red vintage melts the sun,
As Egypt's pearl dissolved in rosy wine,
And Cleopatra Night drinks all. 'Tis done.
Love, lay thine hand in mine.
Come forth, sweet stars, and comfort Heaven's heart;
Glimmer, ye waves, round else unlighted sands.
O Night; divorce our sun and sky apart.
Never our lips, our hands.

Will you pardon my liberty in breaking the harmony of the Marshes of Glynn—as the digression was in the interest of a sequence of paintings as per "gradations of light." Return with me to The Mash—Let us observe night fall!

FAREWELL, MY LORD SUN!

"The creeks overflow: a thousand rivulets run
'Twixt the roots and the sod; the blades of the marsh-grass stir;
Passeth a hurrying sound of wings the westward whir;
Passeth and all is still; and the currents cease to run;
And the sea and the marsh are one.
How still the plains of the waters be!
The tide is in his ecstacy.
The tide is at his highest height:
And it is night.
And now from the vast of the Lord will thy waters of sleep
Roll in on the souls of men.
But who will reveal to our waking ken
The forms that swim and the shapes that creep
Under the waters of sleep?
And I would I could know what swimmeth below
When the tide comes in
On the length and the breadth of the marvelous
Marshes of Glynn."

One finds that Spirit of his Soul triumphant over the intricate plan of the pattern of his life through infinite patience and perfect submission to Divine Will that claimed that life in the zenith of the ascendency of his full young manhood of 39 years. Surely his soul's desire, as expressed in the closing lines of Sunrise, has been attained.

"Yonder, beside Thee, my soul shall float,
Friend Sun,
The day being done."

Today let us improve our acquaintance with this poet-musician until we feel the warm glow of friendly interest in this gifted son of the south, Sidney Lanier, whose love of Love in all his phases is so lovingly expressed in his poetry and in his prose that is musical, too.

Let us share Lanier's love of country and proclaim our faith in his creed as exemplified in the closing lines of his Centennial Cantata:

Long as thine Art shall love true Love,
Long as thy Science Truth shall know,
Long as thine eagle harms no dove,
Long as thy Law by Law doth grow—
Long as thy God is God above,
Thy Brother, every man below,
So long, dear Land—of -All-my-Love,
Thy name shall shine, thy fame shall glow!

And here is an exquisite gem that flashes with all the radiance of his soul. May we call it his own epitaph?

"SOULS AND RAINDROPS."

The Rain-drops fall and wrinkle the sea,
Then vanish and die, utterly—
One would not know that Rain-drops fell
If the round sea wrinkles did not tell.

So, Souls come down and wrinkle Life,
Then vanish in the flesh—sea—strife.
One would not know that Souls had place,
Were it not for the wrinkles on Life's face.

Atlanta's Public Schools

What They Are Doing—What They Are Trying To Do.

..This is the fourteenth of a series of articles on the Atlanta Public schools, prepared under the direction of the Personnel association of Atlanta. They are published to inform the parents and public about the schools and their work. The entire system will be discussed.

TEACHING OF SPELLING.

Words and clothes have both changed greatly in appearance since the days of George and Martha Washington. Fashion has had a great deal to do with it in both cases. In 1783 Noah Webster brought out his "American Spelling Book" (the one called "blue-backed"—though the front of it probably looked bluer to a child than the back did), and in 1827 his "Dictionary of the English language." These both helped to put spelling into uniform. Good usage admits no individuality in spelling. A word will no more let you change its appearance than a soldier would pin anything on his uniform. And since "spelling is spelling" the Atlanta public schools are trying to teach the children to spell the words they need in the most economical and helpful way possible.

There is evidently a widespread belief that graduates of the elementary schools cannot spell so well now as they did in earlier times. This belief that our forefathers spelled better than we do arose from the fact that a great deal was said about the good spellers who won in the old spelling bees and very little about the "ninety and nine" who were "spelled down." Too much was made of good spelling and too little attention given to bad spelling in the past. The old method of "spelling down" allowed the good spellers who won in the old spellers listened to them. Today it is not considered a mark of good teaching to have a record on the blackboard showing that one or two children in a room have been perfect in spelling throughout the year, but if the average of the group meets the standard requirements of the grade both teacher and pupils are proud of the record.

In 1906 some old spelling examination papers which had been written in 1846 were discovered in the attic of one of the school buildings in Springfield, Mass. The words were pronounced to the eighth grade children and they did much better than their forefathers had done in the same school. This old Springfield list has been pronounced to eighth grade children all over the country with the same results: Children of the present generation have shown superiority as spellers over the Springfield children of 1846.

The Hundred Demons.

In Atlanta the old method of teaching words regardless of their difficulty or likelihood of use is no longer in style. The problem of the usefulness of words has been fairly well solved by such educators as Jones and Ayres. They have found that not more than 1,000 words are necessary to satisfy most of our daily needs and that 100 of these common words are misspelled many more times than the other 900. It is interesting to know that the word Mr. Jones found to be most frequently misspelled was not asafoetida, but which. The next most commonly misspelled was their and there and separate had fourth place on this "roll of dishonor." These words are now called the "One Hundred Spelling Demons," and children over the United States are learning to spell them. Of course, each teacher chooses the words for her week's study that will be most helpful and necessary in carrying on the projects for the week. The words should be so connected with the real problems of daily life that the child cannot fail to appreciate their usfulness. While the teacher's judgment as to what words should be used is better than the child's, greater enthusiasm and interest may be aroused by having the pupils help occasionally in making the spelling list.

Knowing what to teach leads to the next question—how to teach it. When a well-chosen list of words has been either selected from written xercises or found in a spelling book it is not enough to assign these in groups for the children to learn. Pupils are not told to "study the next lesson," without an attempt on the part of the teacher to point out or have the children point out the pitfalls to be avoided. It has been found that the best results are secured when the teacher studies and plans the spelling lesson carefully in advance, and leads the pupils to see the difficulties in each word. Children should be taught the meaning and use of words before they memorize them. For such study not more than two or three new words could be considered in one period in the primary grades, and from two to five in the grammar grades in their period of 15 minutes. Two or three review words might be added.

Written Spelling Important.

Written spelling has gained precedence over oral spelling. The ability to spell orally is of little value to us, since in speaking we do not have to spell. We need to spell only when we write and it is by our writing that our spelling is judged. No matter how well a child shows off in a spelling lesson and no matter how well he can spell when he tries, his ability as a speller depends on the number of mistakes he makes in written composition. For this reason, spelling words are given in sentences and written in sentences.

The beginning of formal teaching of spelling is now delayed until the second half of the first school year or the beginning of the second year. The delay of written composition and penmanship because of the primacy of reading postpones the need of knowing how to spell. Children learn to spell first the words they need most.

A favored plan in teaching spelling is to give a test on Friday of the words to be studied the following week. The papers are checked and no child is required to study a word he already knows. The words missed most often by the class are taught first and drilled most thoroughly during the next week. As they study the words the children are taught to visualize them so as to have a clear picture for recall. At the end of the week another test is given on the same words so that the children may know how many words they have learned during the week.

Words Easily Forgotten.

Words, like people, are forgotten when not seen often. In spelling "old acquaintance must not be forgot and-never brought to mind." Frequent reviews will keep the word picture before the child until it is in truth his. The old-fashion spelling match is not altogether scorned as an occasional incentive for review. It still has limited value as class exercises provided the words used have been previously taught. The yearly spelling match between the representatives of the Atlanta schools is an affair looked forward to with much pleasure.

Competition in its varied forms is a legitimate incentive, for it appeals to human interest. There are two kinds of competition. Two people may compete with each other or each one may compete with himself, that is, he may try to beat his own record. The athlete tries to surpass himself until field day arrives, when he pits his best self against his rival. The golfer tries to raise his own score. This kind of competition is used in school. A boy studying his own spelling score was heard the other day to say, "Look out for Johnny. He's coming along." A row of pupils may strive to better the average of the row as well as to outdo the next. A room may raise its average if it cannot always be the banner room of the school.

Games and devices are used in helping children to spell. Probably there is no one of us who does not have some trick for remembering a specially difficult word. Some remember believe and receive by thinking of the li and ce in Alice. Separate and grammar are set right by the fact that pa is found in one and ma in the other.

The spelling lesson may be made one of the most interesting of school exercises. It has the always attractive quality of brevity. The lesson may be most varied in character. It should be pointed and snappy. If the words are well selected and pupils are made to be partners with the teachers they will like to spell—and the thing they like to do they will do well—hence bright prospects seem to be ahead for spelling.

Is Blanchard a Socialist? Let His Own Record Speak!

Editor Constitution: Your splendid defense of the textile industries of the south, as evidenced by your most recent editorial, "Pernicious Propaganda," is much appreciated. We rather felt that the recent visit of Paul Blanchard to Atlanta would bring up this question again, as Mr. Blanchard, as secretary of the League of Industrial Democracy, never overlooks the chance to take a slap at the cotton manufacturers.

When the report of a committee of certain sectarian leaders was made public early in 1927, the Georgia Manufacturers' association commented on the matter in the following terms:

"Much harm is being done to southern industry by false claims perfectionity circulated by misinformed clerics of pride, if no other reason, should guide spokesmen for reform when issuing their jeremiads against the screaming 'injustices' of southern manufacture and personal appeals to the offenders made before recourse is had to publicity for relief. Bishop James Cannon, Jr., four fellow bishops, three Episcopal bishops, two Methodist Episcopal bishops and leading pastors in practically all communities in the south are 'reported' in the latest press articles; after a bouquet handed southern industry for its growth, as follows: 'We bring before you with the greater confidence, therefore, the necessity for the improvement of certain social and economic conditions, especially in the textile industry, but existing also in other industries. These are the isolation of population in the mill villages; the long working week, extending in many industries even to 55 and 60 hours; a certain amount of the seven-day week which still exists in some industries; the employment of women and of children between 14 and 16 at overlong periods of labor, low wage standards in some industries, with consequent depressed standards of living; the general absence of labor representation in our factories.'

"The reverend gentlemen quoted have evidently again fallen for the smooth northern propagandist. Where are these glaring abuses that they complain of so readily? They damn industries, but leave out the definite article that would identify the particular ones they plan to tear down. Their indictment is full of somes, certains and other specious terms so glibly used by the reformer not armed with facts. The only industry they dare mention by name is the textile industry, and this great phase of southern constructiveness has done more to ameliorate the condition of its employees in the past five years than any other industry anywhere. We are frankly at our understanding of the practices complained of to feel that the final indictment: 'the general absence of labor representation in our factories,' is the real abuse the reverend bishops, etc., would correct, and also its inclusion in the charges an inadvertence the American Federation of Labor is likely to chide them for."

We do not feel that the northern mill owners are the inspiration of Blanchard's tirades, nor of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, as Mr. Cheney, one of the foremost silk manufacturers in the United States, has been outspoken in his comparison of conditions existing in northern mills, as compared to southern mills, particularly where children are concerned, and to the praise of the latter.

At the annual meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers' Association of Georgia held in Atlanta in 1927, W. D. Anderson, president of the Bibb Manufacturing company, himself a leading Methodist churchman of the south, in an extensive, forceful address, condemned this attack by the federal council, and denied its truthfulness in toto. Mr. Anderson held up the conditions existing in southern mills as being as nearly ideal as it was possible to make them. If there were any truth in the charges which have been made by the radical leaders, the gentleman quoted would never have dared to lay himself open to a charge of making inaccurate statements.

The purpose of the League for Industrial Democracy, of which Mr. Blanchard is field secretary, should be answer enough to any of his supporters. In one of its own pamphlets, it states.

"The League for Industrial Democracy, an organization for the purpose of teaching the fundamental principles of socialism to American college students . . . It was formed in 1921 as the successor to the Inter-Collegiate Socialist society."

Mr. Blanchard, who is evidently a very good customer of the railroads, in 1926, in the first seven months, visited 66 colleges, and spoke before 38,500 students. He addressed more than 13,000 others in 58 city meetings. He was aided by Norman Thomas, one of the two executive directors who delivered 79 speeches in 25 collegiate institutions before audiences totaling 6,700. Harry W. Laidler, another associate, addressed 2,600 students of 17 colleges.

You will note from the above that Mr. Blanchard, who has been indentified with the American fund for public service (the Garland fund) to help the Cantonese—the communist group in control of the Hankow Chinese government—is an active worker, and has been pretty thoroughly identified with socialistic problems, both within our colleges and among the public. The fact that our educators from a local college have been prompt to jump to his defense is an added verification of our statement.

We regret the length of this communication, but feel that the public should know something about the character of people who are condemning our section, when it is possible to give them the information.

We heartily thank you for the strong editorial of Sunday and its related editorial of today, and we feel that both of them will do much good in enlightening those who would interfere with our progress.

J. P. McGRATH,
Secty. Ga. Mfgrs' Association.
Atlanta, Ga., January 31, 1928.

Mrs. Rebecca Felton Urges a Worthy Convocation On Stephens' Anniversary

Editor Constitution: I have just finished the reading of Mr. Hollomon's article in today's Constitution and his appeal for an invitation to be sent to Mr. Borglum, who has generously donated the model from which the marble statue of A. H. Stephens was copied.

As one who was present in the Hall of Fame on December 8, 1927, I can bear testimony to the beautiful address made by Mr. Borglum at that time. It was a most forbearing speech, knowing as I do what sort of treatment he had received since he was deposed and the ferret-like activity of others who were noly maneuvering that day—to use the opportunity of the unveiling exercises—to make the name of Stephens the tail of the kite. It would need the genius of Charles Dickens to illustrate such Pecksniffian tactics!

Alexander Stephens was a distinguished son of Georgia when I was a small girl and Governor Hardman tendered me an appointment to be one of a committee of two to say, "Georgia honors herself when she tells the 48 states and territories of this union that she exults in the well merited name of Stephens on this occasion."

I could have said that much in a minute, but I was not allowed to say it. The "slave woman" had more attention from the managers and operators and I will say conspirators to forestall an old veteran from her appointed task in the Hall of Fame on December 8, 1927.

I ask The Constitution to print what I am here writing that no such tactics may afflict the meeting in the auditorium on February 11, 1928.

Fulton county and the city of Atlanta contributed $10,000 to make a laudable showing in Washington on December 8, and Fulton county might have had its own mouthpiece at that time and on that occasion. I do not know, but I have been informed by a councilman or alderman that the mayor's mouthpiece was not allowed to rise up and be counted, as the colored woman, and aged Mrs. Felton were permitted to do, with no privilege to open their mouths in the Hall of Fame.

In this connection I will say I bought my railroad tickets and Pullman ticket in Atlanta on December 6 and when I stepped out from the Pullman sleeper in Washington I had the assistance of a negro porter to reach congress hall by the help of a taxi. I also paid my hotel bill for lodging—for two nights—and was able to reach home safely, paying all out of my own pocket and being very comfortable in mind and body and qualified to answer questions when it appeared that the twelve Georgia congressmen were also overlooked in the "unusual parade" that was pulled off in the department of commerce.

I felt sorry that the great-nephew of the elder Aleck and his namesake and also a judge of Georgia's court of appeals had to sit down in silence, when he should have been given a chance to return expected thanks from the Stephens family.

And the Congressional Record was stuffed full of the unveiling exercises! It also contained a speech made by Judge Ernest Kontz, as the deputy of Mayor Ragsdale! I here testify that Judge Kontz's name never fell on my ears while I remained in the Hall of Fame. I was perhaps bewildered with my recollections of a time when the troops of a southern cavalry leader gave me a night of horror in Bartow county early in 1864 when I was alone except for my children and the overseer and my house was soon filled with screaming negro women, fleeing to me for protection, and we and the neighbors suffered the heavy loss of eighteen mules and horses between dark and daylight.

To listen to the fulsome praise of this general and to see the wreaths and decorations laid on his statue, and to feel that the vice president of the collapsed Confederacy was the "horse that they rode in on," might have made me a little deaf to the name of Judge Kontz—if he was named in that convocation.

Ere long Georgia will dedicate a monument and place it on the grounds of the state capital to Lee and Long street. The descendants of the soldiers under Longstreet will pay a dollar each to pay the charges. This is my prophesy.

REBECCA L. FELTON.
Cartersville, February 1, 1928.

Josephine Dunn, Kathleen Williams and Edwin Martindel have been cast for character roles in "We Americans," now in its third week of production at Universal City, George Sidney, Beryl Mercer, George Lewis, Patsy Ruth Miller and Albert Gran are included in a cast which, from all reports, is as carefully and capably selected as any which Universal has ever announced. Edward Sloman is directing, under the supervision of Carl Laemmle, Jr.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS

Scenes from the smaller theaters are, from left to right, "Naughty But Nice" at the West End; "Shanghai Bound" at the Ponce de Leon; "The Land Beyond the Law" at the Tudor; "Heaven on Earth" at the Palace; "Altars of Desire" at the Tenth Street and "Man Crazy" at the Alamo No. 2.

Cute Blonde 'Joins Army' At Capitol

Laura LaPlante Seen as Buck Private in "Finders Keepers."

Laura La Plante as a buck private in the army!

Now, don't rush out and enlist in the army before you hear the rest; for the personable and beautiful blond star of Universal pictures, is seen merely in an uproariously funny picture, "Finders Keepers," at the Capitol theater this week in such a situation as delights audiences.

You've seen comedy after comedy, but if the verdict of other audiences in cities over the country is to be taken as criterion, then "Finders Keepers" is due to hand you the biggest lot of laughs you've had in a long, long time.

The story is by Mary Roberts Rinehart and is a splendidly executed bit of entertainment. No dull moments, lots of laughs, a good share of thrills and a cast of real actors.

This picture, in theatrical parlance, "clicks," and that is, it's a great success. Everybody likes it and tells his friends with the result that coins are continually clicking in the box office and the manager wears a prosperous look because he is filling his house and his patrons are going away with a smile, feeling that they have more than got their money's worth. In other words, everybody's happy.

And Laura La Plante is the cause. She has never been photographed better. The entire picture is an artistic creation. It is comedy on a grand scale. And, if you doubt that comedy is art, just see "Finders Keepers."

John Harron is appealing in his role and adds many laughs to a mirthful film. Harron played opposite Miss La Plante in her recent picture "Silk Stockings," which, by the way, was also directed by Wesley Ruggles, a very successful trio.

In the supporting cast are many star players with especial credit going to Edmund Breese, Arthur Rankin, William Gorman, Eddie Phillips and Joe Mack.

Al Short Hit Of New Type Stage Shows

Former Howard Bandmaster Originated New Form of Stage Entertainment.

BY ELMO HAMBY.

Al Short, the great maestro, who for six months presided (and how!) over the Howard stage here, scored unheard-of success in a sensational return to Chicago, introducing a new form of entertainment originated by himself, which, it is predicted, will supplant the present form of band-show entertainment, according to reports in Chicago newspapers and in national trade magazines received here.

The unsurpassable genius who received the greatest ovation ever given anybody—yep, including Lindy—here in his final week at the Howard, has conceived a type of stage entertainment which is patterned closely along musical comedy lines and which combined the stage band idea with vaudeville, according to A. Raymond Gallo, noted presentation editor of the Exhibitor's Herald and Moving Picture World.

Mr. Gallo predicts that Mr. Short's new idea will supplant the present form of entertainment, and it met with phenomenal success in its introduction at the Capitol theater, Chicago, of which Mr. Short is managing director.

Judging from reports, Al's return to his native city was pretty nearly like the return of the prodigal son, only more so, if you get the idea. And when Al pulled the hidden ace out of his sleeve, it fed fuel to the flames of popularity which burned on his arrival.

Al Short—Maestro!

Circus Drama.

Marshall Neilan has sent all the elephants home! In other words, he has finished his directorial work on First National Pictures' big circus drama, "Do It Again," in which Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes share featured honors.

The picture, which was adapted from "Help Yourself to Hay," a magazine story by Dixie Willson, is now in the cutting room. It deals with circus drama, romance and intrigue and circus atmosphere, exclusively, and the whole film company traveled with the Al G. Barnes circus in order to make it.

Hines Stars Picture.

"Chinatown Charlie" is rolling along literally, because the Johnny Hines comedy opus for First National Pictures started on a sightseeing bus.

For this film version of the New York stage melodrama, which will be translated into terms of comedy to a large extent, C. C. Burr, production manager, has signed Louise Lorraine for the feminine lead opposite the star. She plays the part of Annie Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Roach sailed from San Francisco last week bound on a round-the-world cruise. Roach, whose comedy product is now being released through Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will probably not be back at his Culver City studio until next summer. Meanwhile the forty comedies on the 1927-28 production schedule are being completed according to plans outlined before his departure.

RAY TEAL PRESENTS NEW 'JAZZ A LA CARTE'

Starting tonight at 12:01 a. m. the Howard theater will present another big midnight matinee with the complete de luxe program.

The stage attraction will be "Jazz a la Carte," the feature, Charlie Chaplin's latest comedy, "The Circus."

In "Jazz a la Carte" Ray Teal and the Howard stage orchestra have what looks to be about the fastest and most entertaining stage bit to be seen at the Publix house in some time. The large cast in the production includes many Broadway stars, every one of which should prove popular. Rosemary, the prima donna, is well known among theater goers throughout the country on the concert stage and in vaudeville. She also has scored in Broadway musical comedy, having had leading parts in "Tip Top" and "The Music Box Revue."

Charles Rozella, whose novelty musical act should be a sensation has been a well-known figure on the vaudeville stage for the past 20 years. Rozella boasts the ability to play 26 different musical instruments, despite the fact that he never had a music lesson in his life.

Allen and Ray Samuels, whose perfect team work in dancing is said to surpass any dance duo in the business, are making their first tour of the Publix circuit. Prior to this time they were associated with Fanchon and Marco on the west coast. Others in the big array of specialty artists are the "Happy Go Lucky Boys," Lee Ball, Paul Howard, Hubert Hilton, Cliff Daly, Ed Mowen, Arthur Brainard, Tudor Penrose and Harold Cravit.

West End.

A practical demonstration of how to tame sheiks is given by Colleen Moore, in "Naughty But Nice," which shows at the West End Monday and Tuesday.

"Metropolis," the brain child of Fitz Lang, the German director who made "Siegfreid," has been booked for the West End for Wednesday only. Words can't describe "Metropolis." It must be seen.

Dolores Costello, star of "The Heart of Maryland," which shows Thursday and Friday, has never been so appealingly beautiful as in the role of Maryland Calvert—the girl, who, while passionately loving the south, found her heart divided against itself in love for a soldier of the north. Jack Holt and Dorothy Revier will appear in "The Tigeress" Saturday.

Palace.

The millions of people whose hearts were moved by Renee Adoree as the little French girl in "The Big Parade" will acclaim the great actress' latest appearance as the gypsy beauty in "Heaven on Earth," which will be at the Palace Monday and Tuesday.

"Metropolis," which will be shown Wednesday only, is totally different from any film you have ever seen. Whether this picture is a peep into the future or merely imagination run riot, it is a film you cannot afford to miss.

James Oliver Curwood is the author of "Back to God's Country," the Universal picture starring Renee Adoree, which will be at the Palace Thursday and Friday. Saturday's offering, "Fast and Furious," is a typical Reginald Denny picture, in which thrills and laughs abound.

Register Now for "All-Atlanta Movie"

OFFICIAL CASTING TICKET

This ticket entitles the holder to admission to the Howard Theater for The Constitution-Howard casting party. Not transferable.

Present at stage door at 7:30 p. m., Friday, Feb. 10th.

RETAIN THIS STUB

OFFICIAL CASTING CARD
FIRST ALL-ATLANTA MOVIE
Sponsored by The Atlanta Constitution and the Howard Theatre

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....
PHONE .....

Type		Personal Description		Experience
Leads	( )	Age	.....	Ride	( )
Ingenue	( )	Height	.....	Swim	( )
Juvenile	( )	Weight	.....	Dancing	( )
Comedian	( )	Hair	.....	Amateur dramatics	( )
Child parts	( )	Eyes	.....	Drive car	( )
Character parts	( )			Acrobatics, boxing	( )

RETAIN SMALL STUB—MAIL OTHER TO HOWARD THEATRE

Wedding Silver

—for the spring bride

The Fontaine is one of the handsomest designs shown in our large collection of Sterling Silver. An air of luxury is expressed in the ornamentation and very heavy weight and is a very appropriate design for wedding silver.

Dinner Knives .....$50.00 a dozen.
Dinner Forks .....$70.00 a dozen.
Table Spoons .....$78.00 a dozen.
Tea Spoons .....$25.00 a dozen.

See the collection of Sterling Silver gifts for the spring bride now on display.

MAIER & BERKELE, Inc.
Jewelers and Silversmiths
65 Whitehall St., S. W.
Established 40 Years

Photoplay News

CONDUCTED by LORENZO JONES JR.

Howard Gets Long-Awaited Chaplin Film

"The Circus" Opens Tonight at Big Midnight Matinee.

Starting tonight with a gala midnight matinee at 12:01 a. m., the Howard theater will present Charlie Chaplin in "The Circus"—peanuts, sawdust, pink lemonade, clowns tigers, elephants, roaring lions, acrobats, wire-walkers, and Charlie Chaplin in his brand new comedy will be in town. Written, directed and produced by Charlie Chaplin, "The Circus" was two years in the making and it is the first Chaplin comedy since "The Gold Rush."

Charlie plays a wandering lad who is mixed up in a series of hilarious adventures, chases, arguments and ovations that land him in "The Circus" as a very fine fellow. Myrna Kennedy is his leading lady. She makes her screen debut in the role. Others in the cast are Harry Crocker, Henry Bergman, Betty Morrissey and Allan Garcia.

According to officials of United Artists corporation, which released the new Chaplin comedy, "The Circus" presents the Chaplin of old, the Chaplin of "Shoulder Arms," "Pay Day" and "The Pilgrim"—the thumping, bumping little man with the trick derby and cane, the wriggling moustache and the feet almighty. Chaplin himself announced during production of "The Circus," which was made at his own studio in Hollywood, that his new picture would be "a low brow comedy for high brows."

Charlie's new comedy will be shown in addition to the regular Publix presentation, "Jass a la Carte," in which Ray Teal and the Howard stage orchestra are said to have an interesting surprise to offer. Both attractions will be shown at the midnight matinee tonight.

Clara Bow has been getting away with murder—so far as concerns her manipulation of susceptible men—for months. But in her next picture, the red-haired star of Paramount pictures will take up all sorts of crimes as a serious study. The title will be "Ladies of the Mob," which in underworld language means ladies of the "gang," and she will have a chance to translate crime into its most deadly female form. The director will be William Wellman, the ex-aviator, who made "Wings" and "The Legion of the Condemned."

NEWSPAPER PICTURE FEATURED AT GRAND

John Gilbert, who is rising to supreme heights in the cinema art, will star in "Man, Woman and Sin," at Loew's Grand theater this week. Gilbert invades the newspaper game for his new role and with the aid of Jeanne Eagels brings a sensational thriller that surpasses in many respects his classical portrayals in "Flesh and the Devil."

The new story is an ultra-modern romance laid in a newspaper office—in a big Washington daily. The thrill of news gathering in the national capital is embellished with a startling plot and a remarkable romance, in which Gilbert plays a role that shows another side of his extraordinary versatility. Monta Bell, both author and director of the play, was himself once a newspaper man in Washington, hence his production has the echo of the man who knows his subject.

The audience is taken into a newspaper office and shown the whole business of publishing a paper, from gathering the news to printing it, in a series of scenes that are graphic and technically marvelous. A spectacular detail is a reproduction of the great Embassy Ball, largest social affair in America, staged on a gorgeous scale.

Gilbert plays an American youth who by sheer work rises from poverty to the position of a newspaper reporter on a big daily—and his first love affair is with the pretty society editor, a role played by Jeanne Eagels, famous stage star of "Rain," who makes her screen debut in the picture. Miss Eagels' fame as an actress has long since been established; needless to say she plays her role with extreme artistry.

METROPOLITAN FILM IS WOMEN'S WARES

A picture of unusual entertainment qualities and with a cast of exceptional players is "Women's Wares" at the Metropolitan this week. It tells in both serious and comical veins the trials and tribulations of a New York shop girl who is not used to the ways of men who make it their business to become acquainted with the pretty girls so plentiful in a big city.

Dolly Morton discovers that men are all untrustworthy and she dismisses her boy friend after he has taken her out for a "good time." Determined to get even with all men she gets a position in a Fifth avenue modiste shop as a mannikin and looks for the "live" ones with a motto to get everything coming but to give nothing in return. She outwits a rich roue who pays her court and then falls in love with the scion of a wealthy family only to discover in the end that he is of the same calibre of those who have come into her life before.

Disgusted and disillusioned she turns to her first love satisfied that love demands more than external things. The splendid cast is headed by the charming Evelyn Brent, together with Bert Lytell and Larry Kent, and they are supported by some of the screen's best known players including Gertrude Short, Richard Tucker, Myrtle Steadman, Cissy Fitzgerald and Sylvia Ashton.

A Mack Sennett comedy, featuring Billie Bevan, entitled "Love in a Police Station" will also be a feature of the program.

Enrico Leide and his Metropolitan orchestra will play as an overture, "Sh-h— Here Comes My Sugar," and the theme selected to accompany the feature is "One Golden Hour With You."

Metropolitan News and Views and a new issue of "Fun from the Press" also are on the bill.

Rowland V. Lee, the director of Pola Negri's popular "Barbed Wire," has just been assigned to direct her in her next picture, as yet untitled, upon which she is to start work within a few weeks.

ON the SCREEN

Yum! Yum! fee fi fo fum, and all the rest. Speaking of cuties who look good enough to eat—well, anyway, we gentlemen will pack the Capitol theater this week to see Laura LaPlante, upper left, in her latest starring vehicle, "Finders Keepers." Just below are Evelyn Brent and Bert Lytell, featured in "Women's Wares," at the Metropolitan. Charles Spencer Chaplin, the inimitable, will be seen at the Howard theater this week in his long-awaited "The Circus." John Gilbert, who must make a picture a week, is seen at Loew's Grand this week as a dashing young reporter in "Man, Woman, Sin." William Boyd and the gent with the gun are sen at the Rialto.

Big Variety Act Tops New Capitol Vaudeville Bill

One of the most famous vaudeville organizations in the world, the Transfield Sisters and their Voyagers, comes as the headline attraction on the current Pantages bill of vaudeville at the Capitol theater, which promises all the variety of vaudeville in addition to the showing of "Finders Keepers," heralded as the biggest laugh-film of the year.

The Transfield Sisters will present a delightful program of songs, dances and music which transports one to the highest realm of entertainment. Headlining the big act itself will be the Transfield Sisters, themselves, most famous of all sister teams on the vaudeville stage.

The Transfield sisters are the height of versatility. They play saxophones, xylophones, mandolins, banjoes and then they sing in perfect harmony. In all of the numbers the Transfield sisters present absolutely the finest type of skill and ability.

In addition to the two famous sisters, the Voyagers, a seven-piece jazz organization, and Miss Margaret Reeve, a talented clog dancer and singer, will also be featured in the act.

The zenith of cuteness and attractiveness in the form of female beauty is forecast to be displayed for Atlanta audiences at the Capitol theater this week with the appearance in next-to-headliner position of Beatrice Leon and Sybil Dawn, in an original comedy classic, "Kids is Kids."

These two personable young ladies will offer singing, dancing and talking, all presented with indescribable personality and attractiveness, and as a result, they're liable to prove sensational hits on the new Capitol bill this week.

"Yes Means No" is the title of a playlet which will be presented by Nolan Leary and company, a famous vaudeville comedy organization. The playlet is built somewhat after the pattern of "Nothing But the Truth," and it gives Leary and pretty Miss Helen Keith Johnstone countless opportunities for funmaking.

The whole playlet is built around the situation that Leary has to answer "yes" to every question or lose his girl friend. You can imagine what priceless comedy follows.

A unique act is seen for the presentation of Fargo and Richards, two burlesque saxophone players who get a lot of fun out of a little music, song and a lot of words. They present an excellent comedy act ornamented with some real good music and one very special number.

The Texans, a couple of clever rope artists from the great open spaces of the west, will offer "A Study in Rope-Ology," a very entertaining combination program of roping, lariat twirling and dancing with ropes.

GOOD BILL SLATED AT PONCE DE LEON

This week's program at the Ponce de Leon theater presents an array of unusually imposing film attractions, five big-time features being booked for the screen.

The program will be launched Monday with the screening of "Figures Don't Lie," starring beautiful Esther Ralston in a wholesome story featuring an absent-minded business man, his pretty secretary, a young sales manager and a jealous wife. The theme is an interesting one and the producers secured splendid effect from the entertaining situations involved.

On Tuesday Bobby Agnew will make his appearance in "The College Hero," a Liberty picture. Replete with thrills, rich in comedy and carrying a beautiful love story of youth, it is one of the week's most promising events.

Richard Dix and Mary Brian, two of the most popular stars in the movie firmament, will appear at the Ponce de Leon Wednesday in "Shanghai Bound," a Paramount picture. This is another thrilling picture, with the sea and its spawn providing a vivid background and with "modern China" playing an important and fascinating part in the play.

For Thursday and Friday the Ponce de Leon has booked "The Harvester," screen adaptation of Gene Stratton Porter's beautiful story by the same name. Natalie Kingston and an all-star cast show to admirable advantage in this magnificent picture.

The week closes Saturday with "Fangs of Justice," featuring Johnnie Walker, June Marlowe and the famous dog, Silverstreak. The story carries the audience from New York to the World War front and later becomes involved in a stirring mystery, the solution of which is splendidly worked out.

Billie Love in "The Heart of a Follies Girl," will wear some of the most beautiful and daring costumes she has ever worn in a First National picture. They are the creation of Max Ree, costume designer at the studio.

Tudor.

Ken Maynard, one of the favorite western stars, appears at the Tudor on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in his latest, "The Land Beyond the Law." It is the story of a very remote section of the west, where things were peaceful until someone started encroaching upon the grazing lands claimed by the ranchers, and of the adventure of a special deputy sent by the governor to break up the lawlessness. Unable to stop it, the young man took it upon himself to appoint as his aide a notorious outlaw who had no love for a rancher wearing the cloak of decency, but in reality a desperado himself, and then to make things hum.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Tudor offers Tom Mix in "The Canyon of Light," another of this star's dramatic tales of the west. It brings the star back as a rearing-tearing two-gunman who, with his horse, Tony, gives the country something to remember.

HAROLD LLOYD PICTURE RETURNED TO RIALTO

"Grandma's Boy," regarded as the greatest comedy Harold Lloyd ever made, is at the top of the program which will be offered at the Rialto theater all this week. The fact that it is being brought back here is regarded as prima facie evidence that it is better than any of the comedies available today, according to the opinion of Manager W. T. Murray, of the Rialto.

Along with "Grandma's Boy" will be the seventh episode of the Beauty Parlor series of short subjects, this one being entitled "The Chin He Loved to Lift."

For giggles, smiles, guffaws, chortles, hysterics and hurricanes of mirth, "Grandma's Boy" is more than something to laugh about—it offers food for thought as well.

Under all the humor, the infectious, bubbling mirth which Lloyd radiates from the celluloid surface of this picture, there is a lesson for cowards, for the puny, for the hesitant.

The theme of "Grandma's Boy" centers about that most cherished of American ideals—courage! Between convulsions of mirth it teaches self-confidence and the power of mind over matter as no philosopher of a religious or scientific school has ever been able.

Grandma's only grandson has never worn a chip on his shoulder. From babyhood he had always been on the receiving end of every scrap, and he never hit back. He didn't mind it so much until he started courting Mildred, when he was no match for the bully who let Harold do all the work while he grabbed the credit.

When every man in town is deputized to catch the tramp who robbed and killed a jeweler, Harold sinks into the lowest depths of fear and cowardice, only to rise to the heights of bravery and daring.

Alamo No. 2.

An outstanding event of the present season is the showing Monday at the Alamo No. 2 theater of "Man Crazy," the First National picture featuring Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall.

"Man Crazy" has been acclaimed the best vehicle that this popular team has ever had, and with an exceptional cast, beautiful photography and many comedy touches, this drama of New England is one that should amuse and entertain everyone.

"Man Crazy" is adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Clarissa and the Post Road," by Grace Sartwell Mason. It deals with the daughter of an aristocratic old New England family, who horrifies her sedate grandmother by starting a "hot dog" stand along the old Post road, and then falling in love with the driver of a truck.

"Man Crazy" was directed by John Francis Dillon and produced for First National release by Charles R. Rogers. The capable cast includes Walter McGrail, Edythe Chapman, Phillips Smalley, Ray Hallor and many others.

The average dress pattern required almost two yards more material in 1918 than in 1927.

ENTIRE WEEK

Beginning Monday

Mirthquakes
Of Laughter!
Tidal Waves
Of Joy!

Granny's Boy Coming

"Grandma's Boy" is coming. He's from Blossom Bend, and he's scared to death of girls.

A Revival of

HAROLD LLOYD in Grandma's Boy

Where Laughter Reigns and Joy Pours!

"His Greatest Comedy." This is a big statement, but it's hardly big enough to describe "Grandma's Boy." Its more than a comedy—There's laughs aplenty—hilarious fun, situations that rock the house—but through it all comes the echo from Heartbreak House, where Love and Romance and Youth's Dreams dwell—and where the Jester of Life looks on and Smiles!

RIALTO

CAPITOL

ATLANTA'S FINEST THEATRE
Continuous Performance
Daily from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m.

THIS WEEK

Beautiful ~ Vivacious

LAURA LA PLANTE

A UNIVERSAL PICTURE

in "Finders Keepers"

on the stage

THE TRANSFIELD SISTERS
And Their Voyagers
Presenting
Music, Songs and Dances Aboard Ship
With DART'S TROUBADOURS
And FLORENCE REEVE

BEATRICE ~ LEON and DAWN ~ SYBIL
in their Original Comedy Classic ~ "Kids IS Kids"

WYLIE and SLACK
Futuristic Jail Birds

CHARLES ~ FARGO RICHARDS ~ LEAH in Saxology

THE TEXANS
Presenting "A Study in Ropeology" story by Mary Roberts Rinehart

With a Great Cast, including
JOHN HARRON ~ EDMUND BREESE
ARTHUR RANKIN ~ WILLIAM GORMAN
EDDIE PHILLIPS ~ JOE MACK

~ also ~

COMEDY
INTERNATIONAL NEWSREEL
CARTOON

PRICES ~
Matinee 35¢ ~ Night 60¢
Loge seats reserved in advance for any performance ~ 50¢ ~ 75¢

PONCE DE LEON THEATRE
MONDAY
"FIGURES DON'T LIE"
Esther Ralston
TUESDAY
"THE COLLEGE HERO"
With Bobby Agnew
WEDNESDAY
"SHANGAI BOUND"—DIX
THURSDAY-FRIDAY
Gene Stratton-Porter's
Great Novel
"THE HARVESTER"
Sat.—"Fangs of Justice"

Two big action pictures!

Mon.-Tues.-Wed.
KEN MAYNARD
in
"The Land Beyond Law"

Thu.-Fri.-Sat.
TOM MIX in
"The Canyon of Light"

15c Matinee ——— 20c Night

TUDOR

METROPOLITAN

THIS WEEK PRESENTS

Women's Wares

By E. MORTON HOUGH

SHE Played a Game as Old as Eve—

A Story of a Beautiful Manikin Who Craved Life and Riches

Starring Evelyn Brent

Lately featured with Emil Jannings in "The Last Command," and the following cast: Bert Lytell, Larry Kent, Gertrude Short, Richard Tucker and other screen stars.

Fighting against Love, Love came her way

MACK SENNETT COMEDY
BILLIE BEVAN in
"LOVE IN A POLICE STATION"

FUN FROM THE PRESS

METROPOLITAN NEWS AND VIEWS

ENRICO LEIDE AND HIS METROPOLITAN ORCHESTRA

Starting Hours—11:00, 12:30, 2:15, 4:00, 5:45, 7:30, 9:15

HOWARD

One of the Publix Theatres

STARTING TONIGHT
AT 12:01 A. M.
WITH A
MIDNIGHT MATINEE
(Complete De-Luxe Program)

The Greatest Show of Mirth!

CHARLIE CHAPLIN
—IN—
"The Circus"

After long suspense, your wait is rewarded with the greatest comedy of all time! Side-splitting, rib-shaking—it's funny enough to make a lion roar—and you too!

HAMRICK at the ORGAN

Publix Stage Show

RAY TEAL
AND THE HOWARD STAGE ORCHESTRA
—IN—
"JAZZ A LA CARTE"

Everything from classics to jazz in a lavish, tuneful revue.

With

ROSEMARY
AL & RAY SAMUELS
HUBERT HILTON
ARTHUR BRAINARD

PAUL HOWARD
CHAS. ROSELLA
CLIFF DALY
TUDOR PENROSE

LEE BALL
"HAPPY GO LUCKY BOYS"
ED MOWER
HAROLD CRAVIT

Latest Parisian Fashions
(In Technicolor)

Theatre Talk

CONDUCTED by LORENZO JONES JR.

STAGE

On the upper left is Beulah Berson, prima donna of "Rose-Marie," all this week at the Erlanger. The two little girls shown next are Leon and Dawn, who furnish one of the five reasons why you should see the Pantages vaudeville bill at the Capitol theater this week. Next is Lieutenant Gitz-Rice, who comes dashing straight from the big he-man's country where the "Mounties" are the stuff. He and his company headline the Loew bill at the Grand this week. The young lady on the upper right in the fancy get-up is Miss Peggy English, who is seen in "Jazz a la Carte," the zippy New York show which M. Ray Teal will present at the Howard theater this week. On the lower left is a scene from "Rose-Marie." Next are Gibson and Price at Keith's Georgia.

'RoseMarie,' MusicRomance, Opens Monday at Erlanger

With all their majesty and grandeur and with all the romance that could be entwined around their rugged peaks, the Canadian Rockies have given their chief inspiration to American theatrical art through the medium of the melodrama. Our stage has interpreted that wonderful land of immensity and intriguing mystery in terms of gripping melodramatic climaxes. But little has it echoed the soul of the grand symphony that nature daily plays around and among the colossal rocks and towering spires.

The romance that dwells in the awe-inspiring canyons and in the lakes and dells have been faintly transmitted to music. American composers for the most part have gone far away into lands of fancy for their musical creations until the Prince of Wales told Arthur Hammerstein he should go to the north, where he would find grandeur for scenes—a new land of romance and beauty.

Mr. Hammerstein took the enthusiastic prince seriously and dispatched Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein II into the mountain fastness of the Canadian Rockies and the result was his musical play, "Rose-Marie." It's five years now since the first audience was first charmed, delighted and enraptured by "Rose-Marie;" saw the final curtain fall with regret and proceeded to tell the world to be sure and see it.

New York glorified in its story and beautiful score for two years as did London, at the Drury Lane theater, for the same length of time. It is now in its eighteenth month in Melbourne, Australia, and it is still on view in Paris, where it has been for well over a year. "Rose-Marie" has traveled far and wide since its merits were first heralded here but its vogue continues.

This is not hard to understand, when you recall its story of universal appeal; that its principal settings are in the wide open spaces of the Canadian northwest; that it has the world famous northwestern mounted police as some of its principal performers, to give it even more color and life, and that it is endowed with a rarely melodious score, the high spots of which "Rose-Marie" and the song of the "Mounties," with their swinging tempo and the plaintive "Indian Love Call" and other numbers lose none of their charm by frequent repetition, just as the "Totem Tom Tom" ensemble remains the most effective example of stage craft grouping yet seen in musical comedy.

During the engagement of "Rose-Marie," due at the Erlanger for the week beginning Monday night, with matinees Wednesday and Saturdays, a good many who have seen this musical comedy will go again without much urging. There is only one thing wrong with the Hammerstein piece—it is too short. It makes three hours seem like one. And it makes one want to go right back and listen to its enchanting theme the next night. Seats for all performances during the week may be had at the Erlanger box office and at Phillips & Crew Piano company.

NORTHWESTERN POLICE HEAD LOEW'S BILL

This week's vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater will be headed by an odd and unusual act which is receiving the highest praise around the circuit when Lieutenant Gitz-Rice and his "Northwestern mounties" appear as the feature attraction on the vaudeville end of the program.

The famous Northwestern mounted police find time for frolicking between the times when they are chasing bandits, suppressing Indian uprisings and fighting "bad men." There are talented singers, dancers and comedians in their ranks and Lieutenant Gitz-Rice will bring five of them to Atlanta and will add as a sixth entertainer "Marie," petite little Canadian comedienne of rare beauty and ability. They will offer harmony singing, fast comedy and speedy dancing and will present an act which has scored heavily in the best vaudeville theaters of the country. Lieutenant Gitz-Rice, himself, is an artist of rare talent and has whipped into shape a show that is proving a sensation wherever offered.

The new bill is chock full of high-class entertainment, one of the outstanding acts being the ventriloquial novelty of Edgar Berwin who, with Christine Caldwell, presents an amusing absurdity entitled "The Operation." It is full of surprises and has a comedy theme that keeps the crowds laughing.

One of those snappy comedies with music which are now being featured on the largest vaudeville circuits will be presented by Will J. Kennedy and company. Their vehicle is entitled "Pinch Me," and there are four men and two girls in the cast. It is a swiftly moving farce with some musical and dance numbers of unusual merit.

Eddie Stanley and "Ginger," his partner, who were billed here for an appearance some weeks ago, but who were unable to come because of a conflicting engagement will appear on the new bill in a new act full of absurdities and novelties. It is a comedy singing and dancing turn.

The opening number will be the skillful act of Van Cello and Mary, a foot juggling act entitled "Foot Feats," which is offered with marvelous effect.

John Gilbert is the star in "Man, Woman and Sin," the Loew feature picture, with Jeanne Eagels as his chief aide.

Albert Roccardi, well-known character actor, will play the part of a restaurant proprietor in Paramount's new melo-dramatic comedy, "Partners in Crime," featuring Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton.

AL K. HALL RETURNS TO KEITH'S GEORGIA

Al K. Hall is back in town. Not the prohibited liquid, but the stage comic in person. Al K. Hall has a real reason for using such a peculiar name—it's his own ever since he was Christened Alfred Kenneth Hall.

At Keith's Georgia this week he will give his latest version of "The Sap," a comedy skit in which several others assist with songs, dances and nonsense. Last season Al K. Hall appeared at the Georgia and proved to be one of the best comedies of the season. This year in addition to presenting his own act he has evolved an "actor's gambol," patterned after the kind that are given at the Lambs' club, in New York. He has named this new skit "On the Air," and it is a fast moving travesty on radio. All of the actors on the bill have a part in the sketch and from advance reports it is unlike any other "afterpiece" or clown frolic shown this season.

Tieman's "Tunesmiths" is a novelty band organization with seven musicians. Ted Tieman has as his principal assistants Pinkie Dees and Frank McCormack. The stage setting has a collegiate atmosphere and is called "College Capers."

Adela Verne, distinguished woman pianist, makes her initial bid for Atlanta musical favors. Music critics everywhere pronounce her the Paderewski of lady pianists and the great Ignace, himself, speaks in the highest terms of her ability and technique.

Gibson and Price have one of the novelty acts of the bill. Artists in crayon drawing, they also excel in other novelty stage stunts besides being clever jugglers and entertainers. These acts and the "actors' gambol" and comedy round-up for the finish should be to the liking of theater-goers during the week. The screen attraction will be "The Night Flier," with William Boyd and Jobyna Ralston.

Alamo No. 1.

Monday and Tuesday Buddy Roosevelt will give you a new and most novel angle in action-pictures "Thundering Through." There are fights and fast riding and jumping out of third-story windows, and a beautiful girl with much romance in the picture.

Wednesday and Thursday Ben Wilson will be shown in a fight for right with a six-gun for authority. He was the first man on the trigger and all who disputed him was sure of a quick death. "Riders of the West," which is the name of the picture is the story of one man who was a dead shot and was out to enforce the law.

The biggest picture of this action-crazy age is playing on Friday and Saturday. Tom Mix in "The Great K. & A. Train Robbery."

RAILROAD PICTURE AT KEITH'S GEORGIA

Life in the early days of the west, when railroading was a he-man's job, is shown in "The Night Flyer," at Keith's Georgia with William Boyd and Jobyna Ralston as the stars.

Love and romance go hand in hand with strife in this tensely drawn picture of railroading through the mountain passes. One of the big scenes is shown when the mail train jumps the track and goes crashing into the river, dragging the engine and three mail coaches to destruction. It is a thrilling piece of film directing and has all the elements of a real wreck and rescue.

Jobyna Ralston helps run the station lunch room. William Boyd is a fireman on the railroad. He has ambitions and eventually gets a run. They make him an engineer. The fast mail train, in charge of his rival in love, needs a fireman. He volunteers and makes the trip with his rival at the throttle. Then comes the fatal wreck. Boyd saves his rival's life, commandeers a construction train and with the government mail continues the run and arrives on time. Thrilling moments are shown throughout "The Night Flyer." It is a stirring drama while it lasts and should hold one in the chair until the last scene.

Nora Lane, William Collier, Jr., Raoul Paoli and Claude King will be in the company supporting Adolphe Menjou in his next picture for Paramount, of which Lother Mendes is the director.

ERLANGER THEATRE

ATLANTA'S PLAYHOUSE BEAUTIFUL

POSITIVELY WITHOUT CHANGE—THE BOSTON AND PHILADELPHIA OPERA HOUSES' CAST AND PRODUCTION INTACT

WEEK BEGINNING TOMORROW NIGHT

The Gloriously Beautiful Musical Play That Will Capture Atlanta

POSITIVELY FAREWELL TOUR

THE MOST TALKED ABOUT MUSICAL PLAY IN THE WORLD—ARTHUR HAMMERSTEIN'S

ROSE MARIE

Book & Lyrics by Otto Harbach & Oscar Hammerstein 2nd
Music by Rudolf Friml & Herbert Stothart

with

Beulah Berson — Paul Donah
Charles Meakins — Hazel Gaudreau
Peggy Pates — Houston Richards
Ross Gibson — Daisy Gibson
Nano Marco — Neil Moore

COMPANY OF 100

PRICES
Nights . . 50c to $3.30
Wed. Mat., 50c to $2.20
Sat. Mat., 50c to $2.75
(Including Tax)

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

LOEW'S GRAND THEATRE

THE BIG SHOW STARTS MONDAY
1 P. M. to 11 P. M.

IT'S positively the greatest . . .
OH shucks, what's the use,
THIS could go on 'till dizzy.

HIT AFTER HIT! WEEK AFTER WEEK!

SEE JOHN GILBERT

In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Production of

MAN WOMAN AND SIN

with Jeanne Eagels "Rain" Star of the Stage Play!

THE PERFECT LOVER

"I Don't Care What You Have Been!"

FOR her sake, he would forgive her past. But he discovered that it could not be so easily thrust aside.

John Gilbert here gives a truly magnificent portrayal of a youth torn between love and jealousy.

A MONTA BELL Production

— AND —

YOU LOVED HIM IN "FLESH AND THE DEVIL" & "LOVE". You'll go crazy over him in this one!

ANOTHER GREAT VAUDEVILLE SHOW

LIEUT. GITZ RICE

FAMOUS WAR HERO AND COMPOSER

LIEUT. RICE WROTE

CO-STARRED IN VAUDEVILLE AND PRODUCTIONS WITH IRENE BORDONI, BLANCHE RING, FRANK FAY, FLORENCE MOORE, BLANCHE BATES, DONALD BRIAN And Many Others

—And His—

NORTHWEST MOUNTIES

With "MARIE," la Petite Canadienne, Offering—

"HINKY DINKY PARLEY VOO" "KEEP YOUR HEAD DOWN, FRITZI BOY"

"DEAR OLD PAL OF MINE" AND 400 MORE

AN ORIGINAL SONG CYCLE

THEN THERE IS

VAN CELLO & MARY — Offering — "FEET FEATS"
EDDIE STANLEY & 'Ginger' — Just — "ABSURDITES"
EDGAR BERGEN & CO. — Laughs! — "THE OPERATION"
WILL J. KENNEDY & CO. — Laughs! — "PINCH ME"

"AIN'T LOEW'S SHOWS GRAND!"

KEITH-ALBEE GEORGIA

3:15-6:30-9:00 P. M.

Vaudeville's Clown Comedian

AL. K. HALL

IN

"The Sap" at the Beach

With Fred Dale, Lilla Bay, Teddy Andre

The Comedy Novelty of the Season

ON THE AIR

A Hilarious Travesty on Radio

TAD TIEMAN AND HIS TUNESMITHS

With Pinkie Dees and Assisted by Frank McCormick

In College Capers

GIBSON AND PRICE

Versatile Entertainers

Added Attraction

SPECIAL

Limited Engagement

ADELE VERNE

Most Distinguished of Women Pianists

—Pathe News—
World Events in Picture Form

—Pick o' the Pictures—
James Cruze Presents

WILLIAM BOYD

in "The NIGHT FLYER"

With Jobyna Ralston

CRASHING through the perilous mountain passes in Stygian darkness—over bridges spanning dizzy, awesome depths—speeding around dangerous curves, carrying the hopes and happiness of a brave man and girl, the hand at the throttle of the engine never faltered. Then—Don't miss this dramatic picture.

Continuous 1:00-11:00 P. M.
Mats., 25c-35c
(Except Sat.)
Nights, 25c-60c
Loges Reserved

TENTH STREET THEATER

MON.-TUES.
MAE MURRAY-CONWAY TEARLE in "ALTARS OF DESIRE"

WEDNESDAY
AN ALL-STAR CAST in "STARK LOVE"

THURS.-FRI.
EMIL JANNINGS in "FAUST"

SATURDAY
RIN-TIN-TIN in "HILLS OF KENTUCKY"

Madison Theatre

Flat Shoals Ave., East Atlanta

Monday—Dorothy Gish and Antonio Moreno in "MADAME POMPADOUR"
Tuesday—Reginald Denny in "FAST AND FURIOUS"

PALACE

INMAN PARK

DIRECTION LUCAS AND JENKINS

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
RICHARD BARTHELMESS
—IN—
"THE DROP KICK"

WEDNESDAY
"METROPOLIS"

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
RENEE ADOREE in "BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

SATURDAY
REGINALD DENNY in "FAST AND FURIOUS"

ALAMO NO. 2

MONDAY "MAN CRAZY" DOROTHY MACKAILL, JACK MULHALL

TUES: NORMA SHEARER "THE WANING SEX"

WED: "CAPTAIN SALVATION"

THURS: JACK HOLT, DOROTHY REVIER, "THE TIGRESS"

FRI: "THE TAXI DANCER"

SATURDAY ONLY
JOHN GILBERT
"12 MILES OUT"

10c MATINEE AND NIGHT EXCEPT SATURDAY.

Coppet: Chateua De Stael

BY JANE SCOTT WOODRUFF

Such virile genius and yet the genius of a woman! To the name of Necker-De Stael hangs all the glamour and the romance of a certain little town which for more than a century has been the mecca for those who pay tribute to genius and wonder at its tenacity. Were it not for the far-shedding beacon kindled more than a century ago by a woman's mind, Coppet would live its life unknown, unsought, a drowsy little village which the stranger would hardly think to enter.

After a ride of three-quarters of an hour from Geneva, you leave the boat, climb the narrow, sloping street and are confronted by the iron portals of the chateau. Should you go on a Thursday you mingle with the usual crowd of sightseers who have unquestioned access between the hours of 2 and 6. Our first visit, however, was on Tuesday and we found the gates closed. Finding that oral persuasion was unavailing we suddenly bethought ourselves that "every cloud has a silver lining." For a glittering five franc piece the gates were opened wide and we found ourselves for the time in possession of the chateau and its vast park.

What a noble place of exile! The mansion itself has no superior attractions, but the park, yes, it is the park which holds you under a spell. Its shaded avenues, its unexpected dells tangled with undergrowth of roots and ferns and flowers. The impetuous stream rushes over stock and stone only to throw itself from the precipice a turbulent torrent. Except for the splashing of waters and the trilling of birds, there is an impression of silence. Silence where once were the favorite haunts of congenial spirits, of gay humor, of keen-bladed sallies and flashing repartee!

These same trees had spread their branches over the heads of Madame de Stael and her friends, they who gave her little opportunity to feel that sense of ennui which she so much dreaded—such friends as the beautiful Recamier, the Duchesse deCourlande, Werner, the apostle of love, the young Guizot Schlegel, the gruendlich, De Montmorency, unfailing in the loyalty of his friendship, and last, but greater in her woman's eyes, Benjamin Constant, he who held the key, and played upon the harp of her soul until, in time, its music was all for him. Unhappy in her marriage with the Baron de Stael, her volcanic nature sought an outlet for its continual fire, and it was the handsome and witty Constant whom she crowned with her devotion. Eager to win the crown, he afterward held it but lightly, then began to weary of it as a burden.

Madame de Stael somewhere says that the source of true happiness lies in enthusiasm and assuredly it was the spring of her own nature. To her feeling and expression were identical. "There is no interval between thought and speech," she said. Indeed her thought seemed to have its birth in speech. Conversation was her inspiration and her muse. There was lacking in this remarkable nature a certain self-discipline. She always reached her goal in running; to her there was no medium course, no moderation. So completely would she submerge herself in whatever engaged her that friends laughingly told this little story as an illustration:

One day she and three kindred spirits made an excursion into Savoy. One of the party was Benjamin Constant, and the two great intellects began a passage at arms. Suddenly a violent storm broke over them, making the roads temporarily impassable. The carriage was driven under a porte cochere as a refuge from the rain, and there it remained for several hours.

* * *

All of this passed unnoticed by either Constant or Madame de Stael. Their words came thick and at white heat, from the forge of an active brain. Nor did they cease talking until the party arrived at Coppet.

This was the woman who, in Paris, had effaced the queen. A woman, plain of features, who was more sought, more observed, more conspicuous than the beautiful and gentle Marie Antionette!

Napoleon, who had hitherto bent and broken every resistance, found himself checkmated by a woman. He could not bend her so he sought to break her spirit. Her zeal for liberty and for the political and religious freedom of France was a firebrand to him. Through loyalty to her several of her friends received letters threatening them with banishment. Among them was Juliette Recamier whose indifference to the emperor was in no wise soothing to his egotism.

Under the spell of her presence Coppet was infused with a spirit of enthusiasm almost unprecedented. She wrote such tragedies and fired such zeal into her friends who had come from France to play the parts. There was little to remind them of her exile, so they began to marvel and to whisper among themselves: "She has forgotten Paris!"

Health Talks

BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY.

Telling the World I Brush My Teeth.

To all our old customers, to casual readers who sometimes discuss this column, to all new customers, if any, I am pained to announce that after eight or ten years of wicked propaganda against the sacred rite of brushing the teeth, eight happy years, eight economical years, virtually a decade of chronic irritation, I should conservatively estimate a quarter of a century of striving for better teeth for all disciples, I am brushing my teeth again.

My dentist's orders.

My dentist is a good dentist. Incidentally he received his professional training in a three-year course, with a high school preparation. He was fortunate, for the very next year after his graduation from dental college they clapped on an additional year, and also began to require one or two years of college study besides the high school preparatory to entrance to dental school. The highbrow foolishness seems to have infected dental training just as it has medical training.

I am brushing my teeth again, after all these years, not to save any teeth so much as to save my face. All our regular customers will surely remember that in all my shameful propaganda of ridicule et cetera I have never neglected to add a condition; namely, that if one's dentist advises or prescribes brushing the teeth his directions should be implicitly followed. Lucky thing for me that we thought of this—it comes in right handily at this sad juncture to save my map. Nobody can challenge my record—it is all embalmed in cold print.

To tell the honest truth, as contrasted with other varieties, I give no promise and make no prophecy as to the duration of this present form. Frankly, I am very much in the attitude of the inebriate or the peasant who never opens the bedroom windows at night. But I mean to carry out my dentist's orders as earnestly as I can. As a large part of the population of North America will doubtless be on tenterhooks about the matter, I intend, subject to consent of my dentist, to report progress here from time to time. Anyway this may serve to amuse the children.

The children, by the way, are entitled to a special paragraph in this pathetic narrative. Children, gather around your old uncle, as close as you can get without smudging my vest. Let's play you are all my own kids and I am as much concerned as any regular dad can be about your health and happiness. Of course, I want you to have perfect teeth, or at least the most nearly perfect you can grow. Everybody who knows that is so please holler "I." Great, you all can yell some! If there be one among you who didn't holler he certainly is quiet about it. Well, then, listen. I still believe that if you boys and girls gt a fair deal in the way of eats—which particularly means not less than a pint of pure, raw milk daily, and a variety of fresh greens and fresh vegetables and fresh fruits in season, all preferably eaten raw—it doesn't matter at all whther you brush your teeth or not. Every one must go to the dentist regularly twice a year to have the teeth inspected, perhaps cleaned, and if necessary any cavities filled. Every one who fails to pay this semi-annual visit to the dentist is almost certain to suffer from decay of the teeth no matter whether he brushes his teeth or not. So don't you young citizens pay any attention to my relapse. You need never waste a second or a penny on tooth brushes or tooth pastes unless your own dentist orders you to practice brushing the teeth for some individual reason.

In my case the individual reason is a strain of Scotch I didn't know was in me. It seems that 21 years ago, when I was a faithful follower of the tooth-brushing rite, I developed two mean cavities in betwen two incisors. They were filled, but after many years one of the fillings became loosened, from caries or decay around it. These teeth are so close that the dentist had to spread them apart a trifle in order to get at the cavities. Now he prescribes the daily passing of silk floss between these close teeth in order to clear away food particles which no brush could reach. He takes it for granted that if such food particles are permitted to remain caught there between the teeth, they will ferment or something and initiate decay of the teeth, cavity, caries. I'm going to try this silk floss trick a time or two, just to ease my conscience, but I feel it won't be for long, because that conception of the cause of dental decay, though I think it is still shared by most good dentists, fails to satisfy, and if that's the only reason, why, I warn the tooth brush and dentrifice people right now, don't bank on my reform.

The individual reason for my reluctant return to the disgusting rite is the next subject of debate. I can't promise a thing, but it is my earnest intention that this narrative shall be

(Continued in an early issue.)

(Copyright for The Constitution.)

DEATH

BY ERNEST NEAL.

(Poet Laureate of Georgia.)

Whene'er my boatman comes, no frown shall mar his face,
No war-like garment wrap his kingly form—
But peaceful robe. He calls for me; in his embrace
I'll fall asleep, and—sheltered from the storm—
My soul is wafted from the boistrous shore.
No pain; no grief. The heavy shadows o'er me steal;
The night grows dark; and yet, I question not the morn.
Once in my mother's womb I slept; now—as then—I feel
No fearful horror'. . . . trusting to be born
Into a brighter, higher life when this is gone.

Trainmen Meet.

Cleveland, Ohio, February 4.—(AP)—The fifth triennial convention of the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen will be held here opening on May 8, it was announced today by W. G. Lee, president. The convention is expected to last one month.

Atlanta To See High-Class Show In 'Rose Marie'

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

When the name of Arthur Hammerstein is attached to a musical comedy production as its sponsor it's a pretty safe bet that this show is going to measure up to the highest possible standards both in its score, in its speed and liveliness and in the high ability of the principals who sing the leading roles. So when, at last, "Rose Marie" comes to Atlanta with the Hammerstein banner flying above, it is pretty certain that this town is getting ready to enjoy one really high-class musical show. It opens Monday at the Erlanger.

ARTHUR HAMMERSTEIN.

Although "Rose Marie" has enjoyed marvelous success on the stages of New York, London, Vienna, Paris and other cities it has never been offered before in Atlanta. The reason for this absence can be attributed to a five months' lull for the big road attractions which came during the time the new Erlanger theater was being erected. Had there been a legitimate theater open in Atlanta at that time "Rose Marie" would have appeared here. But under the circumstances Atlanta now will get to see one of the greatest companies ever organized to present this show. It is the famous company which played 33 weeks in Boston and also filled long engagements in Chicago, Detroit and Cincinnati.

Arthur Hammerstein is the son of an illustrious father, Oscar Hammerstein, who did more to establish grand opera than any other man in America.

Arthur Hammerstein began as a treasurer for his father at the old Victoria, 42nd street and Broadway, but, like father, the spirit of production was uppermost in his mind and he began with "Naughty Marietta," to be followed by a long and illustrious list of other successes, including "Katinka," "High Jinks," "Daffydill" and "Tickle Me."

LAWSON F. TURNER OPENS LAW OFFICES

Lawson F. Turner, honor graduate of the Atlanta Law school and for the past several years connected with Armour & Co., has opened offices at 318 Hurt building for the general practice of law.

Mr. Turner for seven years was connected with The Constitution, leaving in 1922 to become city salesman for the Armour company. He served with the 17th Engineers during the world war.

Staggering Accident Toll Carries Warning to You

"Four Hundred and Six Lives Lost In Automobile Wrecks in 1927."

This was a headline appearing in The Constitution a few days ago describing traffic accident fatalities in Georgia, and it should carry a warning to every thinking man and woman in this section.

"Officials of the state board of health, who compiled the figures," the story under the headline said, "declared that fatalities have mounted at an alarming rate in Georgia for the past five or six years. The figures they gave out do not include deaths from collisions involving trains and other heavy vehicles."

Who will be victims of the ever-mounting accident wave this year? Will your name be recorded? How will you fare if you are disabled? What future will your family face if the bread-winner is maimed or slain?

Think over these questions. They are vital to you. There is only one solution to the problem. Insure yourself—at once.

The Constitution offers you the famous $7,500 travel accident policy issued by the North American Accident Company of Chicago, an old and reliable company which already has paid over $53,000 on claims of Constitution policyholders.

The policy costs only $1.25 per year and provides for payment of sums ranging from $7,500 in case of death resulting from certain accidents; injuries and $10 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from the stated accidents. And the cost is only a fraction of a penny a day.

A train wreck, a crash of automobiles, the speeding wheels of an onrushing car or a burning building may leave you a victim of the ever-growing wave of accidents.

In this paper appear regular advertisements supplying full details of the great offer. Watch for them.

This 7,500 travel, $2,000 auto and $1,000 pedestrian accident policy is issued only to subscribers of The Daily and Sunday Constitution and immediate dependent members of a subscriber's family between the ages of 17 and 70 at $1.25 per year.

One who is now taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealers, paying for his paper weekly, monthly or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Those taking The Daily and Sunday Constitution by mail, either through a postoffice or rural route delivery for one year, are eligible by paying $1.25 per year per policy above the subscription price.

In sending applications for insurance the applicant must state name in full, give age and occupation. If beneficiary is desired, full Christian name must be given and relation of same to the insured.

heavy cash payment for permanent

South Carolina Body Will Hold Party Feb. 17

Those reputedly impetuous southerners who claim South Carolina as their native state and who dwell in Atlanta and its environs have been invited to an informal reception as the guests of the Atlanta South Carolina association, to be held at 8 o'clock on the evening of Friday, February 17, in the main dining room of the Ansley hotel.

An attractive entertainment program, which will be presented in the nature of a surprise, has been arranged by the entertainment committee, it was announced Saturday by Lewis P. Jones, deputy clerk attached to Solicitor John A. Boykin's office, and secretary of the association.

The roster of the South Carolina club embraces many names prominent in the development and growth of Atlanta, all of whom are expected to turn out for the reception.

A special invitation has been issued to South Carolina students enrolled in the schools and colleges of Atlanta. Those who expect to attend are asked to notify either Mr. Jones, at room 815, Fulton county courthouse, or W. E. Dendy, president of the asssociation and head of the University School for Boys, at 86 Fourteenth street, N. E.

Officers of the association are as follows: Mr. Dendy, president; Sam N. Evins, Charles B. Harmon, Dr. B. H. Mobley, Dr. I. Murray Hair, Walter Visanska, George M. Kohn, vice presidents; Henry W. Arnold, treasurer; Lewis P. Jones, secretary; Miss Ruby Clinkscales, assistant secretary; honorary presidents, Dr. J. R. McCain, Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, Dr. Richard Gillespie, Clark Howell, Sr., Sam W. Wilkes, James W. Austin, J. A. Riley, O. E. Horton, Dr. George Brown, General J. Colton Lynes, Dr. W. E. Campbell, Honorable John A. Boykin.

NEW STAFF NAMED FOR GEORGIA U.C.V.

Commander David B. Freeman, of the Georgia division, United Confederate Veterans, Saturday announced staff appointments for the Georgia division, in which Colonel Alex C. Smith, of Atlanta, is made adjutant general and chief of staff.

At the same time Commander Freeman announced the appointment of J. A. Hunnicutt, of Athens, brigadier general of the eastern brigade, Georgia division, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of General E. J. O'Connor.

Georgia's thinning gray line, now comprising only 3,000 veterans in the state, was urged by Commander Freeman to make plans to attend the 38th annual reunion in Little Rock, Ark., May 8 to 11.

Lieutenant Colonels J. S. Elder, of Fairburn, and Frank S. Loftin, of Franklin, were made assistant adjutant generals in the appointment list announced Saturday. Other appointments were: Lieutenant Colonel Z. T. Burtrill, Jackson, inspector general; Lieutenant Colonel A. G. Harris, McDonough, quartermaster general; Lieutenant Colonel F. L. Hudgins, Atlanta, commissary general; Lieutenant Colonel P. W. Meldrim, Savannah, judge advocate general; Lieutenant Colonel Frank H. Harris, Brunswick, assistant judge advocate general; Lieutenant Colonel J. A Pittman, Atlanta, paymaster; Lieutenant Colonel Arch Avary, Atlanta, surgeon general; Lieutenant Colonel W. D. Hammock, Cuthbert, chaplain; Lieutenant Colonel M. W. Powell Vienna, ensign; Major James W. Hardy, Culloden, orderly; Mayor R. E. Camp, Atlanta, aide de camp; Major Mack Lee Crawford, Thomasville aide de camp.

Appointments made on the staff by Commander Freeman were: Mrs. A. O. Woodward, matron of honor; Mrs. Pink Cherry, Atlanta, chaperon; Miss Gray Poole, Atlanta, sponsor; Miss Dorothy Watkins, Athens, maid of honor; Miss Lorene Jones, Cleveland, maid of honor; Miss Lillian Smith, Thomson, maid of honor; Miss Martha Ridley, Atlanta, maid of honor; Miss Helen Tanner, Fairburn, maid of honor; Mrs. Anna Bryant Lane, Macon, honorary sponsor; Mrs. W. A. Blackwell, Atlanta, honorary matron; Mrs. William J. Poole, Atlanta, honorary chaperon.

ATLANTA POSTAL RECEIPTS REGISTER GAIN OF $12,166.51

The usual steady gain was registered by Atlanta's postal receipts during the month of January, according to figures released Saturday by Postmaster E. K. Large.

The figures show that January of this year gained $12,166.51 in receipts over the previous January. The receipts for last month were $261,569.51, against a total of $249,428 for January of 1927.

Postoffice receipts act as one of the most reliable barometers of business conditions, and on the face of the gain during the past January business in Atlanta is on a normal and wholesome upward trend, Mr. Large said.

PERFECTION GEAR CO. OPENS BRANCH HERE

The Perfection Gear company, of Chicago, manufacturers of timing gears, timing chains, ring gears, pinions, transmission gears and differential gears, has opened its southeastern branch office at 298 Ivy street, N. E.

A. W. Fickett has been appointed southeastern branch manager. While he is an Atlanta man, he has for time been located at Chicago

AT CARROLL'S for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday---See These Big Specials

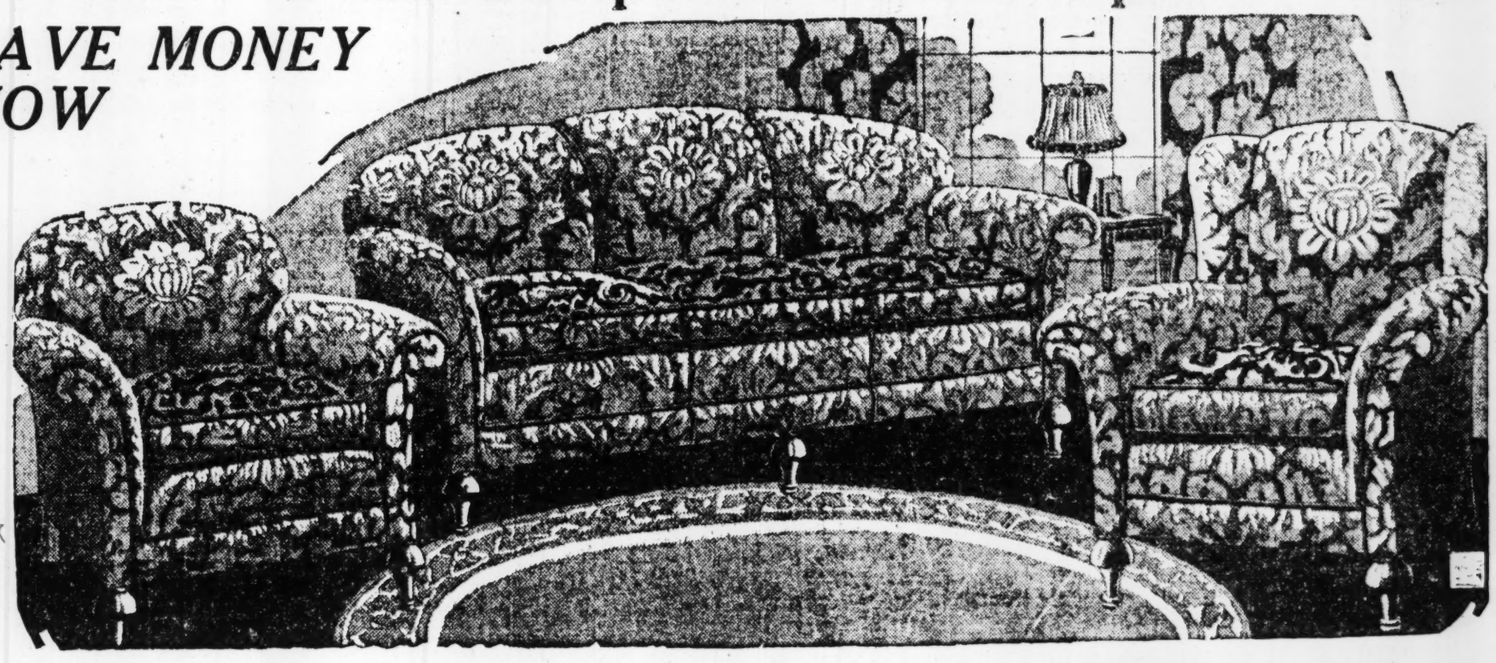

TERMS TERMS

February Furniture Sale

The supreme merchandising achievement of a store, noted for doing big things in a big way. . . . Carroll's great Annual February Sale is in full swing, and will break all records in its almost unlimited range of selection, its amazing value-giving and Liberal Credit Terms. Featured here are only a few of the many outstanding specials for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday — Buy Now!

8-Piece French Jacquard Outfit---Special $109.75

SAVE MONEY NOW

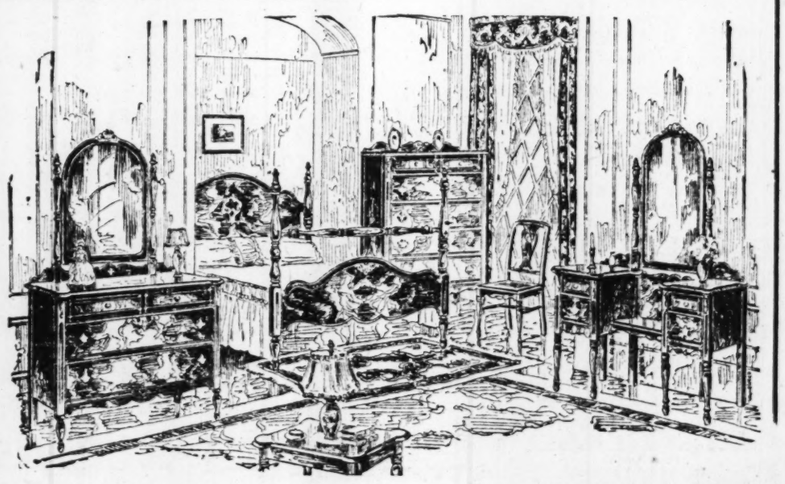

Here's real beauty, luxury and quality at an amazing low price! Think of it! Eight beautiful pieces, consisting of beautiful Davenport, Wing Chair and Club Chair, upholstered in handsome French Jacquard; a Bridge Lamp, Stand and Shade; a decorated End Table, Rayon Silk Pillow and Smoking Stand—a wonderful outfit for your living room at a wonderful February Sale price.

$109.75

$4.75 CASH AND $2.50 PER WEEK BUYS THIS COMPLETE OUTFIT

Wonderful 10-Pc. Bedroom Outfit---SPECIAL $109.75

The four beautiful pieces pictured above: French Vanity, Chest of Drawers, Four-Poster Bed and Bench in rich shaded Walnut. Also Simmons Springs, Mattress, two Feather Pillows and two pretty Boudoir Lamps. See this quickly! Outfit complete for only $109.75

$4.75 Cash and $2.50 Weekly Buys This Outfit

Simmons 3-Pc. Cane-Panel Bed Outfit $19.75

This wonderful outfit consists of Simmons Cane-Panel, Wood-Finish, Metal Bed, as shown. Fabric Spring and Felt-Plated Mattress. Extra special $19.75

$1.00 Cash and $1.00 Week Buys It

"The Store of Personal Service"

Carroll FURNITURE COMPANY

149-153 Whitehall St., S. W., WA. 8571

February Sale Boudoir CHAIRS

Your opportunity to own one of these popular Chairs, upholstered in beautiful cretonne. A wonderful February Sale special at— $11.95

Another lot of very attractive Boudoir Chairs—upholstered in glaze chintz. Priced very special for this big sale at— $11.95

95c Cash and $1.00 Per Week Delivers Choice

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION FOR 60 YEARS

New Shipment Spring Wash Goods!

Vivid Prints

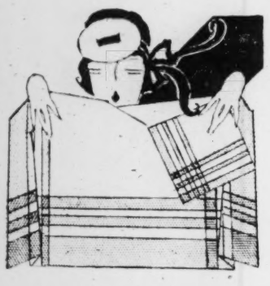

—Charming designs—dainty flower sprigs and posies that sing of spring with their vivid colors. And animal and nursery prints for the children. Full 36 inches wide. 29c

59c Jacquard Rayon

—In solid colors—light and medium—with woven jacquard figures in brocade effects. 36 inches wide. Make up into adorable little Spring frocks. 48c

Checked Rayons

—Dainty small checks and checks larger—in rose and blue and black and green. Colors guaranteed fast. 36 in. wide. 78c

75c Colored Linen

—Fine, heavy quality dress linen—in pastels and deeper shades for spring. 36 inches wide. Specially priced at a mere 48c! 48c

Printed Crepes

—Silk-mixed crepes in geometric figures so smart this spring—in flower designs—on medium and dark grounds. Fast colors. 36 in. wide. 78c

89c Table Damask

—Extra heavy quality of mercerized table damask. 64 in. wide. In choice of attractive patterns. 18x18 in. mercerized Damask Napkins $1.50 Doz. 69c

$2.50 Linen Breakfast Sets

$1.94

—Good quality full-bleached crash, bordered in colors. 50-in. cloth with six napkins to match. At really worthwhile savings for tomorrow!

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

New Spring Frocks
for Women and Misses

Illustrating the Vogue for Tiers, Tucks, Pleats—

$39.50

Sizes for misses, 14 to 20, for women, 36 to 44.
Printed Frocks, $29.50

THE DRESS SHOP
—RICH'S, THIRD FLOOR

Featuring

Navy Georgette

For Your Dance Frocks Ask For

Heathcoat's Tulle
$2 Yd.

—The tulle your great-great-grandmother's dance frocks were made of! Heathcoats have been making this same fine quality silk tulle for 120 years, and are still the leading manufacturers of this lovely material.

—Fresh boxes just arrived of three or four blending shades to fashion into ombre colored clouds of loveliness—pink, orchid, maize, peach, green and blue. 72-in. wide. Silk sewing thread with running yard exactly matching net—all ready to gather into fluffy ruffles.

New! For Hat Bands and Belts

Bouclette Ribbon
25c to 60c Yd.

—New and very smart for belts for sports frocks and sweaters and hat bands — bouclette ribbon! Select your ribbon and buckle and we put in eyelets and attached buckle free of charge.
An imported ribbon, plain bouclette weave shot with metal or combining grosgrain and bouclette. Black, navy and bright spring colors. ⅞ to 1¼-in. wide.
Confetti dot belting ribbon, 1¼-in. wide, 50c Yd.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

Sale! Spring Silks and Woolens!

5,000 Yards $1.95 to $2.95
New Spring Prints

Printed Crepes
Printed Crepes de Chine
Printed Georgettes
Printed Chiffons

$1.84

—"Something new and something different"—is the continual slogan we keep in mind when buying more printed silks! To us—new, means different—never a repeat of something we've shown before!

—Here are spring printed silks—new in every sense! New in designs and patterns. New in color combinations! New in shade of the individual colors!

Flat Crepe and Crepe de Chine

—Featuring 50 new colors! All the delicate tints for lingerie! All the grayed, the dust, and the silvered pastels this season is introducing! All the deeper chalk tones sponsored for street wear! For lingerie, and slips! For frocks—and for the blouse of the ensemble!

40-in. Pure Silk Flat Crepe and Peach Bloom Crepe de Chine. Quality never before seen at this price!	$1.24
40-in. Paris Flat Crepe. Lovely quality, smooth fine texture!	$1.64
40-in. Suede Flat Crepe. Unusually heavy quality that tailors beautifully!	$1.94
40-in. Mandarin Flat Crepe. Guaranteed Absolutely Washable	$2.39
40-in. Mingtoy Crepe—Usually $2.95. For years famous for its washability!	$2.39

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

54-in. Light Weight
New Spring Woolens

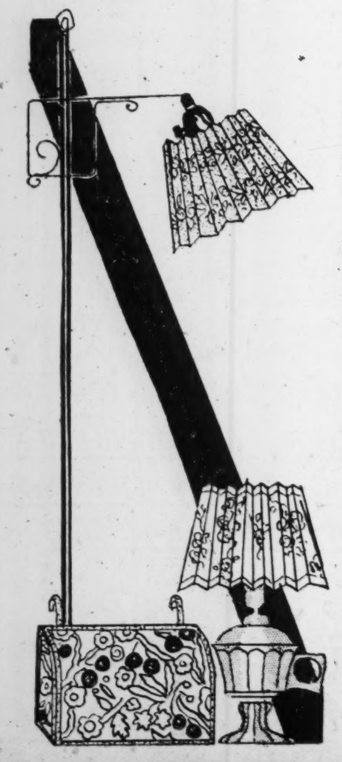

Diamond Weaves
Hopsacking Weaves
Homespuns
New Rough Tweeds

$1.94

—Every season brings its characteristic garment—and this season it's the ensemble! A long coat or three-quarters length—with skirt of matching wool.
—We feature woolens—light as the zephyrs of spring—in new soft greys, in greens that are silvered, in blues like spring skies—and in five shades of tan personally selected.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

The Semi-Annual Sale Extends to
The Lamp Shop!

Chintz Bed Lights

—Some are pleated—others plain. Of Shumacher's chintz—the best on the market. Beautifully tailored—bound in velvet. $3.95

Wrought Iron Bridge Lamps

—Judge the value for yourself! Substantially wrought stands of iron—painted red, green, or black. Adjustable height. With shades of flowered chintz in light colors for bedroom—darker patterns for living room. $4.25

Glass Table Lamps

—Little glass lamps in a quaint design to simulate Early American oil lamp. In crystal. Pleated chintz shades in blues, yellows, greens, rose. Complete, $2.95. $2.95

—RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

World-Wide Travelers!

Hartmann Trunks
$49.75

—You reach your destination, your trunk is brought up—you feel a thrill of pride that it is a Hartmann! Then you unlock it and there before your eyes your whole wardrobe is hanging in perfect order, fresh and unwrinkled—everything from sports things to evening dress ready to step into. Shoes in place and hats uncrushed. Complete in every detail, even to laundry bag. Washable lining.

Hartmann Aerobes
$35

Convenient size hand wardrobe trunk. Ideal for auto trips. Size 32 inches. Kemi suede covered. Specially priced at $35!

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

Rich's Semi-Annual Sale of Furniture

Savings of 10% to 50%

ON OUR ENTIRE FLOOR OF FURNITURE! Every suite and every piece bears a Semi-Annual Sales Tag—showing a generous cut in price!

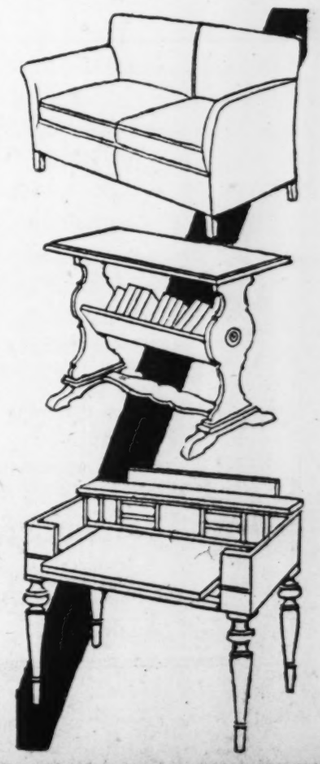

HUNDREDS OF MAGNIFICENT VALUES, only the purchasing power and forethought, the 60 years of merchandising experience of Rich's—could make possible! Hundreds of Values—much too numerous to list!

SAVINGS of $20 to $230 on Bedroom Suites! Every bedroom suite on our floor is discounted 10% to 50%.

SAVINGS OF $25 to $323 on Dining Suites! And the selection is limitless!

SAVINGS OF $30 to $150 on Living Suites! Including all the latest arrivals from the Grand Rapids Market!

—RICH'S, FIFTH FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

HODGSON—ELLIS.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Grady Hodgson announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha Ellen, to Rutherford Lipscomb Ellis, the marriage to be solemnized Wednesday evening, March 28, at "Wildwoods," the home of the bride-elect's parents on Clifton road in Druid Hills.

GIBSON—RANDALL.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence W. Gibson, of St. Petersburg, Fla., announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Goode, to Charles deSaussure Randall, of Griffin, Ga., formerly of Atlanta, the wedding to take place at an early date.

FULLER—FINCHER.

Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Fuller, of Culloden, announce the engagement of their daughter, Viola Elizabeth, to Sanford Edwin Fincher, of Atlanta, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

EVANS—LARIMORE.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert James Evans, of Fort Valley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth, to Dr. Joseph William Larimore, of St. Louis. The wedding will take place in the early spring.

HARDEN—LOWE.

Dr. and Mrs. O. N. Harden, of Cornelia, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Antoinette Gertrude, to John Jackson Lowe, of Cornelia, the wedding to take place in the early spring.

ELLMAN—ROSENTHAL.

Meyer M. Ellman announces the engagement of his daughter, Ida Edith, to Ned D. Rosenthal, of Carthage, Missouri., the wedding to take place at an early date.

ARNOLD—LINK.

Mrs. Alice Greene Arnold announces the engagement of her daughter, Sarah, to Dr. Arthur Finley Link, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

BUSH—DANIEL.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Augustus Bush, of Barnesville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Louise, to Robert Gordon Daniel, of Millen, the marriage to be solemnized in April.

HARDEMAN—HALE.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hardeman, of Winterville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jessie Wayne, to Cecil Howard Hale, the marriage to be solemnized February 14. No cards.

GRAYBILL—RISH.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Graybill, of Cordele, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sara Elizabeth, to Ralph E. Rish, of Coleman, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

Bush - Daniel Engagement Is Of Interest

Barnesville, Ga., February 4.—Of interest to many friends and relatives throughout Georgia is the engagement, announced today, of Miss Louise Bush to Robert Gordon Daniel, of Millen.

Miss Bush is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Augustus Bush, prominent citizens of Barnesville. She is very attractive and possesses great personal charm.

Miss Bush received her education at Gordon institute and at Shorter college. At college she was a popular student, being a member of the Kid club and other organizations.

Mr. Daniel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Daniel, of Millen. He is a graduate of the Georgia School of Techonology, where he was a popular member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He now holds a responsible position as civil engineer with the state highway department.

Miss Kenney Weds George E. Tulley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kenny, of Athens, announce the marriage of their daughter, Virginia, to George Emmett Tulley, of Savannah, January 24, 1928.

Miss Whitworth Weds Mr. Druschke in St. Louis

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Ewing announce the marriage of their daughter, LaVerne Ewing Whitworth, to Roy F. Druschke, of St. Louis, Mo., the wedding having been solemnized February 1, at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Leon Longet, St. Louis, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Druschke will be at home, 839 Gilbert street, S. E., after February 8, Atlanta.

Miss McAuley Weds Hugh Florence.

Mrs. Belle M. Tinsley announces the marriage of her daughter, Isabelle McAuley, to Hugh Florence Tuesday, January 3, Dr. S. R. Belk officiating.

Miss Temple Weds J. W. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Temple announce the marriage of their daughter, Eleanor Irene, to J. W. Taylor, the wedding having been solemnized January 21.

Miss Tumlin Weds John D. Heard.

John D. Heard and Miss Louise Tumlin were quietly married January 28 in New York city. Mrs. Heard is the daughter of J. C. Tumlin, a prominent merchant and financier, of Tallapoosa, Ga. Mr. Heard, who holds a responsible position with the General Railway Signal company, is a son of Rev. C. C. Heard, of Locust Grove. He and his bride will be at home at 69 Fort Greene place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Forestry Chairman Urges Tree Planting.

Mrs. W. M. Shurling, Wrightsville, state chairman of the committee on forestry, has an interesting and important communication today, regarding planting "A Tree for Every D. A. R." Mrs. Shurling reminds D. A. R. members that the time is growing short in which trees and shrubs may be planted this spring, and urges that this work be not neglected. Important reasons for the planting of trees are mentioned in Mrs. Shurling's message, which follows:

My Dear Chapter Regents—

As the season for transplanting is waning, please let me remind you of our slogan, "A Tree for Every D. A. R.," and ask that you present this again at your next meeting. A cause that means as much as the replenishing of trees to every home, farm and business needs no urging on farsighted minds. The commercial and agricultural future of our country is bound up in its forests. Flood prevention, in which we have all felt deep concern, soil conservation, timber supply, health and beauty are all involved in the proper use and protection of our woodlands.

"We will find in our tree planting campaign an opportunity for patriotic service in the upbuilding of our great commonwealth, so again let me say 'A Tree for Every D. A. R.'

"Cordially yours,

"(Mrs. W. M.) Mafiel S. Shurling,
"State Chairman Forestry, D. A. R.
"Wrightsville, Ga."

Miss Ruth Will Entertains Club.

The Five and Twenty club was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Will. After a short business meeting, members were entertained by bridge and piano selections by Miss Jimmie Fulton. Winton Dobbs was initiated into the club. The next meeting will be at "The Oaks," home of Miss Ollie Neely.

Visiting Belle and Lovely Young Hostess

Photo by Kenneth Rogers, Staff Photographer.

Miss Sarah Carroll, (left) of York, S. C., is receiving much social attention from the members of the youngter set as the guest of Miss Sarah Hoshall (right), lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Hoshall.

Kindergarten Club Is Entertained.

The Atlanta Kindergarten Alumnae club was entertained Friday by Mrs. H. R. Acosta, Mrs. J. E. Johnston and Miss Margaret Kiliam, in the kindergarten of Tenth Street school. After an interesting business session the guests were suddenly transformed into kindergarten children, and, seated around the little tables, they began a merry contest to see who could make the most attractive valentine.

As the judges failed to render a decision, the contestants voted to give the prize to the guest of honor, Miss Ethel Massengale, kindergarten primary supervisor.

The next meeting will be held Friday, March 2, at the residence of Miss Margaret Thornton, 1045 Lucile avenue. Miss Thornton will be assisted by Misses Sarah Suddeth and Evelyn Byrd.

Mrs. Stephen Redd Honors Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Stephen C. Redd entertained Wednesday afternoon at her home in West End for Mrs. James Hall. Little Misses Dorothy O'Neal and Bettie Briley, dressed in pink and blue frocks, presented the many gifts to Mrs. Hall. High score was made by Miss Crane; low score by Mrs. Telford; consolation cut by Mrs. Nance.

Among those present were Mesdames James Hall, J. B. Hines, Brown Christian, E. G. Briley, D. W. Miller, Jack Nance, E. C. O'Neal, E. M. Steves, Guy Settle, William Strasser, J. R. Telford, S. C. Redd; Misses Alexander, Crane, Freeman, O'Neal, Briley, Smith and Starr.

Mrs. Davis Gives Spend-the-Day Party.

Mrs. Bratton Davies entertained a spend-the-day party Wednesday her home in West End. Little Mis Claire Morris and May Carroll a Henry Grady Sullivan assisted in e tertaining.

ANCHORS—BARTLETT.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Anchors announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Willis, to Walter Bartlett, Jr., the marriage to take place at home February 14.

MOSELEY—LOVVORN.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moseley announce the engagement of their daughter, Nellie Mae, to Ales Ridley Lovvorn, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

BISHOP—JARRIEL.

Mrs. Ethel Bishop, of Baxley, formerly of Atlanta, announces the engagement of her daughter, Sara, to Byron Jarriel, of Baxley, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

LITWACK—MARKELL.

Mrs. J. Litwack, of Portal, Ga., announces the engagement of her daughter, Clara, to Jack Markell, of Statesboro, formerly of Baltimore, Md., the wedding to take place at an early date. No cards.

EWING—MOORE.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Ewing announce the engagement of their daughter, Aubrey Lucille, to Ralph M. Moore, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

HENDRICKS—GRUBB.

Mrs. Mattie Hendricks announces the engagement of her daughter, Martha, to J. Frank Grubb, of Manchester, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized in March.

KRESS—JOFFRE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Kress, of Philadelphia, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane, to Sidney Joffre, of Atlanta, the wedding to take place later.

HALL—WARD.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hall, Sr., of LaGrange, announce the engagement of their daughter, Katherine Callaway, to Alton Fletch Ward, the wedding to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

WEDDING
Invitations
Announcements

Monogram Stationery
Reception Acknowledgment and Visiting Cards

Samples and Prices Submitted Upon Request

J P Stevens Engraving Co.
Manufacturers - Established 1874
103 Peachtree Street
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

EAGER & SIMPSON
SERVICE

Our service in cleaning, repairing and altering girdles, corsets and corselettes is unequalled in the south.

Only professional service rendered in fitting surgical corsets and maternity belts.

8 N. Forsyth St.

Myron E. Freeman E. B. Freeman E. B. Freeman, Jr.

The Faultless Accompanist

The magic spell of the sweetest singer is not conjured by a single art. The success of a gem is in like manner limited by its mounting.

Freeman settings are harmonious, sympathetic.

Myron E. Freeman & Bro.
Jewelers
103 Peachtree St.
Atlanta, Ga.

Our stock of Silverware is distinctive for being all sterling and the largest in the south.

Facial Massage

One thing that is very necessary to beauty is a clear, smooth complexion. One good facial a week will accomplish this for you.

Draws Out the Blackheads.
Smooths Out the Wrinkles.
Brings Back the Color of Youth.
Leaves Your Complexion Soft and Smooth.
Fifteen Experts Operators Ready to Serve You.
Prices Very Reasonable.
Plain Massage $1.00
French Pack $2.00
Appointments Call WA. 7280-7290

The S. A. Clayton Company
The Largest Beauty Shoppe in Dixie
113-115 Hunter Street, S. W.

Announcing!

The First of a Series . . .

Every woman is born with a healthy, normal instinct of curiosity. As a girl, she pulled of the hair of her first dolly and worked hard to find out where its "voice" came from.

As a woman, the same instinct leads her on a shopping tour.

Ladies' wear, which is a fascinating game, contains "inside details" which are supremely interesting to most women. And, believing that most Women of Atlanta would be interested in the inside details of our business, we have decided to talk about them, informally, in the newspapers.

The first of a series of letters between "Cynthia and Peggy" will tell the stories about

Erlich's
LADIES READY-TO-WEAR
4 PEACHTREE
PHONE WALNUT 7649

DIAMONDS
SOLID SILVER

ONE PRICE HOUSE
Established in 1899

LATHAM & ATKINSON
JEWELERS
Successors to DAVIS & FREEMAN
ATLANTA, GEORGIA

Maison Adolphe Announces

—the complete remodeling of his Beauty Salon and the addition of NEW RING ROLLER reducing equipment.

The remodeling of interior furnishings, in conjunction with the addition of world-famed reducing equipment is an achievement far in advance of anything that has heretofore been offered by the beauty culturists of this section.

In connection with the remarkable "Ring Roller" which reduces any part of the body, there are also the new and added features of service to be had by our installation of

Electric Blankets——Private Showers
Private Dressing Rooms

The beautiful new shop invites your attention and welcomes an inspection visit or appointment for any of our many scientific, artistic and distinctive modes of beauty culture.

MAISON ADOLPHE
622 Peachtree Street, N. E.
Phone HEm. 4016 for Appointment

New Hats
For the Elect

Debonair creations in hats for Springtime—of finer materials and French design—the unerring choice of the fashionably correct.

$10 to $15 to $25

Frohsin's
Correct Dress for Women
50 WHITEHALL

The Ensemble

Bespeaks the Newest Note of Spring

Smart and Decidedly Youthful!

The woman who is truly au courant with the Spring mode is delightfully aware of Fashion's newest gesture . . . the ensemble. The coats are cut in the mannish manner and developed in Twill, English Tweeds, softest Kasha or Kashmelinda. Underneath are charming little straight frocks that may be worn with or without the coat. Colors denote the new tendency of "grayed down" tones.

Priced From—
$39.75 to $149.75

Forty-Two Years on Whitehall; No Connection With Any Other Store of Similar Name.

Frohsin's
Correct Dress for Women
50 WHITEHALL

Hart-Hurt Weddinng Service Is Brilliantly Solemnized

All Saints' Episcopal church formed the setting for the nuptial ceremony when Miss Irene Horton Hart became the bride of Toulman Williams Hurt at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, fashionable society assembling en masse for the service, which was read by Dr. W. W. Memminger, rector of the church.

Preceding the ceremony William E. Arnaud, organist of the church, rendered a program of appropriate nuptial music.

Stately Easter lilies and massive cathedral candelabra, holding tall white tapers, adorned the altar, these symbols standing in relief against the palms and Woodwardia ferns which massed the choir loft and banked the rear of the pulpit. Cathedral standards flanked either side of the altar and quantities of handsome Easter lilies and fragrant white roses filled floor baskets which alternated with single tapers rising from brass candlesticks. The pews where the members of the family connection were seated for the ceremony were marked with clusters of Easter lilies tied with wide white satin ribbons. Ropes of southern smilax festooned the chandeliers and side lights and garlanded the windows and doorways.

Bridal Procession.

Leading the bridal procession were the ushers who included Dr. Murdock Equen, Dr. E. Bates Block, Toulman T. Williams and James Williams.

The bridesmaids, alternating with the groomsmen, entered singly down the center aisle of the church and included Misses Van Cleve Wilkins, Sarah Sibley, Margaret Nelson and Catherine Erwin.

Acting as groomsmen were Joseph H. Williams, Charles Tuller, Charles Hurt and Parker McRae, of McRae, Georgia.

Gowned alike in exquisite models of diaphanous pale green chiffon, the bridesmaids formed a tableau of springtime beauty. Fashioned sleeveless, along straight, modish lines, their gowns were slightly draped at the low waistline and caught at the left side with a large chiffon bow, the ends of which extended into a graceful side train. Uneven hemlines were a smart feature of the costumes which were completed by silver slippers and shower bouquets of sweet peas, snapdragons, lilacs and roses, displaying to lovely advantage all the Dresden shades, and tied with wide green satin ribbons.

Mrs. Murdock Equen acted as her sister's matron of honor, wearing a becoming gown of shell pink chiffon, designed similarly to those worn by the bridesmaids. A shower bouquet of pink sweet peas and pink radiance roses, tied with pink satin ribbons, completed her costume.

Little Miss Anne Wagar, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Wagar, was a charming junior bridesmaid, entering with Perrin Nicolson, III, who acted as junior groomsman. Miss Wagar's fairylike blonde beauty was emphasized by her dainty frock of shell pink chiffon, ruffled entirely in narrow chiffon frills and caught on the left shoulder with a rosette of double-faced ribbons, showing the tones of green and pink, the ends falling in a graceful shower effect. She carried a small old-fashioned nosegay of Dresden shaded blossoms, encircled in a lace paper frill.

Little Miss Ann Hart Equen was the flower girl, wearing a frock fashioned like the junior bridesmaid's of pink chiffon. She carried a Marie Antoinette basket filled with rose petals which she scattered in the pathway of the bride.

Beautiful Bride.

The lovely bride entered the church with her cousin, Morton Mathewson, who gave her in marriage.

Her bridal robes of softest ivory-tinted chiffon, fashioned robe de style, were unusually becoming to her graceful brunette beauty. The full skirt, cut long in the back and short in front, was finished with a scallop design outlined in tiny seed pearls, the tight bodice trimmed with a deep bertha of handsome rose point lace centered with a lace medallion. Her court train of ivory satin was caught to the shoulders with pearl ornaments and heavily embroidered in a delicate tracery of seed pearls. Tulle fashioned the bride's veil which was fastened to her dark hair with a bandeau of rose point lace and finished at the end with a wide band of rare rose point which was worn by the bride's paternal grandmother at her wedding.

Completing the bridal ensemble was a gorgeous shower bouquet of fragrant valley lilies.

Mr. Hurt was attended by Herman Evins, who acted as his best man.

Immediately following the church service, the bride's mother, Mrs. John C. Hart, entertained at an elaborate reception at her home on Peachtree street.

Receiving with Mrs. Hart and the member of the bridal party were the groom's mother, Mrs. H. N. Hurt, and the bride's aunts, Mrs. J. O. Mathewson and Mrs. M. C. Wyeth, of New York.

The receiving party stood in the drawing room before the fireplace which was banked with palms and ferns, the mantel being adorned with three handsome old-fashioned candelabra, hung with crystal prisms. Quantities of white roses, snapdragons and sweetpeas were used to lovely effect in bowls and baskets throughout the room where the guests were received.

The table in the dining room was covered with a patchwork lace cloth and centered with a tall silver epergne filled with white sweetpeas and valley lilies. The bride's cake was built in three tiers and elaborately decorated with white roses, the green leaves of which added the only touch of color.

Punch was served on the enclosed terrace from flower banked bowls by Mrs. Erwin Fleming and Mrs. Walton Forgy.

Mrs. Edwin Lockridge kept the bride's book.

Handsome Costumes.

Mrs. Hart received the guests wearing a handsome gown of black chantilly lace, posed over black satin. A spray of delicately tinted orchids and valley lilies graced her left shoulder.

Mrs. H. N. Hurt was gowned in pink chiffon, heavily encrusted in pearls and crystals. Her flowers were a shoulder bouquet of pink roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. L. R. Sams, the groom's grandmother, wore pink beige chiffon, fashionably draped. A corsage bouquet of Parma violets completed her costume.

Mrs. J. O. Mathewson was an attractive figure wearing black lace veiling a slip of black satin.

Mrs. M. C. Wyeth's costume was of transparent black velvet, finished at the neck with a tracery of rhinestones and crystals and caught at the side with a handsome ornament.

Mrs. Toulman Williams, aunt of the groom, wore for the occasion a Parisian gown of black chiffon and crystals.

Mrs. J. T. Williams, another aunt of the groom, was gowned in yellow chiffon, encrusted with gold sequins.

During the evening, Mr. Hurt and his bride left for a wedding journey to Florida where they will visit the fashionable coast resorts, Palm Beach, Daytona Beach and Miami.

Mrs. Hurt traveled in a smart two-piece costume of gray flat crepe with which she wore a becoming close-fitting hat of gray French felt and a coat of Lanvin green broadcloth, collared and cuffed in natural lynx fur.

Lovely Albany Belle Weds

Mrs. Maurice Coleman, of Albany, whose marriage was an event of social interest, taking place January 14. Mrs. Coleman was formerly Miss Sue Williams, popular belle and member of one of the oldest families of Albany.

Woodmen Circle Committee Meets.

Mary E. Larocca Woodmen Circle telephone committee held a daddies' meeting Wednesday, February 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Vaughn, 112 Ashby street, N. W. After supper and a short business meeting, dancing and cards were enjoyed.

The daddy meetings will be held every two months. The next regular meeting will be held with Mrs. Tom Keith, 112 North Randall street, East Point, Wednesday, February 15.

Catholic Club To Hold Meeting.

The Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women meets at the rectory of the Immaculate Conception church Wednesday evening, February 8, following the Immaculate Conception parish supper which is to be served at 5:45 o'clock, with a special table reserved for club members. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. F. W. Hinkle, Main 1278.

Business Women To Meet Wednesday.

The Business and Professional Woman's club of Atlanta will hold its dinner meeting Wednesday, February 8, at 6 o'clock, at the Winecoff hotel.

George W. West will be the speaker of the evening and will talk on the subject of "Building and Loan Organization." Miss Mary Buttrick will provide the music for this dinner and after the meeting a social hour is being planned. Miss Kathleen Massey was welcomed into the club at its last meeting.

Miss Hooten To Give Radio Program.

Miss Lutie May Hooten, of College Park, will give the 7 o'clock program broadcast Thursday evening, February 9, by the Georgia School of Technology over station WGST. Her program includes piano, vocal and banjo music, and among the compositions of her own will be a piano arrangement for the left-hand alone.

'Ball of Nations' To Be Sponsored By Pi Kappa Phi

Elaboration of detail will mark the "ball of nations" to be given by the Georgia Tech Iota chapter of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity at the Biltmore on March 2. More than three hundred guests will attend in garb of the nations of the earth. The ballroom will be draped in a bewildering manner with flags of every color and description and will resemble Geneva, Switzerland, at the time of a meeting of the League of Nations.

It will be a most colorful event—sultans robed in many colors and bejeweled turbans; Chinese mandarins in long, flowing coats, bearded Moors dancing with Geisha girls of Japan, gowned in multi-colored silken kimonos; petite China maids in silken pantaloons and bobtailed jackets; Salome dancers of the east in baggy bloomers and jeweled corsages, and slave girls covered with bracelets from ankle to head.

The English "bobby" and the French "gendarme" will be present, also the Apache dancers, the flower girls of Holland, the Russian peasants and the Scotchman with his kilts and bagpipe. Most of the other nations of the world will be represented by the Eskimo from Alaska, the bullfighter from Spain, Indians of South America and Mexico, and the Hula Hula girl from Honolulu.

Georgia Citizens Urged To Use Georgia Products

Indorsing the recent movement to increase the use of Georgia products inaugurated by Mrs. Norman Sharp, president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, and sponsored by the State Bureau of Markets, Dr. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, has issued a bulletin to principals and teachers of state and county schools throughout Georgia, requesting that they exploit the state's agricultural resources on their "Georgia Day" program celebration. Dr. Duggan believes this movement has vast financial possibilities if adhered to by the people of Georgia and desires that the state's future citizens, now attending the public schools, be impressed with the value and importance of the citizens of Georgia buying table food products from Georgia farms.

Mrs. Sharp, who inaugurated the present movement, has for years been interested in promoting the interests of the Georgia farmers, acting for five years as president of the municipal market committee of Atlanta which established Atlanta's municipal farmers' market. Georgia citizens are urged to dine exclusively on Georgia products the first Sunday of each month, with February 5 marking the second monthly observance.

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"
Peachtree at Cain WAlnut 6212

Jardine Side-Tie $12.50

Jardine is shown four ways—in black bar satin, with piping of silver kid at the throat; French beige bar satin with gold kid piping; black patent with piping of beige kid; and in honey beige kid.

Shoe Salon . . . . . Main Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"
Peachtree at Cain WAlnut 6212

VOGUE ~

After the Agnes idea, of felt hat over crocheted skull cap, is this model, with a small, close-fitting strip of the crocheted straw stitched into the crown of this smart parchment felt, and framing the face in chic fashion. A sophisticated hat, but likewise a becoming one.

$22.50

Millinery Salon . . . . . Third Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"
Peachtree at Cain WAlnut 6212

For the Woman of Affairs

Frocks of Slenderizing Lines And Tailored Charm Are Essential

It is highly important for a woman who is active in club and civic affairs of her city, whose social life makes many daily demands upon her time, to be always dressed in perfect taste—to have always a perfect fit in her modish gowns.

If she is a woman of rather a queenly build, of larger proportions than the slender slip of a thing she was in her girlhood, she may have found it hard to obtain dresses that fit and are at the same time truly becoming and smart.

For her Allen's established this highly specialized department, under the management of an experienced buyer who is herself a tall, well built, generously proportioned figure. And in Allen's new store there is a splendid stock of beautiful gowns awaiting selection.

Sleeves that fit without straining at shoulder or elbow—skirts that hug the hips snugly—yet not too tight for comfort!

Slenderizing styles, designed by experts whose houses are given over to the needs of larger women — who do nothing else in ready-to-wear.

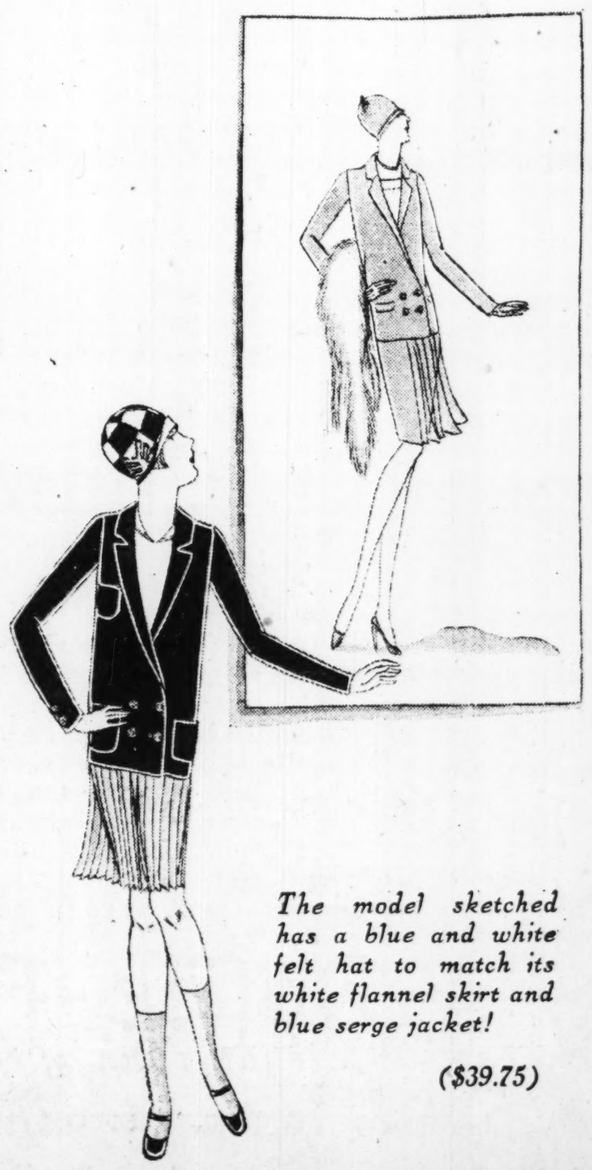

The model sketched is an admirable example of Allen's line. It is of black crepe, combined with imported print outlined in heavy silk. ($125.)

Second Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.
"The Store All Women Know"
Peachtree at Cain WAlnut 6212

belittling the grown-UP mode

Children's Ensembles . . . . . $29.75 to $49.75

Once upon a time little girls had a great habit of "playing lady"—which meant decking themselves in mother's cast off finery, or sneaking big sister's new hat on the sly and parading in great glee!

Now-a-days little sister has it all over her predecessors. Children's fashions are but chips off the older blocks — smaller editions of grown-up modes! And her wardrobe reflects both the spirit and the letter of the grown-ups' smart syles!

Allen's shows a complete group of ensembles—sized 8-10-12-14. The 8 and 10-year sizes have hats to match.

The model sketched has a blue and white felt hat to match its white flannel skirt and blue serge jacket!

($39.75)

Children's Shop, Third Floor

French Alliance Day To Be Celebrated by Interesting Program

The French Aliance meets Monday evening, February 6, at 8 o'clock, at "Wingfield," the home of former Governor John M. Slaton and Mrs. Slaton, on Peachtree road.

This date, February 6, is called "French Alliance Day" and is celebrated each year by over 400 groups of the French Alliance in different cities of the United States. This date was chosen to commemorate the signing of treaties of commerce and alliance between this country and France during the Revolutionary war in 1778. This is the only treaty of alliance that has been signed between this country and any foreign nation.

Mr. Staton will speak on the "French Influence in America," dealing especially with the intellectual, material, legal and economic influence.

Charles Loridons, president of the alliance, will review the circumstances of the signing of the treaty and reminiscences of this period in America and in France.

A one-act play, entitled "Cinq Minutes d'Entracte," by H. Crevent, will be interpreted by Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. Laura Lewis and Roger Macy.

Two piano selections will be given by Mrs. Charles Dowman and violin selections by Miss Marguerite Cooper, accompanied by Mrs. Cooper.

A group of French and English songs by Georges Baker, of the Emory Glee club, is another feature of the program. John Knox, of the Emory Glee club, will conclude the program with La Marseillaise. Both singers will be accompanied by Mrs. Charles Dowman.

Ormewood Park News Is of Interest.

John L. Garrison has returned from a business trip to Washington.

Joe Gardner, of Davidson college, Davidson, N. C., was the guest the past week-end of Olaf Puckett.

W. A. Hansell is recuperating from a tonsil operation.

Mrs. Lavern Whitworth left Tuesday for St. Louis.

Mrs. Valentine Winkleman and children spent the past week with relatives in Tallapoosa.

C. P. Ford has returned from a business trip to Florida.

Mrs. W. H. Summersgill left Wednesday for Bartow, Fla., where she will be the guest of her sister. Before returning she will spend some time in Miami.

Mrs. Sterling Bryan was hostess to the members of her church circle Monday afternoon at her home on Delaware avenue.

Members of the Christian Endeavor society of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a wiener roast Friday evening.

Mrs. Gordon Townley was hostess to the members of the Priscilla club Thursday afternoon at her home on Delaware avenue. Miss Jeanett Logan and Mrs. Nellie Morris were the invited guests.

Edgar and Elizabeth Kilpatrick were hosts to the members of the Young People's Missionary society of Martha Brown Memorial church Friday evening at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kilpatrick.

A delightful feature of the promotion exercises of the Ormewood school, which were held at the school Friday, January 27, was the luncheon at which Mrs. T. M. Shaft, president of the P.-T. A., was hostess to the boys and girls that were promoted to the junior high schools. Covers were placed for members of the class and Mrs. John W. Doster, Miss Foot and Mrs. Paul West.

Allen Company Host Oglethorpe Co-Eds

GORGEOUS MODELS FOR SPRINGWEAR ARE DISPLAYED AT EVENT

At Delightful College Fashion Show

The three striking models pictured above displayed early spring fashions in sports costumes, afternoon and evening gowns at the tea Friday afternoon at which the J. P. Allen company honored the co-eds of Oglethorpe university on the second floor of the magnificent new store on Peachtree street. A description of the costumes appears in the article published below. Photographs by Francis Price, Constitution staff photographer.

BY MAINER LEE TOLER.

Spring fashions for the college girls were displayed by lovely young models of the J. P. Allen company Friday afternoon for the enjoyment of Oglethorpe university co-eds, who were honored with a tea by Allen company officials on the second floor of the handsome new department store on Peachtree street. A number of fascinating new shades were forecast for spring in sports costumes, afternoon dresses and evening gowns modeled. Honey fawn, prune, gray blue, straw yellow, bottle green and biscuit shades were among the leading colors predicted for daytime costumes. Banana, chartreuse and limegreen seem to be the trend in fashionable evening shades.

Adding chic to the sports ensembles were handkerchief scarfs in blending shades. With each costume shown, notice was called to the perfect blending of accessories, such as shoes, bag, costume jewelry, gloves and even the dainty kerchief tucked in the strap of the hand bag.

Sports clothes and tailored costumes featured the first part of the fashion revue, each model evoking enthusiastic comment from the group of youthful college belles assembled. Attracting particular attention was a two-piece, figured print, sports costume with beige and woods brown shades predominating. A small hat of the new Bakou straw revealing a narrow brim, and brown suede Delman shoes completed the chic outfit. The return of two-piece coat suits was assured when the four striking models appeared wearing poiret twill suits in navy blue and light-weight gray tweed. Each wore a close-fitting hat in novelty straw and carried tailored bags in shades harmonizing with silk crepe blouses worn with the smart ensembles. Expressing a new note in sports apparel was the combination of silk and woolen knitted materials in pastel shades. An impressive costume in this class was patterned of canary yellow, the one-piece dress fashioned of silk crepe with plaited skirt, while the three-quarter length coat was cut of silk knitted wool.

Afternoon Dresses.

Flowered and printed chiffons predominated in materials for afternoon gowns with soft girdles and short airy cape effects in the same material lending the only trimming. A combination of two harmonizing shades in chiffon prevailed in garments appropriate for teas, afternoon receptions and luncheon parties. Among those paraded were combination shades of petunia and orchid; brown and beige, navy blue and a lighter shade of blue.

Top coats played a conspicuous part in the revue, both sports and dressy coats being modeled. The smartly attired girl will continue to wear her coat with a wrap-around effect by confining it close at the left side. Particularly is this emphasized in the lustrous black satin coat which reigns supreme for afternoon wear. Among the wraps attracting attention was a black satin lined with honey-colored crepe and trimmed with the new sunray ermine fur collar extending to the front waist line. Deep cuffs and collar of kolinsky, monkey fur, mink, dyed fitch and ermine prevail in the trimming of the modish black satin coat. Kasha and tweed coats in the natural and gray shades were also fur-trimmed and were extremely effective when worn over sports costumes.

Applause greeted the models as they paraded a number of exquisite dinner and evening gowns before the youthful feminine admirers. Perhaps the most striking was a period costume fashioned of white pussy willow taffeta with deep black flounces introduced on the skirt which was finished around the hemline by a deep fold of soft white tulle. Adding a brilliant dash of color to the gown were two large crimson poppies arranged gracefully at the left waistline and bodice.

Another evening gown greatly admired was a model of extreme period style fashioned of black pussy willow taffeta. The graceful long skirt, which hung several inches lower in the back revealed a facing of lime green taffeta. A huge bow of wide taffeta ribbon tied in lime green and delicate rose pink, which adorned the left side of the skirt with the ends touching the floor, was the only trimming and gave a French touch to the costume.

Pajamas Modeled.

A glimpse into milady's boudoir was gleaned when the four slender models appeared wearing colorful negligees over pajamas of four distinct types. The college girls expressed keen delight when they viewed the gold satin pajamas worn by the model possessing reddish gold hair and brown eyes. Futuristic embroidery trimmed the slumber garment and a fascinating gold satin breakfast coat added to its completeness. Another pajama suit impressing the onlookers was made of black satin ornamented with American beauty satin points and worn under a lounging coat of red and black metal cloth.

Miss Angel Allen, daughter of the owner of the magnificent new emporium, and Miss Katherine Koonce, presided at the tea table, which was perfectly appointed in every detail, the guests lingering over the tea cups after the fashion parade for further delightful comment concerning feminine apparel to be worn in the spring.

Miss Allen, who is a popular student at Oglethorpe and a member of the Zeta Tau sorority, wore a smart afternoon gown created of honey fawn and beige shades in chiffon. Her hat was a small model in beige straw. Miss Koonce, who is an alumni of Oglethorpe and a member of the Chi Omega sorority, was modishly attired in bottle green crepe and her hat was a matching straw in a close-fitting model. Each guest was presented a shoulder bouquet of freesias and pink sweetpeas.

Bowden State College News.

Practice on the Japanese operetta, "Princess Chrysanthemum" is well under way and the production will be staged early in February. Coach D. T. Puckett is in charge of the operetta.

The boys of the basketball team lost another game to Buchanan Athletic club on the home court, the score being 37 to 20.

The West Georgia Collegian will be issued within the next ten days. Due to financial handicaps the paper will be printed, for the present at least, on a multigraph machine.

Dr. George W. Camp gave an inspiring lecture on Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in chapel during the past week.

Coach D. T. Puckett plans to offer a high-class program of athletic demonstrations at the local high school auditorium Thursday of this week. Included in this program will be acrobatic feats, boxing and wrestling.

The intercollegiate debate team is doing excellent work in its weekly meetings. At its initial appearance at the last meeting of the Forensic union the topic of discussion in the Emory university and North Georgia Agricultural college engagements was discussed. Speakers heard at this time included Miss Lucile Norris, Earl Sanders, Roland Neeson and Dore Baird.

Clearance of

BYCK'S Beautiful

Footwear

Many Styles Less Than

HALF (½) Price

Small Lots—Plenty Sizes.
In the Season's Best Selling Models

Values to $10.50, Now $5

Values to $15.00 Now $6.75

Usual Charge Courtesies—Ladies' Section—Main Floor

Children's High Shoes Greatly Reduced

Byck's 61-63 WHITEHALL ST.

Special Values in Ladies' Hosiery

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

"The Store All Women Know"

Peachtree at Cain WAlnut 6212

For Presents and Prizes:

Imported Perfumes

$1.95

Specially Purchased

Bridge parties and birthdays have one thing in common—the necessary gift for the fair honoree!

Whichever event is looming on your horizon, here is the answer to the gift question—lovely perfume, boxed in a novel, colorful fashion—ready for tissue paper and pink ribbon.

Narcisse and Chypre, two of the delicate odors from Longchamps and Galleries de Gigolo, respectively.

Main Floor

Quality—Values—Saving Opportunities

Are Seldom Given Such Forceful Expression as in Our

Removal SALE

Never Has There Been a Time When Your Dollar Would Buy So Much Quality in

Furniture of Character

The Reason Is Obvious:

In this, as in all instances where this store can cut thousands of dollars from its merchandising expense, we are delighted to divide the big savings among the homes of our community.

The heavy expense of moving our present stock has been deducted from the prices of the fine furniture composing it. The savings are genuine, and you are invited to share them.

Convenient Terms

Delivery at Desired

Duffee-Freeman

FURNITURE of CHARACTER

Corner Broad and Hunter

Work Progressing Rapidly on

Our New Store

Soon Atlanta may enjoy the service and facilities of one of the South's most complete home furnishing stores.

We are at once proud and grateful for the good will and patronage of an appreciative people, which has made it possible for this outstanding service to be rendered by Duffee-Freeman.

GEORGIA DIVISION, DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY

Mrs. W. Trox Bankston, Covington, president; Mrs. H. O. Ball, Jackson, first vice president; Mrs. I. Bashinski, Dublin, second vice president; Mrs. W. H. McKenzie, Montezuma, third vice president; Mrs. Powell Cotter, Barnesville, recording secretary; Mrs. R. E. Everitt, Covington, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Julian Lane, Statesboro, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Craig, Augusta, registrar; Miss Mildred Rutherford, Athens, historian; Mrs. Kirby Smith Anderson, Madison, assistant historian; Miss Rebecca Black DuPont, Savannah, recorder of crosses; Mrs. Charles Tillman, Quitman, auditor; Miss Lillian Henderson, Atlanta, custodian of world war records; Mrs. J. J. Harris, Sandersville, state editor; Mrs. Loula Kendall Rogers, Tennille, poet laureate.

Honorary Presidents—Mrs. W. S. Coleman, Atlanta; Miss Anna Carolina Benning, Columbus; Mrs. Ida Evans Eve, Augusta.

Un Mot Ici Est Bien

BY MRS. J. J. HARRIS, Editor Georgia Division, U. D. C.

Mrs. T. W. Reed, Athens, chairman of education, stresses the value and necessity of education on today's official U. D. C. page. The strength of a nation lies in the fundamentals of the education given its children, and the Georgia division, U. D. C., recognizing this fact, is taking the month of February to bring the subject of education to the fore, and the official page will each week during the month feature different phases of this department. Mrs. Reed's contribution is of great value. She is most efficient and the division is most gratified at being able to secure her talents for the advancement of the work.

A Georgia program to be used for exercises Georgia day, February 12, is sent by Mrs. W. C. Martin, Dalton, chairman of Georgia day and flags in schools. She is a new member of the executive board and evidences the true Georgia spirit in the inspirational program appearing today. She has done brilliant work in her chapter and has been of great benefit to the U. D. C., and it is desired that many chapters will use the very interesting suggestions as sent by Mrs. Martin.

Mrs. J. L. Beeson, Milledgeville new chairman of the historical essay fund, announces her committee as follows: First division, Mrs. Edgar Alexander, 900 Penn avenue, Atlanta; second division, Mrs. W. T. Harris, Washington, Ga.; third division, Mrs. W. C. Wilson, 223 Seventh street, Augusta; fourth division, Mrs. D. W. Wright, Columbus; fifth division, Mrs. Thomas Coxon, Ludowici. With Mrs. Beeson as chairman and with such a committee the historical essay contest will go far in its advancement and when one learns that Mrs. Beeson has been offered seven scholarships for the first prize one realizes more than ever how well fitted she is to carry on most brilliantly in this line of endeavor. She has done other notable service for the benefit of her state, acting as chairman for the woman's division in Baldwin county for the sale of Confederate coins, the sale going far past the quota. She was an officer in the Nancy Hart chapter and the Milledgeville chapter U. D. C. for many years.

Georgia is quite proud of the honor which has come to another of her brilliant daughters. Mrs. W. C. N. Merchant, president general, has appointed Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney, of Columbus, director for Georgia for the Mathew Fontaine Maury scholarship. This recognition of the talents of Mrs. Gaffney by the one highest in command of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is most gratifying to our state, and we also recognize the fact that this appointment will mean much for this department in the general organization.

Mrs. Frank Harrold, past president general, entertained a group of distinguished visitors last week at her home in Columbus, including Mrs. Oscar McKenzie, of Montezuma, vice president general; Mrs. J. E. Hays of Montezuma, past president of the Federation of Woman's clubs and chairman of time and place in the Georgia division; Mrs. George Scott, past president Virginia division; Mrs. C. M. McCullum, past president of the Alabama division, and Mrs. Felix Harvey, who offered the prize for the best essay during Mrs. Harrold's administration. Mrs. Harrold gave a luncheon in honor of her charming guests, and the Columbus U. D. C. and D. A. R. gave a luncheon for them with covers laid for 100. Mrs. Oscar McKenzie entertained Saturday at her home in Montezuma at bridge in honor of Mrs. Harrold's guests.

Mrs. R. M. Mobley, newly appointed chairman, writes most interestingly of the Helen Plane educational fund, the department sponsored by the division president for years. Mrs Mobley has done notable work for the cause of the U. D. C. and is planning to carry on this educational movement with increasing interest. She is most capable and energetic and the state is looking to her for great things during the next year. In turn the state must help her so that she may carry on creditably the work she has undertaken.

Mrs. W. Trox Bankston, division president, issues a message on today's official U. D. C. page of educational emphasis. Her words are of paramount importance, showing intense interest in the cultural departments of the organization. Her plan of devoting the month of February to the advancement of the educational interests is inspirational. Mrs. Bankston has accepted invitations to Social Circle February 9, and to Atlanta February 11 for the Alexander Stephens exercises.

The state editor acknowledges with thanks the attractive year book sent by the Lizzie Rutherford chapter of Columbus, with the subject of study for the year "Service Afloat." It is particularly brilliant in the selection of quotations and the development of the subjects. Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney is chairman, and her year book committee Mrs. John Minter, Mrs. J. W. Schuessler and Miss Mary Lewis Reed are commended upon the completion of this splendid effort.

Mrs. Bankston Stresses 'Education' In Her February Message

February, the shortest month in the year with "Education" our greatest work before us.

Let's make a drive for our U. D. C. educational causes. First: Our Helen Plane educational loan fund. If your haven't ordered your Georgia pin flags from the new chairman, Mrs. R. M. Mobley, Covington, to so at once and flag everybody in Georgia with a Georgia flag on Saturday, February 11, as the 12th comes on Sunday.

Alexander Stephens' birthday is a good day to observe, anyway, as this is our special Stephens year. Sixteen girls are depending on our help this year.

Another big educational feature is our historical essay contest on Alexander H. Stephens. Mrs. J. L. Beeson, Milledgeville, the chairman has some valuable prizes to offer. Surely every boy and girl in our Georgia high schools will want to try for these wonderful campships.

Then the world war educational fund, Miss Alice Baxter, Atlanta, chairman. We must not fail to help our boys.

We are also working for a new scholarship at Rabun Gap—Nacoochee. Our Francis Bartow memorial, with Mrs. E. A. Caldwell, Monroe, chairman. Don't forget that.

Our Winnie Davis Memorial hall, at Athens, is badly in need of new furnishings. Be sure to make a liberal contribution to the chairman, Mrs. Walter Hodges, Hartwell.

In this, our Alexander Stephens memorial year, it is a most appropriate time to rally to our Alexander Stephens Memorial institute at Crawfordville. Mrs. Horace N. Holden, Athens, is chairman of this and needs the money we pledged to finish paying for the land recently purchased.

Be sure to put Miss Rutherford's "Georgia, the 13th Colony," in all schools and libraries on Georgia day.

We must also encourage the celebration of Georgia day and put Georgia flags in the schools and work for our scholarships. Mrs. Fay Gaffney, Columbus, has charge of Georgia scholarships and Mrs. T. W. Reed, Athens, chairman of education, will tell you about some valuable general U. D. C. scholarships for which you may compete.

May February, 1928, be the best educational month in the history of U. D. C. efforts. Yours for success, (MRS. W. TROX) FANNIE BANKSTON.

Essay Contest Chairman Offers Six Scholarships

Mrs. J. L. Beeson, of Milledgeville, chairman of historical essay contest of Georgia U. D. C., offers in the following letter, six scholarships. She says:

"The chairman of the historical essay committee of the Georgia division U. D. C. is embarrassed over her riches. Think of it! Six lovely campships—four in Georgia and two in North Carolina—as the first prize for the boy and for the girl who will write the best essay on Alexander Hamilton Stephens in the U. D. C. history contest. The selection of the coveted prize in no way resembles "The Judgment of Paris," who decided the prize of beauty among Minerva, Juno and Venus!

"The chairman coveted every campship, and she now knows that Georgia school children are loved beyond measure. The campships selected were the first ones offered to her. A. A. Jameson, of Atlanta, Ga., owner of Camp Dixie for boys at Wiley, Ga., and of Camp Dixie for girls at Clayton, Ga., gave two campships; one for the boy and one for the girl who wins. The value of these two prizes total $450. In the future, more will be written about these two lovely camps; the one in the Tallulah river country, the other in the Rabun Gap country and both of them adjacent to the Nantahala forest reservation of the United States government.

"The chairman of the historical essay contest gives her most sincere thanks to the owners of the following camps for their offers of campships for first prizes: First to Major Henry Ranier, owner of French Broad Camp, at Brevard, N. C., his offer being made through Mrs. Oscar McKenzie; second, to Dr. J. R. Sevier, owner of Greystone Camp, at Tuxedo, N. C., for the offer of a part campship; third, to Miss Lillian E. Smith, owner of Laurel Falls Camp, Clayton, Ga.; fourth to Dr. H. J. Pierce, supervisor and Miss Cecilia Branham, director of Camp Takeda, Gainesville, Ga. Division U. D. C., for the second prize, offers a handsome medal both for the boy and for the girl who wins it. These medals will be presented at the U. D. C. state convention.

"Each U. D. C. chapter is asked to give a prize to the pupil who writes the best essay in his or her county. The president of the other U. D. C. chapters in the county will present same. The literature for the chapter and for the schools, is now ready for distribution. One county alone has ordered a thousand copies of the Alexander Stephens pamphlets.

"It occurred to the chairman of the U. D. C. historical essay contest, that in no way could a better knowledge of Alexander H. Stephens be acquired in a short time, than by reading the wonderful speeches which were made in Washington, D. C., at the unveiling of his statue. She has had the gracious permission of the speakers, Vice President Dawes, Governor Hardman, Senator Harris and Senator George, Judge Ernest C. Kontz, and Dr. Garnett W. Quillian to reprint their speeches in pamphlet form to send into the schools of Georgia.

"All Georgia teachers are urged to cooperate with the Georgia division U. D. C. for whatever knowledge is in the nation is first acquired through the schools. Let Georgia day exercises in the schools this year be largely devoted to Alexander Stephens, that Georgian who said: "Let my days be brought to an end in my own native land! Let my last breath be of my own native air! My native land, my country, the only one that is country to me, is Georgia. The winds that sweep over her hills, are my native air. There I wish to live, and there to die."

Mrs. Mobley Makes Appeal to State U. D. C.

Mrs. R. M. Mobley, of Covington, chairman of Helen Plane Educational Loan Fund, issues an open letter to statewide U. D. C., making her appeal in the following article. She says:

"Dear Daughters of the Confederacy:

As your newly appointed chairman of Helen Plane Educational Loan fund, I send you most cordial greetings and wish to remind you of the near approach of Georgia day, February 12, when we ask each U. D. C. chapter in Georgia division to sell Georgia flags. I wish that I might make a personal appeal to each chapter, urging that you do your utmost to make the greatest possible success of this day as it is the only means we have of increasing this fund except by chapter or personal contributions.

"The Helen Plane Educational fund of Georgia division U. D. C. was inaugurated in 1914 when Mrs. W. D. Lamar was president. It was named for Mrs. Helen Plane, the first president of Georgia division. She was the first to suggest scholarships for worthy girls of Confederate lineage. The first four years the Helen Plane fund was a gift, and, with $1,000 five girls were helped to secure an education. Then it was changed to Helen Plane Educational Loan fund.

"The only requirements are girls must be graduates of some accredited high school, must be of Confederate lineage and must be indorsed by their nearest U. D. C. chapter. These loans bear no interest until young lady goes to work and then they bear 4 per cent annually to be paid in monthly payments when possible. Seventeen girls are beneficiaries of this fund now. Mrs. Trox Bankston was appointed first chairman of this fund. She has ably managed it these years and is now president of Georgia division. Let us strive to maintain her high standard. I am confidently expecting this year to be unequaled in the history of Helen Plane Educational Loan fund. Please order flags at once from me—$2 per gross."

Liberty County Unveils Monument.

Ludowici, Ga., January 28.—A dream of the Liberty county chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, became a reality Thursday, January 19, when a marble monument surmounted by a southern cavalryman was unveiled at Hinesville in memory of the Liberty county men who answered the call to arms in the '60's and went forward to defend their southland and to fight for the principles for which the Confederacy stood. The monument, which stands on Hinesville's historic courthouse square, was the scene of the exercises which were witnessed by a vast throng of folk who by birth or ancestry lay claim to Liberty county as their native heath. The program arranged for the occasion began with a grand parade to the monument by the sponsors, the veterans and the Daughters of the Confederacy, followed by the school children of the county, who, through their donations, had helped to erect the memorial. With Major Joseph B. Fraser, of Hinesville, as master of ceremonies, introducing the speakers, the presentation of the monument in behalf of the Liberty county chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, was made by the president of the organization, Miss Laura Martin Fraser, past recording secretary of the Georgia division of the Daughters of the Confederacy. Miss Fraser expressed her appreciation and that of her chapter in the interest shown in the undertaking by the school children, by former Liberty countians scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, by the citizens of the county, as well as to the Valdosta Marble Works, who furnished the monument at cost. Miss Fraser said in part: "We, the Daughters of the Confederacy, have erected and are still erecting markers and monuments as tributes of love to the memory of the most remarkable body of men ever engaged in war's bloody strife." In defending the principles of the south, Miss Fraser declared: "We, the Daughters of the Confederacy, are not organized and do not erect memorials to keep alive strife and bitterness, as many seem to think, but 'love makes memory eternal,' and it is our duty to see that justice is done, homage paid to the great men and women who sacrificed all for principle." Touching lightly on the struggles of the south in returning to its position held before its invasion by the foe, Miss Fraser pledged to Confederate veterans present at the unveiling the unstinted support of the Daughters of the Confederacy. After a tribute to the veterans of the world war, the descendants of the Confederate veterans, Miss Fraser said in closing: "To us this has been a labor of love and we ask that you will receive and guard this monument as a sacred trust."

The monument was unveiled by the following young girls who acted as sponsors, Agnes Waite, Lillian Fleming, Minna Norman, Nina Mae Holliman, Dorothy Estelle Martin, Kathryn Overman, Adelaide Stafford, Kathleen Winn, Sarah Hines, Thelda Darsey, Evalon Caison, Vallie Bell Winter, Dorothy Elizabeth Martin, Sallie Long, Grace Martin, Margaret Bagley, Kate Jones, Mary Small, Leonora Quarterman, Corinne Way and Lena Mae Smith, all of Liberty county; Ruth Martin and Frances Mallard, of Ludowici, Long county.

The acceptance of the memorial in behalf of the county was made by C. B. Jones, chairman of the county commissioners, following the salute, which was fired by the Liberty Independent troop, the oldest Georgia cavalry organization, under the command of Captain C. J. Martin, Jr. The response in behalf of the Sons of Confederate Veterans was made by Col. Newton J. Norman, of Savannah, after which Dr. W. R. Dancy, of Savannah, spoke on the work of the organization of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, of which he is the state president. The presentation of the Confederate veterans present was made by Representative Wallace F. Mills, of Hinesville, brief responses being made by Gen. E. J. Thomas, Savannah; Col. Raymond Cay, Valdosta, and Col. William Harden, Savannah. A peculiarly sad feature of the occasion was the fact not a Liberty county Confederate veteran was able to be present, although from Long county, a part of Liberty county until its creation in 1920, was present F. J. Chapman, of Ludowici, who is assistant adjutant-in-chief of the national organization of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and J. O. Garrison. Seated on the stage were nearly a score of veterans, the executives of the Liberty county Daughters of the Confederacy, and the speakers.

The introduction of Gen. Peter W. Meldrim, superior court judge of Savannah, and himself a veteran of the '60's, was made by R. M. Martin, editor of the Liberty County Herald, Hinesville. During his address, General Meldrim referred to the fact that no county engaged in the conflict between the north and the south contributed more men according to its population than did Liberty county. In closing he paid tribute to Gen. Robert E. Lee, on whose birthday anniversary the memorial was unveiled.

A feature on the program was the recitation, "My Grandad," by Parker Waters, of Savannah, whose grandfather, Veteran John Long, of Liberty county, passed away last year. Following the unveiling a salute was fired, and at the conclusion of the program taps were sounded by the Liberty Independent troop, under the command of Captain Charles J. Martin, Jr., this being the oldest cavalry organization in Georgia.

Juliette Low Memorial Fund Interests Scouts.

Girl Scout February activities center about programs and projects to secure contributions for the Juliette Low Memorial fund, following the adoption of this idea at the national convention of Girl Scout leaders, as a fitting tribute to one meaning so much to the movement, so vital to the Girl Scouts of Georgia, Mrs. Low's native state. The interest on the fund will be used for the promotion of Girl Scouting throughout the world, as a contribution to peace and good will. Since February is the month of the birthday of many famous characters, a number of the troops are giving birthday parties, contributing to the Juliette Low Memorial fund as many pennies as each scout is years old. Others have an "international box" into which scouts put coins which have been earned and saved during the week.

Troop No. 7, North Avenue Presbyterian school group, led by Miss Elizabeth Floding, has acquired a new hut for troop meetings, on the grounds of Mrs. Broach on Oakdale road. Scouts will furnish the hut.

Troop No. 3, Jewish Alliance, has grown so large that it has been divided into two troops meeting weekly, directed by Miss Isabel Clark. Troop No. 10, meeting every Thursday at the Tenth Street school will present a play, "St. Valentine's Workshop," at the next troop meeting. There are two full patrols in this group with Scouts Mary Jane Gooch and Mary Elizabeth Barge as patrol leaders.

Beginning with the spring term February 6, at Agnes Scott college training course for Girl Scout leaders will be a part of the college curriculum. A number of leaders of the Atlanta troops, as members of the student body will take this course which is given by Mrs. Harvey L. Parry, formerly a member of the Agnes Scott faculty and for a number of years local director of the Atlanta Girl Scouts.

Hadassah Board To Sponsor Bridge.

The board of directors of Hadassah chapter is giving a bridge tea at the Biltmore hotel on Monday, February 13, at 2:30 o'clock. Tables will be $4 each. Reservations may be made by phoning Mrs. W. J. Greenblatt, HEmlock 5075; Mrs. B. Wildauer, HEmlock 0846.

Stewart-Williams Wedding Is Beautiful Home Event

A marriage of much interest to a wide circle of friends and relatives was that of Miss Azalea Beatrice Stewart and John C. Williams, which was solemnized Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. H. Allen, on East Ontario avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. M. Stinson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Chattanooga, Tenn.

The beautiful altar of stately palms interspersed with baskets of Easter lilies and cathedral candelabra, formed an exquisite setting for the bridal party. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. A. L. Slaton, pianist, and G. W. Grant, violinist, rendered a program of nuptial music. During the ceremony "To a Wild Rose" was softly played. Mrs. S. B. Stroud sang "All for You" and "At Dawning."

The matron of honor was Mrs. Terah James Stewart, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of ivory satin trimmed with hand-made roses. She carried an arm bouquet of Columbia roses.

The dainty little flower girl was Miss Jennie Bell Lovell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lovell, of Germantown, Pa. She wore a white georgette frock ruffled, and carried an old fashioned bouquet of pastel shaded flowers.

Lovely Bride

The bride entered with her brother, Ottis Stewart, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Claude Holt, of Savannah.

The bride was a picture of exquisite loveliness in her bridal gown of Duchesse satin fashioned with basque waist with insert of maline in front, embroidered daintily in white satin roses with orange blossom centers. Around the deep maline hem was this same rose motif, and falling from the shoulders was a graceful court train of lustrous white satin. The filmy tulle veil was caught to the bride's hair with a wreath of orange blossoms and a dainty spray of these was caught at each side. She carried an arm bouquet of bride roses showered with valley lilies.

A reception followed the ceremony. Assisting in entertaining were: Mrs. Essie Daniel of Greenville, S. C., and Mrs. O. E. Stewart, of Birmingham, Ala., sisters of the bride; Miss Kathleen Simpson, Mrs. C. S. Carnes and Mrs. Ben Patterson. Mrs. L. H. Muse kept the bride's book.

Mrs. Stewart, mother of the bride, wore pale blue georgette trimmed with silk lace. Her corsage bouquet was of roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Allen, sister of the bride, wore a gown of Paisley cloth, with shoulder bouquet of Ophelia roses and valley lilies.

Miss Elizabeth Williams, of Wilmington, N. C., sister of the groom, wore peach georgette, beaded. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids and valley lilies.

Wedding Trip

Immediately after the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding journey to points in Florida and Cuba. Upon their return they will make their home in Savannah.

The bride traveled in a smart one piece dress of tan flat crepe with hat and accessories to match. Her coat was tan molina cloth with badger fur collar.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jobe Stewart, of Thomaston. For the past few years she has made her home in Atlanta with her sister, Mrs. W. H. Allen, where she has made a large circle of friends.

Mr. Williams is a native of North Carolina, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, of Fayetteville, N. C. He has for a number of years been connected with the Seaboard Air Line railway, and now holds the responsible position of engineer of buildings with headquarters at Savannah Georgia.

The out-of-town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Jobe Stewart, of Thomaston; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Stewart, of Birmingham, Ala.; Uhland Stewart, of Savannah; Mrs. Essie Daniel, of Greenville, S. C.; Miss Elizabeth Williams of Wilmington, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Harris, of Albany; Luther Daniel, of Albany; Mrs. Otto Tillman Roehl, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Mrs. Ashton Porter, of Savannah; Mrs. Donald Dowe, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Holt, of Savannah.

East Atlanta News Is of Interest.

Rev. and Mrs. George King were guests at dinner Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McCay in Decatur.

Mrs. T. B. Johnson is ill.

Miss Mildred Mealor and brother Ted Mealor, who are visiting in Atlanta, were guests of Mrs. R. C. Aiken Sunday.

Mrs. Emma McCowan is visiting relatives in Milledgeville.

Mrs. LaVerne Whitworth left Atlanta Tuesday evening for St. Louis to meet Roy Druschky. Mrs. Whitworth and Mr. Druschky announce their marriage, which took place Wednesday evening, following her arrival in St. Louis. After a short visit with relatives they will return to Atlanta their future home.

The Young Matrons' Sunday school class of Moreland Avenue Baptist church entertained at an afternoon tea Tuesday in honor of Mrs. B. A. Howell.

Mrs. Wand Sinder, of Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Springer were guests of Mrs. Sam Pierce at dinner Tuesday evening.

Cordial interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Miss Nellie Marcell Priest to Herbert McIntosh, which took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. R. Priest, at 378 Lee street, in West End. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Melvin Lacey at 9:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the presence of the immediate family and a few friends. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh left Tuesday evening for Columbus to make their future home.

U.D.C. Chairman Stresses Value Of Education in Today's Article

Mrs. T. W. Reed, of Athens, chairman of education for Georgia division, U. D. C., stresses the value of education in the following article:

"This is the day of education. In this country it is an established conviction that every boy and girl should have an opportunity to secure an education. To create these opportunities schools must be organized and maintained, colleges must be adequately supported and scholarships and loans must be placed within the reach of those who are worthy and determined and yet are without the necessary funds.

"The Georgia division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has been a pioneer in this work. It has from its very beginning placed the proper value on such endeavors and its members and the chapters have spent thousands of dollars in forwarding many splendid educational movements. This year special stress is to be laid on educational work and a number of the division committees will direct their energies toward carrying out in a systematic way well-laid plans for the extension and development of projects already under way as well as the launching of new movements from which splendid results are expected to flow. Among the many movements calling for active and increasing effort and support are the completion of the World War Memorial Educational fund and the continued and more substantial support of the Helen Plane Educational fund. Great results for all time will flow from these two educational funds.

Gift Scholarships.

"The Georgia division has done no better work in its history than that of providing a large number of gift scholarships. This work increases in scope and importance from year to year. There is plenty of demand for all the scholarships that can be secured. A strong effort will be made to add to the list of gift scholarships already established. Along this line the division has recently started the Francis S. Bartow Memorial Scholarship fund at the Rabun Gap school. Among the first great achievements of the Georgia division was the building of the Winnie Davis Memorial hall at the Georgia State Teachers' college and through the appropriate committee the work necessary to keeping the rooms in that beautiful building in proper condition in each year efficiently done. Continued effort will be made to gain from the state the proper recognition and support of the Alexander Stephens Memorial institute at Crawfordsville.

"Through the committee on textbooks good work has been accomplished in the past and will be accomplished in the future in eliminating those books that would give the youth of Georgia false instruction concerning the great Confederate struggle, and the collection of books for foreign libraries will be continued by the committee in charge of that work. In the past the division has secured numbers of Confederate portraits for many schools and this work, which has a splendid educational value, will be continued. The chairmen of the various committees above mentioned are also members of the committee on education and in addition to the work of their individual committees will do efficient work on this committee. It is hoped and expected that the educational work of the Georgia division during the present year will show a marked increase in interest manifested and results attained."

Loan Fund Appeal.

"Every college president in Georgia is confronted constantly with the problem of providing money for the assistance of the worthy and struggling boys and girls who cannot get through without financial assistance. Here is the place where a few hundred or a few thousand dollars can be profitably invested in the establishment of loan funds. The gift of $100 each year towards a loan fund will aid one student in the completion of his education. As these students pay the money back with interest the fund becomes larger and more far-reaching. These funds can be established in the several colleges in Georgia as memorials to loved ones gone, perpetuating their names and projecting their influence down the centuries. There are plenty of situations arising where the gift scholarship is best. There are many others where the loan fund is best. There is a permanency about the loan fund that is attractive. The money goes on and on in its beneficent work.

Chapter Meetings

The Robert E. Lee chapter, No. 1157, U. D. C., of College Park, Ga., presented an interesting program in the chapel of the Georgia Military academy commemorating the birthday of General Robert E. Lee, Miss Mary Gray, president of the chapter, having arranged the exercises.

Immediately upon assembling in the chapel the cadet band favored the audience with an overture composed of southern melodies.

Dr. Carter Helm Jones, a brilliant orator, recited the greatness of the peerless chieftain, Robert E. Lee.

To Dr. Jones' admiration of General Lee's character and achievements as a world figure was added the unusual intimate knowledge of General Lee as a man and friend. Dr. J. William Jones, father of Dr. Carter Helm Jones enjoyed the distinction of being a close personal friend and chaplain in General Lee's own army of northern Virginia.

After Dr. Jones' tribute to General Lee, Mrs. Proctor, past president of the local chapter, announced the winner of the handsome gold medal offered by the chapter for the best essay on the life of Robert Edward Lee. The contest was entered by twelve of the cadets and the essays submitted to the chapter as judges. Cadet Thomas West Walker, of Jacksonville, Fla., a member of the senior class, an eagle man, and a leader among the cadets, was declared the successful contestant.

At the conclusion of the program, Colonel Nash, of the Georgia Military academy, extended an invitation to the visitors to remain for the first full-dress parade of the new year.

SANDERSVILLE CHAPTER.

Mary Ann Williams, U. D. C., at Sandersville, celebrated the birthday of the matchless commander, General Robert E. Lee. It was coincidental that this date, January 19, should also be the birthday of Judge R. R. Talliaferro, and it carried unusual sentiment that the anniversary meeting should be held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. M. Hitchcock, the organizer of the chapter. The president, Mrs. Tom Gilmore, presided over the session and a program was given by Miss Lorine Sullivan. A tribute to Lee was given by Miss Louise Irwin and piano solo rendered by Miss Laura Harris.

J. J. Harris spoke in grateful appreciation of Judge Talliaferro, and of his life of service to the community. He painted a word picture of General Lee glowing with the colors of patriotism, drawing the flame of the courage of the great general across the history of the truth with force and eloquence. "Our peerless leader," concluded Mr. Harris, "was victorious in defeat and whose character transcends all military achievement."

BARNESVILLE CHAPTER.

The Willie Hunt Smith chapter is gratified at the activities and progress of the chapter. The fine attendance and increasing interest at the monthly meetings give promise of even greater achievements.

A recent program presented by Miss Elizabeth Hardy, newly appointed chairman of the program committee, was a review of the universities and leading colleges and schools of Georgia. Mercer university and Shorter college were discussed by the chairman in the absence of the appointees. Mrs. J. T. Blalock, who was a schoolgirl more than seventy years ago, was assigned the "Schools of Yesterday." Her talk was a living volume of history not found in books. She dramatized some of the class recitations of the long ago, and demonstrated how knowledge comes but wisdom lingers.

Alexander H. Stephens was the subject of the second study. The program presented realistic scenes and eloquent speeches of the unveiling of the statesman's statue at Statuary Hall, Washington.

The January program was in celebration of the birthdays of Lee and Jackson. At the conclusion a motion was carried that a request be sent individual teachers asking that annually they give prominence to the birthdays of Lee and Jackson in the school of the city and of Lamar county.

Mrs. Holly Holmes and Miss Mary Wooten were appointed to deliver to the schools the completed pictures of Confederate heroes. These pictures are the gift of Mrs. J. M. Anderson, Miss Lillian Mitchell, Mrs. Powell Cotter and Mrs. Tom Murphey.

The committee on medals decided to deliver the Irene Simmons Murphey essay medal to the winning contestant at the Memorial day exercises instead of at the time when medals are delivered at Gordon commencement. This medal is given annually in honor of Mrs. A. O. Murphey whose devotion to the chapter since its organization is a record of faithful service.

"Regenstein's Smart Styles"

Featuring

KASHA COATS FOR SPRING

$29.75 AND $49.50

Smart Tailored Models in the Spring Mood

NEW and entrancingly smart and individual. Coats for the first Spring days. Sports and dress models. Of soft wool kasha—beautifully silk lined, novel stitching and inserts.

Blacks——Tans——Navy

Sizes: 14 to 40

Apparel Dept.—Second Floor

REGENSTEIN'S

"55 Years in Atlanta"

CAST AS Queen Martha, Gladys Hanson, Atlanta's most eminent Thespian, made her Broadway debut at the Playhouse theater last week in "The Queen's Husband," an immensely engaging play by Robert Emmett Sherwood, author of that successful vehicle "The Road to Rome," starring Jane Cowl, with a two-year run to its credit. The action of "The Queen's Husband" takes place in a mythical island kingdom in the North sea, and its three scenes are laid in the private office of King Eric VIII, a role assumed by Roland Young, portraying the dapper little monarch hen-pecked by his domineering consort, and accepts his effacement from politics with humorous despair.

By her shrewish antics Queen Martha succeeds in steamrolling the shrimpish King Eric most regally, ruling and running the affair of the kingdom without ever allowing the funny little king to voice an opinion. Chosen for the role of Queen Martha because of her exceptionally remarkable dramatic ability and because something in the look of her brings to mind a very beautiful royal personage who toured America a little over a year ago, "Queen Martha" decides to make a gracious and profitable tour of "those barbaric United States." During her absence mischief starts working in the royal mind of meek King Eric who rises up and throws off the queenly tyranny. In looking over her scrap-book on her return from America, Queen Martha proudly explains the press notices, describing a reception given in her honor by Marion Davies, Charles Chaplin and that the photograph was taken with a "Mr. Whalen. She insisted that the pious-looking person with whom she was snapshotted in Washington is not a clergyman, but Mr. Coolidge.

Before the play is over King Eric subtly upsets his own government but establishes his power on the throne and in the hearts of his subjects. One of the events of New York's initial presentations was the debut of Marguerite Taylor, daughter of Lauretta Taylor, that lovely young woman who so realistically created "Peg of My Heart" for the American stage. She acted as lady-in-waiting to Queen Martha, and carried the scrap-book containing the press notices of her majesty's American tour. "The Queen's Husband" is presented by an excellent company, assembled by William A. Brady, Jr., and Dwight Deere Wiman, its producers, and staged to perfection by John Cornwell, its dialogue replete with clever and satirical lines.

CERTAINLY the "man of the hour" in the city last week was Ignace Jan Paderewski, the world's greatest musician and artist incomparable! Most of Atlanta knows what took place before the great red curtain when the audience swarmed to the very footlights at his concert pleading for the master's "Minuet in G" or some other favorite. Back of the curtain were enacted those intimate scenes between friends, with always that touch of reverence due a great master.

Among those greeting Mr. Paderewski back stage was Mrs. Royal Terrell, the former Miss Idolene Lewman, whose cousin, Miss Angela Bryer, of London, England, is one of the favored and fortunate few who have had private instruction under the noted musician. Communicating by note with Mr. Paderewski upon his arrival in the city, she was invited back stage after the concert and finding that he spoke English very brokenly, she addressed him in fluent French, gaining his instant approval with a nod and a smile. So impressed was the master with Miss Bryer's genius that she was invited to Poland to visit in his castle, and also in his Switzerland chateau. Pursuing the study of music for her own pleasure only, she is recognized as one of England's most prominent young artists.

Mrs. Terrell and her mother, Mrs. Lee Lewman, have often visited their cousin in her London home, Mrs. Terrell finding this mutual acquaintance a subject of interesting conversation with Mr. Paderewski last Wednesday evening.

AS A CONTENDER for honors with the best shots in America in the 1928 mid-winter trap shooting tournament at Pinehurst, N. C., the markmanship of Mrs. Walter P. Andrews won her the woman's championship, with a score of 89 per cent out of 600 clay pigeons. She was the only woman to go to the finals, and was runner-up in the Pinehurst pedigree system, qualifying the first day of the tournament, bracketed with a partner, and eliminated men and women contestants until the finals.

Mrs. Andrews chose a gold medal as her trophy, being triangular in shape, ornamented with a platinum laurel wreath, gold target, with the date and event engraved upon the medal. She departed for Eustace, Fla., last week for the Eustace shoot, chronicled as the Vandalia trap shooting event, patterned after the one staged every August in Vandalia, Ohio, situated just a few miles outside of Dayton.

A little more than four years ago Mrs. Andrews knew absolutely less than nothing about firearms and clay pigeons, but through practice and possessing the truest of target range eyesight she has won trophy after trophy and placed her name in the championship class.

BROTHER RABBIT and the briar patch sometimes finds a real life counterpart. Some years ago a little baby, whose mother died in southern Alabama, set out in a wicker basket on the arm of an old negro mammy for Westchester county, N. Y., where she was to be reared by her mother's father.

Life began in earnest for Lucinda. But somehow life was not the same. The child's grandmother often found it difficult to find a market where she could get chickens, potatoes and edibles of the old south to which she had been accustomed. In her mind were memories of white colonnades and sunny lawns.

And then the rub came.

Grandfather tried to quiet the baby with a threat to take her back home. "Don't you worry, honey, about us going back to Alabama," Lucinda was heard talking to herself. "We will go soon as we gits a chance and we don't have none of dis old steam and gases and electricity where we don't know where dey comes fum, but we has nice open fire place to warm your toes by and what's more we has chicken and plenty of it every day and don't make no fuss about it neither."

Lucinda is still in Westchester county, rearing her children to be substantial citizens of the section in which they live.

"Honey" is Miss Virginia White Ambler, a little student at Washington seminary, and a past president of her class. For the past two years she has made her home in Atlanta with her grandfather, T. M. Ambler, on Rolling road.

Beside being the heroine of our story she is a direct descendant of Chief Justice John Marshall, a member of the famous Byrd family of Virginia, which claims the distinguished aviator, Richard Byrd, and is related to the late Dr. James Ambler, who died on an Arctic expedition in 1881.

Whether Virginia corroborates the idea of Lucinda is not clearly known, but those who know her best wish that grandfather's threat had been carried out many moons ago.

A WORD to the wise is sufficient.

Those of you who are a bit remiss, who pigeon-hole your social invitations and conveniently forget the courtesy extended by your fair hostess, listen to this little plan of New York women, for whom necessity has proven the mother of invention.

Young men, it seems, are the more tardy in answering invitations.

If they answer in time, all well and good.

If they fail to reply to a dance, a fashionable function in reasonable time, they receive the following card from the hostess:

"Not having heard from you."

There are more ways of killing a dog than by choking him to death with butter.

"This is just a polite way of saying "Your place has been filled and you are not expected."

THE high art of living has long been proverbial.

But there are others equally as much to be desired.

Recently Ransom Wright, well-known Atlantan, was in an accident, which, though not serious, proved to be a narrow escape. A speeding motorist injured his foot, stepped on the gas and sped unmindfully ahead, leaving no trace of his identity. Mr. Wright afterward, in speaking of the incident to a friend, remarked:

"It reminds me a problem some one once put to a friend of mine.

"'What is your ambition in life?' he was asked.

"'Why,' he replied, 'to be a good pedestrian.'"

THAT exclusive little circle of debutantes, including Misses Florence Eckford, Mary Louise Brumby, Virginia Courts, Mary Harvey, Anne Spalding, Mary InmanPearce, Ann Kessnich, Catharine Boyd, Edna Raine, Mary Wellborn, Mary Matheson and Gertrude Harris, proved that society girls are always ready to put their shoulders to the wheel and do their part towards the world's betterment, brought to the surface in the announcement that nearly $800 was cleared at their "Famous Character" ball staged at the Biltmore last Monday evening.

The proceeds from the ball, regarded as perhaps the swan song of the Debutante club of 1927-28, as the approaching Lenten season always curtails entertaining to a marked degree, will go towards the Georgia Children's Home society, adopted early in the season by these debbies as their pet charity because of the appealing quality of the little children cared for at this home. Headed by Miss Mary Louise Brumby, a very youthful person endowed with remarkable executive ability, this band of earnest Atlantans planned the ball which proved a great financial as well as social success. This financial outcome is all the more remarkable because this "preferred" circle have had so little knowledge of "budgeting" and less than no experience in high finance.

FOUR WOMEN, as society editors, have scored one in the line of achievement! And, as a result, our egos are in the ascendency—self satisfaction rests on our countenances!

Since the days when Adam lorded it over Eve in the garden the noble species of the genus homo has never been credited with reading the society section of the newspapers. In fact certain specimens have vehemently denied that they ever perused our humble effoots.

It was left to the composing room to dispel all such disparaging impressions! In the elaborate account of a recent fashionable wedding the typesetter inadvertently omitted a line, thereby causing the copy to read something like this: "The matron of honor was gowned in a becoming straw hat and carried a shower bouquet of roses."

On the morning when this account appeared in the paper, no sooner had we entered our office and settled to our menial task, than certain members of the staff, all of whom were male, appeared in our door with the depreciated society page in their hands. They were followed by others, the last one of whom were men! They would not be satisfied, until we looked up the original copy, that the mistake was not ours!

Of course we make mistakes—numerous, and often—sometimes ludicrous ones! But, because of this one, the matter is firmly settled in our minds, once and for all—that men do read the society pages. We might go so far as to say that all men read the society pages, for we still hear echoes of that error, not from our more charitable feminine friends, but from those masculine ranks, beneath whose dignity it falls to waste their time on the chronicling of social happenings.

WE must ignore the pleadings to tell the names of prospective brides and grooms in rumored engagements. Sometimes we do not even know the names ourselves and other times we are sworn not to divulge the secrets of Dan Cupid. By now you must know that we have just such a rumor in mind to tell you, so here goes. There is a stunning auburn-haired widow, whose engagement to one of Atlanta's handsomest beaux, will be announced only ten days before the marriage, scheduled for the last week in February. The widow's little girl gave us the first hint of the existing engagement which was later admitted by the young mother herself. Before moving to North Carolina ten years ago, where her first unsuccessful matrimonial venture took her, the beautiful brown-eyed widow enjoyed extreme popularity in Atlanta and at Washington seminary, where she was a student for two years.

The family of the groom-to-be is numbered among the south's most aristocratic and his mother is included in Atlanta's most cultural circles. Before the marriage of his only sister and her removal to a distant city, to whom he and his two brothers are devoted, she was counted among Atlanta's most popular and charming belles. After a wedding journey to Cuba Mr. and Mrs. ——— will take their place in Atlanta's most exclusive young married ranks.

Hadassah Board To Sponsor Bridge.

Members of the board of directors of Atlanta chapter Hadassah will entertain at a bridge party Monday afternoon, February 13, in the ballroom of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, at 2:30 o'clock.

Tables will be $4.

Reservations for the bridge may be made by calling Mrs. B. Wilauer, HEmlock 0846, or Mrs. W. J. Greenblatt, HEmlock 5075.

Mrs. Louise Hirsch To Present Program.

Mrs. Louise Hirsch, a brilliant pianist, will present a program Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock before the Temple Sisterhood membership in the temple, to which members are invited. A piano from Phillips & Crew has been loaned for the program.

Miss Emily Woodward Speaks At Woman's Club Next Monday

The Atlanta Woman's club Monday meeting February 13 features press work, with Miss Emily Woodward, state president of the Press association, as speaker, and gathering together the state's most prominent and outstanding clubwomen who will be in the city to attend the Tallulah

MISS EMILY WOODWARD.

Falls trustees' dinner and state executive board meeting held February 14 and 15. The president, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith will preside and introduce Miss Woodward.

Mrs. Louise Wicker Allensworth, who delighted members with her artistic singing during the operalogue series, will render a group of songs, accompanied by Atlanta's talented pianist, Mrs. Charles Chalmers.

The nominating committee for the coming year will be elected and attention of the few members who have not paid their dues are called to the fact that only those who have paid current dues will be eligible to vote. The treasurers: Mrs. John S. Broggdon and Mrs. E. B. Havis, Jr., will be glad to receive these dues and will be at the door early.

Among the distinguished guests in addition to the school trustees, state officers and district presidents and other state chairmen, will be Major J. S. Cohen, Hon. Clark Howell and Colonel W. C. Edward, with their official staff; Mrs. L. G. Hardman, Mrs. John M. Slaton, Mrs. I. N. Ragsdale and other notables.

A social hour follows the meeting, with the membership committee, Mesdames Shepard Bryan, John K. Ottley, Wilmer Moore, Edgar Pomeroy and Sarah Wagstaff Rogers serving tea.

Robert Lee U. D. C. To Meet Tuesday.

The Robert E. Lee chapter, U. D. C., College Park, Ga., meets Tuesday, February 7, at 3:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. V. C. Mason, on Virginia avenue.

Mrs. Eva L. Thornton, chairman of the program committee, will present the topic for the month of February, "Georgia's Five Distinguished Representatives in the National Hall of Fame in Washington." Sketches will be given of Dr. Crawford W. Long and Alexander Stephens by Miss Mary Gray, chapter president. "Georgia, My Georgia Land," will be sung by Mrs. Marjorie Olds Jacobs. Mrs. Dorothy Jones Solomon will give a reading from Miss Mildred Rutherford's sketch, "The Romance of De Soto." Mrs. Ernest Huff, Georgia Military Academy, will give a review of the unveiling of the statue of Alexander Stephens as seen by the Georgia Military cadets. Mrs. J. F. Heard, historian of the chapter, will present to the chapter a beautiful portrait of General Stonewall Jackson. The social hour will be presided over by the hostess, Mrs. V. C. Mason, and Mrs. D. R. Nesbitt, social chairman.

Many a train of thought should participate in a head-end collision.

Sometimes patients do more for doctors than doctors do for patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Laird Will Celebrate Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Laird, beloved pioneer citizens of Atlanta, will celebrate the 50th anniversary of their wedding at an elaborate reception from 4 to 8 o'clock Monday, February 6, at their home, 151 Moreland, S. E.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Laird will be their children, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Laird, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Canale, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Hamilton.

Assisting in entertaining the guests will be a group of Mr. and Mrs. Laird's grandchildren, who include Sidney L. Laird, Thomas C. Laird, III., Roy L. Laird, Misses Josephine Hamilton, Mildred Evelyn Hamilton, Marian Canale, of Memphis, and Evelyn Canale, of Memphis.

Several hundred guests will call to greet this prominent couple.

Randolph-Macon Club To Be Entertained.

Randolph-Macon club will be entertained Friday afternoon, February 10, at 3 o'clock by Mrs. Ower C. McConnell at her residence, 804 Penn avenue. A study of antique glassware will continue the discussions on interior decorating. Randolph-Macon alumnae in the city are invited to be present.

Business Women Organize Circle.

Mrs. Wallace Rogers, conference officer, in charge of business woman's circles of north Georgia Methodist churches; Mrs. F. E. Thomas and Mrs. Joseph W. Clayton organized a business woman's circle at the First Methodist church Saturday afternoon. The first meeting was held in the church cottage and the following officers were elected: Chairman, Miss Ruth Pierce; treasurer, Miss Etta Walker; secretary, Miss Laney Porter.

Atlanta Y.W.C.A. Activities Are of Wide Cordial Interest

Members of the D. A. R. in Atlanta held a memorial service at the Y. W. C. A. Thursday, February 2, at 3 o'clock in memory of the late Mrs. D. I. Carson, member of the Y. W. C. A. board.

Among the outstanding activities of the Y. W. organization for the coming week are these of the Girl Reserves. The Amicus club, which is composed of girls from the Commercial and Girl's High schools, will meet Thursday, February 9, to elect officers. Friday evening, February 10, the High Girl Reserve Inter-Club council will give a party with the boys from the school Y at the Y. W. C. A., 37 Auburn avenue. After supper a leap year valentine party will be held. Preparations for entertainment are in the hands of Mr. Hardy, secretary of boys' work, Y. M. C. A.; Mrs. Perrin Nicholson, member of the Girl Reserve committee, and Miss Dorothy Hinman, assisted by the advisers of the High School Girl Reserve clubs, who are Misses Isabelle Dew, Marjorie Eakes, Lois Miller, Sarah Higdon, Lois Parr, Margaret Dobbs, Frances Freeborn and Sarah Ezell, the Girl Reserve secretary.

A new Junior High Girl Reserve club was organized at the Hapeville school last week, with Miss Edith Ruff, teacher, as adviser.

Vocational Work.

Particularly interesting to the High School Girl Reserves is the vocational work which Mrs. Herman Evins and Mrs. Walter DuPre are doing among the clubs. They are arranging interviews between the Girl Reserves and women who have made successes in their respective business and professional careers, so that the girls will get first-hand advice.

Next week promises to be a full one for the business and professional department of the Y. W. C. A. On Monday, February 6, at 6 p. m., there will be a dinner and a council meeting the Business Girls' league cabinet. On Tuesday, at the same hour, the Old Glory, Clover and S. I. S. P. clubs will have a dinner and a business meeting. Thursday at 6 o'clock will see the regular dinner and classes of the Business Girls' league. These classes in dancing, music appreciation and psychology, will run from February 9 through February 23, with special programs and singing on February 16 and March 7. The spring term begins March 16. Fees are $1 a term.

Looking ahead the social calendar for the business and professional department appears just as full as the approaching week. On February 25 there will be given a benefit bridge by the Business Girls' league at the home of Miss Mary Nell Smith, 765 West Peachtree. Old Glory is to have a benefit bridge also, on February 14, the place to be announced later.

Friday evening of next week the Industrial Girls of the Y. W. C. A. will have their regular Friday supper at the Y. W. C. A., 37 Auburn avenue. After supper the meeting will adjourn to the home of Mrs. E. Martin Underwood, on Avery drive, for a picture study evening in lieu of the regular meeting at Y headquarters.

Mrs. Martin Suggests Georgia Day Program.

Mrs. W. C. Martin, of Dalton, Georgia day chairman, suggests the following program for Georgia day, February 12: 1, song, "There Is no State Like Georgia;" 2, Georgia acrostic; 3, slogan, "It's Great to Be a Georgian;" 4, song, "The Red Old Hills of Georgia;" 5, reading, "Song of the Chattahoochee;" 6, song, "Cherokee Rose;" 7, reading, (a) "This Ole Worl' We're Livin' in" (Stanton); (b) "Rain Song" (Loveman); 8, Georgia facts (geographical); Georgia facts (historical); song, "Georgia Land."

Eastlack School To Give Recital.

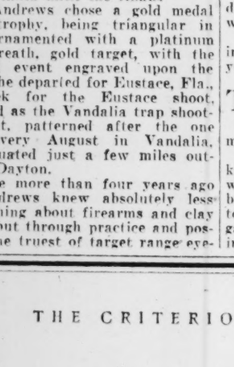

The first recital of the midyear term of the Eastlack School of Oratory and Expression takes place at the school, 716 Grand theater building, Saturday, February 11, from 3 to 4 o'clock.

The pupils of the school will give a George Washington program Saturday, February 18, from 3 to 4 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. F. C. Linch, 315 Linwood avenue, East Point.

THE CRITERION OF STYLE

Je Nan's Millinery 208 Peachtree St. At the Henry Grady

STRAW HATS

for bright SPRING DAYS

$10
$12.50
$15

JeNan's display includes many models for the smart woman's immediate selection. Hats correctly styled for the season, the new colors, trims, and materials are presented tomorrow for your first inspection.

A CHARGE ACCOUNT WITH JE NAN'S IS A FASHIONABLE CONVENIENCE.

Every Piece of Merchandise in the House Brand New and all at Big Reductions for our First Money-Saving

FEBRUARY FURNITURE SALE

Quality merchandise—direct from the world's greatest furniture market—expressing the very latest ideas of design and of materials that are newest in vogue! This is the kind of furniture we are offering you at substantial reductions. Remember ours is a new store and everything in the house is brand-new. Our attractive prices are made with a view of building good will, offering you an unprecedented opportunity to save money.

Handsome 2-Pc. Suites

We are offering the most remarkable living room suite values in the city. A large stock of brand new suites in a variety of materials including mohair and jacquard velour. February sale price as low as

$98

Occasional Chairs

Where is the home that does not need one or two of these beautiful occasional chairs? We have them priced as low as

$13.50

Lamps! Lamps!

An extraordinary special all this week. Beautiful bridge and floor lamps. A great variety from which to choose.

$9.95

Our Divided Payment Plan

Makes it easy for you to own the beautiful furniture you want. Come in and let us tell you about it.

Beautiful Antique Mahogany Secretaries

A large selection of secretaries of beautiful antique mahogany. Reduced especially for our February sale. As low as

$59

Occasional Tables

A beautiful stock of occasional tables with a large variety of designs from which to make selection. Reduced as low as

$15

Living Room Suites, Bedroom Suites, Dining Room Suites at Substantial Reductions for This Event

Two-piece living room suite. Mahogany finished, carved wood frame. Upholstered in Jacquard with reverse cushions in tapestry $98

Two-piece taupe all-over mohair suite, carved mahogany finish frame and base. Davenport and club chair $129

Ten-piece antique walnut finish dining room suite. Consisting of table, buffet, china cabinet, server, 5 side and one arm chair $179

Ten-piece walnut dining room. Massive construction. New antique finish. An exceptional value $198

Four-piece walnut bedroom suite. French vanity, chest of drawers, full size bed and bench. A substantial value $79

Four-piece walnut bedroom suite. French vanity and chest of drawers, bed and bench. Dark antique finish $158

One lot beautiful fancy silk sofa pillows. Extra special offering for this week $295

BYRON AKINS MORRIS MEISEL BOB SCOTT HENRY KOLSHORN ROBERT QUINN

Akins Furniture Company

"A Good Furniture Store"

262 PEACHTREE STREET WAlnut 2339

MEETINGS

Queen Esther chapter, No. 262, Order of the Eastern Star, meets Wednesday evening, February 8, 7:30 o'clock, third floor Red Men's Wigman, Central avenue.

The W. M. S. of the Kirkwood Methodist church, will meet at the church Monday, February 6, at 2:30 o'clock.

The circles of the W. M. S., of the Oakland City Baptist church, meet Monday, February 6, at 2:30 o'clock. Places will be announced in church bulletin.

The Woman's auxiliary of the Georgia Baptist hospital meets in the hospital Friday, February 10, at 10:30 o'clock.

The Jewish Woman's club meets Tuesday, February 7, at 3 o'clock, at the clubhouse, Washington and Clarke streets. Mrs. S. Rosenberg, president, will preside. Judge Watkins will be the speaker of the afternoon.

The Haygood Memorial Missionary society meets Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church.

The Woman's Missionary society, of Payne Memorial church, meets at the church Monday afternoon, February 6, at 2:45 o'clock.

Druid Hills W. C. T. U. meets Wednesday, February 8, at the home of the president, Mrs. N. C. McPherson, Sr., 1436 Highland avenue, N. E. Subject of the program will be "Christian Citizenship" and memorial to Frances E. Willard. All members are requested to bring a gift for fruit shower for the Home of Incurables.

The W. A. R. M. A. meets at Davison-Paxon tea room Thursday, February 9, at 3 o'clock.

The Vacant Chair circle meets at the home of Mrs. Allan Artley, 1322 Piedmont avenue, N. E., Thursday morning, February 9, at 11 o'clock. All members are requested to be present, and to bring a friend who is interested in joining this most worthy cause.

The Woman's Missionary society, of St. Mark's Methodist church, meets Monday, February 6, at 3 o'clock, on the church.

The Kirkwood Baptist Philathea class meets at the church Monday evening, February 6, at 7:45 o'clock.

Cherokee Rose lodge No. 606, Ladies' auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, meets Thursday at 2:30 o'clock at Red Men's wigwam, 160 Central avenue, S. W.

Atlanta chapter No. 57, O. E. S., meets Friday, February 10, at 7:30 o'clock at James C. Greenfield Masonic lodge on Moreland avenue.

Fulton chapter, U. D. C., meets Tuesday afternoon, February 7, at 2:30 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the Ansley hotel. Mrs. L. D. T. Quinby, president, will preside, and Miss Martha Anderson, treasurer, will receive dues.

Banner Rebekah lodge of East Point, Ga., will have a get-together and rally meeting Monday evening, February 6. Officers will be elected and installed and other business of importance to Banner Rebekah lodge will be taken up.

The Woman's Missionary society of Druid Hills Methodist church, meets at the church Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock.

The Woman's Union Bible club study meets Wednesday at 10 o'clock at Wesley Memorial church. This class is conducted by Mrs. T. R. Kendall, who is recognized as a great Bible teacher. The book, Malachi, will be concluded Wednesday, beginning with the third chapter.

Mrs. Harry Shoemaker has returned to her home in New York, after a visit to Mrs. Robert H. Gardner, at her home on Peachtree road. She was entertained for two weeks at a series of social gaieties. Mrs. Gardner has recently moved to Atlanta for residence from Nashville, Tenn., where she was a leader in society, and is quite an addition to the social life of this city.

Decatur chapter (148) O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, February 7, at the Decatur Masonic temple, Decatur, Ga.

St. Anthony's Guild meets Monday, February 6, at 3 o'clock. The election of officers for the coming year will take place.

The Rose Croix chapter No. 257, O. E. S., meets Monday evening, February 6, at 7:30 o'clock in the hall.

Oglethorpe chapter No. 122, Order of Eastern Star, meets Friday evening, February 10, at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic temple on Peachtree road at Buckhead.

Atlanta lodge No. 230, I. A. to B. R. T., meets Tuesday, February 7, at 2:30 p. m., in the Red Men's Wigwam, 180 Central avenue.

Georgia chapter No. 127, O. E. S., meets Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, February 9, in Oglethorpe Masonic Temple, 193 1-2 Georgia avenue, S. W., corner South Pryor street.

Smith College club meets Tuesday, February 7, at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Paige Rees, 130 Montgomery Ferry road.

The Woman's Missionary society, of First Methodist church, meets Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school auditorium.

T. E. L. Sunday school class, of Edgewood Baptist church, meets Tuesday evening, February 7, in the class room.

Men's Bible class, of Edgewood Baptist church meets Tuesday evening, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock in class room.

Uncle Remus Memorial association meets Tuesday, February 7, at 10 o'clock at the Wren's Nest.

Alumni association, of the Simplex Shorthand school, paragon writers, meets in the assembly rooms of the school, 304 Peck building, Thursday evening, February 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

Kle Club Meets With Mrs. Ryder.

The Kle club holds its all-day social meeting on Wednesday, February 8, at the home of Mrs. C. A. Ryder, 959 Katherwood drive, S. W. New members are especially urged to attend as these meetings bring about a closer acquaintance and better fellowship.

MOVE

MODERN TO THE MINUTE

25 YEARS INCREASING DEMAND FOR OUR SERVICE

CATHCART

MOVES AND STORES HOUSEHOLD GOODS

LOCAL AND LONG DISTANCE REMOVALS

PACK STORE SHIP

Miss Fuller, of Culloden, Ga., To Wed Sanford Edwin Fincher

Miss Viola Elizabeth Fuller, of Culloden, Ga., whose engagement is announced today to Sanford Edwin Fincher, of Atlanta, by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Fuller.

Of cordial interest to their many friends and relatives throughout the South is the engagement announced today, of Miss Viola Elizabeth Fuller, of Culloden to Sanford Edwin Fincher of Atlanta.

Miss Fuller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Fuller, who are prominent residents of Culloden. She is a graduate of the State Normal school at Athens, having specialized there in music and later attending the Atlanta Conservatory of Music. Miss Fuller is well known in the social circles of Atlanta having visited here frequently.

Mr. Fincher is the son of Mrs. Azzie Jackson Fincher and the late Sanford Pledger Fincher, who have been prominent citizens of Atlanta for more than thirty years. He is a graduate of Tech High School and a member of the Engineering Class of 1924 at the Georgia School of Technology. Having taken a leading part in the young peoples' church work of Atlanta, he is well known throughout the city, and is very popular as the president of the Atlanta Epworth League Union Athletic association.

Mr. Fincher has been connected with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company for the past four years, where he is an engineer with headquarters in Atlanta.

Decatur Club Will Sponsor Cooking School

A cooking school sponsored by the Decatur Woman's club will be held in the clubhouse on Ponce de Leon avenue from Monday, February 6, to Friday, February 10, inclusive, from 10 to 12 o'clock each morning. A fee of 50 cent is to be charged for the entire course.

Mrs. Bruce Hall will talk on "Dressing Up for May" at the meeting of the garden division in Mrs. S. R. Christie's studio on Adams street Monday at 10:30 o'clock. Members are requested to bring pencil and paper.

Rehearsals are progressing for a Tom Thumb wedding, sponsored by the convention committee, and for the operetta, "Crystallized Fruit," to be put on by the ways and means committee.

The once-a-month Georgia products luncheon was given in the clubhouse Tuesday, January 31. Mrs. Roy Jones, with her committee, was in charge of the luncheon.

Bridge Club Is Organized.

A social event of Wednesday afternoon was the organization of the "U Tell 'Em Bridge club," at which Mrs. Grover C. Allen was hostess at her home on Lakewood avenue.

Mrs. Joseph Elphus Nelms was elected president of the club and Mrs. Grover C. Allen as corresponding secretary.

Those invited were Mesdames Joseph Elphus Nelms, Willie G. Robinson, H. Tucker Johnson, T. Gordon Moore, Grover C. Allen, Christine Allen, Miss Pearl Myrick, Miss Florence Cooley.

H. G. LEWIS & CO.

For Day-In and Day-Out Wear-- The Ensemble

Perfect in any weather and for any occasion that fickle spring might bring—the most versatile of garments—the ensemble! A modish frock, independent of its wrap, and the very smartest of outfits with the coat! Lewis' selection includes ensembles of kasha and crepe, wool crepe and silk crepe, and tweed, in all the best colors.

$24.75 to $49.50

The model sketched is one of the loveliest of ensembles—a printed crepe frock with red tie and belt—the background of the pattern a light tan to match the natural kasha of the coat. Priced $29.75.

See Our Window For Display

102 Whitehall — H. G. Lewis & Co. — WAlnut 8889

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Company

ANNOUNCES

A NEW BEDDING DEPT.

FOR THE EXCLUSIVE SALE OF

The Sealy TUFTLESS MATTRESS

"Like Sleeping On A Giant Pillow"

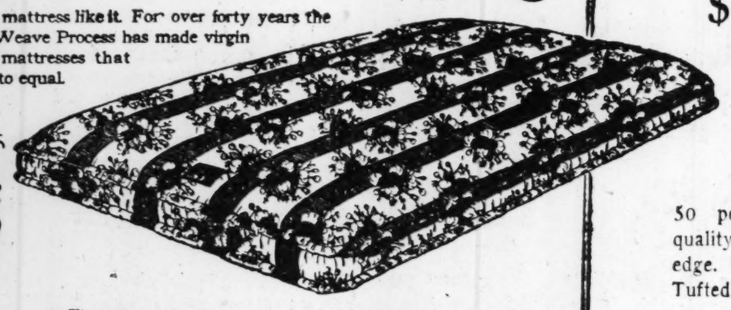

This magic mattress is tuftless, like a giant pillow. It needs no tufts. The same process that creates the Sealy's wonder comfort permanently knits staple cotton fibres into one giant batt that cannot and will never separate.

$50

There is no other mattress like it. For over forty years the Sealy Patented Air Weave Process has made virgin staple cotton into mattresses that none have been able to equal.

The proper bed-companion for the famous Sealy Tuftless mattress, if you want the maximum of sleep comfort. A wonderfully constructed double deck spring.

The pillowy comfort of the Sealy Tuftless relaxes every muscle in your body—rests your nerves and restores your energy. A real pillow for your body. Before you invest in sleeping equipment, investigate the Sealy Tuftless. The long years of service it will give you makes it the most economical mattress you can buy.

Sealy Faultless Inner-Tape

A wonderful mattress, made by Sealy Air Weave process. The tick can be removed and washed.

$39.50

Sealy Luxel

A 50-pound felt mattress of fine quality, tufted.

$35.00

Sealy Star

55 pounds of the best felt. Full eight-ounce sateen tick with tape edges, tufted.

$32.50

Sealy Texlan

50 pounds of good quality felt. Imperial edge. Fine sateen tick. Tufted.

$25.00

Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose Co.

Furniture Dept., Fourth Floor

Red Tape

"How," it is asked, "can Lewis' consistently sell its merchandise for less without letting down the standard of quality?"

A commonsense question, and one that has a dual answer.

First, economy in overhead expenses. Lewis' is a compact store, depending on rapid turnover to make room for the hundreds of garments that come and go each day. Furthermore the cost of merchandise bought here is not inflated by the maintenance of an unnecessarily large personnel. Red tape, we find, makes expensive wrapping cord.

The outstanding overhead economy, however, is the low rental which obviously goes hand in hand with our location. A convenient, practical location but an inexpensive one. On the highway of commerce, yet fairly and squarely subtracting the difference from our prices.

And again, economy of quantity buying. Lewis' does its buying through a New York office that annually purchases between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000. Obviously, then, Lewis' underbuys. This additional difference, also, is subtracted from the cost of Lewis' apparel.

Commonsense answers to a commonsense question.

Emphatically, Lewis' does sell for less—making it well worth the while of its customers to shop where business is transacted between friends.

Business Between Friends

H. G. Lewis & Co.

RICH'S Annual February Silk Hosiery Classic!

Regularly $1.95 to $2.50 Full Fashioned Pointed and Square Heels

$1.45

6 pairs for $8.50

25 Colors in Chiffon and Semi-Chiffon SILK FROM TOP TO TOE

(Note the New Low Prices)

15,000 Pairs Full Fashioned

PERFECT SILK HOSE,

Famous Makes, Names Forbidden

—Rich's Annual Silk Hosiery Classic, the South's most dramatic event, brings orders pouring in from over 22 states. Women watch for it, wait for it to order their spring and summer hose. They know they can depend upon the STYLE, the COLORS and SERVICE of these SUPERB silk hose from America's finest mills.

Seven years ago this hosiery classic was inaugurated. It has forged ahead gathering momentum each year. This year we have bettered our best—15,000 pairs of flawless silk hose bought months ago when raw silk was low in price. YOU share in our price concessions.

Chiffon and Semi-Chiffon

—All silk, in chiffon POINTED heels and semi-chiffon, a weight between service and chiffon, with SQUARE heels, every pair PERFECT, every pair silk from TOP TO TOE. In Fashion's approved shades for spring and summer. Beauty of texture, perfit fit that caresses the ankles, crystal clear dyes make hose of loveliness. All the new Spring shades to match shoes and frocks.

Extra Attraction!

6000 Pairs Silk Hose

$1

All the New Spring Shades---

Chateau	Patio	Riveria
Cascade	Chatlet	Chaire
Nude	Illusion	Soudan
Sunburn	Taupe	Arab
Cedar	Evenglow	Gunmetal
Peach	Charm
Grain	Beige
Haze	Sizes 8½ to 10

Full-Fashioned! Pointed and Square Heels!

—6,000 Pairs of Full-fashioned silk hose of nationally known brands make a thrilling addition to our Hosiery Classic! All the new spring shades in chiffon and service weight, pointed and square heels. These hose are termed irregulars by rigid factory inspectors but the imperfections are so tiny you'd never know it. Of $1.65 to $2.50 quality.

—SERVICE WEIGHT silk hose with lisle hem and soles. Full-fashioned. Pointed heels. Good color selection $1

—SERVICE WEIGHT silk hose with square heels, lisle hems and soles. Popular colors. Full-fashioned $1

—ALL SILK CHIFFON HOSE in gunmetal with black pointed heels. Full-fashioned $1

—ALL SILK CHIFFON HOSE in plain gunmetal or shadow with square black heels Full-fashioned $1

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

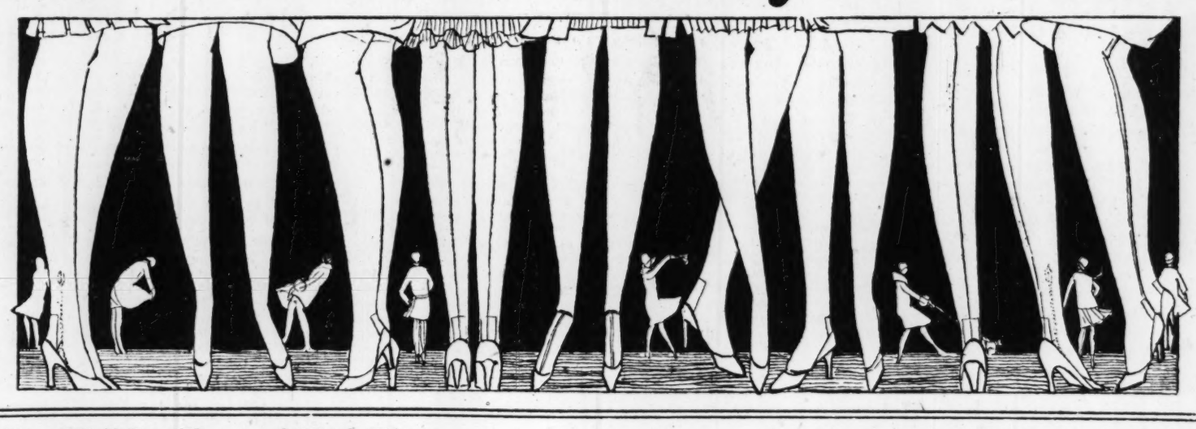

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

All Eyes Will Turn to HIGH'S Monday for $2 and $2.95 Silk Hose!

The Talk of Atlanta Today Is High's Sensational Hosiery Sale Tomorrow!

Such a complete array of exquisite silk hose we have never before been able to offer at such an amazingly low price! 500 pairs of sheerest chiffon, 1,000 pairs service, many semi-chiffon with lace clocks; also pointed heels, service weight, assorted colors—all finest quality silk!

Dust with Black Heels
Shadow with Black Heels
Gunmetal with Black Heels
Aleson with Boulevard Heels
Soft Peach with Aleson Heels
Popular Nude with Aleson Heels

Hose which will blend with your every smart costume! Every pair a genuine bargain at the original price! Nothing short of phenomenal at this remarkable sales price! In all sizes. Buy your Spring supply!

All Perfect; Specially Priced

$1.39 Pair

2 Pairs for $2.75

Fine Assortment

Stamped Pieces

29c

Every piece worth several times this price! Scarfs, pillow tops, bridge, luncheon, vanity and buffet sets, aprons and towels!

HIGH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

Boy Blue

BLOUSES

Blouses for sturdy little boys to wear to school and play! Of excellent quality Broadcloth, white and fancy patterns. Famous Boy Blue make. Sizes 6 to 14..... $1

HIGH'S, THIRD FLOOR

Attractive

32-Piece Dinner Sets

Marvelous Value for

$4.95

Six of each—Dinner Plates, Bread and Butter Plates, Fruits, Cups, Saucers, Bowl and Meat Dish. Rose pattern; first quality porcelain. Very special.

HIGH'S GIFT SHOP

You Will Be Charmed With These

COATS and DRESSES

Fashion's Favored Coats

Priced $44.75

Every one of these beautiful models has an air of captivating distinction! Made of exquisite Kasha, Charmeen, Kitten Dale, in navy, tan and black. Smartly tailored. With and without fur collars; lined with luxurious heavy silk crepe. Sizes 14 to 46.

Dresses Denoting Grace and Charm

$29.95

Always Spring's favorite fabric—Georgette is even more popular than ever before! These delightfully youthful frocks feature all the newest styles and touches—tiers, pleats, flares, ruffles, jabots! Round, square and Vionnet necklines! In tans, rose, greens and blues. All sizes.

HIGH'S, SECOND FLOOR

Just Received—10,000 Yards

Exquisite Spring Silks To Be Sold at Very Special Price For ONE DAY ONLY

The Lot Includes:

$1.95 Quality 40-in. Washable Crepe de Chine. All colors.
$1.95 Quality 40-in. Printed Flat Crepes. Lovely colors.
$1.95 Quality 40-in. Printed Chiffons. Most charming!
$1.95 Quality 40-in. Printed Georgettes for frocks.
$1.69 Quality 40-in. Satin Canton Crepes. All colors.
$1.69 Quality 40-in. Plain Georgettes. Lovely shades.
$1.49 Quality 36-in. Washable Plain Radiums for slips.
$1.69 Quality 32-in. Checked Broadcloth. Fine texture.
$1.95 Quality 32-in. Washable Broadcloth in plain colors.
$1.95 Quality 32-in. Striped Broadcloth and Crepe de Chine.

Monday You May Have Your Choice of Above Fine Silks at ..... $1.38 Yard

Mallinson's Cactus Prints

Gorgeous colorings in attractive cactus designs! Of Finest Pussy Willow Silk and Indestructible Voile. For blouses, ensembles, dinner and evening frocks. Priced per yard $4.95

Wool Tweeds

All-wool Tweeds and novelty woolens for ensembles, suits, coats and tailored frocks. Latest weaves and mixtures. Just the weight for Spring wear. Price, per yard $2.95

Eagles' Printed Crepes

Splendid quality heavy Printed Crepes in the most effective colors. Light and dark grounds. Also a complete assortment of white on black, and black on white. Exceptional value at yard $2.95

54-in. Flasha and Tweeds

Genuine $2.95 quality Flasha and Tweeds for attractive Spring clothes. Most effective colors and patterns. You will be wise to purchase at this special price. Yard.. $1.98

Latest Modes in

Novelty Jewelry

59c, 98c

And

$1.49

HIGH'S—STREET FLOOR

Special Sale

Silk Scarfs

Values $3.50 to $4.95

Women's scarfs of heavy silk and crepe de chine. Squares, in variety patterns! Sample lot of only 36! You will miss a wonderful opportunity if you fail to buy! ... $2.98

We Are Exclusive Agents for This Special Vogue

Bandeau Brassiere

Durable silk Swami cloth with broad piece elastic at the bottom for smooth fitting. Adjustable shoulder straps. For all figures $2

TUDOR PLATE BUDGET SALE

This Week Only

$1 Now

This Beautiful Chest
with contents of 26 or 29 pieces (illustrated)
$13.00

$1 Weekly

Duo-Service Tray
26 or 29 pieces
Service for Six
(not illustrated)
$14.00

TUDOR PLATE—Guaranteed for 25 years—Made by the makers of COMMUNITY PLATE

OUR BUDGET PLAN

You pay $1.00 down and $1.00 a week. No extra charge for this privilege—you pay our regular cash price only.

Choose from this Shopping List

SPOONS			FORKS—Flat Handle
Tea	Six	$ 1.60	Dinner	Six	$ 3.90
Coffee	Six	2.00	Dessert or Luncheon	Six	3.30
4 O'Clock Tea	Six	2.00	Oyster or Seafood	Six	3.35
Dessert	Six	3.20	Individual Salad	Six	4.75
Table	Six	3.20	Cold Meat or Serving	Each	1.35
Bouillon or Consomme	Six	3.50	Pickle or Olive	Each	1.00
Soup (round bowl)	Six	3.20
Iced Tea or Iced Drink	Six	3.25	Pierced Pastry Server	Each	$ 2.75
Orange or Grapefruit	Six	3.00	Salad Dressing or Small Ladle	Each	1.00
Berry or Serving	Each	2.00	Serving or Gravy Ladle	Each	2.10
Baby	Each	.65	Butter Knife	Each	.75
Sugar	Each	.75	Butter Spreaders	Set of Six	4.25

KNIVES		Hollow Handle	Embossed Handle
Dinner, Stainless	Set of Six	$9.50	$6.00
Dinner, Plated	Set of Six	8.50	3.50
Dessert, Plated	Set of Six	8.50	3.50

CHESTS
20-Piece Honeymoon Set, Stainless Knives	$13.75 $11.50
26-30 Piece Chest, Stainless Knives	$19.00 15.50
50-Piece Chest, Stainless Knives	37.50 30.25

5,000 Yds.

Fine Quality Printed Linene

Gaily colored with floral patterns and charming figures! For delightful Spring frocks, smocks! For the children's dresses! Guaranteed fast colors! 25c Yard You will be truly wise—and very far-sighted to choose this attractive material for your Spring sewing! You can't find prettier—nor better material at such a small price!

36-In. Longcloth 19c Yd.

Excellent quality longcloth, suitable for making underwear for yourself and the children! Also for baby's garments.

Linen Napkins 6 for $1

Dainty tea napkins with beautifully attractive colored borders! Convenient size, 14x14 inches. For bridge, breakfast or luncheon use! Splendid value!

Choice Assortment Imported Ginghams

We are offering here very fine ginghams, at a price far below what one would expect to give for such quality 32-inch staple checks and plain colors. Yard, only 29c

Rayon Bed Spreads

Always seen in the most carefully kept, beautifully furnished bed rooms! These charming bed spreads are of splendid quality rayon, in blue, orchid, green and gold. Priced only $1.98

Fine Value in 36-In. Sports Satin

Surely you need a supply of new slips for Spring and Summer wear! Of course you want sports satin to make them! Here you will find it—in all light and dark colors, 36 inches wide. Priced at only ..... 59c Yd.

Irish Dress Linen

The popularity of this beautiful material remains steadfast! For frocks, smocks, or your little boys' and girls' clothes! In lovely pastels. 36 inches wide.

79c Yd.

Newest Versions of the Artistic

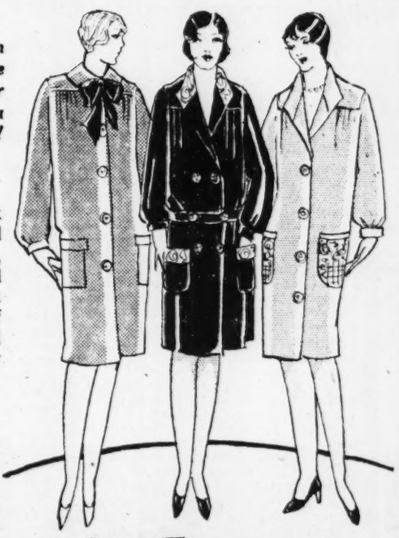

Wayne-Maid SMOCKS

Do you work in an office? About the house? With your flowers? Then, you must have a smock! Just see these!

Whatever kind of smock you like, you will find it at HIGH'S! Sateen, Broadcloth, Linene and Cretonne smocks in a limitless assortment of solid colors, flowered designs, and black! New and delightful styles!

SMOCK SALE Monday at High's

The coat smock comes in various styles! The regulation artists' smock; the double-breasted belted style; the surplice wrap-around model with two-buttoned belt! Designed to please all types from the most slender to the most stout! Your size is here for you!

They protect your frocks, look fresh and cheerful—add delight to your work! You don't have to be an artist to wear one now!

These smocks are just as bright and colorful after they're washed as before! The embroidered styles are embroidered of pure dye floss! Well made and neatly finished. You surely want several!

SMOCK SALE Monday at High's

$1.98

Unique collars and attractive pockets lend charm! Mannish turn back tailored collars; pointed, rounded, and the ever-popular convertible style that can be worn with artists' tie! Pockets trimmed with cretonne or embroidered in attractive colors!

These Are Some of the Outstanding Features Which Make Wayne-Maid Smocks So Very Distinctive

All have ample fullness, front and back that are pleated, shirred or smocked in yokes.
All have generously wide, full length sleeves gathered into buttoned cuff and can be neatly rolled into a comfortable short sleeve.

All have extra large patch pockets that are double stitched.
All have regulation dress length and can be worn as dresses.

HIGH'S—THIRD FLOOR

J. M. HIGH CO.

45 Years of Faithful Service and Value-giving

THIS PAGE HAS BEEN FOR A QUARTER OF A CENTURY THE OFFICIAL ORGAN OF THE GEORGIA FEDERATION

GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

ORGANIZED IN 1896—MEMBERSHIP 30,000—JOINED GENERAL FEDERATION IN 1896—MOTTO: "WISDOM, JUSTICE, MODERATION"—CLUB FLOWER: CHEROKEE ROSE

President, Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear; vice president at large, Mrs. A. H. Brenner, of Augusta; second vice president, Mrs. S. V. Sanford, of Athens; recording secretary, Mrs. J. M. Patterson, of Albany; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John F. MacDougald, 1035 Peachtree road, Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. W. W. Stark, of Commerce; parliamentarian, Miss Rosa Woodberry, of Atlanta; editor, Mrs. Bessie Shaw Stafford; General Federation director in Georgia, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, of Atlanta; Georgia Federation headquarters, 509 Chamber of Commerce building, Atlanta, telephone IVy 0674, national headquarters, 1734 N street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

DISTRICT PRESIDENTS—First, Mrs. G. M. Barnes, of Midville, president pro tem; second, Mrs. H. H. Perry, of Albany; third, Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of Fitzgerald; fourth, Mrs. W. R. Jones, Greenville; fifth, Mrs. Kate Green Hess, 307 Oxford place, N. E., Atlanta. Phone DE. 3753; sixth, Mrs. L. A. Collier, Barnesville; seventh, Mrs. Herbert E. Hague, of Marietta; eighth, Mrs. A. C. Shelton, of Hartwell; ninth, Mrs. J. E. McElroy, of Norcross; tenth, Mrs J. W. Hooks, of Gordon; eleventh, Mrs. G. V. Cate, of Brunswick; twelfth, Mrs. J. C. Meadows, of Vidalia. Miss Julia McIntosh Sparks, state publicity chairman, 509 Chamber of Commerce building.

Tenth District Indorses Mrs. Brenner for President

Mrs. J. W. Hooks, president of the tenth district of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, issues the following letter to the editor of the official club page in The Constitution. She says:

"At the executive board meeting of the Tenth District Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs in the spring of 1927, Mrs. A. H. Brenner was presented by the city federation of Augusta and the Twin Cities Presidents' club, of Sandersville and Tennille, and unanimously indorsed for the office of president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs. This indorsement was later confirmed by the Washington county federation, and others, and by the tenth district in convention assembled.

"In presenting Mrs. Brenner, the tenth district feels that she is preeminently fitted for this position of honor and trust. She began active club work 22 years ago as a member of the Philomathic club, of Augusta. This club was one of the original clubs that organized the Georgia federation. November, 1912, while president of this club, she was appointed the first active president of the tenth district, which office she held for three years. President of the Augusta Woman's club 1915-1917 and again in 1923-1925; chairman resolutions committee, Georgia federation 1920; elected corresponding secretary Georgia federation 1920-1923; vice president at large Georgia federation 1923-1928. The last eight years in direct touch with clubs, districts, officers and members of the executive board and through extension work in frequent communication with headquarters.

"From early womanhood Mrs. Brenner has been closely identified with all civic, philanthropic and patriotic organizations. She is a valued member of the D. A. R., Augusta chapter, is in demand as a speaker on special occasions, and is now custodian of the D. A. R. flag for the Georgia society. She is a beloved leader among the Presbyterian women of Augusta, has held several offices in the synodical of Georgia and was president of Augusta Presbyterial for five years. Because of her efficient service and brilliant leadership, the Augusta City Federation of Women's Clubs and the tenth district feel that Mrs. Brenner can best serve the clubwomen of Georgia as president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs."

The officers of the tenth district include: First vice president, Mrs. Glenn Stovall, Thomson; recording secretary, Mrs. Moffett Plaxco, Louisville; treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Pottle, Milledgeville; second vice president, Mrs. W. W. Driskell, Sparta; corresponding secretary, Miss Frances Camp, Gordon; parliamentarian, Mrs. H. P. Burum, Augusta.

Mrs. Gholston Pays Graceful Tribute To Mrs. Brantley

Mrs. J. W. Gholston, of Comer, paid tribute to Mrs. A. P. Brantley at the tree-planting occasion of the Royston Woman's club, in honor of state and general federation presidents, Mrs. Brantley and Mrs. John D. Sherman. She said:

"Mrs. A. P. Brantley, the beloved president of Georgia federation, in her administration for the past five years has rendered a service of inestimable value to our great state of Georgia. Her tenure of office, which expires this year, has been marked by a steady advancement and progressiveness. She has undertaken no spectacular projects, or, as she says, 'no skyrocketing,' yet Georgia federation stands abreast with the foremost states of the general federation.

"She possesses the poise, dignity and fairness befitting a leader, with a clear-cut vision of accomplishments. Her practical methods and sincerity in dealing with problems have won the hearts of those coming in contact with her. That she shall further serve the state and loyal clubwomen, in the capacity of director for Georgia to the general federation, is the wish of one who has served and loved her long."

Send Resolutions To Mrs. Inman.

Resolutions to be presented to the executive board of Georgia federation February 15, at the meeting held in Atlanta at the Woman's club, must be typed and sent in triplicate, one week in advance of the board meeting, to Mrs. S. M. Inman, resolutions chairman, 640 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta. Mrs. A. P. Brantley, of Blackshear, president of Georgia Federation.

Mrs. Flanigan Issues Cards To Ninth District

Mrs. Hiram Flanigan, of Winder, first vice president and chairman of extension for the ninth district, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, issues the following interesting card:

"The gates of the New Year swing wide open and we have passed through and started on a new untried and untrodden path. There are new opportunities for a year of service. Like gold beads in a necklace, all our blessings are strung upon the cords of time, so let us make every precious hour count for something that tends to the betterment of humanity. I want to express my grateful appreciation to the clubs in the ninth district for their splendid spiri of cooperation. Officers and chairman have all worked together so harmoniously the time has passed very quickly. We can hardly realize a year's work has been done. Much that has been accomplished is due to their efforts and much remains to be done through the same medium.

"United we stand, divided we fall. A club organized for local service only does not measure up to its highest ideals. 'In union there is strength.' We have proven our faith by our works in giving ourselves most generously to club extension. The federated clubs of the ninth are stronger than they have ever been, not only in organization and numbers, but in widespread influence far beyond the bounds of club life. It can truly be said that club work has assumed an important part in Georgia progress.

"I trust the presidents of the clubs in our district will feel a great responsibility in finding clubs that are not federated and inviting them to district and local club meetings; of visiting towns and communities where there are no clubs. The voice of the little club is weak and it's influence limited, but when it becomes a part of the district, state and general federation, it's voice is the voice of thousands.

"Mrs. McWhirter gives us a slogan, method and aim. Slogan: 'Every club bring in a club; Every club organize a junior club.' Method: Every city club bring in another city or town club. Every town club bring in a rural club. Aim: To double the number of federated clubs in your state. Let the clubs of the ninth make these their slogan, method and air. Every club should conduct a campaign for junior membership. I should like to see a million more young women being developed to carry to success the things we are only able to begin. By this method we shall strengthen into greater efficiency what is now a comparatively weak link in our federation. Now, just another word of thanks, and an appeal for even greater cooperation. Those in an official capacity have been a strength and a source of helpful encouragement for which I am deeply grateful and the work has been a labor of love."

Good Samaritan Class Elects Officers.

At a recent meeting of the Good Samaritan Bible class, of the First Baptist church, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. C. J. Buhman; first vice president, Mrs. R. D. McDowell; second vice president, Mrs. F. E. Campbell, third vice president, Mrs. F. M. Link; secretary, Mrs. J. M. Staples; treasurer, Mrs. S. O. Gilliland; reporter, Mrs. N. A. Hughes; teacher, Mrs. J. H. Cain.

The special activity of the class is sponsoring a scholarship at Bessie Tift college. It was organized six years ago by Mrs. B. L. Bugg. Mrs. L. A. Dodd is class mother.

Lafayette Club Elects Mrs. Gilbert As President

Lafayette Woman's club elected Mrs. C. C. Gilbert president and the following officers will serve with her including first vice president, Mrs. W. D. Ballenger; second vice president, Miss Sarah Hackney; recording secretary, Mrs. E. P. Hall, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. R. S. Steele; parliamentarian, Mrs. J. L. Hammond; press reporter, Mrs. O. W. Bledsoe; home economics committee, Mrs. P. W. Massey, Mrs. J. C. Keown, Mrs. W. E. McKown, Miss Mamie Hackney; American citizenship, Mrs. J. L. Hammond, Mrs. E. A. Puryear, Miss Sarah Hackney; public welfare, Mrs. J. D. Lauderbach, Mrs. R. A. Wardlaw, Mrs. S. W. Fariss, Mrs. E. A. Anderson; school cooperation, Mrs. E. A. Leonard, Mrs. E. P. Hall, Jr., Mrs. M. M. McCord, Mrs. W. Enloe; civics committee, Mrs. E. A. Puryear, Mrs. W. H. F. Rhyne, Mrs. O. W. Bledsoe, Mrs. Sam Ransom; ways and means, Mrs. R. A. Wardlaw, Mrs. W. D. Ballenger, Mrs. R. S. Steele; entertainment, Mrs. Neil Andrews, Mrs. J. E. Patton, Mrs. W. B. Shaw, Mrs. A. R. Fortune; Music, Miss Margaret Patton, Miss Clarentine Knox, Mrs. I. H. Holleman, Mrs. J. T. Rhyne; yard committee, Mrs. Mary Martin, Mrs. H. J. Spencer, Miss Nannie Warthen, Mrs. I. H. Holleman, Mrs. J. E. Patton; membership, first ward, Mrs. M. M. McCord, Mrs. W. E. McKown, Mrs. E. A. Leonard; second ward, Mrs. J. C. Cavender, Mrs. T. W. Bryan; third ward, Mrs. J. A. Shields, Mrs. J. T. Rhyne; fourth ward, Mrs. T. A. Cochran, Mrs. H. J. Spencer.

The executive board was entertained at the White Star cafe at luncheon. The table was attractive in its decorations and Georgia products were prepared and served.

Mrs. Gilbert, the president, gave a most inspiring talk of the plans of the year. The first vice president, Mrs. Ballenger, outlined her program for the next business meeting, to which the ladies of the town are cordially invited to cooperate with the president and vice president in the club plans.

Mrs. Barnes Issues District Greetings.

To all clubs of the first district I send greetings and acknowledge the honor given me by our president, Mrs. A. P. Brantley.

My best wish for the District is that each individual club woman may catch a vision of her personal responsibility to the district, and, that we begin immediately working together toward the standard of excellency.

In a few days I hope to have completed the appointment of the chairmen for the district, then we can have an executive board meeting.

It will be a pleasure to serve you and let us strive in every way to further the work of the Federation.

MRS GOODWIN MALCOM BARNES,
President First District Federated Clubs.

Club Institute To Be Sponsored By Fifth District

A club institute will be held Tuesday morning, February 14, at the Atlanta Woman's club under the auspices of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs. These district institutes, which have become a feature of the federated club work in Georgia, were inaugurated by Mrs. John F. MacDougald, chairman of club institutes for the fifth district, who held the first one last year in Atlanta and was so successful that institutes were held in nearly every district.

Appearing on the program will be Mrs. Lamar Rucker, first state club institute chairman for Georgia, whose plans were so successful that they have been used in all the states. Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. MacDougald are daughters of Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, beloved war president of the Georgia Federation.

The program is as follows, with additional features announced later. Mrs. A. P. Brantley, "Know Your Federation;" Mrs. A. H. Brenner, "Club Extension;" Mrs. S. V. Sanford, "Club Programs;" Mrs. W. W. Stark, "Club Finance;" Miss Rosa Woodbury, "Parliamentary Drill;" Mrs. Lamar Rucker, "Publicity;" Mrs. Howard McCall, "Credentials and Registration." In charge of the institute will be Mrs. John F. MacDougald, fifth district chairman club institutes; Mrs. J. E. Springer, chairman of education; Mrs. Kate Green Hess, president Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs.

College Park News Items.

The College Park Cotillion club held its first dance on Thursday evening at the clubhouse.

Mrs. E. A. Richardson was hostess to members of her bridge club on Tuesday.

Mrs. Alfred Drake entertained at a lovely children's party on Wednesday evening in honor of her little daughter, Zo Glover Drake.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Freeman, of Raleigh, N. C., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Freeman.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moore have returned from Hogansville, Ga.

Clair Phillips, a cadet of Georgia Military academy, is convalescing at Georgia Baptist hospital.

Mrs. Sig Strauss, of Cincinnati; Mrs. John Pitts, of Atlanta, and Mrs. C. E. Dobson were dinner guests of Mrs. Brad Timms on Wednesday.

Mrs. D. D. Akers entertained her sewing club Friday.

Mrs. B. A. Hutcheson entesrtained at rook on Friday.

Mrs. Katherine Weathersbee is quite ill at Davis-Fischer sanitarium.

Miss Elizabeth Richardson spent last week-end in Covington, Ga.

Mrs. Mae Guerrant will leave soon for several weeks in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Candler C. Smith are spending some time in Miami, Fla.

Mrs. J. M. Cook was guest of her sister, Mrs. Frank Webb, last week.

Miss Hopkins Prepares Story For Club Page About Books

Miss Jessie Hopkins, fifth district chairman of literature for Georgia Federation, prepared the following article on some recent books of fiction "By Women About Women."

She says:

"The recent output of books of travel and of social life and customs in various countries is unusually large and undoubtedly comprises a class of literature most in demand. Those readers who have viewed with Katherine Mayo the gloomy picture of conditions in India in her recent popular book, "Mother India," will find a more cheerful outlook in foreign countries, especially India, in a very readable book by Dorothy Dix called "My Trip Around the World," in which she tells in a chatty and charming way of the land of temples and elephants, describes the Taj Mahal as the 'jewel box of India,' and gives a most entertaining picture of Rajputana, 'the country where there ain't no Ten Commandments.'

"'The Letters of Gertrude Bell' is one of the outstanding books of recent date. These letters tell the life story of an extraordinary Englishwoman who set out 30 years ago traveling through the Arabian desert. However slight may be one's interest in the Near East, the archaeology in Asia Minor, in Arab customs and character, the letters of Gertrude Bell have qualities to interest all readers. Her brilliant little character sketch of men like Colonel Lawrence and of ex-Kaiser William of Germany and his wife afford a tantalizing glimpse of her wit. She created for herself a unique position in Bagdad and in her unequaled knowledge of Arabia rendered a service to her country.

"'Memoirs of a Poor Relation' is by Marietta Minnegeroe Andrews, who, because of her wit, wisdom, culture and imagination, is called the most brilliant woman in Washington. It is the story of a post war southern girl and her battle with destiny and consists of recollections of a Virginia girlhood. Mrs. Andrews discourses pleasantly of family life, of art studies in Washington, of a gradual rise out of poverty, of marriage to Mr. Andrews, then director of the Corcoran School of Art in Washington. It is said of her that there is not in Washington a spirit more blithe, more buoyant, than Marietta Andrews despite a long post-graduate course in what she calls her alma mater—the University of Hard Knocks. Her book gives a fine perspective of American history interwoven with sidelights which show the south from Richmond to New Orleans in the years immediately following the war between the states.

"There is a recent book about women that has created quite a lot of discussion: John Langdon-Davis' 'Short History of Women.' The author begins with the biological background of the history of women, following with a discussion of women in primitive society, in ancient civilization, in middle ages, represented by the witch, the virgin, and the chatelaine. The most interesting outlook is the author's survey of women of modern times, from womanly woman to intelligent being. He selects Hannah More as one of the highest types of womanhood and one of the greatest writers of English prose, the product and mirror of her period, admired by Dr. Johnson, David Garrick, Burke and Wilberforce. Mr. Langdon-Davies asserts that woman is the stronger sex, once art and nature cease their cruel combination against her; that women are fast rising above men and in the end cannot fail to dominate. He predicts that at no distant date instead of the phrase 'a woman's place is in her home,' we shall hear repeated interminably and idiotically the words, 'a man's place is in his office.'"

Rare Handwork of Farm Women To Be Exhibited at Rich & Co.

The rare handicraft of the colonial days is being revived by the farm women of Georgia and an exhibit of many types of the work will be shown on the sixth floor of M. Rich & Bros. company Saturday, February 11, and continuing through the following week. Mrs. Ira E. Farmer, chairman of home demonstration work, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, with the assistance of the county home demonstration agents and the clubwomen in the small towns has been collecting the exhibit for many weeks. The home demonstration division of the federation is fostering the revival of this work because of its intrinsic merit and to develop a home industry for the rural woman.

To standardize the product of the farm woman, to create a market for their work, the home demonstration division is taking advantage of the early American movement and some very beautiful examples of the work formerly done in every home have been secured. Hooked rugs and tufted spreads, reproductions of the best old colonial designs; braided rugs, woven coverlets, patchwork quilts, baskets of pine needles, whiteoak and honeysuckle vines; rag carpets, woven in the old hit-and-miss pattern; silhouettes, baby bonnets and children's clothes made by women whose grandmothers taught them that sewing was a fine art, will be in the display. Interior decorators in New York are using the work of these Georgia women and copies of articles recently sold to them will be on display.

The material of the exhibit will be for sale and orders will be taken for reproductions in any desired colors. The farm women do their own dyeing and will carry out any order.

Mrs. Hodgson Reminds Clubwomen To Intensify Work on Contest

Mrs. Hugh Hodgson, music chairman for the Georgia federation, issues a gentle reminder to district presidents and clubwomen to intensify their attention and work upon the singing contest scheduled for the Decatur convention in the spring. She says:

"We would like once more to remind the district presidents and the clubwomen of Georgia to intensify their work on the singing contest to be held at the convention of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs at Decatur this spring. Each district is urged to organize all its members into a chorus to sing 'My Georgia Land,' our federation state song. It is Mrs. Brantley's very earnest desire that every district shall compete.

"The size of the chorus will not be taken into consideration in awarding the flag, because it would put those districts farthest from Decatur at a disadvantage, therefore volume is excluded and the small groups which have been working hard all year and have finish and 'pep' in their work will have an equal chance with the larger groups. The points on which the judges will be instructed to base their decision will be accuracy, attack, unity and diction. Copies of the words may be used by the singers but the melody must be memorized as no music will be allowed.

"The winning district will not only be presented with a beautiful Georgia flag, a gift from Mrs. S. M. Inman to them, but they will broadcast their version of our song from WSB. So let us all begin intensive work. Let's open and close every club meeting with singing our song—let's have many district meetings in preparation and let's select a competent and interested director to organize each chorus and to urge every clubwoman in Georgia to join the chorus, support her district and show her appreciation of our state president by having some real singing at Decatur."

Cherokee Club Sends Autographed Books Of Georgia Authors

In response to a request which came from the National Federation of Woman's clubs, asking for books to stock the shelves of the library at the new federation building in Washington, the Cherokee club of Cartersville has responded by sending two editions autographed by Mrs. Corra Harris and Mrs. Rebecca Latimer Felton.

"As a Woman Thinks," is the Corra Harris book, and, "Country Life in Georgia," is the contribution of Mrs. Felton. These autographed copies were mailed by Mrs. Wilbur J. Ham, president of the Cherokee club, to Mrs. John D. Sherman, president of the national federation. Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, director for Georgia, in a recent letter to Mrs. Ham, stated there were no books from Georgia in the federation library. It is believed, therefore, that the books by Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Felton will be among the first to arrive there from this state, a fact which is a source of much pride on the part of local clubwomen.

Bainbridge Club Hears Financial Report.

The financial report of Bainbridge Woman's club made at the home of Mrs. A. S. Carr included a general fund of $126.40; educational fund of $1.50, made after a loan of $100 to students; building fund, $356.99; savings account, including $50 for Adolph Rosenfeld civic prizes and $32 held for kitchen equipment of the new clubhouse, $437.37, on deposit and $80.50 was realized from the bazaar before Christmas and further donations not collected will be added to this fund.

The art department reported that an art contest would be held at the grammar school at an early date, the grade making the best record to receive a prize. The better homes department read a letter from Miss Epsie Campbell in regard to sending an instructress in interior decoration. The club voted to put on the course which includes seven lessons, three hours each, the fee for the whole course will be $1.50 per individual. The social service department reported sending a box of preserves, jellies, etc., to the hospital for invalid soldiers in Augusta. The chairman read a letter of thanks from N. C. Blaines, medical officer in charge. Mrs. A. B. Conger, the president, presided, and announced that the Albany Herald had reserved space for the club women of the second district. The club decided to take advantage of the Herald's generous offer. Mrs. A. H. Brenner, of Augusta, was indorsed for state federation president to be elected at next convention. Miss Marie Thomas, itinerant nurse with the state board of health, gave an interesting talk on the care of preschool children. Mrs. A. H. Parker rendered two vocal selections. The hostesses, Mrs. A. S. Carr, Miss Alice Carr, Mrs. T. C. Funderburke, Mrs. John Reid, Mrs. L. S. Grimm, Mrs. R. L. Lane and Mrs. Marshall Mayes served refreshments during the social hour.

Mrs. Brenner Issues Important Card.

District officers must see that new clubs are sent in one month before convention. This is necessary if they are to be credited to the district for the club year.

MRS. A. P. BRENNER,
of Augusta, Chairman Club Extention.

Winthrop Alumnae To Be Entertained.

Mrs. W. Emmit Davis will entertain the members of the Winthorp Alumnae association at her home, 1014 Clifton road, Friday, February 10, at 2:30 o'clock.

First Army Review At Ft. Sam Houston Honor Delegates

The first army review for women ever arranged at Fort Sam Houston will be a feature of "play day" when the delegates to the biennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs put aside their official duties and take part in the entertainment provided for them on "play day," June 1. The review and all the plans for the day of entertainment will be characteristic of the locality and state history, for San Antonio has always been a military center; first an outpost in the wilderness, then a strategic point in every war that has run across the land. Kaleidoscopic almost has been the shifting of national armies across it. The Spaniards held the country for the king of Spain against French aggressions. Spaniards fought Mexicans; Mexicans fought Texans; Texans fought Mexicans, and all of them in their time, waged war against the Commanches and Apaches who raided the country in murderous bands.

After Texas became a state of the American Union, United States soldiers were stationed in the Alamo. The civil war brought Robert E. Lee and Albert Sidney Johnson with Confederate soldiers; the defeat of the Confederacy, General Sheridan who came to San Antonio to establish the headquarters of the department of Texas. From this grew the headquarters of the southern department, the brigade post of Fort Sam Houston, the Camp Wilson of the 1910 mobilization when General Pershing went into Mexico, the Camp Travis, Kelly field, Brooks field, Camp Normoyle, and Camp John Wise of the recent world war; and now the air forces at Kelly and Brooks fields.

After the review the visitors will be taken for a sightseeing trip around the city, to the Alamo and the four missions, strung like gray reminders of a past tradition, along the shaded "loop" south of town. These missions have their own stories to tell of romance and tragedy, of heroic struggles in a savage land. The noonday meal will be served under the pecan trees beside the San Antonio river and will be reminiscent of the days when the old trail drivers camped in the open and barbecued their beef over the open coals. Present members of the Old Trail Drivers' association will see that this Texas barbecue is true to the fine old traditions, even to the cowboy songs and negro spirituals to be sung during the meals.

In the afternoon the guests will be allowed to visit the stores and curio shops of San Antonio, or rest if the so desire, so that they may enjoy the program to be arranged for them in the municipal auditorium that night. Mrs. John D. Sherman has announced that there will be no committee or board meetings on June 1, so that for the first time in biennial history every delegate and officer may really play. The San Antonio committee responsible for the program of "play day," and for hospitality to the guests includes Mrs. W. W. McCrory, president of the San Antonio Women's club, which will keep "open house" during the convention, with Mrs. Atlee B. Ayres, member of the San Antonio board of education, as vice president. Mrs. R. R. Russell, of the Old Trail Drivers' association; Mrs. J. B. Lewright, of the Army Civilian club, and Mrs. Thomas Donaldson, wife of the commanding general of the eighth corps area, are co-chairmen for "play day."

Those attending the biennial may also be interested in knowing the names of the biennial executive committee. Those in the San Antonio executive group include Mrs. Henry Drought, local biennial chairman; Mrs. A. H. Worden, first vice chairman; Mrs. Ed. W. Offinger, recording secretary; Mrs. Eli Hertsberg, program chairman; Mrs. J. S. Peter, city federation; Mrs. F. F. Stauffer, press and publicity; Mrs. W. W. McCrory, chairman state hospitality and "play day."

State women in the biennial executive committee are Mrs. W. R. Potter, of Bowie, president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Day Mills, of Texarkana, director; Mrs. Florence C. Floore, Cleburne, representative of the Texas Federation to the General Federation; Mrs. R. Q. Lee, of Cisco, biennial chairman of finance; Mrs. Homer D. Wade, of Stamford, biennial treasurer, and Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, of Austin, former president of the general federation. Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, of College Station, is director.

E. A. MORGAN

SEAMLESS WEDDING RINGS ARE BEST

E. A. MORGAN
119 Hunter St., S. W.
"There's Economy in a Few Steps Around the Corner."

WOMEN who demand real service-value in corsets, look for the wavy blue line that guarantees the supreme quality and service of Kenlastic, the life of fine Corsets!

©1928, James R. Kendrick Co., Inc., Philadelphia-New York

Mrs. Richardson Entertained At Reception by Macon Women

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Georgia's director in the General Federation, was guest of the Macon Woman's club, Thursday, February 2, at the meeting and a reception afterward given in honor of Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Walter D. Lamar entertained at luncheon at her home in honor of Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Lamar introduced Mrs. Richardson in a speech in which she paid tribute to the good work accomplished by the guest and the happy, loving manner in which she did her work for the clubs she loved so well.

Mrs. Richardson's splendid topic was "The Woman's Club an Asset to Civic Betterment." She gave a brief outline of the work done by the General Federation through the Department and Divisions of work and applied these to conditions in Georgia. She congratulated Macon on having as a near neighbor the club of Round Oak, a cluub of fifteen that had gained national recognition for Civic work in the past year. The president and members of the club asked questions after the address and these were answered by Mrs. Richardson.

Miss Julia M. Sparks, state press chairman and secretary of state headquarters, was introduced and told of the work at state headquarters and asked the members present to persue copies of General Federation literature she had with her.

Mrs. L. I. Waxelbaum was elected president at the business session. She has long worked with the club and accepted the office with a pledge that she would do all in her power to build the club up with the help of the members. Being without a president the club had not been holding regular meetings but expects to take up regular work now. Arrangements have been made with the Macon American Legion Chapter to use their handsome club house until the Woman's club gets its own building for which clubwomen have worked several years. The American Legion home is the old Jaques home on College street where many beautiful functions were held during the life of the owners.

The spacious rooms were decorated with pot plants and cut flowers, the beautifully appointed tea table having for its centerpiece an attractive arrangement of cut flowers corresponding in color with the mints and tall candles flanking it. Mrs. Kate Rogers Pope, an accomplished pianist, gave three numbers giving a charming sketch of each before playing. The committee in charge of the meeting and reception were: Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, Mrs. Charles Harrold and Mrs. Charles Cork. Assisting Mrs. Grant Fuller, chairman of the reception committee, were Mrs. Cora Boterweg, Mrs. P. L. Hay, Mrs. E. Ulman and Mrs. J. A. Selden. Mrs. H. A. McEwen, chairman of hospitality for the club, was assisted by Mrs. A. F. McGhee, Mrs. R. V. Lasseter, Mrs. McAllister Isaacs, and Mrs. Luther Power. The young girls assisting in serving were: Edith Morgan, Mary Trammell Armstrong and Maybelle Prowell.

Executive Board Meets February 15

The executive board of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs is called to meet at the Atlanta Woman's club Wednesday Morning, February 15, at 9:30 o'clock. Board members are urged not to make other engagements for the day of the board meeting, but to remain through the meeting. The board of trustees of the Tallulah Falls Industrial school will meet at the Atlanta Woman's club on Tuesday, February 14, from 4 to 10 o'clock.

Mrs. A. P. Brantley,
President of Georgia Federation.

Miss Sparks Clears Situation For Club Women

Miss Julia Sparks, state chairman of publicity, and headquarters secretary, received several requests from Georgia clubwomen to furnish her with names of new district presidents, as she had never been advised of the names of new presidents recently elected to office, and nowhere had she seen a published list.

In replying, Miss Sparks suggested that these clubwomen refer to the mast head of the official page carried every Sunday in The Constitution for the past 30 years.

A certain clubwoman blessed with that excellent requisite, humor, replied in the following sentence:

"Thank you for suggesting that I look at the top of The Constitution page for the names of the new district officers. This is a very interesting evidence of how many of us go through life with things we should know right in front of us. I should have known that anything The Constitution printed was up to the minute."

Third District Executive Board To Award Prizes

The executive board of the federated clubs of the third district met as the guests of the Montezuma Woman's club, with Mrs. Robert E. Lee, of Fitzgerald, president of the district, presiding. The reports of departments were as follows: Mrs. J. B. Bussey, Louise Hayes scholarship fund; Miss Augusta Evans, Tallulah Falls school; Mrs. J. A. Happ, public welfare; Mrs. J. B. Guerry, legislation; Mrs. Nellie Harris, American home; Mrs. J. L. Betts, home economics; Mrs. L. W. Greene, civics.

Three $10 prizes were offered to be awarded at the convention of the clubs of the third district in the fall, given for the best flower garden planned and carried out without the aid of landscape gardener; for the club getting the largest number of new members during the year, and for the best paper on "Back to the Home."

A piano solo, "Liebestraum," by Miss Alfreda DeVaughn, and a vocal solo, "A Perfect Day," by Mrs. Stingler. The delegates in attendance were Mesdames D. C. Puckett and Inez Melton, from Dawson; J. S. Betts, George Betts and H. I. Shingler, Ashburn; E. B. Davis, Reynolds; R. E. Lee, McDonald, Warren, Fitzgerald; J. B. Bussey, Glenn Lockey, E. King, Nellie Harris, Cuthbert; Felder Frederick, Frank Murph, Marshallville; Thurman Whatley, Albert Hicks, Reynolds; L. K. Greene, Sycamore; J. A. Happ, J. B. Guerry, B. F. Neal, Oscar McKenzie, J. E. Hays, J. M. Moore, Montezuma, and Miss Augusta Evans.

PAPPY'S
Orange Marmalade
For Breakfast - Try a Jar

Fifth Ave. Sets New Hair Vogue

"On the El and in the Subway, everywhere I go nowadays, I see girls here in New York who are doing their hair the new way," says pretty Leona Newell, 6250 Anna Place, Glendale, L. I., now appearing on Broadway in the "Greenwich Village Follies." "I can tell girls who are using it, by the way their hair seems to sparkle. It looks so soft, too, and it's always neat. This way just suits me. I haven't much time to give my hair, and it takes just a second to put a few dashes of Danderine on your brush when you use it. It certainly makes your hair look grand. Nine needs shampooing only once a month, too, since I'm using Danderine."

Danderine quickly removes that oily film from your hair and restores its natural sheen and lustre. It keeps bobbed hair in place without showing. It stops dandruff. Drug stores everywhere sell millions of the 35c bottles. A fragrant toilet necessity for the well-groomed girl.—(adv.)

SP
THE SAVOY-PLAZA

The culmination of years of careful planning to insure its guests the utmost in service and luxurious surroundings. Operated by the same management as The Plaza directly opposite, and overlooking Central Park, it will easily meet the requirements of the most fastidious. The Savoy-Plaza caters to both permanent and transient guests.

FIFTH AVENUE
58th to 59th Sts., N. Y.
Henry A. Rost, General Manager

Quickly Peel Off Skin Imperfections

To remove freckles, tan or other skin imperfections, it is always safe to use pure mercolized wax. The wax peels off the outer skin, a little at a time, until all has disappeared, revealing the clear, white underskin, soft and smooth, daintily shaded as a young girl's and truly natural. Obtain an ounce at any drug store and use as directed. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To remove wrinkles and other age signs, use as face lotion 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel.—(adv.)

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE KEEP IN GOOD HEALTH

They Find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Medicine

LOUISE LOUTHAN
ROUTE 2, CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS

From the days of the polonaise to the days of the radio, mothers have given this dependable medicine to their daughters. School girls are often careless. They get wet feet. They overstudy or they tire themselves with too many dances and parties. They get run down.

Many an active girl of today, like the demure maiden of the 1870's, has found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is helping her to find better health and energy.

"I gave my fifteen-year-old girl Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it did her a wonderful lot of good. She had been out of school for four months. I read the advertisements of the Vegetable Compound, and since she has taken it she has improved and has gone back to school again. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other mothers with girls who are not as strong as they should be."—Mrs. Alice Louthan, Route 2, Charleston, Illinois.

"My daughter was out of school two terms. I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all my life and finally decided that she should try it. Three bottles helped her in various ways for the next couple of years."—Mrs. W. E. Gillette, 986 E. 52nd Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

"I have always been sickly, and until I was fourteen my father was very strict about my perfect attendance at grammar school. I have gone to school through hard storms and often taken cold. When I was fourteen I took to my bed and did not get up for eighteen months. Everyone thought I could not live. Just four months ago I began taking your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I could notice a great change almost at once. Now I feel like a new person. I wish all girls would try Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful medicine."—Mrs. C. M. Smith, Union Village, Vermont.

A message to the 30,000 Atlanta housewives who agree in preferring Southern Bread and Cake

Announcing

our new policy of selling exclusively through the grocery stores of this city

BEGINNING tomorrow, we are discontinuing our system of selling Southern Bread and Cake from our own trucks and are making it available to you through the grocery stores of Atlanta.

This marks the end of a campaign we started two years ago to determine exactly what the Atlanta housewife desired in the bread and cake she served on her table. To find this out we had to talk directly with her—in her home. That is why we adopted the system of home delivery right from the bakery.

In this manner we have been serving 30,000 families in Atlanta with Southern products—nearly 140,000 people in this city. But there are a great many more Atlantans who want Southern Bread and Cake—and we are taking this step to make it possible for them to buy it, fresh and delicious, wherever they live and whenever they want it.

The bread that 30,000 women helped us make

Tomorrow you can buy at your grocery this bread that 30,000 Atlanta women helped us develop and perfect. It is the result of a very definite effort on our part to give Atlantans the bread they themselves want.

When we started making bread in Atlanta, two years ago, we were certain that although it was possible to make excellent bread, there must be some particular bread flavor, some special quality of texture and fineness, Atlanta women would prefer if they could get it. So, instead of making a certain kind of bread and asking Atlanta women to learn to like it, we invited them to tell us the kind of bread they'd like to have. They told us. We made it. And it is one of the most unusual loaves of bread ever made. Now, because it will be on sale in Atlanta groceries, every woman in Atlanta can get it.

20% richer—one of the most unusual loaves ever made

In expressing their desires, Atlanta women led us to make Southern Bread entirely different, in many respects, from any other bread in the country.

It is so unusual that the head of a great baking company in the North had it carefully analyzed. The results amazed him. "Why," he exclaimed, "Southern Bread is 20% richer than any bread I have ever seen!" It is richer — because Atlanta housewives wanted it richer. In addition to this unique richness, you will find its pleasing texture, its fine, even grain, its ability to stay delicious and fresh over a surprising period of time, qualities which you and every other particular housewife will enjoy.

Tomorrow, for the first time, available to every woman in the Atlanta district

Tomorrow you will find the inviting lavender-and-white-wrapped loaf of Southern Bread on sale in most of Atlanta's grocery and delicatessen stores—as many as we can deliver it to so quickly. Naturally we cannot reach every store early in the morning, right away. Some deliveries may be delayed. If your regular grocer should not have his supply in the morning, he will probably have it early in the afternoon. To be sure you receive it, we suggest you ask him to reserve a loaf for you, or to deliver it to you the following day.

Of one thing you may be certain. No matter when your grocer receives it, it will be absolutely fresh. If his supply is delivered in the morning, his Southern Bread has been baked that very morning. If he receives it in the afternoon, it has been baked at noon. Moreover, we are taking every step to make it impossible for you ever to buy a loaf of Southern Bread which is anything but strictly fresh.

We will appreciate your courtesy if you will return a loaf of Southern Bread to the grocer from whom you bought it, if, for any reason, it should fail to meet your most exacting wishes. He is authorized by us to take it back and to make certain that you shall be absolutely satisfied. We want every woman in Atlanta to get the fullest enjoyment from this unusual bread which 30,000 Atlanta women helped us make.

Joseph Stephen
President

Southern Bread and Cake

Made to suit the Southern Housewife

STONE BAKING COMPANY

© 1928

Georgia Women's Christian Temperance Union

President, Mrs Marvin Williams, 602 Moreland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; vice president, Mrs. Dudley D. Smith, Eastman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. G. Cotton, Box 1346, Columbus; recording secretary, Mrs. J. L. McGarity, Monroe; treasurer, Miss Josephine Hammond, Monroe; advisory, Mrs. Mary Harris Armor, LL.D, Tate; editor Georgia W. C. T. U. Bulletin, Mrs. August Burghard, 431 Johnson avenue, Macon; field secretary, Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville; headquarters secretary, Miss Ruby Rivers, Macon National Bank building, Macon; evangelist, Mrs. W. F. Mott, Dublin; director of music Mrs. Annie Laurie Cunyus, Cartersville; director of publicity, Mrs August Burghard, 431 Johnson avenue, Macon; assistant, Mrs. W. H. Preston, 121 Georgia avenue, S. W., Atlanta; legal adviser, Mrs. Bettie Reynolds Cobb, Carrollton. District Presidents: First, Mrs. C. O. Mordecai, 1003 E. Waldburg street, Savannah; second, Mrs. Frank T. Brown, Cairo; third, Mrs. R. E. Hearn, 909 South Lee street, Americus; fourth, Mrs. M. J. Stone, 635 Twenty-first street, Columbus; fifth, Mrs O. L. Taylor, 1343 Highland avenue, Atlanta; sixth, Mrs. D. A. Warlick, 109 Appleton avenue, Macon; seventh, Mrs. I. W. L. Brown, Cartersville; eighth, Mrs. B. B. Perry, Monroe; ninth, Mrs. John Epperson, Canton; tenth, Mrs. Hattie Rogers, Sandersville; eleventh, Mrs J. O. Ward, Blacksbear; twelfth, Mrs. M. C. Purcell, Cochran.

W.C.T.U. Continues To Rejoice Over 18th Amendment Anniversary

BY M. FRANCES MEADORS BURGHARD.

In circles of the Woman's Christian Temperance union the speeches, sermons and songs, the pageants and teas and luncheons in celebration of the eighth anniversary of the eighteenth amendment continue to be reported and discussed and rejoiced over. The success of the annual roll call and the ever increasing number of penny-a-day givers is a source of general satisfaction. The mails and phone continue to carry tributes of loving appreciation for the late state treasurer, Miss Josephine Lewis Hammond, of Monroe. Every member writing or talking to another about any special part of the work of the organization invariably adds an expression of love for Miss Hammond, the woman, and lauds Miss Hammond, the officer.

To long-time W. C. T. U. members, February is always thought of as the month to rejoice that the great Frances Willard, the founder of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union lived to bless humanity, to study her glorious life and make a contribution to the Frances E. Willard memorial fund, established in 1888 to perpetuate and extend the cause for which she devoted her marvelous powers, and gifts and graces of mind and heart and soul.

A new interest this February will be the regional campaign conference at Jacksonville, Fla., February 21-22, in which the state W. C. T. U. of Georgia will unite with South Carolina and Florida in preparation for the "Battle of Ballots" next fall, that "the presidential highway shall be a presidential dry way."

An Unusual Proclamation.

Unique as well as wise, possibly the pioneer of its kind, was the proclamation for the observance of the eighth anniversary of national constitutional prohibition issued by the mayor and city commission of Waycross. We reprint it while it is unusual for as the years pass such proclamations will become too matter of course to note.

"Whereas the eighteenth amendment is a new national declaration of independence, which emancipates America from the tyranny of king alcohol, forbidding every one to make, sell, import, export or transport intoxicating beverages and making the liquor traffic an outlaw, and whereas, after eight years with only partial obedience, the effects of this law have been highly beneficial, and whereas, results to industry, business, social welfare and to homes and lives of the people have brought immeasurable blessing, and whereas, the city commission of Wayeross heartily indorses the enforcement of said amendment, now, therefore, I, F. P. Howell, mayor of said city of Wayeross, do hereby urge and request all patriotic and Christian citizens to celebrate on January 16, 1928, the eighth anniversary of the prohibition law, and upon Sunday, January 15, at the church services, amid patriotic hymns and prayers of thanksgiving, let sermons be preached, invoking observance of the statutes and support of the constitution Upon Monday, January 16, the anniversary date, let flags be unfurled at noon-tide when the church bells shall peal forth for eight minutes, one minute for each year of prohibition. In celebration of this new liberty, let the people pause to rejoice and praise Almighty God that with His guiding power and outstretched arms He has gained this great victory.

"Done at the municipal building this fourteenth day of January, 1928. F. P. Howell, mayor. Attest: W. E. Lee, clerk of commission."

PENNY-A-DAY, ROLL CALL.

While it has been impossible to compile a complete report showing the standing of all unions in the recent roll call, because of the state treasurer's fatal illness, it is learned from many sources that a large number of unions—those with the greatest membership, as well as the smallest, and a number of those in between not only held fast to the number of paid members of last year, but made substantial gains, also that other unions only have a short distance to go before reaching the goal. Collecting the dollar dues of every member on a given date early in the year has proved to have many advantages.

The Penny-a-day plan, suggested by the state president, Mrs. Marvin Williams, last month, has met with a gratifying response, not a few paying the entire $3.65 at once, the majority promising to pay by the month. The penny-a-day to keep drink away pays $1.00 dues, $1.00 on the budget for state work, and $1.65 on the permanent state headquarters maintenance fund. While the amount seems insignificant, "many a mickle makes a muckle."

An Appreciation.

Among the tributes paid Miss Josephine Hammond, for eight years state treasurer of the Georgia W. C. T. U., was one of beauty in the story of her life and death appearing in her home paper, The Walton News, entitled, "Another One of Monroe's Most Valuable Citizens Crosses the Great Divide."

One sentence in an editorial appreciation, in the same issue, state "True to the church, her Sunday school, the varied interests of town and country life, this invaluable citizen played well her part, achieving in her work and establishing herself in the hearts of all who came under the benign influence of her noble character, but to the task to which she gave the greater portion of her time, talent and strength, working day and night, that of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, in which she held, with distinction, the office of treasurer, she pinned her greater faith, believing that from the curse of the sale, manufacture and drinking of intoxicating liquors the country should be free. For this faith, for the unswerving, unceasing loyalty to the prosecution of the things her faith incorporated, the reward is sure—sure in public confidence, love, respect and in memories that shall live on and on, long past the day of our youngest children."

Frances E. Willard Day.

On or about February 17 each year the multiplied thousands of local W. C. T. U. celebrate "the heavenly birthday" or "America's greatest woman," Frances E. Willard, organizer of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union. Frances Willard was outstanding as a scholar, traveler, teacher, author, organizer, thinker, humanitarian, orator, seer "America's uncrowned queen." The W. C. T. U. honors her memory by carrying on the work she so nobly began, this is done through the Frances E. Willard Memorial fund, which is perpetuated by contributions from each union of at least $2. At the meetings in Georgia a voluntary collection is to be taken and sent to the state treasurer, Mrs. J. L. McGarrity, of Monroe, on the budget, from which she will pay the national treasurer the amount expected from each union. This is the home mission fund of the W. C. T. U. from which work in unorganized sections is financed, temperance educational work among negroes, among foreigners, the salary of the W. C. T. U. missionary at Ellis Island, etc. Georgia has frequently been benefited by help from the Frances Willard Memorial fund.

Campaign Conference.

The one of the eleven national campaign conferences in which the W. C. T. U. of Georgia, South Carolina and Florida will unite will be held at Jacksonville, Fla., February 21-22. It is hoped that many Georgia members will attend and make a pleasant vacation trip at the same time. Two national W. C. T. U. officers, five state W. C. T. U. presidents, two national W. C. T. U. lecturers, a national chairman and state and local officers of other organizations will take leading parts on the program.

Keynote address, "Laying Foundations." "Law Observance," "Why the Wets Want to Elect the Next President," "Practical Politics," "Current Wet Propaganda," "Outstanding Accomplishments of Prohibition," "How the Individual Can Aid Law Enforcement," "Hold Fast and Go Forward," "Translating Resolutions Into Votes," "A Plain Statement of the Problems of Enforcement," "Winning the voters," "Dry Planks and Dry Candidates" are some of the topics to be discussed by Mrs. Sara H. Hoge, Lincoln, Va., national W. C. T. U. recording secretary and president of the Virginia W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Nelle G. Burger, Springfield, Mo., assistant national W. C. T. U. secretary, president Missouri W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Florence Ewell Atkins, Milledgeville, Ga., national W. C. T. U. lecturer; Mrs. Lora S. LaMance, Lake Wales, Fla., national W. C. T. U. lecturer; Mrs. Marvin Williams, Atlanta, president Georgia W. C. T. U.; Miss Minnie E. Neal, Jacksonville, president Florida W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Joseph Sprott, Manning, president South Carolina W. C. T. U.; Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, New York, chairman national council of women; Mrs. Grant Harrington, president Jacksonville W. C. T. U.; Mrs. George W. Trout, Jacksonville, of the League of Women Voters; Mrs. A. F. Fanger, president Florida Parent-Teacher association; Mrs. M. M. Lander, general secretary Jacksonville Young Women's Christian association; Mrs. Charles T. Paxton, president Presbyterian Missionary union, and others. All Georgians are cordially invited to attend.

Leaves Hair Twice as Beautiful

In a few minutes time, your hair is soft, silky and radiant with life, gloss and lustre.

To have beautiful, fresh-looking hair is simply a matter of proper shampooing.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft, silky and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.—(adv.)

Cooking School At Haygood Memorial.

Beginning February 6 and continuing through to February 20, Mrs. A. P. Bradman will conduct a cooking school at Haygood Memorial church.

This will be a social occasion, bringing the women of Morningside together in an enjoyable way. It is to be educational, in that those studying will have opportunity of instruction in the culinary art from one of the most gifted women in the domestic world.

The time each day is from 10:30 o'clock to 12:30 o'clock. The price of the ticket is $1. The school is sponsored by the Missionary society and all the ladies of Morningside are invited to join.

Alpha Delta Pi To Give Valentine Tea.

A Valentine bridge tea at which members of the Atlanta Alumnae club of Alpha Delta Pi Friday afternoon, February 10, at 2:30 o'clock in one of the private rooms at the Atlanta Woman's club.

All Alpha Deltas, either of active chapters or alumnae, are invited to be present and bring guests and friends. Reservations should be made not later than Thursday noon with Mrs. McDonald Brittain, HEmlock 2851.

MASON'S

MASON'S

Monday begins the second week of our Great February Furniture Sale—and all indications point to it being even greater than last week, when hundreds of thrifty furniture buyers availed themselves of the wonderful values offered.

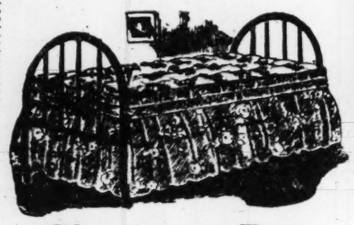

Large shipments of new merchandise arriving daily will go on sale Monday at the February Sale Reductions. This is truly a bona fide sale and nothing is reserved! Come and take your choice, on Mason's Easy Terms!

End Tables SPECIAL!

Only 36 of these $4 Walnut End Tables to sell Monday as long as they last at $1.50

No C. O. D.'s, Charges or Mail Orders

Simmons Day Bed--Special

Homemakers, save enormously on these fine day beds—easy to convert into a full-size, comfortable bed. Well-made mattress covered and valanced in brightly-colored cretonne!

A Regular $50.00 Day Bed Reduced to $29.75

$1 Cash Delivers This Day Bed—$1 Weekly Pays for It.

A Value Without Comparison--3-Piece Suite $98.50

$3.50 Cash $2.00 Week

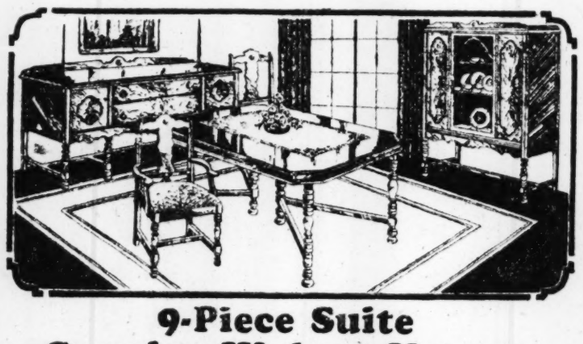

Jacquard Velour

MASON'S

We do not hesitate in saying that this is the best living room suite value, for the price. It is carefully constructed in every detail, full Nachmann spring construction in your choice of Jacquard velours. This suite consists of large size davenport and two chairs. Another outstanding Mason value for the February sale at the special price of.....

$98.50

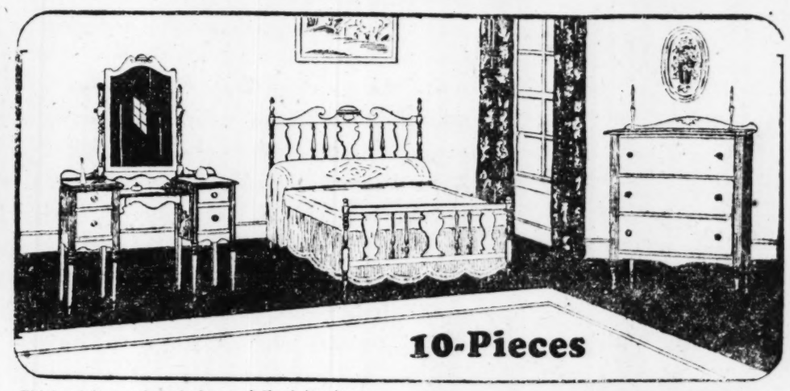

9-Piece Suite Genuine Walnut Veneer

You must see this suite to appreciate its wonderful value. It is a massively-constructed suite and is beautifully finished. Suite consists of semi-closed china cabinet, large size buffet, oblong extension table, five side chairs and one host chair with tapestry seats. Again we say you must see this suite to appreciate its value at $129.75

$4.75 Cash and $2.50 Per Week.

It's Marvelous, But True 10-Pce. Bedroom Outfit

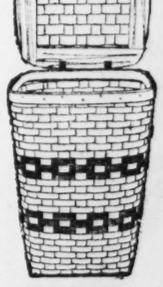

10-Pieces

Think of it, a whole bedroom full of furniture for the price of the 3-piece suite. The outfit consists of French Vanity, Dresser, Poster Bed, Chest of Drawers, Bench, as pictured above, beautifully finished in walnut; Spring, Cotton Mattress, two Pillows, one small Rug, and Table Lamp. This complete roomful of Furniture priced during this sale at .....

$98.50

$3.50 Cash and $2.00 Per Week

Clothes Hampers

98c

—An extra big value for Monday. No Charges, C. O. D.'s or Mail Orders

7-Piece Bedroom Suite

Bed, spring, mattress, dresser, chest of drawers and 2 pillows, in your choice of golden oak or mahogany finishes. Just think of buying this whole outfit for $59.75

$2.75 Cash—$1.50 Week.

Bassinet Special

Ivory enamel with woven wire springs. An extra special value, for only—

$2.98

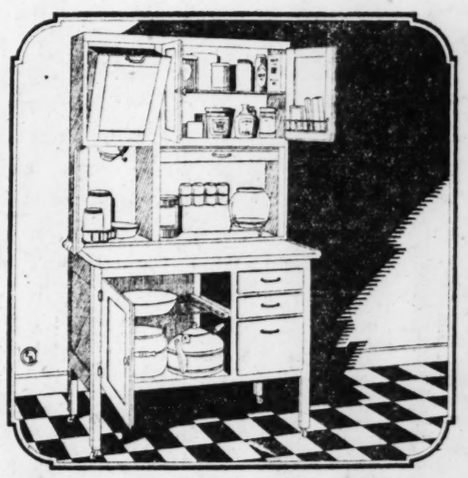

RUGS

Extra Special---9x12 Axminster Rugs

Just received, a shipment of high-grade Axminsters, all seamless, beautiful patterns. Only 24 in the lot, so come early. $39.75

Regular $55.00 Values

Kitchen Cabinets

Here's the housewife's chance to get that cabinet she's wanted so long. Solid Oak, Porcelain extension top, tilting flour bin, set of glass canisters for sugar, salt, pepper, soda, etc. Special $39.75

$1.00 Cash—$1.00 Week

LAMPS

Entire Stock at Close-Out Prices!

Bridge Lamps with silk shade and wood stand .. $7.95

Floor Lamps with Georgette silk shade and fancy metal stand $16.95

Parchment floor lamps with iron stands $5.95

MASON BROS

ATLANTA'S GREATEST FURNITURE HOUSE

6 and 8 West Mitchell St.

New Number 168-170 Mitchell St., S. W.
Four Doors from Whitehall St.

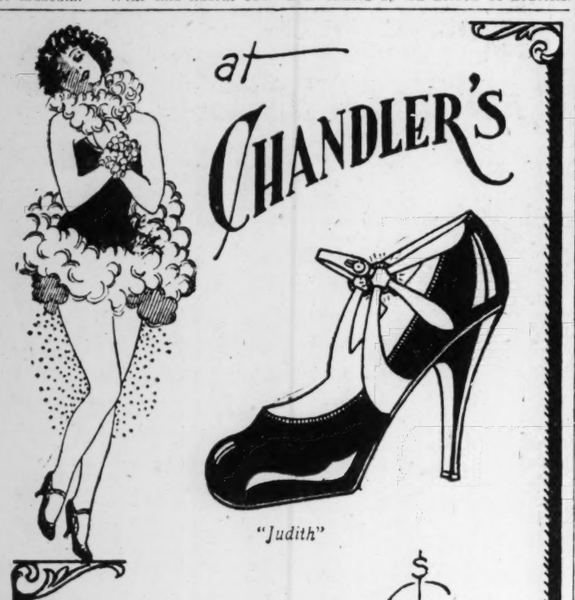

FREE 31-Piece Dinner set with each cabinet sold.

Art Classes At High Museum Tend To Increase Members

"The classes in art appreciation at the High Museum of Art have been exceedingly popular and the activity together with the free children's classes on Saturday has increased attendance to approximately 450 visitors a week," says J. Carroll Payne, president of the Atlanta Art association.

Director R. J. McKinney is arranging a series of illustrated art talks to be presented to various clubs at the museum. With this liberal educational program before us, much new interest is anticipated. Starting the middle of February, the children of the city will be invited to take a trip to Europe with Mr. McKinney, the trip to be in the nature of illustrated talks at the High museum, and embracing the art and customs of many lands. Mr. Kinney, himself an experienced traveler, will relate to the children in interesting fashio.. many fascinating stories of the old world. Announcement of the time and date of sailing will be mentioned later in these columns.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis H. Beall are expected to return next week from Miami, Fla., where they have spent the past six weeks. Mr. Beall has almost entirely recovered from his serious illness caused by an attack of neuritis.

at CHANDLER'S

"Judith"

Half a million Women Wear Chandler's Exquisite Shoes; and Each of Them Save From $24 to $50 a Year!

In 11 Foremost Cities

$6

Now Showing 60 New Spring Modes

Cash Mail Orders Filled

CHANDLER'S Exquisite Shoes

Add 25c for Mailing

None Sent C. O. D.

Whitehall, Corner Alabama

Lovely Mid-Winter Bride

Photo by McCrory's Studio.

Mrs. Joel Daves Norris, whose wedding was an event of social interest, taking place at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, January 25, at Sirron Farms, the suburban home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Norris. Mrs. Norris was formerly Mrs. Genevieve Harper Hill, lovely daughter of Mrs. W. J. Harper.

Miss Leila Kirkpatrick And Mr. Fiege Wed February 15

Cordial interest is centered in the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Leila O'Keefe Kirkpatrick and Stanley Lyons Fiege, whose marriage will be solemnized Wednesday, February 15, at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Kirkpatrick, 80 Twenty-sixth street, N. W.

The matrons of honor will be Mrs. H. Renwick Dunlap, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Eben Tilly. The maid of honor will be Miss Elizabeth Buchanan. Carrying the ribbons to form an aisle for the wedding party will be Miss Evelyn Sheffield, Elizabeth Irwin, Louise Barnwell and Mrs. W. J. Collins. The little flower girls will be Shirley Powers Davis and Annette Hightower. Miss Edith Kirkpatrick, Frances Hancock, Anna Harriette Shewmake and Mrs. Frances Cook will serve punch. The bride's book will be kept by Mrs. Franklin Davis and Miss Zadie Amerine. Miss Kirkpatrick will be given in marriage by her father, Wallace Mason Kirkpatrick. Wright Campbell, of Atlanta, will act as best man.

A series of parties are being planned for this attractive bride-elect. Mrs. Drury J. Powers entertains at a bridge party at her home, 164 Peachtree circle, Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock.

Miss Evelyn Sheffield entertains at a bridge Tuesday afternoon, February 7, at her home on Peachtree road.

Miss Elizabeth Irwin will honor Miss Kirkpatrick with a luncheon for the wedding party at the Biltmore Wednesday, February 8, at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. H. Renwick Dunlap will be hostess at a bridge party on Friday, February 10, at her home, 73 East Seventeenth street.

Saturday, February 11, Mrs. W. J. Collins entertains at a shower at her home on West Peachtree street.

Mrs. Eben Tilly and Mrs. W. C. Coart will be joint hostesses at a bridge-tea Monday, February 13, at the Atlanta Athletic club.

Preceding the rehearsal, Miss Elizabeth Buchanan will entertain Tuesday, February 14, at a buffet supper at 6 o'clock at her home, 1467 Peachtree street.

New Era Study Club Meets.

Mrs. George Phillips was hostess to the New Era Study club Wednesday at her home on Seminole avenue. Mrs. Pendleton assisted her daughter in entertaining.

Mrs. W. B. Sewell gave an instructive paper on "The Life of Tolstoy."

The tea table was overlaid with a filet cloth and the center decoration was sweet peas in pastel shades. Attractive place cards marked the places of the eighteen guests present.

St. Philip's Cathedral Plans Feast of Lights For Friday, Feb. 10

The beautiful service known as the Feast of Lights will be held in St. Philip's cathedral, East Hunter and Washington streets, Friday, February 10, at 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

The executive board of the Order of the Daughters of the King in the diocese of Atlanta met in the Ansley hotel Wednesday at 3 o'clock and completed all arrangements for this service, which is always sponsored by the Daughters of the King.

All the clergymen of the Episcopal church in Atlanta both in charge of parishes and retired have been invited to be present in their vestments and to take part in this service. The cathedral was filled during the service last year and each worshiper is invited to return and bring a friend this year. Bishop Henry J. Mikell, of the diocese of Atlanta, will conduct the service, assisted by all the city clergy, acolytes and choirs.

Spring Footwear

Combining Styles and Individuality

A Beautiful two-button pump, satin vamp, flowered silk quarter. Also Honey beige silk kid and suede combination. Spike heel.

$7.50 2½ to 8 AAAA to C

A smart Box Heel side tie of Honey beige silk kid and Persian kid combination.

A beautiful perfect fitting Step-in Pump in all Patent Leather.

The Mirror Quality Footwear

76 Whitehall St., S. W

A Special Offering of New

Spring Coats and Suits

Here is a gala collection of new coats and suits for every spring occasion, and in every new and fashionable shade—all, the last word in Spring smartness. The price is about what the coats ordinarily cost wholesale as you will realize yourself when you see the styles, materials, beautiful summer furs and quality of workmanship.

It was an accident that we got this group at such a ridiculous price and the quantity is limited. Opportunities for such remarkable savings are so few it will be advisable to come early.

$13.75

Albert's ASSOCIATED STORES

(New No.) 38 WHITEHALL STREET (Old No. 9)

NEXT TO WOOLWORTH'S

New Spring Coats

Featuring Fashion's Favorite Materials, such as---

—Kashas
—Broadcloths
—Satins
—Sport Tweeds

at the Mirror's Famous Popular Price of only

$25

Women's sizes 38 to 48, Misses' 14 to 20, Juniors' 13 to 17

Year after year it's the Mirror that shows the new spring coats in all their charm and beauty at the very popular price of $25.00. Real coat values, too. It's always so at the Mirror. Misses and Women in Atlanta and for many miles around have learned to look forward each spring season to this announcement—and never once has quality been sacrificed to meet price—and, if anything, the values this season are greater than ever before. Come in Monday and feast your eyes on these wonderful garments.

THE MIRROR Reflects Greater Values

46-48 WHITEHALL ST.

A WARDROBE OF THE NEW SHOES

almost as varied as your frocks for a cost surprisingly little

Queen Quality

Darz $6.50

—Short-toed patent leather pump poised on a 3-inch heel! The wide upstanding bow is of a patent and blonde silk kid combination.

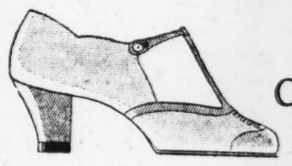

Steeple $6.95

—Square toe. Block heel. This little pump in black satin with black moire quarter and steeple bow; in both high and block heels.

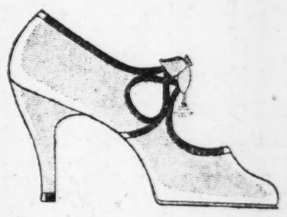

Wanda $7.75

—Yet another Queen Quality version in black moire with tiny little bow nestled close to the slipper. Also in honey beige kid or grey kid.

Cherie $10

—A smart little walking shoe that makes the foot appear unbelievably tiny! In a soft beige kid with darker tip and lacing.

June $10

—Newest Queen Quality open tie. In Honey beige kid with silk kid trim. Also in black patent with steel grey trim.

Ritz $12.50

—A graceful one-strap with a curving side line. In Honey kid with darker piping. Also in black patent with blonde piping.

Deauville $12.50

—The smartest shoe for the Spring ensemble! Parchment kid tip, quarter and heel with darker vamp. Jaunty silk tie!

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

THE FEDERATED CHURCH WOMEN OF GEORGIA

OFFICERS: Mrs. T. L. Lewis, honorary president, 162 Ponce de Leon avenue, Atlanta; Mrs. Edgar Craighead, president, 1739 North Decatur road, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Rosa Woodberry, first vice president, 149 Peachtree circle, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Elzie B. Thomas, second vice president, Lakeview avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. J. W. Wills, state editor, 829 Myrtle street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Elijah Brown, corresponding secretary, 826 Piedmont avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, treasurer, 857 Virginia avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. A. Witherspoon, auditor, 65 Fifteenth street, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. John Kerksis, recording secretary, Peachtree road, Atlanta, Ga.
EDITORS: Mrs. D. S. Sanford, Baptist editor, 998 Juniper street, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. D. Jolly, Methodist editor, 205 Feld avenue, Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. Frank Woodruff, Episcopal editor, 43 Peachtree place, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. Elzie B. Thomas, Christian (Disciples) editor, Lakeview avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. L. H. Keller, Congregational editor, 1032 Stewart avenue, S. W., Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. C. V. Ahles, Lutheran editor, 1018 Oxford road, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.
Federation founded by the late Mrs. Albert Braswell. "Laborers together with God." 1 Cor. 3:9.

The Universal Love.

"The good man loves all men.
"He loves to speak of the good of others. All within the four seas are his brothers.
"Love of man is chief of all virtues.
"The mean man sows, that himself or his friends may reap; but the love of the perfect man is universal."
This sentiment is found among the sayings of Confucius, and the Christian can only rise one step higher by loving "God with all his heart" and he will "love his neighbor as himself."

Methodist Missionary Council To Meet in Nashville, Tenn.

The Woman's Missionary Council of the Southern Methodist church will hold its 1928 meeting in Nashville, Tenn. This meeting is to be a great jubilee celebration. At this session the Belle Harris Bennett Memorial building will be dedicated to the training of Christian workers from all the nations.

It is definitely planned that the 1928 council meeting shall be a deeply spiritual meeting. Spiritual cultivation will be the keynote.

Dr. H. M. Cox, president of Emory university, will be one of the principal speakers. Dr. Andrew Sledd, of Emory university, will lead the noon devotional period throughout the session. A number of the bishops of the church will be present and have part on the program. One great service will be devoted to the recognition of pioneers in the work.

Fraternal delegates from cooperating boards of other denominations and from foreign fields will also be present. Visitors will be welcome to all sessions.

Calvary W. M. U.

Monday afternoon the Calvary Woman's Missionary society gave an entertaining program, carrying out the jubilee year idea in celebration of the 50th anniversary of this organization. Seven periods of seven years each, beginning in 1878, were presented, each period being represented by a woman dressed in the style worn at that time. The ladies presenting these parts were Mesdames E. L. McCrory, C. E. Wilson, Morse, C. A. Harris, J. H. O'Neal, T. J. Middlebrooks and Newlin. Mrs. E. I. Brogdon also presented a very interesting leaflet on "Looking Ahead 50 Years." Mrs. Rowland Bryce, president, and Mrs. H. B. Bankston, vice president, served coffee and sandwiches during the social hour.

All the Calvary circles are now organized with the following officers:

Circle No. 1, Mrs. E. C. Houston, chairman; Mrs. R. T. Carroll, co-chairman; Mrs. L. C. Hays, treasurer; Mrs. Peace, recording secretary; Mrs. R. A. Eubanks, corresponding secretary.

Circle No. 2, Mrs. J. M. Marshall, chairman; Mrs. P. T. Carroll, co-chairman; Mrs. J. A. O'Neal, treasurer; Mrs. George Campbell, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Morse, devotional.

Circle No. 3, Mrs. A. R. Marbut, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Johnson, co-chairman; Mrs. A. T. McNeely, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Wisebro, secretary; Mrs. Felton Williams, devotional; Mrs. P. D. Ramsey, baby division.

Circle No. 4, Mrs. G. C. Collier, chairman; Mrs. T. L. Smith, co-chairman; Mrs. W. S. McLaughlin, treasurer; Mrs. L. R. Winslett, secretary; Mrs. C. E. Wilson, devotional.

Circle No. 5, Mrs. T. S. Blalock, chairman; Mrs. H. H. Davis, co-chairman; Mrs. O. A. Harris, treasurer; Mrs. E. L. Copeland, secretary; Mrs. Sibyl Florrid, devotional.

Circle No. 6, Mrs. M. E. Babb, chairman; Mrs. L. Moody, co-chairman; Mrs. J. T. Ozburn, treasurer; Mrs. T. A. Slaughter, assistant treasurer; Mrs. J. J. Edwards, secretary; Mrs. M. Manston and Mrs. M. Eubanks, devotional; Mrs. J. H. Gideon, social chairman.

Circle No. 7, Mrs. Larry Caudill, chairman; Mrs. Woodruff, co-chairman; Mrs. Fred Almand, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Thomas, secretary; Mrs. E. C. Settle, devotional.

Circle No. 8, Mrs. E. L. McCrory, chairman; Mrs. D. R. Bryan, co-chairman; Mrs. R. W. Collins, secretary; Mrs. C. H. Aikens, treasurer; Mrs. F. B. Magee, devotional.

Circle No. 9, Mrs. S. D. Mullinaux, chairman; Mrs. Newlin, co-chairman; Mrs. T. J. Middlebrooks, secretary; Mrs. R. A. Walker, ways and means; Mrs. Loftis, devotional.

Circle No. 10 (business women), Miss Harriett Teasley, chairman; co-chairman, Mrs. E. T. Converse; secretary, Mrs. E. E. Simmons; treasurer, Miss Lula Baisden.

Circle No. 9, of the Missionary Society of Calvary Methodist church met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. W. O. Babb, 499 East Ontario avenue. Mrs. S. D. Mullineaux presided. Twelve members were present. During the social hour a delightful salad course was served.

Cascade W. M. S.

Cascade Methodist W. M. S. met at Mrs. J. A. Flewellyn's home Wednesday morning, January 11, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. White, district secretary of South Atlanta district, installed the folowing officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. J. A. Flewellyn; vice president, Mrs. Sidney Smith; recording secretary, Mrs. George P. Greenoe; corresponding secretary, Mrs. L. C. Huff; treasurer, Mrs. F. A. Nort; assistant treasurer, Mrs. W. H. Roberts; superintendent supplies, Mrs. M. A. Ross; superintendent social service, Mrs. Linton Lewis; superintendent Bible mission, Mrs. E. M. Spier; superintendent publicity, Mrs. W. H. Roberts; superintendent local work, Mrs. Sidney Smith; baby division, Mrs. T. R. Asbell; children's department, juniors, Mrs. S. A. F. Wagner; primary, Mrs. R. F. Stillwell; circle chairman, Mrs. R. H. Lee; co-chairman, Mrs. Herbert Oliver.

It was decvided to hold the meetings on the first Wednesday mornings of each month at the Men's Bible class room, 1511 Beecher street. The membership consists of 25 old members and several new ones for this year. The circle had its first meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs. R. H. Lee, January 17, at 10 o'clock, having 26 present and an enrollment of 37.

Many Marriages Take Place in Griffin.

Griffin, Ga., February 4.—The marriage of Miss Nell Butler and George R. Ivey, of Atlanta, was solemnized in Griffin Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Third Methodist church, with Rev. J. A. Davis, pastor, performing the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. Mrs. Frank Pittman presided at the organ and played a beautiful program of prenuptial music. W. C. McAbee sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The ushers were Herdine Parker and Paul Hollingsworth. They entered the church first and were followed by the two bridesmaids, Miss Onia Mae Grant and Miss Evelyn Hollingsworth. The matron of honor was Mrs. Drewry Rivers, sister of the bride.

The bride entered with her father, W. C. Butler, by whom she was given in marriage, and met at the altar by the groom and his best man, his brother, Harry Ivey, of Atlanta. The blonde beauty of the bride was enhanced by her attractive spring model of tan crepe combined with brown and worn with a small tan hat and other accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of valley lilies.

Mrs. Sam Corley, aunt of the bride, entertained informally for Mr. and Mrs. Ivey at her home, and they left for Atlanta, where they will make their home on Augusta avenue.

The marriage of Miss Nell Bell and David Patrick took place Saturday at noon at the home of the Rev. L. M. Latimer, on West Poplar street, who performed the ceremony in the presence of a few close friends and immediate relatives.

The bride was lovely in a spring model of tan flat crepe with accessories to match and a small gold metal cloth hat. She was wearing a tan cloth coat with a fur collar. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick left on a trip to north Georgia, and will make their home in Griffin.

Miss Pauline Pryor and Allen Bryant were married Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. O. K. Cull, in Griffin. The Rev. Mr. Cull performed the ceremony in the presence of a few friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. Following this they will make their home in Griffin.

Miss Crabtree Addresses Meet At Christian Church

The business woman's circle of the First Christian church was addressed Monday by Miss Lucile Crabtree, physical director of the Young Women's Christian association, who gave an interesting talk about the association and its work, and of the activities in her particular department.

The meeting was well attended and in addition to Miss Crabtree's talk gratifying reports were heard from the different committee chairmen on the work of the circle.

The meetings are held regularly the third Monday night of each month at the church, beginning with supper at 6 o'clock.

"Church Night" has proven such a success in so many of the churches that the Peachtree Christian church has adopted the first Monday night of each month on which to observe this. In the afternoon the Woman's Missionary society will present various programs at 2:30 o'clock. At 6:30 o'clock the teachers' and workers' supper will be served each time by one of the circles of the woman's society. This will be concluded at 8 o'clock, when the men of the official board will convene for their usual meeting.

T. E. L. Class Holds Meeting.

The T. E. L. class of the Oakhurst Baptist church met in the Sunday school room of the church Wednesday afternoon.

Interesting reports of recent activities in the class were given by the different officers and chairmen, after which Mrs. Carswell, teacher of the Aleathan class, gave a very interesting report from the Southern Baptist Sunday school convention held recently in Greenville, S. C.

Social Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Teagle, Miss Margaret Teagle and Frank Teagle, Jr., have taken the home formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Boykin at 425 Ponce de Leon avenue.

Electa chapter No. 60, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock in the Red Men's wigwam, Central avenue.

***

Mr. and Mrs. William Clear Spiker are spending the week-end in Charleston, S. C.

***

Mrs. W. E. B. Davis, of Birmingham, Ala., left Saturday for Asheville, N. C., to visit relatives, after spending a week at the Georgian Terrace hotel.

***

Miss Marion Van Dyke left Sunday for a week's stay in New York city. She has been invited to join the group of prominent Tennesseeans who will entertain for Miss Grace Moore Tuesday afternoon following her debut in grand opera at the Metropolitan.

***

Mrs. H. R. Grant and Miss Margaret Grant, of Lonisville, Ky., are at the Georgian Terrace for several weeks.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh N. Goldsmith, of Charlotte, N. C., announce the birth of a daughter, Friday, February 3.

***

Mrs. W. S. Terrell, Sr., is spending the month of February in Orlando, Fla., and Mount Dora, Fla. She went with Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Terrell, Jr., and their son, Billy, who spent a few days in Atlanta with their parents.

***

Miss Blanche Barrett, of Sidmouth, Devon, England, is the week-end guest of Mrs. T. J. Hallyburton at her home on West Peachtree street.

***

Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Donaldson have returned from a three weeks' motor trip to Florida.

***

Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Fitzhugh, of Charlottesville, Va., are th guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ferrell.

***

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Satterwhite, Randall Satterwhite, Jr., and little Miss Gean Satterwhite are spending a month in Florida and are now at the Columbus hotel in Miami. They will visit Tampa and St. Petersburg before returning home.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Bayham, of Lexington, Ky., are at the Georgian Terrace.

***

James M. Griffin, of Washington, D. C., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Paul Brooks at her home at the Georgian Terrace.

Druid Hills Baptist Church To Open School of Missions

The Druid Hills Baptist church will open its second annual school of missions at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, February 6, to continue through February 10.

There will be four classes as follows: Two for men and women, taught by Dr. Ayers and Dr. W. H. Faust; one for young men and young women, by Miss Mary Crawford, and one for junior boys and girls, by Mrs. Oscar Lewis.

After classes there will be inspirational talks by the following: Lewis D. Newton, Professor M. E. Coleman, W. G. England and Miss Pearl Dunstan, of Brazil. On the last evening, February 10, there will be a play in three acts, "Farmer Brown Is Converted to Stewardship," by members of Capitol Avenue B. Y. P. U.

First Baptist.

More than 1,000 messengers and visitors attended the session of the nineteenth annual meeting of the Baptist Woman's Missionary union held January 26 and 27 at the First Baptist church. Mrs. Wilbur M. Jones, superintendent, presided. The union is composed of eight districts, each presided over by a secretary, who has under her supervision the women and children of eight churches. Much of the success of the year's work has been due to the faithful secretaries, Mesdames F. D. Burge, J. Furness Lee, L. C. Craig, J. W. Smith, W. H. S. Dorsey, A. G. Sullivan, P. S. Paschal and George Oakes.

Mrs. George N. Niles, treasurer, and Mrs. J. W. Awtrey, treasurer of good will centers, showed a healthy financial increase and a surplus in the treasury.

The mission study banner was presented to Mrs. W. H. S. Dorsey, fifth district secretary, and Mrs. A. L. Clinkscales, mission study chairman.

Inspirational addresses were made by the superintendent, Mrs. Wilbur Jones, Dr. W. H. Major, Mrs. J. H. Coin, Mrs. Weston Bruner, Mrs. Harvey Clarke, Mrs. Y. H. Shabbaz and Miss Mary Crawford.

The Georgia Baptist hospital was represented by J. H. Franklin; the Orphans' home at Hapeville by Mrs. W. P. Anderson; the Kate Pendleton Dawson Good Will center by Mrs. M. Dawson and Miss Ruby Hill; the Andrew and Frances Stewart Good Will center by Mrs. John R. Dickey and Miss Allie Lee Arrendall. The first district was hostess on this occasion and entertained at luncheon both days of the convention.

Mission Banner.

At the annual meeting of Baptist W. M. U., of Atlanta association, the fifth district was awarded the mission study banner.

Under the leadership of Mrs. W. H. S. Dorsey, district secretary, and Mrs. E. G. Clinkscales, mission study chairman, nearly all the societies kept up to the standard, some going beyond, West End church having held 31 classes in all. Mrs. Dorsey and Mrs. Clinkscales visited the societies, encouraging, teaching and providing books for the weaker churches from the larger ones.

The churches represented in the district are West End, Oakland City, East Point First, East Point Second, College Park, Hapeville, Piedmont Mills, Eagan and Ben Hill. The number of seals received for the district were 1,417; classes 98.

West End church received the banner given for the largest number of classes from one single church, Mrs. W. Harvey Clarks having taught all the classes. The annual meeting of the W. M. U. Friendship association was held with Rehobeth church Wednesday, January 25, with Mrs. R. L. Maynard, superintendent, presiding. Brief speeches on "Prayer," "Bible Study," "White Cross" were made by Mrs. L. B. Lott, Mrs. Lightner, Mrs. T. A. Tarrer, Mrs. B. A. Bradley, Mrs. Ed Bell, Mrs. Olive, Miss Moore and Mrs. J. E. Hall.

The afternoon session program was under the direction of Mrs. Stuart Prather, with Miss Nell Schneider furnishing special music. Miss Margaret Moore talked on stewardship; Mrs. S. H. Edge discussed the Mary P. Willingham school. Miss Julia Allen, young people's leader for Georgia, talked on "Our Ruby Anniversary Aims as Young People," and held a conference of methods.

Second Baptist.

The Women's Missionary and Benevolent society meets in the church Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock. Mrs. J. Furniss Lee is president. A Valentine party will be given by B-1 of the B. Y. P. U. to the other unions of this church Friday evening, February 10, in the church. The first meeting of the W. M. S. young people was held in the church Saturday, February 4. Circle No. 11, Mrs. M. E. Geer, chairman, assisted Mrs. Gordon Singleton in entertaining these young women.

The Business Women's league meets this afternoon in the Sunday school auditorium at 3:30 o'clock, at which time Dr. Willis A. Sutton will address the members. Circle F, Miss Mary Ella Yancey, chairman, and Miss Pearle Moore, co-chairman, will be in charge.

The executive board of the league met recently in the home of Miss Elsie Kottner, 2191 East Lake road, Decatur, to discuss plans for the new year. Mrs. F. J. Paxon, president and organizer, presided.

Daughters of the King To Hold Candle Service.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Edward G. Warner, Daughters of the King in the Atlanta diocese will hold a candle service in St. Philip's cathedral Friday evening, February 10, at 5:30 o'clock.

At this beautiful service of lights, conducted by the Rt. Rev. Henry J. Mikell, assisted by the diocesan clergy, Daughters of the King will make their self-denial offering which is used for the maintenance of their own missionaries in China.

Ga. State Teachers College News.

Athens, Ga., February 4.—The Bibb county students conducted the chapel exercises Wednesday morning. Miss Mildred Campbell had charge of the exercises while Miss Elizabeth Samples read a paper on the history of the county, and Miss Helen King discussed the geography, products and education of Bibb county.

A number of students attended the students' banquet at the First Methodist church Thursday evening. Other members of the student body that attended were: Misses Julia Foster, Alda Wallace, Mary Neal Shannon, Louise Davis, Annie Turpin, Liza David, Sue Middlebrooks, Luch Gholston, Edna Clark, Mary Love Wooldridge and Pauline Gresham.

A splendid program was rendered by the Y. W. C. A. Sunday evening. Those taking part in the exercises were Misses Mary Will Petty, Adella Reeves, Annie Mary Hartley, Kittye Isdol and Dr. Jere M. Pound.

The Columbus club gave a party at the Athens Country club Monday afternoon. Among the guests were Misses Mary Love Wooldridge, Ermine Jones, Virginia Cox, Carolyn Parham, Ruth Rogers, Catherine Wall Margaret Perrott, Mary Nell Pitts, Annie V. Massey, Helen Bass, Frances Hudson and Mary Yates.

Marietta News Is of Interest.

Marietta, Ga., February 4.—Mrs. W. H. Perkinson was hostess at a luncheon Friday at her home on Church street in compliment to Mrs. Fred Hopkins, of Minneapolis, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Trezevant. On Wednesday Mrs. Hopkins was honor guest at an informal bridge-luncheon, being the first of a series given by Mrs. D. C. Cole.

Mrs. Harvey DuPre, who is giving a series of parties, entertained with a bridge-luncheon Tuesday at her home on Cherokee street in honor of Mrs. Hopkins. Invited to meet her guest of honor were Mesdames George H. Keeler, D. C. Cole, Cottingham, W. B. Tate, Leon Gilbert, Ed Massey, Arthur Williams, R. M. Wade, Martin Amorous, Ed Hunt, W. H. Perkinson and Fannie Trezevant.

Wednesday Mrs. DuPre was hostess at a luncheon, having as her guests Mrs. C. D. Elder, Mrs. Will Neal, Miss Laura Mayer, Mrs. Walter Schilling, Mrs. Robert Northcutt, Mrs. Lewe Sessions, Mrs. H. E. Hague, Mrs. H. A. Morrisette, Mrs. H. A. Field, Miss Virginia Gibbs and Mrs. Susie Wyatt.

Mrs. Leon Gilbert entertained about 35 guests at tea Friday afternoon at her home on Atlanta street, in compliment to Mrs. Naegle-Parker, formerly of New York, who will reside in future in Marietta.

Mrs. Mabel Glover Williams left Wednesday for Sarasota, Fla., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wilder Glover at Myrtle Hill.

Morgan McNeel, Sr., Morgan McNeel, Jr., and Tom Wallace left recently for Texas, where they will spend some time, visiting points of interest.

Miss Hazel Mayes, of Fitzgerald, is visiting Mrs. George Montgomery on Cherokee street.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Wallace are spending the week-end at Gillbuckle, Tenn.

Mrs. Joe Brown is visiting relatives in Chicago, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fine are spending two weeks in New York city.

Mrs. Thomas Turner, of High Point, N. C., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. C. T. Nolan, on Church street.

Mrs. William Beck and daughter, Martha, have returned to their home in Tampa, Fla., after a visit to relatives here.

Rebecca Felton U.D. C. Plans Observation Of Georgia Day

Rebecca Felton chapter, U. D. C., will celebrate "Georgia Day" Friday morning, February 10, 10:30 o'clock, in the palm room in the Piedmont hotel. Mrs. Josephus Camp, chairman, has arranged the following program, including the singing of "America," by the chapter; Flag salute, Mrs. Walter E. Lomax and Mrs. Camp; "Georgia Land," chapter; "History of Georgia," Mrs. Virginia Henderson; "The Georgia Flag," Mrs. J. A. Beall; "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," chapter; "The Great Men Georgia Has Produced," Mrs. E. W. Gunn; Georgia as political asset to our country, Mrs. J. Sewell; "The Star-Spangled Banner," chapter; "The Great Women Georgia Has Produced," Mrs. Walter Lomax; solo, selected, Mrs. E. W. Gunn; "Why It's Great to Be a Georgian," Mrs. Douglas Barbour; Georgia as a religious state, Mrs. R. M. Carreway; song, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," chapter. Leader, Mrs. Josephus Camp.

Avondale Social Notes of Interest.

Mrs. C. R. Pyburn, of Avondale road, entertained the Avolun Bridge club Tuesday at her home. Luncheon was enjoyed after which several games of bridge were played. The guests were Mrs. E. C. Talbot, Mrs. Carolyn Lee, Mrs. D. F. Leake, Mrs. Florence, Mrs. C. F. Knowlton, Mrs. J. E. Pounds, Mrs. Meng, Mrs. H. J. Lindig, Mrs. P. J. McGovern, Mrs. R. H. Robinson, Mrs. Browne, Mrs. L. R. Potter, Mrs. S. W. Castles, Mrs. W. C. Harris, Mrs. C. L. Henry and Miss Lottie Smith, all of Avondale.

Mrs. William H. Goulder, of Dartmouth road, has as her guests her relatives, Mrs. Norma Thompson, of Chatham, Canada, and Miss Lil Harker, of England. Friday afternoon Mrs. Goulder entertained with a tea when a hundred of her friends called to meet these attractive visitors. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. A. Thompson, of Chatham, Canada, who is her guest for the winter, and Mrs. W. C. Harris and Mrs. L. R. Potter, of Avondale.

Wednesday afternoon the Avondale Grammar School Parent-Teacher association gave a benefit bridge party at the Hotel Candler, Decatur, which was a very delightful affair. Over two hundred ladies enjoyed the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Pyburn, of Avondale road, have returned home from a motor trip through Florida.

The Avondale chapter of the Service Star legion will give a benefit bridge-tea at the Community club, Wednesday afternoon, February 15.

Church Meetings

Methodist.

The Methodist board of city missions meets Tuesday morning, February 7, at 10 o'clock, at Wesley Memorial church.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church meets Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school auditorium.

The Woman's Missionary society of Grant Park meets at the church, Monday, February 6, at 2:30 o'clock.

Haygood Memorial W. M. S. meets Monday, February 6, at the church.

The Junior Church of Pattillo Memorial will have charge of the prayer meeting service at Pattillo Memorial Wednesday evening, February 8.

The Woman's Missionary society of Calvary church meets February 6.

Business and Literary W. M. S. of Martha Brown Memorial meets Monday afternoon, February 6, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. George J. Long, 1291 Metropolitan avenue.

W. M. S. of Druid Hills meets at the church Monday, February 6, at 3 o'clock.

The Calvary Woman's Missionary society meets at the church the first Monday of each month.

Lutheran.

A joint meeting of the seven circles of the Women's Missionary society of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the church.

Christian.

The Woman's society of the Peachtree Christian church meets Monday afternoon, February 6, at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

The twelve circles of the Women's Council of the First Christian church will meet February 7, at hour and places designated in the regular Sunday bulletin.

Baptist.

School of Missions will be held at Druid Hills Baptist church beginning Monday evening, February 6, at 7:30 o'clock, and continuing through February 10.

Personal service conference meets Wednesday, February 8, at the First Baptist church, Sunday school auditorium, at 8 o'clock.

Monthly business meeting Captitol Avenue W. M. S. meets Monday afternoon, February 6, at 3 o'clock.

Ponce de Leon Avenue W. M. S. meets at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 6, at the church.

Briefly Told

During the recent convention of the Lutheran Women's Missionary society of the synod of Georgia and adjacent states, the delegates were taken by automobiles to Stone mountain on the afternoon of January 25.

Mrs. John F. MacDougald, the recently elected president of All Saints' Episcopal church, branch of the Woman's Auxiliary, will preside at an interparochial meeting of auxiliaries to be held in All Saints' chapel Monday, February 6, at 3 o'clock.

Miss Edith Ederle, a missionary of the Disciples church to the Philippine Islands, as well as author of several interesting books, was in Atlanta last week and spoke at a number of meetings at the local churches. She gave a delightfully clear picture of life in the Philippines.

Miss Edith Ederle, a missionary under the auspices of the United Missionary society at St. Louis, made the talk at the Evening Belle service of the Peachtree Christian church Sunday evening. Miss Ederle was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Craighead, at their home on North Decatur road, during her stay in Atlanta.

Rev. Eleanor Graham To Give Lecture.

Sunday, February 5, at 3 o'clock, in assembly room, Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Rev. Eleanor Graham, formerly of New Orleans, will speak on "The New Age Religion." Robert Bryan Harrison will preside and extends an invitation to the public to attend.

SILVERWARE REPAIRED, REPLATED AND MADE NEW EXPERT REPAIRING
METAL BEDS REFINISHED IN MAHOGANY, OAK, ETC., TO MATCH YOUR FURNITURE.
Auto Parts Nickel Plated
Gold, Silver, Nickel and Brass Plating
SIMMONS PLATING WORKS
219-221 Pryor St., S. W.
WAl. 6244-6245 Est. 1893

FOR MEN, WOMEN, CHILDREN

SMILES OF COMFORT AND MILES OF SERVICE IN

MID-WINTER CLEARANCE SALE Cantilever Shoe

ONE WEEK ONLY, BEGINNING TOMORROW

Your opportunity to buy these famous hand-made corrective shoes at a worthwhile saving. Many attractive styles, all sizes and widths, but not in every style. All styles are not included. Broken lots only.

$6.95 FOR $10.00 TO $12.00 SHOES

WE FIT SHOES -BY- X-RAY THE MODERN WAY

$8.95 FOR $12.50 TO $15.00 SHOES

CANTILEVER SHOE STORE

126 PEACHTREE ARCADE — PHONE WALNUT 5655

February Furniture Sale

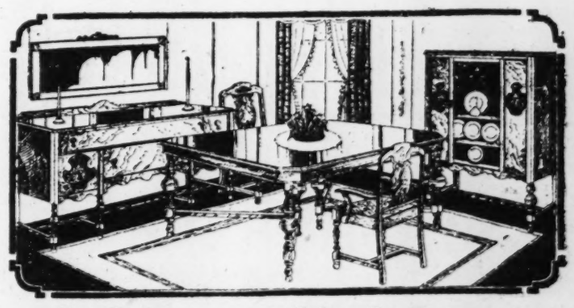

Ref-U-Pail for Garbage 98c

White enamel finish. Top lifts by pressing the foot lever. Separate inside removable pail. 4-quart size. Special February Price, while they last .....

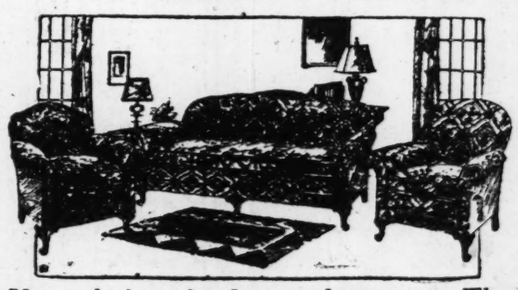

Nine-Piece Dining Room Suite $119.50

Beautiful Walnut finish, splendidly constructed, consisting of large size table, five side and one host chair, full size roomy Buffet and China.

This suite is a February Special. Terms to Please You

Three-Piece Jacquard Overstuffed Living Room Suite February Special

$98.50

TERMS TO PLEASE YOU

Your choice of colors and patterns. These are real buys, quality being first-class.

Mail Orders Shipped Same Day Received

ABBOTT FURNITURE CO.

Marietta Street At Junction of Walton

Society Dines In Spanish Patio Monday

Society will be ushered into a Spanish patio Monday for luncheon with the Junior League, that band of prominent young women opening the tea room in its new location at 91 1-2 Peachtree street, where courteous and charming waitresses, wearing the most fetching costumes, have drawn a line at accepting tips. Dining under orange and blue striped awnings and gazing upon a scene suggestive of sunny Spain will be a new sensation for Atlantans, for the decorations at the tea room far surpass any attempt ever made by the Junior League. The officers, including Mrs. William Huger, Miss Margaret Nelson, Mrs. Joel Hurt, Jr., Mrs. Philip Wilcox, Miss Caroline Nicolson and Mrs. John Knox, assisted by Mrs. Henry Newman and Mrs. Robert H. White, Jr., cochairman, will act as official hostesses, and it is predicted that the Atlanta Junior League will assemble en masse to start the new tea room off under the most brilliant of circumstances, and work towards swelling the treasury so as to maintain a children's ward in Egleston Memorial hospital.

Honoring two prominent figures in U. D. C. circles, Mrs. Howard McCall and Mrs. B. C. Ward, Mrs. James Clay Gentry entertains at a luncheon Tuesday, February 7, at the home on Piedmont road. Mrs. McCall served for three years as vice president general of the national society, D. A. R., and was recently elected a director in the National D. A. R. Officers' club in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Ward has been prominently identified with the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., for the past 15 years, and is organizing president of the Children of the American Revolution.

The East Lake Country club will be the scene of a brilliant dance Friday evening, February 10, when the Alpha Tau chapter of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of Georgia Tech entertains in celebration of the close of the first semester. The dance gives promise of being one of the most delightful of the midwinter affairs.

Among those who are taking advantage of the many midwinter attractions is Miss Emile May Wilson, of Southern Pines, N. C., who is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Miss Elizabeth Otis. Among those who will honor this charming acquisition to Atlatna society are: Misses Harriet Hasson, Evelyn Branch, Louise Madden and Kitty Lovette.

New Citizen Arrives In Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reginald Rives, of Jacksonville, Fla., announce the birth of a son at St. Luke's hospital Thursday, January 19, who has been given the name Ralph Reginald, Jr. The baby is an heir to the name of Rives, an early Virginia family and makers of much colonial and later southern history. Princess Amelia Rives, the poetess and writer, and Rothchild Rives, Rumanian consul, depict his now living famous heritage. Mrs. Rives was before her marriage Miss Edna Futch, of Savannah. Mr. Rives formerly lived in Atlanta and is well known here.

Miss Kirkpatrick To Be Honored.

Mrs. Drury Powers and Mrs. Franklin B. Davis entertain at 5 o'clock Monday afternoon, February 6, at the residence of Mrs. Davis, 172 Huntington road, honoring Miss Leila O'Keefe Kirkpatrick, whose marriage to Stanley Lyons Fiege, of New Orleans, La., will be an event of February 15. A group of friends of the hostess and honor guest have been invited for this delightful affair.

Mrs. Batterton Weds John Farris Lillico.

Judge and Mrs. Marcus W. Beck announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Margaret Beck Batterton, to John Farris Lillco, the wedding having been solemnized January 7, in Clearwater, Fla. They are at home at 5210 Branch avenue, Tampa.

Parties Assemble At Driving Club.

Congenial parties assembled Saturday evening at the Piedmont Driving club dinner-dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Willett entertained a party. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Willett, Mr. and Mrs. James Ragan and Mr. and Mrs. George McCarty, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Troutman entertained a congenial party.

Habersham D. A. R. To Give Colonial Ball.

The garden committee of the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., of which Mrs. George L. Berry is chairman, announces a colonial ball to be held Tuesday evening, February 21, from 9 to 12 o'clock. The tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Berry, 46 Maddox drive, by phoning Hemlock 3409-J. The price of tickets is $1 per couple.

St. Catherine's Guild To Give Bridge Party.

St. Catherine's Guild of St. Luke's Episcopal church, will give a benefit bridge Monday afternoon, February 6, at the home of Mrs. J. M. Slaton on Peachtree road, at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. J. R. Fairman and Mrs. A. Q. Smith are chairmen of the occasion.

Fifth Avenue P.-T. A. Reports Meeting.

The Fifth Avenue P.-T. A. met Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock. All members are are urged to be on time. There was a meeting of the executive board February 1 at the school. In addition to important matters brought up for discussion plans were completed for a box supper to be held at the school February 17. Each box will be filled with good things to eat, and will contain the name of the lady who brought it. The gentleman who buys the box will have the privilege of sharing it with the lady. A prize will be offered for the most attractive box.

Phantasy Club Gives Dance.

The members of the Phantasy club entertained at an informal dance at Peachtree and Third streets hall, Friday evening.

Members of the club are: Misses Mary Adamson, Lois Cummings, Edna Lee, Clara Dennington, Lilly May Wiggins, Kathryn Featherston, Margaret White, Evelyn Mitchell and Mrs. E. L. Hollingsworth, Jr.

HARK TO THE STRAINS OF LOHENGRIN

Today's feature page presents a trio of society's most charming young members, a bride-elect and two recent brides. The attractive figure at the upper left is Miss Martha Ellen Hodgson, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Grady Hodgson, whose engagement is announced today to Rutherford Lipscomb Ellis, the marriage to be brilliantly solemnized Wednesday evening, March 28, at "Wildwoods," the Hodgson home in Druid Hills. In the center is a beautiful likeness of Mrs. Thomas Dawes Blake III, of Orlando, Fla., as seen at her wedding, which was a fashionable event of Saturday, January 28. Mrs. Blake was formerly Miss Maria Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ten Eyck Brown. Mrs. Joel Chandler Harris III (at the lower right) is a bride of the past week whose wedding, taking place Wednesday evening at St. Mark's Methodist church, was of wide social importance, assembling society en masse. Mrs. Harris was formerly Miss Bessie White, lovely daughter of Mr. and Mr. W. H. White. Photos of Miss Hodgson and Mrs. Harris by Thurston Hatcher; photograph of Mrs. Blake by Brubacker's studio.

West End Civic Club To Feature 'American Homes'

Mrs. Newton Wing addresses members of the West End Civic club at the meeting Wednesday at 3 o'clock at the club on Gordon street, with Mrs. A. L. Smith, vice president, presiding. Mrs. Wing's talk will bring to a close the series of programs arranged by Mrs. J. H. Savage pertaining to "American Homes." A group of young musicians from the Atlanta Junior Music club will present a musical number.

Mrs. Jesse Manry, president, appointed Mrs. Andrew Stewart as chairman of the "Blue Birds" to succeed Mrs. J. B. Carter, who moved from the city. Mrs. W. C. Raper acts as cochairman. The officers for the year are: President, Isabel Herzberg; secretray, Perry Stewart; treasurer, Annie Margaret Presson. This group meets every first Friday in each month and the membership numbers about 25. They will entertain at a candy pulling the first Friday in March.

Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Mrs. Dupree Johnson and Mrs. Asa Dwight sponsor a benefit bridge-tea. Those desiring a table call Mrs. Johnson, West 1150, or Mrs. Dwight, West 2374-J.

Mrs. Dunn To Give Tea for Elks.

Mrs. Albert L. Dunn will be hostess at tea given by B. P. O. Elks No. 78 to members' families and their friends at the new club house, 736 Peachtree street at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, February 8. Mrs. Dunn will be assisted by Mrs. C. C. Nichols, Mrs. Ed Bond and Mrs. W. M. Fain. A musical program will be rendered.

Ladies' Altar Society To Give Supper.

Ladies Altar society of the Immaculate Conception church will give a parish supper Wednesday, February 8, from 5:30 to 8 o'clock, in the basement of the church, corner Central avenue and Hunter street. The price of the supper is 50 cents.

Kappa Sigma Fraternity To Give Dance February 10

The Alpha Tau chapter of Kappa Sigma fraternity, Georgia Tech, will entertain at a dinner-dance at East Lake Country club Friday evening, February 10.

The chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Skiles, Floyd Fields, W. L. Beyer, Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Merrett, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Howard, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Strickler, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Moore, Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. House, Mrs. Nora Northern, Mr. and Mrs. Claughton, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clarke, Capatin and Mrs. T. E. Guy, Mrs. Lane Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Beckneil, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Honour, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Watson.

Active members of the chapter are J. E. Baukright, Dan Guy, T. L. Becknell, G. C. Gassiert, W. R. Glenn, W. M. Honour, R. L. Horn, C. Y. House, H. M. Martin, J. C. McCall, T. E. McCutcheon, Lane Mitchell, W. R. Richardson, W. E. Rucolph, M. S. Savage, W. S. Terrell, C. T. Rankin, C. H. Sanders, R. F. Clarke, Joe Poole and J. P. Waldrop.

The pledges include A. L. Clifton, C. A. Emerson, J. R. Holt, H. F. Hopkins, J. E. Mistes, J. A. Murray, T. E. Salmon, R. E. Strickland, A. L. Taylor, H. F. Tharpe, H. S. Thomas, Fred Storey and Jack Watson.

The guests will include the following popular members of Atlanta's college and social set and several out-of-town guests: Misses Mary Moseley, Anna Pedcock, Mary Preacher, Hazel Stamps, Frances Croswell, Katherine Gillespie, of Charlotte, N. C.; Frances Wimberly, of Rocky Mount, N. C.; Verderr Rosenbusch, Louise Moore, Lucie Harding, of Milledgeville, Ga.; Mamie Raine, Virginia Myrick, Marguerite Anderson, Ruth Miller, Jacquilin Moore, Gladys McClellan, Billy Johnson, Virginia Hall, of Cedartown, Ga.; Vaughn Nixon, Florence Eckford, Louisa Candler, Julia Meador, Joe Crawford, Boots Walker, Margaret Arnold, Nona Barksdale, Helen Cody, Clara Cole, of Newnan, Ga.; Pat Rogers, Eleanor Johnson, Helena Callaway, Katherine Harris, Marion Hull Smith, Claire Hannah, Sarah Fisher, Helen Saunders, Helen Noble, Frances Clarke, Anna Keller Adams, of Charleston, S. C.; Jane Tway, Marian Newell, Kitty Park, Catherine Flagler, Joe Hollis, Elizabeth Spalding, Jo Beth Apperson, Pat Burt, of Memphis, Tenn.; Hannah Sterne, Cornelia Orme, Dorothy Raine; Edna Bell Raine, Esther Garrett, Gates Eckford, Dot Collier, Dot Murray, Ruth Madden, Sarah Sharpe, Dot Stiff, Marion Wolfe, Anne Bidley and Harriet Wynne.

'Valentine Revue' To Be Staged At Children's Matinee

Pupils of the La Fontaine School of Dancing will present a "Valentine Revue" at the children's matinee at the Howard theater Saturday morning, February 11, at 9:30 o'clock. From a huge candy box, furnished by the Norris Candy company, will step dainty lads and lassies, each representing a delectable piece of candy, at a wave of the fairy wand, chocolate drops, sticks of red and white peppermints, lemon drops, coconut balls and all the rest will dance and sing and talk.

Richard Barthelmess and Lois Moran will present "Just Suppose," the action of the story taking place in the mythical kingdom of Koronnia.

Cooperating with the "Georgia histories" program being featured in the public schools of the city, a phase of Georgia history will be presented. "Treasure Island," Robert Louis Stevenson story, will be shown Saturday, February 18, with an outstanding prologue of Georgia scenery and products, featuring pupils of Edgewood school.

Saturday, February 25, the splendid film, "America," will be the attraction. These matinees are sponsored by the Atlanta Better Films committee. Mrs. Newton C. Wing is president of the Atlanta better films committee.

Grove Park P.-T. A. Holds Meeting.

The Grove Park P.-T. A. met Wednesday afternoon in the assembly room of the school building on Elizabeth place, with the president, Mrs. I. C. Deariso, presiding. Several pupils of the third grade under the direction of Miss Anne Austin, and Miss Aura Baird, gave an operetta "A Trip to Healthland."

A helpful talk on the "Pre-School Child" was given by Miss Swann, of the state health department, state capitol. Instructive literature from the state board of health was distributed. Splendid reports were made from the chairmen of standing committees. Miss Edith Philip's room won the dollar and tickets to the Howard theater for having the highest percentage of mothers present.

Miss Hodgson Weds Mr. Ellis On March 28

Unusual social importance centers in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Martha Ellen Hodgson, eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Hodgson, and Rutherford Lipscomb Ellis, son of Mrs. William D. Ellis and the late William D. Ellis, Jr., the marriage to be brilliantly solemnized in March at Wildwood, the home of the bride-elect's parents on Clifton road in Druid Hills. Dr. Ashby Jones, of St. Louis, Mo., will perform the ceremony.

The lovely bride-elect is endowed with charming personality and graciousness of manner. She was educated at Baldwin school at Bryn Mawr and was a student at Mount Holyoke college, entering this institution of learning on a scholarship awarded the southern freshman having the highest average. Between vacations spent in Atlanta during her first year at college when she returned for the Christmas holidays Miss Hodgson made her debut with her sister, Miss Jennie Hodgson, and in 1924 traveled for several months in Europe. She is descended from aristocratic lineage on her maternal and paternal sides, as her mother was formerly Miss Margaret Fassett, daughter of Mrs. Sloat Fassett and the late Senator Fassett, of Elmira, N. Y., distinguished and prominent residents of that section of the country, while her parternal relatives have been leading citizens for generations in the highest social and civic circles of Athens.

Miss Hodgson is a provisional member of the Junior League and is exceedingly popular in society. An interesting feature of her marriage to Mr. Ellis is that for the third time the ceremony will unite members of the Hodgson-Ellis families, as Miss Lydia Hutchens is Mrs. Morton Hodgson and Miss May Hodgson married Frank Lipscomb, and both couples reside in Athens. Misses Jennie and Margaret Hodgson are sisters of the beautiful bride-elect and Fred, Jr., Sloat, Newton and Bryant Hodgson are brothers. Mrs. Slot Fassett, of Elmira, N. Y., maternal grandmother of Miss Hodgson, and her aunt, Mrs. Paul Nevin, of New York city, will come to Atlanta for the wedding.

She is a niece of Ned Hodgson, Morton Hodgson, Mrs. Hugh Gordon and Mrs. Frank Lipscomb, of Athens, and Mrs. Robert Woodruff and Mrs. Bolling Jones, Jr., of Atlanta.

Mr. Ellis is a son of Mrs. William D. Ellis and the late W. D. Ellis, Jr., and he is a grandson of the late Judge W. D. Ellis, whose recent death removed one of the most illustrious judiciaries from Georgia's legal firmament. He is a namesake of his maternal uncle, Rutherford Lipscomb, and a brother of Lamar Ellis, William D Ellis, III, and Mrs. Ewell Gay. Like his bride-elect Mr. Ellis comes of most distinguished ancestry on his maternal and paternal sides of the family, and he is a great-nephew of that well-known patriot, author and educator, Miss Millie Rutherford, of Athens, and his maternal grandmother was the late Mrs. Mary Ann Lipscomb, founder of Tallulah Falls Industrial school. He was graduated from Boys' High school, afterward graduating from the University of Georgia, where he was initiated into the Chi Phi fraternity, and is president of the Chi Phi Alumni association. He is associated in business with the Lipscomb-Pattillo Fire Insurance company.

West End Club News Is of Interest.

The bridge-luncheon at the West End Women's club Friday was the largest one held this year, Mrs. George Grant, the president, sponsoring the affair.

Miss Elizabeth Young, Georgia products chairman, asked all West End women, especially those of the West End Woman's club, to serve the second Georgia products dinner February 5.

Mrs. Julius Spier, hospital chairman, who has been sick since the holidays, has recovered and asks a full attendance of her committee at the Steiner clinic at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning when the work for the year will be announced.

Mrs. Spier is section president of the Needlework Guild with the following directors: Mesdames J. B. Wethers, S. L. Grant, Luther Still, Everett Hudson and Sam Cohen. An organization meeting will be held by Mrs. Spier and her directors at the club house soon.

Mrs. J. H. Phagan, chairman of the arts and crafts classes, has the third class meeting Wednesday morning. The classes this year have all been full and so many beautiful things have been made that the chairman is planning an Easter display which will be open to the public. The literature department is requested to meet with the chairman Wednesday afternoon in the lounge at 2:30 o'clock when plans will be made for a unique program for February 15. Mrs. Jeff Wright, second vice-president, will sponsor the usual old fashioned dance Thursday evening. A business meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

O'Keefe P.-T. A. To Hold Two Meetings.

Celebrating Founders' day, the O'Keefe P.-T. A. will hold two meetings Thursday, February 9. One at 3 o'clock and the other at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Willis A. Sutton will be afternoon speaker. Mrs. Willis A. Sutton will render a violin solo and Miss Tommy Callahan, an O'Keefe pupil, will recite the piece which won for her the ninth grade medal recently. Refreshments will be served with the cutting of the birthday cake. Thursday evening Rev. L. R. Christie speaks on "The Rules of the Game." The cake will be given the daddy holding the lucky number.

Mrs. Chadick Honored With Theater Party.

Mrs. W. J. Butler entertained Saturday afternoon at a theater party at the Georgia in honor of her sister, Mrs. Lew Chadick, formerly Miss Eula Barrett. The guests included Miss Freeda Gavron, Miss Olive Shepard, Miss Daisy Loveless, Miss Cobbie Randall, Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. S. C. Crandall, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Chadick.

Tea was served later at Davison Paxon tearoom.

Daughters of the American Revolution

STATE REGENT—Mrs. Herbert M. Franklin, Tennille, Ga.
FIRST VICE REGENT—Mrs. Wilbur F. Coney, Savannah, Ga.
SECOND VICE REGENT—Mrs. John D. Pope, Albany, Ga.
STATE RECORDING SECRETARY—Mrs. Bun Wylie, Atlanta, Ga.
STATE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY—Mrs. W. H. Colgate, Tennille, Ga.
STATE TREASURER—Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney, Columbus, Ga.
STATE AUDITOR—Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Ga.
STATE HISTORIAN—Mrs. John L. Davidson, Quitman, Ga.
STATE LIBRARIAN—Mrs. W. B. Daniel, Eastman, Ga.
STATE CONSULTING REGISTRAR—Mrs. Mell Knox, Social Circle, Ga.
STATE EDITOR—Mrs. C. H. Leavy, Brunswick, Ga.
ASSISTANT STATE EDITOR—Mrs. Howell Simmons, Americus, Ga.
STATE CHAPLAIN—Mrs. Walker Jordan, Hawkinsville, Ga.

Mrs. Dykes Makes Appeal For Lucy Cook Peel Fund

Mrs. W. F. Dykes, state chairman of the Lucy Cook Peel Memorial Fund, writes interestingly of the work of her committee today, calling attention to the importance of securing and compiling in book form the many valuable records to be found in courthouses, cemeteries, churches and old Bibles for safe keeping and for future reference. Mrs. Dykes states the first volume of "Historical Collections of Georgia D. A. R. Chapters" appeared in 1926, and that material for the second is in hand, though a sufficient number of the former will have to be sold in order to finance the second. As this is one of the requirements of the state D. A. R. honor roll, she urges that chapters patronize this work by purchasing copies of the book, which are $3.15 postpaid. The letter follows:

Dear Madam Regent: There is no more important duty before the Georgia D. A. R. today than the preservation and publication of county, cemetery, church and Bible records. For this purpose the Lucy Cook Peel Memorial Fund was established by the conference of 1923 to honor the memory of a pioneer in this work, Mrs. William Lawson Peel.

Our first volume, "Historical Collections of Georgia Chapters N. S. D. A. R.," dedicated to her, was issued in 1926. It contains lists of wills found in Baldwin, Bulloch, Clarke, Jackson, Jasper, Jefferson, Jones, Laurens, Lincoln, Madison, Morgan, Pulaski, Putnam and Tattnall counties and in many instances the early marriages. Practically all records found in ordinary's office of Franklin county, including pension claims of revolutionary soldiers, bounty grants, South Carolina militia, marriages, wills, administrations, etc., are in this book as well as many deeds. As Franklin was one of the counties set aside for bounty land to revolutionary soldiers the value of its records is apparent. There are also the inscriptions from the tombs of St. Paul's churchyard, Augusta, one of the oldest burial grounds in our state. A list of revolutionary soldiers buried in North Carolina containing hundreds of names are included in this book also. The cost of this volume is very moderate, only $3.15 postpaid.

One of the requirements of the honor roll is that chapters with membership over 50 buy two books; under 50, one. Whether you are trying for this or not the purchase of one or more volumes would give needed support and encouragement to this committee and further the glorious achievements of the D. A. R. as well as benefit the chapters that purchase. Now that more and better official proof of lineage and service is required by the registrar general, every book of this character is needed by chapter registrars. It is filling a long felt want of students of Georgia history and genealogy.

Please be prompt and liberal in your purchase of this, our first volume, thereby helping us to finance the publication of a second, material for which is already at hand. Whether our report at conference March 27-29 is creditable and encouraging depends upon the response of the chapters.

Faithfully yours,

(MRS. W. F.) KATE LATHAM DYKES,
State chairman Lucy Cook Memorial Fund,
570 Ridgecrest road, N. E., Atlanta.

D.A.R. Chapter Reports Are Of Wide Interest to Readers

The editor is in receipt of many interesting reports of state chapters, their work being an inspiration to others. It is desired that all chapters send in regularly reports of their meetings for publication on this page.

The John Benson chapter, D. A. R., of Hartwell, met with Mrs. J. L. Teasley. John Benson chapter has attained all requirements for the state honor roll. As a memorial to Mrs. McAlpin Thornton, a deceased member, five cubic feet of foundation stones in the new Constitution hall being erected in Washington, D. C., were purchased. Mrs. J. L. Massey, a member of John Benson chapter and state chairman of the Nancy Hart highway committee, gave a report of a recent meeting of her committee. Permission had been secured from the state highway authorities to name the road from Hartwell to Augusta the Nancy Hart highway, and plans are being perfected for placing granite markers at all towns which it traverses, and wooded markers at close intervals throughout. The committee has the indorsement of the local Kiwanis club and other organizations.

Tennille Chapter.

The Major General Samuel Elbert chapter, D. A. R., met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Colgate. Mrs. Will Brantley, regent, presided.

Miss Virginia Stephens was elected official delegate and Mrs. W. M. Shurling alternate to the national congress to be held in Washington, D. C., in April.

A very instructive program was given and the hostesses for this occasion were Mrs. H. C. Carroll, Mrs. W. H. Colgate and Mrs. George Franklin.

Pulaski Chapter.

Pulaski chapter, D. A. R., of Griffin, met at Memorial clubhouse, Mrs. J. C. Edwards, Mrs. Julia M. Drewry and Mrs. W. G. Cartledge being joint hostesses. The meeting was presided over by the regent, Mrs. W. H. Taylor.

The treasurer, Mrs. O. W. Sibley, made a report, stating that dues had been collected from 48 members. The paper of Mrs. George Barrow has been accepted for membership.

The chapter will pay the school tuition of a worthy boy. Plans for a silver tea were discussed, the tea to be held in February.

Representatives on the clubhouse corporation from Pulaski chapter were elected for the year, including Mrs. Taylor, regent, the other three being Mrs. W. T. Bennett, Mrs. W. W. Norman and Mrs. James J. Flynt.

Delegates to the state convention in Augusta and the national convention in Washington were elected. Mrs. Mabel Jenkins Cole was elected to the state convention, with Mrs. Collier Helms and Mrs. W. C. Schaeffer as alternates. Mrs. W. H. Taylor will attend in her official capacity. Mrs. R. R. Evans was elected as delegate to the national convention, alternates being Mrs. T. H. Wynne, Miss Elsie Manley, Mrs. Elmer Griffin, Mrs. J. A. Drewry, Mrs. W. G. Cartledge, Mrs. Roscoe Tyus and Mrs. Frier Thompson.

After the business session, Douglas Burnett gave an address on "The American Boy." Mrs. W. T. Bennett read an interesting article on "Credential Rulings."

Ochlochnee Chapter.

Mrs. John L. Davidson, D. A. R. state historian, of Quitman, was an honor guest at the January meeting of the Ochlochnee chapter, D. A. R., of Thomasville, when she gave a very interesting address. The regent, Mrs. C. S. Parker, introduced Mrs. Davidson, who told of the historical research work she had been doing during her term of office.

John Milledge Chapter.

Miss Kate Hamilton was hostess to the John Milledge chapter, D. A. R., for the January meeting. The regent, Mrs. Porter Walker, was in charge. Several ladies who have announced for state office, were indorsed by the chapter, including Mrs. H. Fay Gaffney, Mrs. John D. Pope, Mrs. Bun Wylie, Mrs. Mell Knox and Mrs. C. H. Leavy.

Delegates and alternates were chosen to represent John Milledge chapter at continental congress, who were Mrs. G. M. Cannon, Jr., delegate, and Mrs. W. C. Martin, Mrs. R. M. Herron and Mrs. B. A. Tyler, alternates. To the state conference Mrs. D. C. Bryant was named delegate, with four alternates.

The meeting marked the sixteenth anniversary of the chapter, and a birthday cake was the central decoration on the dining table. Mrs. R. M. Herron, who had charge of the program, displayed an interesting scrap book, containing valuable data on the work of the chapter during the past 16 years. A fitting tribute to Governor John Milledge was given by Mrs. Herron.

Mrs. Codington Makes Appeal for Georgia Bell at Valley Forge

Mrs. F. B. Codington, of Macon, state chairman of the committee on the Georgia Bell at Valley Forge, presents an interesting communication today, giving much information on the Carillon in America, and the National Carillon of 49 bells at Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge, in particular.

The part of this carillon, known as "The Star Spangled Banner National Peace Chime," consists of 14 bells, one bell to be the gift of each of the 13 original states, the large bell to be from all the states combined, called "The National Birthday Bell."

Georgia is one of the few states which has not yet paid for her bell, and the letter following is anent this question:

My dear Madam Regent: The Carillon has been in America only since 1923, when the first one, consisting of 31 bells, was installed at Gloucester, Mass. Others followed rapidly, and in so short a time there are about 10 in the United States, with others in the process of installation. Perhaps the two best known of these are at Princeton university and the Park Avenue Baptist church, New York city, the largest consisting of 53 bells.

While many of the Carillons in Europe are the property of the community, the trend in the United States is, for the most part, toward individual church ownership. This is perhaps only natural, for in all ages, everywhere, music has received its greatest impetus from religion.

Dr. Herbert Burk, of the Washington Memorial chapel, at Valley Forge, Pa., is planning a great national Carillon of 49 bells, a bell to be the gift of each state, and one from all the states combined, and will be the first Carillon made in America by American bell makers—the Meneely Bell Foundry, of Watervliet, N. Y. The part of this Carillon, known as "The Star Spangled Banner National Peace Chime," consists of 14 bells, one bell the gift of each of the 13 original states and the large bell from all the states combined, called "The National Birthday Bell."

These 14 bells have all been cast but only nine of them have been paid for. Of the nine given, five have been given by the Daughters of the American Revolution; two by the Daughters of the Revolution; one by the Colonial Dames, and one by an individual. Those which have been paid for were dedicated on July 4, 1926, the 150th anniversary of American independence. Georgia's bell, though there, is marked underneath in big letters "Georgia—not given."

Patriotic and religious airs are played every hour of the day, on the hour, beginning at 10 o'clock and continuing until sunset, when the National Anthem is played. At noon America is the message of the bells. Dr. Burk writes that he has never done anything yet for the nation which has aroused such universal approval, and that day after day crowds assemble to hear the music of the bells, and on Sunday evenings several thousand are thrilled with their message.

The cost of Georgia's bell is $2,000, which includes her share of the endowment. The resolution to give the Georgia bell to the Washington Memorial chapel by the Georgia state D. A. R. was passed on favorably by the state conference at Thomaston last April. Will you please present this subject to your chapter and get them to give as liberal a donation as possible and let us have a big report at our next state conference? This bell should be paid for speedily, not only on account of the reflection on Georgia in being marked "not given," but because Georgia should share equally with other original 13 states in the pride of her Revolutionaly service at Valley Forge.

Well may a sense of pride be felt in every loyal Georgian's breast, for Georgia has played no second part, and has ever stood for truth and right—great, courageous, Georgia!

Mrs. Dabney Indorsed For State Chaplain

Colonel John McIntosh chapter, D. A. R., of Convers, presents Mrs. Fannie Mae Dabney for the office of chaplain of Georgia Daughters of the American Revolution to be elected at the state conference held in Augusta in March. Mrs. Dabney is well known in patriotic and civic work having been organizer and served two years as regent of this chapter; two years as first vice regent, and two years as second vice regent of the Colonel John McIntosh chapter. She was vice president of the Convers chapter, U. D. C.; serving for two years on the state democratic committee; and is a past grand matron of Georgia, O. E. S. Her most conspicuous work has been achieved as state chairman of memorials for the past four years. The following committee asks indorsement and support of Georgia, D. A. R., for Mrs. Dabney for the office of chaplain including Mesdames Henry McCallie, regent; Chester Cannon, registrar; C. K. Gaily, secretary, and Harry McElway, treasurer.

Movie Guide For D. A. R.

D. A. R. is looking forward to the great film, "George Washington," which is soon to be produced. Members of the society will be interested to know that motion pictures are shown gratis at Ellis Island once or twice each week to immigrants detained by the government. A screen is hung in the main auditorium, with men seated on one side of the room, women and children on the other. Comedies are the favorite pictures, many of those who see pictures there viewing them for the first time. This form of service to immigrants was recently extended to steamers bringing them to this country.

Celebration of the birthday of George Washington brings to mind many patriotic motion pictures. For instance, "America," "The Birth of a Nation," "The Covered Wagon," "The Flaming Frontier," "Janice Meredith," "Barbara Freitchie," "As No Man Has Loved," "Old Ironsides," "Hats Off," "The Iron Horse," "Abraham Lincoln," "Cradle of Washington," "The Big Parade," "Tin Hats," "Wings," "Beau Geste," "Patent Leather Kid," and "The Better 'Ole."

D. A. R. Papers Lost In Fire at Dublin.

Many friends in D. A. R. circles of the state of Mrs. J. S. Adams, of Dublin, are sympathizing with her in the loss by fire recently of her beautiful home, the home and contents being practically destroyed.

Mrs. Adams is regent of the John Laurens chapter, D. A. R., of Dublin, and had in her charge valuable D. A. R. papers, many of which were burned, though a few were saved from the flames.

Memorials Chairman Makes Request.

Mrs. Fannie Mae Dabney, state chairman of the memorial committee, requests that secretaries of chapters throughout the state forward to her at once names of all deceased members who have passed away during the past year. This is important, as it is desired that these names be included in the annual memorial service conducted at state conference. Mrs. Dabney's address is 1223 West Peachtree street, Atlanta.

Chapters Urged To Order Medals.

Mrs. B. A. Tyler, of Dalton, state chairman of the committee on S. A. R.-D. A. R., inter-relations, asks that all chapters planning to give the S. A. R. citizenship medals this year order them as soon as possible so that a report may be prepared for the conference. Even though the medals are not to be awarded till the close of school, it is much better to order them now, to be sure they arrive in time. The price is still one dollar, postpaid, and if ordered within the next three weeks they can be reported as part of this year's work.

Camilla Chapter Gives Reception.

The Camilla chapter, D. A. R., entertained with a beautiful reception and "open house" February 3 at 11:30 o'clock at the home of Judge and Mrs. E. E. Cox, in Camilla. D. A. R. state officers and others have been invited and a splendid program has been prepared by the chapter.

State Chairman Urges Observance Of Georgia Day

An appeal is made for a fitting observance of Georgia day by Mrs. Lucius McConnell, of Atlanta, state chairman of the Georgia day committee, who urges that daily papers be requested to use Georgia day editorials Sunday, February 12, calling attention to that important date, and that the day be celebrated either Friday, February 10, or Monday, February 13, with a D. A. R. special committee to ask the cooperation of public school authorities and others. The message follows:

My dear Madam Regent: History records that on February 12, 1733, General James Oglethorpe and his solony landed on Georgia soil and knelt to offer thanksgiving and prayer to God before bringing their goods ashore and preparing to spend their first night. With this event as an inspiration for the dedication of February 12 as Georgia day, it is the sincere desire of your Georgia day committee that every D. A. R. chapter in our state use its influence, to give all prominence possible to the celebration of Georgia day at your February chapter meeting through your local press and in your schools.

As Georgia day falls this year on Sunday, it would be most fitting if every newspaper in our state would publish a Georgia day editorial. Please urge your schools to have Georgia day celebration on Friday, February 10, or Monday, February 13, and appoint a committee of your chapter members to attend these exercises. If possible, present to each school child a small Georgia flag. Let it always be the privilege of the Georgia Daughters of the American Revolution to stimulate the interest and patriotic appreciation of February 12 as Georgia day. Madam regent, will you kindly mail me your Georgia day report on the inclosed postal card not later than February 15.

Cascade Home Club Meets.

The Cascade Home Demonstration club met Tuesday with nine members present, and one new member, Mrs. Robert L. Hicks.

Miss Lucy Wood, home demonstration agent, made a talk about the convention in Athens, and gave some very good suggestions for the Valentine party.

A called meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. L. Dunton Thursday afternoon, completing the plans for the Valentine party, which will be given at the club room February 14, beginning at 5 o'clock.

NEW!
MATCHLESS 3-PIECE BEDROOM SUITE
$69.50

EXACTLY AS PICTURED

Tomorrow we offer you an exceptional value in this NEW STYLE three-piece Bedroom Suite, consisting of New Style Bed, four-drawer, single Mirror, French Vanity, and four Drawer Chest of Drawers. This suite is substantially constructed and beautifully finished in Walnut decorated, Green and Tan decorated. The value in this suite is surpassed by none, and we advise you to get yours TOMORROW. See them in our Window.

Your Choice of Finish

Walnut Decorated, Green and Tan Decorated

This Suite is attractively finished in choice of Walnut Decorated and Green and Tan Decorated. All three pieces are entirely made of thoroughly seasoned Kiln-dried wood. Just what you have wanted for the odd bedroom.

It is decorated with an attractive design in the center of the Bed, Chest and Vanity, as illustrated, which adds to its beauty. Special terms have been arranged, and we advise you to anticipate your needs and get this New Style Suite.

EASY TERMS
$1.50 Cash
Weekly

HAVERTY FURNITURE CO.

Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St.

SPORTS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION SPORTS

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

Athletic Club Downs Bulldogs in Fast Game, 35 to 29

Mary Browne At Deadlock WithU.S.G.A.

Tennis Pro., Barred From Amateur Golf Ranks, Watching and Waiting.

BY ALAN J. GOULD,
Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—If Mary K. Browne has, as she says, adopted a watchful waiting policy so far as her reinstatement as a golf amateur is concerned, she will be obliged to maintain it for the full length of the usual three-year good conduct period prescribed by the United States Golf association.

Miss Browne has been quoted as saying she won't ask for reinstatement but the U. S. G. A. has made it clear that no action is possible on her status without a formal application to lift the ban imposed last April after the former tennis champion toured the country with Suzanne Lenglen and the rest of the C. C. Pyle professional troupe.

This is how Miss Browne set forth her case recently in the Cleveland News:

Declared Ineligible.

"They said I was ineligible and it's up to them to make me eligible. I have never been a professional in golf, no matter what they said. I have never considered myself as a golf professional. Of course, I'm anxious to be allowed to play in all these tournaments, but it's up to them. Under the circumstances I do not care to go begging before the U. S. G. A. I have seen reports that I have asked or would ask for reinstatement, but I do not intend to take such action.

The association's point of view, as expressed by H. H. Ramsay, new vice president and chairman last year of the committee that ruled Miss Browne out of the amateur competition, is this:

"We cannot consider the status of Miss Browne or of any other ineligible player without actual application for reinstatement. Obviously the U. S. G. A. cannot go about the country calling the roll of ineligible players, asking whether they wish to be considered for reinstatement, especially if the usual three-year good conduct period has not yet elapsed. If an exception to this rule were to be made in Miss Browne's case, and I do not know that it would, it could not be considered without an application from her. We have no controversy with Miss Browne. We have had no word from her since our action last spring. I went over the case thoroughly with her then and I think she understands our position."

Stalemate Reached.

So it would seem that unless Mary changes her expressed position there is no prospect of her returning to the amateur golf fold this year, or, possibly until 1930.

Joie Ray, contemplating a comeback this year, apparently hopes to shake off the Olympic jinx that has beset the little Chicago veteran. Joie was a member of the 1920 and 1924 Olympic teams but injuries or illness kept him each time from showing anything like his form at home. The last Olympic trip was sandwiched between two of Ray's greatest seasons, 1923, when he swept everything before him at home, and 1925, when he was spurred on by Nurmi's invasion to run a mile in 4:12, the fastest any American has ever turned in.

GRID RULES COMMITTEE HOLDS MEET

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY.

New York, February 4.—Hid away from a curious public, the national football rules committee held its annual meeting at the Seaview Golf club, Absecon, N. J., today and drew up the rules for the 1928 football season.

Just what changes were made will not be made public until Monday afternoon, but it was learned on good authority that there were no such drastic alterations as a year ago when the lateral pass rule was amended, the shift regulated, the muffed punt introduced and the goal posts moved back 10 yards.

In many quarters it was expected that the principal business of the rules committee would be to undo some errors of a year ago by restoring the lateral pass to its 1926 status, so that an incomplete backward pass might be recovered by the defensive team instead of becoming dead.

If the rules committee follows the recommendations of the Coaches' association, the 1827 ruling on the lateral pass will be stricken out. The coaches, at their annual meeting here in December, voted almost unanimously to petition the rules committee to change the lateral pass rule.

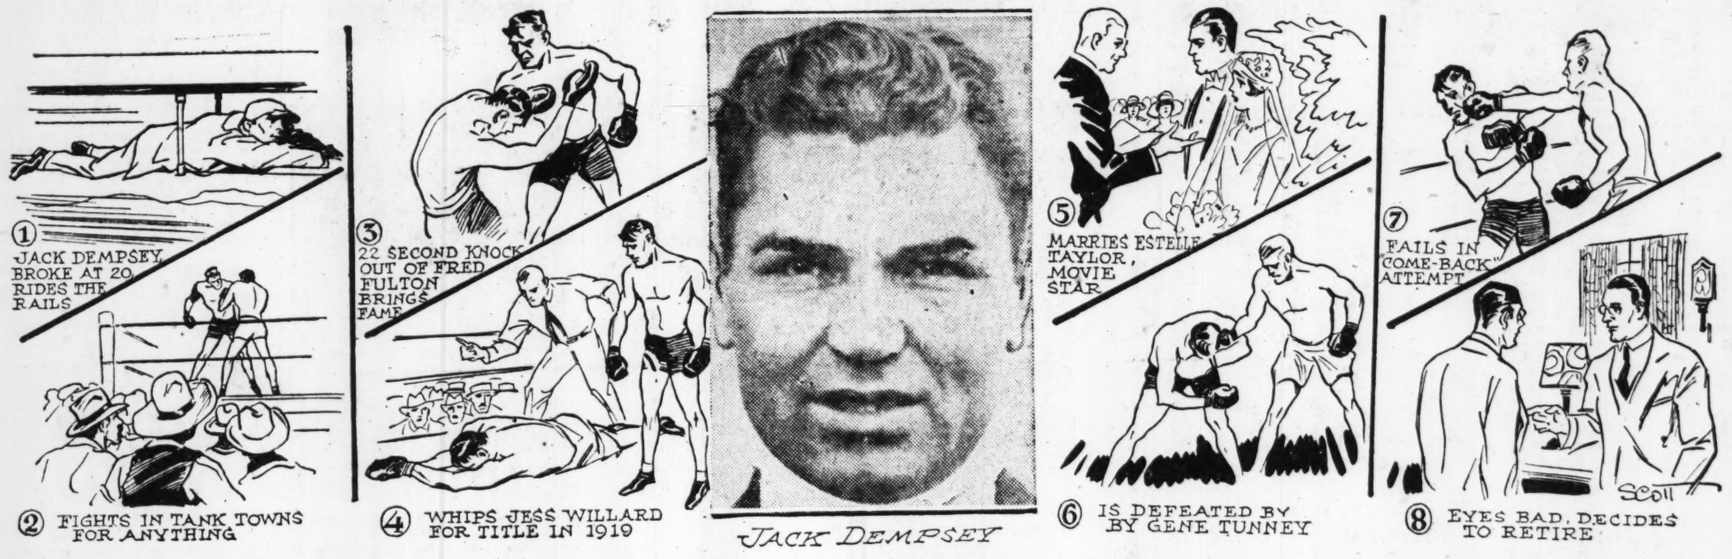

LANIER POETS TRIM B. H. S. FIVE, 49 TO 23

Macon, Ga., February 4.—Lanier ran roughshod over G. M. A. here tonight, 49-23. And, in beating G. M. A., the Lanier quintet realized another step towards the G. I. A. A. crown to be awarded when 16 teams meet here the last of February in an effort to wrest the coveted honor from Lanier, who won the championship last year.

Two games were won this week-end by Lanier, and Monday the poets settle down to four days of practice before leaving Thursday for Savannah and other points south.

The game tonight was not, until the last half, what one might call a run-away. G. M. A. worked along on almost equal terms with Lanier during the early stages of the game and when the half ended was trailing only nine points, the count reading: Lanier, 23; G. M. A., 14.

JACK DEMPSEY'S CAREER REMARKABLE ONE

Waiting for Contracts That Never Come In

"Maybe They're Striking on Me, I Don't Know," Says Mr. Spiller of His Ball Players.

BY BEN COTHRAN.

"I don't know. Maybe I haven't got any ball players. Maybe they're all striking on me. Maybe they're all going to retire."

Colonel R. J. Spiller, the man behind the check-book out at the ball park, had just been queried as to "what do you suppose is holding up the contracts?"

The postman hasn't stopped at Mr. Spiller's in so long that the colonel probably will need an introduction when an event of such moment does occur.

But R. J. isn't worrying very much.

"They haven't much to do right now, so while away the evenings by sitting down and writing me just why it is that they need more money to play ball this summer. We had plenty of letters like that. But Red Bates is the only one to send a contract back unsigned. The boys will be sending their documents in right soon now."

Not the President.

Thus was the matter of contracts done away with.

Mr. Spiller seemed slightly disturbed Saturday afternoon over the announcement in an overly anxious afternoon newspaper of Saturday that Uncle Wilbur Good had been made president of the Macon club, owned and operated by Mr. Spiller and the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Uncle Wilbur, said Mr. Spiller, would be manager of the club and act as his personal representative, bur was far from being president.

A rumor has been floating around to the effect that Fred Brainerd, second baseman purchased last winter by the Crackers, was threatening to retire. This gave Mr. Spiller cause for a chuckle or so.

"Why, anybody knows that a man's going to play baseball just as long as he can hobble around on two good legs, and there's no need to worry about Brainerd quitting. There was something said last winter about his quitting, but we've bought him and he'll be here by training time."

Brainerd is counted upon to greatly bolster the Cracker infield this year. He is rather adept at starting double plays that always get the second man. That was something which the Crackers needed last year. Painfully so.

Had a Good Record.

Brainerd last year had a good record, and if form counts for anything Bert will probably be able to stay on the bench the entire summer, instead of having to take the field as he did last year.

But the postman still forsakes Mr. Spiller. Mr. Spiller, however, sits back and waits. He will probably wait a week or more before his contracts start coming back—signed. But he feels sure that they are coming back. All of them.

Baltimore Boy Meets O'DowdHere Tuesday

Mayson Gathers Up Good Bunch of Battlers for Next Show at Ringside—Four Fights on Card.

COMPLETE PROGRAM.

Tim O'Dowd, Atlanta, vs. Benny Mack, Baltimore, featherweights, 10 rounds.

Joy Boyette, Tampa, vs. Wingo Robinson, Cleveland, light-heavyweights, 8 rounds.

Joe Knight, Cairo, Ga., vs. Jack Crowley, Atlanta, middleweights, 6 rounds.

Sammy Moore, Atlanta, vs. Mack Douglass, Atlanta, welterweights, 4 rounds.

The above represents the attraction at the ringside arena, Broad and Mitchell streets, which Matchmaker Mayson believes will stand the crowd on its collective ear Tuesday night when the popular little club offers for the public's approval its tenth show since it first started into the promoting business.

In signing Benny Mack for O'Dowd Mayson rather outdid himself, he believes, for the Baltimore lad cost him a neat sum in guarantee.

"I couldn't think of a boy any nearer wo could give Tim as good a fight as Mack," Mayson said Saturday, "so I signed him."

About Evenly Matched.

A perusal of the records of the two main bout rivals reveals that they appear to be about on a par. O'Dowd, for instance, has fought Cowboy Eddie Anderson, Frankie Garcia, Johnny McCoy, Joe Paglina, Lew Silver, Chick Kansas, Hollis Sullivan, Tom Jones, Pal Moore, Sammy Sandow, Babe Asher, Claudie Wilson and boys of that ilk, and Mack claims to have opposed Chick Kansas, Artie McCann, Johnny Carr, Allentown Joe Leonard, Johnny McCoy, Jimmy Dale, Pete Sarmiento and Eddie Brady among others.

Reports, at least, are very good on Mr. Mack and it looks like a big night for the ringside fans.

O'Dowd is an old favorite here and his home town is likely to turn out in large numbers to see him in action again after a long lapse.

But the principal event is not the only one that carries a "kick" for frequenters of the ringside who have been watching Joe Knight, Cairo, Ga., middleweight, hard at it every day for the last ten or more. Knight is making his professional debut Tuesday night, opposing an Atlanta product, Jack Crowley, for six rounds. It seems that all of Cairo and vicinity is worked up considerably over Knight's pugilistic future and it is their sublime faith in his ability to some day climb to the crest of the fistic pole that brings him here to launch his career before Atlanta fans. Knight is only a green youngster but Mayson is authority for the statement that he strips like a fighter, seems to know how to handle himself, and that his gymnasium stunts at least merited him a chance.

OLD LINERS SCHEDULE 25 BALL GAMES

College Park, Md., February 4.—(AP)—University of Maryland will play 25 baseball games next spring, according to the schedule just announced by P. C. Byrd, athletic director.

A feature of the list will be a jaunt into the south at the beginning of the campaign to play seven games in eight days.

Games with Yale and Penn at College Park and a home-and-home arrangement with Princeton offer high spots on the schedule.

Despite the trip to Dixie, 12 of the 25 games will be decided at College Park.

Sixteen of the contests are with Southern Conference nines, a league having been formed in the South Atlantic section of the organization, composed of Virginia, Washington & Lee, V. M. I., North Carolina, North Carolina State, Virginia Poly and Maryland.

The schedule:

April 2, Virginia at Charlottesville; 3, North Carolina at Chapel Hill; 4, North Carolina State at Raleigh; 5 and 6, Georgia at Athens; 7, Georgia Tech at Atlanta; 9, South Carolina at Columbia, 10, Yale; 12, Princeton; 13, North Carolina; 18, University of Richmond; 21, Virginia Poly; 23, St. John's of Annapolis; 27, Washington and Lee; 30, North Carolina State.

May 3, Duke University; 4, University of Virginia; 10, University of Pennsylvania; 11, Western Maryland; 15, Virginia Military institute; 16, Navy at Annapolis; 17, Virginia Poly at Blacksburg; 18, Washington and Lee at Lexington; 19, Virginia Military institute at Lexington; 30, Princeton at Princeton.

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The Constitution.

Los Angeles, Calif., February 4.—Once more old Jim Jeffries has been proven right—almost.

After Jeff in his come-back attempt had been given a sound whipping by Jack Johnson, Jim turned sage and oracle and uttered the immortal words regarding heavyweight champs:

"They never come back. It just can't be done."

Jack Dempsey, young and husky, doubted the wisdom of the big boilermaker. But now it seems Jack knows better, for Dempsey, balked in his attempt to once more mount the heavyweight throne and suffering with a weakening left eye, has hung up his gloves, apparently forever.

Dempsey's retirement, if permanent, brings to a close a fighting career of 13 years, which was one of the most astonishing on record. Dempsey's rise was cyclonic. He popped from obscurity to great fame with one punch—the blow that spilled Fred Fulton and gave Dempsey his chance at Jess Willard and the big money crown.

Hectic Career.

From the almost forgotten day, early in 1915, when Dempsey, raw and awkward, hammered Kit Hancock to the canvas in Jack's first professional fight to the night in Chicago last year, when Gene Tunney successfully balked a come-back attempt, the Manassa Mauler conducted a terrific campaign.

Dempsey fought 68 fights in all. Fifty-eight of these he won, 47 of them by knockout. He lost five and five were draws.

There is little known of Dempsey's

Continued on Page 2, Column 4.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS

Should Be a Law Against It.

There seems to be much enthusiasm at large over the work of the New York Celtics and their professional comrades at the auditorium Friday night. We're "agin" the whole caboodle. If professional basketball up east is like the type exhibited by the Celtics Friday night it is no wonder a lot of folks up that way are dizzy.

If you should happen to meet one of your friends today who attended the game of the gold-diggers Friday night you will find he has a stiff neck and probably will be headed for the nearest optometrist to have his perfectly good eyes tested.

It should be against the law for a lot of half-naked he-men to come into Atlanta and give the whole town stiff necks just because they like to try and watch a basketball do a lot of whirling dervish tricks before it jumps in a hoop by magic.

There is no absolute proof of the assertion, but our honest belief is that all the Celtics were armed with slingshots and that the ball was magnetized. In that case their passing would be easily explained. Before the game they washed their hands in beef, iron and wine and the iron attracted the ball. No man could pass a ball as hard as the Celtics did without a slingshot. That's very evident.

There might have been a few people present Friday night who could explain just how that ball came to be in the hands of some Celtic under the basket just when it did, but our part in the show was just a gasping realization that "there it was—and how."

There are several things of interest in connection with that game Friday night besides the uncanny ability of these pros to conceal a basketball like Blackstone would conceal an egg.

One remarkable thing was the way in which they employed the blocking plays which are banned under amateur rules, but legal in their own circuit. If you happened to notice, you were aware of the fact that these players all received a pass whirling and you never saw a man with his hands on the ball in another man's possession, for the simple reason that all of them have hips like a lot of trained seals.

When the audience was severely twisting a neck to watch the ball in its mad gyrations about midcourt there was little realization that all this passing and fooling would soon end in a crip shot by some member of the Green team. But if one happened to be watching Captain Holman during one of these wild moments he would see a signal made by the captain and there would be an almost imperceptible change in the mad passing. The whirling and scrambling would continue, but all out of a clear sky one pass would seem to go wildly toward the basket and some green-clad figure would be there to drop it in, almost without opposition.

The whole performance of these old-timers is the finest proof in the world that practice indeed makes perfect. These lads play something more than 125 games each year and most of them have been playing at least 15 years. If you are a mathematician interested in statistics, just figure out how many times Nat Holman, for instance, has passed a basketball to another member of the Celtics team. We tried to figure it and after we reached the first million we decided that the first million were the hardest and let it go at that.

But just the same, we believe the chiropractors brought this professional outfit to Atlanta to stimulate the number of neck "adjustments."

Burbage Is Named Haygood's Successor

Lakeland, Fla., February 4.—(AP)—Jesse Burbage, formerly coach at Marion Alabama institute, was appointed to succeed Jimmy Haygood as head coach of Southern college, according to an announcement given by President Ludd M. Spivey.

Burbage came to Southern as freshman coach this year and brought his freshmen through without losing a game. He has charge of the basketball varsity and frosh squads and has turned out two good teams. No announcement was made as who would succeed Burbage as freshman coach.

Rich Second Fullback To Captain Yost Eleven

Ann Arbor, Mich, February 4.—(AP) George Rich, captain of the Michigan football team for next season, will share with the famous "Bottles" Thompson, 1912 captain, the distinction of being the only fullback to lead the Maize and Blue on the field of battle since Fielding H. Yost came to Michigan as coach in 1901.

Two other fullbacks, "Pat" Smith in 1917 and "Tad" Weiman in 1918, also were elected captains, but neither saw active service, having enlisted for war duty.

JacketsBeginDiamond Practice February 14

25 Men Will Report to Kid Clay in Uniform Ready for Work; Good Team is Looked For.

BY ROGER PAGE.

Tech baseball candidates are to report to Coach R. A. Clay in uniform on February 14, from which time on the Jacket mentor will have his men out every afternoon, getting them in shape for the first game of the season.

Instead of opening the season with Oglethorpe on March 16, Clemon will come to Atlanta for a two-game series to usher in the year for the Jackets. It was originally planned to play the Oglethorpe nine on March 16 and 17 on the Tech diamond, but the season has been pushed back a little later. Clemson will play the Clay boys on March 23 and 24 with Oglethorpe following the next week-end, March 30 and 31. The rest of the schedule remains unchanged as announced last week.

There will be 11 letter men reporting to Coach Clay on February 14 with he opens diamond work. Seven of last season's freshmen are also to be in uniform, plus a half dozen of those who failed to play in the number of games last year required to make a letter.

Arthur McCash, one of the heaviest hitters of last year, is captain of the team this season. He not only is a good man while at the bat, but was one of the fastest and best outfielders in the conference last year. Much is depending on him in the way of clearing the bases during the coming encounters, for the absence of such sluggers as Tom Angley, Bob Reeves and Doug Wycoff and such has been felt to a great extent.

Kid Gets Diamond Ready.

Coach Clay, who takes a great deal of pride in his diamond, has been personally supervising the work in getting it ready for the coming season. He has had the field re-sodded in the places which were somewhat bare, and the pitcher's box has had a better foundation given to it. By the time the first game will be played on the field it will be one of the prettiest baseball diamonds in the south.

In the outfield this year there will be Parham, Waddy, McCash, all letter men of last year, and Spear and Campbell from the freshman squad. Parham has been playing in both the outfield and on first base, but the first sack will probably be held down by Mizell, another of the freshman stars of last year.

"Doc" Smith, Ed Crowley, the only men making their letters in the infield who are back, and Mizell, Fleming, Terrell, Hobbs, Hutchinson, Hill and Frink will make up the infield this season. It is going to be a fight for positions from the very start, as all of the men are expecting to hold down the places they are working for.

Flinging Staff.

The pitching staff will consist of three letter men and two scrubs. Dick Florrid, Bill Edwards, "Bluff" Gaston and Carney will carry the burden of the pitching for the Jackets, with Hill, a left-hander, and Jordan assisting.

Stevens and McNeely, both having caught for Kid Clay in the past years, will do the receiving behind the plate. Both are good ball players, and handle themselves in noble fashion when behind the mask. Hank Heeke will also be in line as a catcher when the basketball season is over.

Two Majors Become Cycle Hitters in '28

Williams and Bottomley Only Big-Timers To Hit Homer, Triple, Double and Single.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Sixteen minor league ball players qualified for membership in that exclusive circle known as "cycle hitters" last year, while the majors were represented only by "Sunny Jim" Bottomley, of the St. Louis Cardinals, and Fred ("Cy") Williams, of the Phillies. The American league was not represented despite the number of heavy hitters in the junior organization.

A cycle hitter, be it known, is something of a freak. The name is applied to the player who, through exactly the right combination of good hitting and luck, gets a homer, three-bagger, two-bagger and single. Hard as it seems, and is, quite a few have accomplished it.

In the minors the honors go to the Western and South Atlantic leagues which place four men each on the list. The Virginia and Southern leagues are second with two apiece while the hard-hitting International, Pacific Coast, Texas and Middle Atlantic leagues finish up in the rear of the procession with single representatives.

Among the players who will receive major league trials this spring who qualified for the list are Morgan, of New Orleans, who goes to the Cleveland Indians; Bissonnette, of Buffalo, who belongs to the Brooklyn Robins; Byrd, of Knoxville, who is the property of the New York Yankees, and Clark, of Richmond, who later joined the Boston Braves, was shunted to the minors for a little experience and brought back for next year.

Bottomley accomplished this rarest of rare feats against the Phillies on July 15. He went to the plate five times, getting a hit each time. He scored three runs and made two singles, a double, a triple and a home run for a total of 11 bases. Williams turned in his record against the Pirates on August 5. Fred made four hits, scored three runs and made a single, double, triple and home run for a total of ten bases.

The minor leaguers who turned the trick: Virginia league—Clark, Richmond; McCune, Norfolk; Texas league—Orsatti, Houston; South Atlantic league—Barrett, Knoxville; Byrd, of Knoxville; Shirley, Greenville; Williams, Asheville; Southern league—Rhiel, Atlanta; Morgan, New Orleans; Western league—Gonzales, Amarillo; Allington, Wichita; Donohue, Omaha; Davis, Amarillo; Middle Atlantic league—Lucas, Charleroi; International league—Bissonnette, Buffalo; Pacific Coast league—Bool, of Oakland.

PELTZER TOLD TO FILL DATES BY OFFICIALS

New York, February 4.—(AP)—German athletic authorities definitely determined today that Dr. Otto Peltzer would run three races in this country and no more, but they did nothing to aid in solving the problem of where the world's half-mile record holder's competitive appearances would be made.

With a victory tucked under his belt in his first race—the 1,000 yards at the Millrose games—and slated for another appearance in the Illinois A. C. track and field carnival at Chicago February 10, Dr. Peltzer must sort over the many invitations he has received in an effort to pick the spot for his third and last joust against America's middle distance stars. He was in Boston tonight as a spectator at the B. A. A. meet.

Although he had come to no definite decision, Peltzer indicated today that the choice lay between the New York Knights of Columbus meet at Madison Square Garden, February 29, and a meet at Los Angeles, February 22.

The cable from German officials advised Peltzer at the same time to "fulfill the wishes of the American Amateur Athletic Union as much as possible."

"Cy" Young Coach.

Helena, Ark., February 4.—(AP)—H. K. "Cy" Young, of this city, has signed a contract as varsity baseball coach and coach of freshman football and basketball at the William and Mary college, of Williamsburg, Va., he announced here today.

Young, former Washington and Lee athlete, was selected for all-southern football honors two years.

Club Fights Hard To Win Over Georgia

Red and Black Leads at Half, 17 to 11; First Time Club Has Ever Trailed.

BY WHITNER CARY.

Another glorious chapter in the basketball history of the Atlanta Athletic club was written on the local floor Saturday night when the pupils of Coach Bean, after trailing 17 to 11 at the half, came back with relentless fury in the closing period to score a well-earned 35 to 29 victory over the University of Georgia five.

While victory failed to perch on the Red and Black banner of the Athenians, the Bulldogs have the satisfaction of knowing that when the rest period arrived they had done that which no other team has done this year—led the club at the half.

The sight of that 17 to 11 score must have been a tonic to tired nerves for when the closing period began it was a reborn Athletic club team that went on the floor. Gone was the rather indifferent handling of the ball and that seeming feeling of overconfidence. Instead, it was a team that had met a worthy foe, had tested his steel and realized that nothing but inspired play would bring about victory.

Different Story.

Once the club swung into action it was a different story. Although guarding like demons, the Georgians could not prevent those white-clad knights from finding the openings and as a general rule once an opening was found a basket resulted. Led by Pat Stevens, who had been held to 4 points in the first half, the club began to cut down Georgia's lead. As the score stood Georgia 24, A. A. C., 22, with nine and a half minutes gone. Stevens found the hoop from near the foul line and for the first time since the opening minutes of play the club was on even terms with the Bulldogs.

About this time a white clad giant shot out from the club bench to take his place in the line-up. Shades of several years ago flickered before the eyes of the cheering throng as the stalwart form of Joe Bennett, former great Georgia athlete, was recognized under that white uniform. Not many seasons ago it was Joe Bennett, clothed in the Red and Black of Georgia, who brought terror to the opposition.

Bennett Shines.

Saturday night it was Joe Bennett, playing in the silver vestments of the Athletic club, who did a man's-sized part in bringing about a Georgia defeat. Joe has seen great days on the court but it is doubtful if this brilliant star ever shone with greater lustre than he did in the concluding 10 minutes of that hectic struggle. He was all over the court, his guarding was good, his passing splendid and he contributed no less than seven points during his brief stay. Well will the Bulldogs remember his brilliant work.

From the middle of the last half the game was never in doubt. Once on even terms, the club never slackened the terrific pace that had enabled it to tie the count. In fact, it was during the next few minutes that the Bean boys showed their most brilliant offense. Holding the Georgians scoreless, they ran up 10 points in only a few minutes.

Georgia put on a burst of speed in the closing minutes and succeeded in making five points while holding the club to one foul goal.

Georgia Plays Well.

As mentioned before, the work of the Georgians was of a very high order. Especially was this true in the first half. Their guarding was of the airtight variety, and at times their shooting was of the brilliant variety. They were greatly aided in their half by getting the tip-off practically every time.

Stars for the evening were plentiful. In fact, one could use the lineup in this respect. But especial mention must be made of the floor work and passing of Lautzenhiser and the splendid all-round play of Drew. Pat Stevens, after being closely guarded in the first half, got loose in the second to top the scorers for the evening. As mentioned before, Bennett contributed some spectacular work.

LINEUP AND SUMMARY.

GEORGIA (29)	Pos.	A. A. C. (35)
Kean (6)	f	Brewer (4)
Florence (7)	f	Stevens (14)
Drew (5)	c	Bell (3)
Lautzenhiser (3)	g	McCrory (4)
Martin (2)	g	Ridgeway (3)

Substitutions—Georgia: Palmer (6); A. A. C.: Johnson, Bennett (7). Referee, Sullivan; umpire, Slate.

JOE STECHER IS ON HAND FOR TITLE GO

St. Louis, February 4.—(AP)—Visions of the winner's share of a $125,000 gate brought Joe Stecher, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, to St. Louis today. The scissors-hold expert immediately set about to finish off training for the match here February 20, with Ed "Strangler" Lewis, also a claimant, which is expected at last to settle the question of championship rights.

Lewis, cherishing a similar desire for the major portion of the golden harvest, is expected to breeze in Monday.

In the meantime Promoter Packs is going ahead with plans for staging what he terms the biggest grappling exhibition in the history of the sport. The coliseum with a normal seating capacity of 12,000 will be fixed up to seat approximately 14,000. The promoter stated that he has $35,000 worth of reservations now recorded, with sales in the surrounding cities of Chicago, Memphis, Tulsa and Omaha rapidly swelling the total.

Packs is confident the bout will eclipse the $78,000 affair staged back in 1912 when Frank Gotch met Hackenschmidt in Chicago.

Stecher arrived from his farm training camp at Dodge, Neb., apparently in excellent condition, but weighing 220 pounds, which is slightly above his normal ring weight. Lewis has been working on his famous headlock hold in Kansas City and is expected to arrive here in the pink of condition.

Southeastern P. G. A. Holds Tourney at LaGrange in May

More Long, Hard Courses Is Golf Need

Experts Say Short Courses Make It Easy for Good Players.

BY BASIL G. WYRICK.
(Associated Press Golf Writer.)

Chicago, February 4.—(AP)—Lack of foresight in building golf links in recent years now forces considerable revamping of every course on which major championships are played in order to reverse the easy victory golfers now hold over par.

While it once was an exalted ambition to seek a score below par, it now is a constant struggle to make par worthy of an attack by a stalwart wielder of the brassie and the iron.

This resuscitation of Old Man Par again is under way at the Olympia Fields Country club, where the national open championship will be decided in June on the No. 4 course.

Considerable money now is being spent to lengthen the holes and to dig deeper and steeper bunkers. The No. 4 Olympia course will be stretched nearly 200 yards to 6,645 and two strokes will be added to par.

Too Short.

Golf architects either will not realize that courses must be much longer, or they cannot convince club members of that fact, according to Bob McDonald and other long drivers. Possibly, aside from the links at Pine Valley, Philadelphia, the Lido course, New York, and the Chicago Country club course at Valparaiso, Fla., and one or two others, there is no course on which a star player cannot better par and usually crack 70.

"And perhaps," added MacDonald, "championship golfers like to beat par for they have never played a title event over these most difficult links."

The No. 4 course at Olympia Fields, when built, was pronounced one of the most attractive and difficult in the country, with its rolling terrain, 14 water hazards, and tree-lined fairways that lacked only a few yards of making its par 72 instead of 70.

Then tournament golfers flocked to attack. New balls and clubs helped to circumvent its resistance and as much as two years ago Walter Hagen in winning the final from Bill Mehlhorn, in the P. G. A. championship, set a record of 67 for the famous course.

In addition to setting back most of the tees and adding traps, it is planned to furrow the sandy bottoms of the bunkers, as has been done at Oakmont.

LaGrange Enters Textile Tourney

LaGrange, February 4.—The Southwest LaGrange Y. M. C. A. will send two teams to the Southern Textile Basketball tournament at Greenville, S. C., which will be held February 23, 24 and 25.

One of the local teams will be entered in the class "A" group while the other will be in the class "C" group. Last season the locals were winners of the class "B" championship in the Greenville tournament and with a strong team this season are being looked on as a dark horse in class "A."

The local Y. M. C. A. varsity team boasts an excellent record for this season, losing only three games, which were dropped to Columbus "Y," Manchester "Y" and Lanett Athletic club by two and four-point margins. In return games played since the locals have defeated Manchester and Lanett.

Track Practice Opens at Emory

Track practice at Emory university will get under way Monday. Captain Arms, coach, has called the first practice for this day and announced that hard work will begin immediately. Practice is starting a month early this year to get the team in shape for the Tech relays.

Prospects for the team are the brightest in several seasons. Except for Paulk, all letter men of last year are back. Besides these the team will be strengthened by the addition of several freshmen who burnt up the prep school tracks last year. Among these are Nunan and Roberts of Tech High.

Chief among the letter men is Allen Logan, who made a good showing in the Penn relays last year. Logan got the start on the team by starting practice two weeks ago. His arm, which troubled him last year, has been operated on and is in good shape. Other letter men who did particularly well last year are Bates, Crowe, Hendrix, Whitaker, David and Stockman.

South Central Open Postponed

Hot Springs, Ark., February 4.—(AP)—Postponement of the Texas open tournament at San Antonio today brought a subsequent postponement of the south-central open, scheduled to be opened here Tuesday. Under the revision of dates the amateur-professional event will be staged Thursday, February 9, and the tournament will be started the following morning.

Only 18 of the 72 holes will be played Friday, with another 18 holes Saturday and 36 holes Sunday.

Many of the golfers participating in the Texas open will play here.

The Best Dollar You ever Spent

With the first approach of spring be ready to hop on a brand new Indian for a taste of the keenest sport in the world. The best dollar you ever spent will enroll you in the Club Purchase Plan.

Indian Motocycles

Indian Sales Company
209 Whitehall Street
Atlanta, Ga.

30 ROUNDS ON HOOPER'S NEXT CARD

Cowboy Kid, the little featherweight who has displayed such good ring ability in past fights on Billy Hooper's shows, has a big task Monday night when he starts to slam Richard Moore around the ring at the Colored Elks Rest in the main bout of the show.

Richard hails from Texas and is a tough foe for the local battler. That is a known fact for he has proven this in a previous bout. The Kid is set and he thinks that his claim to the featherweight title of the south will still be good after he meets Moore. They are billed for 10 rounds, heading a card that embraces 30 stanzas of fighting.

Equally as good as the main struggle is the eight-round semi-windup, finding King Soloman and Eddie Cox tossing mits at each other. Their names were placed on the last show for combat but due to the small crowd it was called off.

Arriving at a conclusion as to the other preliminaries, Hooper has been convinced that Battling Kelly and Gene Thomas should be matched. They have and will crawl through the ropes for a six-round encounter. Thomas is the boy that stopped King Soloman.

Lightning Howard and Kid Capers starts the prelims off with a four-rounder, it will be preceded by a battle royal.

A special section will be provided for white fans. The gymnasium is located at Edgewood avenue and Fort streets. The show gets under way at 8:30 o'clock, and Hooper is believing that the fans will back this show up. He expects a very good crowd.

CLAIM MUST BE SETTLED, SAYS GREEN

Montgomery, Ala., February 4.—(AP) Not until a claim of $1,530 against the baseball franchise of Tampa, Fla., is settled will the Southeastern league attempt to place a club in that city, Cliff Green, president of the league, declared here today.

Taking issue with reports last night from Rock Island, Ill., in which Mike Sexton, president of the minor league, was represented as indicating that the claim automatically would fall upon the league if it acquired the Tampa club, Green asserted that it was not the policy of the league to pay past due debts and that a satisfactory solution must be reached before the Tampa territory will be open to the Southeastern circuit.

Emphasizing that the league is not concerned in any controversy over the Tampa franchise, he added that the matter is purely one involving the individual owners of the club, since the team there would not be recognized by the league should it elect to enter the territory until the indebtedness was wiped out.

The claim against the Tampa club, for various sums due on player sales and other transactions, was assessed against Charles B. Griner, president of the Jacksonville club, when he took over the Tampa franchise. The assessment has been held up, however, at Griner's request that the minor league board reopen the case.

Promising

Above is Ralph Taylor, rising young pugilist of LaGrange, who is causing something like consternation in middleweight ranks in this section. He has worked in 24 fights and lost only one of them, that being a hard-earned decision by Basil Galiano, of New Orleans.

Young Taylor seems to be a comer and has a good record. He is anxious to meet Stiles Attaway or Bozo Hambright here in Atlanta and may appear at a later date.

The Eys Have It--In The Ring Business

* * * * * * * * * * * *

Here Are the Six Topnotch Boxing Heavyweights in America—Their Names End Alike

Gene Tunn-Ey

Tom Heen-Ey

George Godfr-Ey

Jack Demps-Ey

U.S. AND JAPAN SEEN FINALISTS IN ZONE PLAY

Paris, February 4.—(AP)—Mexico will be the first obstacle to be hurdled by tennis stars of the United States in their campaign to recover the Davis cup, wrested from America by France last year.

The draw in the American zone, made by Elysee Palace by President Doumergue, pits the United States against Mexico and Japan against Cuba in the first round.

Drawing a bye in the initial round, China will face the winner of the Mexico-United States matches, while Canada, also drawing a bye, engages the survivor of the other first round encounter.

On the basis of their 1927 form, Japan and the United States are regarded as virtual certainties to clash in the final of the zone competition.

The main strength in the European zone is in the upper half where the luck of the draw brings together two of the strongest challengers in the first round—Australia and Italy. The tennis stars from "down under" are returning to Davis cup competition after two years' absence, with a promise of giving the other zone contenders considerable opposition. Italy was the only team in the European zone able to give France a struggle in the preliminary cup play last year, the match series ending three to two in favor of the French. Germany, which reentered the competition last year, draws Greece as its first opponent.

The draw:

European zone, first round:

Upper half—Byes, India and Switzerland; Australia vs. Italy; Rumania vs. Belgium; Germany vs. Greece; Chile vs. Spain; Jugo-Slavia vs. Finland; Argentina vs. Great Britain.

Lower half—Hungary vs. Norway; Ireland vs. Holland; Poland vs. Denmark; Philippines vs. Austria; South Africa vs. Sweden; bres, Portugal, New Zealand, Czecho-Slovakia.

American zone: First round:

Upper half—Bye, China, United States vs. Mexico.

Lower half—Cuba vs. Japan; bye, Canada.

Eyes O. K., 'Chick' Hafey Is Expecting A Great Season

San Francisco, February 4.—(AP) One of baseball's little side dramas came to light today with Charles "Chick" Hafey, star outfielder of the St. Louis Nationals, as the central figure.

Most fans are familiar with Hafey's great work for the 1926 world's champions, also his playing last year. Only a few know that a growing defect in his vision has been threatening to end his playing days.

Last month in a hospital here, Hafey was told, "This operation will either make or break you as a baseball player." Today Dr. John Jacob Smith announced that a delicate operation performed on Hafey for sinus trouble had proved successful; that the young man's vision "is improved 100 per cent."

It was a joyous chap who bounded out of the doctor's office and headed for his home in Berkeley. Not only had he been released from a prison of gloom, but his 1928 contract was forthcoming—it had been held up by the club until a final report was had from Dr. Smith.

Now Hafey has visions of his greatest season in baseball. He confidently expects to lead the National league in hitting this year.

4th District Cage Meet at LaGrange

LaGrange, February 4—The Fourth District Basketball tournament will be held in LaGrange February 23, 24 and 25 it has been announced. There are 14 or more schools in the district expected to enter. Those having already mailed in entry blanks are: Mt. Zion academy, Carrollton High, Hogansville High, Senoia High, Woodbury High, Chipley High, Woodman High and LaGrange High. Other schools likely to enter are: Manchester High, Carrollton A. & M., Waverly Hall High, Buena Vista High, Grantville High and West Point High.

The tournament has been won for the past four years by LaGrange which is again a strong contender. Carrollton High, Hogansville High, Manchester High and Senoia High also have strong teams this year.

SPALDING LEAGUE.

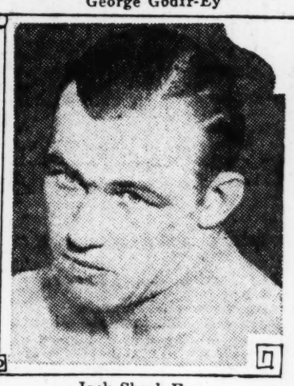

TEAM—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Georgia Power Co.	1	1	.500
Crum & Foster	4	1	.800
Western Electric	2	3	.400
Comptometer	0	3	.000

No games scheduled in the Spalding league until Wednesday, February 15.

The past week was a very significant one in the Spalding league. The Georgia Power company girls, who had been leading the league without the least opposition, suddenly struck a snag last Wednesday when the Crum & Foster girls sprang a surprise and defeated them 14 to 13. This was quite different from the 19-to-2 game the Power girls won from the Crums the first time the two teams played. In that game the Foster team played without their star, Pat Ward, and she certainly made her presence felt in the second game. She scored five points and was the center around which the team work rotated.

Jack Delan-Ey

Jack Shark-Ey

BY BILL RITT.

WHEN it comes to heavy weight boxers the Irish rule the roost—at least the Irish names do.

Let the Sokoloffs lead their orchestras and the Makoronis tend their fruit stands, the Tunneys and Heeneys will continue to take care of the fight business, thank you.

Since the days of John L. Sullivan, the Boston bad boy, the Irish have meant a great deal in the mitt merchandising business. A man isn't necessarily a big bruiser because he is a Byrne or an O'Brien, but the name helps.

The American fight fan clings tightly to his tradition that a Mick is always a mauler. There is only one other tradition closer to the heart of the fight fan, and that is his belief that all big bouts are really "in the bag."

Fight managers, despite their gala attire and uncouth ways, are astute business men. If the fans want Irishers, they get them. Let Abe Apfelbaum bounce his way into the big rings and he becomes Hard-Boiled Hooligan. Scratch K. O. McPuff and you'll probably find a Polack.

The heavyweight situation today resembles, in names, a county election in Ireland. The six most-mentioned big boys have names that bear the stamp of Dublin and the sweet odor of the hills of County Kerry.

There's Gene Tunney, the champ, and Jack Dempsey, the ex and the almost-titleholder. There is Tom Heeney and Jack Sharkey and Jack Delaney and George Godfrey, who is the latest brown panther from Pennsylvania.

Everyone with an Irish name, but are they Irish? Only three, and they by descent. The other trio are as far from being Irish as a prohibition agent is from popularity.

Gene Tunney is an Irish-American. Dempsey is of Scotch-Irish blood. Heeney is Irish by way of Australia.

Jack Sharky (nee Paul Cukoshay) is a Lithuanian, while Jack Delaney (born Chapdelaine) is a French Canadian with a current home in Bridgeport, Conn.

George Godfrey is a negro.

Each has an "ey" on the end of his name. This may mean nothing and have no effect on their fight careers, but it is a strange coincidence that happens six times.

JACK DEMPSEY'S RECORD

1915-1916	KO—Bill Brennan
KO—Kid Hancock	KO—Bull Saddee
KO—Bill Murphy	KO—Tom Riley
KO—Chief Gordon	KO—Dan Ketcher
KO—Anamas Campbell	KO—Arthur Pelkey
KO—Johnny Person	KO—Bob Devere
KO—Joe Lions	KO—Kid McCarthy
KO—Frew Woods	KO—Porky Flynn
KO—George Copelin	KO—Fred Fulton
KO—Andy Malloy	KO—Terry Kellar
KO—Two Round Gillian	KO—Jack Moran
KO—Jack Downey	KO—Battling Levinsky
KO—Boston Bear Cat	KO—Carl Morris
KO—Battling Johnson	KO—Gunboat Smith
KO—George Christian	W—Carl Morris (foul)
KO—Jack Koen	L—Willie Meehan
KO—Joe Bonds	ND—Billy Miske (2)
KO—Dan Ketchel	1919
KO—Bob York	KO—Big Jack Hickey
W—Johnny Sudenberg	KO—Kid Harris
W—Andre Anderson	KO—Kid Henry
W—Terry Keller	KO—Eddie Smith
W—Wild Bert Kelly	KO—Tony Drake
W—John Lester Johnson	KO—Jess Willard (for heavyweight title)
D—Andy Malloy	1920
D—Johnny Sudenberg	KO—Billy Miske
D—Jack Downey	KO—Bill Brennan
L—Jack Downey	1921
1917	KO—Georges Carpentier
KO—Al Morton	1923
KO—Charley Miller	W—Tommy Gibbons
W—Willie Meehan	KO—Luis Firpo
W—Bob McAllister	1926
W—Gunboat Smith	L—Gene Tunney (for heavyweight title)
W—Carl Morris	1927
D—Willie Meehan	KO—Jack Sharkey
L—Jim Flynn (KO by)	L—Gene Tunney
1918
KO—Homer Smith
KO—Jim Flynn

Jack Dempsey Has Remarkabe Career

Continued From First Page.

early life save that he once worked in a coal mine for less than $2 a day and later, broke and destitute, tramped over the country, rode the rails and had to eke out a livelihood somehow.

His strength and fighting ability brought him little prominence until he fell in with Jack Kearns, who as his manager nursed the young scrapper's career through one of the most hectic campaigns that ever faced a fighter.

Dempsey's first fights were for small sums, anything he could get, in fact. Then, as he grew in skill nad reputation, he began slowly to make a name for himself. The Fulton fight assured him of a good financial future.

Became Giant Killer.

Dempsey will always be remembered for that fight and for his reputation as a giant killer. He felled the huge Jess Willard like an ox, and smashed the mountainous Luis Firpo to the floor. In those fights he was hailed a super-man.

He also conquered such good men as Georges Carpentier, Tommy Gibbons, Bill Brennan and others. His three regrets on retiring are probably that the one knockout he suffered, delivered by Flynn, remains on the record books, and that he was never able to subdue two men: Gene Tunney and Willie Meehan, the Frisco fat boy.

It is a strange fact that with the sunset of his ring life Dempsey sees the star of his wife's movie career in the ascendancy. This year Estelle Taylor (Mrs. Jack Dempsey) will be elevated to stardom and will take her place in the spotlight of fame, which for so long cast its brilliant beam on her husband.

Polo-Playing Hitchcocks.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Tommy Hitchcock, great international polo star has a brother, Frank, who is quite a polo player himself. He scored the winning goal for Princeton's indoor team against the Army recently.

The boys' mother also is a player of some skill.

FROSH RETAIN LEAD IN EMORY CAGE TOURNEY

After Saturday's games at Emory university, the freshmen remained the only undefeated team. The Rats kept their record intact by handing the Theologs their fifth straight defeat, 28-13. The Juniors showed their best form of the year to pull the Seniors down a notch in the standing, 35-28. The others games were postponed.

J. Heard was the star of the Rats' victory with 15 points and brilliant floor work. V. Moore contributed 10 points and steady work on the floor. For the Theologs Price was the center of both attack and defense.

The game started off with close guarding by both teams, only one field goal being registered for a large part of the first half. Toward the close of the half the Freshmen found their stride and ran up a lead. They ran wild in the second half and more than doubled their opponents' score.

In one of the best-played games of the year the Juniors defeated the Seniors. The teamwork of both was far above the average, but the Juniors more accurate eyes proved the margin of difference. Lee, Stubbs and Tuller just were not missing them in the hole. The Seniors on the other hand missed shot after shot, after working the ball down for a snowbird. Lee with 16 points again became the leading scorer of the league.

SUMMARIES.

FRESH. (28)	Pos.	THEOL. (13)
Heard (15)	f	Tate
Moore, V (10)	f	Tate
Moore, G (1)	g	Price (9)
Thrasher	g	Shearer
Lange (2)	c	Gardner

Substitutions: Freshmen—Mackey, Floyd, Lewis, Brown. Theologs—Gannaway. Referee, Craige.

JUN. (35)	Pos.	SEN. (28)
Stubbs (8)	f	McCord (4)
Tuller (8)	f	Peterson (15)
Lee (16)	c	Heard (8)
Michaelis	g	Stockman
Venable (3)	g	Harper (3)

Substitutions: Seniors—Kane. Referee—Craige.

GeorgiaAnnounces '28 Baseball Card

Athens, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Two intersectional opponents, one non-conference and eight conference adversaries are on the University of Georgia's 1928 baseball schedule announced here today. Twenty-six games in all will be played, 16 at home.

The schedule follows:

March 15, 20—Ohio State university at Athens.
April 2, 3—Kentucky at Athens.
April 5, 6—Maryland at Athens.
April 9, 10—Auburn at Athens.
April 13, 14—University of Michigan at Athens.
April 20, 21—Alabama at Athens.
April 23, 24—South Carolina at Columbia.
April 25, 26—North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
April 27, 28—Duke university at Durham.
May 4, 5—Tennessee at Athens.
May 8, 9—Auburn at Athens.
May 18, 19—Georgia Tech at Athens.
May 25, 26—Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

MISS COLLETT FALLS BEFORE MISS VAN WIE

Pinehurst, N. C., February 4.—(AP) Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., whose masterly golf earlier in the week won the medal in the women's mid-south open championship here, lost the final of the competition today to Miss Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago. The match went to 22 holes before the 20-year-old challenger won over the former national champion by one up.

It was the second victory for Miss Van Wie against the redoubtable Glenna. Three years ago she won the Florida East Coast title from her in a 19-hole match. Last year she lost the North and South championship by a score of 4 and 2 to Miss Collett, but this afternoon she made up for the defeat, taking one of the best-played finals that has ever brought two leaders of the sport together.

Miss Van Wie's short game, her weakness in earlier play, eventually brought her the title. She left little doubt that the match would be close when she gained a lead at the second hole.

DOCTOR SAYS ATHLETES ARE OVER-EATING

London, England, February 4.—(AP) Most athletes in training are grossly overfed, it is contended by Dr. S. Heming Belfrage of London, a specialist in dietetics.

"Instead of being made immune from disease by heavy meat-eating, the young men in training for boat races and other sports are made far more susceptible," the doctor asserted speaking to Y. M. C. A. athletes at the association's London headquarters.

"I am convinced," Dr. Belfrage continued, "that if someone knowing the value of food would undertake the training of these athletes and give them the right diet of foodstuffs and fruit containing the vitamins essential to health, then all the original members would take their places in the sport instead of being replaced by other men owing to influenza, measles, and a general crocked condition."

Doyle, Once Star, In the Army Now

Manila, P. I., February 4.—(AP)—Larry Doyle, former Chicago White Sox moundsman, whose major league baseball career terminated as a result of the 1919 world series exposure, has arrived here in the uniform of a buck private in Uncle Sam's fighting force.

Doyle donned the army uniform a second time after seven years of independent baseball playing in Florida, Georgia and Cuba. Previously he saw seven years' service, four years being spent overseas in the world war.

As a member of the nine representing the headquarters company of the thirty-first infantry, he expects to show he is still able to play ball with something of his old cunning.

Jim Cooney Sent To Boston Braves

St. Louis, February 4.—(AP)—Jim Cooney, shortstop, has been sent to the Boston Braves in a straight cash transaction, Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinal Baseball club, advised his office in a telegram here tonight. This is the second time Cooney has been disposed of by the Cardinals.

Highland Club Course Scene Of Competition

Event Expected To Assemble Golfers From Over the South.

BY SAMMY ADAMS.

LaGrange, February 4.—The Southeastern Professional Golfers' association will hold its annual open championship tournament on the Highland Country club golf course here May 15, 16 and 17, it has been announced by Alex Milne, Jr., professional at the Highland club.

These dates fall on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, respectively. On Tuesday the pro-amateur tournament of 18 holes will be played. In this tournament three cash prizes will be awarded for pros and three amateur prizes will be awarded.

On Wednesday 36 holes of the championship tourney will be played and the remaining 36 holes of the tournament will be played off Thursday, the seventeenth. In the championship proper, ten cash prizes will be awarded. Prizes will also be awarded for amateurs finishing in the first ten. All prizes will be awarded locally.

The tournament is expected to assemble in LaGrange about 75 professional golfers from the states of Florida, Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee. Probably 25 amateurs will also be on hand to compete in the event. A number of sporting scribes from newspapers and press associations are also expected.

The tournament was held in Mobile, Ala., last year and was secured for LaGrange this year by a committee from the Highland club. Last year the tournament was held in the fall and is being moved up to an earlier date in order that the winner may have time to enter the National Professional Golfers' association tournament, which will be held in Baltimore this year.

A special trophy will be awarded to a four-man team from each state which will be composed of the four golfers making the best combined score during the 72 holes of the tournament.

Tiny Ind. College Turns Out Many Good Cage Teams

BY DR. WALTER E. MEANWELL.
Basketball Coach at University of Wisconsin, Member of Basketball Committee of National Collegiate Athletic Association.
(Copywright, 1928, in all Countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Wabash college, at Crawfordsville, Ind., isn't big, but it is famous for its remarkable basketball teams.

Two of them, in 1915 and again in 1925, were regarded by many as the greatest college fives in the country in those years. Wabash occasionally has a wonder team, and always a good team.

This season the college again has a smart line-up. Three members of the football team, Viner, McCorkle and Caffell, give speed, strength and ruggedness to the outfit. Others players are Harbison, Thornburg, Brooks, younger brother of the former Wisconsin center; Taylor, Orin and Bayer.

Seasoned Guards.

Caffell and McCorkle are seasoned guards generally conceded to be on a par, at least, with any in the state. Their defensive record is about the best among the Indiana colleges. McCorkle especially is reputed to be one of the fastest men ever to wear the Wabash uniform.

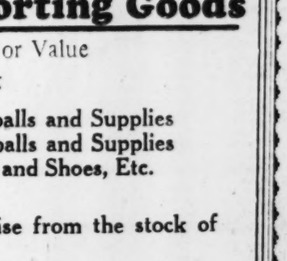

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely.

To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Public Auction
Bankrupt Stock
—of—
W. H. Perrin Co., Sporting Goods

To Be Sold Regardless of Former Cost or Value
Must Be Sold This Week

Tennis Goods
Golf Clubs and Balls
Basketballs
Footballs and Supplies
Baseballs and Supplies
Suits and Shoes, Etc.

Also

Trunks, Handbags, Suit Cases and other Merchandise from the stock of 91 Peachtree St.

Sale Starts Monday 10:30 A. M. and 2:30 P. M. and running entire week at same hours

Highest Bidder Buys Now

W. H. Perrin Co. 60 N. Broad St.

In the Healey Building

Tech Plays Club Wednesday; Leaves Thursday on Road Trip

26 Ball Games AreScheduled By Bulldogs

Tech and Georgia Meet in Two Two-Game Series.

BY BOB SHERROD.

Athens, Ga., February 4.—The University of Georgia baseball team will play 26 games during its 1928 season, according to the schedule released here today by Dr. S. V. Sanford, faculty chairman of athletics. Twenty of the games are with conference opponents. Ten of the games are played on foreign diamonds while the remaining 16 are scheduled for Sanford field.

No games are scheduled with S. I. A. A. teams this year, due to the break between that organization and the southern conference which took place in December at Lexington, when the conference held its meeting. All athletic relations with the S. I. A. A. were broken at that time with the exception of existing contracts. The action was taken on account of the attitude the S. I. A. A. had adopted with reference to the University of Mississippi.

May Book Others.

Dr. Sanford thinks that if this matter can be cleared up and relations resumed the Georgia team may arrange games with Oglethorpe and Mercer, who have been on the schedule many years.

The Bulldogs meet Tech twice during the spring, in two two-game series, one series to be played in Athens and the other in Atlanta. These four games are the last on the schedule.

Coach Bill White, who has been the mentor of many Georgia baseball teams, declared that he was pleased with his prospects for the 1928 team. Four letter men were lost by graduation from the team of last year: Captain "Skeet" Johnson, catcher; Alternate Captain "Shaky" Kain, pitcher; Billy Arenowitch, outfielder, and Mickey Frain, second baseman. Returning letter men are: Captain Chick Shiver, outfielder; Pat Keating, catcher; Jack Waller, pitcher; Lefty Stewart, pitcher; Tom Nash, first baseman; H. F. Johnson, third baseman; Glenn Chafin, shortstop; Buck Flowers, outfielder, and Roy Jacobson, outfielder.

Start Work Soon.

The pitchers and catchers will start warming up about the middle of February. Regular practice begins a week or two later.

The schedule:

March 19-20—Ohio State at Athens.
April 2-3—Kentucky at Athens.
April 5-6—Maryland at Athens.
April 9-10—Auburn at Auburn.
April 13-14—Michigan at Athens.
April 20-21—Alabama at Athens.
April 23-24—South Carolina at Columbia.
April 25-26—North Carolina at Chapel Hill.
April 27-28—Duke at Durham.
May 4-5—Tennessee at Athens.
May 8-9—Auburn at Athens.
May 18-19—Tech at Athens.
May 25-26—Tech at Atlanta.

S. S. A. A.

Three games of importance are on the list for the week's play in the S. S. A. A. on Monday night at the A. A. C. and Thursday evening at the Central Presbyterian court.

In the first game at 7:15 o'clock Monday night Calvary and First Presbyterian tangle. If the Calvary team wins it will take second place, if its opponents triumph they will drop to fourth place. Thursday night two rather important engagements are booked. Jackson Hill meets Central Presbyterian and Druid Hills Presbyterian battles the Calvary team.

While Druid Hills is still leading the National circuit with 10 straight wins and no defeats, Jackson Hill has a one-game lead in the American league.

S. S. A. A. STANDINGS.

American League.

TEAMS—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Jackson Hill Baptist	8	1	.889
Central Presbyterian	7	2	.778
Calvary Methodist	6	2	.750
First Presbyterian	6	3	.667
Druid Hills Presbyterian	3	6	.333
Westminster Presbyterian	3	6	.333
Bowie Bible Class, St. Luke's Episcopal	2	7	.222
Covenant Presbyterian	1	9	.100

National League.

TEAMS—	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Druid Hills Baptist	10	0	1.000
Triple E Class, Second Baptist	7	3	.700
Pryor Street Presbyterian	7	3	.700
Capitol Avenue Baptist	7	3	.700
Inman Park Methodist	4	6	.400
Lutheran Church of the Redeemer	3	6	.333
Clifton Presbyterian	3	7	.300
Grace Methodist	2	8	.200
Fellowship Class, West End Baptist	1	8	.111

The Schedule.

Monday, February 6, at Atlanta Athletic club:

First Presbyterian vs. Calvary Methodist (American), 7:15.

Fellowship Class, West End Baptist vs. Lutheran Church of the Redeemer (National), 7:40.

Westminster Presbyterian vs. Bowie Bible Class, St. Luke's Episcopal (American), 8:35.

Clifton Presbyterian vs. Druid Hills Baptist (National), 9:00.

Grace Methodist vs. Capitol Avenue Baptist (National), 9:55.

Thursday, February 9, at Central Presbyterian:

Jackson Hill Baptist vs. Central Presbyterian (American), 7:15.

Druid Hills Baptist vs. Capitol Avenue Baptist (National), 7:40.

Triple E. Class, Second Baptist, vs. Lutheran Church of the Redeemer (National), 8:35.

Fellowship Class, West End Baptist vs. Inman Park Methodist (National), 9:00.

Druid Hills Presbyterian vs. Calvary Methodist (American), 9:55.

Sewanee League

The three-way tie that has existed between Capitol View Baptist, Decatur Presbyterian and Associate Reform Presbyterian for the past two weeks in the Sewanee league, will be broken Thursday night when the first two named meet in the third game of the series.

West End Presbyterian lost to the Northwest Baptist in the last series to secure undisputed possession of the cellar. Pattillo Memorial and Wesley Memorial will break the deadlock for the lead of the second division in the opening game and as these are of equal strength a hard fought battle is expected.

The Schedule:

Wesley Memorial vs. Pattillo Memorial, 6:40 p. m.

Associate Reform vs. Northwest Baptist, 7:00 p. m.

Decatur Presbyterian vs. Capitol View Baptist, 7:50 p. m.

North Atlanta Baptist vs. West End Presbyterian, 8:10 p. m.

League Standing.

TEAM—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Capitol View Baptist	8	6	2	.750
Decatur Presbyterian	8	6	2	.750
Associate Reform	8	6	2	.750
North Atlanta Baptist	8	3	5	.375
Wesley Memorial	8	3	5	.375
Pattillo Memorial	8	3	5	.375
Northwest Baptist	8	3	5	.375
West End Presbyterian	8	2	6	.250

TIRES-RIMS-BATTERIES
ONE FOR EVERY CAR.
USE-YOUR-CREDIT
SPECIAL CASH BARGAINS (SECOND FLOOR)
Cottongim's
IVY 3931 323 SPRING ST. at Simpson

Tech-Georgia Tickets

The Georgia Tech Athletic association announced Saturday that reserved seat tickets for the game between the University of Georgia and Tech in basketball to be played at the auditorium on February 18 will be on sale at Jacob's pharmacy beginning next Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. Jacobs' will be the only place in which these tickets will be on sale before the game.

SPRING GRID WORK BEGINS AT GA. MONDAY

Athens, Ga., February 4.—Some 70 men are expected to be on hand Monday afternoon when Coach Harry Mehre will call together the material for spring football training at the University of Georgia. The work for the first few days will be rather light but will become rougher after a few days. The practice session lasts for six weeks.

Glenn Lantzenhiser and Roy Jacobson, joint captains of the 1928 Bulldog machine, will assume their positions for the first time, as will Mehre, the new coach who succeeds George Woodruff, resigned.

The new material for the 1928 team is expected to be light and inexperienced as the freshman team last fall was one of the smallest squads to ever represent the lower class at the university. Only two or three outstanding players are found among the crew.

Seven Letter Men Lost.

Seven letter men will be lost to the team which assembled Monday, they having played their allotted time on the college athletic teams. Among this number are to be found the names of Captain Shiver, Nash, Morris, Smith, Broadnax, McTigue and Estes. However, two of them will return in the capacity of coaches. Chick Shiver handling the ends and Gene Smith coaching the freshmen next fall.

Coach Mehre has been in Athens since last summer, having gone into the drug business here, and Coach Jimmy Crowley, who handles the backfield material, will return Monday, according to reports. Both men are former Notre Dame players.

Letter men who will return next year are: Boland and Lanford, centers; Haley and Captain Jacobson, guards; Captain Lantzenhiser, Stelling and Frisbie, tackles; Palmer, end; Johnson, quarterback; Hooks and Dudley, halfbacks; McCrary and Rothstein, fullbacks.

A number of these are playing on other athletic teams at present. Palmer and Lantzenhiser are on the basketball team; Hooks and Haley are on the boxing team and Jacobson and Johnson will be warming up with the baseball team within two or three weeks.

ATLANTA WINS IN SOUTHERN MAT TOURNEY

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—The Atlanta Y. M. C. A. carried off the highest honors in the first southern amateur wrestling tournament held here today, winning the lightweight, welterweight and middleweight titles. It also tied for first place in the light heavyweight division as the judges were not able to decide the winner after Walter, of Atlanta, and Lipscomb, of Jacksonville, wrestled the regular 10-minute schedule and two extra three-minute periods for the title. Jackson won the heavyweight division title when Jay Steadman defeated Mose Karesh, Macon's best bet, in the final match of the tourney.

"Stumpy" Guest, lightweight; Jim Botsaris, welter, and Ward Wylie, middleweight, were the Atlantans who won the titles.

Guest downed Theodore Abbey, a teammate, in the lightweight final. Botsaris won from Ben James, of Macon, when James disqualified himself due to a badly infected knee. Wylie disposed of Pete Forlidas, also of Macon, in the welter final by downing him in three minutes and 25 seconds.

Mose Karesh, who lost to Jay Steadman, of Jacksonville, in the heavyweight final, was Macon's best bet and his loss came as a surprise to all the onlookers. He was downed in three minutes and 35 seconds. Up until the fall Karesh appeared as the most aggressive of the two grapplers.

A silver loving cup was presented to the winning Atlanta team, and bronze medals were given to the winners of the different divisions.

Scott League

Governor's Horseguards	1	0	1.000
Southern Railway	1	0	1.000
Martin Nash	1	0	1.000
Atlanta Lowry	1	0	1.000
Jessup & Antrim	0	1	.000
Cluett Peabody	0	1	.000
Pullman Co.	0	1	.000

Schedule for Wednesday.

7:15—Jessup & Antrim vs. Governor's Horseguards.

7:35—Martin Nash vs. Cluett Peabody.

8:35—Atlanta Lowry vs. Georgia Power company.

9—Pullman Co. vs. Southern Railway.

Schedule for Saturday.

7:15—Atlanta-Lowry vs. Southern Railway.

7:35—Pullman Co. vs. Georgia Power Co.

8:35—Martin Nash vs. Governor's Horseguards.

9—Jessup & Antrim vs. Cluett Peabody.

There will be a meeting of managers of Scott league teams at Trammell Scott's store Monday night at 7:30 o'clock to consider the application of the Georgia Power company to fill the place vacated by the New York Life Insurance company last week. If this application is accepted the schedule as given above will be played, and the game between Southern Railway and the newcomers will be played at a date and place agreeable to the managers of the two teams involved. The Power company has missed only one game of the second round, and by making this up they would be put on a par with the rest of the teams in games played.

The Scott league was faced with a critical situation last week. Some of the teams in the league had been ignoring the amateur rule, and had professional baseball players in their lineups. A. A. Doonan, vice president of the Southeastern association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States gave warning that this must be discontinued or that the amateur standing of all players of the Scott league would be put in jeopardy, so immediate steps had to be taken to straighten the matter out. At a meeting last week all teams but the New York Life agreed to discontinue the use of professionals in the lineup, and this team resigned from the league.

8 Basketball Teams Enter Deaf Tourney

Action Will Start Friday at City Auditorium Here.

The second annual basketball tournament for the school for deaf will start Friday afternoon of this week at the auditorium. The Dixie Basketball association which is composed of the southern schools for deaf is sponsoring this affair and is anxious to show the Atlanta basket fans some real ball played by boys that work under a serious handicap.

So far there have been eight teams to send in their entry blanks. They are: Georgia, Tennessee, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Arkansas and Alabama. Mississippi, Virginia and Louisiana are expected to enter.

Last season Arkansas fought its way to the first southern championship, and is sending a fine team this year in hopes of retaining the title.

Georgia is entering the games for the first time and reports have been received that they are going to put out some of the best teams that are to be entered.

Every court fan in Atlanta should give this organization his support as the teams are composed of boys that do not have the same opportunities as the other college athletes, and yet they can hold their own in a basketball game with some of the best in the south. The Dixie Basketball association has a hard time getting sufficient funds to bring these boys to Atlanta, and if they go in the hole this season they are going to hold the next tournament in Macon, Ga.

'Y' ALL-STARS FALL BEFORE EPWORTH FIVE

In one of the best games ever played at Wesley court, the Epworth All-Stars defeated the "Y" Church All-Stars Saturday night by the score of 42 to 32, before one of the largest crowds Wesley court has accommodated this season.

The game will go down in the minds of all who witnessed it as one of the most brilliant games staged by two amateur teams in Atlanta this season. Both teams played splendid basketball, shooting, dribbling and passing accurately and following the ball well throughout the game. No better passing and holding of the ball will be seen this year on Wesley court. Throughout the game both teams passed and held the ball like veterans.

The "Y" boys led throughout the first half, the score being 18 to 15, in their favor at the end of the opening period. Shortly after the second half started the Epworthers began to locate the basket and the score was practically even until about seven minutes before the final whistle blew, the winners forging to the front at this time, never to be headed.

Brookshire Stars.

Brookshire, brilliant forward of the "Y" Church team, gave the best exhibition of all-around ability seen this season on this court. He also shot 19 points.

For the All-Stars, the shooting of Hutcheson and Forster in the second half was outstanding. Richardson played a splendid game at guard for the winners.

In the preliminary game the girls' All-Stars easily defeated the Y. W. C. A. by the score of 38 to 9. Miss Cawthorn and Miss Bangert were the leading scorers in this game, ringing the rims for 10 points each. The guarding of Miss Busk was up to her usual standard.

Miss Marie Rowland, of Grace Methodist, was chosen as sponsor of the boys' All-Star team and will accompany the team to Chattanooga next Saturday.

Boys' Game.

E. A. ST. (42)	Pos.	Y. CH. A. ST. (32)
Martin (7)	f.	Brookshire (19)
Brown (4)	f.	Smith
Lanford (2)	c.	Nash (6)
Forster (8)	g.	Leffler
Pharr	g.	Langston

Substitutions: Hutcheson (13), Lee (5), Smith (1), Richardson (2); Y. Clark (7), Tinsley, Greene. Referee, Hammond.

Insurance League

After enjoying a week's rest, due to the Tech High-Vienna game being played on the Athletic club court, where they play their games, the Insurance league teams will resume play this week. Several good games are booked.

The Insurance Company of North America has gained undisputed lead of the league, having defeated the runnerups, Fireman's Fund. The victory will probably give the North Americans the championship of the league.

SCHEDULE FOR TUESDAY NIGHT.

S. E. U. A. versus Royal.
Hartford versus Firemen's Fund.
Commercial Union versus North America.

STANDINGS.

	Won.	Lost	Pct.
North America	5	1	.833
Fireman's Fund	4	2	.666
Hartford	3	3	.500
S. E. U. A.	2	4	.333
Royal	2	4	.333
Commercial Union	2	4	.333

Dixie League

Only two games will be played in the Dixie league Tuesday night on the Y court as the Central Baptist five found the going too fast and dropped from the league.

The Schedule.

Western Heights vs. Anchor Class, 7:20 p. m.; All Saints' vs. F. E. F. Class, 7:40 p. m.

The Standing.

TEAMS—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
F. E. F. Class	7	5	2	.714
Western Heights	7	5	2	.714
Anchor Class	7	5	2	.714
All Saints	8	4	4	.500

Dixie (Girls') League.

After a lapse of two weeks, play will be resumed in the Dixie Girls' league Wednesday night at Taft hall with three games on the evening's schedule.

With the Pattillo Memorial holding the lead by a three-game margin the fight is on for the runnerup position with Central Baptist showing the greatest strength of the remaining clubs.

The girls of Western Heights greatly strengthened by the return of Miss Sarah Garner will engage the Avondale Presbyterian ladies in what promises to be the feature game of the evening.

L. D. Jolly, manager of the league's All-Star team, will probably call those selected for their first practice and will soon be playing all-star teams of other leagues.

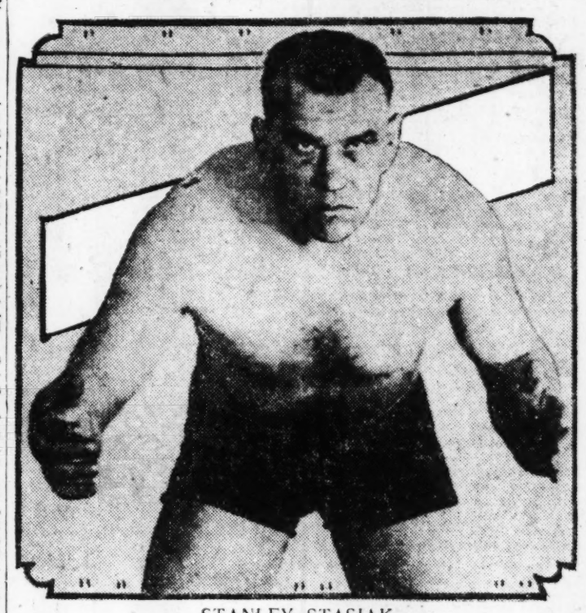

The Schedule.

Bowie Bible Class vs. Pattillo Memorial, 7 p. m.; Central Baptist vs. Central Presbyterian, 7:20; Avondale Presbyterian vs. Western Heights, 8:10 p. m.

League Standing.

TEAMS—	P.	W.	L.	Pct.
Pattillo Memorial	9	9	0	1.000
Central Baptist	9	6	3	.666
Central Presbyterian	9	4	5	.444
Avondale Presbyterian	9	4	5	.444
Western Heights	9	3	6	.333
Bowie Bible Class	9	1	8	.111

BETTING MR. STASIAK WILL WRESTLE HERE AGAIN ON THURSDAY

STANLEY STASIAK.

Stanley Stasiak, who narrowly escaped being arrested for disorderly conduct because of his rough and tumble match with "Scotty" McDougal at the city auditorium the other night, has been booked for another Atlanta engagement, so Matchmaker John Contos announced yesterday.

Stasiak has agreed to wrestle here Thursday night in the two-hour main event of a wrestling show. While Stasiak's opponent has not been selected Matchmaker Contos has made it plain that he will not rematch Stasiak and McDougal. It will be recalled that at the conclusion of their draw encounter the other night the Giant Pole challenged McDougal to a finish bout for a side bet of $5,000.

At the time the fans treated the challenge, particularly the $5,000 angle, as a bit of grandstanding and Matchmaker Contos seems to take the same view.

Stasiak's narrow escape from being haled into police court resulted from his piking up a tier of ringside seats and starting to use them as a weapon in an assault on McDougal. The police interfered and until Claude Buchanan, chairman of the boxing commission, took a hand, were bent on arresting the Pole. He later apologized to the fans for his action, declaring that he had lost his temper.

Anyway Stasiak demonstrated that he is a first-class wrestler and just as hateful a villain as Dick Daviscourt and if Matchmaker Contos secures a strong opponent for Stasiak the fans are likely to see an exciting match.

Contos is staging his second show of the month this week because of the fact that practically all wrestlers will attend the championship match at St. Louis on February 20.

CARY FINDS ATHENS PEACEFUL AND QUIET AFTER GRID DISASTER

BY WHITNER CARY.

It is always a pleasure to go to Athens. There is an air of culture, peace and calm that pervades over the Classic City that is extremely refreshing. So when Scrappy Sullivan offered your correspondent the seat of honor next to William Comanche Mundy in his trusty automobile for a trip to Athens and the Tech-Georgia basketball encounter last Saturday a week ago there was little hesitation about accepting it.

Your correspondent is delighted to report that he found little change in the Classic City. As his last visit to the Bulldog stronghold had been to the Mercer-Georgia game some days prior to the Alabama encounter and several weeks before the affair on Grant field on December 3 many changes could have been wrought.

At that time the Georgia Bulldogs were traveling in the general direction of a national football championship. Readers of the press will recall that this journey found an abrupt end on the afternoon of December 3. It may also be recalled by those whose memories are fairly active that your correspondent was rather pronounced in his view as to the outcome of that encounter, stating repeatedly that "Glory, Glory to Old Georgia" would be the refrain that would echo up and down Peachtree as the evening shadows put December 3 to sleep.

Anxious To See Town.

Considering all this, your correspondent was rather anxious to see how his Athens friends had weathered the storm. While heartache and sorrow may have played leading roles immediately after the disaster of December 3 there was no evidence of it on last Saturday.

The Costa boys were as chirpy as if there had been no such thing as December 3. Charlie Martin, who had the delightful task last fall of handling transportation, hotel accommodations and such trivial matters for some 30 or 40 football players on the various trips seemed completely rested from his labors and rearing for September, more trips and countless arguments with Pullman conductors. Naturally Charlie's pleasant countenance would show a slight touch of pain when that December day was mentioned, but on the whole he seemed in very fine spirits.

Joe Meyers, one of the most loyal Georgia supporters in Athens, whose journeys with the 1927 Battalion of Death took him from New Haven to New Orleans, seemed completel recovered. He was at the basketball game. While not showing the enthusiasm at the court that he did at the gridiron his manner clearly indicated that while December 3, 1927, will always be designated on his calendar by a black circle, he is once more back to normalcy and ready to make the 1928 jaunts with the Bulldogs.

Grid Work Soon.

So it went all along the way. Maybe one reason of this is that just a little over a week—February 6, to be exact—Harry Mehre will call out his charges for the first spring football practice. Athens likes its baseball. It will even show zest for basketball. But, after all, there is nothing that will bring out conversation and enthusiasm in your true Athenian to the same extent as will football.

Even though Georgia and Tech were about to enter into a death grapple on the court that night, there was no end of football conversation let loose.

According to the present plan Harry Mehre, who is making his debut as head football coach, intends to give the 1928 Battalion of Death some of the most intensive spring training that the Bulldogs have ever faced. For the first three weeks the work will consist of learning new plays, perfecting old ones, tackling, blocking and kicking. With three weeks' practice behind them, the Bulldogs will be started on a three weeks' campaign of scrimmaging. Harry intends to scrimmage them just as much as they can physically stand.

To vary the program and inject interest in the proceedings the Georgia mentor near the close of the season is going to divide his squad into four teams. These teams will be selected with an idea of making them as nearly equal as possible. Two games will be staged among them, and the season will be climaxed with a championship affair betwen the two winning outfits. The winner of this contest will be the honor guests at a dinner to be given by Mehre.

Seniors to Assist.

All the seniors will assist in the coaching. Nash and Shiver will tell all they know to the ends. Jug Head Smith will impart his knowledge to the guards, Bear Morris will give the tackles the benefit of his past experience while McTigue, Broadnax and Estes will do similar service for the backfield men.

Everybody, including the players and coaches, is enthusiastic over spring training and are champing at the bit for February 6 to roll around.

In closing, it might not be amiss to mention the fact that the boys are very keen over Harry Mehre. In talking to them they give the idea that there could have been no better selection made. They have the utmost respect for him and as a man, great confidence in his ability as a coach and a still greater love for him as a friend. And after all that is a triumvirate of feelings that any coach should be proud to start the season with.

22ND INFANTRY LEAGUE

There has been no change in the standing of the league among the leaders but Company F is now in third place, having defeated Company H during the week. The latter made up for this defeat, however, by a victory over the strong Company E outfit.

The Standings.

TEAMS—	W.	L.
Company G	5	0
Headquarters Company	6	1
Company F	4	3
Company H	2	2
Company E	3	4
Service Company	1	5
Brig. Headquarters Company	0	6

Games played during the week:

CO. E (19)	Pos.	HQ. CO. (38)
Edwards (1)	r.f.	Graham (16)
Burleson (7)	l.f.	Starling (4)
Colson (9)	c.	Ballentine (17)
Ashmore (1)	r.g.	Morgan
Wade (1)	l.g.	Fox (2)

CO. F (35)	Pos.	CO. H. (9)
Tedesco (26)	r.f.	Holloway (1)
Gerald (4)	l.f.	Stanley (2)
Faucett (2)	c.	Northrup (2)
Anderson	r.g.	Morris
Scott (3)	l.g.	Vinson (4)

HQ. CO. (31)	Pos.	SERV. CO. (7)
Graham (12)	r.g.	Knox (1)
Starling (1)	l.f.	Collier (4)
Ballentine (14)	c.	Martin
Hale (2)	r.g.	Hardy
Fox (2)	l.g.	Mayo (2)

CO. E (23)	Pos.	CO. H. (25)
Edwards (9)	r.f.	Stanley (10)
Burleson (5)	l.f.	Holloway (6)
Colson (4)	c.	Northrup (6)
Slappey (1)	r.g.	Morris (2)
Wade (4)	l.g.	Vinson (1)

Debutante Smashes Ice Yachting Record

Oshkosh, Wis., February 4.—(AP)—Debutante III, piloted by John Buckstaff, of Oshkosh, today broke the world's ice yachting record over a 20-mile course and defended successfully its international championship.

The time today was 39 minutes and 44 seconds. The previous record, made by the Wolverine, of Kalamazoo, Mich., Ice Yacht club, was 40 minutes and 30 seconds.

Petrels Hold 1st of Spring Grid Workouts

Robertson Assembles Squad for Workout Wednesday; Many Players Report.

BY FRED McEACIN.

When February rolls around some people think of valentines, some think of the nearness of spring, some remember that 28 days (and one for good measure this year) hastens the pay check at the end of the month, but the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe university who indulge in the manly art of football have only this one thought beneath their headgears—the month of valentines and short measure of days means that the drudgery of spring football practice is to occupy their afternoons for several weeks.

On Hermance field last Wednesday afternoon Coach Harry Robertson and his first lieutenant, Nutty Campbell, called the roll for the first official early rehearsal.

There was a good representation of footmall material for the initial workout and after a rather short session of the general routine of grid-iron maneuvers the Birds were sent to the showers to relieve their sore muscles.

Other matinees were held during the week and all of the stragglers who did not report Wednesday have come out. Robertson, Campbell and company are paying especial attention to the husky freshmen—Coach Chestnut's rat squad of last fall. There seem to be many promising men from this source and the coaches are keeping their eyes open to discover possible stars for the varsity squad.

Chick Meehan, New York University football mentor, will join the Petrels in their early spring grind during the course of the next two weeks.

EMORY RACES FINALLY WON BY BETA TAU

Increasing their lead in the last few races, the Beta Tau team won the Hare and Hound races at Emory university. They finished with a 40-point lead over the Sigma Chi team, their closest competitors, when the races closed Friday. Bates of the Sigma Chi was an easy winner in the individual competition.

The Beta Taus ran up a big lead in the early races, but came near losing it after Christmas. The Sigma Chis gained consistently for several races, but when Clements returned to the races, the Beta Taus won these points back. The final standing was 533 to 487.

Bates had no serious competition for first individual. He was undefeated the entire season, but his perfect string was broken Friday when an operation forced him to miss. Westenberger was second with 189 points. Bates will get a gold medal and Westenberger a silver one. The following men finished in order and will get bronze medals: Fullerton, Michaux, Jacobs, Harden, McDuffie, Nunan, Clements and Floyd.

In the race on Monday Bates was first followed by Fullerton, Clements and Jacobs. On Wednesday, Clements led the way ahead of Westenberger, Nunan and Michaux. On Friday Nunan won with Fullerton, Harden and Floyd following him.

MERCER BEARS BEAT JACKET FROSH, 49 TO 26

Macon, Ga., February 4.—Coach Charlie Morgan's Mercer freshman quintet, in defeating the Tech freshmen here tonight, 49 to 26, won its 22d game of the season.

The Mercer frosh have been beaten only once. Several weeks ago Vienna's wonder five trampled them, but since that time revenge in the form of two consecutive victories over the same team has been gained.

Tonight's tilt between Mercer and Tech was bitterly fought, but from the referee's first blast until the final whistle it was evident that the locals would win. At the end of the first half Mercer was leading, 24 to 6.

In picking stars it was easily seen that Underwood and Samberg were the best threats of Mercer. Samberg scored 16 points, while Underwood made 14.

Tippin was the best man for Tech, scoring 13 points. Jones and Brooks made 5 and 4 points, respectively.

The next game on schedule for the Mercer quintet is with Vienna in Macon next Friday night. Mercer has won from the wonder five twice, once in Vienna and once here.

LINEUP AND SUMMARY.

MERCER (49)	Pos.	TECH (26)
DeVaughn (10)	r.f.	Tippin (13)
Matt (2)	l.f.	Hoffman (2)
Underwood (14)	c.	Vestal
Samberg (16)	r.g.	Colvin
Ashmore (7)	l.g.	Mares

Substitutions: Mercer, Kerr for Matt; Tuck for DeVaughn, Plunkett for Corbin, Newsome for Samberg; Tech, Jones (5) for Hoffman, Dyer for Vestal, Crowley (2) for Dyer, Brooks (4) for Mares, Isaacs for Colvin. Referee, Skinney Dennicke (Tech). Umpire, Buncie Skinner (Mercer).

PELTZER SEES LLOYD HAHN WIN EASILY

Boston, February 4.—(United News.)—Lloyd Hahn, America's foremost middle distance runner, won an easy victory in the Hunter mile, feature event of the annual Boston Athletic association games at the Boston arena tonight.

His time was 4 minutes 22 4-5 seconds—10 4-5 seconds behind the indoor record established by Joie Ray and Paavo Nurmi in 1925.

Eight thousand track fans were packed into the arena for the games.

Among the spectators was Dr. Otto Peltzer, the German middle distance runner. Those who hoped to see the German match his speed against Lloyd Hahn in the Hunter mile were disappointed.

AND — IN THIS CORNER by BEN COTHRAN

Ballyhoo is a great thing. Ballyhoo has made Mr. Tex Rickard money, has made him the world's premier prize fight promoter, and enabled him to perform such astonishing feats as staging world championship matches with a million dollar gate and 100,000 or more people present.

Ballyhoo, used wisely, is a useful and valuable servant. Ballyhoo used in this manner, you might say, is a good-will ambassador to the prize fight citizenry of the land. But it must be skilful. The public can't say anything about being fooled when it is unaware of being fooled. But make your ballyhoo too obvious and the fans get sore. Naturally. No one minds believing everyone else is gullible. But for himself he has a different feeling.

All of which, finally, has led to a point.

Which concerns Mr. J. Dempsey and his recent retirement—as announced by Mr. Rickard, in Miami, while Mr. Dempsey was in Los Angeles.

Now, why, do you suppose, didn't Mr. Dempsey himself announce that he had retired? When he heard the startling announcement of Rickard's, Jack's statement was: "Fine. That's okay with me. I told Rickard that I wouldn't be ready by June. I may fight again and I may not."

That's what Dempsey said. He didn't seem surprised. And also: "I told Rickard that I wouldn't be ready by June." June doesn't mean September. Jack nor Tex, either one, has said anything about whom Tunney will fight in September. Jack said: "I may fight again and I may not." And what would September be without a Dempsey-Tunney battle of the century?

Then they said something about Dempsey's eyes going bad and that he was wearing spectacles. In the course of 10 years or more in the ring, a man naturally gets much battering about the eyes and it is liable to have its effect on the optic nerves. But they haven't said anything about Mr. Dempsey being blind. And any man who can't see $300,000 must be blind.

It was a nice piece of work by Mr. Rickard. It was February first, when Tex was supposed to post his $100,000 necessary to retain the services of Mr. Tunney—by the way, what's happened to that $100,000? We haven't heard anything of its being posted—and name Tunney's opponent during the summer schedule.

He calmly announced that Tunney would meet the winner of the Heeney-Delaney, Sharkey-Riske elimination and that Dempsey was through.

Which left only one match during the summer for Mr. Tunney and feeling of wonderment in the minds of some why it had been left up to Rickard and not Dempsey to announce the latter's retirement. Just after Tex had publicly announced that he hadn't the faintest idea of what Jack intended doing.

No, Cedric, it begins to look like one of Mr. Rickard's fast ones lost its steam and didn't get over the plate. When Mr. Rickard retires from the promoting game, he ought to clean up writing fairy tales that would outclass those of Andersen.

So now he would have you believe Dempsey has retired. Well, play this one on your phonograph. Dempsey and Tunney will meet for the title this summer. Most likely next September. As we said before, ballyhoo is a great thing when you use it skilfully. It seems that Mr. Rickard didn't this time. Or maybe he did. But we doubt it.

ARMY CAGERS CLASH TODAY AT FORT MAC

The second game of the series between the team from Fort Benning, representing the second battalion, 29th infantry, and the local cagers of the 22d infantry will take place at Fort McPherson on the regular court at 2 o'clock Sunday. The 22d infantry surprised even themselves when they met and defeated a superior team Friday night when they took the 29th infantry into camp 27 to 22. A beautiful combination of Tedesco, Sosebee and Ballentine, the latter at center and the others at forwards, stopped the Benningites cold. It was a decided upset.

The Benningites are sure that they can turn the tide Sunday for Lieutenant "Johnny" Roosma, who failed to arrive Friday in time for the game, will be in the lineup. He is one of the finest basketball players in the country today and this does not bar college or professional players.

The game will get under way at 2 p. m., with Tom Slate as referee.

The Lineup.

29TH INF'NTRY	Pos.	22D INF'NTRY
Roosma	r.f.	Tedesco
Oykrie	l.f.	Sosebee
Kjelstrom	c.	Ballentine
Franz	r.g.	Fortier
McAllister	l.g.	Rowe

Subs—29th Infantry: Regan and Stamper; 22d Infantry: Whatley, Graham, Stanley, Holloway, Laughlin.

Alma Athletic Club Defeats Blackshear

Alma, Ga., February 4.—The Alma Athletic club defeated the fast Blackshear A. C., 34 to 28, last night in Blackshear. This was one of the best games seen in this section this season. The Alma five jumped into the lead at the start and were never headed, although Blackshear rallied in the last half to come close enough to make it for the local five. Lewis, of Alma, was the high point man for the night, having 19 points to his credit. Holland, elongated Blackshear center, was next with 16 points. Both teams played a good brand of ball.

Road Jaunt Will Cover Four Days

Jackets To Finish Season on February 18, Playing Georgia Here.

BY ROGER PAGE.

After a week crammed full of scrimmages with the freshman team, the Georgia Tech basketball club is beginning to show a decided improvement both in the way of defense and offense, in rounding up its practice for the Atlanta Athletic club team which plays the Jackets Wednesday night on the Tech gymnasium.

The game with the A. A. C. will be the last time the Jackets will be seen in action here before the University of Georgia five again come to Atlanta for the third game of the series between these two colleges. One game has been won by each of the two quintets, and this last encounter on February 18 at the auditorium is expected to bring a packed house.

After tackling the A. A. C. on Wednesday night, the Jackets leave on their major road trip of four games. Leaving here on February 9, Coach Roy Mundorff will take his squad to Nashivlle, where the team will clash with the Vanderbilt five on the next night. This game is expected to be the hardest fight of the Jackets while on their trip.

Kentucky Next.

The next encounter will be with the University of Kentucky in Lexington, on February 11. The Jackets will leave the following night for Knoxville. The University of Tennessee is to be played a return game there at this time. In the last encounter with this club, the Jackets outplayed the Tennessee bunch.

Returning from Knoxville, the Jacket five entrains for Tuscaloosa to play the University of Alabama on the fifteenth. The few remaining days after this affair will be taken up with work in preparation for the last game of the season—the University of Georgia Bulldogs. The three-game series with the Bulldogs will terminate with this encounter, and at this time the question of who cops the series will be settled, as each of the two teams have scored one victory over the other.

Squad Works Hard.

The squad has been working hard during the past week engaging the junior Jackets most of the time. Heeke, Player and Goldin have continued to put up a superior brand of basketball, and Ed Harris is acquiring a more skilled eye for the basket. Throughout the whole season, the guarding of Captain Nick George has been above par, and by the time the tournament starts on February 24, George will no doubt already be placed on the all-conference five.

Coleman Nichols, one of the freshman stars of last season has returned to Tech and has reported to Coach Mundorff for work. Nichols is a very small man, but his quickness and sure eye for the rim greatly strengthens the offensive power of the Jackets. Much is expected of this youngster during the remainder of the season.

J. P. C. FIVE MEETS ALBANY "Y" MONDAY

Albany Y against the J. P. C.s is the main attraction of a double bill that is down for decision Monday night at the Jewish Progressive club. As a preliminary attraction the strong J. P. C. Reds will give battle to the Knights of Columbus quint.

The Albany club is one of the strongest in this section and although the local club is in tip top shape at the present time it will take a sparkling brand of the cage game to send the visitors back to Albany with the short end of the count.

The preliminary game should be one of the best junior games of the season. The Red have the remarkable record of having not lost a game in over two years. During this time they have met some of the strongest junior teams in this section.

The game starts at 8:30 o'clock.

GULF AND ALBANY Y MEET TUESDAY.

Albany "Y" will play the Gulf Refining company's quintet here Tuesday on the J. P. C. court at 8:15. The Gulf is one of the few teams to hold a victory over them on their own court. The Gulf came out a 36 to 24 winner when these two met the last night of December.

The Albany five is widely known and needs no introduction, and they will have an opportunity to avenge their early defeat. The Gulf has been going well lately and is now in first place in City league. But the Orange cagers are in for a hard week, meeting three opponents. Besides their Tuesday night's game with the Albany "Y," they play Thursday in the City league and on Saturday they journey to Columbus to meet the Soldiers of Fort Benning. Another h

Flying Cloud Smashes Records

Bettering the record from Los Angeles to Phoenix via Yuma by an hour and 48 minutes; smashing the record from Phoenix to Los Angeles via Blythe by two hours, and establishing a round-trip record of 18 hours and 46 minutes for 925 miles, were the recent accomplishments of a stock Reo Flying Cloud roadster piloted by two non-professional drivers, according to word received from officials of the Reo Motor Car company.

The Reo Flying Cloud checked out at Western Union, Los Angeles, at 1 a. m. and was back again at 9:12 p. m. the same day, making the total elapsed time 20 hours and 12 minutes. Of this, one hour and 26 minutes was "time out" in Phoenix, during which the oil was changed in the Flying Cloud, the two gas tanks were filled and the drivers ate lunch.

The 484 miles via Yuma was made in 8 hours and 34 minutes. The 441 miles back via Blythe was made in 10 hours and 12 minutes. On the outbound trip the car had pavement, with the exception of a few miles of detours until Yuma was reached, when the 204 miles of desert road loomed ahead. The trip back to Los Angeles was all on dirt roads until Mecca was reached, with the exception of a few miles leading out of Phoenix.

Reo officials state that the Flying Cloud roadster was strictly a stock model with the exception of a larger vacuum tank, an extra spring leaf in each rear spring, an 18-gallon gasoline tank located in the rear deck and a battery of extra lights.

Raging sandstorms were encountered between Ontario and Colton, the wind blowing so strongly that there was a constant fight to keep the car on the road. Another windstorm was blowing between Holtville and Yuma in the sand dune country, sending fine particles of sand whipping against the windshield and stinging the faces of the driver and pilot until it was necessary to tie handkerchiefs over the part of their faces not protected by helmets and goggles.

Reo officials say that there is no test of a car which can equal a road test such as this one. In addition to a long, steady grind at speeds that are bound to disclose any weakness which may be present, the car must stop quickly for holes or dips, it must pick up speed again quickly to maintain the average, the motor must run cool in hot weather during the daytime and keep its efficient heat during the hours of darkness when the wind is cold and raw. The steel and steel-alloys used are given a most severe test by the sharp, trip-hammer blows that they receive from smashing road shocks. Carburetion and ignition must be faultless, for there is no time to check trouble and fix it and there are no expert mechanics waiting to help out in time of difficulty.

At no time during the gruelling run was the Reo Flying Cloud stopped for repairs and its performance proved conclusively why the metropolitan section of the Society of Automotive Engineers voted it closest to their "ideal" car.

NEW PRICES BOOST DEMAND FOR CHRYSLER

Greater public interest in Chrysler cars than ever before at this season of any year has followed the lowering of prices, effective January 10, for its new "52" and great new "62," according to reports received by J. W. Frazer, Chrysler sales manager. The savings to the public range from $50 to $100 on various body styles.

In the "52" line three body styles, two of them closed cars, are now priced at $670 at the factory. They are the coupe, two-door sedan and roadster. In the "62" line the business coupe is factory priced at $1,065, the roadster at $1,075 and the two-door sedan at $1,095.

Distributors and dealers throughout the country are reporting greater attendance at their showrooms and larger buying volume, with many orders being booked for future delivery, according to factory checkings. Among the largest cities to report definite increases are New York, Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston, Cleveland, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Atlanta, Baltimore, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and Dallas. Smaller market centers from every part of the country have also felt the greater Chrysler buying.

Chicago reports a greater attendance at Chrysler salesrooms during the week following the announcement of lower prices than during any previous entire month of January. Both in New York and Detroit more retail orders for "52" and "62" cars were written during the week following the announcement of the savings than during all of January, 1927.

Mr. Frazer points out that greater public demand, which has resulted in Chrysler achieving, for 1928, third place among all motor car manufacturers in the sales records of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, has made these substantial savings in cost to the general public possible.

Business Women To Hear Sutton Address Today

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, will deliver an address before a gathering of the Business Women's league of the Second Baptist church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The theme of Mr. Sutton's talk will be "The Business Woman as a Citizen," and it is expected that a large attendance will be present. It is understood that the educator's address will embrace three phases—the duty of the woman in business as a voter; the relationship of the business woman property holder to her activities as a citizen, and the necessity for the preservation of womanly dignity and feminine charm by the woman in business.

One of the ideas which is expected to be emphasized by the speaker will be the importance of the woman in business to maintain the standard of feminine attraction and at the same time preserve the dignity of her sex in commercial relations of every-day business life. Mr. Sutton, who is an outstanding proponment of feminine progress, will detail his ideals during his address, which will be delivered in the main Sunday school auditorium of the church.

Mrs. Frederic J. Paxon is president of the league, and Miss Mary Ella Yancey, chairman.

SIDNEY ZIMMERMAN INSTALLED AS HEAD OF I. O. B. A. LODGE

Sidney Zimmerman was installed as president of the Independent Shearith Israel lodge No. 587, I. O. B. A., at a recent meeting of the lodge, during which other newly-elected officers took office, it was announced Saturday.

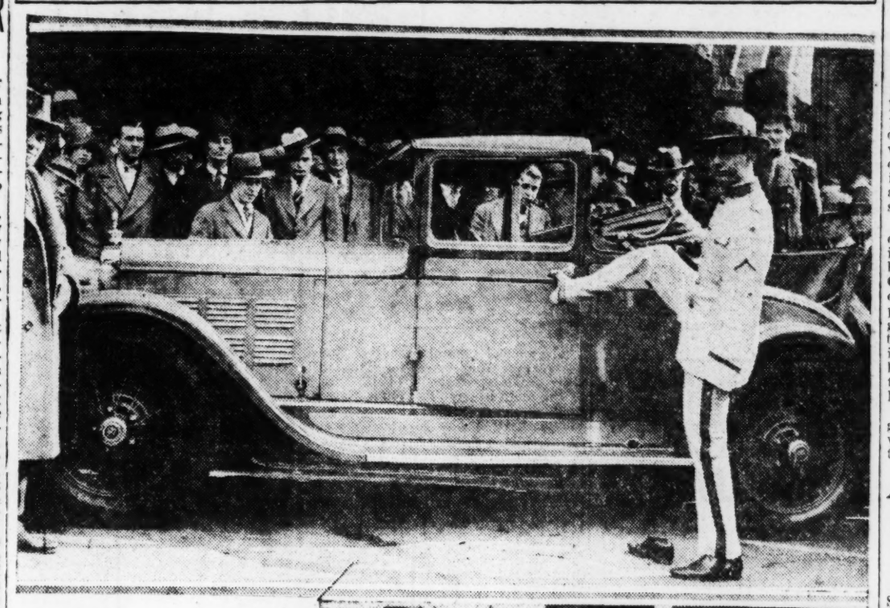

In addition to Mr. Zimmerman the following were installed: Louis Rittenbaum, vice-president; M. Rosenberg, treasurer; I. Borochoff, recording secretary; J. Frank, corresponding secretary, and D. M. B. Copelott, physician.

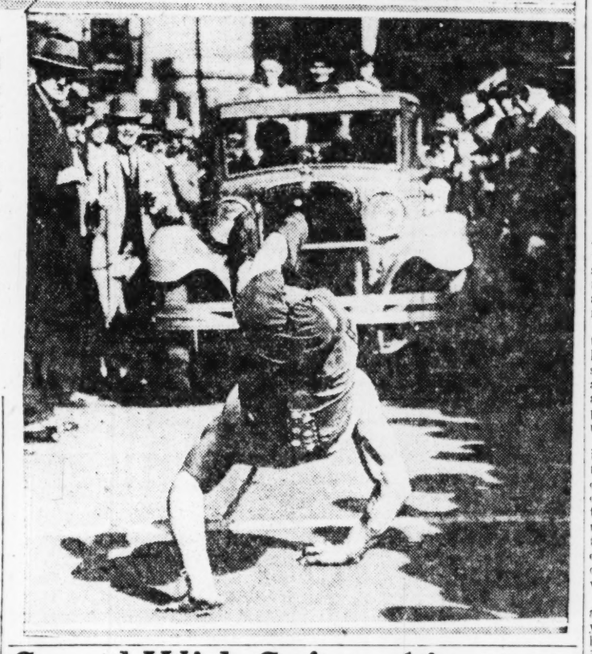

The meeting was featured by the attendance of both men and women members, which is said to be the first time in the history of any lodge affiliated with the I. O. B. A. that this has taken place.

Anniversary Service.

The first anniversary of the new Capitol View Baptist church will be celebrated at 6:30 o'clock Sunday morning with a sunrise prayer meeting at the church. L. R. Castleberry, superintendent of the Bible school, will be in charge.

Freaks Find Dodge Six Easy To Handle

Easy to handle? Ask the two queer gents from Loew's Grand collection of freaks, who last week appeared in a unique stunt with a Dodge Brothers senior line six cabriolet. Above is seen "the armless wonder" from the Loew Grand cast opening the door of the car with versatile toes preparatory to driving the Dodge through the downtown traffic. Below, "The Spider Boy," who walks on his hands and pulls the car with his teeth. The stunts were staged at Peachtree and Walton streets.

DR. W. R. DOBYNS TO ADDRESS MEN AT DAILY MEETS

Dr. William Ray Dobyns, pastor of the South Highland Presbyterian church in Birmingham, will hold a series of meetings here for men, beginning Monday, according to Dr. W. E. Davis, of the Central Presbyterian church.

At 12:30 o'clock daily, beginning Monday and continuing through Friday, a luncheon service at which Dr. Dobyns will talk will be held in the dining room of the Kimball house. In addition, he will talk each evening at the Central church at 7:30 o'clock.

Psychology Lecture.

"What All the World Is Seeking" will be the subject of the lecture in applied psychology to be given by Mrs. Rose Mae Ashby, psychologist, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the mahogany room of the Ansley hotel.

Speed With Safety Aim Of Franklin Builders

The force of public opinion interested in safe and sane driving, shows a pronounced drift from the craze for tremendous top speeds to a demand for the more practical and efficient high average speed or miles per day, according to H. H. Franklin, president of the Franklin Automobile company of Syracuse, N. Y.

Mr. Franklin points to a study of accidents made recently in the west wherein it was proved the greatest number occurred on long, straight stretches rather than on curves or crossings, proving the correctness of the growing belief that high speed spurts for short distances over straight roads are more hazardous than high average speeds maintained mile after mile.

"Most manufacturers are beginning to recognize this trend," Mr. Franklin stated, "and are beginning to construct their cars with the thought of an easy 60-mile-an-hour performance and a roadability and reserve power permitting a high average speed even under unfavorable road conditions.

"With greatly increased dependability in motor cars, the motorist is taking longer and more trips in his car. Looking far into the future, we can see ribbons of concrete stretching from coast to coast and interlinking roads that would make motoring easy to all parts of the United States. Four or five hundred miles per day will be common shortly on these super-highways.

"Franklin engineers have built toward the present motoring condition for years. The Franklin airman of today has high speed and fast acceleration, it is true, but always uppermost in our minds has been the thought of making this speed usable over all conditions of roads with safety and absolute comfort.

"We have long advocated fast travel—most miles in a day's run and have succeeded in making the Franklin a fast car that can maintain top speeds all day without fatigue to the car, driver or passengers. These features are more and more appreciated as motorists use their cars for longer trips and demand that these trips shall leave them fresh enough for business or pleasure at the end of the day's run."

GARAGE MEN TO HOLD MEETING

An interesting meeting of the Atlanta Garage association is being planned for the evening of Wednesday, February 8, at 6:30 o'clock with supper on the roof garden of the Cecil hotel, at which time important problems confronting garage men will be taken up for discussion.

The Garage association is composed of 35 leading garages of the city, and is affiliated with and a part of the big Atlanta Automobile association. Only those garages equipped to turn out high-class work and manned by personnel of the highest type are eligible for membership, the plan being to absolutely guarantee to the motoring public that they will receive the highest quality work obtainable when they deal with a member of the Atlanta Garage association.

The 1928 officers are: John Hargrave, president; Raleigh Drennon, vice president; J. S. Cannon, secretary-treasurer.

AUTOMOBILE BODY FORMS 3 BRANCHES DURING PAST WEEK

Three new branches of the Georgia State Automobile association were formed during the past week, A. W. McKeand, executive director, said Saturday.

The first of these was at Homerville, Clinch county, with a membership of 30. The next was at Vienna, Dooly county, with an enrollment of 25.

The third is made up of five towns along state highway No. 9, with headquarters at Cumming. Dahlonega, Dawsonville, Cumming, Alpharetta and Roswell are the towns included in the Cumming branch, which has 76 members.

Spinning Cord for Tires Is an Intricate Process

Akron, Ohio, February 4.—Figures leap from thousands into the dizzy millions, in dealing with the intricate process of the manufacture of cotton cord for automobile tires. For example, 4,320 loose fluffy slivers of cotton are spun into one cord. A silver is the long, light, round, ribband of cotton fibers as it comes from the carding machine which has separated the dross from the longest fibers. During the many processes in which the thousands of slivers are made into a strong uniform cord, the drawing and spinning process draws the slivers out to more than 3,000,000 times their original length.

Textile experts in the modern spinning laboratory at Akron, where Miller tires are made, are authority for the startling figures in connection with the spinning of tire cord. In this modern spinning mill each process is illustrated on modern machinery from the bale of raw cotton to the finished cord. Beginning with the slivers, as they come from the carding machine, they are drawn and twisted through several machines until the small strong cord is completed in perfect uniformity. A yard of sliver is so loose and fluffy that it has almost no tensile strength, but 4,320 of them twisted together make a cord that will sustain 22 pounds, although only 30 thousands of an inch in diameter.

Miller tire engineers explain that there are 26 cords to a square inch of tire carcass. With 4,320 slivers to the cord it may be seen that there are a total of 112,320 slivers to the inch of cords. In a tire of six plys of cord fabric there is a total of 673,920 slivers to the six-ply inch of cord carcass. It is estimated that a two-inch rope cable made of tire cord would sustain a weight of 30 tons. This great strength is achieved through the drawing processes in the spinning, which mesh and intertwine the silky cotton fibers into cords of exceptional strength and uniformity.

Careful Manufacturing Practiced in Nash Cars

The qualities of smooth performance possessed by the Nash seven-bearing crankshaft motor are the result of careful and expert manufacturing with the finest equipment available as much as from the excellence of the seven-bearing principle itself, according to Nash production heads who are responsible for the manufacturing system used in the Nash Motors company crankshaft division.

It is undoubtedly true that both factors contribute materially to the result obtained. The seven-bearing principle of crankshaft construction is based on fundamental engineering principles.

Most automobile owners know that the function of the crankshaft is to convert the power strokes of the pistons and connecting rods into a rotary motion. They understand that this up-and-down force tends to throw a crankshaft out of line and cause vibration which is very annoying to the occupants of the car as well as destructive to the engine. Engineers say that the better a crankshaft is supported throughout its length, the more impossible is it for vibration to occur.

Furnishes Most Support.

The Nash seven-bearing crankshaft on the shaft, and thus furnishes the has a bearing at every possible point most support it is possible to obtain. There is a big bearing at each side of every connecting rod to help support the terrific pounding from the power strokes of the engine. The result is an engine of remarkable smoothness at every speed. But this smoothness is due equally to the care used in producing the shaft. In all there are 35 separate and distinct manufacturing operations in the manufacture of every Nash crankshaft.

With the adoption of the seven-bearing crankshaft, the Nash Motors company remodeled its entire crankshaft department so that the shaft might be produced under the most favorable conditions possible. The newest and most highly refined mechanical equipment has been installed, and an extremely rigid inspection system maintained at all times.

For instance, five inspections for straightness are made during the construction of a single shaft. In each instance the shaft must be within one-thousandth of an inch of absolute straightness before it can progress further in production.

Every Operation Checked.

Also, and in addition to the final inspections, every operation performed during production is checked with scientific instruments of absolute accuracy. As a final touch, all bearings on the shaft are lapped or polished at the same time by an ingenuous machine.

Balance is an important factor in any unit of machinery which rotates on its own axis, and balance is doubly important in a crankshaft, since it is on this factor more than anything else that the smoothness of the finished engine depends. Nash uses balancing machines which weigh over a thousand pounds each, but which are so sensitive that they register the weight of the human breath blown upon them.

By means of this highly perfected equipment, even the slightest deviation from absolute dynamic balance is instantly detected.

Another inspection checks the crankshaft for accurate static balance which is an added check on all previous operations. The size of the bearing is gauged by a micrometer, which fixes a limit of one-thousandth of an inch.

This careful manufacturing, plus accurate checking and inspection, must be given credit for the effective application of the seven-bearing principle to the 24 Nash models. Although these models cover a wide price range, every one of them has a seven-bearing crankshaft which is manufactured with exactly the same degree of precision.

Whippet Sales Disclose Tremendous Gain Here

Indicating the tremendous development of demand for automobiles and reflecting the prosperity of this city and state, Ed Parker, manager of the local branch of the Willys-Overland company, announced Saturday that Whippet sales in Georgia during January, 1928, exceeded those of the same month in 1927 by more than 1,000 cars.

This increase is over 700 more Whippet cars than were sold in the entire six southeastern states in January of 1927, Mr. Parker continued.

"We would have been able to exceed even this remarkable feat of distribution," Mr. Parker added, "but for the fact that we were unable to get more Whippet cars for delivery.

"Our factories are running night and day, but despite this fact the local branch could not get enough cars to fill the demand. This was true the entire country over."

Mr. Parker also said that over 50 new Whippet-Willys-Knight dealers have been appointed in Georgia in the last 30 days, with every prospect for splendid business.

He said that he is in receipt of information that since last Monday the factory is turning out Whippets at the rate of one every minute, and with four complete assembly lines working at full capacity the peak of production will soon be reached.

Producing a Whippet a Minute

Prepared for record production as a result of the sensational price cuts in the Whippet cars, the assembly line at the Willys-Overland plant was a scene of high activity the past week. Workmen are shown assembling the Whippet coach on one of the four tracks, a finished Whippet leaves the line every minute.

Have You a Model T Ford?
Are your brakes good?

TRIPLEWEAR transmission lining will reduce strain on drums, gears and axles, as thousands of fleet owners have proved to their satisfaction.

TRIPLEWEAR
succeeds where others fail!

All Ford agents, garages and service stations will gladly install TRIPLEWEAR in your Ford.

Try TRIPLEWEAR once and you will never use any other transmission lining.

TRIPLEWEAR delivery requirements are instantly met by automotive territorial jobbers.

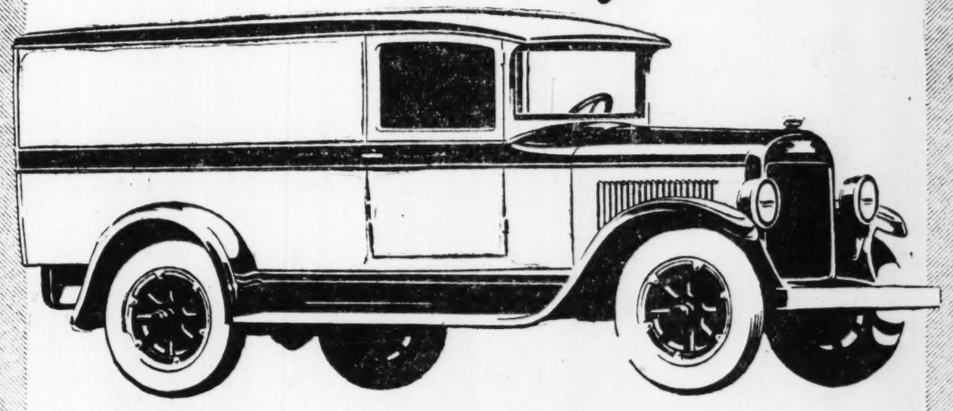

TRIPLEWEAR has never been equalled

$2.25 per set

All inquiries and orders are given special attention by the DURWYLLAN COMPANY, Inc.
PATERSON, N. J.
Manufacturers of Triplewear and Wirebestos Brake Lining, who guarantee their products.

"Charlie" Ellis
(Former Proprietor)
Announces the Re-Opening of
ELLIS' GARAGE
85 Houston St. WAlnut 9561
Complete Shop Equipment—Expert Mechanics Experienced on All Make Cars
Personal Supervision
Day and Night Service
Lowest Storage Rates in the City

Here it is!

The Tonner
the Newest Reo Speed Wagon

6 cylinders, L type head
3¼-inch bore, 4-inch stroke
Unit power plant
4-point suspension
7-bearing crankshaft
Aluminum alloy pistons
Thermostatic temperature control
Semi-automatic spark control
Single-plate clutch

Coupe Cab
Available as chassis alone
cab and chassis or three standard body styles:
Full panel body
Stake body
Express body
(with or without canopy top)

4-wheel internal hydraulic brakes
123-inch wheelbase
Irreversible steering gear
Extra long semi-elliptic springs
Malleable iron artillery wheels
Automatic chassis oiling
(Myers Patent)
Fully equipped throughout

A Speed Wagon for 93% of all Hauling Jobs

Junior — Capacity up to one-half ton
Tonner — Capacity up to one ton
Standard — Capacity up to a ton and a half
Master — Capacity up to two tons
Heavy Duty — Capacity up to three tons

REO MOTOR CAR COMPANY Lansing, Michigan

SPEED WAGON
for faster, surer, easier, cheaper hauling

Reo Sales and Service, Inc.
419 Peachtree, N. E. WAlnut 6432-6433

Presidents Ride on Generals

Here are Presidents Coolidge and Machado on their way to sessions of the Pan-American congress during the recent visit to Havana. It was pointed out by General Tire and Rubber company officials, who examined this International News photo, that the car bears General tires.

Whippet Has Important Rank in Light Car Field

With the perfected Whippet occupying the most conspicuous position in its history in the light four-cylinder field, Willys-Overland merchants throughout the nation report that buyers are paying more careful attention to the mechanical details of this car, which 18 months ago set a new trend for modern car design.

These merchants further state that car quality and proven performance likewise are major factors considered on the part of buyers.

It is said that recent developments in the light car field have emphasized the fundamental features which were introduced by the Whippet and which have been steadily maintained in its production. Motor car authorities say that in its basic elements of construction, the Whippet remains as distinctly advanced as when it was first presented.

The Whippet, engineers state, still has the only motor in the light four-cylinder class that actually develops 100 per cent more power than its official rating and which develops this power with actual savings in cost of operation.

Power, speed, economy and stamina accomplishments of the Whippet have set a new high standard of performance in the light car field since its initial presentation 18 months ago. Since that time the combined mileage of the Whippets in the field is estimated at a half billion miles.

Willys-Overland officials declare that the recent reduction in Whippet prices, which places these modern cars in direct price competition with the lowest priced cars, was not an attempt to meet a price situation for it was definitely decided that the original Whippet quality and beauty should be maintained regardless of what prices could be reached.

It is pointed out that part for part and specification for specification, the perfected Whippet duplicates the original car in every detail of quality and workmanship with even greater value being offered at the new prices in some details of construction.

The tremendous sales volume is cited as evidence of public acceptance of the Whippet, and an indication of its quality leadership in the light four class.

New?

No---Duco!

Let us refinish your car in one of the beautiful new Dupont Duco color schemes. You'll be delighted. Its trade-in and resale value will be greater, too. Drive by this week and let's talk it over.

A-C-Miller & Co.
17 COURTLAND STREET N.E.
— WRECKED BODIES REBUILT —
DUCO REFINISHING-FENDERS STRAIGHTENED
Phone WALNUT 1991-1992
Established 1889

BABY HEALTH CENTERS ANNOUNCED FOR WEEK

Baby health centers for this week will be established in the following places, it was announced Saturday by Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer. Mothers are invited to bring infants and children up to four years of age.

The centers will open promptly at 1:30 p. m., at each of the following schools: Tuesday, at Adair school; Wednesday at Fair Street school; Thursday at Forrest Avenue school, and Friday at the J. L. Key school.

STUDEBAKER REPORTS LARGEST JANUARY SALES

South Bend, Ind., February 4.—Retail sales of Studebaker and Erskine cars during the first 20 days of January, 1928, were the largest for any similar period in Studebaker history, exceeding by 51 per cent the corresponding period of 1927, according to announcement made today by A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker corporation. Of the 23 Studebaker branches in the United States, all but one contributed to this increase, which shows that gains are nation-wide.

The figures from which these reports were compiled are based upon the actual delivery of Studebaker cars to the public rather than factory production or sales to dealers, it was stated.

This report follows closely upon increased retail deliveries during the last 12 ten-day periods of 1927 in 11 of which Studebaker and Erskine deliveries by dealers were substantially higher than during the corresponding periods of 1926.

The rapidly mounting sales of Studebaker and Erskine cars, especially since January 1, are made doubly significant by a report issued by an authoritative automotive survey service. This report, dealing with retail automobile sales for the industry as a whole, states: "Retail sales show no improvement and are actually below seasonal levels as compared with other years."

WAYCROSS AIR FIELD WILL BE INSPECTED

Waycross, Ga., February 4.—William C. Wakefield, president and general manager of the Dixie and Northern Passenger Air line from Detroit to Miami, will arrive in Waycross at noon next Thursday to inspect the local landing field.

Mr. Wakefield has already announced that Rome and Atlanta will be stopping points on this air route and it is hoped to secure for Waycross a similar designation.

DODGE BROTHERS HIT ON NEW PLAN

A new note in automotive merchandising has been struck by Dodge Brothers in the Transportation exposition to be held in Philadelphia February 6-18, inclusive. Under one roof and occupying a floor space of 44,000 square feet, all of the passenger car types, trucks, commercial cars and coaches made by Dodge Brothers and its Graham Brothers truck division, will be displayed for a period of two weeks—admission free. The exposition is to be held under the auspices of the Dodge Brothers dealer, Thornton-Fuller Auto company, and in the latter's maintenance plant, Twenty-fourth and Bainbridge streets.

This is to be the most complete exposition of automotive transportation ever shown by a single company in Philadelphia and quite likely in the United States. Mayor H. A. Mackey, of Philadelphia, will make the opening speech, which will be broadcast over Station WFI. There will be 148 trucks, cars and commercial vehicles, including 19 passenger car types shown. All of the usual truck body types will be exhibited as well as many of those rarely seen in an automotive show, such as line wagons used by telephone companies, oil tank trucks and truck chassis with a wide variety of special equipment.

Five different truck sizes ranging from one-half ton to two tons capacity and powered with four-cylinder and six-cylinder Dodge Brothers engines will be displayed. The whole field of truck uses will be covered, so that any business man, no matter in what field he is interested, will find the show educative. Those who designed the exposition have made it as comprehensive as possible. To this end, many manufacturers of special equipment of Dodge Brothers engines and chassis will show their equipment and send their representatives to the exposition to demonstrate the uses of their products.

The passenger cars are being shown in such types as are adapted for commercial use, such as equipment for sales representatives. A complete line of motor busses and motor coaches will be shown, including school busses.

Dodge Brothers dealers within a radius of 20 miles are planning to attend the exposition and to have many of their prospects visit the display, embracing the opportunity to see so many different types of commercial motor vehicles displayed at one time.

There have been half a dozen automotive shows, aiming to be comprehensive, held in the middle west, but in the Philadelphia Transportation exposition it is the plan of the Dodge Brothers officials to cover the automotive field completely and with the products of a single company.

DODGE BROTHERS SPEED UP ALL PRODUCTION

Due to the volume of Victory Six orders that have been received since January 5, when this latest Dodge Brothers product was announced, it is estimated by factory officials that a large percentage of the passenger car production during the year will be Victory Six models. Plans for 1928 also include an increase in the production of Standard Four equipped with four-wheel brakes and a larger production of Senior Sixes.

In the truck division, due to the fact that Graham Brothers has just completed the most prosperous year in its history, building of trucks and commercial cars in five capacities will continue. The line consists of four and six-cylinder motor coaches, commercial cars and trucks of two-ton, one and one-half-ton, one-ton and one-half-ton capacities.

More than a year and a half was required to perfect the Victory Six which is priced between the Standard Four and the Senior Line, ranging from $1,045 to $1,170 f. o. b. Detroit.

Grilling tests during which approximately 1,000,000 miles were rolled up by engineers in both experimental and actual-production models preceded the formal announcement of the Victory. One of the test cars on durability runs was kept going on the highways until its speedometer showed over 100,000 miles; speed performances on the Indianapolis track demonstrated that the car was capable of maintaining nearly 70 miles an hour as an average in thousand-mile grinds. For months preliminary to the formal announcement, Victory Six models have been subjected to all sorts and conditions of roadwork in all parts of the United States; their drivers taking them 14,000 feet up mountains and far below sea level on western deserts.

Officials of the Dodge company state that the new car embodies several basic innovations in automotive construction and design. To provide road-holding qualities necessary for high speeds and at the same time to permit the low sweeping body lines dictated by fashion without sacrificing roominess or road clearance, Dodge Brothers is employing a design entirely new to the industry. The body and the chassis frame, in the Victory Six, are a single unit.

Because conventional sills and cross-members are done away with, the center of gravity is closer to the road and the over-all height of the car is about at the ordinary man's hat brim. The low center of gravity and union of chassis and body are said to have a marked stabilizing effect, reducing side sway and adding greatly to riding comfort. The frame of the Victory Six chassis is so deep that no splash shields are necessary, thus eliminating a source of noise.

Further structural distinctiveness has been obtained by a novel type of body design, which might be described as a steel shell welded inside an outer steel shell to form a double wall with an air space between. What automotive engineers graphically and untechnically described as "tin-panning" in steel body construction effectually has been suppressed by perforations and other sound-deadening devices; leaving, they assert, strength, lightness, appearance and absence of rattles as a net gain.

The engine developed exclusively for the Victory Six is an L-head, medium duty type, with bore of 3 3-8 inches and stroke of 3 7-8 inches. Pistons are aluminum alloy. Seven bearings support the crankshaft, which turns approximately 1,285 revolutions per mile at 25 miles an hour and about 3,350 revolutions per mile at 65 miles an hour. Because of rigid support and careful balancing of the 52-pound crankshaft, no counterweights or other vibration dampeners are needed. Gearshift positions are S. A. E. standard; namely, lever to left and back for low and to right and back for high.

Four-wheel Lockheed hydraulic foot brakes expand internally against drums 12 inches in diameter. The parking brake contracts on the propeller shaft.

The entire passenger car production of Dodge Brothers, in all three models, will be supplied in wide varieties of color combinations.

Buick Speeds Up Educated Horse

There is no rivalry between Red River, the educated horse shown in the trailer, and the automobile. Instead a Buick coupe is greatly extending Red River's range of activity by hauling him around the country. The horse is famous in the northwest as a star performer at the various roundups and stampedes. His owner, Bob Ingersoll, Bob Russell and Mickey O'Hara are shown beside the Buick.

Automobile Proved Aid To This Horse; He Rides

What has become of the horse that used to kick the dashboard to bits and wrap the buggy around the nearest telephone pole at a motor car's approach?

That particular horse, as observation anywhere in this country will prove, is entirely extinct. The equine race, like the human race, has undergone a great change in its attitude toward the motor car. Horses and automobiles now get along amicably in the same streets, and runaways are a rarity.

While the motor car has demonstrated its superiority for purposes of rapid transportation, the horse still holds a very important position, both in the economic world and in that of sport. It is here that the two may often be seen working together, automobiles with trailers being employed to haul racing mounts around the various circuits.

"Red River" is one of the best educated horses of the northwest. In this country, where to be regarded as good, a horse must excel, "Red River" has made a name for himself in roping and riding stunts. If anyone should remark to him that the automobile had displaced the horse, he would emit a loud and raucous horse laugh.

"Red River" is used by Bob Ingersoll, Bob Russell, and Mickey O'Hara in rodeo work throughout the cow country east of the mountains. All his riding from one round-up and stampede to another is done in a trailer hauled by Ingersoll's Buick coupe. The automobile, instead of putting him out of business, has enlarged his field by hundreds of miles, and enabled him to enter virtually all the events in the territory.

The three cowboys, "Red River" and the Buick make a spectacular quintette, rambling from one town to another. Like his owners, the horse rides in style and seems to enjoy himself to the limit.

WENTE NAMED AGENT FOR MOBILE & OHIO

I. H. Wente has been appointed commercial agent of the Mobile & Ohio railroad in Atlanta, succeeding F. J. Young, who has been transferred to Chicago as northwestern freight agent. The appointment became effective February 1.

E. B. Farrell has been appointed freight traffic manager with headquarters at St. Louis and with jurisdiction over the Atlanta territory which includes Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, east Tennessee and Virginia.

STATE TIRE DEALERS TO MEET IN MACON

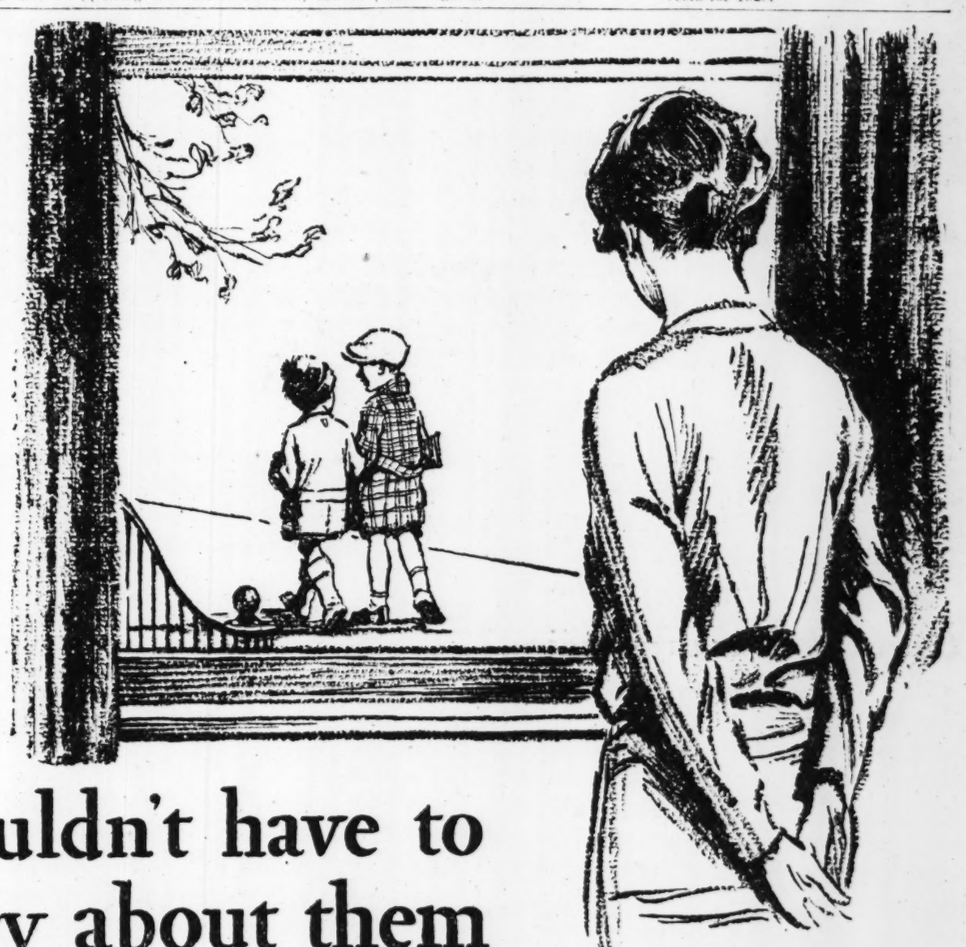

Enthusiastic responses received from tire dealers all over the state to letters mailed out recently from Atlanta to more than 1,200 Georgia tire dealers, point to a successful convention at Macon, February 8 and 9, when several hundred leading tire dealers will assemble for the purpose of organizing a state tire dealers' association. The Georgia tire dealers, in taking this step are following the lead of a number of other progressive states which have formed associations for the purpose of working more closely together and rendering more efficient service to their customers.

A statewide committee, consisting of leading tire dealers located at strategic points throughout the state, is boosting the convention in all sections and working up a large attendance.

The committee met recently in Atlanta and outlined the program for the two-day convention. Representatives from associations in Macon, Savannah, Augusta, Atlanta and other cities will deliver addresses on the benefits received from their respective local associations. There will also be round-table discussions of important subjects affecting the retail tire dealers, while short addresses will be delivered by tire factory representatives present at the convention.

The feature address on February 8 will be delivered by a representative from the National Tire Dealers' association who has specialized on state organization work, and the feature address on February 9 will be delivered by H. D. Horton, of the H. D. Horton company, Charlotte, N. C., a director of the National Tire Dealers' association. He will speak on "The part played by associations in the merchandising of tires."

The climax of the first day's session will be a splendid banquet in the Hotel Dempsey. The afternoon of Thursday, February 9, reports of committees previously appointed will be received, including the report of the nominating committee to select officers for 1928.

"I wouldn't have to worry about them if I had my own car"

(It will be a pleasure for the Buick dealer in your community to give you skilled, courteous instruction in driving a Buick. Simply phone him—make an appointment—and he will gladly teach you. It is a part of his obligation as a Buick dealer.)

Mother would feel much more at ease if she could carry the children to and from school in her own Buick, instead of having to send them forth to brave the traffic on foot.

Those children mean more to her—and to you—than all the money in the world.

Seeing them safely to school is only one of the advantages of having a Buick for the home as well as for business use. Shopping—social calls—a hundred and one duties of the modern woman—all would be simpler and easier for "her".

You've often thought of the handicap she faces while you're away in the car. You've often thought that you should make yours a two-Buick family.

Three Buick body-types sell for only $1195. Purchase can be made on the G.M.A.C. plan if desired. Why not talk the matter over in family conference tonight?

SEDANS $1195 to $1995
COUPES $1195 to $1850
SPORT MODELS $1195 to $1525

All prices f. o. b. Flint, Mich., government tax to be added. The G. M. A. C. finance plan, the most desirable, is available.

"Make yours a two-Buick family"

BUICK

D. C. Black
330 Peachtree St.
Atlanta

Atlanta Branch
512 Spring St.
Atlanta

Decatur Buick Co.
Court Square
Decatur

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

$1595
SEDAN F.O.B. DETROIT

They Challenge Comparison with the Proudest

Dodge Brothers magnificent Seniors have already achieved a unique and enviable distinction.

By delivering a quality of power unknown to their price class, they are no longer thought of in their price class, but challenge constant comparison with the proudest names in motordom.

Records of Senior brilliance are daily pouring in from all parts of America, and invariably the trend of owner enthusiasm runs the same—

"No car at any price can surpass Senior performance" . . . "I have owned several cars that cost more, but have never so thoroughly enjoyed driving" . . . "I should like to broadcast my impression of your new Senior. It is splendid!"

Once take the Senior wheel and you will understand why business men, unsolicited, are writing letters of this character to Dodge Brothers.

Tune in on WSB for Dodge Brothers Radio Program every Thursday night 7:00 to 7:30 N. B. C. Red Network

519 N. McDonough, Decatur, Ga. LAMBETH-ESKRIDGE MOTOR CO. 121 E. Solomon St., Griffin, Ga.
452 Peachtree Street

ASSOCIATE DEALERS:

R. B. ASKEW & CO. Newnan, Ga.
A. O. BENSON Marietta, Ga.
J. H. BAZWELL Canton, Ga.
H. N. REAGIN Carrollton, Ga.
WEAVER & PITTMAN Covington, Ga.
BROOKS & WATSON Lithonia, Ga.

DODGE BROTHERS Senior Six

THE VICTORY SIX AND AMERICA'S FASTEST FOUR ALSO ON DISPLAY

Improved Weather Outlook Brings Lower Cotton Prices

NEW YORK COTTON RANGE.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
March	17.10	17.17	16.92	16.97-17	17.14
May	17.25	17.35	17.10	17.14-16	17.30
July	17.32	17.41	17.20	17.22-25	17.38
Oct.	17.16	17.16	17.00	17.01-02	17.18
Dec.	17.16	17.18	16.99	16.99-01	17.20

NEW ORLEANS COTTON RANGE.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
March	17.00	17.02	16.80	16.81-82	16.98
May	17.00	17.06	16.81	16.83-85	17.02
July	17.06	17.10	16.87	16.89-90	17.09
Oct.	16.87	16.88	16.68	16.70	16.88
Dec.	16.89	16.94	16.71	16.72	16.90

NEW ORLEANS SPOT COTTON.

New Orleans, February 4.—Spot cotton closed steady, 17 points down. Sales 1,185, low middling 16.27, middling 17.02; good middling 17.42. Receipts 3,602; stock 512,578.

CHICAGO COTTON RANGE.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Prev. Close
March	16.97	17.01	16.97	16.94
May	17.10	17.15	17.09	17.12
July	17.13	17.16	17.13	17.16
October	16.96	16.96	16.96	17.00

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Better weather reports from the southwest and uncertainty of the labor situation in Lancashire, were factors on the decline in the cotton market today. After selling up from 17.24 to 17.35, May broke to 17.10 and closed at 17.14, the general market closing steady at net declines of 16 to 23 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 to 8 points. Initial selling orders were comparatively light, and the market stiffened up after the call on covering and local buying probably inspired by firmer Liverpool cables than anticipated. March sold up to 17.17 or 3 points net higher, while October rallied from 17.10 to 17.16, or within 2 points of yesterday's closing quotations.

This bulge met increased offerings, however, and the forenoon market broke quite sharply on reports of rains in the western belt, which traders evidently thought would extend into west Texas where moisture is believed to be seriously needed. There appeared to be a renewal of old long liquidation on the decline which uncovered stop orders, the break extending to 16.92 for March and 17 for October or about 18 to 23 points net lower. Closing quotations were a few points up from the lowest on covering.

Private cable advices said the relatively steady tone of Liverpool was due to covering with trade calling and continental buying, but that political disturbances in India were checking business in cotton goods at Manchester and that cotton yarn sales were running below production. Later advices from Manchester said the labor situation there was considered serious, as employers were expected to insist upon a reduction in wages and increase in working hours, proposals which were rejected by employees at a conference yesterday.

The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 98,476 bales, against 160,121 last year, and 91,283 two years ago.

DOWNWARD TREND AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, February 4.—(AP)—The cotton market was dominated mainly by reports of precipitation in the drouth section of the belt today and although prices had some moderate rallies the general trend was downward.

March contracts after selling up to 17.02 gradually eased off on selling induced by the rains and on placing of hedges until it reached 16.80. Following a rally of 6 points, in the late trading the option closed at 16.81, 17 points net down. The general market closed steady at net decline of 17 to 20 points.

Although Liverpool cables were higher than due the execution of some overnight selling orders influenced an easy opening here, but the market soon responded to the relative firmness of Liverpool and May traded to 17.06 and July to 17.10, 2 to 4 points net up.

Many indications of relief for the drouth-stricken section of the western part of the belt induced moderate selling and this coupled with home hedging forced May down to 16.82 and July to 16.90 20 to 24 points under the highs and 18 to 20 points below the previous close.

After rallying 5 to 8 points in the late trading final quotations showed a loss of approximately $1 a bale net with May at 16.83 and July 16.70.

Exports for the day totalled 20,860 bales.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, February 4.—Completion of the Mobile-Calvert extension of the Alabama, Tennessee & Northern railroad, opening a new and additional trade territory to the port of Mobile, is announced by John T. Cochrane, president of the road. It provides by physical connection and close traffic agreement with the St. Louis-San Francisco, direct and quick service between Alabama's port and 17 northern and western states served by the Frisco and its connection with the Rock Island.

Steel hoop price differentials have been placed on a lump sum basis by Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation as of January 30. On quantities less than 1,000 pounds, the extra is $10; on 1,000 to 1,999 pounds, $6, and on 2,000 to 3,999 pounds, $3.

Gould Coupler company had net profit of $52,118 for 1927, equal to 30 cents a share on the class "A" stock, against $191,669 in 1926, or $1.09 a share. The fourth quarter showed net loss of $101,102.

R. G. Dun and company reports 571 commercial failures in the United States this week, against 646 the week before and 570 a year ago.

Receipts of lead in ore during December by smelters in the United States and Mexico were 77,444 short tons, against 79,787 in November and 77,074 in October, the American Bureau of Metal Statistics reports.

Sales of W. T. Grant company for the fiscal year ended January 31 were $43,743,223, an increase of $7,669,319 over the preceding year.

Buses in use in the United States on January 1 totaled 85,636 against 79,806 a year ago and 40,000 five years ago, says the annual survey on bus transportation. It is estimated buses carried 2,525,000,000 passengers in 1927, an increase of 120,000,000.

Cotton Statement

Port Movement.

New Orleans: Middling, 17.02; receipts, 1,602; exports, 4,515; sales, 1,185; stock, 512,528.

Galveston: Middling, 16.70; receipts, 4,476; exports, 9,231; sales, 1,428; stock, 466,176.

Mobile: Middling, 16.85; receipts, 910; stock, 11,924.

Savannah: Middling, 17.00; receipts, 953; sales, 100; stock, 31,623.

Charleston: Receipts, 269; stock, 31,371.

Wilmington: Receipts, 389; stock, 29,812.

Norfolk: Middling, 17.25; receipts, 480; exports, 800; sales, 151; stock, 82,046.

Baltimore: stock, 1,632.

New York: Middling, 17.50; receipts, 50; stock, 192,147.

Boston: Receipts, 192; stock, 4,400.

Houston: Middling, 16.50; receipts, 3,306; exports, 6,314; sales, 6,306; stock 378,823.

Minor ports: Stock, $1,846.

Total today: Receipts, 15,427; exports, 20,860; sales, 9,168; stock, 2,318,578.

Total for week. Receipts, 15,427; exports, 20,860.

Total for season: Receipts, 6,775,733; exports, 4,611,768.

Interior Movement.

Memphis: Middling, 16.50; receipts, 2,529; shipments, 5,033; sales, 1,575; stock, 241,169.

Augusta: Middling, 17.00; receipts, 303; shipments, 1,527; sales, 588; stock, 83,318.

St. Louis: Receipts, 1,588; shipments, 1,738; stock, 2,348.

Fort Worth: Middling, 16.00; sales, 225.

Little Rock: Middling, 16.00; receipts, 135; shipments, 619; sales, 419; stock, 22,855.

Atlanta: Middling, 17.00; sales, 400.

Dallas: Middling, 15.50; sales, 1,714.

Montgomery: Middling, 16.50; sales, 19.

Total today: Receipts, 5,535; shipments, 8,917; sales, 6,940; stock, 351,870.

Cotton Briefs.

New Orleans, February 4.—The weather map revealed this morning that the principal sections of west Texas have received some rain and the large area of low barometer westward extending to the Pacific coast is believed to indicate further precipitation. The rains will permit the inauguration of much delayed plowing and preparation for the new crop.

Although Liverpool has shown improvement during the past few days as far as prices are concerned spot sales in the market have continued very light, indicating slowing down in mill activity in Lancashire.

While the conference in Manchester over the proposed wage cut among employees in the mills adjourned without accomplishing anything trade opinion holds that the delay without either a strike or lockout makes for an ultimate peaceable settlement.

The feature of the weekly statistics is the disappointing mill takings which not only were behind last year but also were under last week at the same time considering the small crop and the consequently small cotton available moderate takings are to be expected.

COTTON

Dealers in Spots and Futures in any quantity from one bale up. Also grain, cotton seed oil, sugar, rubber and securities of merit.

Lowest Costs and Smallest Deposit Requirements

PAID IN CAPITAL $300,000.00

Old Investors & Traders Corporation

60 Park Place Newark N J

Market Letter and Literature on Request

References: Leading Eastern and Southern Banks and Mercantile Agencies.

WEEKLY RANGE IN STOCK PRICES

Range of the New York Stock Exchange Quotations for the Past Week, Furnished by Livingston & Co., Ground Floor, Healey Building

	High.	Low.	Close.	Net Chge.
1700 Abl P & Pap ..	163	160	162	— 1½
900 Abrhm & Straus	104½	101	101	— 3
1200 Adams Express .	285	270	285	+ 4½
1600 Adv Rumely ..	13½	12¼	12½	— 1¼
3100 Adv Rumely pf	39½	37¼	37½	— 1¼
2900 Ahumada Lead ..	3¼	3	3½	—
4000 Air Reduct	187½	181½	186½	+ 4¼
58800 Ajax Rubber ..	13½	12¼	12¾	— ¼
106100 Alka Jun Gold	4¼	3	3¼	— 1
3200 Alby Per Wr P	29½	28	28	— 1½
19700 Al Chem & Dye	156½	153½	154¼	— 2
200 Al Chm & Dy pf	123½	123½	123½
9100 Allis Chlms Mfg	122¼	116	122	+ 4½
21800 Amal Lea	14¾	12¾	13½	— 1¼
700 Amal Lea pf ..	78	70	78	+ 7½
14200 Amerada Corp ..	31½	29½	30	— 1¼
10100 Am Agr Chem ..	20¼	18	18½	+ ¼
11000 Am Agr Chm pf	67¼	62	65¼	— 1½
900 Am Bank Note	85½	84	84
400 Am Beet Sug ..	16½	16¼	16½	+ ¼
4700 Am Beet Sug pf	38	38	38
8700 Am Bosch Mag ..	19½	17	18¼	— 1½
11400 Am Bke Sh Fdy	47½	45	45½	— 2¼
800 Am Bk Sh Fdypf	126½	126	126
20600 Am Brwn Boy El	18	15½	15½	+
137000 Am Can	77¼	74¼	75½	+ 1
1100 Am Can pf	139½	139	139½	+
11400 Am Car & Fdy	111	107½	108	— 1
200 Am Car&Fdy pf	135½	133	133	+ 2
3500 Am Chicle	72¼	70	70	+
11600 Am Drug Syn ..	13½	12¾	13	+
2600 Am Express ..	183½	179	180½	— 2
13200 Am & For Pow	25½	23½	23½	— 1½
12800 Am&For Pr pf	107	106½	107
6300 Am Hide & Lea	15½	13	13½	+
18100 Am Hide&Lea pf	67½	61¾	61¾	—
4600 Am Home Prod	66¾	64	64	— 2¼
39100 Am Ice	54¼	49¾	50	— 3¾
800 Am Ice pf	94	93	94	+ 1
20600 Am Intnatl Corp	82¼	77½	78½	— 3¼
43600 Am-La Frc Fr Eg	6¾	6¼	6¼	— ¼
200 Am-La France pf	65¾	65	65	+ 6¼
93200 Am Linseed ..	27¼	25¾	27	+ 1¼
18400 Am Mach & Fdy	94¾	90½	93½	— 1¼
27300 Am Locomotive .	115	111¾	112¾	— 3¼
400 Am Loco pf ..	127¼	127¼	127¾	+ 2¼
400 Am Mch & Fdy	168½	163	163	— 7
47500 Am Metal Co ..	46	43¾	44¼	— 1¼
58300 Am Miami pf ..	23½	21¾	21¾	— 1¼
15500 Am P & Lgt ..	68½	65	65¾	— 1¼
4900 Am Radiator ..	135½	130½	132½	— 2¼
1100 Am Railway Exp	127	123½	126¾	+ 1
154400 Am Republics ..	74¾	69¾	70	— 3¾
1800 Am Sm & Ref ..	57¾	56	56½	— ¼
1200 Am Ship & Com	4¼	4	4¼	—
237700 Am Smelt & Ref	177¼	173¼	173½	— 3¼
700 Am Smelt pf ..	135	134¼	135	+ ¼
9000 Am Snuff	145¾	143	143	— 1
25600 Am Stl Fdrs ..	67¼	62	65	— 2¼
100 Am Stl Fdrs pf	114½	113½	114	— ¼
6000 Am Sug Refining	75¾	72	72½	— 2¼
200 Am Sugar pf ..	110½	110	110½
37500 Am Sumatra Tob	61¾	59¾	59¾	— 2¼
9400 Am Tel & Tel ..	179½	179¼	179¼	— ¼
1900 Am Tobacco ..	169	167	167	— 1
200 Am Tob pf	119	118¼	118½	— 1¼
4700 Am Tob B	169½	167	167	— 2
400 Am Type Fdrs ..	119¾	119¾	119¾	— ¼
2300 Am Wat Wks&El	56¾	55½	55½	— 1¼
300 Am WW 1stpf	104¼	104	104	+ ¼
2800 Am Woolen ..	22¾	21¾	21¾	— 1
4700 Am Wool pf ..	55¼	53½	55¼	+ 2¼
30100 Am Zinc Ld&Smpf	67¾	58	58	— 5¾
372300 Am Zc Ld&Smpf	67¾	55	56¾	— 5¾
50500 Anaconda Cop ..	57¾	55	56¼	— 1¼
1700 Arbr- Dan-Midld	59¾	57¾	57¾	— 1¼
2900 Arm & Co of Dpf	91¼	89	89	— 2¼
19400 Armstrng Cr ..	31½	29¾	30	— 1¼
26600 Ar & Co ofDlB	81	78	78	— 2¼
113300 Arm & CoofIllpf	79	75½	75½
3200 Arnld Con Corp	51	47½	47½	— 2½
100 Artloom Corp ..	42¾	42¾	42¾	+ ¼
200 Art Metal Con	27	27	27
51400 Ass Dry Gds ..	46¾	45¼	45½	— ¾
400 As Dry Gds 1stpf	111½	111	111	— 1
300 As Dry Gds 2dpf	119½	119½	119½
21800 Atchn Tp&San Fe	188¼	186	187	— 1¾
300 Atchison pfd ..	105	104	104½	— ¼
42000 Atl Coast Line	184	181½	181½	— 2¾
57700 Atl Gulf & WI	44¾	40½	41¾	— 2
400 Atl Gulf&WI pf	43	43	43	— 1
35100 Atl Refining ..	108¾	97¼	100	— 6¾
100 Atl Refin pf ..	116½	116½	116½
800 Atlas Powder ..	66½	65	65	—
180 Atlas Pow pf ..	107½	106	107½	+ 3½
600 Aus Nich & Co	5¼	5	5	—
300 Austin Nich pfd.	34¾	34	34	+
20100 Auto Corp	9¾	9¼	9¼	— ¼
102300 Autosales pf ..	34¾	33¾	34½	+ ¼
1500 Baldwin Loco ..	250½	248	248	— 2
100 Baldwin Loco pf	120	120	120	— 4
23000 B & O	114½	110½	111½	— 3
400 B & O pfd	81¾	81¾	81¾	—
5600 Bangor Aroo	58	55	55	— 1
1000 Barnsdall Corp ..	52¾	48	52	+ 4
22800 Barn Corp A ..	24¾	23¾	23¾	— 1
18200 Bayuk Cigars ..	128	112	123½	+ 10½
19600 Beech-nut Pck ..	82¾	77¾	78½	— 3¾
12700 Belding Hem ..	20¾	19¾	20¼	—
27100 Bendix Aviat ..	63¾	56¾	58½	— 4¾
1900 Beth Stl 7% pf.	121	120	120½
600 Bloom Bros	42½	41½	41½	+
200 Blum & Co pf..	95½	95	95	—
3100 Booth Fisheries.	7¼	6½	6	—
300 Bot Con Mills A	18¾	18¾	18¾	—
168900 Briggs Co	23	21¾	21¾	— 1¼
21000 Brit Emp Steel.	235½	226½	231½	— 6½
11600 Bklyn-Manh Tr.	61¾	59	59	— 2½
4400 Bklyn-M Tr pf.	88	86½	87½	+
6400 Bklyn Un Gas ..	156½	154¾	154¾	— 1¾
2100 Brown Shoe	51	48	49	+ 1
2100 Brnns Balke Coll	33¾	32	32¾	+ 1½
8000 Burns T & Ry..	18	16½	17	— ¾
20 Buff A & P	75½	75¼	75¼	+
300 Buff & Su pf ..	50¼	50	50	—
500 Burns Bros B ..	17	16½	16½	—
800 Bur Add Mch ..	165	146	159	+ 13
4900 Bush Term	62¾	61	61	— 1¼
150 Bush T 7% deb.	109½	108	109½	+ 1¼
130 Bush T B 7% pf	119	116	119	+ 3
3800 Butte & Z	44	43	44
4900 Butte & Su Min.	10¾	9¾	10¼	+ ¼
400 Butterick Co ..	46½	46	46	— 3
74600 B & O (AM) ..	114¾	107	108	— 4½
2300 B & C (AM) pf	111¾	109	110½	— 1
2300 By-Prod Coke ..	74¼	70¾	74	+ 4
9100 Calif Pack	77¾	74	74	— 1
38500 Cal Pet	26¾	25¼	25¾	— ¼
4700 Cal Zinc Ld ..	24¾	24	24¼	+ ¼
9800 Cal & Ariz Min	107¾	101	103½	— 1½
41800 Cal & Hec C C	23¾	21¾	23¼	+ 1½
23900 Canad Pacific ..	207¾	202¾	204	— 1½
17700 Case Thresh Mch	263	255½	255½	— 6½
100 Case Thresh pf	126	126	126	— 1
8800 Cent Alloy Stl..	31¾	29½	30	— 1¼
130 Cent Rib M pf	81¾	80	81¾
9200 Cerro de P Cop	66¾	64¾	64¾	— 1
12800 Cen-teed Prod ..	61¾	59¾	59¾	— 1¾
100 Cer-teed 1st pf .	120	120	120
1100 Chan Cleve M ..	6¾	6	6	— ¼
1300 Chan Cleve pf ..	16½	16	16	— ½
28700 C & O	195½	191	192¾	— 2¼
4700 Chi & Alton ..	9	8¾	9	—
6400 Chi & Alt pf ..	24¾	23	23	— ¾
1500 Chi & E Ill Ry	40½	39½	39½	— 1
6300 Chi & E Ill pf	69¾	64¾	65¾	— 4
7500 Chi Gt West ..	11¾	10¾	10¾	—
14700 Chi Gt W pf ..	27¾	25¾	26¼	— 1¼
21000 C M & St P ..	17¾	16¾	16¾	— 1
22000 C M & St P cfds	17¾	15¾	15¾	— 1½
12500 C M & St P pf	32¾	30¾	30¾	— 2
18400 C M & S P pf c	32¾	30¾	30¾	— 2
8000 C & N West ..	84	81¾	82½	— 1½
100 Chi & N W pfd	144	144	144	— 4
12800 Chi Pneu Tool..	141¾	131	132	— 6¾
10400 CRI & Pac	110½	108	108	— 1¾
500 CRI & P 6% pfd	102¾	102	102	— 2
100 CRI & P 7% pf.	108	108	108	— 2
4300 Childs Co	50	49	49	— 2¼
32200 Chile Cop	41¾	40	40½	—
5300 Christie B & Co	126½	119½	119½	— 5½
85500 Chrysler Corp ..	58	56¾	57¼
600 Chrys C pfd A.	115	114	114	— 1
16300 Chwtt Peabody..	92	89	89	— 4
200 Cinett Pea bf ..	119¾	119¾	119¾	—
12900 Coca-Cola	135¾	131½	132½	— 2½
33800 Col & Alk	102¾	99¾	100½	— 2
400 Col & Alk pfd.	107¾	107¾	107¾	—
183800 Col Fuel & I ..	84¾	78¾	79½	— 2¼
20 Col F & I pf ..	137½	137½	137½	—
200 Col Gas & Elec	112	110	110	— 5
400 Col & So 1st pf	78	76½	78	+ 2
210 Col & So 2d pf	75¾	74	74¾	—
12800 Col G & El ..	97¾	90¾	93¼	— 4¼
700 ColonG&E pfd.	108¾	92¾	93	— 21
1600 Col Carbon	94¾	93¾	93¾	—
2400 Com Credit	23¾	22¾	23¾	+ ¼
900 Com Inv Tr	68	57¾	57¾	— 4
4800 Com Solv "B" ..	165	158½	159	— 1½
35500 Con-Natin	25¾	24¾	24¾	— 1
3300 Congress Cigars	78¾	78	78	— 1
7000 Consol Cigar ..	84	82	82	— 2
100 Consol Cig pf..	99¼	99¼	99¼	+
7400 Consol Dist	14	13¾	14
75300 Consol Gas	129¼	125	128½	— 2
1200 Con RR Sa pfd	70½	69½	70
4700 Consol Textile ..	37¾	34	34½	+
39500 Con Bak "A" ..	52	47	49½	— 1½
12900 Con Bak "B" ..	54	51	51
300 Con Bak pfd	96	94¼	95¼	—
38800 Con Can	89	85	88¼	— 1½
8800 Con Insurance..	83	80½	80½	— 2
9600 Con Motors	11¾	10½	10½	—
34900 Corn Products ..	70¾	68	68¾	— 1
200 Corn Prod pfd ..	139½	139½	139½	+
100 Cwn Will P pfd	98	98	98	— 1
14600 Crucible Steel ..	90¾	86½	87¾	— 2¾
400 Crucible Steel pf	115	115	115	— 4
200 Cuba Cane Sug ..	6¾	6	6	—
11400 Cub Cane Sug pf	25¾	24	25	— 1¼
30000Cub Co The	23¾	20¾	20¾	— 2¼
3500 Cub Am Sugar ..	21¾	20½	20½	— 1¼
200 Cub Am Sug pfd	108	108	108	— 2
11300 Cudahy Packing	61¾	58¾	58¾	— 3½
1300 Cushin Sons Inc	171	164	164	— 4
10 Cush Sons 7%pf	116	116	116	— 4
10 Cush Sons 8% pf	112½	112½	112½	— 3½
1900 Cuyamel Fruits ..	53¾	52¾	52¾	—
13100 Davison Chem ..	40¾	39¾	40	— 1
3800 Deere & Co pfd.	118	115¾	117½	— 1¼
4100 Deya & Hud	175¾	169	169	— 6¼
900 Del Lack & W ..	134	133½	133½	— 1
300 Den R G & W pf	56¾	56	56	— 1
5400 Detroit Edison ..	179½	177¾	178¼	— 1½
6800 Devoe & R "A" ..	49¾	47¾	48	— 1¾
36800 Dodge Bros "A"	20¾	19¾	19¾	—
24400 Dodge Bros pfd	73	70½	72½	+ 1¼
1600 Dome Mines	12¾	11¾	12	— ¾
3900 Duluth SS & At	4¼	3¾	4	—
200 DSS&At pfd	6¾	6¾	6¾	—
7400 Du Pont Nem ..	319½	312	313	— 3½
400 DP de Nem db.	117½	117	117
1100 Deq Light 1st pfd	116½	116	116
12400 Eastman Kodak.	171½	164	168½	+ 3½
14300 Eat Ax & Stpf ..	28¾	27	28	—
7600 Elec & Mus	18½	15½	16¼	—
23200 Electric Boat ..	15	12¾	12¾	+ 1
33200 El Pow & Lt ..	33½	32¾	32¾	—
1100 El P & L pfd ..	107½	107½	107½
100 El P & L 40%pf	103	103	103
14500 Elec Refrig	12¾	11¾	11¾	—
4000 El Stor Bat	71¾	69¾	69¾	— 2¼
100 Elk Hn Cl stpd	73	73	73	— 1
2200 Emer Bm	9¾	7¾	9	+ 1¼
28300 Endicott-John ..	82¾	77¾	78½	+ 1
300 Eng Pub Ser	36¾	34¾	35	—
700 Eng Pub Svc pf	108	108	108
4800 Equit Off Bl..	103½	100	101	—
37700 Erie R R	59	57¾	58¾	—
9300 Erie 1st pfd	61	57¾	58¾	— 2
200 Erie 2nd pfd ..	59	56½	56½	— 2½
8800 Erie Stm Shov	37¾	35¾	35¾	— 1½
100 Erie Stm S pfd.	111	111	111	— 4
3200 Eureka Vac Cur	75¾	73¾	73¾	—
1100 Exchange Buffet	21¾	20	21¼	—
400 Fairbanks M&Co	37	37	37	+ 1
1600 Fairbks M pfd ..	106¼	106¼	106¼	— 2¼
16800 Fa Plyrs-Las..	113¾	112	112¾	— 1¼
38900 Fed Lt & T ..	55	49¾	49¾	— ¾
270 Fed L & T pfd	105	102	103	— 1½
600 Fed M & S pfd ..	95	95	95	+ 1
1500 Federal Mtrs .	20	19½	19½	+ ¼
2900 Fid Phe Fire In	214	201	205	— 2½
11000 Fifth Av Bus ..	16¾	16	16¾
300 First N P 1st pf	90	89½	89½	+ ¼
53600 Fleischmn Co .	73¾	71	71¼	— 1½
5800 Great N I O ctfs	24¾	23	23¼	—
4500 Gt Nor Ry pfd..	95¾	94	94	— 1
11000 Great West Sug	34	32¾	32¾	— 1
600 Great W S pfd	119½	117¾	118	— 1¾
94400 Greene C Cp..	145¾	134½	138	— 2¾
650 Guant Sug	81	81	81
3200 Gulf M & N ..	53½	51	51	— 3
5800 Gulf M & N pf	106½	106	106
2700 Gulf States St	53½	52	53	+ ¼
280 Hanna Co 1st p	75	71	74
1400 Hartman Crp A	27¾	25¾	27¼	+ 1½
13500 Hartman Crp B	25¾	23¾	25¾
400 Helme (GW) C	118	117	118	+ ¼
10 Helme (GW) pf	128	126	126	— 2
10 Hock Val Ry ..	370	370	370	+ 10
400 Hoe (R) & Co A	27¾	27¾	27¾	+
100 Homestake Min.	69	69	69	— 1
2000 Household Prod.	69¾	67	67¾	— 1½
29100 Houston Oil	140	138¾	140	— 1½
30200 Howe Sd Co ..	45¾	42	43¾	— 1½
5100 Hud & Manh ..	54¾	52¾	53	—
300 Hud & M pfd.	88	88	88	—
338300 Mud Mot Car..	89	82¾	84¾	— 1¾
158800 Hupp Mot Car.	40¾	37¾	38¾	— 2
12900 Ill Cent	143¾	138	138	— 2¾
500 Ill Cent pfd ..	143	140	140	— 4
8700 Indep Oil & G.	27	25¾	25¾	—
1200 Indian Mot	42	40	40½	— 1
110 Indian Mot pfd	102¾	100¾	100¾	— 2¼
2300 Ind Ref	11	10¾	11	—
5000 Ind Ref ctfs..	9¾	9¼	9¼	—
300 Ind Ref pfd ..	106	105	105	— 1
500 Ingersoll Rand.	93¾	92	92	— 1
16300 Inland Stl	59¾	56¾	57¾	—
100 Inland Stl pf ..	115¾	115¾	115¾	—
4100 Inspira Copper.	13¾	13	13¾	+
18000 Interb Rap Tr.	38¾	35	37¾	+
3800 Intercon Rub ..	19	17	18¾	+
400 Internat Agri Cp	14¼	14	14	—
18300 Int Cem pf ..	57¾	58	58	— 1
214000 Int Bus Mch..	147½	122	138½	+ 14
10000 Int Cement	61¾	59	59½	—
90000 Int Comb Eng..	53¾	49½	50½	—
51600 Int Harv Co ..	238	229	231½	— 4¾
800 Int Harv pfd ..	140	139¾	139¾	—
400 Int Mere Mar..	14¾	13¾	14	—
17000 Int M M pfd..	40¾	37¾	37¾	— 2¾
100200 Int Nickel	90¾	94¾	95¼	— 2¼
20 Int Nickel pfd.	112	112	112	— 3
1570 Int Paper	73	70¾	71½	—
50 Int Pap 6% pfd	102¾	102	102
8700 Int Pap 7% pfd	107¾	107	107¾	—
300 Int Rys of C A	40½	39½	40½	—
7700 Int T & T	148	143¾	147¾	+
1100 Intertype Corp.	36¾	33½	36	+
14800 Jewel Tea	84¾	81¾	83	— 1
6300 Jones Bros Tea	37¾	35	35¾	— 1
6200 Jordan Mot Car.	11	9½	10	—
15900 K C So Ry	58½	53¾	54¾	— 4
900 K C So pfd	73¾	72¾	72¾	— 1
8400 Kayser (J) Co	69¾	64¾	65¾	— 3
14200 Kely-Spg Tire ..	23¾	23	23¾
100 Kely-Spg 6% pf	79¾	79¾	79¾	+ 1
200 Kely-Spg 8% pf..	77	77	77	— 3¼
1700 Kelsey Whl	23¾	23	23¾	—
40 Kelsey Whl pfd.	107	106½	106½	— 3
2140 Kennecott Cop ..	53¾	51¾	52¾	— 1¾
2800 Kinney (G R) Co	44	44	44	+ 2
600 Kinney Co pf..	94¾	91	93¼	— 1¼
229800 Kraft Cheese..	65¾	63¾	64¼	— 1
11800 Kresge S S Co	70¾	68¾	68¾	— 1
600 Kresge Dep Stre	15	15	15	—
200 KresgDepStrs pf	52	51

Only Complete Closing Reports

QUOTATIONS ON COTTON, STOCKS, BONDS, GRAINS, LIVE STOCK

Markets of World Fully Covered

BOND MARKET

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York, February 4.—Following are today's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond:

(U. S. government bonds in dollars and thirty-seconds of dollars.)

U. S. Bonds.

Sales (In $1,000).	High.	Low.	Close.
65 Liberty 3½s '32-47.	101.24	101.22	101.23
5 Liberty 3½s reg ..	101.18	101.18	101.18
2 Liberty 1st 4½s ..	103.2	103.2	103
58 Liberty 3d 4½s ..	100.14	100.13	100.13
36 Liberty 4th 4½s ..	103.24	103.22	103.22
2 Liberty 4th 4½s reg	103.19	103.19	103.19
33 Treas 4½s '47-52 ..	115.3	115	115
Treas 4½s '47-52 reg	114.24	114.24	114.24
20 Treas 3½s '46-56 ..	107.4	107.3	107.3
27 Treas 3½s '43-47 ..	102.16	102.10	102.10

Corporation Bonds.

3 Allis Chal 5s '37	101	100½	100½
9 Am Agr Chem 7s8	105½	105½	105½
5 Am Chain sf db 6s	104½	104½	104½
21 Am Cotton Oil 5s	102½	102½	102½
1 Am Rep Cor db 6s	102½	102½	102½
2 Am Smelting 6s	108¾	108	108
7 Am Smelting 5s	102½	102½	102½
10 Am Sugar Ref 6s	105	104½	104½
5 Am T & T 5½s	109	108¾	108¾
3 Am T & T col 5s '46..	105½	105½	105½
2 Am T & T sf 5s '60 ..	105½	105½	105½
7 Am T & T col 4s	99¼	99¼	99¼
5 Am Writ Pap 6½s	91¾	91	91
8 Amoskeag Cop 7s '38 ..	113½	113½	113½
22 Anacon Cop 6s '53 ..	106	105½	105½
16 Andese C M 7s '43 ..	121¼	121	121¼
5 Ang Chil Nt Corp 7s..	102	101½	102
35 Arm & Co Del 5½s ..	101	101	101
1 Arm & Co Fest 4½s ..	92¾	92¾	92¾
6 A T & S F gen 4s	97½	97½	97½
2 A T & S F adj 4s	93¾	93¾	93¾
10 Atlanta & Bir 4s	94¼	94¼	94¼
1 A C Line 1st gtd 4s ..	97½	97½	97½
10 Atl Gulf & W I 5s	103½	103½	103½
1 Atl Ref Deb 5s	103	103	103
5 Atl & Yadkin 1st 4s ..	90	90	90
9 B & O rfg 6s '95	111¾	111¾	111¾
1 B & O 1st 5s	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 B & O rfg 5s	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 B & O rfg 4½s	101	101	101
3 B & O gold 4s	96¾	96¾	96¾
4 B&O4-PLE&AWVdiv ..	96¾	96¾	96¾
1 B&O-Ch Term 4½s	88¾	88¾	88¾
11 Barnsdall 6s swar	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 Bell T Pa 1st & r 7s B	110	110	110
1 Bell T Pa 5s '60	110	110	110
6 Beth Steel con 6s A ..	105¾	104¾	104¾
13 Beth Steel con 5½s ..	104¼	104	104
3 Beth Steel pm 5s '36 ..	101¼	101¼	101¼
2 Bway & 7th Ave con 5s	104	104	104
3 Bkln Edi gen 5s	106½	106½	106½
2 Bklyn Man Trans 6s ..	98	97¾	97¾
2 Bklyn Q & Sb con 5s..	71¾	71¾	71¾
5 Bklyn Un El 1st 5s	94¼	94¼	94¼
3 Bklyn U Gas db 5½s ..	99	99	99
10 Buf Ro & P con 4½s ..	104	104	104
5 Bush Term Bldg 5s	102	102	102
30 Cal Pet 5s	100¼	100¼	100¼
2 Can Nor sf 7s	116¾	116¾	116¾
15 Can Nor 4½s	101¼	101¼	101¼
17 Can Pac deb 4s	90¼	90¼	90¼
1 Caro C & Ohio 6s	109	109	109
1 Cent of Ga 5½s	107¾	107¾	107¾
5 Central Pac 5s	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Cent Pac 1st gtd 4s	99¼	99¼	99¼
1 Cent R R of N J 5s....	113¾	113¾	113¾
85 Cespedes Sug 7½s	103¾	103	103
5 Ches Corp 5½s '47	99½	99½	99½
5 Ches & Ohio refg 5s ..	107¼	107¼	107¼
4 Ches & O cv 4½s '30..	101	100¾	100¾
4 Chi & Alton 3½s ctf ..	69¼	68¾	68¾
1 C B & Q rfg 5s A	102¾	101¾	101¾
2 C B & Q 4½s '77 E	97¼	97¼	97¼
2 C B & Q gen 4s	97¼	97¼	97¼
36 C & E I 5s '51	90¾	90	90
1 C & E Ist 5s	110¼	110¼	110¼
6 Chic Gt West 4s	106	106	106
2 C I & I 1st 5s '66	73	73	73
1 Chi Mi Pub Sd 4s	77¼	77¼	77¼
2 C M Pug Sd 4s ctfs	77¼	77¼	77¼
24 C M & St P cvt 5s B ..	72¾	72¾	72¾
9 C M & St P cvt 5s ctf..	104¾	103¾	103¾
3 C M & St P gen 4½s	73¾	73¾	73¾
3 C M & St P cvt 4½s ctf	74¼	74¼	74¼
3 C M & St P rfg 4½s ctf	74¼	74	74
21 C M & St P gen 4s A ..	72¾	72¾	72¾
3 C M & St P 4s '25 ctfs..	73¾	73¾	73¾
24 C M & St P deb 4s '34	73	72¾	72¾
65 C M & St P cv 4½ '34 ctf	73	72¾	72¾
2 C & N W 4½s 2037 stp	104¾	103¾	103¾
1 Chic Rwy 5s	85¾	85¼	85¼
58 C R I & P 4½s '52..	96¾	96¼	96¼
58 C R I & P rfg 4s	96	95¾	95¾
3 C R I & P 4s inc 5s	97¼	97¼	97¼
25 Chi Un Sta 4½s A	102	102	102
1 Chi & W Ind 4s	91¾	91¾	91¾
13 Chile Cop 5s '47	96¾	96¾	96¾
1 CCC&StL rfg 6s A	113¼	113¼	113¼
5 CCC&StL gen 5s B	96¾	96¾	96¾
1 CCC&StL gen 4s	86¾	86¾	86¾
10 Cleve Un Term 5½s	103¼	103¼	103¼
1 Colo F & I gen 5s	100	100	100
1 Colo & So rfg 4½s	100¼	100¼	100¼
25 Colum G & E 5s '52 ..	101	100¾	100¾
2 Comp Ry & Lt 4½s	81¾	81¾	81¾
2 Con Coal Md 5s	106¼	106¼	106¼
1 Con Gas N Y 5½s '45 ..	106¾	106¾	106¾
2 Consum Pow 5s	100	100	100
1 Container Corp 6s '46 ..	100	100	100
1 Contl Bag & P 6½s..	85¾	85¾	85¾
3 Contl Bag & P 6s	103¾	103¾	103¾
3 Crown Will 6s '51	103¾	103¾	103¾
7 Cuba C Sug db 8s	94¼	94¼	94¼
35 Cuba C Sug cvt db 7½s	96	96	96
31 Cuba North Rys 5½s ..	100¼	100¼	100¼
1 Cuba R R rfg 5½s A ..	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Cuba R R ctf 6s '36..	100	100	100
1 Cuba R R 5s	98¾	98¾	98¾
3 Cub-Am Sug col 8s	103¾	103¾	103¾
5 Cumberld T & T 5s	107¾	107¾	107¾
3 Del & Hud rfg 4s	96¾	96¾	96¾
3 D & R G 4s	97¼	97¼	97¼
1 Den & Rio Gr con 4s..	93	93	93
2 D & R G Wes gen 5s..	92	91¾	92
1 Det Ed 1st & rf 6s B	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 Det Ed 1st & r 5½s ..	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 Det R Tunnel 4½s	90	90	90
10 Dodge Br db 6s ctf '40	90¼	90	90
3 Dom I & S Ltd 5s	99	99	99
1 Duquesne Lt 4½s A '67	104¾	104¾	104¾
2 East Cuba Sug 7½s	104¾	104¾	104¾
3 Elkhorn Coal 7s war..	103½	103½	103½
2 Erie 1st con ext 4s ..	98¾	98¾	98¾
21 Erie ref & imp 5s '67	98¾	89¾	89¾
1 Erie 1st cn pr ln 4s..	85¾	85¾	85¾
3 Erie gen lien 4s	82¾	82¾	82¾
3 Fed Metals cvt 7s	113	113	113
5 Fisk Rub 8s	89	88¾	88¾
47 Fla E Coast 5½s '74 ..	45¾	45¾	45¾
1 Fonda J & Gl 4½s	113¾	113¾	113¾
1 Gen Asph 6s '39	113¾	113¾	113¾
6 Gen Mtr Accept 6s '37	103¾	103¾	103¾
40 GoodyearT&R 5s '57 ..	93¾	93¾	93¾
20 Goth Stlk Hos 6s	102¼	102¼	102¼
1 Gt Northern Ry 7s A ..	115¼	115¼	115¼
3 Gt North Ry 5½s B	112¾	112¾	112¾
2 Gt North 4½s '77 E	100	100	100
4 Gulf Sta Stl 5½s '42..	96¾	96¾	96¾
3 Hoe R & Co 6½s ctf ..	101¾	101¾	101¾
5 Hudson & Man 6s A '62	93¾	93¾	93¾
1 Hud & Man rfg 5s A ..	101¾	101¾	101¾
14 Hud & Man adj inc 5s	92¾	92¾	92¾
1 Hum Oil & Ref 5½s..	103	102¾	103
10 Hum Oil & R 5s '37..	104¾	104¾	104¾
1 Illinois Bell 7½s 5a ..	105¾	105¾	105¾
1 Illinois Cent 5s	110¾	110¼	110¼
1 Illinois Cent 4½s	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 Ill Cent 4s '52	93¾	93¾	93¾
1 Ill Cent 4s '52	93¾	93¾	93¾
10 I&CC&L&NO rfg 5s A..	107	107	107
19 Ind Limestone 6s '41..	99¾	99¾	99¾
1 Inland Stl 5½s '45 ..	103¾	103¾	103¾
4 I R T 7s	97¾	96¾	96¾
1 I R T 6s	97¾	96¾	96¾
1 I R T rfg 5s	78¾	78¾	78¾
1 I R T rfg 5s stp	77¾	77¾	77¾
2 Int Agric 5s stp	80	80	80
1 Int & G N 1st 6s	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 Int & G N 1st 6s	107¾	107¾	107¾
1 Int Mer Mar sf 6s	106	105¾	105¾
9 Int Paper rfg 6s A ..	105	104¾	104¾
1 Int Paper rfg 6s A ..	104¾	104¾	104¾
1 Int Paper cv 6s A	101¾	101¾	101¾
2 Int T&T 4½s '52	96	95¾	95¾
1 Int Rys Cent Am 6s	95¾	95¾	95¾
14 Int T&T 4½s '52	96	95¾	95¾
4 KC Ft S & Mem 4s	96¾	96¾	96¾
4 KC Southern 5s	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 K O Term 1st 4s	94¾	94¾	94¾
2 Kansas Gas & El 6s	106	106	106
2 Kayser J 5½s '47	108	108	108
3 Kelly-Spring Tire 8s	108¾	108¾	108¾
4 Lack Steel 5s	104¾	104¾	104¾
1 Lac Gas of St L 5½s	105¾	105¾	105¾
2 L S & West 1st 5s	104¾	104¾	104¾
2 L S & MS deb 4s '28	99¾	99¾	99¾
7 L S & MS gld 4s '31	100	100	100
2 Leh Val Pa con 4½s	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 Leh Val Pa gen 4s	91¾	91¾	91¾
5 Liggett & Myers 5s	104¾	104¾	104¾
10 Liquid Carbonic 6s	120	120	120
4 Loew's Inc 6s cvwar	101	100¾	101
1 Lorillard Co 5½s '37	97¾	96¾	96¾
1 Lorillard Co 5s	96¾	96¾	96¾
1 Low Gas & Elec 5½s	104¾	104¾	104¾
6 Louis & Nash 7s	104¾	104¾	104¾
8 Louis & N rfg 5½s	103¾	103¾	103¾
17 Louis & N Sn B 2003 ..	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 Louis & N unified 4s ..	98¾	98¾	98¾
3 Ma Gas Sup 6s '42	107	107	107
1 Manhat Ry con 4s	69¾	69¾	69¾
1 Midvale Stl cvt 5s	101¾	101¾	101¾
10 Mil ER&L 1st 5s B'61 ..	102¾	102¾	102¾
2 Mill El Ry & Lt 5½s ..	100¾	100¾	100¾
2 MSP & SS Marie 4s	102¾	102¾	102¾
10 MSP & SS Marie con 5s	99¾	99¾	99¾
2 MSP & SS M 1st con 4s	92	91¾	91¾
1 MK & Tex nw pl 5s A ..	104¾	104¾	104¾
3 MK & Tex adj 5s A	102¾	102¾	102¾
3 MK & Tex 1st 4½s A ..	92¾	92	92
10 Mo Pac 5s B '77	102	101¾	101¾
1 Mo Pac gen 4s	81¾	81¾	81¾
4 Mob & Ob 4½s '77	99¾	98¾	99¾
1 Montana Pow 5s A	107¾	107¾	107¾
1 Nash Ld Chat 5s	100	100	100
1 Nat Dairy Prod 6s	103¾	103¾	103¾
8 Nat Rad 6½s '47	99¾	99¾	99¾
1 NoPub Sv 5s ctf '52 A	99¾	99¾	99¾
1 N Pub Sv 5s '55 B..	99¾	99¾	99¾
2 NYC & HR rf imp 5s	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 NYC & HR rf&imp 4½s	104¾	104¾	104¾
5 NYC & HR deb 4s '34	98¾	98¾	98¾
5 NYC & HR con 4s	97¾	97¾	97¾
9 NYC & HR rfg 3½s	86¾	86¾	86¾
1 NY Chic & St L 6s	103¾	103¾	103¾
1 NY Dock Co 4s	88¾	88¾	88¾
1 Edison 5s '44	105¾	105¾	105¾
1 GELH & P col 5s	110¾	110¼	110¼
1 NYH & H cvt 6s '48	117¾	117¾	117¾
1 NYH & H col tr 6s '40	105¾	105¾	105¾
2 NYH & H deb 4s '56 ..	87	87	87
3 NO & W 1st rfg 4s	80¾	80¾	80¾
1 Ry inc 6s '65	18¾	17¾	17¾
1 Ry Rys 6s A	83¾	83¾	83¾
1 Y steam 6s	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 N Y Tel rfg 6s 41	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 N Y Tel gen 4½s 40	111¾	111¾	111¾
1 N Y Tel gen 4½s	102¾	102¾	102¾
1 N Y W & Bost 4½s	90¾	90	90
1 Am Com 6½s 40	86¾	85¾	86
5 Am Ed 5s '57	103¾	103¾	103¾
1 Pac 6s R	116¾	115¾	115¾
1 Pac pr lien 4s	96¾	96¾	96¾
1 States Pow 6s B	103¾	103¾	103¾
1 States Pow 8s A	103	103	103
5 Ogden & L C Ry 4s	88	87½	88
5 Ohio Riv Edis 6s	107¼	107¼	107¼
6 Ore R R & N 4s	93¾	93¾	93¾
4 Otis Steel 6s	98¾	97¾	98
4 Pac Gas & Elec 5s	103¾	103¾	103¾
4 Pac T & T 5s 37	104	104	104
10 Pan Am A & Tr 6s 34	103¼	103	103
1 Pan Am P & Tr 6s 40 ..	93¾	93¼	93¾
1 Paramnt Bway 5½s	102	102	102
1 Park Lex 6½s	88	88	88
6 Pathe Ex 7s 37 war ..	79½	78	78
1 Penn Oh & Det 4½s 77 .	101¼	101¼	101¼
3 Penn RR 7s 30	105¾	105¾	105¾
2 Penn R R gen 5s 68	113	112¾	112¾
1 Penn R R gen 4½s	104¼	104¼	104¼
4 Peo G & C of Chi 5s ..	106	106	106
13 Pere Marq rfg 5s	104¾	104¾	104¾
1 Phil Co rfg 6s	104	104	104
14 Phila Co 5s 67	99¼	99	99¼
5 Phil Elec 4½s 67	100½	100½	100½
1 Phil Read C & I 5s ..	101	101	101
4 Pierce Arrow 8s	94¼	94¼	94¼
1 Pillsbury Fl Mills 6s .	105½	105½	105½
1 PCC&StL gen 5s A	113¾	113¾	113¾
1 Port Gl Pow 6s 47	103¾	103¾	103¾
5 P Ry Lt & P 5s 42	98¾	98¼	98¾
10 Porto Ric Am Tob 6s .	103½	103½	103½
6 Pressed Stl Car 5s	98¾	98	98
1 Ro Ga & El 5½s 48	106¾	106¾	106¾
1 R I Ark & La 4½s	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 St Jo Ry Lt & P 5s	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 St L M M S & P 5s	101¼	101¼	101¼
9 StLIM & S 4s R&G div	97¼	96¾	96¾
4 St L & S F 6s C	100½	100½	100½
9 St L & S F adj 6s A	101¼	101	101
14 St L & S F inc 6s	101	101¼	101¼
10 St L & S F p ln 4s A ..	91¾	91¾	91¾
1 St L & I M Br 1st 4s ..	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 St L SW 1st 4s	99	98¾	99
1 St P & K C Sh Li 4½s ..	96¾	96¾	96¾
32 Seab A L con 6s	94	92	92
52 Seab A L adj 5s	72¾	70¾	70¾
35 Seab A L rfg 4s	70¾	69	69
8 Sea All Fla Ry 6s B ..	93¾	92¾	93¼
9 Sharon Stl Hoop 8s A 41	101¼	101¼	101¼
7 Shell Un 5s 47	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 Shubert Thea 6s 42	93	93	93
1 Sierra & S F Pow	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Silesian-Am Cor 7s	100	99¾	100
3 Sinc Oil Oil 7s	100¼	100¼	100¼
5 Sinc Con Oil 6½s	98¾	98	98
10 Sinc Con Oil 6s D 30 ..	98¾	98¾	98¾
5 Sinc Pipe Lines 5s	95¾	95¾	95¾
4 Skelly Oil 5½s 39	95¾	95	95
18 So Cal Edison 6s	106¾	106	106¾
5 Son Pac & cal 4½s 41 ..	109¾	109¾	109¾
5 Son Pac cv cal 4½s '29 ..	99¾	99¾	99¾
3 Son Pac rfg 4s '55	97¾	97¾	97¾
1 Son Pac col tr 4s	98¾	93¾	93¾
1 Son Pac of Cal 5s	106¼	106¼	106¼
1 So Porto R Sug 7s	110	110	110
4 Sou Ry gen 4½s	125¾	125¾	125¾
1 Sou Ry gen 6s	118¾	118¾	118¾
1 Sou Ry gen 5s	112¾	112¾	112¾
2 Sou Ry gen 4s	92	92	92
1 S W Bell Tel 5s	106¾	106¼	106¼
1 Standard Milling 6s	101¾	101¾	101¾
3 St Oil N J deb 5s	103¾	103¾	103¾
13 St Oil N Y 4½s '51	97¾	97¾	97¾
2 Stevens Hotel 6s	100¼	100¼	100¼
6 Sug Est Oriente 7s	100¼	100¼	100¼
2 Tex El Pr rfg 6s A	107¾	107¾	107¾
20 Third Ave adj 5s	59¾	59	59
12 Toledo Edi 1st 7s	107¾	107¾	107¾
2 Toledo Trac 5½s	101¾	101¾	101¾
1 Trumbull Stl 6s '40	102½	102½	102½
2 Union Oil Cal 6s	110¾	110¼	110¼
1 Un Pac 6s	100¾	100¾	100¾
1 Un Pac 5½s '67	100¾	100¾	100¾
3 Un Pac 1st 4s	98¾	98¾	98¾
2 Un Pac rfg 4s	96¾	96¾	96¾
4 United Drug 6s	107¾	107¾	107¾
1 Un El Ch 1st gld 4s '45	94¼	94¼	94¼
4 U S Rub 7½s '30	104¾	104¾	104¾
12 U S Rub 5s	96¾	96	96¾
1 U S Steel 5s	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 Utah Lt & Trac 5s	97¾	97¾	97¾
1 Utah Pow & Lt 5s	102	102	102
4 Ver C & Pac 4½s assd..	20	20	20
10 Va Ry & Pow 5s	101¼	101¼	101¼
4 Vulcan Det Ry 5s	108¾	108¾	108¾
1 Wab rfg 5½s '75	104¾	104¾	104¾
2 Warn Sug 7s '41	106¾	106¾	106¾
1 W Penn Pow 5s A	104	104	104
30 W Penn Pow 5s G	104¼	104¼	104¼
10 West Elec 5s	104	103¾	103¾
1 West Md 1st 4s	93¾	93¾	93¾
5 West Md 5½s '77	102¾	102¾	102¾
1 West Md 4s	85¾	85¾	85¾
2 West Pac 1st 5s	100	100	100
5 West Union 5s '51	104¼	104¼	104¼
1 Westghse El Mfg 5s	104¼	104¼	104¼
5 West Shore 1st 4s	91¾	91¾	91¾
2 Va Coal & Co 6s '50..	59	59	59
1 Wheel Stl 5½s '48	104¾	104¾	104¾
8 White Sew M 6s ex-war	103¾	103	103¾
4 Willys-Overl 6½s	102¾	102¾	102¾
4 Wilson & Co 1st 6s	103	102½	103
1 Winch Arm ctf 7½s	106¾	106¾	106¾
10 Wis Cen gen 4s	89¾	89	89
21 Youngstown S & T 5s '78	101	100½	101

Foreign Issues.

4 Antioquia 7s '45 A	96¾	96¾	96¾
4 Antioquia 7s '45 B	95¾	95¾	95¾
4 Antioquia 7s '45 C	96	95¾	96
6 Argt 6s '57 A	100¾	100¾	100¾
6 Argt 6s '58 B	100	100	100
4 Argt 6s sfg '59 June ..	100¾	99¾	99¾
4 Argt 6s sfg '59 Sept ..	100¾	100	100¾
19 Argt 6s '60 Sept	100¾	100¾	100¾
5 Argt 6s '60 Oct	100¾	100	100¾
4 Argt 6s '61 Feb	100	100	100
4 Argt 6s '61 May	100	99¾	99¾
12 Argt 5s '45	93¾	93¾	93¾
2 Australia 5s	98	98	98
21 Australia 5s '57	98¾	98	98
4 Austria Gtd 7s '43	103¾	103¾	103¾
10 Bavaria 6½s '45	98¾	98¾	98¾
12 Belgium 8s '41	110¾	109¾	110
14 Belgium 7s '55	115	114¾	115
30 Belgium 6½s '55	108¾	107¾	107¾
14 Belg Stab Ln 7s '56 ..	105¾	105¾	105¾
7 Belgium 6½s '49	104¾	104¾	104¾
4 Belgium 6s '55	100	99¾	100
2 Bergen 8s '45	103¾	103¾	103¾
4 Bergn Ry Lt 6½s '51..	97¾	96¾	96¾
3 Bogota 8s '45	106	106	106
12 Bolivia 8s '47	105¾	105¾	105¾
6 Bolivia 7s '58	96	95¾	95¾
6 Brazil 8s '41	109¾	109¾	109¾
40 Brazil 6½s '57	96¾	96	96¾
9 Brazil C Ry El 7s '52..	98¾	98¾	98¾
1 British 5½s '29	111	111	111
4 British 5½s '37	106¾	106	106¾
4 Budapest 6s '27-62	87¾	87¾	87¾
3 Buenos A Py 7s '57	99¾	99¾	99¾
2 Buenos A 6½s 55	101¾	101¾	101¾
4 Bulgaria 7s '67	91¾	91	91¾
1 Caldas 7½s '46	99¾	99¾	99¾
8 Can 5½s notes '29	101¾	101¾	101¾
4 Canada 5s '31	102¾	102¾	102¾
1 Canada 5s '52	107¾	107¾	107¾
5 Canada 4½s '60	105¾	105¾	105¾
5 Carlsbad 8s '54	103¾	103¾	103¾
24 Cauca Val 7½s '46	101¾	101	101
4 Chile Mtg Bk 6½s '57 ..	97	96¾	96¾
1 Chile Mtg Bk 6½s ct '61	98¾	98¾	98¾
10 Chile 8s '41	111¾	111¾	111¾
5 Chile 6s '46	101¾	101¾	101¾
3 Chile 7s '42	102¾	102	102
74 Chile 6s '61	93	92¾	93
45 Chile 6s '60	93	92¾	93
1 Colome 6½s '50	98¾	98¾	98¾
3 Colombia 6s '61	92¾	92¾	92¾
4 Copen Ant 7½s '39	93¾	93¾	93¾
4 Copenhag 5½s '44	102	101	102
12 Copenhag 5s '52	96¾	96¾	96¾
14 Cordoba City 7s '57 ..	98¾	98	98¾
3 Cuba 5½s	103¾	103¾	103¾
12 Cuba 5s (1904) '44	100	100	100
2 Cuba 4½s '49	96	96	96
1 Cundinamarca 7s '46 ..	94¾	94¾	94¾
12 Czecho 8s '51	111¾	111	111¾
4 Czecho 8s '52	111	111	111
3 Czecho 7½s '45	104¾	104½	104¾
3 Denmark 6s '42	106	105¾	106
26 Deutsche Bk 6s '32	99	98¾	99
5 Dom Rep 5½s ctfs	99¾	99¾	99¾
5 Duke Price Pow 6s '66 .	106¾	106¾	106¾
3 DE Indies 6s '47	105	105	105
27 Est Ry ext sf 7s	104	103¾	104
16 Flat 7s '46 w war	605	605	605
4 Flat 7s '46 exwar	94¾	94¾	94¾
1 Finland sfg 7s '50	101	101	101
24 Finland 6½s '56

News, Views And Reviews

ORVIS BROTHERS.

New York, February 4.—Reports of rain in Texas and Oklahoma influenced sales in today's cotton market. Furthermore there was stale long liquidation and the combination caused prices to ease down gradually. Fluctuations have at the week-end become much narrower than earlier in the week, which shows the urge to sell has been reduced considerably. The sales have passed rather generally into strong hands. Powerful people in the trade believing current prices discount bearish features. Certainly the decline has gone a remarkable degree and in the instance of cotton for May delivery represents a total reaction of $40. per bale from the season's high record prices. That the technical condition is greatly strengthened is undeniable and any feature which would develop of a really constructive character to create important demand would more likely disclose a strong market, a scarcity of offerings and demand would be filled only at rising prices.

We continue of the view it is advisable to buy cotton as it is offered for sale freely with prices depressed.

March Liverpool, due 5.12.

FENNER & BEANE.

New Orleans, February 4.—The trade was in a liquidating mood again today and cotton dropped about $1 a bale due to liquidation of futures and hedging of spots. Rains in Texas, even though light in the drouth sections, were accepted as bearish and furnished most of the incentive for selling. Threat of a strike or lockout in mills of Great Britain as a result of deadlock between employers and employees, lack of demand for spots and poor dry goods reports were other unsettling influences. The map and private wires show light showers in northwest Texas and western Oklahoma and good showers over remainder of Texas and eastern Oklahoma. The forecast is for more showers in all sections except the northwest, with cold weather behind the rains. Texas interests take the view that rains now will bring up much grain and will assure that land already planted in grain will not eventually go into cotton. The general view, however, is that rains in the west especially the southwest will enable preparation to be completed and planting to start in the southwest in near future. As a result the speculative trade is largely inclined to the selling which at the moment while the declining tendency is forcing many spot holders to hedge. Late advices say that recent sales of the western cooperatives were greatly exaggerated and totaled only about 15,000 bales.

Avoid the RUSH!

Go to Europe before mid-June or after mid-July. You'll avoid the great tourist crowds and have a wider choice of accommodations afloat and ashore.

For free literature, rates and information, write or see your

Local Agent or

CUNARD-ANCHOR

Steamship Lines

44 Walton St., Atlanta, Ga.

BEST HOTEL VALUE IN NEW YORK

Gregorian 23rd ST

SPECIAL SUMMER RATES

LARGE ROOM, BATH $3 PER DAY 2 PERSONS $5

TEA ROOM-RESTAURANT-LUNCH 50 DINNER

Norway MEDITERRANEAN CRUISE, JUNE 30

52 days, $600 to $1300

Spain, Italy, Riviera, Sweden, Scotland, Berlin, (Paris, London). World Cruise, January 15th, 105 days, $1000 up. Mediterranean, 66 days, January 30, $600 up.

John T. North, 68 Broad St., N. W.

F. C. Clark, Times Bldg., New York

Cunard Line, 44 Walton St., Northwest

Lives of 15,000 Saved by Public Health Service

Advances in public health work in Georgia since 1911 were responsible for saving 15,000 lives in 1927, according to figures just released in the annual report of the state department of health, prepared by Dr. T. F. Abercrombie, commissioner of health. These statistics show that this loss of life mentioned would have resulted had the same death rate prevailed in 1927 as in 1911.

Georgia's infant mortality rate was one point lower per thousand live births in 1927 than the 1925 birth rate for the United States registration area, based on the last available figures, and is four per cent less than any previous year on record in Georgia. The tuberculosis death rate was 20 per cent lower than the 1924 rate in Georgia; malaria was 34 per cent lower; typhoid fever nine per cent lower; dysentery 40.4 per cent lower; pneumonia 35 per cent lower. The trend in most of the diseases that cause such an enormous economic loss has been downward.

County health work has shown a decided increase in the addition of three full-time county health departments, making a total of 27 counties at the close of the year. In 1917 only 15 per cent of the total population of the state was under protection of full-time health departments. In 1927 43 per cent received the protection of full-time health departments.

The report contains detailed information concerning the progress made at the state sanitarium at Alto, social disease control; the department of vital statistics; the division of sanitary engineering; the laboratory and other branches of the state health department.

Spend Your Vacation UP in the "Land of the Sky"

Kenilworth Inn

offers every comfort and convenience and a wonderful variety of entertainment

Equipped for comfort, located for convenience, and surrounded by splendid entertainment facilities, KENILWORTH INN offers everything to be desired for a successful vacation. Headquarters for the Appalachian Scenic Highway.

SPECIAL WEEKLY RATES (American Plan)

Single Room, Hot and Cold Water	$ 42.00 up
Double Room, Hot and Cold Water	80.00 up
Single Room, Private Bath	60.00 up
Double Room, Private Bath	90.00 up
Double and Single Room, Private Bath	126.00 up

ROSCOE MARVEL, Manager

ASHEVILLE, N. C.

SPLENDID ROADS AND THROUGH PULLMANS FROM EVERYWHERE

Coolidge Draft Urged by Fulton G.O.P. Leaders

Resolutions commending the present administration and urging that President Calvin Coolidge be drafted by his party for renomination were adopted Saturday at a meeting of Fulton county republicans.

In the event that President Coolidge unequivocally eliminates himself, the second presidential choice of local republicans is Herbert Hoover, member of the cabinet and war-time food administrator.

It was indicated at the meeting which was held at noon in the Fulton county courthouse to select delegates to the fifth district and state republican conventions, that Clint W. Hager, federal district attorney, would have a strong backing for national committeeman.

Saturday's meeting named 12 delegates to the state and a similar number to the district convention to meet jointly at the Fulton county courthouse on March 3. At this time four delegates from the state at large and one from each district will be chosen to attend the national convention at Kansas City in June.

Fulton county republican officers were named as follows: Jackson McHenry, chairman; T. W. Holmes, vice chairman, and W. J. Shaw, secretary, all colored.

State delegates were John W. Martin, Clark Grier, J. T. Rose, Clint W. Hager and John B. Dove, all white; and B. J. Davis, Shaw, A. T. Walden, F. J. Wimberly, Mary C. Neely, T. W. Holmes and William Driskell, all colored.

District delegates are Mr. Rose, Mr. Martin, Mr. Dove, Mr. Grier and Mr. Hager, all white; Davis, Shaw, Walden, William Burch, McHenry, Dr. L. M. Hill and Driskell, all colored.

Another resolution indorsed B. J. Davis, colored, as a national committeeman.

Republicans of Cobb county, meeting Saturday at the courthouse in Marietta, as part of a state-wide rally, named F. P. Rogers, Jr., county chairman; E. L. Stringer, vice chairman, and C. E. Williams, colored, secretary.

Mr. Rogers, Williams, colored; J. L. Spears, colored, and A. J. Tanner, colored, were named delegates to represent Cobb county at the state convention in Atlanta, and at the seventh district convention in Rome.

A MAGNIFICENT NEW HOTEL

400 ROOMS WITH BATH

$3.50 and up FOR ONE PERSON

$4.50 and up FOR TWO PERSONS

HOTEL KNICKERBOCKER NEW YORK

WEST 45TH STREET

Just East of Broadway Times Square

Reservations made by American Express Co., Travel Dept.

West Indies

2nd "Parasol Cruise"

Like stepping back into 17th Century Europe....old Spanish, old French, old English life, romantically blended under a semi-tropic sun. Sailing February 29 from New York on the coolly luxurious Montroyal (23,500 tons displacement). Only a month away from home. Want to go? Phone or write today to your local agent, or

E. G. CHESBROUGH,

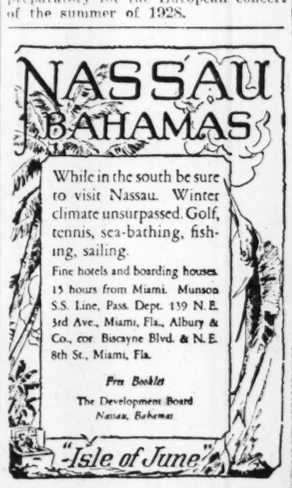

Gen. Agt. Pass. Dept.

Canadian Pacific Railway, 49 N. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga. Telephone WAl. 2217.

Canadian Pacific

World's Greatest Travel System

Carry Canadian Pacific Express Travellers Cheques—Good the World Over

NASSAU BAHAMAS

While in the south be sure to visit Nassau. Winter climate unsurpassed. Golf, tennis, sea-bathing, fishing, sailing.

Fine hotels and boarding houses. 15 hours from Miami. Munson S.S. Line, Pass. Dept. 139 N.E. 3rd Ave., Miami, Fla., Albury & Co., cor. Biscayne Blvd. & N.E. 8th St., Miami, Fla.

Free Booklet

The Development Board Nassau, Bahamas

"Isle of June"

Independent Tours to EUROPE

Care and Worry on Your Trip Eliminated by

AMERICAN EXPRESS

Travel Department

Itineraries, tickets and all details arranged in this way—

STARTING with your own ideas of where, when, and how you want to travel and the amount you want to spend—American Express travel experts lay out for you a detailed itinerary of the most desirable places to visit.

They reserve and purchase in advance all steamship and railroad tickets at regular tariff rates.

All your hotel accommodations—all transportation for yourself and baggage between stations and hotels—all sleeping car berths, reserved seats—and meals en route—all local trips by automobile or carriage—are included in the price you designate for the trip.

Various tours are outlined for your consideration in "The American Traveler in Europe"—mailed free on request.

Steamship tickets, all lines, lowest rates—write for booklet "Steamship Sailings". Call, phone or write:

AMERICAN EXPRESS

Travel Department

91 Luckie Street, N. W.

MAin 3471

Atlanta, Ga.

Always Carry American Express Travelers Cheques

CANADIAN NATIONAL - TO EVERYWHERE IN CANADA

Sail 1000 miles through sheltered waters to ALASKA

SEE THE beauty, absorb the mystery of Alaska this Summer. View scenes of unparalleled grandeur—mountains reflecting glorious sunsets; glaciers that move and balefully glisten; weird totem poles; quaint Indian villages. Hear heart-stirring tales of adventurous days. Let Alaska weave her spell around you on the finest vacation you will ever spend. For all information address our office at 901-15th STREET, N. W.

Washington, D. C.

CANADIAN NATIONAL

The Largest Railway System in America

126-306-A

Please send me your free booklet on Alaska

Name.....

Address.....

LLOYD Comfort · LLOYD Cuisine

are distinguished features of your pleasant and economical passage in

LLOYD CABIN LINERS

to Ireland

ENGLAND

FRANCE

Germany

NORTH GERMAN LLOYD

32 Broadway, New York City, or your local agent

CAPT. HOPE CITES RECORD IN OFFICE

Captain George M. Hope, for the past eight years a member of Fulton county commission, Saturday announced that he would make the race to succeed himself solely on his record of service to citizens of the county.

"My record as a public servant is written in the minutes of the commission," Captain Hope said. "It took eight long years of honest, faithful service. I am proud of it, it stands as my contribution to Atlanta and Fulton county and the friends whom I have endeavored to serve without favoritism during my terms as a member of the commission.

CAPTAIN GEORGE M. HOPE.

"Fulton county has become closely allied in an official way with every community center in the district. This spirit of cooperation has been the result of a desire of the commission to serve the whole county without discrimination.

"I am proud to have had a hand in constructing and fostering this atmosphere of good feeling and friendship. I feel that Fulton county should take an active interest in improvements wherever they are needed regardless of whether they are in the city of Atlanta, East Point, College Park, Hapeville or some other community or in the county at large. It has been my privilege and pleasure to sponsor important improvements within the city limits of different communities in Fulton, and I shall continue to do so, believing that the county should participate actively in all projects for the general public good.

"At present, Fulton county is actively represented in many charities and civic movements. I have lent my influence and vote to them all believing that they are worthy causes and that the county should aid. If the voters honor me again, I shall deem it a pleasure to continue working in the interests of the fine spirit of cooperation which now exists for the progress and prosperity not only of Atlanta and Fulton county, but for every other community."

Captain Hope is an ex-major of the old guard, a Shriner, a Mason, a Red Man, a Knight Templar, and has been prominent in city and county political and civic circles for many years.

MRS. J. P. BEVIL DIES AT RESIDENCE HERE

Mrs. J. P. Bevil, 41, well-known resident of Capitol View, died Saturday night at her home, 1381 DeSoto avenue.

She is survived by her husband, three daughters, Misses Hazel, Alma Ruth and Vivian Bevil; two sons, Harold and Forrest Bevil; three sisters, Mrs. T. E. White, Miss Effie Davis and Mrs. Carl Maffet, and a brother, Comer Davis.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by J. Austin Dillon company, in charge.

Emory Gives Concert.

Gainesville, Ga., February 4.—The Emory Glee club gave a concert at the Brenau college auditorium in Gainesville, Ga., Saturday evening, their first of the season.

The club is scheduled for a concert at Buford, Ga., Monday evening. Several more trips are being arranged for the spring to neighboring towns and to towns outside the state. These are preparatory for the European concert of the summer of 1928.

Book of Clippings Details Official Life of Ragsdale

Details in the official life of Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, from the time of his election to the present date, have been carefully preserved by Miss Sarah Huff, cousin to Mrs. Ragsdale, who has filled one large scrapbook with clippings from the local newspapers and other publications and is preparing to start on a second volume. Miss Huff exhibited the first volume Saturday at the offices of The Constitution, from which she says she has obtained most of its contents.

The volume contains a day-to-day account of the happenings concerning the city's chief magistrate, as recorded in the Atlanta newspapers. In addition to this there are articles on Mayor Ragsdale taken from the City Builder, the Journal of Labor and other publications, as well as other data.

Much of the activities of the mayor are recorded through editorial clippings. An editorial from the December 6, 1927, edition of The Constitution, entitled "Ragsdale's Good Record," is accompanied by the original copy of a pencil note from Clark Howell, editor of The Constitution, to Mayor Ragsdale, which reads as follows: "Dear Ike: You fully merit every word said in this editorial and I had my heart in it when I wrote it. Your friend, Clark Howell."

The articles start with the mayoralty campaign in the fall of 1926. On one of the foremost leafs of the scrapbook is a full front page of The Constitution for Thursday, September 23, 1926, bearing the large type headlines across the page, "I. N. Ragsdale Is Chosen Mayor of Atlanta by Majority of Votes Over All Opponents."

Other interesting features include the original flag carried on the official car of the Appalachian tour to Canada, in which Atlanta was represented by Mayor Ragsdale and a picture showing Miss Sarah Huff holding the gavel made from the "General Joseph E. Johnston tree" and presented by her to the mayor.

BURGLARS OBTAIN VALUABLE LOOT IN MANY RAIDS

Police were kept busy Saturday night answering burglary calls from various sections of the city. Jewelry, clothing, candies, tobacco and several pocketbooks were among the loot taken by the thieves.

A pocketbook containing $12 was taken from the home of W. R. Reeves, local photographer at 306 McKenzie drive. Entrance was gained by forcing open a rear door.

A quantity of jewelry and a pocketbook containing $3 was taken from the home of Miss Ella Smiley at 754 Piedmont avenue, when burglars entered by breaking a plate glass window.

The office of J. A. Bishop, at 302 Peck building, was entered by burglars early Saturday night and a suitcase containing clothing was taken.

Miss Fannie Phelps, of 1318 West Peachtree street, reported that burglars obtained a gold watch and several articles of jewelry from her home.

The home of Mrs. Claude Harmon, at 527 Wabash avenue, was robbed of $20 and a check for $24. Miss Sankie Glenn, also of 527 Wabash avenue reported the theft of $20 from her room.

A quantity of candy and tobacco was stolen from a store operated by S. J. Bolden at 152 West North avenue.

A platinum wrist watch set with 16 diamonds and four sapphires was taken by burglars from the home of Miss Lula Jones, on North Side drive, late Saturday night, police were told.

NEW YORK TO MOVE LAMP POSTS BACK FROM AUTO PATHS

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Father Knickerbocker will spend around $20,000 to move lamp posts on principal thoroughfares back several feet from the sidewalk line in an effort to save that much annually in "replacements."

The posts, once noted in song and story as handy supports for the homeward bound banqueteer, are found to suffer heavy loss nightly under the attack of one-armed drivers and such.

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR JOSEPH SOUTER

Funeral services for Joseph Ed Souter, 60, of Mayson and Turner road, who was found dead late Friday night at 14 Hills avenue, where he served as night watchman, will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon from the Beulah Baptist church in Douglas county. The Rev. G. M. Gillam will officiate and interment will be in the churchyard. The funeral party will leave the J. Austin Dillon establishment on South Pryor street at 1 o'clock.

At a coroner's inquest held Saturday afternoon by Coroner Paul Donehoo at the J. Austin Dillon funeral parlors a verdict of death from organic heart trouble was returned.

Mr. Souter is survived by his widow; two daughters, Mrs. T. H. Baggett and Miss Frances Souter, and four sons, G. A., J. F., J. H. and Frank Souter.

Money Saved On All Optical Work

Your eyes examined and glasses fitted with spherical lenses for reading or distance vision for the special price of

$5.50

Dr. Geo. S. Kahn

Registered Optometrist

Est. in Atlanta 15 years

Special Prices on Kryptok Bifocals and Lenses Ground to Order

Jacobs' Pharmacy Co.

Main Store, 6 Marietta St.

Report of Retail Milk Producers, January, 1928

CERTIFIED DAIRIES.

Name of Dairy.	Analysis of Samples Butter Fat.	Official Pl. Ct.
W. F. Cox	4.4	2,000
W. O. Pierce	3.4	2,000

The above certified by the Fulton County Medical commission.

GRADE "A."

R. E. L. Carroll	4.4	1,500
J. W. Martin	4.8	1,500
Alpine Dairy	5.0	2,000
Beuchler's Dairy	5.6	2,000
H. B. Bishop	3.6	2,000
J. T. Coffee	5.8	2,000
J. R. Crowe	5.1	2,000
J. W. Edge	5.4	2,000
Hickory Grove	6.0	2,000
R. E. Hutchins	6.4	2,000
R. L. Mathis	5.6	2,000
John L. Porter	5.5	2,000
H. L. Scott	4.3	2,000
Mrs. W. O. E. Wilson	4.4	2,000
D. M. Wright	5.0	2,000
G. W. Abercrumble	4.2	2,500
Briarwood Farm	6.4	2,500
H. E. Brown	5.4	2,500
J. S. Burks	5.4	2,500
W. F. Cox	4.4	2,500
E. L. Crowe	4.6	2,500
W. T. Daniel	5.0	2,500
J. L. and J. W. Dunn	4.5	2,500
T. J. Duren	3.5	2,500
Graymont Dairy	5.9	2,500
E. Gladden	4.6	2,500
R. E. Guffin	4.8	2,500
D. E. Herrin	5.0	2,500
A. M. Medlock	4.0	2,500
T. R. Michael	4.0	2,500
T. R. Michael	4.8	2,500
Nalley Bros	5.0	2,500
J. G. Nash	4.3	2,500
Oaklawn Dairy	4.6	2,500
D. A. Pirkle	4.0	2,500
H. E. and B. L. Pittard	4.8	2,500
C. J. Ross	4.8	2,500
Fred Scherer	5.6	2,500
Mrs. C. E. Scott	5.2	2,500
J. W. Sheppard	5.0	2,500
C. A. Shirley	5.2	2,500
J. W. Stamps	3.9	2,500
Stone Mountain	5.7	2,500
Sunnycrest Dairy	5.0	2,500
C. C. Tuggle	4.0	2,500
P. A. Wade	4.2	2,500
J. E. Wade	4.2	2,500
Willowbrook Farm	4.0	3,000
J. W. Brown	4.0	3,000
C. S. Bryan	4.6	3,000
J. J. Crowe	5.3	3,000
L. T. Davis	4.1	3,000
W. J. Greenway	4.0	3,000
L. W. Harris	5.0	3,000
H. W. Hutchins	4.3	3,000
Oak Terrace Farm	5.6	3,000
T. B. Pair	4.9	3,000
O. R. Parker	4.4	3,000
H. J. Rutledge	4.4	3,000
Thames Brothers	4.3	3,000
C. S. Webb	4.6	3,000
H. G. Wilkie	5.0	3,000
W. O. Baker	4.6	3,500
George A. Beam	5.0	3,500
P. R. Cowan	5.0	3,500
F. L. Gunter	4.6	3,500
P. E. Hyde	4.8	3,500
W. H. Morris	4.4	3,500
J. T. Pierce	5.1	3,500
River Hill	3.8	3,500
C. E. Scott, Jr.	5.0	3,500
Sheldon Dairy	4.9	3,500
T. O. White	4.0	4,000
W. J. Brownlee	4.8	4,000
E. Cowan	5.6	4,000
W. L. Donehoo	5.0	4,000
L. F. Eddleman	4.6	4,000
G. A. Hammond	4.8	4,000
Hillcrest Dairy	4.6	4,000
O. T. Howard	4.0	4,000
P. W. Pedlock	5.2	4,000
North Fulton Dairy	5.4	4,000
M. L. Parks	4.6	4,000
M. N. Parks	3.8	4,000
P. E. & W. O. Pierce	6.2	4,000
Riverview Dairy	5.2	4,500
Alderdale Dairy	4.0	4,500
Lauderdale	4.0	4,500
O. Nichols	4.2	4,500
J. J. Richardson	4.6	4,500
Suwanee River	4.2	4,500
R. L. Wade	3.7	4,500
G. F. Bennett	4.8	5,000
L. Clay	4.4	5,000
P. T. Coggins	4.2	5,000
County Line	5.4	5,000
Daffodil Dairy	5.4	5,000
G. C. Daniel	4.2	5,000
J. W. Ford	6.2	5,000
B. M. Gresham	4.0	5,000
Hute Bros.	3.8	5,000
C. G. Johnson	4.5	5,000
W. H. Jones	4.0	5,000
Keystone Dairy	5.0	5,000
J. W. Key	4.4	5,000
W. A. Lamb	4.4	5,000
W. N. Landers	4.4	5,000
J. G. Leitch	4.6	5,000
Montrose Dairy	6.0	5,000
H. D. Moore	4.8	5,000
J. H. Nelms	5.2	5,000
J. L. Nelms	4.2	5,000
C. C. Parker	4.1	5,000
W. O. Pierce	5.8	5,000
H. C. Shumate	4.6	5,000
T. Q. Sullivan	5.0	5,000
J. F. Wright	5.0	5,000
Ashland Dairy	5.0	6,000
Candler Road	4.8	6,000
Cardell's Dairy	5.1	6,000
H. M. Christie	4.6	6,000
C. G. Cook	5.8	6,000
H. G. Gazaway	3.6	6,000
Gazaway & Snead	5.2	6,000
W. T. Key	5.2	6,000
Lavista Dairy	5.6	6,000
L. D. Meers	4.8	6,000
Ousley Chapel	4.4	6,000
G. H. Parker	4.2	6,000
J. S. Patten	4.5	6,000
E. S. Paxton	4.8	6,000
Red Oak Dairy	4.6	6,000
R. J. Rogers	4.0	6,000
J. E. Rosser	5.2	6,000
M. P. Scott	4.2	6,000
R. A. Swan	4.3	6,000
M. L. Warren	5.0	6,000
S. White	6.0	6,000
J. W. Clark	4.6	7,000
H. C. Dodgen	4.0	7,000
J. C. Hardin	3.4	7,000
H. A. Knight	4.4	7,000
Mrs. Anna Meers	4.2	7,000
A. S. Nance	4.4	7,000
Rosebud Dairy	3.8	7,000
M. B. Spratberry	5.2	7,000
R. S. Tuggle	5.0	7,000
H. C. Yardley	4.8	7,000
Blue Ribbon Dairy	4.0	8,000
Briarcliff Dairy	4.4	8,000
Cloudland Farm	4.6	8,000
Mapleleaf	4.4	8,000
H. A. Parker	4.7	8,000
J. L. & S. L. Stamps	5.2	8,000
Sweetwater Dairy	6.0	9,000
J. P. Carroll	4.6	10,000
A. M. Croft	4.4	10,000
J. W. Fields	3.4	10,000
L. F. Hewitt	5.2	10,000
W. T. & J. R. Moore	4.2	10,000
L. D. Nalley	5.2	10,000
Powell's Dairy	5.2	10,000
O. R. Reynolds	4.4	10,000
Rosehill Dairy	4.0	10,000
Tidwell & Harbin	4.0	10,000
Valledrene	5.1	10,000
Paul White	4.0	10,000
J. H. Davis	6.0	15,000
W. R. House	5.0	15,000
R. C. Kickler	5.0	15,000
W. G. Pressley	5.0	15,000
J. W. Stubbs	5.0	15,000
C. N. Davis	5.2	20,000
S. E. Smith	4.0	20,000
A. O. Spinks	3.9	20,000
R. M. Sargeron	3.4	20,000

Grade "A" Pasteurizing Plants.

Ponce de Leon Dairy	5.1	3,000
Clairmont Dairy	4.5	6,000
Tenth Street Dairy	4.6	7,000
Pedigree Dairies, Inc.	4.0	8,000

Pasteurizing Plants.

Model Dairy	4.5	5,000
Jessup & Antrim	4.4	8,000
McWilliams Dairy	4.6	8,000
Georgia Dairies	3.9	10,000
Capital City Dairy	5.2	15,000
Cloverdale Dairy	4.0	15,000
Southland Dairy	4.5	15,000
Dixie Dairy	4.1	20,000
Gate City Dairy	4.2	20,000

Dealers.

B. A. Dairy	5.0	6,000
Nifty Jiffy, Broyles Stores	2.9	10,000
G. C. Mason	4.4	25,000

ALLEGED SLAYER OF MATE TO FACE COURT MARCH 5

Painesville, Ohio, February 4.—(AP) Velma West, charged with slaying her husband with a hammer, will go on trial here March 5.

Judge A. G. Reynolds set the date late today after he had withheld a ruling on the contention of Mrs. West's chief counsel, Francis W. Poulson, that the recently passed state law requiring pretrial notice of intention to plead insanity is unconstitutional.

Judge Reynolds indicated that the question would be settled as the trial progresses.

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

P.O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

Judge John W. White, Prominent Citizen Of Louisville, Dies

Louisville, Ga., February 4.—(Special)—Judge John W. White, 73, one of Louisville's most highly esteemed citizens, died at his home here at noon today after an illness of several months.

Judge White came to Jefferson county from South Carolina when quite a young man and for several years taught a country school near here. Later he studied law and was admitted to the bar but soon gave up his law practice and entered the newspaper field and for several years was editor and publisher of the News and Farmer, Jefferson county's oldest weekly newspaper.

In his young manhood he was prominently identified with county politics and served several terms as clerk of superior court. He was later appointed to the judgeship of the county court which position he held with honor for several years. For the past several years he has held the office of justice of the peace.

He is survived by two sons, W. A. White of Richmond, Va., and J. W. White, Jr., of Louisville. Two daughters, Mrs. Lois Sumereau, of Augusta and Mrs. Thad P. Landers, of Monroe, Ga.; one brother, Mr. J. G. L. White, of Chester, S. C., and two sisters, Mrs. W. D. Stone, of Augusta and Miss Jenny E. White, of Greenwood, Va. Also several grandchildren. He was a loyal member of the A. R. P. church. His funeral and interment will be held at Ebenezer church tomorrow afternoon with Dr. Paul A. Pressly and Rev. M. R. Plaxco officiating.

Purse Is Snatched.

A purse containing $1.50 was snatched from Mrs. Dora McCullough, of 282 Alaska avenue, while she was walking on Highland avenue with Miss Mary Kean, of the same address early Saturday night, police were told. A description of the negro was furnished Detectives C. L. Taylor and W. J. Stephens.

Funeral Notices

MILLS—The funeral party of Mr. W. H. Mills will leave the chapel of J. Austin Dillon Co. this (Sunday) morning at 9:30 o'clock, for Camp Creek churchyard, where interment will take place.

SARGENT—The funeral of Margie M. Sargent, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Sargent, of 635 Gaskill, S. E., will be held at the residence this (Sunday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. J. P. Glore will officiate. Interment East View cemetery. T. C. Bazemore Co., funeral directors.

JOHNSON—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Johnson are invited to attend the funeral of their one-year-old daughter, Hazel Johnson, this (Sunday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Mount Bethel church. Rev. W. N. Pruitt will officiate. Interment churchyard. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

ERVIN—Died, at a private sanitarium, Friday evening, February 3, 1928, Mr. L. B. Ervin, in his 36th year. He is survived by his wife; one son, Compton; mother, Mrs. M. A. Ervin, of New Orleans, La.; one sister, Mrs. A. L. Carmichal, of Chicago, Ill. The remains were taken Saturday afternoon to Milledgeville, Ga., for services and interment by H. M. Patterson & Son.

BASKIN—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baskin, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Baskin, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bronson, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baskin are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. A. C. Baskin this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 83 Foster street. Rev. DeWitt Reagan will officiate. Interment Thurmond cemetery. T. C. Bazemore Co., funeral directors.

BROGDON—Relatives and friends of Mrs. J. N. Brogdon, Mrs. A. C. White, Snellville, Ga.; J. C. and L. H. Brogdon, Atlanta; O. D. Brogdon, Birmingham, Ala.; J. S. Brogdon, Montgomery, Ala., and G. E. Brogdon, Miami, Fla., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. N. Brogdon from Level Creek church near Suwanee, Ga., Sunday afternoon, February 5, at 2:30 o'clock. F. Q. Sammon, funeral director.

DANIEL—Mr. Charles Daniel, Sr., died yesterday afternoon in New York, N. Y. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Daniel; one daughter, Mrs. Frances Daniel Miles; one brother, Mr. L. J. Daniel; one sister, Miss Minnie Daniel; two nephews, Mr. L. Clayton Daniel and Mr. Charles B. Daniel. The remains will be brought to Atlanta for funeral and interment. The arrangements will be announced later by Barclay & Brandon Co.

SOUTER—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Souter, Mr. and Mrs. Y. A. Souter, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Souter, Mr. J. H. Souter, Mr. Frank Souter, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Baggett, Miss Frances Souter, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Souter and Mrs. C. N. Brown are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Joseph A. Souter this (Sunday) afternoon, February 5, 1928, at 3:00 o'clock, from Bulah Baptist church. Rev. G. T. Gillam will officiate. Interment churchyard. J. Austin Dillon Co., funeral directors, in charge.

BEVIL—Mrs. J. P. Bevil died at the residence, 1381 DeSoto avenue, Saturday night, at 8:30 o'clock, in the 41st year of her age. She is survived by her husband, Mr. J. P. Bevil; two sons, Mr. Harold Bevil and Mr. Forrest Bevil; three daughters, Miss Hazel Bevil, Miss Alma Ruth Bevil and Miss Vivian Bevil; three sisters, Mrs. T. E. White, Miss Effie Davis and Mrs. Carl Maffett, and one brother, Mr. Comer Davis. Funeral and interment will be announced later. J. Austin Dillon Co., funeral directors, in charge.

ASTIN—Entered into rest Friday morning MR. WILLIAM L. ASTIN, at the residence, 233 East Georgia avenue, S. E., in the 52d year of his age. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Molly Astin; one son, Mr. Joseph Astin; two sisters and three brothers. Funeral services will be held this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the funeral home of Blanchard Brothers, 1088 Peachtree street. Rev. A. W. Reeves, pastor of the Grant Park Baptist church will officiate. Pallbearers selected will please meet at the funeral home at 1:30 o'clock. Interment Crest Lawn cemetery.

NOTICE.

G. H. Davis (white) is not connected with Hopkins Book Concern.

J. A. HOPKINS, Mgr.

Funeral Notices

URQUHART—The friends and relatives are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. A. E. Urquhart this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at Jonesboro Methodist church. She is survived by her husband and three children, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barron, of Forsyth county; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barron, of Gainesville, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Barron, of Gainesville, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Barron, of Forsyth county; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Barron, of Winder, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Barron, of Miami, Fla. Guy Evans, funeral director, Jonesboro, Ga., in charge.

NABERS—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Nabers, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Nabers, Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Nabers, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Nabers, Mr. C. T. Nabers, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Manos, of Gainesville, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hall, of Dalton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nabers, Mr. G. F. Nabers and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Nabers are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. R. O. Nabers this (Sunday) afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 316 Glenwood avenue, S. E. Rev. B. F. Fraser will officiate. Interment will take place Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock in Crest Lawn cemetery. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

BUTLER—The friends and relatives of Miss Rosa Belle Butler, Mr. A. C. Butler, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mayo, Egan Park; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wheeler, Misses Bessie, Pauline and Maggie Butler, Mr. Frank Butler, Mr. A. C. Butler, Mrs. Clifford Gore and Mr. C. G. Franklin are invited to attend the funeral of Miss Rosa Belle Butler tomorrow (Monday) morning, February 6,

Classified Ads

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

Classified Ads

VOL. LX., No. 235. ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

THE CONSTITUTION Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED RATES.

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time ..... 20 cents
Three times ..... 17 cents
Seven times ..... 15 cents

Ads ordered for three or seven days and stopped before expiration will only be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate earned.

Special rate for yearly advertising upon request.

Charge ads will be received by telephone. PHONE YOUR CLASSIFIED ADS and ask for ad taker.

Phone for our messenger.

WAlnut 6565

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

Schedules Published as Information. (Central Standard Time.)

ATLANTA TERMINAL STATION.

Arrives—	L. & N. R. R.	—Leaves
8:41 pm ...	Cin-Chicago-Lville ...	7:25 am
8:20 am ...	Cin-Detroit-Cleve ...	6:42 pm

Arrives—	N. C. & St. L. RY.	—Leaves
6:55 pm ...	Chatt-Nash-Chi-StL ...	6:00 am
7:05 pm ...	Chatt-Nash-Chi-StL ...	9:10 am
8:30 am ...	Chatt-StL-Chicago ...	7:30 pm

Arrives—	A. B. & A. C. R. R.	—Leaves
5:50 am ...	Waycross-Lakeland ...	9:30 pm
7:15 pm ...	Cordele-Waycross ...	7:50 am
5:50 am ...	Bwk.-Tifton-Thomville ...	9:30 pm

Arrives—	A. & W. P. R. R.	—Leaves
11:45 pm.	New Orleans-Montgomery	5:40 am
7:05 pm ...	Newnan-Columbus ...	7:15 am
6:00 pm ...	Montgomery Local ...	8:25 am
2:05 pm.	New Orleans-Montgomery	1:25 pm
4:40 am.	New Orleans-Montgomery	4:20 pm
10:30 am ...	Newnan-Columbus ...	4:35 pm
8:10 am ...	West Point Local ...	5:35 pm
12:30 pm.	New Orleans-Montgomery	6:05 pm

Arrives—	C. OF. GA. RY.	—Leaves
6:05 am ...	Mac-Say-Alb-Thosvl ...	7:45 am
6:17 pm ...	Mac-Jax-Mi-Tampa ...	6:45 am
12:10 pm ...	Mac-Jax-Mi-Tampa ...	8:50 am
1:35 pm ...	Macon-Albany-Millen ...	1:00 pm
10:45 am ...	Macon ...	4:00 pm
8:35 am ...	Macon-Jax-Mi-Tampa ...	7:10 pm
8:00 am ...	Macon-Jax-Mi-Tampa ...	7:45 pm
7:00 am ...	Macon-Jax-Mi-Tampa ...	9:05 pm
3:30 pm ...	Macon-Millen-Sav ...	9:40 pm
7:45 pm ...	Macon-Albany ...	11:30 pm

Arrives—	SEABOARD AIR LINE	—Leaves
8:00 pm ...	Hamlet-Monroe ...	6:10 am
7:30 pm ...	Birmingham-Atlanta ...	6:50 am
4:10 pm ...	N. Y.-Wash-Rich-Norf ...	11:30 am
8:45 am ...	Athens-Asheville ...	4:15 pm
11:20 am ...	Birmingham-Memphis ...	4:25 pm
6:40 am ...	N. Y.-Richmond-Norf ...	8:00 pm
6:30 am ...	Birmingham ...	11:40 pm

Arrives—	SOUTHERN RAILWAY	—Leaves
5:20 am	Cola-Wash-N. Y.-Ashev.	12:10 am
11:00 pm.	Anniston-Birmingham	8:45 am
7:00 pm.	Greenville-Spartan.	6:15 am
7:30 pm.	Royal Palm De Luxe	6:45 am
8:40 pm.	St. Louis-K. C.-Bham	7:10 am
7:10 pm.	Valdosta-Brunswick	7:05 am
8:20 pm.	Chicago-Cleve-Detroit	7:15 am
7:15 pm.	Rome-Chatta. Local	7:20 am
3:55 pm.	Piedmont Limited	8:00 am
7:20 pm.	Columbus	8:00 am
5:45 pm	Vald-Jax-Miami-St. P	8:35 am
4:15 pm	Richmond-Wash-N. Y.	12:05 pm
8:15 pm.	Macon-Tampa-St. P.	8:15 pm
5:40 pm.	Crescent Limited	12:50 pm
11:20 am.	Rome-Chatt.-Local	2:30 pm
11:55 am.	Chicago-Detroit-Cin	3:25 pm
11:15 am.	Columbus	4:00 pm
11:10 am.	Fort Valley	4:05 pm
11:40 am.	Macon	4:10 pm
11:35 am.	B'ham K. C.-Denver	4:25 pm
7:50 am.	Air Line Belle	5:20 pm
7:40 am.	x-Heflin Accommo-x	5:25 pm
8:20 am.	Cinn-L'ville-Detroit	6:00 pm
8:15 am.	Macon-Jax-Miami	7:00 pm
5:10 am.	Washington	7:30 pm
6:35 am.	Royal Palm Deluxe	7:40 pm
7:05 am.	Vald-Jax-Miami-St. P	8:30 pm
6:15 am.	Jax-Brunswick Miami	8:50 pm
5:35 am.	Birm-Shreve-Ft. Worth	11:30 pm

Following Trains Arrive and Depart From PEACHTREE STATION ONLY.

5:00 pm.	Birmingham	9:35 am
9:35 am.	Washington-New York	5:00 pm

xDaily except Sunday.

UNION PASSENGER STATION.

Arrives—	GEORGIA RAILROAD	—Leaves
12 noon.	Augusta	6:10 am
5:35 pm.	Augusta	2:25 pm
*7:35 am.	Social Circle	6:10 pm
5:20 am.	Charleston-Wilmington	8:00 pm
5:20 am.	Augusta-Columbia	8:00 pm

*Daily except Sunday.

Arrives—	L. & N. R. R.	—Leaves
5:00 pm	Knoxville via Blue Ridge	7:05 am
12:50 pm.	Knoxville-Cin-Lville	3:00 pm
10:40 am.	Copperhill Local	4:10 pm

Arrives—	N. C. & ST. L. RY.	—Leaves
6:40 pm.	Nashville-Chattanooga	8:15 am
11:30 am.	Chattanooga Local	5:00 pm
7:10 am.	Chatt-Nashville-St. L.	6:30 pm

BUS SCHEDULES

RIDE NICHOLLS' LINCOLNS.

NEWNAN, LAGRANGE, WEST POINT, COLUMBUS. 6:30 A. M., 9 A. M., 11:45 A. M., 2 P. M., 4:45 P. M. 11:45. LINCOLN TO WEST POINT. OFFICE 148 PEACHTREE. PHONE WALNUT 6300.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Automobiles for Sale 11

COUPLE driving to Florida, closed car, will take two passengers. WEst 3544-J.

Beauty Aids 2

ANSLEY BEAUTY SHOPPE. Ansley hotel. Permanent waves $7.50. WAlnut 4449.

A EUGENE PERMANENT WAVE a specialty, given by Mrs. Marie Derrington, who has had 7 years of experience in permanent waving, $8. Work guaranteed. Each wave has a lovely natural appearance. Manicuring, 50c; marcel, 75c; facial, $1.00. Evening appointments. Derrington Beauty Parlor, 307 Wynne-Claughton. WAlnut 3387.

BEAUTICIAN, Mrs. Pitman, with Jerry's Beauty Shop, 307 Forsyth building, WA. 2585.

CHANCE. WHITE & HARDING Beauty Shoppe, 301-2 Fourth National, WAl. 5386.

SPECIAL expert permanent waves, any style, $4.50. Guaranteed. 1Vy 4297. Evening appointments.

STRASSERS permanent waving. Evening appointments if desired. 1834 Peachtree. WAlnut 1791.

"KATHLEEN'S WAVES ARE BETTER." 1131 Hurt Bldg. 1Vy 1526.

Personals 8

CURTAINS washed and stretched, fluted, called for and delivered. HEmlock 3557-J.

DENTISTRY—All kinds of dental work. Also wanted, people needing artificial teeth that have been unable to get fitted. Southern Dental Institute, Peck building, corner Peachtree, Pryor, Houston. WAlnut 3456.

IS DANGEROUS to neglect a cold, use Dr. Hinkle's Flu-Lagrippe capsules. Laboratory 105 Forrest, Room 26. 1Vy 3595.

ECZEMA—For a limited time we will send a 50c trial size of P. L. 4 Compound to all skin sufferers. Send name, address and 10c stamps to Chippendale Chemical Co., P. O. Box 2172, Atlanta, Desk A.

LADIES—Let "Arnone" make your tailored suit and fur chokers. 343 Peachtree.

MATERNITY HOSPITAL—Private, confidential; children boarded. Mrs. M. T. Mitchell, 338 Windsor street, Atlanta.

EPILEPSY—How poisoned blood causes Fits how to stop fits promptly. Free treatise and instructions. Write Western Medical Association, 132 W. Sixty-second street, Chicago.

RHEUMATISM—I will gladly tell anyone how I was cured in four days after two years' terrible suffering. It makes no difference what form you have, if you are suffering, write Dept. K-2, Box 147, Little Rock, Ark.

WEAR SPENCER CORSETS, BELTS AND GIRDLES

FOR HEALTH, comfort and beauty of figure. Individually designed; internationally known. Indorsed by leading physicians everywhere. Call HEmlock 5387-W.

VAPOR BATHS, massage, drugless treatments. Dr. C. D. Fambrough. 118 North avenue, N. E., 1Vy 1583.

WILL BOARD children, no objection to baby, where mother is employed. WAlnut 3158.

MATERNITY HOME—Private, confidential, children adopted. Dr. Weathers, 901 Hogan street, Jacksonville, Fla.

WOULD be glad to take care of a good piano. It would receive best of care and very little use. WAlnut 0325-W.

DR. G. V. McELROY (colored), one of the world's greatest friends. If you are sick and worried in mind see me. 156 Harris street, N. E. WAlnut 3036.

"Where-You-Can-Buy-It" 9

MASON & HAMLIN PIANO—Cable Piano company, 84 North Broad street.

VICTROLAS—Cable Piano company, 84 North Broad street.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

"Where-You-Can-Buy-It" 9

CHARIS—Combination Corselet, $6.75. 609 Georgia Savings Bank building. WAlnut 7964.

Lost and Found 10

LOST—Bracelet, platinum set with eight diamonds. Reward for return. HEmlock 6105.

LOST—Yellow gold Elgin watch bracelet, between 1039 Tilden avenue and car line or East Fair-Grant Park car Monday. Miss Vivian Carter. Reward. HEmlock 0114-J.

LOST—Two hound dogs January 23; 1 red male; 1 female, white, black and blue spotted; slit in ear; near Conway stop, Marietta car line. J. R. Brannan, Bolton, Ga., or FRanklin 9148 Monday or later; reward.

LOST—Friday morning platinum bar pin with small diamond, between 730 Bonaventure avenue and Luckie street school, on Walker, West View car or Ashby Barn car. Reward. 1Vy 2999-J.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN, FROM THE BARN OF F. S. HALL AT THE STOCK YARDS, ONE DARK BAY HORSE MULE WEIGHING ABOUT 1,500 POUNDS; SIX YEARS OLD AND SHOWS SLIGHT SIGNS OF GRADE WORK; $25 FOR INFORMATION LEADING TO RECOVERY. NOTIFY E. H. McGHEE, CARE OF HALL'S BARN, OR CALL WALNUT 1000.

LOST—Large airdale dog, named Mack; extra heavy coat; reward. HEmlock 1196.

PACKAGE left on running board of auto at Terminal station containing price list. Finder please call DEarborn 3298-W. Reward.

AUTOMOTIVE

Automobiles for Sale 11

DODGE BROTHERS dependable used cars. Lambeth-Eskridge Motor company, 270 Peachtree. 1Vy 4211.

LINCOLN—Fine used cars. Rippey Motor Co. 435 Spring street. 1Vy 0867.

CREDIT on '28 Chevrolet, any model, $25 off. WEst 3352-J.

FORDS—All models and types, liberal terms. Clyde Langford Motor Co. WAlnut 7512.

HUPP—New and used. Thompson-Cauthorn Motor company. 477 Peachtree. WAlnut 9252.

HUDSON-ESSEX used cars. Goldsmith-Becker Co., Inc., 230 Spring street, corner Harris. WAlnut 8718.

STUDEBAKER—100 per cent value. Yarbrough Motor company. Used Car Department, 415 Peachtree. WAlnut 2899.

MARMON CLEAN HOUSE SALE; BIG VALUES. 512 W. PEACHTREE.

1924 FORD TOURING, recently overhauled, good tires, top, very good mechanical condition. $75 cash. MAin 4135-J.

NASH—Used cars. Martin-Nash Motor Co. 594 Peachtree street.

OVERLAND, WILLYS-KNIGHT, WEST Peachtree at North avenue. Willys-Overland, Inc.

BUICK USED CARS—D. C. Black, 812 Peachtree street. 1Vy 1860.

FORD—ASBURY & HOLLOWELL, 400-402 PEACHTREE ST., 1VY 0507.

CHEVROLET passenger cars and speed wagons. John Smith company, 530-540 West Peachtree street.

CHEVROLETS NEW AND USED. EAST POINT CHEVROLET CO. 318 MAIN ST. FAIRFAX 2303.

FOR SALE—Late '26 model Essex coach. Good condition, 2 new tires, new battery. $125 cash. WAlnut 6309.

'26 DODGE SEDAN, new tires, good condition. Bargain. WAlnut 0992.

REO Flying Cloud demonstrator, good as new. Reo Sales & Service, 419 Peachtree. WAlnut 6432.

LATE '25 Lincoln sport touring, new tires, and new paint, mechanically perfect. $1,500. WAlnut 3951.

USED CARS—See Atlanta Cadillac company, 486 West Peachtree.

OAKLAND—PONTIAC F. E. MAFFETT, INC. 425 SPRING 1VY 1921 USED CAR DEPT. 505 W. PEACHTREE HEMLOCK 1164

CHEVROLET—Good used cars. Whitehall Chevrolet Co., 329 Whitehall street. WAlnut 1412.

1926 FORD touring, first-class condition; liberal terms. 169 Marietta street.

Auto Trucks for Sale 12

RELIABLE USED TRUCKS ATTRACTIVE PRICES AND LIBERAL TERMS. THE WHITE CO., 70 BOULEVARD, N. E.

Auto Tires and Tubes 14

BROWN'S PARKING PLACE—Good used tires, parking. 27 Houston street.

USED TIRES, all sizes, all prices, $1 and up; all good values. Bailey Tire Co., 299 Peachtree street.

Garage and Service Stations 16

ATLANTA RADIATOR CO.—W. T. Spear, Manager. 288 Edgewood avenue. Phone 1Vy 1434.

Wanted—Automobiles 18

BEST CASH PRICES For Good, Late Model Used Cars. MORRIS MOTOR CO. 338 Peachtree St. 1Vy 0436.

CASH for your used car. Highest market prices paid. J. M. Harrison & Co., south's largest used car dealers. 125-131 1vy street. WAlnut 8966.

HIGHEST cash prices paid for late model closed cars. 52 Houston street. WAlnut 6281.

WANT Chevrolet coach, must be cheap. No Dealer. WAlnut 1465.

JOS. H. COHEN—Good used cars bought, sold, exchanged. 342 Peachtree. 1Vy 3328.

Motorcycles—Sales and Service 20

HARLEY-DAVIDSON. New and used Cunningham Motorcycle Co., 128 W. Pitree.

BUSINESS SERVICE

Alemiting

HAVE your car alemited at the Candler Bldg. Garage, 114 Ivy St. WAl. 2515.

Bed Renovating

FEATHERS renovated, feather mattresses and comforts. 1Vy 4739. Ideal Feather Works.

ATLANTA MATTRESS CO. ONE-DAY SERVICE HIGH-GRADE MATTRESS RENOVATING. Established 22 Years. Satisfaction Guaranteed. 1Vy 8847. 327 Houston St.

$3.50 NEW TICKING, best work. Gate City Mattress Renovating Co., 1Vy 8861.

Cleaning, Dyeing, Renovating

HATTERS—Satisfaction guaranteed; mail orders given prompt attention. Acme Hatters, 35 South Forsyth street. WAlnut 7202.

Furnaces

ALL furnaces repaired. Agts. Hero furnace. Pridgen Roofing Co., 199 Whitehall.

Luggage Made and Repaired

ROUNTREE'S. 77 Whitehall street. WAlnut 6914

Moving, Trucking, Storage

ROBINS TRANSFER COMPANY moves you for $3 a load. MAin 1916-W.

WE MOVE pack and store pianos. Ludden & Bates, 80 North Pryor street.

Painting, Tinting, Papering

PAINTING, plastering, tinting; rooms, $2 up; brick, stone, cement; roof repairing. WEst 2738-J.

INTERIOR and exterior painting, plastering; rooms tinted $2 to $5. WEst 0630-J.

J. W. OZBURN, painting and papering, guaranteed. 209 Spring. WAlnut 8108.

Plumbing

PLUMBING—FOR EXPERT PLUMBING, REPAIR WORK CALL MORRIS, DEARBORN 0380.

Refrigerator Repairing

REFRIGERATORS repaired, moved, bought and sold. Shannen Refrigerator Repair Co., MAin 3266.

Repairing, Refinishing, Upholstering

REPAIR work, any kind that needs a carpenter, anywhere in the city, we build counters, shelving, cabinets, all kinds; special mill work; our representative will be glad to call and make estimate. Phone 1Vy 1135. George S. Thomas Co.

PHONOGRAPHS REPAIRED—WAlnut 8380. 27 Pryor, S. W. Atlanta Phono company.

UPHOLSTERING, repairing, refinishing, all kinds chair caning. DEarborn 0742-J.

BUSINESS SERVICE

Refinishing Floors.

HAVE your old floors refinished now at low prices. J. M. Karwisch Mfg. Co., MAin 5273.

Radio and Electrical Repairing

TEN YEARS' experience rebuilding, repairing and servicing radios. Standard Auto-Electric Shop, 180 Walton street. 1Vy 0935.

Roofing

BEST materials, lowest prices, on roofing and repairing. Call J. E. Dumas, 1Vy 9017.

ROOFING—Cash or terms. 1Vy 4946. GUARANTEE ROOFING COMPANY.

RE-ROOF, 10-year guarantee, 10 months to pay. White Roofing company, WAlnut 8579.

W. S. STROUD—WEst 3681; 22 years' experience. Call me and save money.

Welding.

CRACKED parts and castings welded. 1Vy 3986. 156 Forsyth, S. W.

Window Shades, Cleaning, Repairing

DIXIE WINDOW SHADE CO.—Shades cleaned and made to order. HEmlock 5057.

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Female 32

A WOMAN OF REFINEMENT

HIGH SCHOOL education and pleasing personality, between age of 25 and 40, who is entirely unincumbered and free to travel extensively, desired by nationally known organization. Salary, bonus and transportation. Give full information first letter. F. E. Compton & Co., 1004 N. Dearborn, Chicago.

ADDRESS ENVELOPES at home—spare time. Experience unnecessary. Dignified work, $15-$25 weekly easy. Send two-cent stamp for particulars. Mazelle, Department 478, Gary, Ind.

ADDRESS ENVELOPES—$25-$30 weekly in your spare time. Everything furnished. Stamp for particulars. Junell Co., Hammond, Ind.

COLORED—Ten cooks, maids, nurses, $6 to $10. Apply Monday, 1864 Auburn.

EARN $25 weekly spare time writing for newspapers, magazines. Experience unnecessary. Details free. Press Institute, 123 St. Louis, Mo.

EXCELLENT opportunity for real live salesman; state name, age, experience and telephone. Address X-493, Constitution.

FEW HIGH-TYPE ladies to do soliciting in Atlanta or other close-in towns. Address B-373, Constitution.

GIRLS,

WHY POKE along on small salary when you can make so much more in Beauty culture. Join the prosperity parade. Call or write Moler College, 81 Forsyth, N. W. Best location in Atlanta. All newly equipped.

GIRLS WANTED—SINGERS AND DANCERS. APPLY HOWARD, MEZZANINE FLOOR, HENRY GRADY HOTEL.

LEARN best shorthand at home by correspondence; learnable 30-90 days; book free; success guaranteed. Jiggitts, Houston, Texas.

LADIES—Earn $15-$25 weekly addressing cards at home. Spare time. Experience unnecessary. Particulars two-cent stamp. Elite Co., 3412 Michigan Ave., Indiana Harbor, Ind.

LADIES—Earn $17 a dozen sewing aprons at home. Easy work. No experience or selling necessary. Instructions free. Two-cent stamp brings full particulars. Renee Garment Co., Department 19, Gary, Ind.

LADIES WANTED—Earn good money sewing at home in your spare time, no selling. Send addressed envelope for particulars. Address Box F-2900, Constitution.

LADIES—Earn $12-$20 weekly sewing at home; materials supplied; steady work; no selling; 2c stamp brings particulars. Steward-Mfg., 114 Mercer, New York.

LADIES—Earn extra money, full or spare time. Every lady a prospective customer, experience unnecessary. Send two-cent stamp for full particulars. Barco Supply Co., Box 467, New Castle, Ind.

NATIONAL organization has a permanent opening in its sales department for a few high-type women, between 24 and 40. Must be free to travel extensively; opportunity to earn $3,000 to $5,000, a year and definite income to start with, exceptional advancement, transportation paid, call for appointment. Mrs. Virginia Neuhansel, Biltmore hotel.

NEW INVENTION prevents shoulder straps slipping. Earn $60 up weekly. Selling experience unnecessary. Women adore this amazing comfort chain. Free sample offer. Lingerie "V" Co., North Windham, Connecticut.

OUR rapidly growing organization requires the services of a woman of education, tact and enterprise, between 28 and 45; one who is seeking a profession which is constructive and has a future, bringing adequate financial returns from the start. Experience not necessary as we give thorough training. See Mrs. Waters, 1311 Hurt building.

STENOGRAPHERS—Dictaphone operators, typists, etc., can secure first-class positions by registering with us on a strictly confidential basis. No preliminary charges. Edith Schroeder, Executive Service company, 513 Healey building.

STUDENTS—Daily salary for subscriptions on new publication. Must furnish references. Apply room 305 Wynne-Claughton building.

SALESLADIES wanted. How would you like to make $5 daily working only 10-1; if you are interested, write and we'll show you how. Worthmore Garment, Union City, N. J.

THREE TEACHERS

BETWEEN ages 22 and 40, normal or college training, two years' teaching experience, traveling position, definite income to start, railroad fare paid, opportunity to make $200 to $500 a month this summer. May lead to permanent position. Address X-483, Constitution.

WANTED—Woman with ability in mill office to assist as stenographer with general office experience. Answer P. O. Box 705, Newnan, Ga., giving age, qualifications, experience. Good salary.

WANTED—Governess or nurse for two children 3 1-2 and 7 years old, respectively; experienced only; good position. Phone DEarborn 2724, 1487 Ponce de Leon Ave.

WANTED—Expert cook and general house worker; must have references. WAlnut 2148.

LADIES earn $17 dozen sewing smocks home. Experience unnecessary; no selling; materials cut; addressed envelope brings instructions. World Co., 346 Sixth Ave., N. Y.

WANTED—

FIRST-CLASS experienced ladies' ready-to-wear saleslades. Apply after 1 p. m. Monday.

ERLICH'S

4 Peachtree Street

WOMEN—Earn $18 dozen sewing dresses at home; experience unnecessary. Everything supplied. Steady work; 2c stamp brings particulars. Pearl Garment, 543 Broadway, New York.

WOMEN wanted by manufacturers; sewing, hand or machine; no experience necessary; easy work; no selling; particulars free; enclose stamp. Bell Mfg Co., 1011 Chestnut, Philadelphia, Pa.

WOMEN inexperienced wanted by manufacturers who can earn $20 weekly spare time sewing aprons. Materials cut; no selling; stamped envelope brings particulars. Morning Glory Apron Co., Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

WOMEN—Address cards at home, pleasant work. Stamped addressed envelope particulars. Imperial Shipping Bureau, Drawer E, Stratford, Conn.

WOMEN—Book and gift shop business taught at home; dignified, profitable work. Book and Gift Shop School, 247 Park avenue, Dept. 18, New York.

$15-$25 WEEKLY making flowers for pillows, lamp shades, dresses, hats, steady work; no canvassing. Experience unnecessary. Particulars free. Ruby Flower Co., Hammond, Ind.

Help Wanted—Male 33

A HIGH-GRADE specialty salesman is wanted to sell an electric specialty in Atlanta territory. One who has actual experience in selling electric ranges, refrigerators and similar household devices preferred. We have an unusual opportunity for a man of ability for a future and with a substantial increase in income from year to year. Apply in your own handwriting, giving age, education, experience and references. Address X-495, Constitution.

ASSISTANT manager wanted by well established local concern for immediate opening. Young man under 35, sales ability and office experience required. Necessary to purchase part interest in business requiring a cash investment of $750. Don't answer unless you can meet all requirements. Address B-366, Constitution.

ACCOUNTANTS—Office managers, credit managers, bookkeepers, etc., can secure connections on a strictly confidential basis through our service. No preliminary charges. See Mr. Sharkey, Executive Service company, 513 Healey building.

Here Today and Gone Tomorrow!

THERE'S the story in five words of the results Atlanta folks receive from the Classified columns on these pages.

Bargains in Real Estate, Used Cars, Rooms for Rent, Household Goods and Merchandise find a ready market—

In fact, it's a frequent occurrence to find them listed here today and sold tomorrow!

Give the Classified Ads a trial—just ask for an Ad-Taker at WAlnut 6565 NOW.

The Atlanta Constitution

(Open Sundays Till 9:00 P. M.—Phone WAlnut 8654)

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Male 33

CLOTHING SALESMEN—Best paying line; Suit or top coat $19.50, commission $5.50; two garments $32.85, commission $8. Metropolitan Clothiers, Denver, Colo.

A GOOD SALESMAN

WE ARE large, well rated manufacturer, who has been selling your territory for 17 years. Our proposition requires no capital and is dignified selling. No house-to-house. Man we want must live locally and devote entire time. Give full information about yourself first letter; Address in confidence, General Sales Manager, 2156 Fulton street, Chicago.

ATTRACTIVE POSITION

TRAVELING representative, then manager; requires woman over 30, college or normal training preferable; woman qualifying earns man's income, $200-$400 month; unusual position appealing to woman not accustomed to answer want ads. Phone Mrs. J. M. Hamilton, Henry Grady hotel.

ATTENTION—Sell Adlawn dress pants direct-to-consumer, 3 pairs for $10.00; your commission $2.25 on every sale; large size swatches; 26 beautiful new spring patterns; flannels, serges, fancy worsteds, tropicals; compact, compelling sales outfit free. Write or wire Adlawn Pants, 35 West Twenty-second street, New York.

BIG OHIO corporation seeks manager for unoccupied territory, $50 weekly commission, earnings start immediately, good for $5,000 yearly. We furnish everything, deliver and collect. Capital or experience unnecessary. Fyr-Fyter Co., 1672 Fyr-Fyter Bldg., Dayton, Ohio.

BOOK SALESMEN—Fastest selling 20 volume set; big commission. J. A. Richards, Inc., 578 Madison avenue, New York.

CLOTHING SALESMEN

WE ARE OPEN for high-grade salesmen (resident preferred) traveling their territory regularly by automobile in Georgia and vicinity. We are one of the largest specialty houses in America manufacturing the famous Hennen Brand serges, stripes and other exclusive patterns. We have established business to turn over. Only experienced men with following among the better stores will be considered. We offer a strictly commission proposition with exclusive sales right. No application will be considered unless this quality, number of years on the road; annual business for 1926-27; name of last or present employer. Answers strictly confidential. Hennen Brand, 200 Fifth avenue, Room 1002, New York.

CAN YOU SELL

REAL ESTATE? If so, I would like to have an interview with you. Must own a car. See Mr. Hood, 221 Candler building, 9 to 12 a. m.

COUPLE to manage railroad eating house; must be able to furnish $100 cash security and either one must cook. A real chance to connect with a national institution. Do not apply unless you know the lunch business. Apply Sunday between 2 and 4; Monday from 9 to 12 at noon. E. M. Wade, Robert Fulton hotel.

CREDIT and collection managers, installment experience, seeking advancement, find our confidential service unusually effective in making desirable connections anywhere. Scharf Service, 145 W. 45th street, New York.

COLORED boy, 16, to work; board and room; $16 month. McGann, 904 Healey building. Monday morning before 8.

DRAFTSMAN—Must be good letterer and tracer. Executive Service, 513 Healey building.

DRAFTSMEN—Industrial structures, machinery, railway, mining, highway, power surveys, personally served by the American Engineers Service, Pittsburgh, Pa.

EXPERIENCED

SECURITY SALESMEN.

WE CAN USE THREE HIGH-CLASS SECURITY SALESMEN ON BIGGEST DEAL SEEN IN THE SOUTH IN YEARS. THIS MEANS BIG, QUICK MONEY TO THE RIGHT MEN. DON'T APPLY UNLESS YOU ARE USED TO HANDLING BIG MONEY DEALS.

MEN PREFERRED WHO HAVE HANDLED BANK OR FINANCIAL SECURITIES.

IF YOU ARE A LIVE-WIRE SALESMAN THIS IS YOUR BIG OPPORTUNITY. NO MATTER WHAT YOU MAY BE DOING NOW THIS IS BIG ENOUGH TO MAKE YOU LEAVE IT.

IF YOU THINK YOU CAN QUALIFY, SEE MR. MARTIN, MONDAY, 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

510 ATLANTA TRUST CO. BLDG.

ATLANTA, GA.

EARN good money while attending our free sales classes. WAlnut 3462.

FOREST ranger positions pay $125-$200 month. Cabin, hunt, trap, patrol. Get details Rayson Institute, J-6, Denver, Col.

FRUIT tree salesmen; pleasant, profitable, steady work. Exclusive line for farmers, teachers and others. Permanent job for good workers. Write for terms. Concord Nurseries, Department 39, Concord, Ga.

FOREIGN WORK—Young men interested working sunny South America write at once for information. South American Service Bureau, 14,600 Alma, Detroit, Mich.

GENTLEMAN or lady now calling upon dry goods trade, North and South Carolina, sell established line baby pants, dress shields, etc. Make $200 to $400 monthly. Many satisfied accounts in territory. Generous commissions. Samples sent without expense. Climax Specialty Co., Troy, Missouri.

GUARANTEED salary and commission selling new specialty to retailers. Enormous opportunity. J. Arnold, Box 918, Cedar Rapids, Ia.

LIGHTNING strange battery compound charges batteries instantly; gives new life and pep; get gallon free and samples of Lightning hand soap, auto driclean, radiator cleaner. The Lightning Co. of Ga., 633 Moreland Ave., Atlanta.

MEN—Get forest ranger or U. S. mail positions, $135-$225 month, permanent; experience unnecessary. For details write Bradford, 31 South 52nd, Philadelphia, Pa.

MEN, get South and Central American employment, good pay, transportation furnished. Send self-addressed envelope for particulars. Box 2907, Constitution.

MEN—Experience unnecessary; travel; make secret investigations; reports; salaries; expenses. Write American-Foreign Detective Institute, St. Louis, Mo.

MAN TO DIG well. McGann, half mile west U. S. hospital 48.

MEN wishing become fireman, brakeman, colored train or sleeping car porters. Large Georgia roads. Write for application blank and information, $125-$250 month. Experience unnecessary. Railway Institute, Dept. 8, Indianapolis, Ind.

MEN,

YOU CAN qualify as an expert barber and be in demand all over America. Start now. Before long you'll be enjoying the comforts of life along with other happy satisfied Moler men. Our new location, best in Atlanta, has the latest equipment for teaching. Call or write. Moler Barber College, 81 Forsyth, N. W., Metropolitan building.

MAKE MONEY in building. Mention this paper and receive valuable booklet on building and how to read blue prints. No charge for these. Learn how to fill big pay jobs. Short cut method. Write today. Address Building Dept., 2108, Chicago Tech, 118 East Twenty-sixth St., Chicago, Ill.

EMPLOYMENT

Help Wanted—Male 33

SALESMEN,

ARE YOU LOOKING FOR A PERMANENT SALES POSITION WHERE YOU CAN MAKE GOOD MONEY NOW AND BIG MONEY IN THE FUTURE?

WE ARE LOOKING FOR AMBITIOUS MEN WHO WISH TO BETTER THEMSELVES. YOU MAY BE AN EXPERIENCED SALESMAN OR NOT; THAT IS IMMATERIAL. WE GIVE A THOROUGH TRAINING. WE WANT MEN WHO WISH TO GET AHEAD IN LIFE AND WHO ARE WILLING TO WORK TO DO SO.

SEE MR. DEIHL FOR PARTICULARS,

503 ATLANTA TRUST CO. BLDG. 9 A. M. TO 4:30 P. M.

TAILORING SALESMEN—Complete all southern line of 55 different patterns, including all of the tropicals. Single suits $18.50 and $19.50. Two suits $32.50 and $34.50. Commissions $4 and $6. State experience and give three references first letter. District managers write us. Glendale Tailors, Memphis, Tenn.

PITCH MEN wanted. New article, fast seller, 100 per cent profit. Apply room 620 Hotel Winecoff, Monday, 1 to 2 p. m.

PUNCHBOARD salesmen, one sale daily nets you $105 weekly. Big season now. K. & S. Sales, 4320 Ravenswood, Chicago.

REGISTERED DRUGGIST, MUST BE EXPERIENCED. 349 PEACHTREE ARCADE.

REPRESENT auto seat cover manufacturer. Direct to automobile owners. High quality, low prices. Make $125 weekly. Elaborate samples free. Marvelo, 330 South Paulina, Chicago.

SALES ENGINEERS, MACHINERY DEALERS OR DISTRIBUTORS—A manufacturer of semi-Diesel oil engines desires to negotiate with reliable firms or individuals, who are equipped to aggressively go after business in the various territories. The engines are well designed for stationary purposes, are economical and thoroughly reliable in operation and are priced to sell readily. A unusually profitable proposition is available for those qualifying. Address F-2913, Constitution.

SALESMAN WANTED.

OPPORTUNITY FOR AMBITIOUS, WIDE-AWAKE HUSTLER WITH SALES ABILITY IN AN ORGANIZATION OF AN ESTABLISHED MANUFACTURER. NOT AN AGENT'S PROPOSITION BUT AN OPENING FOR A COMPETENT SALESMAN. KNOWLEDGE OF PAINTS, VARNISHES AND ROOFING MATERIAL HELPFUL, BUT NOT ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY. RAPID ADVANCEMENT ASSURED THE RIGHT MAN. GIVE AGE, FULL EXPERIENCE AND TELEPHONE NUMBER. ADDRESS F-2914, CONSTITUTION.

SALESMEN—Four $15 sales to merchants per day $40 daily. Sayers Systems, 2801 Sheffield, Chicago, Ill.

SALESMEN can earn big commissions selling our commercial electric corn popper for $15. Waterlown Supply Co., Watertown, Wis.

SALESMAN—Sideline or full time. New ideas for retail merchants. $50 to $200 weekly. Pocket outfit free. National Publishing Bureau, 80 E. South Water, Chicago.

SALESMAN—Preferrably with car, an state representative for Electric Sprayit. Sells easily, liberal commissions. Opportunity for right man. See Mr. Davison, Cecil hotel.

SALESMEN can earn $50.00 to $75.00 a week selling advertising fans. Selling season now on. Samples light. Address U. S. Calendar Company, Cincinnati, Ohio.

SALESMAN, progressive wholesaler novelty wash goods desires experienced representative, commission. State territory, full details. Box No. 193, 303 Fifth avenue, New York.

SALESMEN wanted to cover territories in Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee with a direct factory line of tags, printing and complete line of supplies for gins, compresses, cotton buyers, warehouses and cotton men in any line. Must come highly recommended and have car. Fine line for peppy cotton buyers during off season. Ennis Tag & Printing Co., Ennis, Texas.

SALESMEN WANTED

THAT own their automobile and can finance self for about 30 days. We have a proposition that is strictly commission. But the right men can earn $500 per month easily, with the cooperation we give. Our business has grown to the extent and the coming season we are approaching we will have an opening for six good men. See Mr. Barrett. SALES REALTY CO., INC., 210 Candler Bldg. WAlnut 7758.

SPECIAL course and tools, $35. Southern Barber College, 214 Mitchell, S. W.

SALESMEN AND DISTRIBUTORS—Make $10,000 a year. A new high-grade advertising sign with ads in colors. Each machine placed nets you from $10 to $37.50 daily. Territory open for producers. Call 614 Rhodes building.

SALESMEN—Producer, department store following, novelty popular priced line ladies' hose; commission basis; main or sideline. Comco Leather Goods Co., 562 Broadway, New York.

SALESMEN with department chain store following, strong popular price line infants' caps; commission basis; main or sideline. Colon Mfg Co., 560 Broadway, New York.

SALESMEN and saleswomen, get the Carnation line; new, original proposition; the biggest household sellers ever gotten out; send for samples; get started now; $

FINANCIAL

Personal Property, Loans 40A

A DIGNIFIED WAY TO PAY YOUR BILLS

THOUSANDS of people come to us each year for a loan with which to pay their bills. They prefer this convenient and confidential way rather than to suffer the embarrassment of asking their friends and relatives. They find that it is much better to borrow needed money in this business-like manner, somewhat like business men borrow the money they need. If you need money in a hurry call on us without obligation. Furniture accepted as security.

THE MASTER LOAN SERVICE, INC.
211-12-13 Healey Bldg. WAlnut 2377-8

LOANS.
ON automobiles, furniture and indorsed notes, prompt service, legal rates.
SOUTHLAND LOAN & INV. CO.
205-8 Forsyth Building.
WAlnut 4289.

MONEY TO LOAN.
ON FURNITURE, PIANOS AND OTHER PERSONAL PROPERTY UP TO $300, AT LEGAL RATE. YOU MAY HAVE 20 MONTHS TO REPAY YOUR LOAN. SEE US FOR PROMPT SERVICE.
SEABOARD SECURITY CO., INC.
250 Arcade Bldg. Phone WAl. 1982.

LOANS UP TO $300
TO HUSBAND AND WIFE
No Indorsers—No Publicity.
Lawful Interest—No Other Charges.
LOANS are made for a long time with small monthly payment, with the privilege of paying larger payment or in full at any time. Every dollar paid on loan reduces the interest cost.
POPULAR FINANCE CORPORATION
GEORGIA SAVINGS BANK BUILDING
(Flat Iron Building)
ROOM 208—SECOND FLOOR
84 PEACHTREE STREET
Telephone WAlnut 5295-6-7.

ATTRACTIVE LOANS
JEFFERSON LOAN SOCIETY
8 AUBURN AVENUE.

ATTRACTIVE LOANS
ON FURNITURE, automobiles, indorsed notes, etc.
PROMPT SERVICE and legal interest rate charged; repayable 1 to 20 months.
SOUTHERN SECURITY CO., INC.
204-7 Atlanta Nat'l Bank Bldg. WAlnut 0674

FURNITURE AND PIANO LOANS
TO HUSBAND AND WIFE
NO publicity, fees or fines, lawful interest, liberal terms, prompt service.
SECURITY INDUSTRIAL CORP.
201 Peters Bldg. WAlnut 2077

Salaries Bought 41

SALARIES BOUGHT—Quick, ready money 208 McKenzie building.

SALARIES BOUGHT — No indorsements. Federal Investment company, 204 Peters building.

Wanted to Borrow 41A

$10,000 WANTED—25 per cent for two years. No scheme, you handle your money. $800,000 in sight, no speculation, Money Box, Address B-362, Constitution.

INSTRUCTION

Correspondence Courses 42

RAILWAY POSTAL CLERKS—$158 month; 25 men, 18 up, coached free. Write immediately, Franklin Institute, Dept. 44-E, Rochester, N. Y.

Local Instruction Classes 43

LEARN shorthand or bookkeeping evenings, $10 month. IVy 1874 after 5 p. m.

Musical, Dancing, Dramatic 44

LESSONS on all string instruments and the piano, 50c per lesson. Orchestra practice once a week free of charge to all pupils. Music furnished for entertainments. 766 Peachtree street, HE. 6138.

Private Instruction 45

BALL ROOM dancing, latest steps, rates reasonable. DEarborn 2632-J.

COACHING high school subjects, also short hand, typewriting, reasonable rates. Call HEmlock 1527-J or HEmlock 7415-J.

MAIL CARRIERS, CLERKS—Men, 18 to 45, $1,700 to $2,300; candidates coached; particulars free. Apply today sure. F-2879, Constitution.

MARIE CARTER school of dancing, ballroom, private lessons. WAlnut 5362.

Dogs, Cats and Other Pets 47

ANIMALS and BIRDS—Canaries, parrots, lovebirds, finches, cockatoos, rabbits, guinea pigs, puppies, cats, kittens, waltzing mice, white mice and rats, goldfish, incubators, brooders, baby chicks, free catalog. Petland, 284 Peachtree.

AIREDALE PUPS for sale. Call DEarborn 1003.

BOSTON terriers, poms, pekes, wirehairs, females $22.50, males $35; German police, females $13.50, males $22.50; white Eskimos, females $9, males $15; St. Bernards, crossed with Newfoundlands, airedales, females $7.50, males $14.50; collies, poodles, toy, fox, bull, rat terriers, females $6, males $10; Persian kittens, females $7.50, males $11; also great danes, chows, Russian wolfhounds at low prices; breeding cage, male and female canary, full outfit $13.50; mail orders filled; ship everywhere. Modern Pet Shop, 18 North Ninth, Philadelphia, Pa.

CHINCHILLA RABBITS—3 does, 1 buck, 7 months old, $25. Allard & Echols, 6 Hunnicutt street, Hapeville, Ga. IVy 5351.

MALE FOX TERRIER PUPPIES. WEST HANEN KENNELS, 313 HIGHTOWER ROAD.

THOROUGHBRED Black and Tan Doberman Pinscher, 9 months, $75. HEmlock 2561-J.

Horses, Cattles, Vehicles 48

BURRO, Mexican donkey, broken, very tame, children's pet, cheap. Petland, 284 Peachtree.

25 CHEAP plug mules for sale. No. 1 La France St. Nichol's Contracting company, phone DEarborn 1522.

Poultry and Baby Chicks 49

ACCLIMATED CHICKS AND COCKERELS SHOW and egg contest winning blood lines, direct from world's master breeders; everything we sell produced on this 320-acre exclusive poultry plant; moderate prices; our catalog is an eye-opener. Drumm Egg Farms, Hattiesburg, Miss.

BABY CHICKS—Blood-tested and trap-nested stock. Place your order now. Heavy breeds $15 hundred; Leghorns $14 hundred. Buckeye incubators and brooders. Cottongim's Seed Store, 29 Forsyth St., S. W.

BABY CHICKS—Send no money for state accredited chicks, pay on delivery. Leghorns, $11 per 100; Rocks, Reds, Wyandottes, $13; mixed, $9. Live delivery, postpaid. M. G. Hatchery, Mountain Grove, Missouri.

BABY CHICKS from closely culled flocks. Chicks that live and grow. Every chick selected for size and vigor. Brooders $3.45 each. We will hatch your eggs. Woodlawn Hatcheries, WAlnut 4095.

BLUE RIBBON blood tested chicks are easiest raised. Get prices today. Blue Ribbon Hatchery, 221 S. Forsyth St.

CHICKS of quality from pure-bred, culled flocks. Rocks, Reds, Leghorns, Anconas. Postage prepaid; guarantee live delivery. Free catalog, price list. Lester's Hatchery, Rome, Ga.

CERTIFIED chicks from 200-egg cockerels; blood tested; leading varieties; prices within reach of all; live delivery, catalog free. Dixie Poultry Farms, Box 127, Brenham, Texas.

FREE TO POULTRY RAISERS
Booklet "Why Hatch Four Eggs to Raise One Chick?" It contains the secret which has saved thousands of chicks for poultry raisers. Get your free copy today. Write F. W. Miller, Box N, Rockford, Ill.

LET US hatch your eggs, any quantity. Roberson Hatchery, 201 Whitehall. DEarborn 2461-M.

MASTER bred chicks. From world's largest poultry breeding organization. Accredited. We breed for capacity 200 eggs and up yearly; 14 varieties. Utility chicks low as 9c. Live delivery. Catalogue free. Missouri Poultry Farms, Box 271, Columbia, Mo.

REAL chick bargains; biggest values; state accredited; bred-to-lay chicks; leading breeds; guaranteed; vigorous; 100% live delivery; write for bargain prices. Quality Farms, Box 107, Wellsville, Mo.

ROBERSON'S chicks, from personally inspected flocks, Lewis Cottongim, 107 Broad.

SHIPPED prepaid in brooder boxes, Barred Rocks, Reds, Orpingtons, Leghorns, 100, $12; live delivery. Ozark Farms, Westphalia, Mo.

THIS ad, good for $1 if your order received within 2 weeks after you get our catalog; triple pay strain chicks; accredited; blood-tested and certified chicks sired by 200-egg cockerels; triple profits from layers, wiseners, broilers; catalog free. Sanitary Hatchery, Box 111, Weimar, Texas.

100 CHOICE Tancred strain white leghorn chicks, three weeks old, from heavy layers. Woodlawn Hatcheries, WAlnut 4095.

MERCHANDISE

Articles for Sale 51

ANTIQUES — LEE-CALHOUN ANTIQUE SHOP. RARE AND UNUSUAL PIECES. 8 W. PEACHTREE, AT BAKER.

BARBERS—If you don't look out for No. 1, who will? Pay cash, save the difference. B. & B., 50 South Forsyth street.

BURROUGHS adding machine, practically new, at 83 South Broad street. WAlnut 1957.

BABY CARRIAGE, Lloyd, brown wicker, $10.00. Good condition. IVy 2142-W.

BOY'S BICYCLE, SIZE 28, SPLENDID CONDITION. HEMLOCK 1258-J.

CASH REGISTER, show case, iron safe and desk, 195 Mitchell street, S. W.

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER, 508 GOULD BUILDING. WALNUT 7106.

NEW ORTHONPIC
VICTROLA at a bargain. Box 146, Sta. A, Atlanta.

ORANGE or grapefruit juice, pure (unfermented); one gallon $2.50, five gallons $8.50 f. o. b. Jake Harmon, Winter Park, Fla.

ONE 6-foot floor show case in good condition; one Hobart motor with sausage mill, used two months. IVy 8260.

OAK BOARDS suitable for fencing and use around the farm and dairy, sound No. 3 common, $1.25 per 100 feet. 915 Glenwood avenue, S. E.

OLD-TIME music box for sale. Call DEarborn 1003.

WAREHOUSE EQUIPMENT
HAND-OPERATED (Revolator); portable elevator, for lifting, stacking heavy goods or material to save space and labor; also practically new stencil machine for addressing shipments. Address P. O. Box 2193, or telephone WEst 3122.

SALE—Iron safe, pair crowder scales, desk for grocery store. MAin 1272-J.

MEDICINE CABINETS.
Western Sash & Door Co.

ORANGES, grapefruit, apples, carloads daily, lowest prices in town by the bushel or any quantity. Carload Fruit Co., 159 Spring St., S. W., corner Garnett.

BOTTLES, kegs, cans, jugs, lowest prices; malt syrup; delivered. Economy Bottle Supply, 153 Trinity, S. W. IVy 8533.

SMOKE E. E. M. tobacco mixture for colds, catarrh and throat troubles. From your druggist or E. E. M. company, Atlanta, Ga.

THREE medium size fireproof safes. The Howe Scale Co., 9 Stewart avenue.

JONES' HISTORY OF GEORGIA—Rare volumes, steel engravings. Owner, B-363, Constitution.

3-PLY slate surface roofing, $1.75 per roll. Jacobs Sales Co., 45 Decatur street, WAlnut 2876.

Barber Supplies 52-A

BARBER SHOP owners and journeymen barbers, buy your supplies for cash, save money. Easy terms on equipment.
B. & B. EQUIPMENT CO.
50 S. Forsyth. Near Rich's. WAl. 7089.

Building Materials 53

GOOD LUMBER, doors, windows, laths, grates, bathtubs, sinks, brick and mantels. 50 Alexander street. W. P. Evans.

WILLIAMS-FLYNT LUMBER COMPANY, LUMBER AND BUILDING MATERIALS. 250 ELLIOTT STREET, N. W., IVY 1093.

Plumbing Supplies 53A

WHOLESALE and retail; buy direct. 197 Central, S. W. Pickert Plumbing Sup'y Co.

Business and Office Equipment 54

BURROUGHS adding machine for sale, good condition, $35. MAin 2914-J.

TYPEWRITERS—Regal rebuilt Royals, factory rebuilt Underwoods and L. C. Smiths. New Portables. We buy, sell, rent and repair all makes. Quick Service Typewriter Co., 16 Peachtree Arcade. Phone WAl. 1618.

TYPEWRITERS—We sell, rent and repair all makes. Special rental rates to students. Phone WAlnut 2880.
AMERICAN WRITING MACHINE CO.
67 Forsyth St., N. W. Atlanta, Ga.

WE BUY, sell, exchange and trade in new and used office furniture, low prices, small profit with quick turnover.
NEWELL-THOMAS OFFICE EQUIPMENT COMPANY.
88-90 Walton St., N. W. WAlnut 0547

USED OFFICE FURNITURE.
WE OFFER a large lot of miscellaneous used office equipment, consisting of desks chairs, safes, files, etc., at low prices.
HORNE DESK & FIXTURE COMPANY,
89 North Pryor Street.

Fuel, Feed, Fertilizer 56

1 CAR of blocks, stove wood length. Make offer. J. A. Palmer, Junction City, Ga., Route 1.

KIRKWOOD COAL COMPANY.
COAL—DEarborn 1792—COKE.

Good Things to Eat 57

FOR SALE—Home-made butter, two pounds 90c; home-made smoked pork sausage, 5 pounds $2; small pecans, 5 pounds, 75c, all postpaid. Sweet potatoes, $1 bushel; meal, $1.10; peanuts, $1.50 bushel; express collect. J. W. Lang, Omega, Ga.

Household Goods 59

ATTENTION ROOMING HOUSES.
GOOD chance to stock up on furnishings; Beds and springs, $11 and $12; mattresses, $5 and $6; mahogany dressers, $18; oak dressers, $15; pillows, 50 cents; Morris chairs $5 and $6; mahogany tables, $3, $4 and $5; dishes, linens and blankets.
ALL AT BARGAIN PRICES.
COME TODAY—IT WILL PAY.
142 EDGEWOOD AVENUE.

BARGAINS in furniture. Boorstein, 158 Marietta street. IVy 0950.

CHEAP—Almost new five-burner Florence oil stove. Oven bakes biscuits nicely. 408 Woodward avenue.

GOOD used furniture cheap at 414 Edgewood Vittur Transfer & Storage Co.

THREE-PIECE $350 living room suite one week old. Must sell. Highest offer gets it. HEmlock 7883-J.

OVER-STUFFED living room suite, practically new, good condition, sacrifice. 2135 Cascade road. Can be seen Sunday.

ONE baby bed and carriage, excellent condition. WAlnut 0520.

SINGER, White sewing machines, practically new, $10 to $50. 182 Forsyth, S. W. WAlnut 7919.

STOVES, furniture bought and sold. Repair all kinds stoves, ranges. T. C. Blankenship, 215 Peters street. MAin 4208.

Jewelry, Watches, Diamonds 60

DIAMOND—Lady's beautiful setting; large blue-white perfect cut diamond; must sell for quick cash, $100; rare opportunity; without obligation will send to any bank, allowing inspection. Box F-2909, Constitution.

DIAMOND—Very bluish tint, absolutely perfect, platinum ring, pickup, $385. WAlnut 5361.

Musical Merchandise 62

ELECTRIC Console Victrola with records. Am forced to sell for $65. Cost $200. Terms. FAirfax 2058-J.

PIANOS—Bargains in following makes: Kranich & Bach; Chickering; Adam Schaff; Steinway; Rudolph; Richmond; Cable; Conway, etc., priced $85 up, terms as low as $5 monthly or special inducements for cash or large payments.
GET our list of thousands of satisfied customers.
CARDER PIANO COMPANY,
27 Pryor street, N. E.

PIANO—Small sized Cable upright taken in trade on a beautiful new Wurlitzer piano. Will sacrifice for any reasonable offer. The home of the famous Wurlitzer pipe organs and pianos. Carder Piano Co., 27 Pryor street, N. E.

PIANO—Steinway small upright, $150. Carder Piano company, 27 Pryor, N. E.

PIANOS—You can always get the best bargains at Edieo Piano Co., 263 Peachtree.

SPECIAL bargains in used saxophones, all first-class condition. Expert repairing. Ritter Music Co., 34 Auburn.

VICTROLAS—Excellent condition, slightly used. Terms. Bame's, Inc., WAlnut 5776.

Radio Equipment 63

RADIO—5 tubes, complete, $45. 1430 De Soto avenue, Capitol View.

Seeds, Plants, Flowers 64

DAHLIAS—Phone for list, standard varieties, prize-winners. W. B. Correll, 426 Clifton road, N. E. DEarborn 3964.

ROSES—Ten 2-year field grown rose plants delivered for $5; variety pink and red radiance. Mount's Nurseries, Fairfax 1379, College Park.

PANSIES—Fine young plants, $1.50 100. Cox's Pansy Garden, 109 Bryan avenue, East Point, Ga. FAirfax 1501-J.

Trees and Nursery Stock 64A

HAVE TREES infested with scale or other insects sprayed with Dayer's Highpowered Sprayer, 231 Healey building. WAlnut 2190.

GEO. M. MURPHY CO., NURSERIES. 734 BOULEVARD, N. E. IVY 0677.

MERCHANDISE

Wanted to Buy 66

B. BERNARD pays cash for used house furnishings. Phone IVy 0572.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS bought by Central Auction company, 10-12 East Mitchell. WAlnut 9739.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR HOUSEHOLD GOODS. A. AUERBACH. WALNUT 0448.

WILL pay cash for National cash register, 508 Gould building, WAlnut 7106.

WE BUY desirable books in any quantity. LONGWORTH'S BOOK SHOP (formerly Treat's), 106 Forsyth St., N. W. IVY 0452.

WILL PAY cash for old houses to wreck. MAin 0331.

ROOMS AND BOARD

Rooms With Board 67

COMFORTABLE ROOM, board optional; no other boarders; gentlemen only; garage. HEmlock 4077.

COLLEGE INN—Catering to bachelors who appreciate refined environment. Table board. IVy 6744.

DINING ROOM near Piedmont-Fourth street, monthly rates given. WAlnut 0651.

FOR room and meals where one can make themselves at home call HEmlock 0169; single and double rooms for men; roommate for young lady.

INMAN PARK—Private, heated home, for young lady. Twin beds, connecting bath. Good meals. IVy 2577-W.

LARGE ROOM—Fifteenth street, between Peachtrees, connecting bath, best meals. HEmlock 6927-W.

LOVELY ROOM, private bath, excellent meals, references. 881 Peachtree street.

LARGE warm room with private bath, family or couple; splendid meals; all conveniences. 166 Ponce de Leon.

NEAR Georgian Terrace—Lovely rooms, steam heat; roommate for young lady. HEmlock 7423-J.

NICELY FURNISHED room, beautiful, new home, heat, all conveniences; gentleman or business couple. Meals if desired. WEst 3917-J.

NORTH SIDE—Best residential section, refined home, excellent meals; steam heat, continuous hot water. HEmlock 2546-J.

NICELY furnished rooms, connecting bath, well heated, excellent meals, good section, very reasonable. 788 Ponce de Leon avenue. Phone IVy 1675-W.

NORTH SIDE—Juniper street, attractive room, adjoining bath, meals, $32.50. HEmlock 7999-W.

NORTH SIDE—Attractive room, two meals, business couple or men. HEmlock 4775.

NICELY furnished front room, new twin beds, heat, north side; meals. Young men. HEmlock 1427-J.

NORTH SIDE—Lovely room, twin beds, heat, excellent meals; gentlemen. HEmlock 2831.

OPPOSITE BILTMORE, LARGE ROOM WITH BATH. HEMLOCK 0051.

PLEASANT room, good meals, steam heat, garage, on north side, very reasonable. HEmlock 0768-W.

SUITE, 2 rooms, bath, garage; meals optional; references. 378 Ponce de Leon. WAlnut 6208.

STEAM-HEATED room with board in nice home; garage. Owner, WEst 2767-J.

THE MARY BARNARD, 1273 Peachtree, near 15th, two attractive connecting rooms, suitable for three persons, delicious meals, reasonable. HEmlock 7330-J.

WARM room in apartment, walnut trim beds, large closets, reasonable, 113 6th St., Apt. A, between Peachtree and Juniper.

694 PEACHTREE—Bright rooms, heat, excellent meals, served family style. HEmlock 3262.

1188 GORDON ST.—Nicely furnished rooms, down stairs, on car line. WEst 1288-W.

$35 MONTH—Near Georgian terrace, splendid accommodations for business people. WAlnut 0651.

311 PONCE DE LEON, attractive room, two gentlemen, two ladies, heat. WAlnut 2485.

839 PARK ST.—Attractive room, hot and cold water in room, steam heat, all conveniences. WEst 3464.

699 PIEDMONT, corner Third; couple, delightful front room, private bath, excellent meals, conveniences, close in. WAlnut 6935. Garage.

918 PEACHTREE—Large bright room, well furnished, running water, connecting bath, twin beds, good meals, best locality, couple or young men. HEmlock 5851.

28 PEACHTREE PLACE—Front room, connecting bath, steam heat, excellent meals. HEmlock 4158.

1699 PEACHTREE—Nicely furnished steam-heated front room for couple with or without children in refined home for paying guests. HEmlock 3307.

1113 PEACHTREE—Attractive room, excellent meals. HEmlock 4517.

Rooms Furnished 68

ATTRACTIVE corner bedroom, bath, home of two adults, 302 Forrest avenue. WAlnut 5041.

ATTRACTIVE room, heat, hot water, near Ponce de Leon; references. HEmlock 5996-J.

CALL WEst 1996-W. Attractive room, private family, ladies or business couple preferred.

CHESTERFIELD bachelor apartments, reasonable rates; all modern conveniences. Apply 21 Harris street, N. W., next door Capital City club.

CAN SUPPLY by week, month or year small apartments with private entrance and bath. WEst 1405-J.

COMFORTABLE room, north side, couple or gentlemen; all conveniences, reasonable. HEmlock 0081-J.

DUPLEX HOME—ROOMMATE WANTED. GENTLEMAN. STAEM HEAT. 639 JACKSON. WALNUT 9298.

FRONT ROOM—Twin beds, private tile bath, 844 Clemont Drive, N. E. HEmlock 7583-J.

GENTLEMAN desiring high-class accommodation, private home, exclusive bath, garage; references. HEmlock 2915.

GENTLEMAN desiring lovely room, southeast exposure, modern conveniences, family of two; breakfast considered. Also garage. Reasonable. HEmlock 1007-W.

GATE CITY HOTEL—142 Forsyth street, S. W. Clean, outside rooms, $3.50 to $5 per week.

LOVELY, sunny bedroom, sleeping porch, bath, steam heat. HEmlock 1258-J.

NORTH SIDE—In owner's bungalow, quiet, comfortable room, hot water heat, meals and garage optional. Reasonable. Gentlemen. HEmlock 4877-W.

NICELY FURNISHED room for gentleman in private home; references exchanged; garage; phone HEmlock 4428-W afternoon or night.

NEAR East Lake Country club, room, bath, garage, $27.50. Breakfast. DEarborn 2807-J.

NORTH SIDE—Lovely furnished room, 2 business girls; heat; reasonable. IVy 3139.

OPPOSITE Biltmore on Fifth St., bright sunny room for three business girls or couple; meals if desired. HEmlock 5781.

ONE nice furnished room for one or two men; all conveniences. MAin 5418-J.

ONE large room with twin beds and one smaller room, in apartment on Fourteenth street; steam heat, delightful porch and other conveniences. HEmlock 1027.

PONCE DE LEON—Near Peachtree, private home, twin beds, heat, two gentlemen. WAlnut 1075.

PRIVATE HOME—Steam-heated room, 2 or 3 gentlemen, business couple. HEm. 4355.

PONCE DE LEON, 580—Furnished steam-heated front room; also wish girl to share room with me. GEneva 8483-R.

PLEASANT, furnished room, steam heat, close in. WAlnut 5164 Sunday.

ROOM in private home to refined gentleman, conveniences. HEmlock 1879.

37 FIFTH street, corner Cypress, opposite Biltmore; front room; also single. HE. 4265.

176 12th ST.—Attractive rooms, connecting bath, heat, gentlemen or business couple.

21 PEACHTREE PLACE, N. W.—Private family, no other roomers, meals optional, all conveniences, garage. HEmlock 1733-W.

384 EIGHTH street, nicely furnished room, connecting bath and shower; convenient to bus and cars. HEmlock 7961-W.

405 PONCE DE LEON—Room with private bath; twin beds; garage. WAlnut 1548.

496 NORTH BOULEVARD—Attractive room, heat, running water, private entrance. WAlnut 9112.

625 PEACHTREE—Nice room, steam heat, private bath, garage. IVy 1811.

1152 BRIARCLIFF PL., N. E.—Comfortable room, private family; garage, $25. HEmlock 0688-W.

Housekeeping Rooms, Furnished 69

BEDROOM, dining room and kitchenette, near Tech. HEmlock 5824.

CLEAN, sunny room, kitchenette, also single room, walking distance. Adults. MAin 4854-W.

BEDROOM, kitchenette, completely furnished, heat, $30; couple only. DEarborn 3178.

TWO connecting rooms, all conveniences, Grant Park section; reasonable. MAdison 5883-M.

PEACHTREE, 498—Attractively furnished rooms, with or without kitchenette; garage. HUntley 7765-J.

ROOMS furnished for housekeeping, $3.50 weekly, walking distance. 152 Rawson St.

ROOMS AND BOARD

Housekeeping Rooms, Furnished 69

ST. CHARLES AVE.—Two completely furnished housekeeping rooms, private home. IVy 1614-W.

TWO connecting rooms, furnished, overlooking Grant park, lights and water furnished. 410 Cherokee place. MAin 3353-W.

TWO nice front housekeeping rooms, furnished; reasonable; North avenue,, near Piedmont. WAlnut 3743.

2 LARGE furnished rooms, sink, lights, phone, walking distance, $6. 144 Pine.

1188 GORDON ST.—One light housekeeping room; furnished or unfurnished. WEst 1288-W.

114 LINDEN street, room and kitchen, modern conveniences; reasonable. HUntley 8021-R.

631 W. PEACHTREE ST.—Comfortable room, kitchenette, heat; all conveniences. HEmlock 4107-J.

$5.50—Bedroom, kitchen, nicely furnished, heat, hot water, sink; couple. MAin 2993.

Housekeeping Rooms, Unfur. 70

FOUR rooms, sleeping porch, hot, cold water, lights, garage. MAin 3921-J.

FOR RENT—Furnished or unfurnished, two connecting housekeeping rooms, connecting bath, hot water, telephone. Capitol View. 1279 Allene avenue.

FOUR second floor rooms, all city conveniences including garage, $25. 593 Boulevard, S. E.

NORTH SIDE—Two connecting rooms, all conveniences except heat. WAlnut 3382.

ROOMS furnished or unfurnished, all conveniences, reasonable. 440 Capitol avenue. MAin 4658-W.

ROOM and kitchenette, walking distance, private home, adults, reasonable. MAin 3015-W.

TWO large, charming housekeeping rooms, separate entrance, north side, $23. WAlnut 1591-W.

THREE large connecting rooms, water and sink in kitchen, rent $25 including water, lights, phone and garage. Vacant fifteenth. 922 Stewart avenue.

THREE nice rooms, all conveniences, references required. Owner, 732 Ponders avenue. HEmlock 3412.

TWO newly tinted housekeeping rooms, first floor, near Peachtree, water, lights and telephone, $17.50. WAlnut 7745.

CAPITOL VIEW
2 unfurnished rooms—1430 De Soto Ave.

1725 MELROSE DRIVE—2 new rooms, private entrance, furnace heat; conveniences; couple.

559 LAWTON ST.—Two rooms, new brick bungalow, business couple, sink, conveniences. Owner.

Where to Dine 72

FOOD AND SERVICE UNEXCELLED
SPECIAL luncheon served daily at the Imperial hotel, 35c, 50c, 65c; dinner 50c to $1. Peachtree at Ivy.

Wanted—Rooms and Board 73

ROOM and board in private home on north side by three sisters. Address B-368, care Constitution.

TWO YOUNG couples want rooms with board in refined private home. Ansley Park preferred. Address B-367, Constitution.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Apartments Furnished 74

ATTRACTIVELY furnished, living room, bedroom, dining room, kitchen, private bath and entrance, large porches; couple preferred. MAin 3620-J.

BEAUTIFULLY furnished, 3 or 5 rooms, 2 bedrooms, porches, heat. 509 North Boulevard, apartment 5.

CAPITOL AVE.—Pretty apartment, 2 or 3 rooms, $24 and $34. DEarborn 0915-J.

HALF of north side bungalow, 3 large rooms, lights, water, phone, $40. HUntley 7469-J.

IN BUNGALOW with couple, bedroom, kitchen, private bath, heat, lights, phone, furnished. WEst 2021.

LIVING ROOM, bedroom, kitchenette, modern conveniences, 21 Peachtree Place, N. W. HEmlock 1733-W.

NEW, attractive apartment, heat, bath with shower. References. HEmlock 5996-J. 1000 Greenwood Ave., N. E.

NORTH SIDE—Three-room apartment; private entrance; reasonable. IVy 3936.

NORTH SIDE—Desirable small furnished apartment, heat, hot water, lights, linen, silver, private bath, GARAGE. WAlnut 9649.

PONCEMORE APARTMENTS
CORNER PONCE DE LEON AND MORELAND, FIVE ROOMS AND BATH; LINENS AND SILVER; TWIN BEDS; MURPHY BED AND DAY BED. FOUR MONTHS' LEASE OR LONGER, $95 MONTH. HEMLOCK 6873-J.

THREE-ROOM APT.—Nicely furnished, north side, strictly private, with business couple, one block car line, references required. HEmlock 3855-J.

WE CAN supply small apartment, from 2 to 5 rooms, instantly, by week, month or year. WEst 1405-J.

THREE furnished family room apartment, three blocks from Little Five Points, lights, water, heat and telephone, business couple preferred, $40. IVy 7565.

Apartments Unfurnished 74A

APARTMENT—

BETWEEN Peachtree and Juniper streets, an excellent five-room, two-bedroom apartment with open porch. References. An excellent value. Apt. B, 113 Sixth St., N. E. Call WAlnut 0100.

CHATHAM COURT APTS.
CORNER Third and Piedmont avenue. One 5 and one 4-room, very desirable. Newly papered and painted; price reasonable; references required. R. H. Jones, HEmlock 3152.

BEAUTIFUL four-room apartment, tile bath. 32 Georgia Ave., S. W., MAdison 5607-W.

FER. RENT FREE—4, 5, 7-room apartments; Murphy bed, gas range, refrigerator, $50, $55. 536 N. Boulevard, HEmlock 6422-W.

BRIARCLIFF ROAD, 856—Four-room apartment. Frigidaire service included. WAlnut 4353 or HEmlock 7370.

APARTMENT—

CHOICE of either three or four-room apartment in walking distance of the city. Steam heat, hot water, gas stove and refrigerator furnished. Rate only $28. 394 Washington St. Call WAlnut 0100.

THREE-ROOM apartment, living room, bed room and kitchen, 430 Boulevard, apartment No. 11, $40 per month. See janitor.

NINE-FIFTY
AT 950 Ponce de Leon avenue, we have a three-room apartment on second floor, available at once; has three exposures; let us show you this.
B. M. GRANT COMPANY,
Grant Building. WAlnut 1600.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Apartments Unfurnished 74A

EFFICIENCY of 6 rooms, nicely decorated, excellent features. 722 Ponce de Leon court.

FLAT—

WELL located six-room second floor flat having separate furnace and garage, near Boys' High school and Piedmont park. Vacant now. 859 Sixth St., N. E. Call WAlnut 0100.

GEORGIA AVENUE, 253—TWO LARGE, PLEASANT ROOMS, BATH, ELECTRIC LIGHT, $15 MONTH. IVY 8391.

WEST END SUBLEASE
OAKLEIGH APTS., 535 Lee street, apartment 8. Four rooms with porch. Immediate possession. Call WAlnut 2723.
W. L. & JOHN O. DUPREE.

FOR APARTMENTS—Fitzhugh Knox & Son, Norris building, WAlnut 8947. 233 Peachtree street.

HIGHLAND APARTMENTS—

484 HIGHLAND, N. E. Choice of either second or third floor, six-room apartments. Walls and woodwork in good condition. Rates have been reduced. Immediate possession. Call WAlnut 0100.

FIRST FLOOR, front apartment, four rooms, directly across from Piedmont park, $70. HEmlock 5475-W.

NEW, modern, 5-room apartment, 57 Lafayette drive, Ansley Park. Immediate occupancy. Call R. E. Blanchard, DEarborn 2701-J.

ONE-HALF house, exceptional value, 1376 Piedmont avenue. HEmlock 1952-J.

SUBLEASE—Attractive 3-room apartment, tile bath, Murphy bed, St. George apartments, 1206 Peachtree, $50. Call HEmlock 4911-J, or IVy 2079.

SUBLEASE—Very desirable 7-room lower duplex, north side. Call HEmlock 2511-J.

PEACHTREE ROAD—New steam-heated duplex, two bedrooms, electric range. GEneva 8196-M.

UPPER DUPLEX—101 Atlanta avenue, $26 per month. HEmlock 4040.

692 MYRTLE STREET—Corner Third; only a short block of Ponce de Leon and Piedmont avenue car lines. Six rooms, bath, two porches; steam heated. There is a large front and rear yard, with garage and servant room in rear. Strictly a private homelike atmosphere.
PETERS LAND COMPANY
610-11 Peters building.

VIRGINIA-HIGHLAND Avenue section, upper duplex, six rooms, private entrance, newly painted, $65. Adults. 634 Linwood avenue, N. E. HEmlock 2504.

WEST END—Duplex of three rooms, private bath, first floor; private entrance; practically new, $25 month. WEst 3295.

131 FORREST AVE., N. E.
RIDLEY COURT. FIREPROOF.
Two to five rooms; porches, garages. Well maintained. WAlnut 7416.

330 FORREST—Three and four-room apartments, front porches, reasonable. Owner. Apply janitor.

3 TO 5 ROOMS with porches, Highland-North avenue section, one block off Ponce de Leon. $42.50 to $55. HEmlock 4040. 642 North Highland Ave., N. E.

Apartments Fur. or Unfur. 75

ARGONNE AVE., 7331—First floor, four rooms, bath, porches, heat, $45. Garage; also two furnished rooms $15 each.

ATTRACTIVE 3-room front apartment, all conveniences, close in; sublease very reasonably. WAlnut 9836.

MORNINGSIDE apartment bungalow: Christian business couple, HEmlock 2851-W, 804 Courtney Drive.

NORTH SIDE.
DELIGHTFUL apartment, 4 bright, cheerful rooms, newest appointments, artistically decorated.
CALL MRS. CORBETT.
IVy 4381 Norris Bldg.

THREE-ROOM apartment, front and back porches, all conveniences; north side. Phone WAlnut 5917, after 3:30.

WILL sublet until September 1 highly desirable six-room apartment, furnished or unfurnished; leaving city and will make good price. Location excellent. HEmlock 3076.

246 PONCE DE LEON—Three rooms, nicely furnished, steam heat. Call WAlnut 7000.

Business Places for Rent 75A

STOREROOM or factory building, 25,000 square feet, 207-9 Marietta street, also fronting on Walton street. Can be used for other purposes. Attractive proposition. Call Novelty Footwear Corporation, WEst 2050.

FOR RENT—Large brick building, two floors, large basement, fine location for furniture or grocery store, small manufacturer; big pay roll all around. Will rent part or all. For information call FAirfax 1420. J. A. & J. M. Smith.

Houses for Rent, Furnished 77

COMPLETELY furnished bungalow, Kennesaw Ave., one-half block of Ponce de Leon; immediate possession; reasonable. IVy 2001-W.

FIVE-ROOM bungalow, completely furnished, south side. WAlnut 5626.

7 ROOMS including breakfast room, 2 toilets, hardwood floors, steam heat, completely furnished, lease 8 months, $90 per month. 1072 Glore drive.

114 ORMOND ST., S. W.—Five rooms, two baths, suitable for two small families, long lease, furnished or unfurnished. Charles E. Thompson, 301 Gould Bldg., WAlnut 1432.

ST. CHARLES AVE., N. E., 775—Seven rooms, sleeping porch, furnace. DEarborn 0599-J.

SEVEN-ROOM home, 820 Warner St., S. W., all improvements. Stow, WEst 0929-J.

THREE ROOMS and bath, conveniences, $25. 844 Clemont drive, N. E. WAlnut 6718.

WILL give stove, refrigerator, shades to parties subleasing house. HEmlock 2635-J.

496 COPENHILL AVE.—7-room modern house, will redecorate. $60 per month; as is, $50 per month. HEmlock 4040.

1036 KENTUCKY—8 rooms, conveniences, half block Highland, 2 blocks Virginia, $50. WAlnut 1856.

1355 NORTH VIEW—Five-room brick bungalow, sublease $55. Carl Conyers, WAlnut 4071.

879 FORREST ROAD Barnett, 8 rooms, nice home, all conveniences, $75. WAlnut 1856.

5-6 and 7-room new brick houses in best section. WEst 1408-J.

6 AND 7-room house, $30 to $36; modern conveniences. Apply 373 Windsor, S. W., or phone WAlnut 6427.

570 HIGHLAND AVE.—NEAR BLVD., 4-ROOM DUPLEX, $27.50. HE. 5289-J.

524 CREW ST.—8-room house, suitable two families, every convenience. Apply S. W. Bacon, 721 Thower building.

9a ATLANTA AVE.—Nicely arranged six-room bungalow, near car line, schools, stores; built for home. FAirfax 1290.

REAL ESTATE FOR RENT

Office Space for Rent 78A

CANDLER ANNEX—Units 12x16 and larger, or one large with small connecting private office available. Excellent location, minimum rental rate. WAlnut 3976.

DESK space with telephone service in Haas-Howell building. Address B-370, Constitution.

OFFICE space and store room, Spring street at North avenue. 619 Spring street.

OFFICES—Steam-heated, janitor service, $15 per month; 73½ Ivy street, between Auburn and Houston. HEmlock 4040.

PETERS BLDG., at Five Points, neatly furnished office fronting Peachtree street. Apply 610-11.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

Brokers in Real Estate R

MERCHANTS & MECHANICS BANK, 25 North Forsyth street. WAlnut 1600.

RANKIN-WHITTEN CO. — Real estate and rents, 51 North Forsyth. WAlnut 0636.

SHARP & BOYLSTON,
36 Luckie street. WAlnut 2030.

ADAMS-CATES CO.
204 Grant Bldg. WAlnut 5

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Loans on Personal Property.

LOANS ON DIAMONDS
Unredeemed Pledges for Sale
MAY BROS., Inc. 29 Years
191½ PEACHTREE—Upstairs

Auctions

AT AUCTION

Tomorrow (Monday) at 10:30 a. m. we will offer to the highest bidders, lot of household goods from an Inman Park home, also lot of new sample furniture, including a fine velour living room suit with wood carved frame, dining room suite, Newby-Evans piano, radio, two sectional bookcases, chiffonobe, twin poster beds, spinet desk, Windsor chairs and rockers, mahogany secretary, solid mahogany carved living room chairs, vanities, dressers, chest of drawers, Simmons beds, antique chairs, table, sofa, sideboard, fine set of china, glassware, mirrors, pictures lamps, box couch, breakfast set, day bed, gas range, several bird's-eye maple pieces, refrigerator, tapestry davenport, console tables, rugs, art squares. Sale Monday 10:30 a.m.

Central Auction Co.
10-12 E. Mitchell St.

Rentals

BRICK APARTMENT HOUSE
Only $12,500

NEAR Ponce de Leon avenue. Would cost $20,000 to build the building. Has four five-room apartments, steam heat, four garages, etc. Apartments rent $50 each. (Estate says sell.) A profitable purchase for some one.

Also Same Estate

OWNS an attractive bungalow on Rosedale drive. Another wonderful value.

At $5,750

THIS home has 7 rooms, 3 bed rooms, furnace heat, concrete basement, concrete drive to garage, etc.

NO LOANS on either of above and good terms can be had. Call Mr. Salmon, WAlnut 3770

ATLANTA TRUST CO.

1241 Virginia Ave., 3 and 4 rooms .....$65 and $75
1208 Virginia Avenue, 4 rooms $55
1236 Piedmont Ave., 4 and 5 rooms....$67.50 and $80
232 12th Street, N. E., 4 rooms $55
1055 Piedmont Avenue, 4 rooms $60
286 7th Sreet, N. E., 4 rooms $55

WEYMAN & CONNORS
58 Marietta St. WAl. 2162

1055 Piedmont Ave., N. E.—3 R. $40.00
232 12th St., N. E.—4 R... $55.00
1236 Piedmont Ave., N. E.—4 and 5 R. .....Special
1208 Virginia Ave., N. E.—3 R., furnished .....Special

WEYMAN & CONNORS
58 Marietta St. WAl. 2162

Advertising In The Constitution Saves the Advertiser And Pays the Buyer.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Rentals

VISIT THESE APARTMENTS

The ALHAMBRA
Cor. Sheridan Drive.
Beautiful and new.
3 rooms, $60 and $67.50
4 rooms, $75 and $85
5 rooms, $100.
Smooth oil heat, Frigidaires, electric stoves, Radio connections. Each apartment with a porch. Garages available.

942 Juniper Apartments
4 rooms, $65.00

The 1136 Virginia Avenue Apartments
Virginia Ave. and N. Virginia Ave.
5 Rooms and porches to every apartment. Delightfully arranged. Rates $65.00, $70.00, $75.00.

Queen Anne Apartments
483-5 Wabash Ave.
3 rooms, $45
4 rooms, $55

"These and Others"

Cumberland Realty & Loan Company
Wynne-Claughton Bldg.
WA. 2550

861 VEDADO WAY

FOUR room second floor, heat and water furnished. Newly decorated.

WEYMAN & CONNORS
WAl. 2162 58 Marietta St.

479 Jackson, N. E., four rooms $51.50
One month rent free.

WEYMAN & CONNORS
58 Marietta St. WAl. 2162

Steam Heated Apts.

548 No. Boulevard—4 R. $55.00
392 No. Jackson—5 R....$40 to $50
125 Tenth St., N. W.—6 R... 60.00
125 Tenth St., N. W.—3 R.... 42.50
547 Ponce de Leon—3 R..... 40.00
823 Fourth St., N. E.—5 R... 50.00

J. H. EWING & SONS
79 Forsyth St., N. W. WAl. 1511

Real Estate

WE have had placed in our hands an estate comprising six small apartments, one duplex, two nice houses and three negro duplexes. This is unusual speculative property with fine monthly income. We are prepared to sell for part cash and could consider an exchange. WAlnut 2023.

W. C. CARSON
414 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg.

223 13th Street, N. E.

BRICK bungalow, newly decorated, six rooms, three bedrooms, furnace heat, garage. Convenient to schools, car line and stores. Call Mr. Watson.

B. M. GRANT COMPANY
Grant Building WAlnut 1600

FURNISHED HOME FOR LEASE

PEACHTREE residence completely furnished, four bedrooms, two baths, sleeping porch. Can be leased for three or four months to responsible tenant.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
GRANT BLDG. WAlnut 3657

$4,750

Will build this brick home. Living room, dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, three bedrooms, garage and driveway. No extra charge for financing. Will meet your payrolls. You can put us on our easy monthly payment plan. If you are going to build any kind of a home large or small, get our prices before you let your contract—we will save you money. 22 years' continuous building in Atlanta.

NORRIS CONSTRUCTION CO.
815 Forsyth Bldg. Phone WAlnut 2749

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Rentals

MERRELL APTS.

CORNER Collier and Wycliff roads. Now ready for occupancy. 5 rooms, $85 and $90, including fireproof garage, electric stove and Frigidaire. Will be shown by appointment.

WEYMAN & CONNORS
58 Marietta St.
WAl. 2162

APARTMENTS

198 Ponce de Leon Ave.—4 R..$75.00
673 Boulevard, N. E.—5 R.... 55.00
552 Jackson St., N. E.—3 R... 40.00
640 N. Highland Ave.—5 R.... 50.00
198 Ponce de Leon Ave.—5 R..100.00
334 Jackson St., N. E.—5 R... 40.00
198 Ponce de Leon Ave.—5 R.. 90.00
334 Jackson St., N. E.—3 R... 37.50

Burdett Realty Company
Candler Bldg. WAl. 1611

1229 and 41 Virginia avenue, N. E., 3, 4 and 5 rooms, special prices. See janitor, or phone

WEYMAN & CONNORS
WAl. 2162 58 Marietta St.

PETERS BUILDING
Offices

AN ATTRACTIVE suite, corner location on second floor, overlooking Peachtree street; unexcelled as a central point for lawyers or insurance, being in the center of financial district and midway between city hall, state and federal courts. Peters Land Co., 610-11 Peters building.

DUPLEXES FOR RENT

GRANT Park—777-781 Cherokee avenue, 8 E., 5 rooms, electricity, 30s, hot water. Walls papered. A-1. Big bargain at reduced price, $30.

SHARP & BOYLSTON
102 Luckie St., N. W. WAl. 2930

Real Estate

WEST END
Open For Inspection
Five New Brick Bungalows
On Stokes Avenue
West End Park

JUST completed, exceptionally well built, modern and complete in every detail, all conveniences. On this beautiful new street surrounded by new brick bungalows, situated on beautiful level lot; near car line, school, churches and stores.

Drive Out Today
FOR APPOINTMENT CALL WEST END BRANCH

F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS
1386 Gordon St. WEst 4080-4081

Brookwood Hills

BUILT for the owner, and has many attractive features. There are five bedrooms and three baths; one bath on first floor; oil heat; double garage; two servants' room and bath; laundry. Just the home for a large family. Call us for an appointment.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

Real Estate

WE have had placed in our hands an estate comprising six small apartments, one duplex, two nice houses and three negro duplexes. This is unusual speculative property with fine monthly income. We are prepared to sell for part cash and could consider an exchange. WAlnut 2023.

W. C. CARSON
414 Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg.

FURNISHED HOME FOR LEASE

PEACHTREE residence completely furnished, four bedrooms, two baths, sleeping porch. Can be leased for three or four months to responsible tenant.

DRAPER-OWENS CO.
GRANT BLDG. WAlnut 3657

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Real Estate

—LOTS—

PIEDMONT Avenue and Martina Drive, just south of Peachtree Road. Frontages ranging from 54 to 70 feet. Paving on Martina to be completed within 60 days. The price and terms are right. Go out and look at these today. Our sign on the property. For further information see or call Copeland,

BURDETT REALTY CO.

HAVE YOU SEEN

THOSE ideal building lots on Stokes avenue, South Gordon street, Westwood and Rogers avenues, in beautiful West End Park?

Atlanta's Best Community Center

THESE lots are 50x170 to 210 feet, all improvements down and paid for. They are conveniently located to car line, stores, schools and churches. Terms only $250 cash and small monthly payments.

Select Yours Today
Before it is too late.

West End Branch
F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS
1386 Gordon St. WEst 4080-4081

25th St. Section

$6,950 — Six-room and breakfast room brick bungalow; large, beautiful, shaded lot; two blocks Peachtree. Drive out and see it. Salesman on premises. Go one block beyond Brookwood station, turn left to Alden avenue, or call WAl. 3241.

ANSLEY PARK

VERY attractive, eight-room, two-story home, located on one of the main streets on the Peachtree side of this exclusive section. The downstairs of this house is very attractively arranged, having a large main living room and a room in the rear which can be used as a sun parlor or an extra sitting room; second floor consists of one small and three large bedrooms and two baths. This house at one time was held for $25,000; the owner has recently reduced his price to $15,500 for quick sale. We consider this a very good purchase at this price. Call office for further information.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

ACREAGE
Near Druid Hills

THIS is a beautiful suburban home site, located between Briarcliff road and Clairmont avenue, adjoining several large estates. Road frontage of over 1,500 feet in two tracts containing nearly fifty acres. Owner requests us to sell for under $400 per acre. Call WAlnut 5477.

ADAMS-CATES CO.
REALTORS

Special Attractions

IN PEACHTREE HEIGHTS PARK.
Lot 100x500 feet.
Individual design.
Den.
Enclosed side porch.
Four bedrooms.
Two real tile baths.
Steam heat.
House tastefully decorated.
Full-size basement.
Double garage.
Servants' quarters.
Price less than reproduction cost.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

MYRTLE ST. HOME
Price $6,300

THIS is No. 975 Myrtle street, located between Ninth and Tenth streets; a seven-room bungalow, on elevated lot.

WE would analyze the value of this house in the following way:
Lot is worth $2,800
House would cost 4,800
Total value $7,600

THERE are very few houses that can be bought on Myrtle street or any other street in this section at a price of $7,600; but we wish to put this house on our good value list. On inspection you will find that it needs some restoration work to put it in prime condition. With a few hundred dollars spent on it you will have a good house. Our price $6,300.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

THREE GOOD VALUES
Off S. Moreland Ave.

TWO-STORY frame residence; large living room, dining room, kitchen and extra lavatory downstairs; three large bedrooms and tile bath upstairs. Owner leaving city and is anxious to sell. Price $4,200.

East Atlanta

A NEW six-room brick bungalow; hardwood floors; built by owner for a home. Price $5,250.

West End

FIVE-ROOM brick bungalow; owner must sell and wants offer. Price $6,500.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Real Estate

Brookwood Hills

A TWO-STORY home of pleasing design. The usual arrangement on first floor with entrance hall; three bedrooms, sleeping porch and two baths on second floor. Built for owner less than two years ago. Price $16,500, with terms.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

DRUID HILLS

REMARKABLE value in handsome cream brick home, on the old part of Springdale road, on wooded lot, 100x500. Built by present owner at a cost of about $50,000. We offer for $18,500. WAl. 0156. Flat-iron building.

J. R. NUTTING & CO.

Automotive

WHITEHALL CHEVROLET COMPANY

Junction Forsyth and Whitehall Streets

INVITES your inspection of a well selected stock of used cars. Every car exactly as represented.

COMPARE OUR PRICES

1927 Chevrolet coach	$475
1927 Chevrolet coach	350
1926 Chevrolet coach	350
1926 Chevrolet coupe	350
1926 Chevrolet coupe	325
1925 Chevrolet coupe	275
1926 Ford Tudor sedan	275
1926 Ford coupe	225
1925 Ford coupe	185
1924 Ford coupe	135
1924 Ford coupe	125
1923 Buick touring	150
1922 Nash touring	100
1924 Hanson touring	125
1925 Ford truck	150
1924 Ford truck	85
1923 Ford truck	50
1926 Ford touring	175
1926 Ford touring	150
1925 Ford touring	135
1924 Ford touring	100
1925 Chevrolet sedan	450

Whitehall Chevrolet Company
331 Whitehall WAl. 1412

The New Graham Paige

Forces Still Lower Prices on These Fine Cars

Demonstrators

'28 Paige De Lux Sedan	$1,500
'28 Paige Brougham	1,250

Paiges and Jewetts

'26 Paige sedan	$750
'26 Paige brougham	675
'24 Paige 4-door brougham	515
'23 Paige 4-pass. touring	125
'26 Jewett de lux sedan	675
'26 Jewett light six coach	400
'26 Jewett coach	450

Other Makes

'25 Flint 4-pass. coupe	$ 600
'26 Nash light six sedan	450
'26 Essex coach	240
'25 Oldsmobile coach	355
'26 Dodge touring	375
'24 Hupmobile roadster	300
'25 Willys-Knight sedan	885
'24 Hudson coach	195
'25 Lincoln sport touring	1,500
'26 Ford roadster	250
'25 Ford touring	100
Overland touring	25

Graham Paige Company Of Georgia
521 Peachtree St., N. E.
WAlnut 3951

USED CARS
270
Peachtree Street

CARS

'26 Buick Std. coach	$625
'25 Buick Master "6" 4-Pass. coupe	550
'24 Buick Master "6" sedan	500
'26 Chrysler "60" coach	600
'27 Chrysler "50" coupe	550
'26 Jewett Big "6" coach	475
'26 Chevrolet coach	385
'26 Ford coupe	300
'26 Ford touring	250
'24 Ford Tudor sedan	200
'27 Dodge De Luxe sedan	725
'26 Dodge Special coupe	575
'25 Dodge Special sedan	500
'25 Dodge Special sedan	475
'25 Dodge Special coupe	425
'25 Dodge Special touring	400
'24 Dodge Special sedan	350

TRUCKS

'26 Dodge ¾ Screen	$550
'25 Dodge ¾ Screen	350
'25 Dodge ¾ Screen	300
'26 Graham 1-Ton	550
'26 Chevrolet Panel	350
'26 Ford 1-Ton	325
'26 Ford Slip-on body	150
'25 Ford Panel	125
'24 Ford Panel	75
2½-Ton G. M. C. Chassis	400

SEVERAL Ford Light Delivery Trucks, slip-on and panel bodies, $75 to $200.

OTHERS TO SELECT FROM

Lambeth-Eskridge Co.
USED CAR DEPARTMENT
270 Peachtree St., Marietta St. at Bankhead Ave.
Open Evenings Until 9 O'Clock
DODGE BROTHERS DEALERS
IVy 4214 IVy 4214

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Automotive

GOLDSMITH-BECKER

ESSEX
Coaches, Sedans & Coupes
$175 to $775

HUDSON
Broughams, Coaches, Sedans
$150 to $1,150

Stutz touring	$150
Nash roadster	150
Hudson coach	150
'26 Chevrolet coach	375
'27 Chevrolet coach	475
'27 Chevrolet coupe	475
'23 Packard sport touring	475
'26 Pontiac landau sedan	675
'26 Buick master roadster	675
'25 Buick standard touring	500
'24 Buick "4" coupe	375
24 Buick "4" touring	275
'23 Buick "4" touring	150
'23 Buick "6" touring	250
'24 Buick 7-pass. sedan	475
'24 Chrysler brougham	550
'26 Chrysler "70" touring	675
'26 Chrysler "70" coach	675
'26 Chrysler "58" roadster	450
'26 Nash victoria coupe	775
'25 Dodge touring	300
'26 Studebaker "6" coach	350
'26 Ford coupe	175

Geldsmith-Becker
230 Spring St.
236 Peachtree St.
WAlnut 8718

PACKARD

The Best Place to Buy a Used Car

'28 HUPP "8" Sedan	$1,950
'26 PACKARD Club Sedan	1,450
'23 PACKARD Sedan-L.	575
'23 PACKARD 7-p. Sedan	650
'26 BUICK 5-p. Sedan	845
'26 HUPP "8" Sedan	985
"116" PACKARD Sedan	325
'26 PACKARD 5-p. Sedan	1,300
'26 BUICK Master Rdstr.	825
'24 BUICK Master Coupe	485
'26 STUDEBAKER Sedan	725
'25 WILLYS-KNIGHT Sed.	450
'24 OAKLAND touring	185

Atlanta Packard Motors
IVy 2727 370 Peachtree

Jos. H. Cohen GOOD USED CARS

New Chevrolet Coach, fully equipped.
New Oldsmobile Coupe fully equipped.
Both of these cars are brand new and can be bought at used car prices.

Jos. H. Cohen GOOD USED CARS

342 PEACHTREE
IVY 3328

Ford

Three Late '26 Coupes, balloon tires, lots of extras, A-1 .....$300
Late '26 Touring, balloon tires, natural wood wheels, A-1, slightly used 275
Late '26 Touring, balloon tires.. 200
Late '26 Roadster, A-1..... 240
1925 Coupe, A-1 185
1925 Touring, A-1 165
1925 Roadster, A-1 140
Late '25 Panel Body ½ ton truck 150
Late '24 Fordor Sedan, balloon tires, A-1 200

Others to Select From $35.00 Up.

We Pay Cash for Late Model

Ford
CLYDE LANGFORD
Piedmont at Edgewood WAl. 5147

LINCOLNS

Rebuilt and Guaranteed for Three Months.

'28 Lincoln 4-pass. coupe (demonstrator).
'27 Lincoln LaBarron sedan, new paint, new motor....$2,950
'27 Lincoln sport convertible coupe $2,950
'26 Lincoln 7-pass. touring....$2,500
'25 Lincoln touring $1,650

OTHER MAKES

Duesenberg sport touring, run only 4,000 miles at 1-3 cost.
'27 Cadillac sedan, new tires and paint. A sacrifice at..$1,850
'27 Hudson 5-Pass sedan..... 950
'25 Packard straight "8," 5-pass. touring 1,850

Will Trade Your Car
Terms Arranged

RIPPEY MotorCompany
435 Spring St. IVy 0867

CADILLAC VALUES
The Best Used Cars

Cadillac 1926 Sedan 5-Pass.
Cadillac 1926 Sedan 7-Pass.
Cadillac 1926 Coupe 2-Pass.
Buick 1927 Master Sport Roadster.
Chrysler 1927 Sedan "70," new tires.
Hudson 1925 Coach, Duco finish.
Buick 1924 Touring 5-Pass., new tires.
Chevrolet 1926 Coupe, priced to sell.
Cadillac 1920 Touring 7-Pass., a beauty.

TERMS ARRANGED.
Cash Paid For Used Cars
THE CADILLAC CO., OF ATLANTA
486 W. Peachtree St. IVy 0900

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Automotive

415 Peachtree 100 Used Automobiles
All Makes
Easy Terms
Open Evenings
YARBROUGH MOTOR CO.
WA. 2399

Jos. H. Cohen GOOD USED CARS

'26 Nash sport roadster	$650
'25 Buick roadster	365
'25 Buick master coach	585
'26 Chevrolet landau sedan	385
'26 Pontiac coupe	465
'25 Hudson coach	415
'25 Dodge touring	235
'27 Chevrolet coupe, like new	450
'26 Overland coach	195

342 PEACHTREE
IVy 3328

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY

Automotive

February Clearance Values

'26 Buick Master 6 2-door sedan, like new, original tires, runs like new	$875
'26 Hudson brougham, fully equipped	625
'26 Hudson coach, thoroughly overhauled, new paint	550
'26 Star touring, new paint, first-class car	200
'26 Star touring	175
'25 Chevrolet touring	150
'25 Durant touring	175
'25 Star coupe	175
'24 Buick Master 6 touring, motor overhauled, new paint	375
'26 Dodge coupe, fair condition	350
"61" Cadillac phaeton	395
'24 Oakland touring	150
'24 Olds 4-door sedan, good tires, runs perfect	100
'26 Ford sedan	325
'24 Ford touring	100

25 Other Makes and Models From $50 Up to Select From

TERMS TRADES

We Pay Cash for Good Used Cars

Morris Motor Co.
338 Peachtree IVy 0436

HUPMOBILE

We are giving you $1.50 value for every $1.00 you spend with us during our wonderful price-slashing used car sale.

CONVENIENT TERMS GLADLY EXTENDED

LOT NO. 1 — 16 Cars from $50 to $250

1924 Ford Coupe	$100	1924 Dodge Touring	$250
1920 Buick Touring	50	1923 Hupmobile Touring	125
1925 Overland Coupe	175	1924 Chevrolet Coupe	150
1924 Ford Sedan	250	1924 Nash Touring	250
1924 Hupmobile Touring	250	1924 Dodge Coupe	225
1922 Hupmobile Touring	75	1923 Oakland Touring	150
1923 Nash 4 Touring	75	1924 Peerless Sedan	175
1925 Essex 6 Coach	150	1926 Chevrolet Touring	225

LOT No. 2 — (Guaranteed Used Cars)
17 Cars from $375 to $1,850

1925 Hupmobile Touring	$ 475	1926 Dodge Sedan	$600
1926 Buick Master 6 Coach	850	1924 Nash Special 6 Coupe	575
1925 Buick Standard 6 4-passenger Coupe	750	1925 Studebaker Special 6 Coach	575
1925 Buick Master 6 7-passenger Touring	375	1926 Hudson Coach	600
1926 Hupmobile 6 Sedan	850	1925 Nash Special 6 Coach	625
1926 Flint Touring, winter enclosure	375	1925 Studebaker Duplex Touring	375
1926 Buick Master 6 Coach	850	1926 Chrysler "58" Touring	450
1925 Nash Adv. 6 Coach	675	1926 Dodge Coupe	475
		1925 Dodge Sedan	475

TERMS TRADES

Thompson-Cauthorn Motor Co.
477-485 PEACHTREE ST. Phone WAlnut 9252-9253

BARGAINS
Willys-Overland, Inc.
Fine Used Cars --- One Price Only
Satisfaction Certain—New Low Prices

'24 Willys-Knight coupe sedan	$275	'26 Chevrolet coach	295
'26 Willys-Knight coach	725	26 Overland coach	450
25 Willys-Knight brougham	750	'26 Chevrolet landau	425
'26 Willys-Knight sport roadster	695	26 Whippet coach	395
24 Willys-Knight roadster	150	26 Oveland coach	275
'24 Overland touring	85	26 Ford Tudor sedan	295
'25 Nash touring	350	'22 Ford coupe	50
"61" Cadillac phaeton	395	'25 Ford Tudor sedan	200
25 Overland touring	95	'26 Ford roadster	225
'26 Jewett Coach	435	'26 Ford coupe	260
		25 Ford touring	150
		'25 Ford coupe	95
		'27 Ford coupe	450

Trade and Terms Through Our Own Finance Company
Open Till 9 P. M.

Willys-Overland, Inc.
West Peachtree at North Avenue
HEmlock 7483

Campare These Values Before Making Your Purchase

'26 Studebaker Country Club 3-passenger coupe	$495	'27 Chevrolet Touring	$375
27 Chevrolet Coupe	475	2 Ford Coupes, each	50
'27 Pontiac Landau	650	Essex Coach	75
'27 Ford Sedan	350	'26 Chevrolet Touring	225
'26 Chevrolet Coach	350	2 '26 Dodge Coupes, each	495
'26 Ford Touring	165	'23 Dodge Sedan	225
27 Pontiac Coupe	525	'26 Pontiac Coach	500
'26 Oakland Landau	695	'27 Oakland Sport Roadster, rumble seat	750
23 Dodge Coupe	150	2 '27 Ford Tourings, each	235
		'24 Buick Touring	340

F. E. MAFFETT, Inc.
USED CAR DEPTS.
505 W. Peachtree St. HE. 1164
978 Marietta St. HE. 7286

What About the Stock Market?

Absolutely

SOME of the best buys we have ever been able to offer. Just stop and think for one minute, then we'll let you be the judge.

$11,500 Druid Hills home, brand new, convenient to car line, stores and school. Will consider other property as initial payment.

$9,500 Piedmont Park section, new brick with two baths; large, shady lot; house actually worth more money. Would rent for $100 per month.

160 Acres 18 Miles from city, with two good houses, several barns, fruit trees, etc. We want an offer.

10 Acres 5 Miles from city, walking distance from car line; also has two good houses, barns, etc. Other land adjoining can be rented, if desired. Our price is $4,750, on your terms.

$12,500 Peachtree Road section, two stories, two baths, two garages; steam heat; beautiful lot. In this section it is a real buy at this figure.

$6,950 Another good buy out Peachtree Road section. Bungalow, six rooms, new; convenient to car line and school. Good terms, too, on this.

$3,750 Kirkwood section. Just the thing for couple or three; five rooms, new. Terms are $100 cash, notes $25 per month.

$4,750 East Atlanta. New brick, one block of car line, two blocks of school and stores. This is one of those real buys. If you are paying $40 month rent, you just can't afford not to investigate this.

$4,500 Brick, new, in College Park, on a large shady lot, two blocks of car line. Just think! a price like this on a new brick bungalow and easy terms, too.

$7,750 New brick in Morningside. Six rooms and breakfast room; every convenience possible. There are very few at this price and terms in this section.

55 Acres of the best land around Atlanta; 20 acres in bottom land, good house, barn and other out-buildings; mules, farm implements and also a negro goes with this farm. On paved road, in 10 miles of Five Points. $4,000 less than owner gave for it.

THE above offerings are without a doubt some dandy good homes, good investments, good sections and all brand-new. You will admit we are right if you will investigate these. We are at your service. Our phone Nos. are WAl. 7758, WAl. 7759.

SALES REALTY CO., Inc.

210 CANDLER BLDG.

WEST END BUNGALOW, $5,850

NOTHING in West End to compare with it for the money. It is a beauty. Unusual design and newly painted and decorated, $750.00 cash, balance monthly on reasonable basis. Call us about this home.

229 Grant Bldg. HICKS and FERN WAlnut 7921

$9,000 BRICK, $7,500

Morningside—6 big rooms, all floors hardwood, extra nice tile bath, concrete drive and garage. $750 cash, balance easy.

$3,500—A real bargain. 7 large rooms, all conveniences, paved street, 2 blocks Ponce de Leon. A well-built house in good condition. Easy terms. Call Mr. Paschal today, WAl. 4166.

DOLVIN REALTY CO.

WAl. 3585—Realtors—Candler Bldg.

PEACHTREE ROAD INVESTMENT

WE have a wonderful opportunity for a quick profit in a prominent corner, fronting over 200 feet on Peachtree road and running back 1,200 feet on a good side street. This corner is well located for filling station and stores and you can sell lots or build houses on the side street at a handsome profit. Price $12,500. Terms if desired. Call Mr. Hall.

B. M. Grant Company
Grant Bldg. WAl. 1600

DRUID HILLS SECTION

$7,500 Near Emory University. New six-room and breakfast room brick bungalow; hardwood floors throughout, furnace heat, daylight basement, servant's room, side drive, garage. Never been offered at this price before. About one acre in lot. Call HEm. 2173-W, or WAl. 3937 Monday.

FEATURE HOME

WE have an English style brick bungalow that has every feature appealing to the modern person; three bedrooms connecting with two beautiful, full tile baths; closets are cedar lined; the kitchen wall is tile; very large cabinets in kitchen; marble mantel in spacious living room; glassed-in sun parlor; oil heat; the lot is 65 feet front, on prominent street. Price is right. We recommend this house.

Adair Realty & Loan Co.
Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 0100

DRUID HILLS

IN a very desirable section, just off Ponce de Leon avenue, we have for sale a beautiful six-room bungalow, tile roof, steam heat, three bedrooms, full tile bath, entire house beautifully finished and decorated. Situated on a large lot gently sloping to the rear with lots of trees, shrubbery planted. Priced at $10,000 on very easy terms.

F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS
76-78 Pryor St., N. E. WAl. 6438

BIG RETURNS ON SMALL INVESTMENT

PRACTICALLY new building leased to million dollar concern for $10,500 for next seven years. Can be bought for $13,500. Business-like terms. First come, first served. Padgett, WAl. 1511.

COLLECT 11%

FROM a safe and sound investment. Filling station, located on main thoroughfare, leased first five years to good oil company for $1,200 year, option for second five years at $1,500 per year. This will take care of you in your old age. Price $10,500. Terms arranged. Must be sold at once. Call R. W. Evans, WAl. 1511, care J. H. Ewing & Sons, 79 No. Forsyth street.

GO SEE THESE GOOD VALUES

PROPERTIES PRICED CLOSE, RENTED AND SHOW WELL AS HOMES OR INVESTMENTS.

27 Rawson St., five rooms, for $1,800.
729 Crew St., six-room house, rents $40 month, price $3,500.
938 Washington St., 8 rooms, one-story, price $5,500.
408 Central avenue., 10-room duplex, close in, price $3,500.
800 Kirkwood Ave., 6 rooms, paved street. Price $1,500 cash.

WAlnut 0636 61 Forsyth St., N. W.

Rankin-Whitten Realty Co.

ATTENTION HOME SHOPPERS

HAVE you looked at our four new bungalows going up in Morningside? IT WILL PAY U to do so. PRICED RIGHT, BUILT RIGHT, ARE RIGHT.

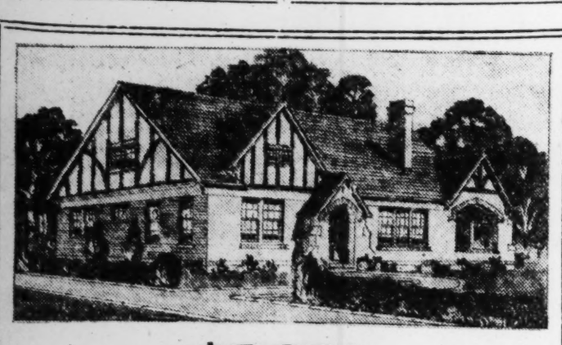

10-ROOM HOUSE, furnished, corner lot. A home and income combined. See it.

WE have some excellent trades, farms, homes or apartments. Call us.

WHAT you want, we have or can get for you.

"TRY US."

Fowler-Meredith Realty Co.
WAlnut 7928
215 Wynne-Claughton Bldg.

$5,350

Includes everything necessary to make this six-room brick veneer house a complete home:

Permits, water meter, loan commission, screens, gutters, basement, furnace, garage, driveway and walks.
For the house itself, specifications call for good materials throughout.

In addition to six major rooms, the house has breakfast room, bath, hall and ample closet space.

All we require of you is that you own a suitable lot, or have a substantial equity in such a lot. We require no cash and our terms are liberal.

Let us show you the floor plan and give you further particulars. We are always glad to show any prospective customer a number of houses we have built or are building.

Atlanta Realty & Construction Co.
1002-3 Healey Building IVy 3180-81

ANSLEY PARK'S BEST BUYS

132 PEACHTREE CIRCLE—Two-story brick, four bedrooms and sleeping porch; two baths; bedroom and bath on first floor; hardwood floors, servants' quarters and servants' bath; double garage; lot 75x340. Price $17,500. Make us an offer. Call Mr. Jones.

121 EAST 17TH ST.—Built of unfinished marble, tiled roof, fine steam heating system, four bedrooms and two baths; double garage, servants' quarters and bath. Priced at $18,500. Make us an offer. No loan. Call Mr. Jones.

RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY CO.
WAl. 0636 61 Forsyth St., N. W.

NORTH SIDE

$7,500 $250 Cash buys a new brick bungalow, two blocks of Ponce de Leon avenue and near Sears-Roebuck. This is a real opportunity for some one to get a splendid home on very easy terms.

CASEY REALTY CO.
WAl. 7507 1110 Candler Bldg.

Decatur Brick, $5,750

THIS house has been reduced $1,000 and will give liberal terms. Small cash payment. Call Thomas, WAl. 0636.

RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY CO.

NORTH SIDE

ON COLLIER ROAD we have a few more lots that will make you a good investment or a good home. If you are in the market it will pay you to investigate, for they are going fast. Only a short time until all will be built on. See them or call Mr. Addy, GE. 8300-W, or

B. M. GRANT CO.
Grant Bldg. WAl. 1600

OXFORD ROAD

SOUTH of Decatur Road we have a most substantial brick bungalow built by owner for a permanent home. Large living room, dining room and breakfast room, extra large bedroom, full tile bath, steam heat, large lot, 97x190, beautifully landscaped. Owner leaving city and will accept $13,750. Terms to suit. Mr. Evans, WAl. 1511, care J. H. Ewing & Sons.

LISTINGS WANTED

I HAVE a client who wants a house in Oakland City or Sylvan Hills. Has $1,000 cash. Call Mr. Phagan, WEst 2495, or

John J. Thompson Co.
Candler Bldg. Realtors WAl. 3935

NORTH SIDE

LOOK—TWO BARGAINS

750 VIRGINIA CIRCLE—Six rooms and breakfast room, red brick. This is one of the prettiest and best arranged bungalows in this section; one block of school and the price is only $8,250, which is $1,000 under the prevailing prices on the street.

1076 BELLEVUE DRIVE—A real pretty and comfortable home. Has select oak floors, very pretty fixtures, one of the nicest bathrooms that you have seen (tile floors and walls), a basement under the entire house. This was built for a home, and the owner now occupies it, and will be glad to show you through. Drive out Highland four blocks north of Virginia and turn to right. For further information call M. L. McWhorter, HEm. 0764-W or WAl. 3937 Monday.

ACREAGE

FARM—SELL OR TRADE. 19 miles from Atlanta, at Austell, Ga. I have 50-acre farm on paved highway, several hundred feet railroad frontage. I am going to sell this farm at half its value. Price $4,250 for quick sale. Will take as part payment late model closed automobile. Some cash; terms can be arranged. If you want a farm near Atlanta, get in touch with me at once. HEm. 2173-W, or WAl. 3937 Monday.

HOME BARGAINS

Near Peachtree, $6,000

MODERN six-room bungalow one block of Peachtree. Good corner lot, $500 cash and $35 per month will handle.

Morningside, $8,500

NEW six-room brick bungalow on elevated south front lot over 200 feet deep. We consider this one of the best buys in the North Side. Liberal terms.

Glennwood Drive, $8,750

THIS is a beautiful brick bungalow near Peachtree Road and convenient to school and stores. Almost new and in splendid neighborhood. Daylight basement with servant room. See this bargain.

Two-Story Brick, $12,500

LOCATED in excellent North Side section on bus line. Nine rooms and two tile baths. Red brick. This was built for a home about six months ago. A real sacrifice on easy terms.

Burdett Realty Co.
Candler Bldg. WAl. 1011

Declining Earnings of the Stock Market--Should Make You Consider Atlanta Real Estate---

With the city's continued growth—with every section flourishing in developments that assure increasing property and real estate values—and with a tax rate lower than any city in the Southeast—

How long can real estate be bought at the present advantageous prices?

Consider also the low costs of building material and ample labor facilities and anticipate your opportunities for investment NOW!

"Thirty-one years continuous real estate service" and never before has any one of those years been as inviting to the prospective purchaser as 1928 due to the conservative market. We recommend the following parcels:

NO. 1

On Boulevard, N. E., just beyond Sherwood road, a new six-room and breakfast room brick bungalow, modern in every detail; now vacant. A good buy for $8,250.

NO. 2

Peachtree road, one of the finest homes in the vicinity suitable for large family, and of brick construction. Five bed rooms. Cannot be described in detail, but must be seen to be appreciated. Price on application.

NO. 3

Vacant lot on Edgewood avenue near bridge, 50x180, for $2,500. Vacant lot on Boulevard, N. E., near Montgomery Ferrys drive. 60x128, can be bought for $1,000 cash.

NO. 4

Two vacant lots on Piedmont road, near Mayson avenue, 50x321 each. Out-of-town owner says sell them, and you know the pavement of this road was completed a few months past. Make us an offer.

M. L. Thrower
6 Forsyth St., N. W. WAlnut 0163

Successful Men Own

REAL ESTATE

WHY?

The Soundest Investment Is Earth Itself

If you want it—We have it
If you have it—We can sell it
We Handle All Kinds

CRAIN-REALTY-SALES-CO.
214 Healey Bldg. Realtors WAl. 1891

"Where Money Is Being Spent For Improvements Enhancement Is Certain"

PEACHTREE STREET

Is now, and always will be, Atlanta's "Main Street"

PEACHTREE STREET

Is the thoroughfare of opportunity for the investor We cordially invited interested parties to our office for an interview.

M. C. Kiser Real Estate Company

"We Get Results"

Suite 332 Candler Bldg. WAl. 3426

TODAY'S BEST VALUES

$1,200 One-third cash, seven acres on Jackson street, Camp Gordon, between Peachtree and Candler roads, paved street, 200 ft. frontage. Non-resident owner has reduced price to sell it immediately.

$11,500 Druid Hills home. Seven rooms, two lovely tile baths, very conveniently located and a real bargain.

$1,200 Terms. Three acres on Marietta car line and paved road. Twelve miles from Atlanta.

$7,500 Eight-room modern home in North Moreland avenue section; walking distance Rass Junior High school; near Little Five Points.

$6,500 North side brick bungalow. Five rooms and large finished attic, cement basement, furnace heat. A pretty new home, well located and real value.

$4,850 Brick bungalow in East Atlanta. Five rooms, new, all hardwood floors, tile bath, papered walls, screens, drive, garage, fine elevated lot 50x170. Half block from car stop.

$6,750 Two-story modern home in Linwood. Excellent location, and a very attractive home.

$15,000 Fine two-story brick home in Druid Hills. Eight rooms, four bedrooms, steam heat, tile roof. A real home at greatly reduced price. Owner must sell and some one will get a bargain here.

$4,850 $250 cash, lot 206x488, and good six-room home in Hapeville.

$6,850 Brick duplex. Eight rooms, two tile bath, level corner lot, good section. Owner has given us real sacrifice on this. Invest a little cash here and let rent from one apartment pay for the property.

$5,000 Nine-room, two-story house on Washington street, lot 50x200. This is a real bargain. Owner must have some cash at once.

$6,500 Six-room cream brick bungalow in Decatur.

$13,000 Atkins Park home. Eight-room, two-story brick home, slate roof, two lovely tile baths. Excellent location and a mighty good buy here.

$8,250 Virginia avenue section, near school and Piedmont park. A pretty new, seven-room brick bungalow, priced way under others in same section.

$7,750 Morningside. New brick bungalow. New, well constructed and very attractively finished.

$5,000 $250 Cash. West End duplex. Ten rooms, five each apartment. Buy this, let rent from one side pay your notes. Others are doing it, why not you?

$6,000 Ten acres on Wesleyan Road, between Peachtree and Roswell roads. Excellent value and a money-maker for someone.

SEE us if you want to buy a home. We have what you want or can get it, if it is here.

John J. Thompson Co.
Candler Bldg. Realtors WAl. 3935

WESTOVER

At Wesley Avenue and Northside Drive

WE are making a price of $35 per foot on a limited number of lots. Unquestionably the best buy in Atlanta. All desirable restrictions, water and electricity. We advise early selection of home sites. Call Mr. Royer, HE. 3012, or

B. M. GRANT CO.

EXCEPTIONAL VALUE

VERY fine home on one of best streets in an exclusive section. Two-story, 10-room brick, with every convenience heart could wish. I am not going to try to describe this home as it would take too much time to read the ad. Just make appointment and see for yourself and if you don't think it is the best buy you have ever seen, don't buy it. Terms. Call R. W. Evans, WAl. 1511.

J. H. EWING & SONS

SEMI-CENTRAL BARGAIN

HOUSE and lot between Spring and West Peachtree, five blocks from Macy's and Henry Grady hotel, 45 feet front and 110 feet deep. Price has been reduced from $15,000 to $9,500 by owners for quick sale. Why buy bonds when you can buy this piece of property which will make you a sure profit in 12 months. Call McKinnon or Reeves.

WELL constructed building on Marietta street and W. & A. team track. Close in; 44 feet front and 126 feet deep. Owner says sell it, which means you can buy it right. Let us show you this good business piece of property.

INCOME PROPERTY

THREE solid brick stores, corner lot. Also additional space. Leased at $150 per month. Price $14,000.

FOUR-family brick apartment, five rooms each unit and open porch. North side thoroughfare. Leased $210 month. Small upkeep. Price $13,500.

TWO solid brick stores, well located trading center. Leased for $130 month to high class tenants. Price, quick sale $11,000. Veal or Medlock.

Cumberland Realty & Loan Co.
Wynne-Claughton Bldg.
WAlnut 2550

CENTRAL BUSINESS PROPERTY

LOCATED in the heart of the north side business section where millions are being spent and millions more will be invested this year. We are offering a parcel which is marked down to forty thousand dollars. For the purchaser there is a certain profit of fifteen thousand dollars before the end of the year. Our listings consist of all classes of Atlanta property. Inquire about them. You will find them very interesting.

Weyman & Connors

58 Marietta St. WAl. 2162

ON THE LEFT OF PEACHTREE

$8,950 BUYS six-room brick with breakfast room, tile bath, furnace, hardwood floors; every convenience; two blocks of car line. Will make liberal terms. Mr. Wooten, DE. 1813, or

MADDOX & TISINGER
REALTORS
WAl. 8382 730 Candler Bldg.

HOMES—LOTS

BETWEEN PEACHTREES—18-room house, nine bedrooms, three baths, running water in each room, hot water heat, large corner lot. Suitable for a boarding house. $12,000.

OFF PEACHTREE ROAD—8-room brick 4sq2sw; nice lot; brick garage and servant's room. $8,750.

DRUID HILLS—Seven-room, two-story home, three bedrooms, sleeping porch, living room, dining room, breakfast room and kitchen; steam heat. One most prominent drives. $11,000.

FIVE-ROOM brick bungalow; a beauty inside and out with pretty fixtures, walls and floors; located nice section north side. $7,000.

ANSLEY PARK—Nine-room, hot water heated home, with four bedrooms, sleeping porch, sun parlor, etc.; large concrete basement, pool room; lot 150 feet front. $16,500.

Lots

RIVERS ROAD, 100x350. $8,000.
PEACHTREE ROAD, 90x200, $35 ft.
ANSLEY PARK, 60x150. $2,500.
OFF PEACHTREE ROAD, 100x225. $1,600.
MORNINGSIDE, 30x200. $1,750.
NEAR EMORY, 70x170. $1,750.

Carl Fischer, WAl. 3241

PIEDMONT PARK

EIGHT-ROOM brick house; five bedroomrooms, two all-tiled baths, built-in features; hardwood floors throughout, two-car garage, all for $10,000, on liberal terms. Small cash payment. Call Thomas, WAl. 0636.

RANKIN-WHITTEN REALTY CO.

INVESTMENT

WE have a near-in, downtown, corner, both streets very prominent boulevards, on north side. A large oil company has O.K'd this corner for a long lease; also have tenants for stores. This property can be had at a very attractive price now as the owner will leave city shortly. We can show you a safe, substantial investment if you will call us for appointment. Call for Mr. Lee.

CONYERS REALTY CO.
415 Atl. Trust Co. Bldg. WAl. 4071

BUY A LOT NOW IN BOULEVARD HILLS

THAT HEAVILY WOODED SUBDIVISION BETWEEN VIRGINIA AVENUE AND MORNINGSIDE AND HIGHLAND AVENUE AND NORTH BOULEVARD. An opportunity neglected is usually an opportunity lost. You can now get a level lot, 60x200 feet, less than 3 blocks from car line, for $1,750.00.

ALL IMPROVEMENTS—EASY TERMS

For further information or appointment, call

WAlnut 7111 or WAlnut 4700

EMPIRE TRUST COMPANY

Open Today

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST BUNGALOWS in Linwood avenue section—Another HOPKINS BUNGALOW—543 Barnett street, near Lindwood place, three blocks south of Ponce de Leon avenue. If you are one of the "hard to please," one of those who can appreciate a home that is complete in every detail, or if you have ever lived or traveled in Southern California and can recognize a typical California bungalow, drive out today, we will be glad to show you through. Take a look at some bungalows that others ask $8,000 to $8,500 for and compare with ours. Our price $7,500; reasonable cash payment; balance like rent. This bungalow has living room, dining room, breakfast room, three bed rooms, tile bath, daylight cemented basement, beautiful elevated lot 70 feet front, 150 feet deep. Hopkins bungalows are cozy, neat, attractive, homelike, conveniently arranged and DIFFERENT. PLEASE REMEMBER, we cater to those who can appreciate a complete home.

P. B. Hopkins & Son, Palmer Bldg. WAl. 4186

P. S.—We will not tie you up with a series of notes running from ten to fifteen years. Our notes run only four or five years, then you can pay the balance when it suits you.

If You Pay Rent—Read This Table

It shows what rent amounts to with 6% interest.

Rent per mo.	In 10 yrs.	In 15 yrs.	In 20 yrs.
$ 40	$ 6,326.72	$11,172.78	$17,657.04
50	7,908.40	13,965.46	22,071.30
75	11,862.60	20,948.19	33,106.95
100	15,816.80	27,930.92	44,142.60

BE YOUR OWN LANDLORD

THE home pictured here is either an invisible duplex or an individual home. There is a living room, dining room, breakfast room, kitchen, bedroom and bath for the owner's use, and three rooms and bath to rent out, and yet the plan is easily converted into a home with four bedrooms and two baths. We will build and finance it complete for

$6,750

Investigate the Morris Home Ownership Plan

LET us show you the Plans and Specifications for this home or design one to suit you. No obligations. Call

Building Department

F. P. & GEO. J. MORRIS

Ask the people who bought from us.

76-78 PRYOR ST., N. E. WAlnut 6438

NEW CHURCH ERA' IS LAID TO RADIOS

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—A new era in church services is foreseen by M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company, through carrying sermons into the home.

Appearing today before the senate interstate commerce committee, in connection with pending radio legislation, Aylesworth told of the millions reached through chain broadcasting and how one "nationally prominent" minister had volunteered to give up his pulpit if assured of an opportunity of preaching each Sunday to millions.

Cuts Into Collections.

On the other hand, Aylesworth said he had been visited by a committee of ministers from smaller churches pleading that the religious services be not broadcast on Sundays during the regular church hour.

"I guess it cuts into the collection box," interjected Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan. Replying to Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, Aylesworth estimated that the sermons of the Rev. Dr. Parkes Cadman, of Brooklyn, and the Rev. Dr. Emerson Fosdick, of New York, reached the ears of millions of listeners.

FIND EVIDENCE OF EARLY CHRISTIANITY.

Madrid, February 4.—(AP)—An archaeological relic of early Christianity of the second century discovered near Madrid, in the municipal district of Villaverde, has caused a stir in the scientific world.

It is a Roman Christian villa, built upon the ruins of another Roman villa, and according to archaeological authorities, its existence proves that there were Christians near Madrid as early as the second century. The discovery was made by Professor Fruidio, an archaeologist, who was making explorations on the ground together with several of his pupils.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE SEEKS $50,000.

New York, February 4.—(AP)—Rev. David G. Wylie, president of the Lord's Day Alliance of the United States, today announced the appointment of a national interdenominational committee to launch a campaign for $50,000 for the organization of new Sunday associations and alliances.

The Rev. Frank J. Niles, of Columbus, Ohio, has been added to the staff of the organization, he said, for the formation of branches in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Missouri.

Big Prison Show Takes First 'Ad' In 'Good Words'

The first advertisement ever published in "Good Words," official publication of the Atlanta federal penitentiary, appears in the February issue, just off the press. The advertisement is that of the "show of the year," the annual Washington's birthday performance of the inmates, which will be given at the prison on February 18 and 19, as the announcement says, "rain or shine."

Jack Hughes, "impresario" of the penitentiary, is now producing the annual show, and promises the audience the "most gorgeous, startling, stupendous production of all time. Beautiful, talented girls, gracefully dancing to the rhythm of enchanting southern and popular tunes, elaborately costumed minstrel men, dexterously performing difficult feats in dancing, clear voiced singers crooning melodies soft and sweet, nimble-fingered musicians on string instruments—a galaxy of stars never before equaled in this territory."

Ten Vaudeville Acts.

There will be ten acts of vaudeville, and in spite of the famed excellence of the prison performers, the same price to all will prevail—in fact, there will be "no admission," and that means just what it says, just try and get in. The music will be furnished by the famed Dionisio's Dixie orchestra. No seats will be reserved, but all will be served as they come.

A word of warning must be given—don't try to buy a ticket, for there are none on sale, and in this respect if in no other, the show is unique. The only way to see it is to attend as a specially invited guest, and these are far and few between, since the show is given exclusively for the benefit of the inmates, and every available seat is needed to seat the 3,000 prisoners, half of the number at each of the two performances.

John D. Norwood has succeeded B. Levin as editor of the prison monthly, according to the editorial page masthead. Tributes to Washington and Lincoln, both of whom were born in February, and a number of interesting articles on prison activities feature the February issue of the magazine.

15 SEEK OFFICE OF TAX RECEIVER IN CHATTOOGA CO.

Lyerly, Ga., February 4.—(Special.)—With fifteen already in the race for tax receiver of Chattooga county, and several more announcements for the office expected within the next week, the race is attracting considerable attention. The primary will be held on March 4. Candidates already announced are: G. W. Arp, Fred G. Eller, J. R. Wyatt, E. J. Hemphill, A. W. Justice, John M. Baker, Frank M. Dodd, Roy G. Silk, Dempo Dalton, F. M. Fisher, Clifford C. Housch, W. A. Scoggins, B. A. Broom, Claude Baker and C. T. House.

The office of tax collector is being sought by three well-known citizens of the county, J. Austin Scoggins, the incumbent; T. A. Cook and J. F. Stephenson.

In the race for sheriff are J. I. Kimball, H. T. Agnew, Frank Thomason and A. H. Glenn.

J. E. King is unopposed for ordinary, as is also Miss Maude Sewell for county school superintendent. There are four candidates for county treasurer, both for the unexpired term of the late J. A. Beavers in the special election to be held February 28, and in the primary for the four-year term.

There are also a number of candidates for county commissioner, of which there are four to be elected.

COMPANY FORMED TO DRILL FOR OIL NEAR CAIRO, GA.

Cairo, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Seepage in a water well six miles north of here, found to contain partially refined petroleum, has led a group of local citizens to apply for a charter as a company to drill for oil.

The new corporation, it is reported, has obtained leases on something like 200,000 acres of land in the northern part of Grady county, where surveys by geologists have shown conditions to be highly favorable for drilling purposes, it is said.

CameronMcLean Scotch Baritone Here Wednesday

Cameron McLean, noted Scotch baritone, will appear here in concert at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night in the auditorium of the Woman's club as a feature of the "Morning Musicale" series of the Atlanta Music club.

CAMERON M'LEAN.

This will be Mr. McLean's second visit to Atlanta and he is remembered by his strikingly beautiful voice and artistry of song interpretation. His gifts are not confined to the interpretations of his native Scottish music in which he is supreme but he also is a master of other styles in which he has had the coaching of Frank La Forge, so long associated with Marcella Sembrich.

His style has a touch of histrionic power which he uses with wonderfully varied and subtle effect.

His program will include compositions by such masters as Verdi, Kann, Schubert, Arnold Mendelssohn, Mousorgsky, Clay, Kennedy, Fraser, William Hammond, William Arms-Fisher, Dunhill, Erlebach, Charles and LeLeone.

Membership cards will be required for admission, or guest tickets which may be purchased at the door. There will be no advance sale of tickets as there are no reserved seats, it is announced.

BLALOCK IS NAMED GENERAL MANAGER OF KUTZ COMPANY

Guy Blalock, traveling salesman for the M. Kutz Wholesale Millinery company for the last 20 years, has been named general manager of the company to succeed Dixie Moss, vice president, who has retired from active business activities due to ill health.

Mr. Blalock started with the M. Kutz company 22 years ago as stock boy. Two years later he was started on the road to cover northern Georgia. During his 20 years of traveling he has covered practically every section of the south and has extended the company's selling accounts to a material extent.

GUY BLALOCK.

The M. Kutz company was established 44 years ago by the late Max Kutz, who conducted it until his death in 1914. He was succeeded by C. P. Palmer, who headed the business. At his death C. A. Kitchings became president. Today the trading territory of the company embraces the entire south and many points throughout the country.

Mr. Blalock will assume his duties as general manager this week. He anticipates an immediate program of expansion of the company's interest throughout the entire trading territory.

RESTAURANT BLAST IN CHICAGO LAID TO NEGRO REVENGE

Chicago, February 4.—(AP)—The slaying of a negro youth in a south side restaurant a year ago was given as the reason for the bombing of a large restaurant today. The large dynamite bomb exploded with such force that windows for several blocks were shattered but no one was injured.

Samuel Kessler, owner of the restaurant, told police his son, Charles, 21, had shot a negro, James Smith, in the place about a year ago. At his trial the son claimed self-defense. He was sentenced to from 1 to 14 years, appealed the case, and was later released on a writ.

Since that time, however, the father said Charles has not dared return to the neighborhood for fear of violence.

Less than three hours later a small black powder, or "pineapple" variety, bomb tore the front doorway from Herry's shoe store on the near west side. Police learned the owner of the store had some difficulties with members of a window washing union and believed that to be the cause of the bombing.

Here's Your Chance To Win $2,000.00

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S "COW" FIGURE GAME

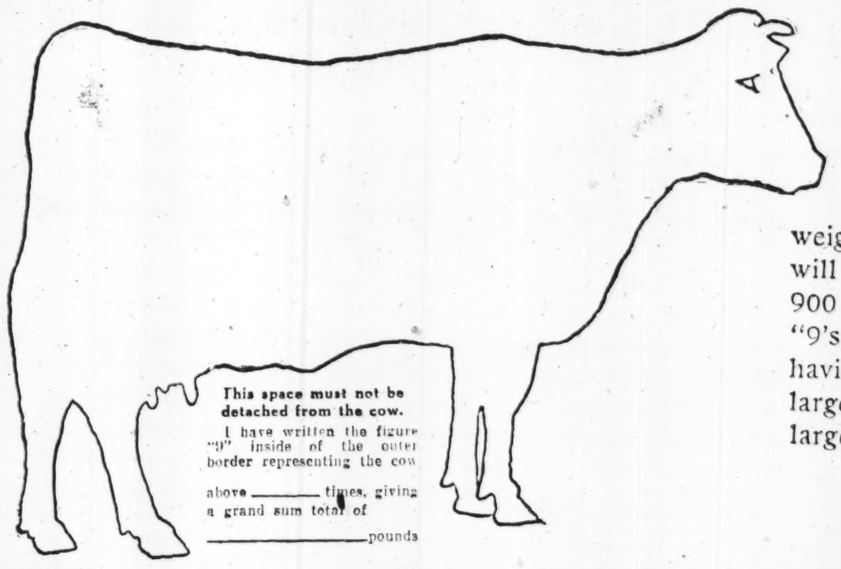

$2,000.00 First Prize—$1,000.00 Second Prize—$500.00 Third Prize

Twenty-five Cash Prizes in All--- Amounting to $4,515.00

THIS CONTEST CLOSES WEDNESDAY, FEB. 8

These big cash prizes are going to be given away to the lucky winners, and no one has a better chance than you if you will only make the proper effort. The object of the game is to see how much you can make the "COW" weigh by filling inside of the border representing the cow with figures "9." How many times can you write by hand, using a lead pencil, the figure "9" inside the border forming the cow outline? The sum total of the number of the "9's" that you put in the cow picture will represent your answer or what you give as the weight of the cow. For example twenty "9's" will be 180 pounds; one hundred "9's" would be 900 pounds, etc. Can you write in one hundred "9's," two hundred, or how many? The person having the greatest number of "9's," that is, the largest sum total, will win first prize, second largest second prize, etc.

How Much Can You Make the "COW" WEIGH?

THAT'S THE PROBLEM!

Try Your Hand at It by Writing the Figure "9" as Many Times as You Can Inside the Borderline of the "Cow."

Begin now on the game by clipping out the "cow" picture and start with lead pencil to filling in with the figure "9." You will find it absorbing fun, and every "9" that you write in the "cow" figure takes you further on your way to the big cash prizes that are to be given.

Be sure that the "9's" do not touch each other, nor touch the border of the cow. You may have additional copies of the "cow" picture by writing to the Cow Contest Dept., inclosing a stamped return envelope. The extra copies, however, will be on the same grade of paper as this is printed on.

You have a chance to earn $35.00, $250.00, $1,000.00 or $2,000.00, as explained and shown in the Prize List.

Name ..... Contestant

P. O. ..... State.....

Street or R. F. D. .....

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

Date.....1928

Name ..... New / Renewal Subscriber

P. O. ..... State.....
Street No.
or R. F. D. .....Mos. Amt. $.....

Name ..... New / Renewal Subscriber

P. O. ..... State.....
Street No.
or R. F. D. .....Mos. Amt. $.....

I am enclosing $....., which pays for ..... subscriptions as listed above to qualify my Cow figure solution as stated in your offer and prize list.

Name ..... Contestant

P. O. ..... State.....
Street No.
or R. F. D. .....

GET OUT YOUR LEAD PENCIL NOW!

If you make the proper effort and fully qualify your solution it may mean $2,000.00 to you.

THE PRIZE LIST

Note: The value of the prize depends on how much you pay on your subscription with your solution of the figure puzzle. The amount paid will be applied to the daily and Sunday Constitution. Daily only, or Tri-Weekly payments, not accepted in this "COW" figure contest.

	Prize if no sub. is sent.	Prize if 1 6 mos. sub. and $5.00 (new or renewal) is sent.	Prize if 1 yearly sub. and $9.50 (new or renewal) is sent.	Prize if 2 yearly subs. at $9.50 each, total $19, are sent. One can be renewal and one must be new
FIRST PRIZE	$35.00	$250.00	$1,000.00	$2,000.00
SECOND PRIZE ..	25.00	200.00	500.00	1,000.00
THIRD PRIZE	25.00	100.00	250.00	500.00
FOURTH PRIZE...	15.00	50.00	150.00	300.00
FIFTH PRIZE	10.00	25.00	100.00	200.00
SIXTH PRIZE	5.00	25.00	50.00	100.00
SEVENTH PRIZE..	5.00	25.00	25.00	50.00
EIGHTH PRIZE...	5.00	20.00	20.00	25.00
NINTH to 25th Prize	1.00	2.00	10.00	20.00

How to Win $2,000.00

It is not necessary to send a subscription, but by qualifying your entry into "How much can you make the cow weigh" game with one or two subscriptions, you can increase the amount of the prize money that you will receive if you are a winner. For instance, the first prize is $35.00, but if winner of first prize has qualified with one six months' subscription, the prize will be $250.00 instead of $35.00. If qualified with one year's subscription the prize will be $1,000.00 instead of $35.00; or if qualified with two annual subscriptions the prize would be $2,000.00 instead of $35.00, and so on with proportional increases throughout the entire prize list. In all there are 25 prizes, as shown in this announcement.

$35.00 Will be awarded to the winner of first prize (the person having the largest sum total in the cow picture) if no subscription is sent to the daily and Sunday Constitution.

$250.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one six months' subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution with $5.00 remittance is sent, new or renewal; second prize $200.00, third prize $100.00, etc. (See second column in prize list.)

$1,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize provided one annual subscription, new or renewal, to the daily and Sunday Constitution is sent with $9.50 remittance, second prize $500.00; third prize $250.00, etc. (See third column in prize list.)

$2,000.00 instead of $35.00 will be awarded to the winner of first prize, provided two yearly subscriptions to the daily and Sunday Constitution are sent, one of which must be new, at $9.50 each. Total remittance $19.00, second prize $1,000.00; third prize $500.00, etc. (See last column in prize list.) Be sure to write your qualifying subscription on a separate sheet of paper from the "Cow" picture, giving your name and address as well as the name and address of each subscriber. Remittance should be sent by money order, personal check or bank check. Currency should always be registered.

$7,500

Travel and Pedestrian Accident Insurance

issued to annual subscribers and immediate members of a subscriber's family of ages from 15 to 70 at $1.25 per policy each per year. This fee is in addition to the subscription price. Applicants should give name in full, state age and occupation, and when a beneficiary is given be sure to state full Christian name and relationship to the insured.

Closing Date

The "How Much Can You Make the Cow Weigh" Game Closes

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 8TH, 1928

No Solution Can Be Changed After It Has Once Been Registered.

If you find that you can make the cow weigh more than the first solution which you sent, the only thing you can do is to send in another solution, which must be qualified independent of the first solution submitted. In other words, the qualification of one solution already submitted cannot be transferred to a later solution.

Important Facts to Remember!

While the amount you pay with the solution does not have any effect on your winning an award, it does affect the amount you will receive should you win one of the awards, as the value of these awards is determined by what the winners pay. This is explained in the prize list, which you should study carefully before sending in your solution.

Address your solution, remittances, etc., to the Contest Manager, Daily Circulation Dept., The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Observe These General Rules of the Contest!

1. All bona fide residents of Georgia and adjoining states may take part in this contest, except employees of The Atlanta Constitution and members of their families.

2. Contestants may submit as many different solutions as they desire, provided payment of one of the three amounts designated in the prize list shall accompany each solution, but no contestant will be permitted to win more than one award. Once registered, a solution cannot be changed.

3. The first prize will be awarded to the person having the greatest sum total, which is to be determined by the sum of the figures "9" written in the space designated inside of the border forming the picture representing the cow; to the second greatest total second prize, third greatest total third prize, etc.

4. Any lead pencil may be used. All writing or drawing pens of artists or engineers or their like are barred, as ink cannot be used on this grade of paper without blurring. The figures "9" need not be perfect in shape, but must be complete. Write as small as you like with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make—just so each "9" is fully shaped. Figures cannot touch each other, nor are they permitted to touch any part of the borderline forming the shape of the cow.

5. Copperplate type, shorthand, reproductions or reductions are barred, also duplicates of the original. Every "9" must actually be made by hand with any ordinary lead pencil of standard make, and must be discernible to the naked eye, meaning clear and distinct to a person of average good eyesight or equivalent. The natural eye by those who do not wear glasses, and ordinary reading glasses by those who wear glasses only, guide allowed in filling in the figure "9." A "9" with either straight or curved tail is permissible.

6. Every contestant must give the correct total of the weight of the cow in the answer submitted by him. Incorrect statement disqualifies the solution. This weight of course is the sum total of the "9's" he has written in the figure representing the cow. This is important! Your name and complete address must be plainly written on margin of sheet on which your answer is given, or blank printed for that purpose, or a blank of your own selection attached hereto.

7. In case of ties, while there is hardly a chance in 10,000 of a tie, as many awards will be reserved as there are people tied. Before any awards are awarded for less correct solutions, another puzzle will be submitted to those tied on the same order of this one, except a smaller "cow" picture, after which should ties still result each contestant will receive the full amount of the prize tied for.

8. Only one prize will be awarded to a person, household, or group of persons. Any person or household, or group of persons submitting duplicates are barred.

9. The decision of The Atlanta Constitution must be accepted as final and conclusive in all matters, and participants by sending in their answers agree to accept the decision of the contest manager of The Atlanta Constitution as conclusive and final.

10. The Atlanta Constitution reserves the right to reject at any time any contestant whom it believes has violated the rules. The solution of the winner of first prize will be reproduced in The Constitution, together with the published result which will be published as soon as possible after the closing date of the contest.

11. All answers will receive the same consideration, regardless as to whether or not a subscription for the daily and Sunday Constitution be sent in.

12. The contest is open to new and old subscribers alike. The regular subscription rate of $5.00 for six months subscription or $9.50 for 12 months subscription to the daily and Sunday Constitution will prevail. Daily only subscriptions or Tri-Weekly subscriptions not acceptable in this contest. Full amount of subscription must be remitted in every instance. When sent through an agent, postmaster, or otherwise, no commission can be deducted. In column 2 of prize list, six months' subscription there referred to can be either new or renewal; column 3, 12 months' subscription, $9.50, can be either new or renewal. Column 4, requiring two annual subscriptions, one can be a renewal, but one must be new. A new subscription means one who is not now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, directly or indirectly through any source, and has not within the past 60 days.

13. Subscriptions secured by the means of this contest in Atlanta and suburbs will be delivered by carrier service. In towns outside of Atlanta, where The Constitution has carrier delivery service, the paper may be delivered by carrier, upon request of the subscriber or contestant; otherwise the paper will be sent by mail.

14. A person who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, and paying the carrier or agent by the week or month, or otherwise, may send or bring directly to The Constitution a six or twelve months' payment to qualify a solution. Whatever is due such carrier, dealer or agent at that time must be paid to him as the remittance sent us will date from the date it is received. The carrier or agent will be notified by The Constitution of such advance payments. If all arrearages are not paid, the solution may not be considered valid. Renewals on mail subscriptions will be extended for the length of time paid for from present paid date of expiration. All qualifying subscriptions in this contest must be paid in advance.

15. Contest closes Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. All solutions delivered in person must be at The Constitution office by 9:00 p. m. of that date, but may be mailed any time before midnight. Solutions mailed at any post office in Georgia and adjoining states bearing postmark of no later date than midnight, February 8th, 1928, will be accepted if rules governing same are complied with. The contest extends from Wednesday, January 4th, 1928, to and including Wednesday, February 8th, 1928. Five days will be given thereafter for those who have not fully qualified for the larger prizes to do so, after which no further qualification remittances will be accepted.

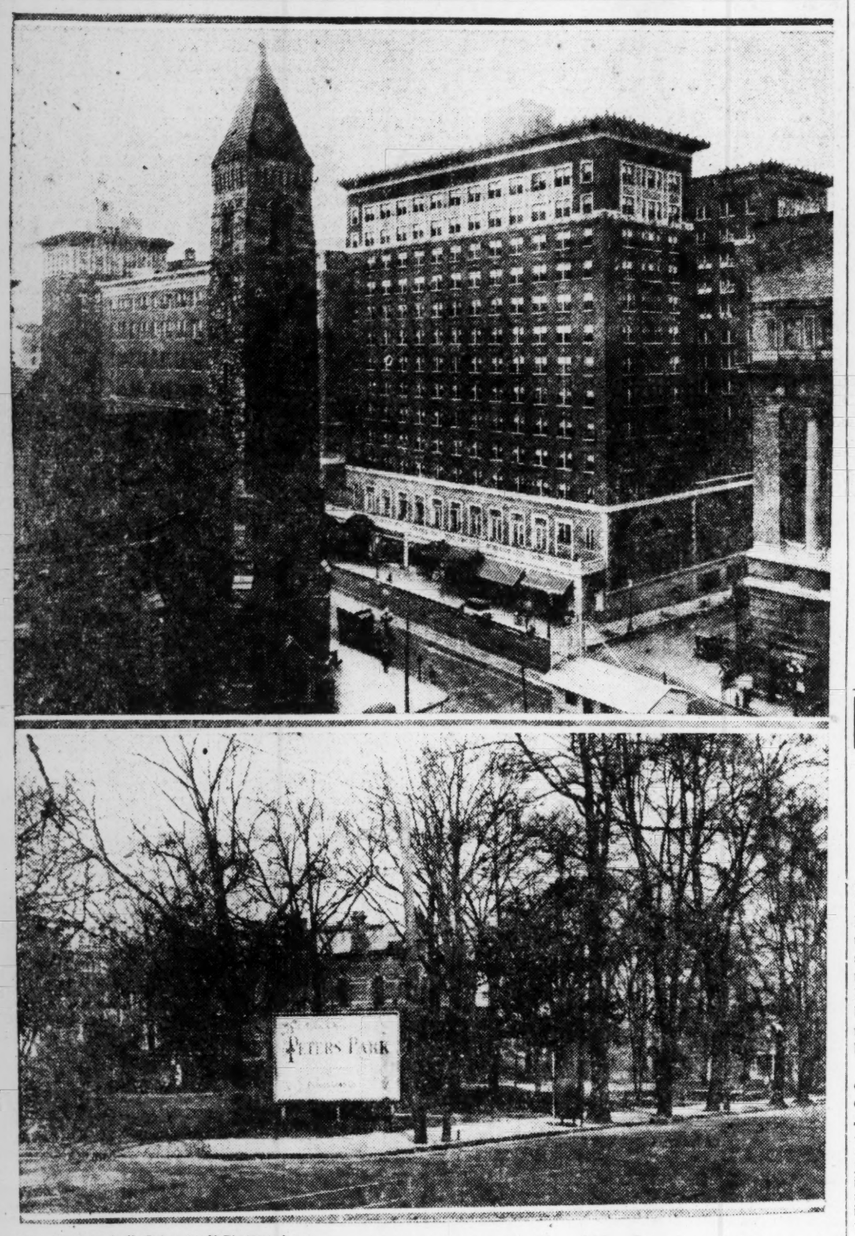

The above rules are simple, easy to understand, and is all the information that can be given on the contest except that which appears in the announcement of which this is a part.

(Copyrighted, 1928, by The Atlanta Constitution.)

THE CONSTITUTION'S REAL ESTATE REVIEW

CONDUCTED IN THE INTEREST OF DEVELOPMENT OF ATLANTA AND THE SOUTH

Properties in Recent Deal

Photos by Francis E. Price, Staff Photographer.

Parcels involved in the First Baptist church property sale to Ed C. Peters, of Peters Land company, one of the outstanding transactions in history of the Atlannta real estate market. Above is seen the valuable downtown church corner at Peachtree and Cain streets. A good view of the Henry Grady hotel, just across the street from the parcel sold, is also shown. Below is the Peachtree and Fourth streets corner of the Peters block, which contains more than four acres and which was given with $325,000 in cash for the church corner valued at $750,000.

Important Parcels Involved in Recent Sale

Photos by George Cornett, Staff Photographer.

Views of central parcels involved in the transaction announced about a week ago in The Constitution. On the upper left is shown the vacant lot on the northwest corner of Peachtree and Long streets, purchased by Dr. Floyd W. McRae, who gave as part consideration his equity in five parcels to the Realty Holding company. The lot is just opposite the large Medical Arts building, a side of which can be seen in the upper left corner of the picture. It is valued at $160,000 and has three street frontages. Improvement of the lot is expected shortly. On the upper right is shown the vacant lot at the northwest corner of West Peachtree and Pine streets, one of the parcels given in exchange. Below is the building at 501-3 Whitehall street, also given in the trade. Perry Adair and Dewey Scarboro, of Perry, Adair, Inc., agents.

Realtors Launch Drive For Affiliated Members

Plans for launching a campaign for affiliated members by the Atlanta Real Estate board were disclosed Saturday with the announcement of appointment of a committee for this purpose by Frank C. Owens, president of the board. The affiliated membership qualifications of the board apply to property owners and people in a kindred line of the real estate business.

The committee consists of M. C. Kiser, chairman; George L. Harrison, vice chairman; M. H. Liebman, John J. Thompson, Ward Wight, Jesse Draper, Eugene Haynes and Edgar Morris.

Mr. Kiser has called a meeting of this committee for Tuesday morning, February 7, at 11 o'clock, at the office of the board, to form plans for the purpose of getting this campaign under way at an early date. All members of the real estate board will be called upon to assist in securing affiliated members.

Appraisal Committee Active.

A meeting of the members of the general appraisal committee of the board was held Thursday afternoon, at which modern and efficient methods of appraising the different phases of real estate in the city of Atlanta were discussed.

A. B. Cates, chairman of the general appraisal committee, states that he was very much pleased with the interest shown by the members of the committee, and that policies were outlined that assured him that the appraisal work of the Real Estate board would continue to grow and the methods of making appraisals would be more efficient and offer to the real estate interests of Atlanta a system even better than it has rendered in the past.

The general appraisal committee of the board consists of more than 40 members. These members are classified according to their qualifications to appraise the different phases of real estate in the city. At this meeting methods of increasing the business and a program of study for the individual appraisers to improve themselves as to appraising were outlined for the year.

The membership committee of the Atlanta Real Estate board, of which R. W. Evans is chairman, held a meeting at the office of the board Wednesday morning, when the chairman heard reports from the different members of his committee as to the prospects they had seen with reference to joining the board. Encouraging reports were given by each member and several new applications were handed in.

Local Delegates Return.

From the interest shown by members of the membership committee, the Real Estate board will materially increase its membership during the coming year.

R. W. Evans states that his committee will hold another meeting Wednesday morning, February 8, at 9:30 o'clock, and he urges each one to be present so as to make a report on his work in securing new members.

R. R. Otis, Ward Wight and Frank C. Owens, delegates from the Atlanta board to the midwinter meeting of the National Association of Real Estate Boards held in Houston, Texas, the week of January 23, returned to Atlanta on Monday. Each reported that the meeting was largely attended by prominent real estate men from all over the United States and that many important questions pertaining to the real estate business as a whole were acted upon.

Some of the leading subjects discussed and approved were as follows: Forming of an appraisal division in the national association; action opposing the free lot scheme in selling tracts of real estate; appointment of a committee from the mortgage and finance division to draw up a code of ethics for the real estate mortgage loan procedure; resolution on the federal assumption of the full cost of flood control measures.

Henry G. Zander, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards for 1928, assumed office, succeeding C. C. Hicatt, of Louisville, Ky., who was president of the association in 1927.

CHINESE LEADERS HERE TO INSPECT U. S. ARMED FORCES

San Francisco, February 4.—(AP)—Three of China's most prominent officials and leaders in the kuomintang, or people's party, the backbone of the nationalist movement, arrived here today on the liner Taiyo Maru.

They are Hsu Sung-Chee, general of the nationalist armies and chief of staff to Commander-in-Chief Chaing Kai-Shek; Professor Chou Low, of the Canton university, and Tsing Tenchoo, nationalist commissioner for Canton. The Chinese officials are traveling under the auspices of the nationalist government to make an inspection of the United States army and navy and of the kuomintang party offices here.

GEORGIA PRODUCTS WILL BE SERVED SOLDIERS TODAY

Georgia products will be featured again today on the menus of the Twenty-second infantry organization at Fort McPherson, it was announced Saturday.

Headquarters company, under Captain S. C. Harrison, will be served with the following: Vegetable soup, baked sweet potatoes, crackling bread, apple pie, fresh pork hams, gravy, country butter, ice cream, bread dressing, peas, sirup, coffee and buttermilk.

The service company, under Captain D. W. C. Smith, will have the following menu: Vegetable soup, Georgia sugar-cured hams, Georgia baked yams, fried lye hominy, salad greens, peas, Georgia peach pie, corn bread and the usual drinks.

Company E, of the infantry, under Captain Robert Joerg, Jr., will have the following menu: Oyster soup, roast pork, sage dressing, potatoes, celery, yams, field peas and gravy.

W. T. Woodruff Reopens Office After Illness

W. T. Woodruff, prominent Atlanta business man and well-known figure in real estate mortgage loan circles, has reopened offices on the seventh floor of the Thrower building, after having suspended business for some time due to ill health, it was announced Saturday. Mr. Woodruff conducts a real estate mortgage loan business.

W. T. WOODRUFF.

Friends and clients of Mr. Woodruff have expressed joy at news of his recovery and are glad to see his return to the business in which he is so competent.

With his return to the mortgage loan field, Mr. Woodruff commented on the conditions confronting that business as being unusually prosperous in view of the big real estate year looked forward to and the bright outlook on business in general.

Dance and Minstrels Will Be Given Monday At Junior Order Hall

A minstrel show and a dance will be given Monday night in the Junior Order hall at 28 Capitol avenue, by members of the Ladies' Loyal Orange lodge, No. 266. Officers of the lodge are in charge of arrangements for the entertainment program which will follow the show. A well-known local orchestra will furnish music for the dance. Tickets are on sale by members of the lodge.

FEBRUARY OPENS BIG FOR MORRIS

Consummation of contracts to build three homes, made during the past week by the building department of F. P. and George J. Morris, reveal a tendency to continue the record home sales and construction activity that marked opening of the new year, Keller F. Melton, sales manager of the building department, stated in announcing $22,975 worth of additional business in less than seven days.

This amount brings the total figure of sales in homes to be built for owners, contracted for since the first of January, up to well over $85,000, it was stated. In addition to the large volume, a significant feature of the Morris building department activities, it was pointed out, was the even distribution of the sales over the month, indicating a substantial trend, rather than just a flurry of activity.

The list of new business announced by Mr. Melton includes a beautiful home to be built on Peachtree road for Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Scott. The site has a 100-foot frontage on Peachtree, just beyond Buckhead. The residence will be a brick bungalow built with every detail strictly in keeping with the English type of architecture. It will contain three bedrooms, two baths, living room, dining room, kitchen, butler pantry, breakfast room, sun parlor and will be supplemented with two servant rooms and bath and a three-car garage. There will be a winding driveway with entrance in front and rear.

The Morris building department is also building a brick bungalow for Mr. and Mrs. E. W. LaZarus. It will be of American type architecture containing six rooms and bath. The site is on Yorkshire drive, in Morningside. An attractive effect is to be obtained by using dark brick and black mortar. A colonial style bungalow is to be built for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Berry on a beautiful 100-foot lot, on Venetian drive, in Cascade Heights. The dwelling will contain living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast room, two bedrooms, bath and study on the first floor and a bedroom upstairs.

PRINCETON BOOK GIVES BENEDICTS EDGE ON 'LIVING'

Princeton, N. J., February 4.—(United News.)—"Marry and add 12 years to your life," is the suggestion gleaned from statistics made public today in "Fifty Years of Princeton '77," a book about Princeton's most famous class, edited by Dr. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American museum of natural history.

Vital statistics in the class book show that 42 per cent of the married members of the class of 1877 are still alive, while only 25 per cent of the bachelors have survived. On the average, married members of the class have lived 12 years longer than the bachelors.

SELF-STYLED DRY AGENT SENTENCED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Rockford, Ills., February 4.—(AP)—Judge Arthur E. Fisher, of circuit court, in sentencing John Beyer, Jr., Janesville, Wis., self-styled prohibition investigator convicted of manslaughter, declared today that the youth was "extremely fortunate in being found guilty of manslaughter." Beyer was tried for murder. He is to serve from one to fourteen years in the Pontiac reformatory.

Beyer shot William Petroff, South Beloit roadhouse operator, during an unauthorized raid.

TALLAPOOSA RUSHES NEW WATER PLANT

Tallapoosa, Ga., February 4.—(Special)—Forms are being built for the new concrete filter plant of the city waterworks system to be erected on the banks of the Tallapoosa river north of the city.

Work will be started next week on the pump house near the Green creek junction and several dozen men are being used in the operations.

Water from the city standpipe was turned into the new ten inch main leading to the river during the last week and a minimum number of leaks were shown. It is expected that all of the work will be completed and that water from the river will be available within less than 60 days.

John J. Thompson Urges One-Price Realty System

A movement to establish the one-price system in real estate sales as firmly as it is in general mercantile lines has been started here. John J. Thompson, of the John J. Thompson company, vice president of the Atlanta Real Estate board, is its sponsor and he is asking the support of all property owners and of other agents in correcting a condition he says is doing a great deal of harm.

One of the greatest abuses of the business, he says, is the practice of some owners who list their property with the agents at inflated prices with the hope that some high pressure salesman may sell it for more than it is worth.

"Property owners should not overlook the fact that buyers are familiar with market conditions and values," Mr. Thompson said. "They will only buy property that compares favorably with that offered by others.

"Another serious condition confronting the broker is the disposition of many builders and owners to use the services of agents and, unintentionally in many cases, fail to give the agent a fair chance to make the sale. For example, many builders list their property with several agents and then place their own 'For sale' sign on it."

Agents recognize the right of owners to sell their property, Mr. Thompson added, but the agent, being human, feels that if he is encouraged to advertise and demonstrate property at heavy expense, he should have the owner's cooperation.

"If the owners will list their property at a fair price and at one price only," Mr. Thompson said, "regardless of who makes the sale, those who think sales are slow will find a ready market. Merchants long ago abolished the custom of offering their goods at one price and then accepting a lower one. It is time agents and owners adopted the same rule.

"Let the owner list at a fair price and let the agent be governed by it absolutely. If later it is necessary to change the price, let the owner do it. The clerk in the store doesn't dictate the price. The merchant does that, adding a fair percentage of profit. If the profit is too high for sales, he keeps the goods."

HAIG'S BODY RESTS IN OLD CATHEDRAL

Edinburgh, February 4.—(AP)—Among his own people Douglas Earl Haig rested tonight with tokens of Scotsmen's love about him.

Men and women by thousands who had known him as a man rather than as a field marshal came through snow and bleak winds to view his flag-draped coffin where it lay in ancient St. Giles cathedral after being brought from London. All day long a column of quiet folk streamed through the church laying paper poppies and simple flowers near the great soldier's insignia of rank.

Burial Set for Tuesday.

The cathedral again on Monday will receive thousands of those who come to mourn and pay reverence to the man who headed the British army in France. Tuesday morning, after a private service at St. Giles for relatives, the body will be taken by special train to St. Boswells and then an escort of employees from the marshal's own estate of Benersyde will carry their master on a farm cart on the five-mile journey to Dryburgh Abbey for burial.

MRS. BRUCE SAMS DIES IN SAVANNAH

News of the death of Mrs. Bruce J. Sams, of Savannah, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Sams, prominent Atlantans, was received here Saturday. She died at a private sanitarium in Savannah.

Mrs. Sams, together with her husband who survives her, had a wide circle of friends in Atlanta and was a frequent visitor here.

Funeral services and interment will be held this afternoon in Savannah.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Sams is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid and two brothers, all of Savannah.

HINDU 'LOVE CULT' HEAD DEFIES EDICT

Miami, Fla., February 4.—(United News.)—Yami Yogananda, Hindu "love cult" leader, said tonight that efforts of Miami city officials to force him leave town must take a legal turn before he will consider them effective.

Yogananda said he would file papers to secure an injunction restraining police from interfering with "my program." The Yami has been lecturing here to 200 women who contracted for his series of lessons on sex consciousness.

Police Close Meetings.

Until Thursday night he spoke in peace. Police closed his meeting Thursday and Friday night stood outside the lecture hall with tear gas bombs for use in the event Yogananda should try to speak. He didn't.

City Manager Welton A. Snow, who is seeking to have Yogananda leave town, claims the Indian mystic has distributed literature containing "objectionable features." Snow also asserted that a Miami woman tried to walk on the water after taking two of Yogananda's lessons.

Old Peters Site History Reveals Odd Side Lights

Features of an unusual nature concerning both personal and real estate factors are revealed in history of the old Peters home place just acquired by the First Baptist church in one of the outstanding property transactions of the local market, according to details related by Ed C. Peters, of Peters Land company, who purchased the church, giving the Peachtree block, containing more than four acres, and $325,000 in cash for the downtown corner.

In 1849 Richard Peters purchased land lot 49, containing 203 acres, from Alexander Ratteree, for a consideration of $12,000, or less than $6 an acre. This land lot included the four acres lately known as the Peters home place, at 652 Peachtree street, and just given as part consideration for the First Baptist church property. The value of the four acres at that time would be $24.

Bought for Timber.

Richard Peters, who was born in Pennsylvania, moved to Augusta, Ga., in 1835 and served as assistant chief engineer in constructing the Georgia railroad from Augusta to Atlanta, on completion of which, in 1846, Mr. Peters moved to Atlanta. His purpose in purchasing the large tract from Alexander Ratteree was to use the wood from the forest that covered the land for fuel in a steam-power flour mill—the first to be erected in the south—located on Hunter street, just opposite from the present state capitol site. Offices of the Georgia railroad are now on the site of the old mill.

About this time Mr. Peters purchased the state capitol site, intending to build his residence there, but later selling it to the city, which was to build the city hall there, but instead, transferred it to the state for the capitol. When Mr. Peters bought land lot 49 he also bought from Henry Pope land lot 80 at the price of $6 an acre. This contains what is now known as Peters Park and highly developed into a residential section.

Plans Five Stores.

On the Peachtree parcel, that was to be involved in the recent transaction, Richard Peters built the big brick residence in 1880. Mr. Peters died in 1889 and his wife in 1912. Since that time the home has been occupied as a boarding house.

With the Peachtree and Cain streets corner, where the First Baptist church now stands, acquired by Ed C. Peters, it is probable that the church will be supplanted with a block of five 20-foot front stores in a building three or four stories high, Mr. Peters stated. The rock from which the church is built, comes from Stone mountain and may be used for ornamental purposes in the commercial structure he intends to erect, the new owner said.

Members of the church have the privilege of using the old church building until December 31, 1928, but it is possible they will vacate at an earlier date and use temporary quarters while the new church is being erected on the Peachtree and Fifth streets block that now belongs to the church.

PEACHTREE ARCADE SPACE IN DEMAND

Expansions by two important concerns in the Peachtree Arcade building were announced Saturday by the management.

The Pictorial Review, formerly at 226, has moved to larger quarters at 302-4-6, same building.

The Southeastern Drug Journal, which recently came to Atlanta from 226, has moved to larger quarters at 302-4-6, same building.

Expansion of these concerns is attributed by their managers to improving business conditions in this territory.

Real Estate Taxes Are a Local Matter, Not a State Affair

J. Wilson Dayton, new president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, who took office in Albany on January 17, declares real estate taxes are strictly a local and not a state matter. He says:

"I am firm in the belief that the taxation of real estate should be left to local municipalities. I believe the direct state tax on real estate is wrong in principle and that in practice it is today one of the greatest errors in the financial structure of our state government.

"Some people say that the direct state tax does not hurt any one, but let me say that in the present day every dollar that is added to the burden of the property owner, whether it be the large investor or the smaller home owner, may be the straw that will break the camel's back.

"We all realize that the home owner is the best citizen of any community and the state government should do everything within its power to make home ownership more attractive rather than unattractive by adding to the burden of the home owner through taxation that is wrong in principle and practice."

AviationCompany Prepares To Open Atlanta Service

Appointment of Henderson Hallman, governor for Georgia of the National Aeronautics association, as resident director, and Beeler Blevins, local aviator, as field manager, was announced Saturday by W. C. Wakefield, president of the Dixie and Northern air line, who has been in Atlanta for several days arranging for inauguration of the Detroit-Atlanta-Miami passenger air line.

A meeting of officers and field men of the company will be held here between March 10 and 20 to make final plans for opening of the air route on April 1, Mr. Wakefield announced.

Three tri-motored all-metal Ford monoplanes, similar to the giant airplane in which the initial flight from Detroit to Florida was made several months ago, will be placed in service over the route, he said. Each plane will have a capacity of ten passengers. Mr. Wakefield and W. L. Fordham, his general passenger agent, left Saturday morning for Macon.

NEW LIBRARY GIVEN GREATER WESLEYAN BY JUDGE CANDLER

Macon, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Judge John S. Candler, of Atlanta, one of the trustees of Wesleyan college, is the donor of a new library building, construction of which has already started at Rivoli, the new site of Greater Wesleyan, it was announced tonight by Dr. W. F. Quillian, president.

Authorities at the college have not heretofore divulged the name of the donor in deference to the wishes of Judge Candler, but permission to use his name was obtained today by Dr. Quillian.

The library building is to cost $100,000 and will have built-in stacks for 50,000 volumes. Besides reading rooms and study desks there will be several rooms for research work and private study work.

The library is being built as a memorial to the parents of Judge Candler, Samuel Charles and Martha (Beall) Candler.

FINISHING ITEMS FEATURE CONSTITUTION MODEL HOME WORK

Sirron Nurseries Ready To Landscape Lofty Site

Electric Sink Installed by Lowry Company and Work of Scagliola and Stucco Company Attract Special Attention of Visitors.

BY ERNEST RUBIN.

Except for the grounds at The Constitution model home in Haynes Manor, on which graders are working swiftly to make room for the expert planters of the well-known Sirron nurseries, which is to handle the important phase of landscaping, the dwelling appeared from the outside to be completed as you approached it last week to follow construction progress.

When you stepped through the doorway you could see the residence was also largely completed on the inside. However, you found a flurry of activity that was scarcely surpassed during any period of construction. Putting the finishing touches to a dwelling, such as is being erected on the Haynes Manor site by the Atlanta Realty and Construction company, prominent home builders; and sponsored by The Constitution, cooperating with Home Owners' institute in its national campaign to encourage better building, is a vital feature.

Walls Are Papered.

It is well that such importance is attached to the final phases of home building for it is these that are noticed most by the home owner and his friends. Once inside the house, you were easily convinced of the truth of this statement and were, perhaps, more attracted by the work being done this past week than ever before. You saw the painting being completed, the paper hangers starting on their task of decorating the walls, the plumbing and other fixtures being finally installed and the finish of many other ornamental features.

When a workman at the model home told you that the plumbing equipment was completed, no doubt you hastened upstairs to view the two bathrooms, that you were told some weeks ago would be fitted out with the beautiful colored Kohler bathroom fixtures furnished by the Lowry company. Your eagerness was amply rewarded. In the bathrooms at The Constitution model home you saw a note of domestic beauty not to be surpassed in any home this size in America.

The spring green bathroom fixtures in one of the rooms and the autumn brown fixtures in the other, set off to greatest advantage in each case by the artistic scagliola walls, made especially by the Scagliola and Stucco company to harmonize in color, combined with the other appointments, to produce two bathrooms that you will admire on every visit to the home.

Electric Sink.

Downstairs again, you saw another example of the decorative value of scagliola, where workmen were polishing the finished scagliola mantel in the living room. What seemed to you to be undue noises coming from workmen in the kitchen led you there to investigate and discover a new plumbing fixture that will be the envy of every housewife visiting The Constitution model home. The Lowry company was installing another Kohler fixture here—an electric sink. It is a spacious all-over enameled, one-piece, built-in fixture, combining a motor-driven dishwasher, drainboard and sink—a device to put an end to the bane of the kitchen—dish washing.

Under the supervision of J. Russ, well-known paper hanger and director, you witnessed the beginning last week of an important phase of the interior decoration—the wall papering. You will recall the fundamental principle of using standard, nationally-known materials as the basis for erecting the most satisfactory home at the lowest ultimate cost. This is being fulfilled in every detail and the wall paper used is the nationally-known Muralia brand of the Baeck Wall Paper company.

Selection of wall paper made for The Constitution model under supervision of expert decorators, includes a group of variegated and blending tapestries for the halls and principal rooms downstairs. A mauve color tapestry paper will be hung in the living room and halls. The paper in the dining room will be predominately ground paper set off with bright flowered panels. A soft green shade will prevade the tapestry paper of the music room, while in the breakfast room will be a figured cream color.

Sirron Plants.

In the master bedroom upstairs will be an embossed paper of orchid design. The second bedroom will have its walls covered with paper of pinkish hue, while in the smallest bedroom a soft yellow shade will be used. A general harmonizing effect has been planned for the home, which you will not be able to notice until all the walls are papered.

On leaving the residence your attention was again attracted to the wonderful possibilities of landscaping the lofty lot that is the site of The Constitution's second model home. This natural beauty will be utilized to the greatest advantage by the Sirron Nurseries, Inc., noted landscapers and plant cultivators. It will be worth an extended inspection trip when the large crew of expert planters from the Sirron nurseries start their work on the grounds in the next week or two.

The Sirron nurseries, which are located at Sirron Gardens, the country home of A. L. Norris, prominent Georgian, near Chamblee, Ga., and just 16 miles from Atlanta, were selected in accordance with the principle of using materials of highest merit as being the most economical. At Sirron Gardens are 140 acres on which a complete line of ornamental plants, especially adapted to southern climate, are cultivated.

The grounds at the model home will be adorned by a copious assortment of evergreens, flowering shrubs and shade trees, all obtained from the Sirron nurseries. Andrew Auten, landscape architect, prepared the plans for the Sirron nurseries to suit the model home site and will supervise the planting for that company. Selection of the plants were made at the Atlanta office of Sirron nurseries on Peachtree road, where a complete variety is carried.

Follow these phases of the model home demonstration by visits to the site in Haynes Manor and reading the detailed accounts on this page each week.

It is neglect, not weather, that is more often responsible for the rapid decline of your buildings.

Mostly, it is negligence in not selecting good quality paints.

TRIPOD PAINT CO.
93 N. Pryor St.

Architect Reduces Construction Cost And Improves Home

BY ARTHUR BATES LINCOLN
Architect.

There come a time when a person decides that he must build his long cherished home. One of the first decisions to make is to whom the design shall be intrusted.

Since the owner has drafted the rough plans from innumerable house designs he has seen, many of them on this page from week to week, why cannot he himself design the house? Perhaps he does try. And what is the oft-repeated result? A house of comfort within, but unlovely in exterior appearance. A house crammed so full of ideas gleaned from popular magazine advertisements that there is little room left for the family.

The building of a house cannot be considered a successful venture unless the owner swells with pride as he points to the structure which he has built for his family. The houses designed by architects stand out above the average, in a class by themselves. This is but natural, since the man who has trained his thought and hand for years should be best fitted to cope with the architectural problems which arise on every house, no matter how small.

The specifications are highly technical and upon the terms outlined much of the work is dependent. At other times one inquires carefully into the qualifications of the author of the textbooks read. Why not be as particular here?

It is not alone in the preparation of the plans and specifications that the experience of the architect proves invaluable. The securing of estimates from reliable builders, who can do the type of work for which the owner is willing to pay, and the drawing up of the contracts is new and strange to the owner. Only the thoughtless will sign away their lifetime savings without securing professional advice.

Finally, during the construction period there are countless details to be discussed and decisions to be made. Much inconvenience and annoyance can be avoided by the owner who has an architect to whom such matters can be referred for adjustment.

Tobacco Stamp Revenue Shows Gain Over 1926

Georgia's revenue from sales of cigar and cigarette stamps in 1927 amounted to $879,950.37, an increase of more than 13 per cent over the 1926 total, it was announced Saturday by John M. Vandiver, state commissioner of revenue.

The figure for 1926 was $761,207.79, so that the 1927 collections were increased by $118,742.58, or slightly over 13 per cent.

Mr. Vandiver attributed the mounting revenue to increased vigilance in enforcing the state law taxing cigars and cigarettes.

Money derived from this source is used in paying pensions to Confederate veterans, it was explained, the annual collections being added to the annual state appropriation of $1,300,000 for this purpose. Thus the veterans yearly receive pensions aggregating close to $2,000,000. Mr. Vandiver pointed out. There are about 8,000 such veterans drawing pensions in Georgia, he said, most of them being 80 years of age or older and many of them dependents.

Personnel Heads To Discuss Training Of New Employee

"Training and Developing the New Employee," will be discussed by representatives of five Atlanta business houses at the meeting of the Personnel Association of Atlanta at 6 o'clock Friday evening. The meeting will be held at Rich's tea room.

W. Henry Smith, of the Retail Credit company, chairman of the program committee, announces the following speakers: D. F. Cocks, of the Standard Oil company; P. S. Florence, Fulton Bag & Cotton Mills; C. E. Broch, Royal Insurance company; A. Mmundsen, Procter & Gamble Co., and Miss Ella Page Tucker, Sears, Roebuck & Co.

All the speakers represent organizations employing large numbers of people, and each will discuss special methods of training new employees and developing them for promotion.

The Personnel association is composed of employment heads of important business houses and officials of schools and colleges. It works in cooperation with the College Placement bureau and Community Employment service in providing employers with new material and in finding places for young men and women. Its dinner meetings are held once a month.

SHIPPING BOARD SELLS 2 STEAMERS TO GULF LINES

Washington, February 4.—(AP)—The shipping board has sold the steamers Neshobee and Riverside Bridge to the Gulf Pacific Lines, Inc., where they will be dry docked. They will be put into the Gulf Pacific service.

Paint Good Means To Modernize Old Home Grown Shabby

To create a thing of beauty through the building or remodeling of a home is as real a contribution to art as the painting of a fine picture, the writing of a lovely poem, the composing of a musical masterpiece. If well built and given adequate care and modernization as needed, it will linger to bless and cheer and inspire successive generations. There is, perhaps, no greater influence for good in a community—in a nation, even—than the solid, substantial, beautiful home, preaching its silent but eloquent gospel of culture and good taste. Nothing can probably more simply or more effectively modernize the older house than can a change of color scheme. The application of three good coats of white lead paint in well selected hues will work a wonderful transformation.

The landscape colors—brown, green, creamy yellow or white—are therefore the best colors to use in painting the body of the house, if it is of wood.

Brown and Green Harmonious.

Equally harmonious is the brown and green color scheme, with the body of the house painted a dull, wood brown, and the roof and trimmings a quiet shade of green. Or one may prefer a house painted a light buff color, with white trimmings and a brown roof; or a brown house, with cream trimmings and the roof stained terra cotta or Pompeiian red. For, while red is not a dominant note among the landscape colors, it does occur in occasional splashes in nature. Nor is the dull red of the brick house discordant if relieved with a white trim.

The house of Colonial yellow, with trim of white or light ivory and roof of golden brown, offers another effective combination. A charming color scheme for the small house is light brown, with white trimmings and green roof.

The house painted or trimmed with blue is a bit too startling. But a cheerful sky-blue makes an ideal ceiling for the porch, giving an effect of height in its simulation of the heavens.

PENN MUTUAL CHIEFS IN CONFERENCE HERE

An important life insurance meeting lasting the first three days of this week will be held at the Biltmore hotel, bringing to Atlanta some of the leading executives of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia. Among these will be President William A. Law, who is well-known in Atlanta and this region, and Vice President Hugh D. Hart, formerly of Little Rock, Ark., and later of New York, where he made a great success as an agency manager and went a few months ago to the Penn Mutual Life Insurance company to take charge of the agencies.

The Penn Mutual this year is expanding its agency force and its manpower through the operation of new plans of agency management and of agent education. In order to acquaint the general agents throughly with these new plans, five conferences between home office executivs and general agents are being held throughout the country, the Atlanta meeting being the first. The Penn Mutual in 1927 is reported to have had a splendid year, and it is expected that 1928, through scientific agency expansion, will far exceed the record of 1927.

A guest at the Atlanta meeting will be Major J. J. Harrison, president of the Home Life Insurance company of Little Rock, who ranks high as a manager of agents. Last year under his direction $15,000,000 of insurance was put on the books of his company from applicants in Arkansas alone.

This Penn Mutual conference will be a strictly business meeting, the program calling for sessions both mornings and afternoons. A dinner will be given Tuesday night at the Biltmore to members of the conference and a few Atlanta friends, by Hugh M. Willett and Lawrence Willet, general agents of the Penn Mutual with headquarters in this city.

SAVANNAH EXPORTS LEAD ALL PORTS IN U. S. IN GAIN

Savannah, Ga., February 4.—(AP)—Savannah's exports during November attained a total of $12,839,000, a gain of 62 per cent over exports for the same month of 1926, and led all ports of the country in proportionate rate of increase, it was revealed here last week in figures furnished by the United States department of commerce.

Savannah in November had exports valued at almost as much as the combined exports of Baltimore and Philadelphia, and exceeding the combined value of all other exports between Hampton Roads and Mobile, the figures showed.

Mobile showed the second largest gain, amounting to 46 per cent and making a total of $7,528,000. Next came Portland, Ore., rising 19 per cent to a total of $11,716,000. The statistics showed that the country as a whole had a decline in exports for the period, Philadelphia dropping 45 per cent to $5,878,000 and Baltimore falling almost as much to $8,781,000. New Orleans declined 30 per cent to $29,000,000, while Hampton Roads fell 15 per cent to $22,800,000.

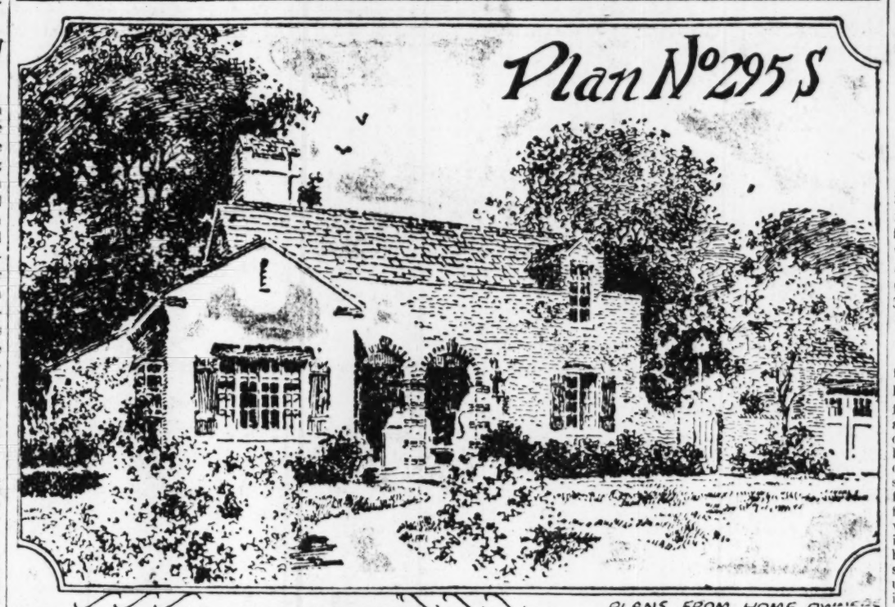

The Georgia customs district was also one of the few to show gains in imports for November over November of the preceding year, rising from $1,215,000 to $1,426,400, while each separate customs division and the country as a whole recorded declines.

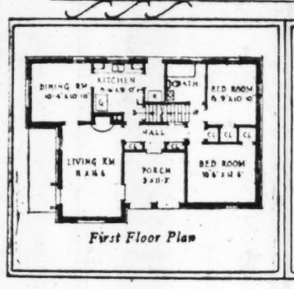

Stewart Company Stock Purchased By Effron Company

The management of the Effron company Saturday announced that the entire stock of the Fred S. Stewart company had been purchased by Effron's from the United States bankrupt court and will be put on sale at the Broad street Effron store this week, the date of the sale to be announced in the newspapers.

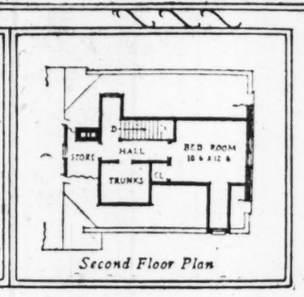

The Stewart stock, it was added, is on a par with the high quality of merchandise always maintained by this veteran Atlanta company, which had been in business at its Whitehall street location for 30 years.

Modern Design Features Unity of Plan

First Floor Plan

Second Floor Plan

PLANS FROM HOME OWNERS' INSTITUTE SERVICE INC ©1928

The designers, G. H. Erard and T. E. King, of Toledo, and E. J. Maier, of Cleveland, have achieved an interesting ensemble of house and grounds in Plan No. 295-S. Complete blueprints of our plans and specifications, ready to build from, are available to our readers at low cost

Mrs. Walter Withers Returns to Rich's Shoe Department

Mrs. Walter Withers, known to hundreds of Atlanta shoppers through nine years' former connection with the Queen Quality shoe department of the M. Rich & Bros. Co., has resumed her place in this department after two years of inactivity in the business world.

MRS. WALTER WITHERS.

She will be on duty in the department from 11 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, it is announced.

Mrs. Withers' many friends will be interested to learn that she is again in her old position and she cordially invites them to visit her.

DINKLER COMPANY BUYS NEW HOTEL IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Announcement was made Saturday of the acquisition of the new Broadview hotel, in East St. Louis, Ill., by the Dinkler Hotels company, of Atlanta, making the tenth link in the chain of hotels operated by the southern organization.

The newly-acquired hostelry was completed only a short time ago and is one of the most modern in the middle west, comprising 300 rooms in addition to large dining and ballroom conveniences.

The Dinkler holdings are thus increased to hotel accommodations of more than 3,000 rooms in ten of the "key" cities of the middle west and southeast, representing a property value of more than $5,000,000, the announcement stated.

The ten hotels now operated by the Dinkler Hotels company are the Ansley and Piedmont, Atlanta; the Tutwiler and Redmont, Birmingham; the Carling, Jacksonville; the Jefferson Davis, now being built in Montgomery; the Andrew Jackson, Nashville; the Wolford, Danville, Ill.; the Broadview, East St. Louis, and the Phoenix, Waycross, Ga.

Officers of the company are Carling L. Dinkler, president; L. J. Dinkler, chairman of the board; John Loti, vice president, and Henry C. Heinz, secretary treasurer.

Morningside League Adds 80 Members At First 1928 Meet

Over 80 new members were added to the Morningside Civic league at its first February meeting, which was attended by almost 500 members, held at the Morningside Presbyterian church. Reports from various committees were read, among which was that of the school committee reporting that the controversy over the proposed school site had been settled.

Short addresses were delivered by Will V. Zimmer, W. B. Stewart, chairman of the Fulton county commission; Captain George M. Hope, member of the Fulton county commission, and Walter F. Harwell. E. Stevens presided at the meeting, which concluded in a "get-together" session.

Former Distinguished Russian Jurist To Address Lawyers

Pierre S. Porohovshikov, former distinguished Russian jurist and now professor of modern languages at Oglethorpe university, will address the Atlanta Lawyers' club at its monthly meeting at 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the breakfast room of the Kimball house, on "Trial by Jury in Russia Before the Revolution."

Mr. Porohovshikov recently moved to Atlanta where he is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Hal Davidson. Until 1916, at the time of the bolshevik revolution, when he was exiled from Russia, Mr. Porochovshikov was judge of the high court of justice in Petrograd. Prior to his elevation to the bench, he occupied the position of public prosecutor for a number of years.

Mr. Porochovshikov, who is a graduate of the University of Moscow, and a member of the Russian nobility, has led a most interesting and eventful life, full of thrills and dangers. In addition to his legal attainments, he has the distinction of being the author of numerous books on law subjects, one of which received the highest literary prize awarded by the Russian Imperial Academy of Science, and led to his being called upon to fight a duel.

Prior to the downfall of the Russian government, he was commissioned by the imperial government as vice president and legal adviser to the Russian department of international commerce, and was sent to London to take charge of munitions of war and to manipulate the war loans made by Great Britain to Russia.

After the debacle in Russia, Mr. Porohovshikov became private secretary to the late Prince Ibrahim Hilmy, of Egypt, with whom he remained until his death, and during the association with him traveled extensively throughout Europe.

Mr. Porohovshikov is an accomplished linguist and is occupying the chair of modern languages at Oglethorpe university. In addition to the speaker, George McNulty, tenor, will present a program of music.

Commerce Chamber To Hold 62nd Annual Dinner Friday

The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce will hold its sixty-second annual membership meeting and dinner in the chamber's dining hall next Friday evening, beginning at 6:30 o'clock.

Invitations have been mailed to every member of the chamber and an attendance of more than 700 members is indicated. Members who desire additional tickets may obtain them from the chamber offices, at $1.50 each.

The new officers and directors of the chamber, elected at the December meeting, will officially begin their administration. They are: Milton Dargan, Jr., president; Philip Alston, William Candler and Horace Russell, vice-presidents, and Henry W. Davis, treasurer.

West Is Chairman.

B. Graham West, city comptroller, is chairman of the committee on arrangements and reception for the annual dinner, with W. H. Butler as vice chairman.

George W. West, retiring president, will preside at the dinner and introduce Milton Dargan, Jr., the incoming president, who will make a short address on his plans for the year. Benjamin S. Barker, executive vice president and secretary, will submit a brief report for the past year.

Among the speakers will be Governor L. G. Hardman, Walter B. Steward, chairman Fulton county commissioners; Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, Alfred C. Newell, national councillor to the United States Chamber of Commerce; Ivan Allen, chairman of the Industrial bureau, and Arthur L. Brooke, president of the Southeastern Fair association.

Rev. W. W. Memminger will deliver the invocation and Dr. L. R. Christie will pronounce the benediction.

Award of Certificates.

Certificates of Distinguished Achievement, awarded each year to three citizens who have served the city is some outstanding manner in the past year, will be presented to the following: J. Carroll Payne, president of the Atlanta Art association, to be presented by Eugene R. Black; Mrs. Nora Earnest Northern, to be presented by John M. Slaton; William B. Hartsfield, chairman of the aviation committee of city council, to be presented by Robert F. Maddox.

Arthur Falkinburg, of the Kiwanis club, will lead the singing. Orchestral music will be provided by the Peerless Entertainers, Louis Rittenbaum conducting.

The following compose the committee: Paul R. Puckett, Langdon C. Quin, Samuel Rothberg, Jack C. Savage, tee on arrangements and reception: B. Graham West, chairman; W. H. Butler, vice chairman; B. S. Barker, Jr., J. W. Beeson, Julian V. Boehm, Shepard Bryan, John S. Cohen, Richard W. Curtis, Jr., Thos. H. Daniel, Jackson P. Dick, Wm. C. Edwards Norman E. Elsas, J. C. Gavan, H. Z. Hopkins, Clark Howell, Jr., Harry H. Johnson, Mercer Lee, Neill LeCette, Jr., Fonville McWhorter, George T. Marchmont, A. G. Maxwell, Frank H. Neely, Mark C. Pope, Jr., R. S. Prin-Howard See, Jos. S. Shaw, John M. Slaton, Jr., E. A. Thornwell, Oscar Venable, H. G. Voorhis, John L. Westmoreland, Walter W. Whitington and George J. Yundt.

Building Trade Bodies To Exhibit Home Equipment

Several associations representing various fields in the building material trade will make extensive exhibits at the Southern Building and Household exposition, to be held at the auditorium March 19 to 24, it is announced by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the show. It is indicated by space reservations already made that exhibits will be installed showing almost every kind of material that goes into the making of a modern house, from foundation to roof.

Reservations already have been made by a leading department store, which will display furniture and draperies. Several national companies manufacturing labor-saving devices have reserved one or more booths.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce is planning to spur the building of homes by exhibiting in the early spring all the new ideas and inventions which make up a bungalow or mansion of the most advanced type. Improvement in household conveniences has been so rapid in the last few years and such strides have been made in the use of various manufactured materials for building, that only in an exposition of this kind can the prospective homebuilder learn what best will suit him for his particular purpose.

Virgil W. Shepard, who has managed several big exhibits of various kinds in Atlanta, has been made general manager, in charge of exhibit space reservations. Ticket sales, entertainment and other features will

FOR SALE IN BEAUTIFUL
HAYNES MANOR

A NEW 10-room cream brick veneer house with four bedrooms and two tile baths, tile sun parlor, modern in every respect, on large shaded lot 100x350 feet. Price, $30,000.00. Will arrange terms.

WE HAVE another beautiful 10-room house Gothic architecture, on large 100 foot lot. Red brick veneer with iron balustrades. Price, $28,500.00. Terms.

EUGENE V. HAYNES
Phone WAl. 1011, HEm. 4731 or HEm. 4623

Restraint Tempers Informality Of Small Face Brick Bungalow

Linkage of House and Garage Provides Privacy for Grounds; First Floor Complete Unit; Second May Be Finished Off Later.

BY L. PORTER MOORE
President Home Owners' Institute, Inc.

Although a pleasant hospitality is expressed in the friendly expanse of the living room window, which is the most conspicuous feature of its front facade, the quality of unity which distinguishes Plan No. 295-S, featured today, gives this face-brick bungalow a certain restraint and feeling of intimate privacy. The sheltered charm of house and grounds is partly a product of the linking of the house and the garage by a graceful brick wall and partly of the foliage of trees and shrubs which would be this plan's natural setting. The designers of this home were G. H. Erard and T. E. King, of Toledo, Ohio, and E. J. Maier, of Cleveland. This is one of many pleasing home designs furnished by the American Face Brick Association, of Chicago.

One feature of the plan, valuable for those whose first outlay for a home is somewhat limited, is that the first floor forms a complete five-room-and-bath unit in itself. The addition of a bedroom and bath upstairs could be easily postponed until growing requirements make these rooms necessary. The insulated ceiling for the first floor, which would be necessary for heating economy and room comfort while the upstairs rooms were not in use, would serve excellently as a barrier to the passage of annoying sound after the second floor is fitted up. The second floor bath could be installed in the space marked for storage on the plan, being near enough to the kitchen downstairs to eliminate long runs of water pipe.

Parapet Use Unusual.

An unusual use of the wall parapet, rarely seen nowadays, combines with the archways to the recessed front porch and the unusual chimney and dormer treatment to provide the requisite individuality of design. Choice of a roofing for this house would not be restricted to any particular material, as the design is entirely modern. Copperclad or slate-surfaced shingles might be used, and either tile or slate.

The plan is especially suited to a country location, but would be just as appropriate in city suburbs. A fair-sized plot would be required to give full advantage to its pronounced beauty. In the arrangement shown the garden and lawn would be at opposite ends with a terrace outside the living room windows. The location of the garage would make its enlargement for two cars a simple matter. The addition of only a small amount of material and labor is all that is required to precisely double the convenience of the single garage.

The interior is well laid out to eliminate all possible work in housekeeping. The house is practically divided into separate sleeping and living units on the first floor; kitchen, bath, stairway and porch being interposed between the two portions, but all rooms are conveniently connected by the entrance hallway.

The kitchen plan is noteworthy for its compactness and for the easy provision for a built-in chimney-fed garbage incinerator, an especially valuable adjunct to housekeeping in country and suburbs.

The house is a particularly good example of modern trends in small home design, correct architecturally, and providing a dignified modern home at moderate cost. An outline of the specifications recommended by Home Owners' Institute to insure the permanence and quality of this house is as follows:

Masonry—Concrete footings under all walls, as shown on drawings. All foundation walls to be poured concrete or concrete block made with Portland cement. Concrete to be mixed with waterproofing compound. Chimney of common brick, all flues lined. Fireplaces of selected brick; provide ash dump with clean-out door. Exterior walls of face brick laid in pleasing bond. Walls may be of solid brick, face brick on hollow tile or frame with brick veneer.

Incinerator—Built-in incinerator to be installed in chimney, with receiving hopper door located in or near the kitchen for disposal of garbage and trash.

Carpentry—All framing lumber shall be well seasoned and free from large knots, either Douglas fir or yellow pine. White pine for exterior millwork and interior trim; oak floors; steel bridging for floor joists. Interior doors and built-in kitchen cabinet as required in detailed specifications.

Hardware—Owner shall furnish all finishing hardware for doors and windows, for closets and casework. The contractor will furnish a correct list of hardware and is to put it on in a careful, workmanlike manner. All hardware on exterior openings to be of brass or bronze.

Casement Windows—Steel casement windows may be used at owner's option.

Roofing—Roof of asbestos, slate-surfaced or copperclad shingles, colors as selected. Cedar shingles at owner's option.

Plastering and Lathing—Three-coat work over metal lath is recommended. A less expensive job may be obtained through the use of one-half inch of plaster over flat rib expanded metal lath or wood lath. Insulating lumber or plaster board may be used if desired.

Metal Work—Gutters, rain-pipes, valleys and flashing to be sixteen-ounce copper.

Painting—Strictly pure white lead and linseed oil in proper proportions, with zinc oxide where desired, or a good grade of ready-mixed paint shall be used. Interior trim to receive two good coats of flat paint and one coat of flat enamel. Finished floors to be varnished or waxed throughout as directed.

Electrical Work—Complete system of electric wiring from meter to all outlets, including all panel boards, junction boxes and other fittings. The installation must be in accordance with the rules and regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

Plumbing—A complete system and fixtures ready to use shall be provided, as shown on plans and in accordance with local regulations. Brass piping for hot and cold water lines. Gas or coal-fired hot water heater. If sewer connections are not available, use of reinforced concrete septic tank is recommended.

Heating—Steam, hot air, or hot water boiler, coal, oil or gas fired.

Tile Work—Tile floors and wainscot in bathroom, with built-in china accessories.

Temperature Control—Heat regulator with eight-day or one-day clock thermostat, limit control on boiler or furnace, and electric or spring motor.

Insulation—Throughout with insulating building board (or insulating quilting if preferred), used as plaster base on second floor ceiling operates as roof insulation.

Dr. C. A. Sheldon Resumes Organ Recitals Today

Seven selections will be presented by Dr. Charles A. Sheldon, city organist, at the resumption of the Sunday musical recitals at the auditorium this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Today's program will be the first in two weeks, the last two Sunday recitals having been omitted because of arrangements for housing the Southeastern Automobile Show in the hall.

As arranged by Dr. Sheldon, today's recital will consist of the following compositions:

Dithyramb, by Clarence Lucas; Andante Cantabile, by Tschaikowsky; prelude, French school 1676-1749, by Clerambault; Grand Choeur, by Spence; pedal study, the Music Harp, by J. A. Meale; Intermezzo by Bizet; Toccata, Fifth Symphonie, by Widor.

SOLDIER GIVEN 3 YEARS ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

Pleading guilty on two indictments charging bigamy and perjury, Lester Leon Rowe, 23, a soldier stationed at Fort McPherson, was sentenced to from three to five years in the penitentiary Saturday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court.

Rowe had married Miss Pearl Gignilliat, 16, of 91 Carroll street, here, on April 24, 1926, knowing, the true bill charges, that a second wife, Mrs. Katherine Rowe, was still living.

The defendant married for the first time in the courthouse in 1920, and was later transferred to Columbia, S. C., where he is reputed to have deserted his wife.

The husband, whose enlistment had expired, re-enlisted and was assigned to the local fort, it was shown by the state, and a chance encounter recently brought him face to face with Mrs. Rowe No. 1 while she was on a visit to her sister here.

The indictment further sets forth that Rowe perjured himself in swearing to the marriage license issued to him at the courthouse for his second wedding.

Interest per annum
Compounded Semi-annually

Regular semi-annual dividend has just been paid our present shareholders.

Small weekly deposits will buy YOU shares in the Columbia Building and Loan Association, paying YOU 7% per annum.

Twelve million people are using this method of investing.

Columbia Building & Loan Association
127 Carnegie Way WA. 1450

Did you ever clip a coupon? Clipping this coupon may make you a coupon-clipper some day. Try it!

I may be interested. Let me have information.
Name .....
Address .....

THE CONSTITUTION'S PARENT-TEACHER PAGE

Edited by MAINER LEE TOLER

OFFICERS GEORGIA BRANCH, NATIONAL CONGRESS OF MOTHERS AND PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATIONS—Mrs. P. H. Jeter, of Decatur, president; Mrs. J. J. Hoffmayer, of Albany, first vice president; Mrs. A. F. McGahee, of Macon, recording secretary; Mrs. James Calaway, of Columbus, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Dessausure, of Decatur, treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Kelly, of Savannah, assistant treasurer; Mrs. Nunnally Johnson, of Columbus, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. W. Rowlett, of Atlanta, historian; Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, of Atlanta, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Wessels, of Savannah, third vice president; Mrs. Charles A. Hilbun, of Macon, fourth vice president; Mrs. Duncan Burnett, of Athens, fifth vice president; Miss Katherine Dozier, of Gainesville, sixth vice president; Miss Katherine Dozier, of Gainesville, seventh vice president.
OFFICERS OF ATLANTA PARENT-TEACHER COUNCIL—Mrs. C. J. Foster, president; Mrs. Cliff Barnes, first vice president; Mrs. E. W. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. W. L. McCalley, Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. H. T. Loehr, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. G. Otwell, treasurer.

State Publicity Chairman Issues Parent-Teacher News

Mrs. Ira E. Farmer, state chairman of publicity, Georgia division, P.-T. A., issues the following state and national news.

State Convention.

The opening session of the state P.-T. A. convention will be held at 2:30 p. m., April 10, in Atlanta. The business sessions will be held in the First Baptist church on Peachtree street, and the Henry Grady hotel, just across the street, will be convention headquarters. Mrs. H. G. Parks, state treasurer, 329 Sutherland drive, reminds associations that all state dues must be in hand by March 15, in order that credentials may be issued to delegates.

A social feature of the state convention will be the Gold Star breakfast for those delegates whose associations have met the requirements regarding the Child Welfare Magazine. Much of the information formerly sent out from national headquarters as leaflets is now appearing in the magazine and those locals who desire program information will find it advisable to subscribe to the Child Welfare Magazine. The State Bulletin, Child Welfare Magazine and Georgia Educational Journal may be had for $2 for the three.

The theme for the state convention will be "Know the Seven Objectives of Education." Each of the seven directors has worked out a worth-while program, including at least one good speaker and a round table discussion. A number of speakers of national reputation will be present.

In awarding the banner, count will be made from March 15, 1927, to March 15, 1928, awarding for new associations in proportion to number of schools in district, based on records in office of board of education. Associations not functioning for two years may be rated as new associations.

Z. S. Henderson, dean of Georgia State Normal school, Statesboro, has been named chairman of scholarships and loan funds.

Rural Life.

A bulletin, "Source Material," for the use of rural P.-T. A.'s, by Florence E. Ward, manager rural life bureau, may be purchased from headquarters for 25 cents, and has a fund of valuable information.

Locals.

Cave Spring P.-T. A. on daddies' night in the grade count enumerated the daddies only.

Rome will soon hold a second conference of six local associations, Mrs. M. S. Lanier, president of the seventh, presiding.

Mrs. R. H. Hankinson, sixth district president, announces the following associations formed in that district: Central school, near Milner, the only one in Lamar county, Mrs. Ruby Mann, president; The Rock, Upson county, Mrs. Sam Stafford, president.

School of Instruction.

A very helpful school of instruction was held in Columbus, sponsored by the Muscogee county council, Mrs. W. C. Campbell, president, and conducted by Mrs. Ray E. Martin, Columbus, president of the fourth district. Talks were made upon the duties of the various officers; of committees, and of the publicity chairman, who should be the advertising department of an association. The state P.-T. A. work was covered and addresses of P.-T. A. work from the viewpoint of the parent and of the teacher. A playlet, "A Model P.-T. A. Organization," was presented.

Georgia Month.

February in the Atlanta schools has been made Georgia month, and the pupils are studying the lives of men and women who have made state history and making pilgrimages to places of historic interest. Mrs. George W. Price, 964 Waverly way, N. E., chairman of children's reading, Atlanta P.-T. A. council, has compiled a list of books containing information concerning makers of Georgia history.

Parent-Teacher Meetings

Spring Street P.-T. A. meets Wednesday, February 8, at 3 o'clock, in the school auditorium.

The Winona Park P.-T. A. meets at the school building Thursday evening, February 9, at 8 o'clock. The daddies will have charge of the meeting and furnish the musical numbers of the program. Willis Sutton will be the speaker of the evening combined with this will be the celebration of the organization of the P.-T. A. and national congress of mothers featuring a birthday cake.

Members of the Tenth Street P.-T. A. will hear Miss Postell discuss the mid-year promotion at its regular meeting Tuesday, February 7, at 3 o'clock. A full attendance is urged.

The executive board of Lee Street P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, February 7, in the library at Lee Street school.

The executive board of Kirkwood P.-T. A. meets Friday morning, February 10, at 10 o'clock at the school. All members are urged to be present.

The executive board of the P.-T. A. of W. F. Slaton school meets Thursday morning, February 9, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Jackson, the president, urges that every member be present.

The Holy Trinity church P.-T. A., of Decatur, meets with Mrs. Kellar, 421 East Ponce de Leon, Tuesday, February 7, at 3 o'clock.

Founders' day or Child Welfare day will be observed by the Pryor Street P.-T. A. at the afternoon meeting Tuesday, February 7, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. P. N. Jeter, president of the State P.-T. A., will be the speaker. Refreshments will be served after the lecture by the refreshment chairman, Mrs. C. T. Chafin, and there will be an opportunity for a social hour.

The February meeting of the Milton Avenue P.-T. A. will be a daddy meeting, which will be held in the school auditorium Tuesday evening, February 7, at 7:30 o'clock, Dr. Willis A. Sutton will be the principal speaker of the evening. Musical numbers are on the program and refreshments will be served. All members and daddies are urged to be present.

The Georgia Avenue P.-T. A. meets in the school auditorium Thursday, February 9, at 2:30 o'clock. At this time celebration of the birthday of the organization will be observed. All members are urged to attend, and visitors are welcome. Please note the change in the day from Wednesday to Thursday.

The Bass Junior High P.-T. A. meets Wednesday, February 8, and an interesting program on Georgia day and Founders' day will be presented. The meeting will be held in the Clapp gymnasium at 3 o'clock. The teachers will be glad to confer with the parents from 2:30 to 3 in the Clapp gymnasium.

Attends Fassifern School

Miss Mary Helen Eaves, lovely schoolgirl daughter of Mrs. Helen Adams, who is a popular student at Fassifern school in Hendersonville, N. C. Photograph by Thurston Hatcher.

I. N. Ragsdale P.-T. A. Hears Miss Postell.

Miss Mary W. Postell was the speaker for the I. N. Ragsdale P.-T. A. meeting Wednesday afternoon. She chose as her subject "Child Welfare."

Mrs. David E. Barnett, the president, announced the plans for March, which include the reception and daddies meeting on the first Wednesday evening in the month in especial compliment to Mayor I. N. Ragsdale. An interesting program will be given and refreshments served.

Mrs. Gaston Haskins explained the organization and purpose of the Better Films committee.

She told of the generous contribution, made by interested people, to the party given by the committee for the needy public school children. Mrs. Haskins announced the following pictures to be given at the Howard Saturday morning matinee: February 4, "It Must be Love"; February 11, "Just Suppose"; February 18, "Treasure Island"; February 25, "America."

Mrs. A. C. Bellamy received the dollar prize for her child. Miss Hurtel's class, high six, won the attendance prize. Founders day will be observed by the school. Mrs. Barnett asked that patrons take an active part in observing Georgia month.

State P.-T. A. Convention Plans Announced by Fifth District

The fifth district P.-T. A. executive board met Wednesday for considering local plans for the state convention of the Parent-Teacher association which will be held in Atlanta April 10-12, the fifth district being the hostess organization. Business sessions will be held in the First Baptist church, Peachtree and Cain; the Henry Grady hotel, just opposite, will be convention headquarters. Plans for the social side of the convention will be announced later. By request of the state executive board there will be no teas.

A gold star breakfast for those qualifying in accordance with rules for subscriptions to the Child Welfare magazine; a press dinner, and two luncheons are some of the social features planned. The chairmen of the local convention board are: General chairman, Mrs. Baynard Willingham; credentials, Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mrs. John W. Lloyd; invitations, Mrs. Charles J. Foster; automobiles, Mrs. J. C. Malone; finance, Mrs. W. B. Duvall, Mrs. J. G. Beall; reception, Mrs. Olin Stanton, Mrs. Edgar Alexander; badges, Mrs. George W. Price; publicity, Mrs. C. M. LeRoux, Mrs. Ira E. Farmer; decorations and house, Mrs. W. M. Colby, Mrs. M. T. LaHatte; entertainment, Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, Mrs. W. V. Kingdon, Mrs. Charles Center, Mrs. Ira E. Farmer; information, Mrs. Byron Mathews; hotels, Mrs. George Howsmon; transportation, Mrs. Charles Center; literature, Mrs. R. R. Ritchie, Mrs. T. F. Guffin; transportation, Mrs. Charles Center; pages, Mrs. N. E. Russell; pins, Mrs. C. D. Tebo; printing, Mrs. R. G. Moncrief; music, Miss Ruth Weigand, Mrs. Charles Sheldon; rosters, Miss Charlotte Smith, Mrs. J. B. Hosmer; invocation, Mrs. Paul L. Fleming; place, Mrs. Henry Bauer, Mrs. R. G. Moncrief, Mrs. Baynard Willingham.

Luckie Street P.-T. A. Celebrates Founders Day.

Founders' day was celebrated at the Luckie Street School P.-T. A. Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium, when twenty-six children of Miss Boggus' high six class, presented a candle-lighting ceremony, honoring Miss Phoebe Hearst and Mrs. Alice McLelland McBirney, founders of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. An embossed cake, bearing 31 candles, was used in the ceremony, baked and presented to the P.-T. A. by Mrs. F. F. Smith.

Rev. C. R. Stauffer, pastor of the First Christian church, was introduced. He said "P.-T. A. filled three needs in a community. The social needs, community value as an organization, the P.-T. A. being an asset to any community, and to solve the problems with school and parents working together. He congratulated the schools on the progress since the organization of the P.-T. A."

Mrs. B. N. Smith, of the League of Women Voters, spoke on citizenship, and urged mothers to register and vote. Count of mothers showed that Miss Boggus' high six grade had won first prize, and Miss Thrasher's high second grade had won second prize.

Peeples P.-T. A. Gives Luncheon.

A beautiful seated luncheon, carrying out the "good luck" idea, was given by the Peeples Street P.-T. A. in compliment to the promoted sixth class to junior high school last Friday.

The tables were arranged in the auditorium, and were attractive in the school colors of green and gold, having centers of jade glass bowls filled with gold-colored flowers and placed at alternating intervals were green candlesticks holding unshaded gold candles and gilded horseshoes tied with green tulle. The ices were served in the shape of four-leaf clovers and the cakes were in gold. The delicious menu was served by Mrs. S. R. Wilson and her committee. John Cowden acter as toastmaster and introduced as part of the "Lucky Lindy" program, Edwin Grambell, who spoke on "Luck;" Robert Wallace on "Courage;" James Cooper on "Will;" George Dance on "Skill;" Roberta Stewart on "Four-Leaf Clovers;" Margaret Walden on "Hope;" Elizabeth Mosely on "Faith," and Louise Edens on "Love."

Invited guests were George Powell, president of the board of education, who gave an encouraging talk to the girls and boys, and also delivered the diplomas; Reed Hunter, assistant superintendent of schools; Mr. Martin, principal of Joe Brown High; Miss Janie Solomon, Mrs. Layfield, Mrs. Cowden, Mrs. Parrish, Miss Alley and the teachers of the school. Mrs. J. Q. Hooper, president, and Miss Ruby Jones, principal, were hostesses, assisted by members of the association.

Crew Street P.-T. A. Hears Miss Postell.

The Crew Street P.-T. A. met at the school Wednesday with Mrs. A. Kahanow, the president presiding. Miss Postell was the speaker. She gave an interesting talk on the Atlanta public schools. Two former pupils, Esther and Irven Cohen, of Crew Street school, played and sang for the mothers. The attendance prizes were won by low six and low second. The next meeting of the P.-T. A. will be a daddies' meeting, which will celebrate the birthday of the P.-T. A.

T. E. L. Class To Give Party.

The T. E. L. class of Woodward avenue Baptist church will give a Valentine party February 14. Mrs. J. L. Brannon, chairman of the social committee, is in charge. Proceeds of this party will go to the treasury of the T. E. L. class.

P.-T. A. Council To Celebrate Thirty-First Anniversay

Mrs. Charles J. Foster, president of Atlanta council, P.-T. A., announced Thursday at council meeting in Rich's school room, a program that will be broadcast over WSB on the morning of February 17, at 10 o'clock, the thirty-first anniversary of the day and hour when the congress of mothers was organized in Washington. Mrs. Percy Jones will read a letter from Mrs. Holtzman Tolson, one of the two surviving charter members and extracts from the address delivered by Mrs. Birney at the congress. Others on the program will be Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, recording secretary of the first P.-T. A. in Atlanta and daughter of the founder of the Atlanta public school system; Mrs. P. H. Jeter, state president, and W. A. Sutton.

Mrs. Foster displayed a gavel made from the oak tree at Mrs. Birney's old home at Marietta and presented to the council by Mrs. Richard Jones, secretary of the council 1924-26. Mrs. Birney was Miss Alice McLellan, of Marietta, before her marriage to Theodore Birney and her removal to Washington, D. C. Attention was called by the president to the rule that all funds for founders' day must go to the chairman of the Atlanta council, Mrs. Hubert Rawizer, 537 East avenue, N. E., who will forward it to the district chairman to be forwarded to the state. Mrs. Russell, chairman of standard of excellence for the district, requested all members of council to fill blanks and return to Mrs. C. F. Von Herrmann, 37 Peachtree place, N. W., newly appointed council chairman.

Mrs. H. G. Parks, 329 Sutherland drive, state treasurer, appointed to fill unexpired term of Mrs. DeSaussure, notified the members that state dues must be in hands of treasurer by March 15 for representation at the state convention. W. A. Sutton, superintendent of schools announced twenty-one schools with 100 per cent and seven well over 88 per cent in dental care, and that the teachers said they no longer needed clove oil and dentifrice in the first aid kit where formerly it had to be replaced monthly. Mr. Sutton has been placed on the national broadcasting board for public schools.

Mrs. W. V. Kingdon, president of the Presidents' club, asked that the president send her vice president when she was unable to attend so that each school be represented at the presidents luncheon meeting. Mrs. H. G. Parks, state chairman of literature, announced that many of the leaflets formerly furnished by the national were no longer in use but that program material and other information was now appearing in the Child Welfare magazine, which the locals could secure by subscribing. Mrs. Finley, chairman of recreation, asked that the presidents attend with the chairmen the meeting of her division, which will be held at 10 o'clock, February 7, in Rich's school room, when Mr. Sutton will deliver his talk on "The Wise Use of Leisure."

Mrs. Oscar Palmour Presented Loving Cup by Clubwomen

An outstanding event in the history of College Park Woman's club was that of Wednesday afternoon when a handsome silver loving cup was presented to Mrs. Oscar Palmour, president, who is one of a long line of strong presidents of this club, presidents loving the work of the club and labored for its success. Yet this cup was not presented to her because of her years of able administration as president, but because of her constant and sacrificial devotion to the club's building program which has just terminated in the completion of a clubhouse which is a model of architectural beauty and convenience. During the period of building Mrs. Palmour's energy, enthusiasm and generosity knew no bounds. Through her efficient and unselfish leadership she won the gratitude and admiration of the club membership and of the entire town as well.

The new clubhouse is the social center of the community, and has become an active agent in the promotion of a community spirit that tends toward local social development. Realizing the benefit to be derived from this localizing of social interest, many of the citizens of the town asked the privilege of joining with the club in memorializing Mrs. Palmour's splendid leadership in this constructive enterprise.

The which was a veritable love gift, and a total surprise to Mrs. Palmour, was presented by George F. Longino, Jr., president of the bank of College Park. Mr. Longino's friendship for the club has been demonstrated many times and in many ways. His business judgment and his wise advice in matters of finance have been of untold assistance to the club in its recent project of building.

In receiving the cup Mrs. Palmour expressed her appreciation of the loyalty and cooperation of each individual club member, and of the able and constant assistance given her by Mrs. R. T. Aderhold, chairman of the building committee, and by Mrs. L. O. Freeman, vice president of the club. Not only is Mrs. Palmour well known and appreciated in her own locality, but in club circles all over the state. As president of the fifth district federation of clubs, with her usual executive ability, she led the district to a place of distinction in the state federation.

Chairmen for the program feature of the meeting were Mrs. D. C. Lyle, chairman of legislation, and Mrs. Alice Cox Reins, chairman of citizenship. Mrs. Wellington Stephenson, of Decatur, gave an illuminating address on phases of legislation especially interesting to club women. Mrs. W. W. Bateman, accompanied by Mrs. Harry McCowan, sang a group of English songs. Tea was served by Mrs. Marshall Coffee, Mrs. Lake Boggs, Mrs. A. L. Slade, Mrs. W. C. Mizellem, Mrs. William Gates, Mrs. Thomas Brobston, Mrs. W. B. McClary and Mrs. Dan Patterson.

Alabama Glee Club At Agnes Scott.

The University of Alabama Glee club will give a concert at the Agnes Scott auditorium Saturday, February 11, at 8:15 o'clock.

The program offered is varied and interesting and is the result of experience gained from 23 successful seasons. The song numbers include both popular and semiclassic music, while an orchestra and ensemble of strings will be featured. The club consists of 50 men and possesses two quartets and a double quartet of marked ability. Tom Garner, the director, is noted for the good work and artistic effects that he obtains. The officers of the club are: Ebnery A. Camp, president; William D. Wilson, secretary; and Karl C. Harrison, business manager.

Tickets will be 75 cents and $1.00. The public is invited to attend.

Recreation Chairmen Meet February 7.

A meeting of all recreation chairmen has been called for Tuesday, February 7, at 10 a. m., in Rich's school room. An interesting program has been arranged and all recreation chairmen and their presidents are urged to attend.

MRS. T. R. FINLEY,
Recreation Chairman, Atlanta P.-T. A. Council.

Pre-School Dept. Meets Wednesday.

The pre-school department of the Atlanta P.-T. A. council meets Wednesday, February 8, at 11 o'clock, in Rich's schoolrooms. Miss McAlpine's class will take up a different phase of the work. A good speaker has been secured.

MRS. H. G. PARKS,
Pre-School Chm., A. P.-T. A. C.

Decatur High P.-T. A. Reports Activities.

Plans for various activities in the near future were made at the Decatur High School P.-T. A. meeting held in the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. W. H. Bowen, president, presiding. The association decided to make an intensive drive to get out the vote in future elections in DeKalb county, and approved a report that the legislative committee will furnish free transportation to persons desiring to register. Mrs. O. L. Stamps, chairman of the committee, will receive calls.

The organization voted to give its full support to the senior class' presentation of "The Flapper Grandmother," March 16, and the High School Dramatic club's presentation of "Breezy Points" February 17. Mrs. Harry Dews, chairman of the school fund committee, asked for donations for the county scholarship fund, which were received. Donations for the Founders' day celebration also were made.

Mrs. Brown Hayes, chairman of the building and grounds committee, reported that material had been obtained for a number of new seats for the school yard. Mrs. J. B. Richards, president of the DeKalb County P.-T. A. council, was introduced.

The mathematics department of the high school had charge of the program and emphasized the importance of home work in the study of mathematics. Speakers were O. L. Amsley, principal of the high school; E. C. Culver and P. S. Lowdermilk, of the mathematics department. A resolution was adopted expressing regret at the removal from Decatur to New York of Mrs. John DeSessaure, former president of the association.

St. Joseph Nurses Will Sponsor Dance.

The nurses of the St. Josephs' infirmary will sponsor a benefit dance Wednesday, February 8; from nine to twelve on the roof of the Ansley hotel. The proceeds will go to the nurses' home. Music will be furnished by an orchestra.

Misses Lucy Mace, Anna Schaeffer, Mary Owen, Mrs. Luttrelle Turner and Miss Knight, superintendents of nurses at St. Josephs', form the committee in charge of arrangements.

The proceeds from the dance will go toward buying new draperies and shades for the nurses' home.

Bass High P.-T. A. Announces Spring Party.

The Bass Junior High P.-T. A. spring party will be given Friday, February 10, at 2:30 o'clock on the Ansley roof. Any game desired may be played. Tickets 50 cents, or $2 a table may be obtained from the following committee. Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. M. McKinnon, Mrs. N. E. Russell, Mrs. W. B. Colby, Mrs. George Price and Mrs. Ed Pierce.

College Park Club To Meet Wednesday.

The College Park Music club meets Wednesday, February 8, at 3 o'clock in the lounge room of the woman's club. The subject for the afternoon will be "The Romantic Period." Miss Eloise Olds will be in charge of the program and will give a talk concerning the historical background and composers of the romantic period. Mrs. Florence Golson Bateman and Mrs. Hubert Jacobs will each give a group of vocal numbers illustrative of the period, and Miss LaMerle Reeves will render an interesting group of piano numbers.

A matter of importance to the club will be presented during the brief business session. Membership cards may be procured at the door, and nonmembers may be admitted on a guest charge of 25 cents.

The February meeting of the board will be held at the home of Mrs. D. C. Lyle at 3 o'clock, February 7.

R. L. Hope P.-T. A. To Give Bridge Party.

The R. L. Hope P.-T. A. will sponsor a benefit bridge party Monday afternoon, February 6, on the roof of the Ansley hotel. The money raised will be paid on the new playground equipment recently installed at the school.

Those who have reserved tables are Mrs. George Ripley, Jr., Mrs. Arthur Kitchings, Mrs. John E. Colley, Mrs. T. N. Bussey, Mrs. Rudolph Geissler, Mrs. Fred Geissler, Mrs. Jack J. Lawless, Mrs. George H. Bond, Mrs. Lloyd H. Wilhoit, Mrs. Ernest Bentley, Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Mrs. George McCarty, Mrs. Joe Beutell, Mrs. John Kerksis, Mrs. H. C. Spratt, Mrs. Jack Montgomery, Mrs. Edgar Nichols, Mrs. John W. Carlson, Mrs. A. R. Seaman, Mrs. W. C. Donevan, Mrs. Percy Lee, Mrs. Fred McDonald, Mrs. P. A. Wade, Mrs. Tom Barnett, Mrs. Frank Wilby, Mrs. F. R. Connell, Mrs. T. B. Cress, Mrs. E. C. Moore, Mrs. Jake Allen, Mrs. Sam Donaldson, Mrs. John H. Bradley, Mrs. T. A. Todd, Mrs. Frank Wester, Mrs. Joe Crumley, Mrs. H. M. Beutell, Mrs. Roy Gates, Mrs. C. H. Cushman, Mrs. J. L. Riddick, Mrs. C. C. Chamberlain, Mrs. O. J. White, Mrs. E. E. Barry, Mrs. H. W. Lester, Mrs. C. D. LaBey, Mrs. A. L. Hollowell, Mrs. David Prince, Mrs. W. H. Chambers, Mrs. Sam Armistead, Mrs. Palmer Smith, Mrs. W. B. Henderson, Mrs. W. P. Briggs, Mrs. W. A. Crossland, Mrs. H. G. Ballance, Mrs. James Sartor and others.

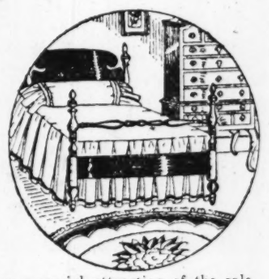

Other tables may be reserved by telephoning promptly Monday morning either to the chairman, Mrs. Joe Beutell, Hemlock 6590-J, or to the R. L. Hope school, Hemlock 1313. The request has been made that the holders of the tables will please bring pencils and their own bridge cards.

Ruth goes Shopping

AT M. Rich & Bros. February Furniture Sale you will find furniture of good quality, exquisitely designed and priced especially for this sale.

Friday the manager of the Furniture Department told me of a nine-piece dining room suite that was a special attraction of the sale and that he had purchased twelve of them at a wonderful saving and so in turn would pass this saving on to the customers of M. Rich & Bros. Co.

This beautiful genuine walnut suite consists of buffett, table, china cabinet, six chairs, upholstered in tapestry. The price is $129.00.

Then another exceptional value was a three-piece bedroom suite of large French vanity with six drawers, chest and four-poster bed, for $109.00. Bench, chair, table, desk and rocker can be had to correspond.

Then I next saw a two-piece living room suite that struck me as being exceedingly beautiful. It was covered in all-over mohair, solid mahogany frame. The reversible cushions were covered in tapestry. This beautiful suite is selling for $129.00 during the February Sale. This is truly a beautiful and a very fine and well made suite.

If you are wise you will take advantage of these prices during Rich's February Sale because you will not be able to secure such values in furniture at any other time of the year.

Now is the time to refurnish your home so that you may have your friends visit you at any time and feel that you are proud of your home because it is beautifully furnished, and, too, for your own personal comfort. What woman or man likes to come home to a dreary looking house? But if everything is comfortable and beautiful you will enjoy your home life.

* * * *

LAST week I told you something of the new equipment Maison Adolphe has in his beautiful shop at 622 Peachtree street. But I want to tell you more of the wonderful Ring Roller Reducer. This motor-driven spring roller is a positive reducer of fat. The spiral spring rollers of various sizes are elastic and as they roll over the body they conform to the contour of all parts of the body. If your flesh is soft and fat, it first prepares your body by hardening it with one or two treatments of short duration. After this you will want to take longer treatments. Does it hurt? No! But you immediately realize that if anything is going to reduce you this machine will.

No matter how gentle a treatment you take, you feel that a most active circulation in the blood lymph is taking place. Although it is passive on your part, your fatty tissue has practically undergone a bombardment, rubbed, pressed and rapidly manipulated by a process that has not been objectionable. It produces a deep rooted massage which dissolves the fat into small particles, thus enabling the blood to carry them off.

Maison Adolphe Beauty Salon is the only place in Atlanta and one of the few places in the south where this treatment with the Ring Roller Reducer can be obtained.

They also have an electric blanket which is very much like a Turkish bath. Also private shower baths and dressing rooms for the convenience of the customers.

Maison Adolphe has a thorough knowledge of all lines of beauty culture. He studied in Europe, and in Europe one must go through a very rigid school and then serve three years' apprenticeship in the best shops of Paris before they are finished beauty culturists. Maison Adolphe is a finished dresser of long hair as well as the bobbed hair.

Reducing, rejuvenating, massages, permanent waves, manicures, in fact any beauty treatment that you desire can be had at Maison Adolphe's, 622 Peachtree street.

* * * *

GENERAL ELECTRIC Refrigerator

THIRD article of Miss Alice Bradley's series of menus for different occasions:

The entertainment of guests is greatly facilitated if one has a General Electric Refrigerator. Menus should be planned and some work be done in advance for all the meals which guests will share.

Many things may be purchased and prepared on Friday. Soup stock, salad dressing jellied and chilled desserts may be made ahead and served with little effort.

MENUS FOR WEEK-END GUESTS.

BREAKFAST.
Orange Juice Cocktail
Farina with Cream
Scrambled Eggs Bran Muffins
Doughnuts
Coffee, Cocoa or Milk

LUNCHEON.
Jellied Soup Stock (With Beets)
Saltines
Creamed Crab Meat in Patty Cases
Peas
Salted Rolls
Pears Frozen With Ginger Ale
Cream Mayonnaise
Tea

* * * *

THE Atlanta Branch of the Fifth Avenue Linen Store, "The House of Decorative Linens," is having a sale of hand-made Russian Filet Scarfs. This is an unusual opportunity to buy wonderful filet scarfs for half and less than half of the original prices.

Scarfs measuring 18 by 36 inches which were formerly $2 are now selling for $1; $3 scarfs, 18 by 45 inches, now $1.25; $3.50 scarfs, 18 by 45 inches, now $1.50; $4 scarfs, 18 by 72 inches, now $2.

These are very beautiful examples of Russian hand-work, and such an opportunity to buy such laces at these prices should not be missed. The Linen Store, 69 Whitehall street, has many other exquisite linens and laces that are drastically reduced for this sale and it would be well worth anyone's time to stop in and see them.

* * * *

A new necklace made of topaz, amethyst or sapphire stones to fit the V neck is being worn by the fashionable women.

THE February Furniture Sales are of never-ending interest to me, because at this time of the year the best values in furniture are offered.

At Davison-Paxon Company I saw a colonial secretary that was designed especially for this sale and for Davison-Paxon alone. It can be secured in mahogany or walnut hand-rubbed finish. This secretary is an ideal size for the small home or apartment, and is priced at $44.50.

A Windsor chair of Early American design in either walnut or mahogany finish for $4.75 seemed to me just the chair to use with this beautiful secretary.

Then turning to the dining room furniture, I noticed a nine-piece suite of matched walnut, hand-rubbed finished with paneled front on the server, buffet and china cabinet. The chairs were of English design upholstered in very beautiful tapestry.

This wonderful suite was designed especially for Davison-Paxon for the February Furniture Sale and is priced at $139.

* * * *

A chain of twisted silver links set with amethyst has a large cut amethyst hanging from it.

* * * *

IN MY column two weeks ago I told you how delighted I was with the permanent wave Mr. Rich gave me. In fact, I was so well pleased that I persuaded my sister to come over from Augusta and have her hair waved by Mr. Rich.

Does she like it? More than any she has ever had.

I praise the permanent waves given by Mr. Rich, but he needs no recommendation, for he is known far and wide for his wonderful work. He gives the Eugene and the Frederick permanent waves. Anyone can cut the hair short, but it takes a hair dresser such as Mr. Rich to bob the hair to suit the personality and dress it by finger waving it into the newest and smartest coiffeur in the mode.

Mr. Rich is located at the Artistic Bob Shop on the Balcony of Jacobs' main store at Five Points. He is assisted by thirteen trained operators. Hair cutting, hair dressing, marceling, finger waving, shampooing and manicuring are all given with the same deft expertness at the Artistic Bob Shop.

* * * *

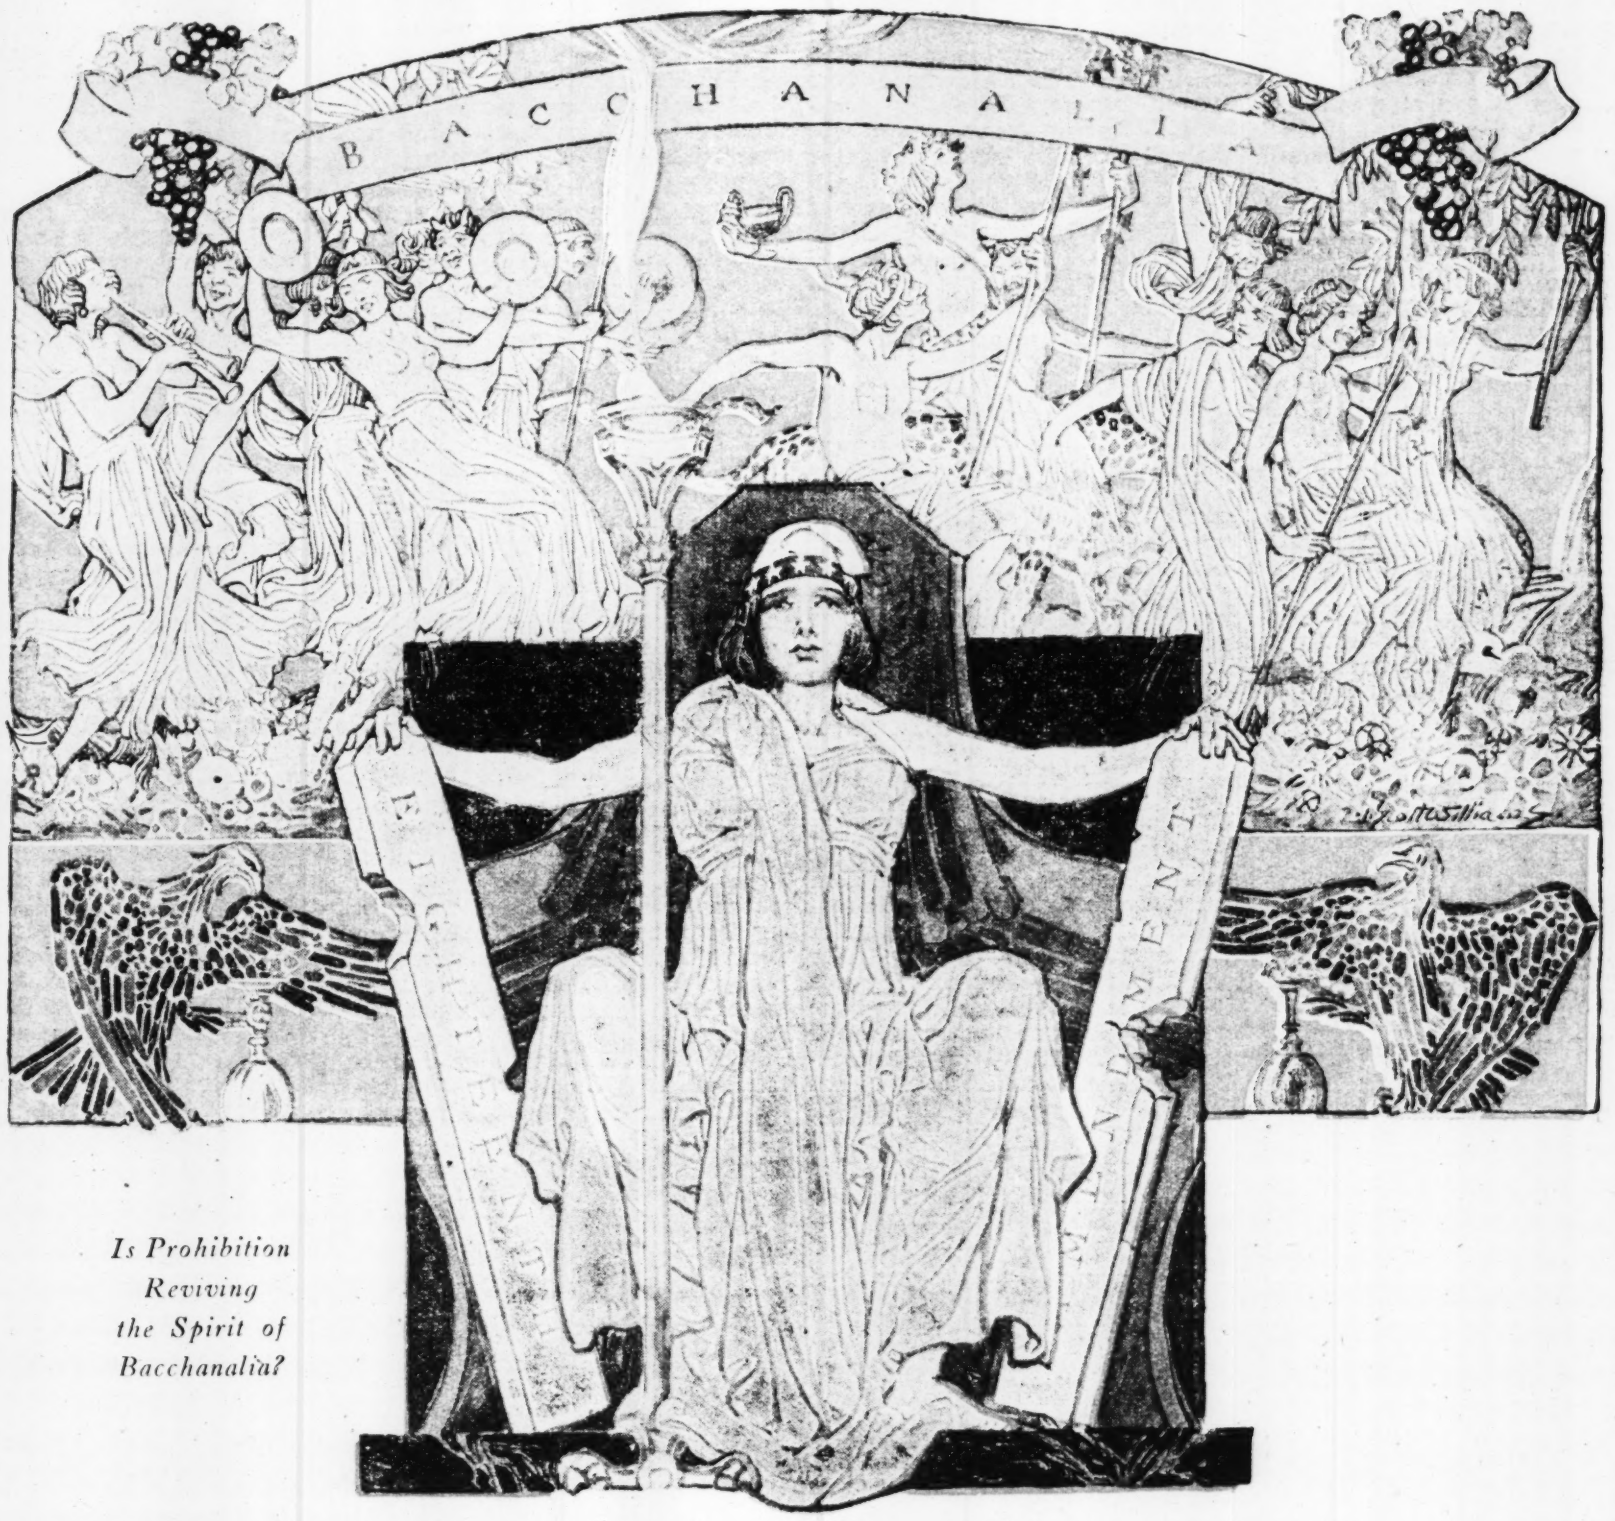

The modernistic feeling which has invaded almost every woman of the world of fashion is having a tremendous influence on the jewelry of the coming season. It is first noted in the increased stones, precious or semi-precious is being imitated in the costume jewelry shown by the really big stores.

* * * *

Ruth

The SUNDAY CONSTITUTION MAGAZINE

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1926.

Is Prohibition Reviving the Spirit of Bacchanalia?

Prohibition and Christianity

By John Erskine

Author of "Adam and Eve," "Galahad" and "The Private Life of Helen of Troy"

SOME years ago, when the discussion of the Eighteenth Amendment was beginning, I wrote an essay under this title, the central idea of which was that Prohibition and Christianity are based on contradictory ideas and that if a large number of earnest Christians in this land sincerely believe in prohibition it must be that unconsciously the doctrines of Christianity have been shifting, so that what goes under the name of that religion is a new thing, a departure from the ancient tradition.

It seemed to me that this revision of Christian doctrine was of more importance historically than the immediate measures the government might be taking to control and stop the liquor traffic. If we still call ourselves Christians, but are giving our allegiance to ideals which blindly contradict those of Christ and of the chursh through the centuries, we can hardly claim to be carrying on the tradition at all, though we keep the name. In such a case it would not be worth while to claim any continuity of tradition; the sensible thing would be to admit an entirely new departure, and to take some inventory of our new faith.

My essay at the time brought me few comments, either favorable or otherwise. Recently I rewrote it in a collection of essays, and was favored by a large number of anonymous letters more or less vitriolic, suggesting that people like myself who are unaware of the danger of drunkenness in the world, either acquire information and, if possible, brains, or else they should keep their mouths shut.

My phraseology is a polite translation of the terms actually used in many of these letters, some of them from ministers of the Gospel. More recently still I repeated my theory in a public address which drew upon me a still greater avalanche of letters, and still more violent protests.

Prohibition and Christianity :: Con... ...m First Page

From all of which I conclude that some prohibitionists, at least, are growing sensitive to the argument I was trying to sustain. I wonder why they pay any attention to it! The fact that it is sound, as I believe it is, ought not to disturb them if their own minds are at peace. If the ideals involved in prohibition are for some of us now more important than those once taught by the Christian church, why not admit the fact, and proceed upon some new basis?

But having asked this rhetorical question, I think I know the answer. We are all of us mixtures of reason and emotion; we have our social ideals for the future, but we have also our reverent pieties reaching far into the past, sometimes further than we realize. If you who are aware of the dangers of drunkenness think that prohibition is the right answer to the problem, you will argue for prohibition, yet you hate to give up the idea that you have departed from the tradition of Christianity, around at least the name of which so much of your sentiment rallies.

There must still be many Christians in the world who look confidently to the words of Christ as to an authoritative and divine source of wisdom. To those Christians two episodes in the life of the Master, and a large number of His remarks stand as embarrassing obstacles to prohibition. According to the record, He began His public career by turning water into wine, and in the last hours before the Crucifixion He instituted the Eucharist and commanded the faithful to celebrate it with bread and wine.

He used the image of bread and of wine as metaphors of health and inspiration, as symbols of the divine part of His own nature, and He called attention to the fact that He Himself, unlike John the Baptist and others of His own day, was not an abstainer from strong drink.

Yet we have the spectacle in more than one American parish of ministers who still read to their congregations these episodes from the New Testament, and who still celebrate the Eucharist, but who also preach the doctrine of prohibition. Whether they know it or not, the contradiction which they have set up has undermined the authority of the doctrine which they thought they were carrying on, and it is hardly to be doubted that with time they will feel the need of consistency and will abandon altogether that part of the tradition which their prohibition theory now contradicts.

But that part of their tradition, involving as it does the nature of Christ and the sanctity of the Eucharist, is central in the Christian doctrine. When they have left it behind them, they will find themselves standing for a body of ethics which could very well have been learned any time during the last 2,000 years, even though Christ had never lived.

Many men sincerely reckon themselves Christians who hold a less absolute faith as to the divinity of Christ, but who adhere completely to the ethical ideals which He taught and which the church has handed on. The central doctrine in that tradition is temperance. Of course the Greeks taught temperance also, but the church inherited the idea from the special problems of the Jew in the time of Christ, and from the solution which Christ proposed for all our problems of conduct. One could, of course, follow the law. What government or what religion anywhere at any time is not disposed toward formulae and regulations?

Christ, however, taught that the true government, the Kingdom of God, should come from within. In the presence of temptation, where the choice is between good and evil, or between two possible goods, we should be guided by temperance—that is, by such self-control as would bring us to the state of virtue and happiness it is our destiny and obligation to reach. In such a doctrine there was an answer to the evil of drunkenness. There was also an answer to the evil of gluttony or of any other sin. Temperance was to be a positive virtue inspired by the love of God, by the love of ideal goodness, revealed in the lives of heroic and holy men, principally, of course, in the life of the Master Himself.

But if good conduct were imposed upon us, we should deserve no credit for it, as in a parallel way, if we were compelled to do evil we might plead the excuse that our own will was not involved.

The perfection that Christ urged on those who follow His philosophy was the free and intelligent virtue of God Himself; not the perfection of slaves or of prisoners, but the goodness of children who love and imitate their fathers.

Some attempt has been made to obscure this point by asserting that the wine Christ used in the Sacrament was not really wine, and by implying that if He had foreseen our tendency to make brandies and whiskies He might have warned us against their use. I don't know how the devout believer in Christ as the Son of God can reconcile that faith with the supposition that Christ was not aware of all the possibilities of life.

But, in any case, whether the wine in His time was weak or strong, there were people who thought that it should not be drunk—the prohibitionists of the moment. They criticized Him for drinking it. The spirit of His philosophy is valid today unless you prefer some other; it still teaches that life is dangerous in all directions unless we exercise self-control, and that a man must decide for himself in the circumstances in which he is placed, with reference to all those whom he does not influence, just what he can enjoy and what he must forego of the thousand opportunities life offers to him. For this choice he will be held responsible, and the man who prevents him from making it is no true friend.

The contrary view was held by Mahomet, who implanted in the Mahometan religion the doctrine of prohibition. He was not able to implant in the Turks, nor in any other Mahometan race, the strict enforcement of prohibition. It can never be enforced. In so far as the Turk believed in prohibition, he obeyed the doctrine of his own free will—that is, he exercised the same temperance that the Christian did. In so far as he wished to drink, he drank, even though pretending to be, like an American, under a prohibition regime.

When we are told by advocates of prohibition that this law will bring about improvement in our culture or our civilization, or in our morals, what is really held up before us is the ideal of Turkish civilization, as over against the Christian.

There is no reason to think that prohibition, even if enforced, would produce in us a more enlightened attitude toward life than it has in the Turks. Already we see in our prohibitionists the same tendency as is shown in the Mahometan world, a tendency to emphasize the abstention from drink as the important virtue, and to let go by as negligible other social problems, even grave and obvious social faults.

The Christian doctrine of temperance addressed itself to all the problems at once, with as much attention to self-control in matters of eating and of sex as in the one question of drink. Of course, we might go on to establish further prohibitions to keep people from the wrong sort of food and some more to make them behave properly in the home. Apparently it seemed to Christ simpler and wiser to cultivate one general attitude toward virtue which would care for all these matters from the heart outward.

But the prohibitionist retorts by asking how we are to train people to have self-control. This question is most significant when it comes from a Christian minister. He has forgotten temporarily that his religion was instituted as an answer. If Christianity does not supply us with a way of life, it is a complete failure. Perhaps the church is conscious of at least a partial failure. For decades it has been preaching temperance, organizing temperance societies, denouncing drink. If it had done its work it would not have felt obliged to call in the police to enforce its ideals.

Its true mission was, and still is, to plant in society not simply an ideal, but a positive, aggressive love of it, an active love of goodness which will result inevitably in sound conduct. It is a pitiful surrender of this noble mission to suggest that we first compel people to be good in the hope that afterward they will go on being good through sheer momentum.

If the prohibitionist left some ideals of Christianity behind when he turned to the Mahometan program, it should be noticed also that the attempt to enforce prohibition in this country has had a frightful effect on our morals, whether Mahometan or otherwise. The prohibitionist does not mind calling attention to the increase of lawlessness in those who decline to follow his program. He is perhaps less willing to notice the strange emotional attitudes he himself is drifting into in the pursuit of his ideals.

We are told, for example, that alcohol should be withheld from the people because it is a poison. Since it is a poison, as the prohibitionists remind us, the use or disuse of it hardly involves temperance or any other exercise of free will. We would not put poison in the way of children or other helpless folk, would we?

Well, as Christians we would not. But it is a matter of historical record now that as prohibitionists we would. Most of us have a pretty clear idea that some alcohol is indeed poison and some other alcohol is not. A large part of the prohibitionists' energies have been devoted to the task of rendering all the alcohol is fit to drink, then it isn't poison. sition is absurd enough. If the alcohol is fit to dring, then it isn't poison. But a while ago we were horrified to learn that the enforcement bureau in our government was discouraging the use of alcohol by supplying the danger to the consumer which theoretically it contains. And just before the last Christmas holidays, as a charming comment on the spirit of the season and birthday of the Master, in Whose name so much of this work is done, our newspapers reported a general warning from the government to laboratories forbidding them to test liquor. The owner must not know whether or not it is poison.

So far as I personally have heard, no Christian prohibitionist has registered any protest against this trifling with life and death, with this potential murder.

John Erskine

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Constitution presents this treatise on prohibition from the pen of John Erskine, noted author. This article is appearing simultaneously today in a number of outstanding American newspapers. Without endorsing or condemning the position taken by Mr. Erskine, The Constitution publishes the article as an interesting presentation of Mr. Erskine's views.

Riding the Whirlwind

Blue Ribbon Fiction

By Helen R. Hull

Walter Was Just the Average Henpecked Husband Until He Was Bitten by the Virus of Success—Then He Became, Miraculously, the Dominant Male.

WALTER hesitated at the door of the kitchen. The picture before him was pretty enough; a small pot of orange tulips on the painted breakfast table, the gay cretonne of his wife's morning dress like more flowers, the river far beneath the window a strip of crinkled silver, the palisades beyond a tapestry of violet and blue, the dark head of his small daughter an adorable accent in the foreground as she knelt on the bench beside the table, peering down at the river. A pleasant whiff of toast, of coffee. Walter wrinkled his nose; it wasn't coffee. Some denatured stuff.

"When we bought this apartment, Lucy"—Walter took a hopeful swallow of his beverage; it looked like coffee and he wanted to believe in it—"you said I could have that small room for a workshop."

"That was before mother and Lena came. And what have you ever done in it except blow out fuses?" Lucy darted to the stove, whisked off the skillet of bacon, and stood at Walter's elbow, her small face with the shingled fair hair quietly determined. "You must see how absurd it is, making every one uncomfortable because you want a room for some wire and things. You can keep them in a box on the top shelf of the linen closet, and really I haven't room even there. Maybe we'll get some good out of the radio if you stop fussing."

Walter looked at her. He looked for a moment at Virginia's lifted eyes; she was sorry for him, her father!

"How long are they planning to stay?" he asked. "They've been here all winter."

"You don't grudge my mother and sister a roof! As mother says, if you put your attention on business, it would be better for all of us."

Walter settled more heavily in his niche; his thick shoulders drooped, the lines down has sallow cheeks deepened. He felt the mock coffee and the egg settling inside him in a lump right against his solar plexus. "It's just that the apartment's rather crowded," he apologized, wondering whether he had a digestive tablet in his pocket.

"If I can stand it, when I'm here all day, you surely shouldn't complain. If we had more money—"

Walter pried himself slowly up from the bench, folding the fringed napkin carefully. "You ready, Jinny? he asked. It was his fault, of course. He should provide a duplex on Park avenue, where all the relatives could spend the winter in New York with no inconvenience.

"She will be the time you have the car around." Lucy presented her cheek for his kiss. "And I'm going to pile all your litter into a box, as I said. O, where is that grocery list?"

"Good morning, children." At the doorway stood Mrs. Trotter, a brisk morning smile on her face—a face curiously like Lucy's, only tighter, drier. "I'm sorry to be late, but I couldn't bathe earlier."

"Of course, with Walter's shaving." Lucy was hunting through her purse. "Here it is, Walter. Just stop at the grocery. No, Lena never feels like going out in the morning, and it's a shame to waste a telephone call when you drive right past. Virginia, ask Lena to let you wash your hands. She'll be at the door as soon as you are, Walter. Good-by. I suppose"—she responded to the pressure of her mother's hand—"I suppose you think you must have the car all day?"

"I've got to drive a prospect out to the Beautiful Homes sites."

"Such lovely weather!" sighed Mrs. Trotter.

"If I can get back early, I'll leave the car here for you," Walter called.

. . . . . .

"Mr. Clement wishes to confer with you." The stenographer flipped her note book impertinently as she strolled past. Walter made a pretense of finishing his mail before he pushed through the railing that set off Clement's flat desk in symbolical majesty and stood, heavily conscious that the pain under his vest had changed from a fist to a corkscrew.

"Morgan, how about the Arner deal? You get anywhere yesterday? He's got an appointment this morning, eh?" Clement cut the end of his cigar with the silver clip on his watch chain. "I may as well send Phillips out with him. He's got a knack of clinching matters. A knack."

"But I'— why should he hear Jinny's eager voice, "Blow harder, daddy!"—"I've done a lot of work with him."

"Have to consider the good of the firm. Now—" he turned his hard, smooth face away as the office boy hung at the railing. "Well?"

"Mister Morgan on the phone."

"All right, Morgan. We'll see what Philips can do. There are some rents on Amsterdam you can see to."

The office boy's gamin face had a secret leer. He knew. Walter hesitated, bending his fingers up against damp palms.

"Better see who wants you." Clement turned to the waiting stenographer. "Take this letter, Miss Emmons."

Walter's ears were scarlet as he walked the length of the room to his own desk. Philips! Rents on Amsterdam! He ran his tongue over dry lips before he pulled the telephone toward him.

"Hello, Morgan? This is Simons. Say, I guess you've done it, old boy. Yeh. Listen, they're trying it out. Going to have a directors' meeting. I just thought I'd give you a ring."

The twitching under Walter's dark eyes had stopped; he leaned forward over the telephone as if he would swallow the instrument, engulf it. "Simons! You sure? Simons, listen! You tell 'em I'm working on that hum. I got an idea about that. I got the voltage down to six, all right. Last night I rectified that hum till it wasn't so loud as a bee. You tell 'em, will you?"

"They think you got the best line on it. Their factory expert told me that. This is inside dope, see? Don't let on you know yet. But I kinda wanted to hand it to you this morning. You're made, all right, once they take it."

Walter released the telephone slowly, sliding it down the bracket with a hand too tense to quiver. Simons, the grubby little fellow in the radio shop where he had bought supplies; it was he who had insisted that Walter patent the stages of his invention, he who had turned it over to the company—"interested parties," Simons called them.

The office boy laid a folder on his desk. "Mister Clement says there's the Amsterdam address."

Walter looked at the boy. His grinning face hung, a spot on a wavering gray curtain, like a circus sideshow; ever time you hit the nigger. Walter could see nothing but that grin; almost he reached for balls to hurl at it. He straightened in his chair, his fist clenched, and the grin vanished. Walter got to his feet, watching the gray curtain melt away as his eyes focused again. The boy was staring at him.

Walter seized his coat and hat and rushed up the office to Clement's desk. "There's your rent list." He flung the folder on the desk. "Phillips can see to it. Arner's my prospect and I'm going to keep him, see?" He ground his fists into his pockets to keep from brandishing them. Was he drunk? That queer, floating sensation behind his ears, that indefinable expansion through his body, as if something beside ordinary blood ran swiftly through his veins?

"If anybody sells Arner, it's me. It's my commission, too." He resisted a final "Ha!" at the sight of Clement's bland, amazed face and wheeled toward the door. It was opening for the bulk of a large man in seal-collared overcoat.

"Just in time, Arner!" Walter seized his elbow, whirled him out through the door in one swift movement. "Car's around the corner. This is your last free ride, too."

He wasn't sure he could get the key into the door. His hand wabbled, then drove it in. I'm crazy, he thought, as he wedged himself under the wheel. Crazy. I've done it! Revolutionized . . . reonution . . . whole biggest new industry of radios. I got it in me to do more. Arner's red, round face at his shoulder was a ridiculous, harmless moon, not a contemptuous threat.

"Can't give you much time," Walter snapped. "You got to sign on the dotted line or lose your chance, that's all. Yes, sir." He swung out from the curb recklessly, and a down-swooping taxi swerved from his path, grinding profanely to a stop. Walter waved an eloquent hand and completed his circle, reaching Broadway as the traffic officer lifted his whistle. Zip! Walter slid past him as he blew.

Before him stretched the long river of Broadway, sunlit and raucous. Up it drove Walter, a charioteer, his exhilaration stretching beyond the mechanism of his car, demanding right of way, overtaking and passing delivery wagons, trucks, limousines. He felt Arner's eyes under the bristle of pale lashes nibble curiously at him. Magnanimously he handed him a cigarette, steering dexterously with one hand. Who was Arner, anyway, but a fool from New Jersey with a little money? He hadn't made a new invention, had he? Something new in the history of the world?

Walter's silence broke into words; all the real estate phrases he had heard for so long, all he had struggled awkwardly to use; lovely, enticing, compelling phrases, as he drove, a conqueror, along the avenue where great buildings lifted facades pale blue with spring shadows.

In the later afternoon Walter drew up at the curb in front of the office window; he edged his car into the space just ahead of the coupe that "I don't know"—Lucy's voice faltered—"as it's safe to leave you."

Riding the Whirlwind

Continued from Page 3

Clement drove, instead of leaving room for some possible departure of Clement. Then he walked into the office, through the railing gate, and laid on Clement's desk a thin green slip, a certified check for eight thousand.

"Arner's down payment," he said, briefly. "He took the whole corner. Coming in tomorrow morning.

Clement pressed his finger tips against the check, drawing it along the glass surface toward the light. "Fine, Morgan."

"Damn fine. Biggest deal this year." Walter stared over Clement's head down the long room; each separate island of desk had its lighthouse, green shaded, except Philips'. Philips was out—on Amsterdam avenue, maybe. Suddenly the corners of the room seemed crowded with shadows of old humiliations, urging him to reprisals.

"Have a cigar, Morgan?" Clement had put on his bluff, hearty air.

"Thanks, no." Walter put a forefinger on the check. "You stow that in the safe tonight, will you? I'll want my commission tomorrow." It was funny. Clement had a way of keeping you standing, like a clerk, while he sat enthroned. Now Walter swelled above him, almost as if he pushed his hand over the smooth, puzzled face, squashing it down into the striped necktie.

"I want an understanding, too, Clement. Philips is a nice young fellow, and of course you want your son-in-law to get ahead. But he's through picking up commissions that belong to me. I'm his senior here." That was the way; roar him down before he had a chance to roar you down! Clement pushed his chair back and rose. He didn't like having his face squashed!

"See here, Morgan, are you trying to imply—"

"I'm not implying a thing. I said it." Walter bent forward, has hand closing around the gooseneck lamp, twisting it so that the metal shade lay like a bowl, holding the bulb. Walter stared at the filaments, the strong, reflected light shining up on his brilliant eyes, his eager nostrils, his lean, dark-shaven cheeks and chin. "You'd never guess how damn noisy that light is, would you? Lucky we can't hear it or we'd never turn on a light. Worse than any amount of static." He tipped it slightly, so that the light burst up over Clement's face, turning him into a blinking, puzzled owl. "Didn't even know it was noisy, did you? Well, I've almost got it tamed." He twisted the lamp into its proper inverted position. "Good night."

Clement stared after him. As Walter climbed into his car he saw him staring, like a fish in an aquarium, through the window. Walter laughed and started the car.

Lucy opened the door for him; her cheek, averted from his kiss, was brittle with restrained indignation. Well, what ailed her. Walter hung away his coat, whistling softly.

"There's not much for dinner," she began, severely. "I waited all day for the groceries to come."

"Groceries?" Walter felt in his vest pocket. That list! Over her shoulder, in the living room, he saw Mrs. Trotter pretending to read the evening paper. Around him brushed the cobwebby net of domestic disapproval. Little Simons' voice, "They think you got the best line on it." Why, he, Walter Morgan, had at last done it! His head lifted high above the little tingling net Lucy spread.

"And we stayed in all this heavenly afternoon because you said you'd leave the car for me. I suppose you forgot the order, and—"

"I did." With a brusque gesture Walter demolished the net. "Three women with nothing to do all day. Why should I do your errands?" He strode through the living room and, finding the bathroom door closed, rattled the handle. A faint squeal sounded within, and Mother Trotter called from her chair, "O Wallie! Lena's dressing to go out!"

Lena in the bathroom; Mrs. Trotter mixing up the pages of the newspaper in the living room; Lucy, rigid with disapproval, moving from kitchen to dining room. He opened the bedroom door and Virginia, sitting in the corner, lifted a tear-smeared face.

"Why, Jinny! What's the trouble?"

"Walter, you needn't pet Virginia. She was impertinent to her poor grandma." Lucy had followed him to the doorway.

"Was she?" Walter looked at Lucy's icy fairness. "That's good."

"Why, Walter Morgan!"

"I just said"—Jinny screwed her small mouth—"that you weren't just like all men, an'—"

"You needn't repeat it, Virginia. It was bad enough once. Walter, will you come out here, and—"

Walter closed the door softly against Lucy's words and bent over Virginia, kissing her moist cheek. "Stood up for me, did you? Wouldn't let them pick on me, eh? Bless your heart." He pulled out his handkerchief. "There, blow hard." She sniffed and puffed into it. "Feel better? Take a brace. We'll fix it up." Her arms tied round his neck for an instant, and she gave a faint, stuttering giggle.

Walter, his hand on the door knob, listened. It wasn't good for Jinny, having all these folks around. Kept Lucy stirred up. Yes, he had thought so. Plaintive sounds from Mother Trotter. "I heard him say it, Lucy. He said it was good! Good that his child was impudent to me, a helpless—" sniff, sniff.

Walter opened the door softly and, reaching across the hall, rattled the bathroom knob. "My gracious!" Lena's voice rattled back. "Can't you wait one minute?"

"Not any longer. I'm starved and I have to wash my hands."

Lucy, with a kind of baffled determination, pulled at his arm.

"For heaven's sakes, what ails you, Walter? You can wash your hands at the kitchen sink." She tugged at him and he followed, resisting just enough to make her pull harder. "Are you—have you been drinking?" She put up her nose to sniff; but Walter, the flat of his hand resolute against her shoulder, pushed her away.

"Is dinner ready?" He let the water trickle over his hands.

"You've hurt mother's feelings terribly, and spoiled all I said to Virginia, and I don't know what's got into you." Bright color warmed Lucy's face. Walter stared at her reflectively. Usually she just kept still, and under her silence he sank into a dwindled speck.

"Why, you act—you act crazy!" she added, vindictively, as he lifted a stalk of celery from a dish and munched at it, strolling out of the kitchen, pausing in the living room door to inspect his mother-in-law's quivering eyelids.

"Next time you pick on me," he said, "wait till Jinny's out of the room. See? He picked up the rumpled paper, crackling it with swoops of his arms as he refolded it. Lena tilted into the room, buckles of brilliants sparkling on her toes, her skirt rippling just over her plump knees.

"Well!" She made round accusing eyes at him. Walter pushed a floor lamp nearer a chair and sat down, holding his paper high. He knew suddenly why he didn't like having Lena and Mother Trotter in his house. Aside from the lack of space, that was. They were each of them too like the things in Lucy he minded.

"Dinner's ready. What are you so pleased about? I should think—" She stopped as Mrs. Trotter rose, one hand pressed to her marcelled hair, murmuring, "I can't eat a thing, Lucy; my head—"

"O, mother!" Lucy darted after her as she retreated dismally toward her bedroom. "You must! We want to see that new picture tonight."

Walter marched brightly out to the dining room and seated himself. If they went to the pictures, all of them, he'd have a chance to do some work. Lena's voice rose above the undertone of othe others. "You don't care what he says, mother. Come on! He didn't mean anything."

Then all three appeared, edging together through the portieres, Lucy with her arm around her mother. "I told mother you would apologize," she said.

Walter reflected swiftly; if he didn't, they might not go out that evening. "Sure," he said, jauntily. "Didn't mean to take away your appetite."

That air of disapproval, in which three women chattered over his head as if he were invisible, usually gave him indigestion. Tonight it merely put an edge on his appetite. He ate in silent dignity, amusing himself with unspoken repartee. Trouble was, they'd stayed too long, making a winter resort of his home.

He rose suddenly, with a plate on which he had made a pyramid of green peas beside a plump baked potato. "I'm going to take this to Virginia. She can't go without her supper, a growing child." He thrust his chin stubbornly toward Lucy's beginning protest, and left the room. He stopped in the kitchen for a glass of milk, spilling it in his haste. His hand reached for a cloth, and then withdrew; he grinned at the widening pool. As he passed the dining room he heard Lucy, "Do you think he looks feverish?"

"Here's a party for a bad girl." He winked soberly at Virginia, and moved the lamp from the small table to make room for the plate. He was sitting on the bench before the dressing table, listening to the child's story of what happened at school, when Lucy came in. Her mouth was tight as a coin slot, thought Walter, tight and hard.

"It's time you went to bed, Virginia," she said. "Come."

"I'll put her to bed." Walter swung one leg easily. "You run along to your movie."

"I don't know"—Lucy's voice faltered—"as it's safe to leave you." She tried to see herself in the mirror, twisting her shoulder away from Walter. "Are you coming down with something?"

"Yes, I'm breaking out. Here, sit down. Lots of room." He edged along the bench. He wanted to tell her; he, Walter Morgan, out of his own head, had done something to make the world sit up.

"Hurry up, Lucy, or we'll miss the coming attractions, and mother wants to see those." Lena pattered past the door and Lucy leaned toward the mirror, powdering her nose.

"How much longer"—Walter was amazed at the way his voice rang out—"how much longer are those two going to camp here?" Lucy turned, her pink puff arrested under one eye, quite ruining the effect of her horrified stare. He heard a rustle of attention outside and saw Virginia lift her head alertly. "Are they going to stay forever, or only part of eternity?"

"Sh-h!" Lucy dropped the puff, a little cloud of powder floating around it. "Sh-h! They'll hear you. You—O!" She hurried toward the door, stopping to peck at Virginia's cheek, saying in a loud, excited voice, "Go right to bed, Virginia, and say your prayers, and try to be a better girl tomorrow. All ready, folks? Come along. We must hurry." She was herding them out of the apartment as if she hoped to get them away before Walter's words reached them.

Walter walked to the door. "I've got some work to do." He paused. "Did they put away my stuff, Jinny?" She nodded. "In the closet?"

"Uh-huh."

He looked into the small room which had been his. Rapid transformation. A mirror hung behind his table, on which an array of toilet things was spread around a ridiculous lamp, a porcelain lady holding a fringed parasol over the bulb. Solemnly and swiftly Walter set to work. He piled the toilet articles on a red lacquered table in the living room, parked the porcelain lady on the phonograph, draped the silk garments from the closet over the davenport, and as a final touch set the orange mules one each side of the lady on the phonograph. Jinny watched him with wide dark eyes, and when he opened the window to let out the odor of perfume and scented rouge which was Lena's trail, she clasped her hands over her stomach, sighing.

"Now you must go to bed, Jinny." He helped her with buttons, a little contrite that she had to share his excitement with such tenseness.

He was so intent that the first sounds, some hours later, reached him without significance. A kind of hysterical shriek. The handle of his door turned sharply. He made a brief motion with a free hand, as if he brushed away a fly, and bent over his table.

"Walter Morgan!" Lucy's voice shrilled with incredulity. "Walter!"

He turned his head to look at the door. The creamy, solid surface reassured him.

"I'm busy," he called. "Go away."

Fumbling in his pocket, he produced a small notebook, in which he made strange entries, figures, symbols, abbreviations. Then he bent to withdraw the plug from a wall socket, and stood for a moment above the table. How still the world was, suddenly, with those countless snarls and whines cut off! Even the apartment was still. They'd gone to bed, had they?

He drove one fist sharply into the palm of the other hand. By Jove, he had needed an eliminator for his household, too! He squared his shoulders, staring at the closed door. No more interference for him! All his life he'd been tuning in on too many stations. He hadn't known he was any good. From now on he got his own wave length, he, Walter Morgan.

At the door he paused. Why penetrate into that silent apartment? He looked at the cot installed for Lena, and with a single motion yanked from it the velour cover, kicking under the cot one of the small silk cushions. No pajamas. Well, B. V. D.'s could serve, one night. As he lay flat on his back, his hands serene over his chest, he heard the soft scuff of a slipper outside the door. He grinned in the dark, and fell asleep.

In the morning he banged ostenta-

Continued on Page 10.

Archaeological Survey of Georgia

Miss Ashley Seeking Traces of Indian Occupation of the State

Editor's Note: Miss Margaret Ashley, the author of this article, has spent many months in research work in Georgia. She studied archaeology at Columbia university in New York and will return in March to complete the course in this interesting subject. Miss Ashley has recently been named by Dr. Warren K. Moorehead, head of the Department of Archaeology of Andover Academy, Massachusetts, to assist in his work of tracing the history and culture of the builders of Georgia's mysterious mound villages, and she will be engaged in this work until her return to Columbia. She is the daughter of Alderman and Mrs. Claude Ashley, of Atlanta, her father now serving as mayor pro tem of this city.

BY MARGARET ASHLEY

SOME six months ago when I began the archaeological survey of Georgia, upon which I am still working, I was not sure as to the extent of public interest in Indian history. It was not long however, before I was aware that there were many who were interested in seeing this neglected field of research worked-up, and what could be more encouraging? They not only manifest this interest but were anxious to cooperate and help in anyway possible. It is such willing assistance that has made the work on the survey progress.

During this period I have traveled over many counties hunting for Indian mounds, village sites, trails, in fact every available trace of Indian occupation. It is similar to treasure hunting save of course the treasure in this case is neither gold bullion nor pieces of eight. Rather different I would say. But it is all in the viewpoint. To those interested in archaeology, a mound is as valuable as a pirate's treasure. It acts as a clew that may lead to the solving of some problem regarding customs or tribal movements. It often happens that by piecing together information such a mound may be identified as the home of a definite tribe and thus the approximate time of its occupation or abandonment can be determined.

And speaking of mounds reminds me of a mound I visited in Elbert county. It is the site of one of our best known mound groups, "the Rembert Mounds." It is located on the Savannah river about three miles above its junction with Broad river. The group is mentioned in many old books and accounts as a place rich in archaeological material—beads, pottery, shell and other burial accompaniments. The Savannah flood-plain at this point is above the river level but during unusual rainy reasons it is subject to inundation, and thus the tragedy of the Rembert Bottoms mounds. In 1908 one of the largest freshets known to this section occurred and this flood-plain was entirely covered with water. When the flow finally subsided the mounds, which were made of the soft, rich sand of the plain had been washed away. Where they had stood were ridges of earth and pottery fragments, bone and some entire pots were exposed on the surface. It was not long of course, before the site was cleared of the best specimens and now the unimportant potshreds mark the spot. It is to be regretted that such a rich and important site should have been obliterated, but it stresses the need of recording all extant sites for they may meet with the same or similar fates.

Many persons ask how does one know where to look for mounds and graves. There is no such instrument as an archaeologist's divining rod. He must have an inkling beforehand as to the general location in which a site is to be found. For such information he depends upon persons living in the locality in which he is particularly interested. He inquires of them for any Indian traditions, former places of occupation and the like. All information he records and then when there is no further data to be obtained, the search is on. From this point on the search resembles the treasure hunt I mentioned before, except gold is not the reward. Of course it sometimes happens that in looking for one site he finds another but in a region that has been populated as long as our state such finds are rare. I have places recorded that have entirely disappeared as the Rembert mounds for example, but this does not lessen the value of the record. At some time it may prove to be a means of locating other sites. From what I have said one can easily understand the importance of all data regardless of how meager, and also the necessity of getting the exact location of a site in relation to creeks, roads and settlements.

Photos by T. G. Sanders.

Stones discovered by Miss Ashley in Elbert county, showing hieroglyphics, undoubtedly the work of the Indians which the Europeans found in Georgia.

In searching for a site disappointments are often the order of affairs. When I was trying to find a certain inscribed rock in Forsyth county, it took two trips to bring me to the place. I did not at the time realize the rock was one with which I was familiar in literature and it was indeed a treat to me to see the granite boulder that was described back in 1849 as an "Indian rock." This specimen is not far from Hightower, Ga., the former home of a Cherokee known as Chief Vann. It It is an interesting section, filled with Indian traditions and it is not surprising that such a stone should be found in the neighborhood. Of course the exact person or tribe responsible for the work is unknown, but from the figures which resemble Indian pottery designs it is natural to suppose that the Cherokees were the workmen.

There is one type of site that is of interest to persons not living on the seacoast. These are the shell heaps found on the coast and sea islands. Such are not peculiar to Georgia but it interests us in that they show to what extent the shore line was inhabited in pre-columbian times. On St. Simons are some of the largest I have seen. They are the accumulation of refuse from Indian villages and show a long period of occupation. They have been excavated for the shell which has been used in road building and it is possible to find pottery fragments wherever the surface has been uncovered. Many of the heaps are over grown with trees and underbrush and this fact added to the fact of their extent and size speaks for their age. We know that the coast was thickly populated before the advent of the European and even those records made during the time that the Spanish were endeavoring to "civilize" these people, name numbers of native villages.

I have mentioned that I have found many persons interested in this subject and among these may be listed the children. I have talked to groups in various parts of the state and I find them ardent enthusiasts. It was this evident interest that gave me the idea of appealing to them for information. I am of the opinion that if the problem is explained to them they will be willing to gather data in the local communities. I discussed the matter with Mr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of schools, and Dr. S. W. McCallie, state geologist and both have manifest their approval. The result is that I am sending out a letter to the county school superintendents asking for their assistance in presenting the suggestion to their principals and teachers. The work of getting the desired material need not mean extra work on the part of the children, but could be used as an assignment in either English or history. After the teachers were finished with the papers upon which the data were recorded, they could be sent to me for further use. Children possess what seems to be a natural curiosity regarding Indians and from experience I have found them attentive and responsive. This interest coupled with their state pride, I believe, would result in willing cooperation. On my part I will do anything to aid the project and to help carry it over.

Poetical Fancies

"LEAP YEAR." (1928)

Ho, ye widows and bachelor girls,
Rejoice in peans loud and clear,
For jubilee has come again—
The advantageous "Leap Year."
For better off will be the man
To wed a woman who wants him
Than to marry the one he wants,
And then see Love's fires grow dim.

It's awful hard for one to wait
For a man to come and to propose,
He flatters so, then soon, perhaps,
Weds another, and off he goes;
And the girl left upon the shelf,
Hides her broken heart the best she can.
But now Hooray, Hooray, "Leap Year,"
She can now propose to another man.

Such fun to see the men elate
Over marrying as women, now,
How they would primp before the glass,
And ape their winning smile and bow,
So, when a maid in chiffon hose,
Dons an abbreviated skirt of blue,
Wait, bachelor, she is sure to come
And straightway will propose to you.

Yield her all—both hand and heart,
And promise to love and obey;
If her proposal you refuse—
All the taxes she'll have to pay,
If mercenary you may be,
And dare contend for what's your due,
Just ask her if she can afford
To marry and pay tax for—Two!

For she who asks to be your wife,
Remember, is no timid wight,
She'll scare all prowling tramps away,
And shoot the burglar in the night;
But if you wed who wants not you,
Then, for aye, fret and woe are yours,
She'll be "nagging" you the live-long day
And make you do the family chores!

Heed my advice, ye bachelors,
And nothing you will have to rue,
Don't wed the woman that you want,
But marry her who pines for you!
There is a secret unconfessed,
A privilege to know—and yet—
She seldom weds the man she wants,
But takes the man that she can get.

—AUGUSTA WALL.

HIGH CHIVALRY & A Blue

INSTALLMENT V.

KUPRINE received his visitor with his usual manner, a disconcerting blending of suavity, irony, and brutality As always Jones was uncomfortable in his presence. He was possessed of iron nerve and brass bound scrupulousness; yet faced by Kuprine, he invariably felt as if before one of those curved mirrors that give a false, twisted reflection.

He related what had happened, voicing his suspicion that the warning was too genuine, too melodramatically apache, but arguing that, hoax or no hoax, the ransom would have to be paid . . . "Later on I shall make a stab at finding out who's in back of it. But right now——"

"I agree with you," interrupted Kuprine. "We must avoid all scandal. We shall pay. How much, did you say?"

"Sixty-five million francs. Cash, of course."

"You'll have it within the hour."

"Good enough. We'll have Mustaffa Bek free by tonight."

"I'll send one of my confidential men along to carry the bag. It'll weigh a lot—even in bank notes—fifty million francs——"

"I beg your pardon—sixty-five!"

"I beg your pardon—fifty!"

"But——"

"Look here!" Kuprine's thin, intensely red lips curled scornfully. "I served under the late czar—may God rest his soul!—and I'm therefore familiar with all phases of graft—and grafters. Blackmailers, kidnapers, all that sort of people, never demand odd amounts. Don't know why. Hidden, psychological reason. But it's always fifty they want or a hundred—in thousands or tens of thousands—even in millions. So the extra fifteen, I take it, represents your private commission—or the sultan's—or both?"

Jones gave a little laugh.

"Both!" he admitted unblushingly.

He did not mind being found out.

"You were too modest," rejoined Kuprine. "You should have asked for a hundred million. I might not have suspected." He held out his cigaret case. "Smoke?"

"Thanks." The Englishman took a cigaret and lit it. He had the almost religious respect of the Anglo-Saxon for money; was impressed by the other's careless manner in disposing of a fortune. "You take this ransom business very nonchalantly," he commented.

"Fifty million francs"—Kuprine shrugged his shoulders—"what is it?"

"A gigantic sum."

"A mere nothing."

"O, come on!"

"A mere nothing—compared to Russia's future."

"Which, I suppose, after the sultan of Mervistan has served his turn, will reach its zenith with the conquest of all central Asia?"

"Which will only begin in central Asia."

"And end—where?"

"Ah—who knows? Russia! Holy Russia!" Suddenly Kuprine was utterly serious. O, yes! He must have been a Russian, and a high, fanatic light eddied up in his gold brown eyes. "Who knows?" he repeated. "Perhaps in Peking, perhaps at the Pacific, perhaps clear across the Pacific." He laughed disagreeably. "The yellow peril is still the yellow peril, even though, temporarily, the world at large calls it the red peril. Au revoir, M. le Capitaine! You shall have the money within the hour."

And, a little before seven o'clock, one of Kuprine's confidential men arrived at the hotel carrying a heavy bag, and drove with Captain Jones to the Passage Moret.

The Passage Moret is in the heart of a certain quarter of Paris, not far from the Rue des Gobelins, where even the most expatriate American will never feel himself anything but mere alien. It is not a wholesome nor a safe neighborhood. If for reasons of your own—and they are bound to be unsavory reasons—you must go there, dress shabbily. Otherwise you will be a target for extremely ancient eggs, tomatoes that have seen better days, even bricks.

And don't take your aunt from whom you expect to inherit money. For the language she will hear—! language that would not do in the salon of the Duchess de Polignac nor in the Kansas City Y. W. C. A. And never visit the place at night. The Paris gendarmes don't. So why should you?

There was here on this evening, as on all evenings, the usual maze of noises, seething in frothy, brutal steaks—the screams of a woman whom a man was beating with a leather strap; the screams of a man whom a woman was belaboring with a rolling pin, the ineffectual tinkle-tinkle of a peddler's bell; odds and ends of obscene curses, obscene laughter, obscene songs. And if your ears were very sharp, passing No. 37 you might have heard the rustle of cards and Mustaffa Bek's triumphant announcement, "Full house!"

For he was an expert at the great game which, fully as much as democracy and Mr. Henry Ford's products, is Americanizing the world, and he was engaged in a seven hand session, the other players being Bibi le Farceur and a couple of his gangsters, as well as the Three Musketeers.

Lord Carmyon threw down a flush and cursed his luck.

"I hope Jones will show up soon with the ransom," he remarked disgustedly. "Every minute he stays away is costing me money."

"You mean I. O. U.'s," laughed Tamerlanoff.

"The same thing—only worse. I prefer the memory of pain to the prospect of pain."

He scribbled an I. O. U. for three hundred and seventeen francs and gave it to Mustaffa, who crammed it in his pocket to join a sheaf of similar ones.

Late that night, the ransom having been turned over to half a dozen men, dramatically black masked, in a back room of No. 37 Passage Moret, Mustaffa Bek, in a loose and gorgeously colored brocade robe, was reclining on a lounge in the salon of his suite. He was pleased with himself as he recalled the plausible and carefully rehearsed account of his kidnaping which he had told Captain Jones.

The latter was in his room, dressing for an after the theater supper party. He was going to meet an actress—a typical actress, with a hat like a tea tray, unlikely hair, smelling of stale perfume, and unable to talk about anything but her plays and herself.

"Damn!" he exclaimed suddenly.

"What's the matter?" came Mustaffa Bek's query through the open door.

"I spoiled my last dress tie."

"Plenty in the top drawer of my bureau. Help yourself, old fruit."

"Thanks."

Jones went to the other's bedroom; to appear shortly afterward in the salon, his opera hat at the correct angle, his alcohol soddened face standing out above the immaculately white linen like a tuberby, red blotch, in his billfold an I. O. U. signed "Carmyon." Having gone almost by instinct through the pockets of Mustaffa Bek's coat flung across the bed, he had chosen it from a number of others, all bearing the same signature. At first he had thought it might have been given in payment by somebody at the Cercle Richelieu, the gambling club where Mustaffa took part in an occasional card game within the narrow financial limits set by his father But close examination had convinced him that the I. O. U. had been written quite recently not more than twelve hours ago, for the ink was too fresh, too pale, had not yet turned from blue to black.

Had Mustaffa been playing with the apaches who had kidnaped him, and whom he had described with such a wealth of detail? Carmyon? Strange name for an apache! Aristocratic English name.

Then, as he left the Ritz, Captain Jones remembered vaguely.

Carmyon! O, yes. Chap who was supposed to have had some terrific row with his cousin, the Duke of Hampshire. . . . Had served in the French army. . . . Was said to be desperately broke.

Eccentric chap, the boulevards gossiped.

Eccentric English aristocrats, in need of money, had been known to do quite mad things.

Such, for instance, as—kidnaping an oriental prince?

Well, he would find out.

And he did find out—something—that very night.

Chance, the blind madonna, played into his hands. Chance partly, at least, represented by Miss Sadie Hawkins—or rather by Miss Sadie Hawkins' insular British liking for pale ale and beefsteak and kidney pie.

She was the actress with whom he had the rendezvous, an English dancer doing a specialty turn in one of the French revues where everything was stolen, including the tuning of the bass viol.

He met her at the stage door of the Scala.

"The Abbaye?" he suggested for supper expansively. "Or Ugall's? A cold bird and a magnum of the boy?"

"No, dearie." She called everybody dearie. "I'm homesick."

"Too late to fly to London for a bite."

"But not too late to go to Jimmy Neale's place——"

"That dump?"

"My word—the pale ale there—the beefsteak and kidney pie—the bloaters—the pickled walnuts!"

"God bless the lower middle classes! All right. As you prefer!"

So they went to Jimmy Neale's, a nostalgically and dyspeptically British restaurant in the Rue de Clichy. They sat down in one of those small, intimate boxes into which the place was divided, and there Captain Jones made the brutally sentimental love of his kind—to interrupt himself suddenly as from the next box a woman's voice drifted in:

"Perhaps you're right after all, Lord Carmyon."

"About——?"

"The days of chivalry. Perhaps those days have not yet vanished altogether."

The speaker was Sultana Evelyn.

She had spent all the evening at her hotel, talking over her plans with the Three Musketeers. They had arranged to credit Mustaffa Bek with his half of the ransom money in a number of Paris banks, since a single large deposit might cause gossip. As to Evelyn's share—twenty-five million francs was an infinitesimal amount measured with the gigantic yardstick of modern European warfare. But warfare in central Asia was still primitive, thus cheap, while bribery, that adjunct of armed strife, was also fairly reasonable.

"I know half a dozen Moslem priests," Evelyn had added, not jestingly "who will preach Jehad, holy war, in my favor for as little as a thousand francs apiece."

"Delightful country!" Lord Carmyon had laughed.

It had been his suggestion, agreed to by the others, that Evelyn and her two faithful servants were to leave Paris on the following morning, proceed overland via Berlin and Vienna to Constantinople, and there take ship to the small Persian port of Charbar, not far from the Indian frontier So as to avoid suspicion, the Three Musketeers would travel there by a different route going to Calcutta aboard a P & O. steamer and traversing India. From Charbar, together, they would cross Persia by caravan into western Turkestan, the ancestral home of Prince Mehmet Tamerlanoff, where he still had a number of relatives among the native chiefs and khans.

At last—and a moot point if in jest or not—Evelyn had said: "Kneel down before me so that I may proclaim you my three brave, loyal knights."

They had knelt before her feet, and she had continued: "I have no sword with which to give you the proper accolade. So I must kiss you instead."

She had kissed L'Hommedieu: "Rise, Sir Knights!"

She had kissed Prince Tamerlanoff: "Rise, Sir Knights!"

And—her lips barely brushing his forehead because she liked him best—she had kissed Lord Carmyon: "Rise, Sir Knight!"

Then, suddenly, she had given an embarrassed little laugh; had exclaimed: "I'm so hungry I could eat stones. Let's go to some quiet place and have a bite."

At which, to his two friends' utter amazement, the Englishman had said: "Tamerlanoff and L'Hommedieu are unable to accept your charming invitation. They've a most important previous engagement." He had turned and stared at them stonily. "Haven't you?"

"Yes," they had mumbled weakly.

"But I," he had added, "shall be delighted to go. What about Jimmy Neale's place? Very quiet there."

And at Jimmy Neale's they were now; and Sultana Evelyn's voice was drifting into the next box:

"Perhaps you're right after all, Lord Carmyon . . ."

"Carmyon"—thought Captain Jones—"the name on the I. O. U. I'll take a look at him—and at the woman."

He rose. "Will you pardon me a moment, Sadie?"

"Yes, dearie."

He left, crossed into the bar, returned, and took a quick look into the next stall. He recognized Sultana Evelyn at once. And Lord Carmyon—this good looking blond young man—where had he seen him—somewhere—quite recently . . . ?

He wondered; speculated; tried to listen after he had sat down again at his table.

But he could not hear a word. For in the neighboring box the voices had dropped to a flat, indistinct undertone.

"That day when I saw you first, at the British embassy"—Lord Carmyon was telling her—"I had no idea who you were, so you must forgive me—"

"For what?"

"For speaking to you—a sultana, a queen—as I did. You—ah—you remember?"

"Yes." She smiled. "I remember very well. Didn't you say something—how did you put it?—about me being like, O, like one of those lovely symbols which, so very rarely, a great and good God shapes out of the shoddy stuff called life! I've a good memory, haven't I?" She paused, laughed, went on: "And didn't you say to—?" She interrupted herself. "Funny about my memory. Such a tricky memory. Suddenly I can't remember. Tell me again."

Ribbon Serial By Achmed Abdullah

"With words?"

"Is there another way, Lord Carmyon?"

"Yes."

"O?"

"With a song. The sort of song"—dreamily—"that would cause the thumping drums of the east to pall—would cause to pall the chill grimness of the north—a song like a healing sweetness on the wounded heart, the bitter heart, the lonely heart—a vibrant song of beauty shining as the sun. Ah—a song I shouldn't sing! For I—I repeat, I didn't know you were a sultana, a queen. You will forgive me?"

"Of course I forgive you," she replied.

And to herself she said:

"It isn't that you're a snob, dear, dear Freddie Carmyon. But you know so little about women, including queens. If I were not so fond of you I would call you a fool. O, well—perhaps I wouldn't be so fond of you if you weren't a fool."

* * * * *

It was very early the next morning—with the east beginning to flush with pink and orange shafts of light that put out the paling moon—and a few minutes before the Berlin-bound train would pull out of the station.

Lucky that the railway porter knew only French. For he was arguing with Gul-dur-Burram, Sultana Evelyn's old nurse, about the stowing away of bags and suitcases and bundles of magazines in the small compartment, and she showed even less than her usual lack of restraint.

bearded Arslan Khan was keeping a bearded Arelan Khan was keeping a watchful eye on Sultana Evelyn, who was walking up and down the platform with Lord Carmyon.

They were saying au revoir to each other. Or at least she was.

He was quite silent as he stared at her.

"Penny for your thoughts!" she challenged suddenly.

"I'm afraid they aren't worth that much."

She smiled.

She said to herself.

"Not worth a penny, are they? You are not very flattering, Freddie Carmyon. For I know perfectly well what you're thinking of. You're thinking of me!"

Aloud, mischievously, she asked:

"Where are my other two loyal knights?"

"They—O!—" he slurred.

"I suppose they are still busy with that same previous, important, mysterious engagement which kept them from having supper with me last night?"

"No. They're home."

"Then, what—?"

"Y'see, I didn't want them about—today—when you're going away—and I shan't see you again for weeks—"

"But," demurely, "why didn't you want them about?"

"Because—"

"Yes?"

"O—never mind!"

"I nearly had you there!" she thought. But she did not insist on an answer.

She saw how embarrassed he was and took pity on him and changed the conversation.

"Here," she said, giving him a piece of paper with a scribbled name and address. "Can you read my writing? Shukri Ali—he was one of my father's best friends—lives in Calcutta, in a little alley—forgot the name, but it's in the Coolootallah section, beyond the Machua Bazaar—you'll find it—you know Calcutta, don't you?"

"Rather! Shall I ever forget its smells? Seventy-seven of them! All different—and all bad!"

"Look up Shukri Ali when you get there. He may be valuable in case of need."

"Train for Cologne—Mayence—Frankfort—Berlin!" yelled the bearded, pompous stationmaster. "All aboard!"

He began going through the elaborate and intricate French ritual of dispatching a train—blowing his silver whistle, exchanging courtly salutes with the engineer, the conductors and the brakemen, again blowing his whistle—while Evelyn went on quickly:

"I had an idea late last night, after I got to my hotel. Captain Jones will be wondering why I am leaving Paris all at once. So I wired to a couple of the leading French dailies and told them—in a sort of hysterically feminine and ingenuous way—that, since England and the League of Nations are deaf to my pleas, I'm off to Berlin to try and interest the central European powers—offer them oil and mining concessions in payment for their help—and then on to Turkey to whisper a word to Kemal Pasha, the new champion of Asia—"

"Drawing a red herring across your trail?"

"Not a very pretty simile for a romantic young man! Still—I fancy that's about it."

"By jove—you are clever!"

She curtsied.

"Thank you, kind sir. You know—once Scotch, always—even after a few centuries in Central Asia."

Came the station master's strident whistle; his excited cry:

"All aboard! All aboard!"

He hurried over to the sultana.

"Mademoiselle, I implore you," he gesticulated, "the train is about to go."

"All right." She shook hands with Lord Carmyon. "Au revoir!"

Arslan Khan helped her on; and, a few seconds later, the train started, and she stood at the open window of her compartment, framed by her two servants.

She waved her handkerchief.

"Au revoir!"

"God bless you!" his voice rose above the steely roar and clatter, the belching, hissing steam.

"There," remarked Gul-dur-Burram with shameless oriental directness, pointing a finger at Carmyon, "is a man for whom a woman might well long with passion."

"What do you know of passion, O less than nothing?" laughed Arslan Khan.

So they squabbled as they always squabbled; and Evelyn paid no attention to them.

She hardly heard. She was listening to her own, secret thoughts. They said to her :

"I believe I love him. . . . oh, yes .... I believe I love him."

. . . I believe I love him."

Lord Carmyon stood there on the platform. He stared after the disappearing train. Then, when there was nothing visible except a faint puff of smoke, he left the station.

At a little nearby dairy Lord Carmyon breakfasted very well on coffee with real cream and boiled eggs and a couple of crisp crescent rolls, while, in his bedroom at the Ritz, Captain Evan Jones was also breakfasting—on a small cup of black coffee and a large glass of brandy.

It was his usual breakfast, though hours earlier than his usual time for it. But then he had a number of things to attend to today.

For late the night before, coming home from supping with Miss Sadie Hawkins, he had found a lengthy cablegram in code from Sultan Iskandar Bek, ordering him and Mustaffa Bek to return to Mervistan immediately and appointing the latter regent and Capt. Jones prime minister of Kivastan, which, that day, had officially been proclaimed part and parcel of the sultan's dominions. It went on to say that the vanguard of the Mervistan army had already crossed the western frontier into Kivastan and that—"for reasons of state"—Iskandar Bek had banished all foreigners from his country, besides taking the additional precaution of destroying the telegraph lines southwest to the Persian and south to the Afghan border. The present, in fact, was the last message which would travel along the wires for some time—until Kivastan was completely "pacified."

Captain Jones smiled sardonically as he read:

"For reasons of state."

"For reasons, more likely, of loot and rapine," he said to himself: "for reasons of foreknowledge of what the Mervistan troopers would do in Kivastan during the 'pacification' process; for reasons—if foreigners were eyewitnesses and used the telegraph lines to spread their tales—of the indignant outcries in the European and American press and the resulting reaction in favor of Sultana Evelyn."

Decidedly, benighted Asia was learning a few valuable lessons about propaganda—direct and indirect; was beginning to blend the psysical ruthlessness of the orient with the mental ruthlessness, also known as efficiency, of he occident.

He clapped his hands. Haydar, his native servant, appeared with the morning papers.

"Thanks."

"Anything else, saheb?"

"Give this cablegram to his royal highness."

He opened the Figaro. The front page carried what Evelyn had called her "hysterically feminine and ingenuous" message. Convincingly ingenuous. For he believed; was amused; felt even a little sorry for her.

To ask Germany for assistance—how utterly futile! Kaiser Wilhelm was in his Dutch exile, growing a beard, writing his memoirs, planting cabbages, no longer able to rattle his sword and bluff the world. And Kemal Pasha was a jingoistic, one hundred per cent Turkish nationalist who cared not what happened to the rest of Asia.

No. There was nobody who could or would help her. Kivastan was no more. The rulers of the House of Colin Mor Macdonnell had passed into the shadow; were today but a fantastic, picaresque historical legend.

He was in a happy mood as he pictured the future; prime minister of Kivastan and all the pickings that went with it. Some day he'd return to England; rich—important—his excellency—eventually, if he contributed enough funds to the political party in power, Sir Evan Jones. Then London would forget his past. Society, from Apsley house to Lambeth palace, from the Horse Guards' Tilt-Yard to Rotten Row, from the Oval to Newmarket Heath, would receive him with open arms. Money and a title. Best social medicine on earth.

Yes—he was happy; and, being happy, he was tolerant.

No longer did he speculate why, last night at Jimmy Neale's restaurant, Sultana Evelyn and Lord Carmyon had had their tete-a-tete. Why shouldn't they? Evidently they knew each other; were perhaps friends.

Perhaps more than friends—?

Ah!—Captain Jones sighed sentimentally—young love—how delightful.

Which reminded him: he must send a check to Miss Sadie Hawkns. Three thousand francs. No. Two thousand was plenty.

There remained still the question of the I. O. U's that bore Lord Carmyon's signature.

He had searched his brain; had vaguely remembered having seen Carmyon that night at the Caveau when he had taken a shrewd, quick look about the place; had also remembered the letter of warning which had been too genuine, too blood curdling, too apache.

Maybe the man was really implicated in the kidnaping. Quite like an eccentric British aristocrat to hold an oriental prince for ransom and to while away the boredom of the passing hours by playing cards with him . . . God bless the home of peers—always doing the unusual . . . Jones was a typical middle class Englishman—he dearly loved a lord.

No use asking Mustaffa Bek. He would have to own up having gone through his pockets, or would have to invent some rather fishy excuse; and he did not want the other more suspicious than he was already. On the contrary. He wanted to gain his confidence. For Mustaffa Bek was going to be regent of Kivastan and he prime minister—a prime minisfer, he had decided, who would also look after the national exchequer and desired no special supervision.

Very well—he thought, still in the same tolerant, happy mood—Carmyon was welcome to the money. After all, it was Russian money, bolshevist money. To the devil with the Muscovites! They would annex both Mervistan and Kivastan soon enough—but not before he had feathered his own nest.

Perhaps, a few years from now, as his excellency Sir Evan Jones, K. C. B., he would meet Lord Carmyon at some exclusive London club; would whisper in his ear:

"I say, old chap—I know how you recouped your family fortunes—you never fooled me! O—don't be afraid! Shan't give you away. Come up to my Yorkshire place for a fortnight's shootin'? Wales is going to be there—right-o—Prince of Wales—and a few assorted Scotch dukes—"

There, in his snobbery, was the man's one weakness; and thus, by the grace of a very just God, was he less dangerous than he would have been otherwise.

A few minutes later Mustaffa Bek, gorgeous in lavender silk pajamas and purple dressing robe, entered Jones' bedroom.

The latter was telephoning to the desk clerk.

"That's it," he was saying, "Reservations for all our party." He turned to Mustaffa Bek. "Just ordered tickets. We'll leave here Wednesday—day after tomorrow—for Marseilles. Catch the Saturday boat to Bombay—quickest way home."

"You think it's true," asked the other slowly, "about my father having destroyed the telegraph lines?"

"Yes. Nobody—consul or foreign newspaper correspondent or holier than thou missionary gent—will be able to interfere now, to poke a self-righteous nose into the sultan's affairs—to argue hypocritically about—O—his methods of pacifying Kivanstan. Clever man, your father!"

"Very."

"Rather different from his son—"

Continued on Page 16.

Woman's Role i

By Eva L

Noted Theatrical P

The Finishing Touch
From a Drawing by Morgan Dennis

MR. GORDON CRAIG states in one of his essays on the theater: "It is pitiful to read in the history of the theater of the wrecks women have made of many good managerialships which attempted to reach the Fortunate Isles. . . . Woman . . . beautiful, noble and unselfish as she often is in daily life, is a continual threat to the existence of art in the theater, and also to the successful management of the theater. . . . The unselfish women become the most selfish, the most egotistical, under the influence of public applause. . . . To achieve the reform of the theater, to bring it into the condition necessary for it to become a fine art, women must have first left the boards."

This is perhaps rather a long quotation from Mr. Craig, but anything he says is always interesting, and I find this point of view of his particularly so. I wonder what he means by it exactly, and how he arrived at what seems in this day and age such an antiquated opinion.

To start with, I think he should, in all fairness to women, point out the fact that they were allowed no participation in the noble beginnings of the theater for two main reasons. First of all, the beginnings of the theater, both in ancient Greece and in the Middle Ages sprang from religious ceremonies. The priests were the actors—the theater was conducted by the Church — therefore by men—and they ruled supreme.

Secondly, the importance of women in the community life was negligible—their existence being limited entirely to the care of house, husband and children, and they had no direct voice in the social and commercial activities.

It was not until the theater became ignoble and separate from religion that the lower types of women were allowed to participate in the performances which, both in the degenerate days of Rome and the Renaissance, were too often orgies of licentiousness.

It was not the women who prostituted the theater, but the theater, by lowering its standards and straying far from its initial lofty purpose, employed prostitutes to attract the crowd.

Far be it from me to contradict Mr. Craig's erudite statement, but, from my own experience in the theater, I have found that even more frequently than women, men have succumbed with disastrous effects on performance and management to "the influence of public applause." It seems to me that the root of the matter lies not in a difference of sex, but in a difference of attitude toward the work itself.

Certainly, the exaggerated stress laid upon personality by modern forms of publicity, the artificial focusing of the public attention upon one figure instead of upon the play itself, is disastrous to art in the theater. This unsalutary condition springs from the utter commercialization that has taken hold of the stage. The theater is too often thought of as the "show business." Well the "show business" is one thing, and has its place with other commodities of life, but the theater is very much something else.

To those who truly love it, it is a thing to be served with the utmost abnegation, humility and impersonality. Something to be cherished and fought for for its own sake and not for personal gain.

But surely there have been many women as well as men who have thus served the theater faithfully and well. And there

While the C

WOMAN'S Role i

By Eva L

Noted Theatrical P

erudite statement, but, from my own experience in the theater, I have found that even more frequently than women, men have succumbed with disastrous effects on performance and management to "the influence of public applause." It seems to me that the root of the matter lies not in a difference of sex, but in a difference of attitude toward the work itself.

Certainly, the exaggerated stress laid upon personality by modern forms of publicity, the artificial focusing of the public attention upon one figure instead of upon the play itself, is disastrous to art in the theater. This unsalutary condition springs from the utter commercialization that has taken hold of the stage. The theater is too often thought of as the "show business." Well the "show business" is one thing, and has its place with other commodities of life, but the theater is very much something else.

To those who truly love it, it is a thing to be served with the utmost abnegation, humility and impersonality. Something to be cherished and fought for for its own sake and not for personal gain.

But surely there have been many women as well as men who have thus served the theater faithfully and well. And there

The Finishing Touch
From a Drawing by Morgan Dennis

MR. GORDON CRAIG states in one of his essays on the theater: "It is pitiful to read in the history of the theater of the wrecks women have made of many good managerialships which attempted to reach the Fortunate Isles. . . . Woman . . . beautiful, noble and unselfish as she often is in daily life, is a continual threat to the existence of art in the theater, and also to the successful management of the theater. . . . The unselfish women become the most selfish, the most egotistical, under the influence of public applause. . . . To achieve the reform of the theater, to bring it into the condition necessary for it to become a fine art, women must have first left the boards."

This is perhaps rather a long quotation from Mr. Craig, but anything he says is always interesting, and I find this point of view of his particularly so. I wonder what he means by it exactly, and how he arrived at what seems in this day and age such an antiquated opinion.

To start with, I think he should, in all fairness to women, point out the fact that they were allowed no participation in the noble beginnings of the theater for two main reasons. First of all, the beginnings of the theater, both in ancient Greece and in the Middle Ages sprang from religious ceremonies. The priests were the actors—the theater was conducted by the Church — therefore by men—and they ruled supreme.

Secondly, the importance of women in the community life was negligible—their existence being limited entirely to the care of house, husband and children, and they had no direct voice in the social and commercial activities.

It was not until the theater became ignoble and separate from religion that the lower types of women were allowed to participate in the performances which, both in the degenerate days of Rome and the Renaissance, were too often orgies of licentiousness.

It was not the women who prostituted the theater, but the theater, by lowering its standards and straying far from its initial lofty purpose, employed prostitutes to attract the crowd.

Far be it from me to contradict Mr. Craig's

While the C

n the THEATER

e Gallienne

roducer and Actress

have been many men as well as women who have used it and abused it and desecrated it for their own ends.

It seems to me it comes down to a question of human nature, not of one sex or another

I am certainly not as familiar with the history of the theater as Mr. Craig, with his many years of passionate study, but I feel that even in history can be found examples of women's initiative and courage and loyalty to the art of the theater.

However, I am not learned enough to go into that. But, taking modern times, one is struck by the number of pioneers in the theater of the despised female sex. Often they have dared as much, seen as far as their male contemporaries, and they have frequently shown a greater practical capacity in carrying out their dreams and thus making them truly of some service to the community.

They have frequently stepped beyond theories and contributed in actual terms something to the life of the theater. Of course, their dreams and their theories may not have had the magnitude of the dreams and theories of men, but they have carried them out to a definite conclusion, which is in itself something of an achievement.

Eva Le Gallienne
From an Etching by Luigi Lucioni

ain Is Down
From a Drawing by Morgan Dennis

Miss Horniman, Lady Gregory, Mrs. Drew, Miss Bonstelle, the Misses Lewisohn, with very little fuss and much courage and faith and unerring loyalty, have made invaluable contributions to theater work. One certainly cannot accuse them of vanity or personal exploitation. Theirs has been a hard struggle and a definitely unselfish one.

Ibsen was introduced to this country by women: Mary Shaw and Mrs. Fiske, two great artists whom no one could accuse of "wrecking the art of the theater." In England Ibsen was introduced by a woman, Elizabeth Robins, at a time when these plays were looked upon as insane filth, unfit for the eyes and ears of decent people. There has been no lack of courage that one can see.

And now, when men and women are practically on the same footing, when the prejudices against women are growing daily less, the field of women's work in the theater grows even wider.

Now, it is not merely a question of being an actress. There are inexhaustible possibilities. Stage management, for instance; scenic designing, costuming, as well as the innumerable openings in the executive and managerial end of things.

I have often heard directors say that they would rather have a woman stage manager than a man. They are found to be more conscientious, more executive. The uncomplimentary remarks about "woman's excessive attention to detail" in this case lose their sting, as this same "attention to detail" is found to be an invaluable asset. For the stage manager's job is one of meticulous attention to small things which go to make up the perfect whole.

One last word I would like to say to the women in the homes, the women with families, children, the mothers of the younger generation—they can do much for the theater of the future by instilling in their children a longing for the beautiful, an understanding of what the theater could contribute in the way of mental and spiritual stimulation, were it only allowed to, and by creating in the new generation a demand for finer things, thereby automatically compelling the answering supply.

Riding the Whirlwind

-:- Continued from Page 4

tiously into the bathroom. From the corner of his eye he saw Lucy patting into shape the davenport pillows. When, after a leisurely bath and shave, he strolled toward the kitchen, a spring breeze puffed out the silk curtains of the living room windows, and a steady murmur came from the closed door of Mother Trotter's room, her voice and Lena's.

Virginia sat demurely at the kitchen window, her eyes wary, expectant. Lucy turned from the stove, almost as if she dreaded to look at him. Walter pricked up his nose. That smelled like—it was!—real coffee! He sat down, looking at Lucy. The cords of her smooth white neck were tense; the clash of confused, struggling impulses spilled sudden color into her pale face.

"Say it," urged Walter, as he started on his orange.

Lucy dropped on to the bench opposite him, her hands clutched in her lap so tightly her shoulders trembled.

"If you—" her voice hummed—"if you'd only said you had to have that room—instead of in-insulting them that way—w-with mules right on the phono—"

"Graph?" finished Walter. "You knew I wanted it. I had to work last night. Couldn't wait to explain."

"Locking the door. I wanted to speak to you."

"Yeuh. I was awful busy." Walter poured cream over his breakfast food.

"You aren't sick." Lucy glanced helplessly at Virginia. She couldn't just bust out, with the child there, thought Walter.

"Never better. Hurry up, Jinny. I got to make a good start this morning. O, that's so, it's Saturday and no school. That's good coffee, Lucy." He smacked his lips and set down the cup as Lucy dabbed at her eyes with the fringed yellow napkin. He didn't want her to cry. Steady, now; he heard a warning whisper; don't spoil everything.

"Can I have some more?" he said, loudly, and Lucy refilled his cup, her face averted.

"You didn't even put up the car," she said. "I just wanted to tell you that, last night."

"Why, so I didn't! What do you think of that?" He drained the second cup, left his napkin in a rumpled wad, and rose. Should he tell her, or wait till he saw Simons, and things were settled? He patted her shoulder and opened the hall closet for his coat. From that inner room came the low murmur, a little intermittent now. Going to stay under cover till he went, were they? He chuckled as he pulled on his coat. Suddenly Lucy flung herself at him, her hands gripping his arms.

"Are you—really all right?" She shook at his coat sleeves, her face quite pale again, tears in her gold lashes.

"Sure." Walter kissed her. Not the usual morning kiss, but one with savor; tear salted, he thought, as Lucy pulled away, darting back into the kitchen.

"Good-by, Jinny!" he bent for a hug from his daughter.

Yes, there was the car, trickles of night moisture on its hood. Too bad Jinny wasn't riding down with him; she'd appreciate the way he cut ahead of that truck—try to take his right of way, would it? How that clear air sang in his ears!

Walter drew up in front of the office. He'd made good time this morning; Clement wasn't in yet. He nodded carelessly to Miss Emmons, found the office boy staring at him with a queer duplication of the look in Lucy's eyes. He must have overheard that final conversation with Clement yesterday.

Walter pulled the telephone bracket toward him as he sat down. He'd call up Simons' shop and have a package made of the things he wanted. Simons might have some more news.

Then what Simons said was battery acid dropping on the surface of Walter Morgan's confidence. He had spoken too soon. The directors weren't ready to take the first patent. The failure of that other company had scared them. They wanted to wait until Morgan had perfected the elimination.

"Hello, Morgan? You there? You hear me?"

"O, my God, yes!" said Walter, his tongue ash coated. "Hear you?"

"They're keen about it. Want to keep the option. But they're scared, see? I told 'em another week, maybe. I'll send your bundle round for you."

Walter hung up the instrument gingerly, as if it were hot. He collapsed a little in his chair, his chin down on his necktie. He was spinning round and round the sloping sides of a black eddy, down swiftly to the bottom of the vortex. What a fool, what a fool he'd been! Thinking he was something, was something. He lifted his head, queer lines of white under his dilated pupils, his nostrils wide. Drunk, crazy, and now? The light at the front of the room seemed obscured; as his eyes focused he saw that Clement and Arner were standing before the window.

The office boy thrust his face into Walter's line of vision. "Mister Clement says will you come down front."

Walter dragged one hand over his chair and slowly pushed up to his feet. Wanted to fire him, like as not. After what he'd said yesterday. He rocked an instant on his heels, dizzy from the cataclysmic, whirling descent; then he walked the length of the office, trying to ease his shoulders back.

"Arner's been telling me," Clement's tone was suave, man to man, "that he's thought over you talk yesterday."

Thought it over! Walter looked at the cigar that dragged down a corner of Arner's hard mouth. Thought it over, like the rest of the world, and this was the morning after.

"He wants to take the opposite corner, too, in his wife's name. He says"—did Clement wink, or was it a trick of Walter's eyes?—"that if half you said is so he can't afford not to take it. I told him you'd make out the papers, it was your deal. Just have Miss Emmons run off the deeds."

Miss Emmons produced the proper papers. She could take it right on her machine if Mr. Morgan didn't mind coming back to her desk. Walter sat beside her, under cover of her tapping, instructing her with the top of his mind, while the rest of it moved slowly into position to consider himself. He brushed aside the long cigar Arner offered. A puff of that would complete the upheaval under his vest.

For the sum of a dollar and other valuable considerations . . . party of the first part . . . The phrases had a soothing effect.

"What's your wife's name?" Walter's throat was so dry he miscalculated his pitch and the words roared out so that Arner's bulk quivered to attention.

"Samantha," he offered, almost apologetically.

"Sam . . . spell it," said Walter, and as Arner obeyed Walter felt laughter creeping up through his disordered interior. It was funny. Funnier than anything he ever heard of. As if he'd fallen over a precipice, down an elevator shaft, and these men didn't know it. They thought he was still on the top floor, on the mountain peak. They hadn't missed him, hadn't seen his mangled remains!

At any moment Arner would find him out, or Clement. He tested their blindness.

"You'll have to get your wife's signature and have this back here early Monday. Can't have any delay." To which Arner hauled out his check book, his pen imbedded anxiously in his fat hand. "Name your sum. I'll pay it all down if you like, and you can call the bank."

When Arner had gone Clement laid on Walter's desk a check from the firm. Walter stared at it. Some time since he'd seen his name on a check for four figures. He laid it in his shabby billfold, and as he returned it to his pocket his fingers touched the familiar edge of his notebook. The directors wanted to wait. His face muscles sagged and he chewed on his lower lip. He was tired, flat tired.

"They're interested," Simons had insisted. "They just want to wait till you finish perfecting." Last night he'd been sure he was on the right track. He drove automatically, engrossed in his misery, until he started across a traffic signal. The sardonic inquiries of the officer reduced him to a cautious snail on wheels.

He stood a moment at the apartment door before he rang. In his ears buzzed that hostile murmur he had heard at breakfast. He'd have a hard time placating three women. No one answered his ring. He found his own key and let himself in. Quiet, empty, with a glimpse of sunlit river far below the living room windows. He dropped his package in a corner of the hall, hung away his coat, half listening as if he expected some one to pounce at him. They were all out.

He'd neglected to stop for any lunch. Maybe if he ate something he could pull himself together. He was sawing off a slice of bread when the door clicked. He turned, the knife in his hands the only defensive note in his whole appearance. Lucy was there, the green bowl of her hat a charming calyx for her face, and Jinny at her heels. No one else before the door closed.

"O, you haven't had your lunch! Wait a second." She flew into the next room in some vibration of excitement. Virginia tiptoed to her father's side, hugging his arm.

"We went to the train with them," she whispered. "Grandma said she wouldn't have believed her own daughter would say she outstayed her welcome, and Aunt Lena—"

"Virginia!" Lucy's voice had an overtone of suspicion. "Come take off your things." In another minute Lucy returned to the kitchen door, her hands busy with the button on her gay apron. Walter had straightened his limp shoulders, and his hand tightened over the handle of the carving knife.

"Did Virginia tell you—?" Lucy was breathless, engrossed in her button. "I thought I heard her—"

"Is it true? Have they gone?" He saw Lucy waver, as if she tried to choose among varying emotions. Perhaps that knife made him seem formidable.

"They've gone to Atlantic City for a week or so, before they go back to Denver. Lena—well, I told her you had some rights, and she must admit you'd been very patient, and she couldn't talk that way about my husband. Here, let me cut that bread." She pried the knife from his fingers, her eyelids down softly against her cheeks. "When relatives stay too long, they really forget it's not their own house. And after all—"

Walter settled on the bench beside the table, his eyes squinting a little as he watched Lucy's deftness with his sandwich.

"Would you like coffee?" She set the plate before him, her fingers brushing his shoulder.

"No, not this time." Walter spoke in a loud, magnanimous voice. "I want to get to work. I'm on the track of a real discovery. A real one," he added, as Virginia appeared at the doorway, her dark head cocked like a wise little bird.

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

TOBACCO

Or Snuff Habit Cured Or No Pay

Superba Tobacco Remedy destroys all craving for Cigarettes, Cigars, Pipe, Chewing or Snuff. Original and only remedy of its kind. Used by over 500,000 Men and Women. Perfectly harmless. Full treatment sent on trial. Costs $1.50 if it cures. Costs nothing if it fails. Write today for complete treatment.

SUPERBA CO. N86. BALTIMORE, MD.

Don't Be Fat

Thousands Astounded by This Wonderful Easy Treatment Which Often Takes Off Fat as Rapidly as a Pound a Day

Try It FREE

Many a community throughout the United States has been oddly puzzled to see one or more of its members quickly reduce from a state of awkward obesity to normal weight with a trim youthful figure

In many cases, the change has come so rapidly, yet without any apparent reason, that the result has been the subject of common gossip. What have these men and women done? How did they accomplish this miracle and still manage to keep themselves in robust health?

The answer is given here. If you are overweight and if you seem unable to remedy the condition, do what these thousands of others have done. You will be amazed and delighted with the results.

No one—man or woman—need hesitate to use the F. J. Kellogg Treatment if their aim is to reduce. No tedious exercising with its resultant discomfort—no denying yourself the foods you crave and enjoy. Because of the surprising results obtained, and the fact that reduction of weight is in most cases permanent, this sane, simple treatment is fast supplanting all rigorous and unpleasant methods.

But do not take our word for it. Send for your free trial package, mailed in plain sealed wrapper. We want every fat person to test the F. J. Kellogg Treatment. That's what this coupon is for. Use it—Now!

FREE TRIAL COUPON

F. J. KELLOGG COMPANY,
2476 Elizabeth Building,
Battle Creek, Mich.

Please send me by mail in a plain wrapper your Free Trial package of F. J. Kellogg's Rational Treatment for Obesity.

Name.....

R. F. D. or
Street No .....

City..... State.....

When Justice Triumphed

Eternal Triangle Plays Part in Shack in New Jersey — X-Ray Find Turns Love Story Into Murder Charge

IF Edward Raser had really died of heart failure, this would be merely a rural love story. But as it happened, an X-ray was taken of Raser's body seven months after he died and a foreign substance stood out in the photograph. The foreign substance happened to be a .38-caliber bullet.

The locale of the story is Sussex county, in the extreme northwestern part of New Jersey, a hilly farming region within sight of the lovely Pocono mountains in Pennsylvania. The chief characters are: Raser, a not overhealthy man of 42; his wife, Sadie, an ungainly, plain-featured woman of 40, and the brawny Franklin Van Sickle, 35.

Raser and his wife had been married twenty years and had reared four children. They lived in a dilapidated, weather-beaten dwelling, more like a cabin than a cottage, in a remote corner of Sandystone township, near Newton, N. J. Raser was a caretaker for the Flat Brook Valley Country club near by, on the New Jersey state fishing preserve.

Van Sickle, a thick-set, powerful man, rather good-looking, with a rosy complexion and huge hands, had been a farmhand, then a guard on the state preserve. He lived with his parents about four miles from the Raser home. For a time, from July to September, 1924, he had boarded with the Rasers.

He had boarded with the Rasers—and before that period and afterward, he had visited there, being a friend and neighbor.

(NEWS photo)
Mrs. Sadie Raser

On several occasions he had happened to be present when Raser had become ill. The husband had long suffered from heart failure, but these illnesses seemed to have more to do with a disordered stomach.

The Fateful Evening.

But each time he recovered without the need of calling in a doctor. Van Sickle complimented Raser on his vitality. Raser declared proudly that it would take a lot more than an attack of stomach trouble to kill him.

So we come to the evening of September 26, 1925, when Edward Raser failed to come home to dinner.

Mrs. Raser waited for him and then at last notified relatives, saying that she was worried about Edward. He had left for work as usual that morning and had not come back. He had said he wasn't feeling so awfully well. Perhaps . . .

Among others, Mrs. Raser's brother, William Heater, set out to look for the husband. Within half an hour Heater found him, dead. The body was found near a wood pile on the club grounds. It lay face upward, the back resting against a stump, jagged with spikes. The man's shirt was bloody. He had been wounded in the back.

Mrs. Raser was informed, and the coroner, Clarence De Hart. Mrs. Raser told the coroner that her husband had suffered from heart attacks. The coroner concluded that Raser had dropped dead from heart failure, and that the wound in his back had been caused by one of the spikes of wood in the stump.

Coroner De Hart so recorded the death.

In the meanwhile, it is interesting to recall, a young woman of Queens Village, L. I., was carrying on an affair with a corset salesman the while she paid heavy premiums on her husband's life insurance.

Frank Van Sickle continued to visit the bereaved Raser household after the funeral, and as the weeks and months passed this interest of Van Sickle in the widow and her interest in him aroused the curiosity of the community. Particularly it interested members of the dead man's family.

Then, in January, 1926, Van Sickle left the township without telling any one where he was going. Some weeks later Mrs. Raser, too, left the township without telling any one where she was going, taking her 12-year-old daughter, Frieda, with her.

A "Foreign Substance."

Town talk at once linked the two events. It went further; it linked the two departures with the death the previous September. The people of the community and the members of the dead man's family recalled the wound in the man's back, from which so much blood had flowed.

Warren Raser, a brother, remembered that Ed had quarreled with Van Sickle a few days before the tragedy. Warren had understood that the quarrel had been in connection with an unpaid board bill of $30.

Coroner De Hart was questioned. He admitted he hadn't examined the body quite as thoroughly as he might. That wound in the back, for instance, might have been more than a wound caused by a splinter.

Finally it was decided to exhume the body.

The exhumation took place on April 25, 1926, and X-ray photographs were taken of the disinterred body. The photographs revealed what the doctors called a "foreign substance." It stood out on the photographs—a black spot somewhere under the shoulder blades. Then came the autopsy—and the announcement that the foreign substance was a .38-caliber rifle bullet.

So Edward Raser hadn't died of heart failure, after all.

The county authorities decided they would very much like to have a little talk with Mrs. Sadie Raser and her muscular friend Frank. They notified the state police, asking them to look for the pair. But Sadie and Frank could not be located. They had neglected to tell any one where they were going; not even members of their own families, it was said.

Months passed. The young woman in Queens Village, L. I., continued her affair with the corset salesman, the while she paid heavy premiums on her husband's life insurance. The husband several times became deathly ill, as though he had eaten something that didn't agree with him, and finally, early in the morning of March 20, 1927, the husband was killed. And presently Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray were held for murder.

(NEWS photo)
Franklin Van Sickle

Somewhere two other much-sought-after lovers must have read about the Snyder case and noted how like it was to their own affair. Perhaps they wondered how long it would be before they, too, would be found out and—held for murder. Or did they imagine they were forever safe?

Two more weeks and then—the break.

The break came on April 4, when a motorist drove an automobile into a glass window of a garage at Ross' Corner N. J. A state trooper appeared on the scene and at once recognized the motorist. He was the missing Frank Van Sickle.

Placed under arrest at once, Van Sickle informed Sheriff Peter H. Lanterman that he and Mrs. Raser had been living on a farm in Unionville, N. Y., just over the state line, he as a farmhand and she as a housekeeper. He admitted that he was in love with Mrs. Raser, but denied that he had killed her husband.

(NEWS photo)
Mrs. Raser leads Sheriff Lanterman in search for bottle of poisoned wine her husband had tasted.

As the woman was outside the jurisdiction of New Jersey, the police decided to lure her into the state. They called her on the telephone, told her that Van Sickle had been killed in an automobile accident, and asked her to come and identify the body. They said they had found her name and telephone number in his pocket.

Mrs. Raser came and was arrested.

Lodged in the Sussex county jail, the widow swore that she was innocent. She spoke monotonously of her husband's death in the clipped country speech of the region. She said she had spent the day preserving peaches. She and her husband had always got along all right—she had no reason to wish him dead.

"We really never quarreled," she said. "They never told me he had been killed until long afterward. I don't see why they brought me here, put me in jail."

Suddenly she wept.

"Why didn't they tell me?" she asked. "My baby's got nobody to take care of it right, and my son Chester ain't got anybody to do the washing or cooking. I don't know anything about this thing. I swear by God I'm innocent!"

Van Sickle, lodged in a cell on the floor below Mrs. Raser, asserted he was helping his mother and sister make a bed quilt on the day of the murder. He never knew Ed was dead until the next day, he said. He took the charge stolidly, but his eyes were uneasy.

According to the sheriff, the two had visited a hotel in Newton soon after Raser's death. Mrs. Raser admitted she went to the hotel, but said she went there because she had a headache and stayed only a short while.

The Note.

Prosecutor George R. Vaughan centered his attack upon the woman, treating her gently, but questioning her interminably. Van Sickle was given to understand that Mrs. Raser was slowly breaking under the pressure of questions. It made him desperate.

"For God's sake don't tell on me!" he scribbled on a piece of paper. "Tell one story and stick to it!"

The message was delivered to Mrs. Raser—or rather a copy of the message was delivered to her. And this was followed by other desperate appeals to the woman to hold firm.

But the widow's tongue was not to be stopped.

On April 12 Mrs. Raser confessed that Van Sickle killed her husband after they had plotted the man's death for months, and even made several attempts to poison him.

Wrote Van Sickle:

"I can't believe that you will tell everything from beginning to end. You told me once that you would never give me away in any of this, and I can't believe that you have."

The woman's reply to this, according to Vaughan, was:

"It is as I have told you. You must answer for yourself. I have trouble enough. You can speak for yourself, Frank. I have confessed all, so you will have to talk for yourself."

Mrs. Raser accompanied the sheriff and State Trooper Dennis Walsh, who had arrested Van Sickle, to her home

Continued on Page 12.

Broadway Banter

—By—
FORNEY WYLY

KATHERINE WILSON makes her first Broadway appearance of the year in a new play by Vincent Lawrence, bafflingly called "A Distant Drum." This is the same Mr. Lawrence who is responsible for "In Love With You," and "Two Fellows and a Girl;" and there was every reason to suspect "A Distant Drum" would be a lot better than it is.

Not that for two acts this play is not as smart and adult a comedy as is to be found in town. But the third act collapses so completely that it tears down all that the first two had built up.

At last do we find Miss Wilson cast in a drawing-room play. Here we have an actress obviously capable of playing fashionable parts who has heretofore been a feted member of the shop-girl set. And don't for an instant think that Miss Wilson doesn't look stunning in the smart trappings she wears in this play. Her performance of a rather difficult role is well-balanced and interesting.

Louis Calhern is the man and Mary Newcombe the other woman. If only at the end of Act II some thoughtful soul would scream "Fire!" you could then leave the theater thinking you were in the midst of a dog-gone good play.

* * * *

The Ulric Atkinsons and Palmer Dallis as I predicted were there and seemed to find Miss Wilson and the play delightful. There was a time the know-it-alls will remember that Katherine and Pat Phelan did a lot of running around together.

As is customary at one of Miss Wilson's openings, her dressing-room was a bower of orchids and gardenias. Just as at weddings I am most interested in the cards on the presents, so was I busily engaged in trying to find out who sent which flowers. My studied but seemingly casual inquiry as to what flowers a certain person from Hollywood sent was the final cause, I think, of my ejection from the room.

* * * *

"Excess Baggage" is one of the few of that torrent of plays which poured down on Broadway during Christmas week which caught on and is still with us. If you liked "Burlesque" you'll probably like "Excess Baggage," for they're a lot alike. On second thought, if you liked "Burlesque" you probably won't like "Excess Baggage," for maybe you only wanted to see "Burlesque" once.

To me "Excess Baggage" is a moving play with touches here and there of real pathos. It provides a real thrill in the last act when our hero, a tight-rope walker, walks his rope from the top balcony of the theater to the stage over the astonished and terrified heads of the audience.

It's all about a man and his wife who do an act together in vaudeville. She gets a chance to go into pictures and he can't bring himself to do the slide from the balcony unless he knows she is waiting at the foot for him. I don't think it possible for you to be bored at "Excess Baggage." So why not loosen up a bit and see it?

* * * *

The Winter Garden is now in the throes of another "Artists and Models" revue and an exceptionally entertaining one, too. It has Florence Moore's riotous tomfoolery to make up for having to watch Ted Lewis make his tiresome racket. It has a funny comedian in Jack Pearl who can almost—not quite—make you forget you've just gone through a few moments of Jack Osterman. There's a whole load of Winter Garden dancers who get themselves all mixed up in intricate formations only to emerge unharmed and smiling. The music is tuneful and the costumes interesting. Further this is a revue which never relaxes. If there comes something or somebody you're not so keen about, they're gone before you get seriously annoyed.

"Artists and Models" is a good revue for the more restless of the Nervous Wrecks.

* * * *

New York singularly enough seems to expect all persons invited to a masquerade ball to come in masquerades. This was particularly painful for me to learn as I spent so many years of my life in Atlanta wandering around fancy dress balls in nothing more disguising than a dinner coat. There I always seemed to find a few others who like myself were spoiling the ensemble by failing to wear a masquerade. At Ezra Winter's Costume Ball at his apartment on the roof of the Grand Central Station I put in an appearance in an up-one-flight - and - save - ten - dollars dinner coat, confident that I would there find a few other blots on the scene. Not another was present. A nearby friend, evidently fearing for my safety, seized one of those Hussar's hat that musical comedy soldiers wear and rammed it on my head. I then waltzed about in my dinner coat and Hussar hat, the puzzled guests joining me in wondering what I was supposed to be.

Neysa McMein, at whose party I had been prior to Mr. Winter's, passed me in dance traffic and promptly noticed the snappy head gear I was holding up.

"You would have found that," she said, "and I'd go so far as to bet before the evening's over you'll have a complete costume."

By the way, I tried not to be impressed by the fact that Cathleen Vanderbilt Cushing and the Cosmo Hamiltons were guests at this party.

When Justice Triumphed

Continued from Page 11

and pointed out where she had thrown a bottle of poisoned wine her husband had tasted. He had been ill, but not seriously enough. Later the rifle with which the crime was committed was found under a log back of the Van Sickle home.

And finally, on April 21, Van Sickle confessed.

He said Mrs. Raser had urged him—Ruth Snyder fashion—to hesitate at nothing to get her husband out of the way. He said they had tried arsenic and wood alcohol before finally resorting to a gun—as Ruth and Judd had finally resorted to a window weight.

Powdered arsenic was mixed with salmon served by Mrs. Raser in the first attempt, he said. The second attempt was by mixing wood alcohol in dandelion wine. Each time Raser became ill.

Van Sickle signed the following statement:

"At 12:30 in the afternoon of September 28, 1925, I took Robert Spencer's .38-caliber rifle and three cartridges and I went to Horn Duck Ridge and crossed the fields to Pine Hill. Here I saw Edward Raser pilling up wood in the clearing. I stood behind a tree and ,bracing the rifle against it, fired. I hit Edward Raser. I saw him turn and start to run in the direction opposite from me. He reeled and fell.

"I went home and ate supper and sat around until bedtime. Then I went to bed."

After he had answered all the questions asked him, and while he was being led back to his cell, Van Sickle said to the sheriff:

"Will you tell Mrs. Raser never to marry and to remain single? And tell her that when I have served my prison sentence and come out a free man we will get married. Tell her I love her very much even if she was the first to tell."

The trial of Van Sickle, the third ever held in Sussex county, opened on May 10 before Supreme Justice Charles C. Black and County Judge Ackerson J. Mackerly, with five women in the jury. The charge against him was murder, while the charge against the widow was conspiracy to murder.

Mrs. Raser took the stand as a state witness and asserted she threw away the poison Van Sickle had bought for her husband. She asserted also that she had known nothing about her lover's plans to shoot Raser.

In contradiction, however, there was a note Van Sickle had written her in jail. It read:

"Sadie: I am going to tell nothing only the truth as you want me to. It don't say that you did not see me put the poison in his salmon for you did. Think Sadie that you are sending me to prison for life!

"Thirty years more and you go free. I hate to see you go to prison the worst way. I am going to serve my time so you can go free if you do as I have said, as ever, Frank."

On the stand Van Sickle asserted the woman had said, "Go and do it!" another parallel to the Snyder case. He said that he was an epileptic, that he had had as many as nine seizures in one day. He said his head had hurt him for two days before the killing.

On May 11 the jury found the defendant guilty and recommended mercy. Justice Black immediately sentenced Van Sickle to life imprisonment.

Before leaving for state prison he wrote as follows to the woman:

"I have no hard feeling for you at all. I don't want to leave you and have you think that we are bad friends, for I am not. I have just as much sympathy and love for you as I've ever had, and hope you will have the same for me. We will never live to see each other's faces again, so I hope Pete (Sheriff Lanterman) lets me see you before I go and lets me bid you goodby.

"Take good care of yourself and I will do the same.

"I want to remain a friend of yours the rest of my days, and hope that you are a friend of mine. Life in prison means that we can never see each other again, but if you ever have a chance come and see me as a true friend. Ever your friend, Frank.

P. S.—Goodby, goodby!"

The sheriff brought Mrs. Raser to Van Sickle's cell before he left for Trenton. She sobbed hysterically. He tried to calm her. "I think, Sadie," he said, "that as you've brought me to this, you ought to pay some of the penalty."

Given One Jail Term.

On May 14 Mrs. Raser pleaded guilty to three indictments charging her with "advocating the taking of a life," "attempting to poison by arsenic," and "attempting to poison by strychnine."

She was sentenced to serve 35 years in state prison.

In the meanwhile, just five days before Mrs. Raser pleaded guilty, the young woman of Queens Village, L. I., had been found guilty of murder in the first degree. And on the day before Mrs. Raser pleaded guilty the young woman was sentenced to die in the electric chair.

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

LIQUOR or DRUG HABIT
Cured Forever or No Pay
Full treatment sent on trial. Can be given secretly in privacy of home. Guaranteed to banish forever all desire for whiskey, gin, wine, home brew, moonshine, opium, morphine, heroin, paregoric and laudanum. Costs $2.00 if cures, nothing if fails. Save him from Poison.
STANDARD LABORATORIES
Station N-92 Baltimore, Md.

Life's Secrets!
Amazing book, "Safe Counsel," tells you the things you want to know about sex matters, straight from the shoulder. Gives advice to newly married. Explains anatomy of reproductive organs, impotence, laws of Sex-Life, mistakes to avoid, disease, pregnancy, etc. Contains 9 startling sections: 1—Science of Eugenics, 2—Love, 3—Marriage, 4—Child-birth, 5—Family Life, 6—Sexual Science, 7—Diseases and Disorders, 8—Health and Hygiene, 9—Story of Life. In all, 104 chapters, 77 illustrations, 512 pages. Over a million copies sold. Will you examine at our risk? Mailed in a plain wrapper.

Send No Money
Write for your copy today. Don't send a cent. Pay postman only $1.98, plus postage, on arrival. Money refunded if not satisfactory.
FRANKLIN PUBLISHING CO.,
Dept. 9133 800 N. Clark St., Chicago, Ill.

30 DAY TRIAL ONLY $1.99
High Grade Sterling Barber Outfit. Cuts, Trims, Bobs. Smooth Acting, Close Cutting, Steel Clippers. Fine Barber Comb and Shears. Send No Money. Pay Postman $1.99 and postage. Use 30 Days; if not satisfied, return in good condition and purchase price will be refunded. STERLING CO. NB-194 BALTIMORE, MD.

SPECTACLES ON 60 DAYS TRIAL
GUARANTEED for 5 Years

© 1927
NON-BREAKABLE
SEND NO MONEY
Perfect Satisfaction Guaranteed
MAIL COUPON TODAY
Let us send you on 60 DAYS' TRIAL my famous non-breakable, beautiful Harvard Style Spectacles with Clear-Vision Lenses and all Zylonite Frame. Will enable you to read the smallest print, thread the finest needle, see FAR or NEAR. If you are not amazed and delighted, if you do not think my Spectacles at only $3.98 equal to those sold elsewhere at $15.00, send them back. You won't lose a cent. You are to be the sole judge. Hundreds of thousands now in use everywhere. Beautiful case included FREE. Just send your name, address and age on the coupon opposite. I will also tell you how to get a pair for yourself without cost.
Consumers Spectacle Co., Jackson & Laflin St., Dept. N.H.3862 Chicago, Illinois.
I want to try your Spectacles for 60 days. This places me under no obligations. Also please tell me how to get a pair for myself FREE.
Name.....Age.....
Address.....
Town.....State.....

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION'S

YOUNG FOLKS SECTION

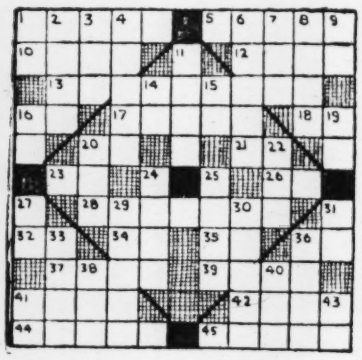

Features of All Kinds for Boys and Girls

THE PUZZLE CORNER

The big league teams will be leaving for their training quarters very soon now, so this week we have a puzzle about baseball. See the diamond in the design? Lots of good words, too!

—1—

PLAY BALL!

The definitions are:

Horizontal.

1. Part of the infield.
5. Where baseball is played.
10. Certain.
12. Necessity.
13. Spheres used in playing baseball.
16. Part of verb to be.
17. Article of furniture.
18. Toward.
20. We.
21. Famous ball player's nickname.
23. Part of verb to be.
26. Measure of type.
28. Members of a baseball team.
32. Near.
34. Neuter pronoun.
35. Royal order (abbr.)
36. As.
37. Scores in baseball.
39. A short infield grounder.
41. Socks worn by ball players.
42. A group of ball players.
44. Severe.
45. Judea.

Vertical.

1. Steamer (abbr.)
2. Center of a wheel (pl.)
3. A girl's name.
4. Sleeps.
6. An entrance.
7. Elongated fish.
8. For fear that.
9. Perform.
11. A priest.
14. Each (abbr.)
15. Boy's nickname.
16. Within.
19. Possessive pronoun.
20. Umpire.
22. Affirmative.
24. Weapons of attack in baseball.
25. Native of Serbia.
27. Laughing noise.
29. A long, low hit.
30. Road.
31. Move.
33. To run slowly.
36. Valuable player.
38. Utilize.
40. Fresh.
41. High school (abbr.)
43. Belonging to me.

—2—

In these word chains, change one word to another, changing one letter at a time and always making a complete word.

Change HARD to SOFT in six moves.

—3—

This is a word pyramid, which is really just half a word diamond, with which you are familiar! The second line across means postpone, and the third to allow. The second line vertically is an abbreviation for a highway, the third is a fish, the fifth is to consume, and the sixth is the abbreviation of a state. Try it!

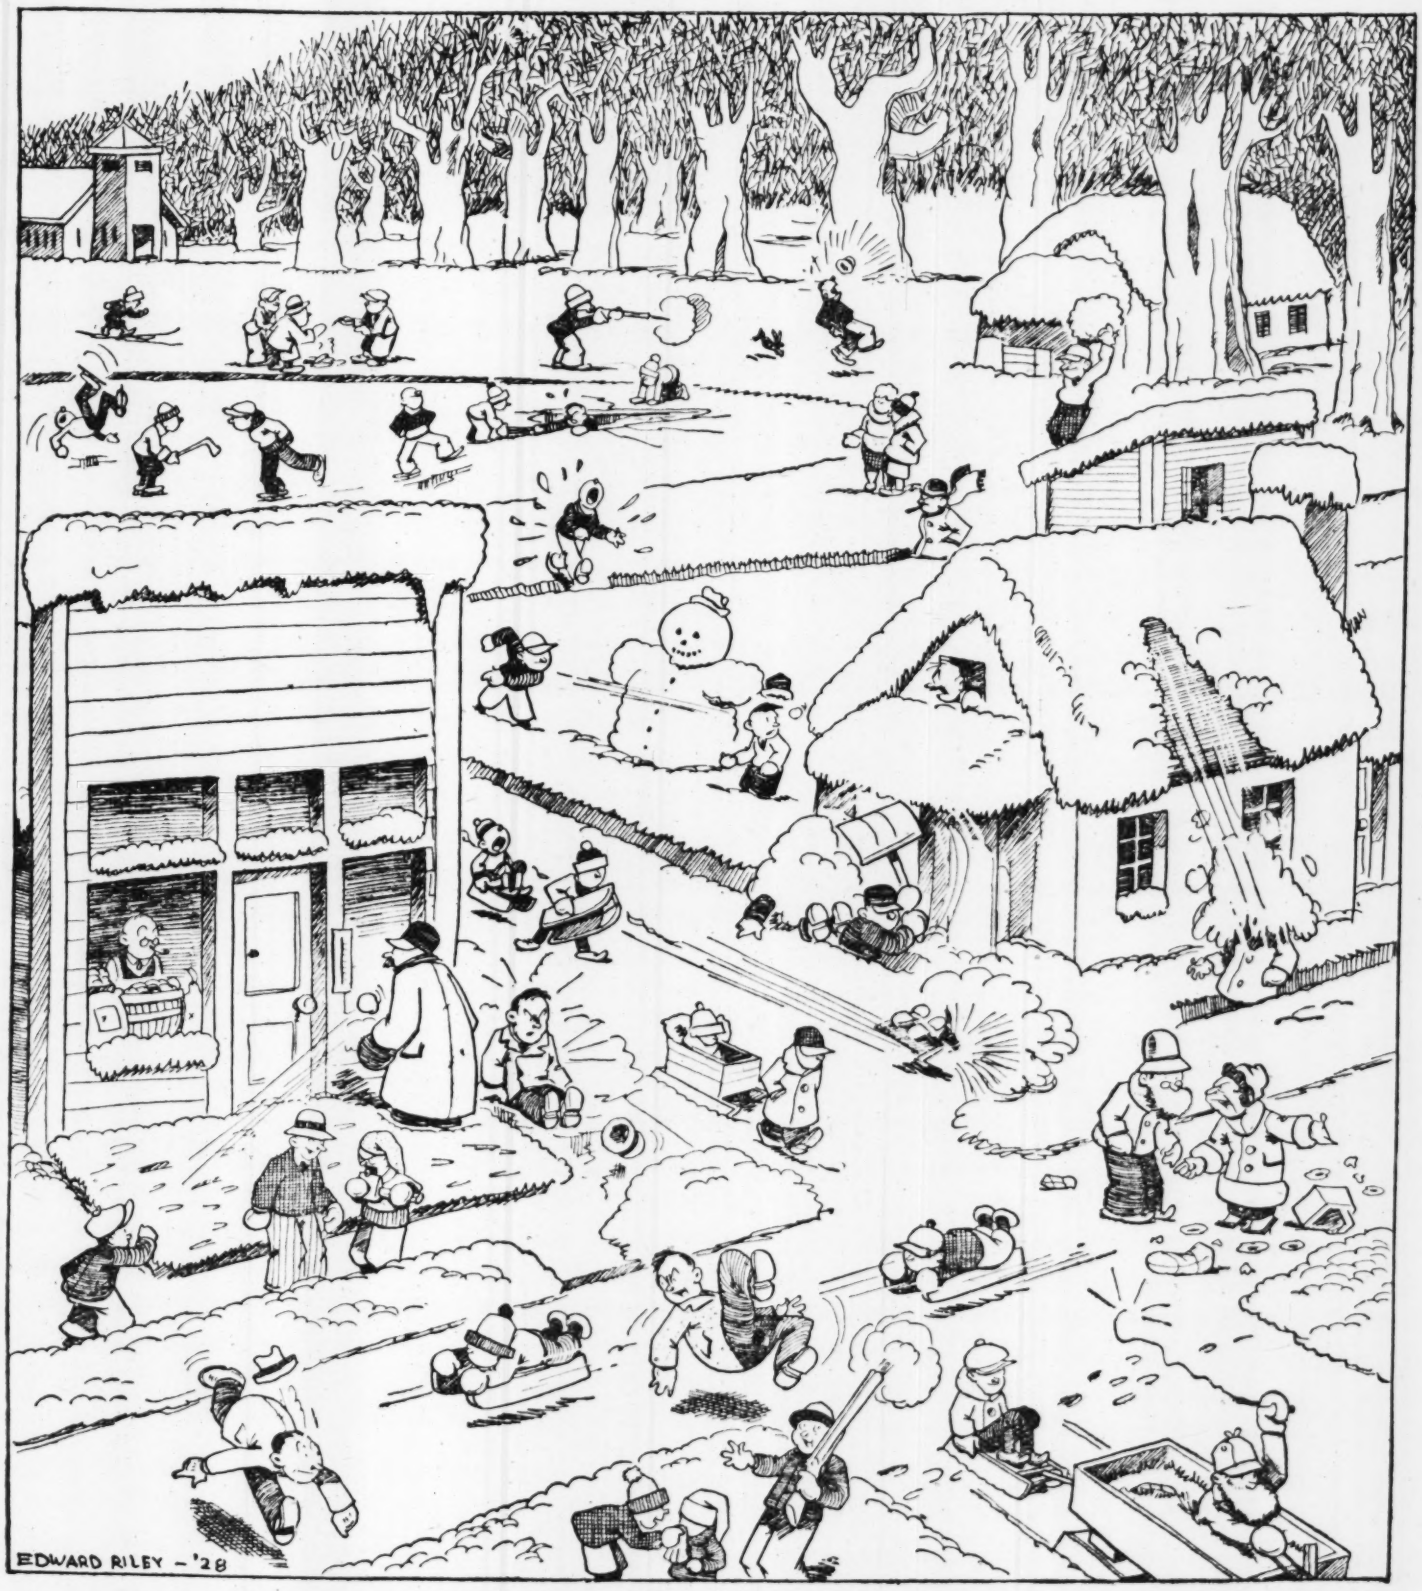

P R E S E N T
— — L — —
— E —
D

—4—

Following are pictured six baseball words that should be eas. for you to guess.

Winter in Punkinville

The Editor Takes the Blame for This Bunch

We can't blame the readers for any of these riddles, because they had nothing to do with them. The editor got them out of an old riddle book, and hopes you'll like them.

1. Why is a comet more like a dog than the Dog Star?
3. What is the difference between a hen and an idle musician?
4. Why is a fine house like a joke book?
5. Why is a blushing girl not bashful?

POSERS!

The posers this week are all about books and the people who write them. If you know your "library" they ought to be easy for you.

1. Who wrote "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court?"
2. Name three books written by Louisa May Alcott.
3. Of what nationality was Ibsen, author of "The Bluebird?"
4. Where did Sir Walter Scott spend his boyhood, getting his material for many of his books?
5. What were the names of the "Three Musketeers?"
6. At what university did Longfellow teach?
8. Name a modern author who has written many sport stories for boys.

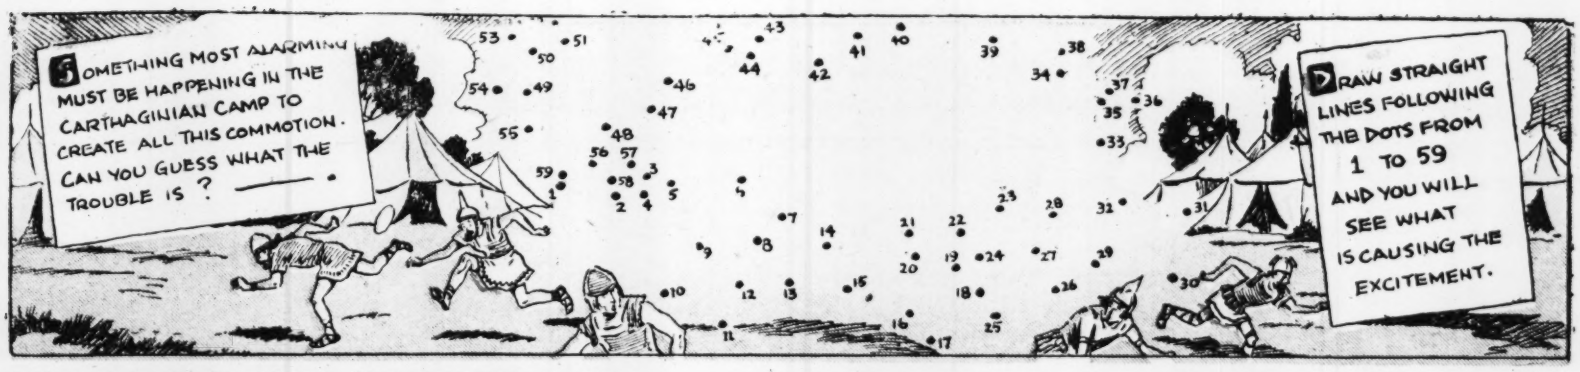

GLOW WORM GROTTO IN NEW ZEALAND

A hasty glance at this picture would lead you to believe it to represent a cave in a gigantic iceberg. Icicles seem to hang from above, and the floor and walls seem to be coated with ice. But there is not a particle of ice in this cavern, althoug there is plenty of water.

In fact, the peculiarly beautiful formations you see were made by the action of water dripping continually and eternally from the walls and the ceiling. As the water seeps through from above, it hangs for a while in tiny drops before falling, and it leaves a very small deposit of lime not only at the point from which it drops but also wherever it happens to land. Many billions of drops and hundreds of thousands of years were required to produce sufficient lime deposits to make the large structures you see in the picture. Those which hang from above are known as stalactites: those which are built up from the floor are stalagmites.

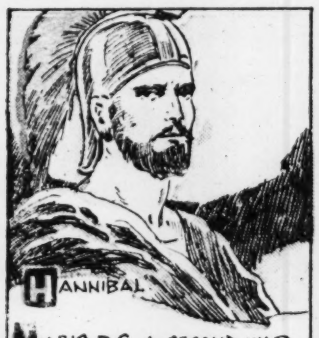

This particular grotto is the famed Glow Worm Grotto, lit by millions of glow worms in the Menageria cave of New Zealand. The islands of New Zealand, as you may know, are in the South Pacific ocean, about 1,200 miles east of Australia. They seem a small group of islands on the map but their area is, in fact, 103,285 square miles, which exceeds the area of Great Britain by some 13,000 square miles.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Chapter 65—Hannibal.

By J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

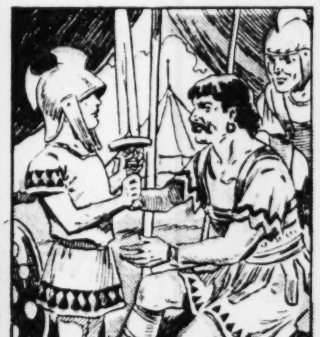

HANNIBAL.

IN 218 B.C. A SECOND WAR BROKE OUT BETWEEN CARTHAGE AND ROME. THE MOST IMPORTANT FIGURE IN THIS STRUGGLE WAS HANNIBAL THE CARTHAGINIAN, ONE OF THE GREATEST GENERALS THE WORLD HAS EVER SEEN.

HANNIBAL WAS THE SON OF HAMILCAR BARCA, A GREAT CARTHAGINIAN GENERAL. WHEN HANNIBAL WAS NINE YEARS OLD, HIS FATHER TOOK HIM BEFORE THE ALTAR OF MOLOCH AND MADE HIM VOW UNDYING HATRED FOR ROME.

WHEN HAMILCAR SET OUT TO CONQUER THE TRIBES OF SPAIN, HANNIBAL WENT WITH HIM. THE BOY GREW TO MANHOOD IN THE TENTS OF HIS FATHERS ARMY, AND BECAME THE IDOL OF THE CARTHAGINIAN SOLDIERS.

AFTER NINE YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGNING IN SPAIN, HAMILCAR WAS KILLED (229 B.C.) IN BATTLE. HASDRUBAL, HIS SON-IN-LAW, WHO ASSUMED THE CHIEF COMMAND, WAS SLAIN BY A GAUL EIGHT YEARS LATER, AND THE SOLDIERS CHOSE YOUNG HANNIBAL FOR THEIR LEADER. BY 220 B.C. HANNIBAL HAD COMPLETED THE CONQUEST OF SPAIN AS FAR AS THE EBRO RIVER.

WITH MOST OF SPAIN IN THE HANDS OF THE CARTHAGINIANS, HANNIBAL, WHO HAD NOT FORGOTTEN HIS OATH OF ENMITY FOR ROME, NOW PLANNED TO FIGHT THE ROMANS. HE BOLDLY SEIZED THE CITY OF SAGUNTUM, WHICH

HAD AN ALLIANCE WITH ROME, KNOWING THAT THIS ACT WOULD BRING ON WAR BETWEEN ROME AND CARTHAGE. THE ROMANS DECLARED WAR (218 B.C.), AND HANNIBAL PROMPTLY SET OUT FOR ITALY WITH HIS ARMY. —•

HE ACCOMPLISHED THE REMARKABLE FEAT OF LEADING HIS LARGE FORCE, WHICH INCLUDED NUMIDIAN CAVALRY AND WAR ELEPHANTS, OVER THE TREACHEROUS PASSES OF THE ALPS IN MIDWINTER, REACHING ITALY WITH A LOSS OF HALF HIS MEN.

HE FILLED HIS BROKEN RANKS WITH GAULS, AND MOVED SOUTHWARD, EASILY DEFEATING THE ROMAN FORCES SENT AGAINST HIM. HANNIBAL FOUGHT HIS WAY INTO CENTRAL ITALY WHERE AT CANNAE IN 216 B.C. HE CUT TO PIECES A ROMAN ARMY OF 86,000 MEN. —•

FOR YEARS, LIVING ON THE COUNTRY AND WITHOUT SUPPORT FROM CARTHAGE, HANNIBAL FOUGHT THE ROMANS, BEATING ARMY AFTER ARMY THAT THEY HURLED AGAINST HIM, AND BY SUPERIOR STRATEGY FOILING ALL ATTEMPTS TO CATCH HIM IN A TRAP.

BUT THE GREAT RESOURCES AND BULLDOG TENACITY OF THE ROMANS IN THE END PROVED MORE THAN A MATCH FOR HANNIBAL'S MILITARY GENIUS. AT LAST HE WAS DRIVEN INTO BRUTIUM, THE SOUTHERNMOST PART OF ITALY, WHERE HE MADE A VALIANT STAND. ——•

HIS BROTHER HASDRUBAL MARCHED TO HIS AID FROM SPAIN WITH 60,000 SOLDIERS. THIS ARMY WAS HEADED OFF BY THE ROMANS, AND HASDRUBAL PERISHED WITH NEARLY ALL HIS MEN. THE VICTORS CUT OFF HASDRUBAL'S HEAD AND FLUNG IT INTO HANNIBAL'S CAMP.

IN 205 B.C. A ROMAN ARMY LED BY SCIPIO INVADED AFRICA, AND TWO YEARS LATER HANNIBAL WAS CALLED HOME TO DEFEND CARTHAGE. AT THE BATTLE OF ZAMA (201 B.C.) HANNIBAL SUFFERED HIS FIRST DEFEAT AND FOUGHT HIS LAST FIGHT.—CARTHAGE BOWED TO ROME.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

SCIPIO FORCED THE CARTHAGINIANS TO DISARM, TO GIVE UP ALL THEIR LANDS EXCEPT THOSE IN AFRICA, AND PAY A HEAVY INDEMNITY. LATER, HANNIBAL, HATING ROME MORE THAN EVER, WENT TO SYRIA. HERE HE AIDED KING ANTIOCHUS TO MAKE WAR ON

THE ROMANS. THE SYRIANS WERE BADLY WHIPPED (190 B.C.) AND ROMAN SOLDIERS WERE SENT TO ARREST HANNIBAL. THE GREAT CARTHAGINIAN FLED, AND, BEING CLOSE-PRESSED BY HIS PURSUERS, TOOK HIS OWN LIFE BY POISON WHICH HE CARRIED IN A RING. —•

The BOYS and GIRLS PAGE

For the Class Cup

A Story of the Conquerors' Club and Basketball

By W. BOYCE MORGAN

SYNOPSIS.

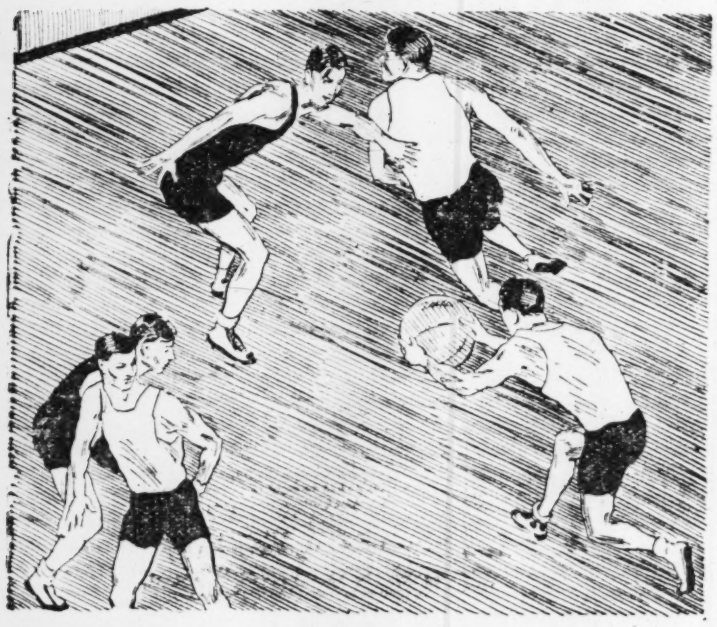

Bill Jenkins, star forward on the sophomore class basketball team at Ferriston High school, is injured and kept out of an important game by Frank Ripley, a player on the junior team. Ripley has it in for Bill because Bill worsted him in a fight. In the inter-class league the battle is between the juniors and sophomores for first place. Bob Miller, president of the Conquerors club, is captain of the sophomore team and Red Hopkins, another conqueror also plays on it. The sophomores beat the freshmen with Bill out of the lineup, and his injured ankle heals as the final game with the juniors approaches. If the sophomores win this, they will even up for the other game which the juniors took from them, and a play-off will be necessary. Before the important game Ted Weeks, president of the juniors, wishes Bob luck. Bob, as captain keeps Bill out of the game to save his ankle, until the juniors are leading 18-14. Then he calls for time out and puts Bill in.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

* * *

INSTALLMENT IV.

The cheers of the sophomores were deafening as play was resumed. On the tipoff Red came dashing in from his guard position, took the ball, and passed it quickly to Ed Hixon, the other sophomore guard. Bill got away from Ripley, who was guarding him, and like a flash was under the basket. The pass from Hixon seemed merely to touch his hands and be deflected upward toward the backboard. It swished through the net for a basket.

"Bill followed the shot and scored."

Again the players ran to their positons. The other junior guard, seeing that Bill was the dangerous man, began to aid Ripley in covering him. For a few seconds Bill was smothered, then the referee's whistle announced that he had been fouled. He dropped the ball in on the free throw for another point.

Then, still leading by one point, the juniors had a chance to cheer. Ripley, leaving Bill to the other guard, managed to take a sophomore pass and looped a long shot from past the middle of the floor. It found the basket and put the juniors ahead three points.

Again Bill was fouled, and again he scored on the free toss, but this time he was noticably limping. Ripley had purposely kicked his bad ankle. Bob, foaming with rage after seeing this act, again tipped the ball to Red on the toss and this time went down the floor himself. But Red was caught before he could get a pass away, and the ball was tossed again.

Now the juniors, with a lead of 20-18, began to freeze the ball, stalling for time. There were only a few minutes left to play. The five juniors massed under their own basket and slowly tossed the ball back and forth, giving the sophomores no chance to get it. But Bill, with the speed for which he was noted, dashed into the group, took one of the passes, and caged a short shot to tie the score.

The juniors could stall no longer—they had to play. Bill, in spite of his injured ankle, was the freshest and fastest man on the floor. The sophomores fed him the ball every time they got their hands on it, and in a few seconds they were ahead, 24-21.

The luck shifted again, and the score was tied. Red, stopping a junior attack under his own basket, found all of the sophomores covered, and tried a long one. He missed, but Bill followed the shot and scored. From that time on the result was sure. The other sophomore forward got a basket a second later, and Bill and Bob both counted before the final whistle, which blew with the sophomores ahead, 32-24.

"Wasn't it great?" whispered Porky hoarsely to Ruth, with whom he was sitting to watch his three fellow Conquerors in their glorious game. "With Bill in there we'll walk away with them in the play-off."

His jubilation was shared by every member of the sophomore class. Having Bill in the lineup gave them a margin that made their final victory over the juniors sure.

The play-off game was announced for the following Saturday night, and during the week preceding it the Conquerors and the other members of the sophomore team practiced diligently. They were taking no chances on losing that important contest. On Friday night, when the final practice was over, Bob and Bill were walking home together.

"Well, I think we'll take them, tomorrow all right," said Bob. "Your ankle is perfectly O. K. now, isn't it?"

"Couldn't be better," said Bill.

"And I guess Ripley knows that his dirty work didn't get him anything. Nevertheless, I'll be glad when this game tomorrow night is over. I suppose you're taking Ruth to the varsity game tonight?"

"As usual," grinned Bill.

"Well, I'll see you theme then," said Bob, as they parted.

The varsity game that night was not a particularly good one, Ferriston winning with ease. Bob had walked home with Red and Porky and was just preparing for bed when the telephone jangled excitedly. He picked up the receiver and heard Porky's voice.

"Bob!" it was breathlessly. "A fellow just tipped me off that Frank Ripley and his gang are going to lay for Bill tonight, and get him as he comes from Ruth's."

Bob muttered an exclamation of alarm. "Start over there right away," he commanded Porky. "I'll call Red and have him come, too. We'll see that Ripley gets plenty tonight!"

Hastily he donned his clothes which he had started to remove. Then, on a sudden inspiration, he called Ted Weeks, junior class president, on the phone.

"Hello, Ted," he greeted, when he finally got him. "I hope that you weren't in bed. I called you because something is going on that I think you ought to know about. I guess it's news to you, but Bill Jenkins and Frank Ripley had a fight several weeks ago and Ripley has had it in for Bill ever since. He purposely injured Bill's ankle one day when we were skating."

"Are you in earnest?" came Ted's voice, in a serious tone.

"I am," said Bob emphatically. "Well, Porky just called and said that Ripley and a gang of roughs are laying for Bill tonight. He and Red are on their way over here now, and we're going to see that nothing happens to Bill. Would you like to come along?"

"I sure would!" said Ted. "I'll be over in less than five minutes. Want to get anybody else?"

"I guess we can handle them," said Bob grimly.

"I'll bring the car," said Ted. "We may need it if there isn't much time."

Bob hung up, and a minute later Porky and Red arrived. Porky hastily explained that he had gone to the drug store to get his mother some medicine after getting home, and had been told that Ripley and several roughs, not high school students, were on Bill's trail. He understood that there were four or five in the gang.

When Ted drove up in his car a minute later, they all piled in, and Bob gave him details. Ted's face was stern, as were those of the Conquerors.

"Drive over to where Ruth Sauers lives," directed Bob. "Bill should be leaving about now. We won't warn him because it would frighten Ruth, but we'll simply shadow him in the car as he goes home. Then we'll see what Ripley's gang does."

(To Be Concluded Next Week.)

First Roman (at a Christian massacre): "We've got a capacity crowd, but still we're losing money. The upkeep of the lions must be pretty heavy."

Second Roman: "Yes, sir. These lions sure do eat up the prophets."

Editorial

THAT EXTRA DAY

February has twenty-nine days this year instead of twenty-eight. The year has 366 days instead of 365—and you have an extra day to do with as you will.

Perhaps it doesn't seem important, this extra day. But think a minute. The other years are all alike, with the same number of days to work and play, to study and eat and sleep. And then along comes a year that gives you a bonus, an extra day, free of charge and delivered to you with no strings attached to it.

It's a real opportunity, isn't it? Why not use this extra day in 1928, this free gift that comes with February every four years, for something very much worthwhile? Perhaps you can spend it bringing cheer to somebody less fortunate than you, or helping a friend, or being unusually kind and considerate to your parents.

It's for you to decide—but don't miss this chance. Plan now to make this extra day a little different from all other days—one to be remembered with a feeling of pride and pleasure.

CHINOOK

THE OLD TRAPPER'S LANGUAGE

By EL COMANCHO

(Cut this out and save it. With other lessons, appearing each week in this page, you will soon have the complete Chinook vocabulary.)

CHITSH—Say the CH as in Church, the IT as It, and then the SH as in Hush. The word thus becomes "Chit-ts-s-sh." It is a Selish Indian word, and means only Grandmother.

CHOPE—The CH is pronounced as in Church, the O as in Hope, and the Pe as Pea. Accent the first syllable. This is also a Selish Indian word and means only Grandfather.

If used to describe an old animal, as CHOPE KUITAN (horse), the word means that the horse is a grandfather horse, or a very old one. It does not, however, mean old in the sense that AHNCUTTIE does—that is, as belonging to ancient men, or as living a long time ago.

COPO—Accent the first syllable, pronouncing as though spelled Koh-Poh. This is one of the hardest working words in the whole Chinook language, for it is always used to connect two ideas or sentences. It means With, Together With, Here, There, Yonder, At, By, Along With, In, Out, From, To, Into, Beside, Away From, Out Of, Or, The Same As, Around, Toward, On, Off and a great deal more.

At first glance it would appear to be impossible to get all the different meanings of this overworked word, yet it is really simple enough. The very fact that there is no other word to take the place of COPO when you need it in your conversation makes it almost certain then that it will be understood when used.

It is sometimes pronounced as though spelled KOPET, but COPO is right.

The main thing to remember is that COPO is the "coupler" to bring any two words or ideas or sentences together. Thus MIKA CHACO (come) COPO NIKA means "You come to me" and NIKA KLATAWA COPO MIKA means "I will go to you." CHACO COPA MIKA KOW-MUX (dog) means "come with your dog." COPO KAH NIKA MAMUKE stands for "Where shall I put this?" and the answer, COPO YOWAH for "Over yonder," "In here," or any other place designated by the accompanying gesture.

Note the various ways the word is used in this sentence.

"Mesika wawa copo ictas copo yowah, copo iet sun copo cole pe klosh nanage Konaway man copo mesika."

We talked ABOUT things OVER there FOR one day IN winter and all men kept close watch ON us.)

In other words the person talking Chinook uses COPO whenever he can think of no other word to take its place!

CHACO—Sound CH as in Church, A as in Ah, C as K, and O as in Mow. Accent the first syllable, saying Chah-ko. This word means Come, or sometimes Become. Thus NIKA CHACO means "I come," and OKEOKE CANIM CHACO KOK-SHUT means "That canoe comes (becomes) broken" (or is broken). CHACO COPO NIKA means "Come with me."

(Additional words of the Chinook Language will be published next week.)

TOO TRUE!

Laugh and the class laughs with you—but stay after school alone.

ANSWERS TO PUZZLES.

1. The words in the cross-word puzzle are: Horizontal—1, short; 5, field; 10, sure; 12, need; 13, baseballs; 16, is; 17, table; 18, to; 20, us; 21, Ty; 23, am; 26, ea; 28, players; 32, at; 34, it; 35, R. O.; 36, so; 37, runs; 39, bunt; 41, hose; 42, team; 44, stern; 45, Jewry. Vertical—1, S. S.; 2, hubs; 3, Ora; 4, rests; 6, inlet; 7, eel; 8, lest; 9, D. D. D.; 11, abbe; 14, ea.; 15, At; 16, in; 19, of; 20, ump; 22, yes; 24, bats; 25, Sherb; 27, ha; 29, liner; 30, route; 31, go; 33, trot; 36, star; 38, use; 40, new; 41, H. S.; 43, my.

2. GOOD-hood-hoot-host-lost-lest-BEST

3. The words in the pyramid are: Horizontal—Present, delay and let. Vertical—Rd., eel, sled, eat and N. Y.

4. Fly, foul, pitcher, sacks, plate and bat.

ANSWERS TO POSERS.

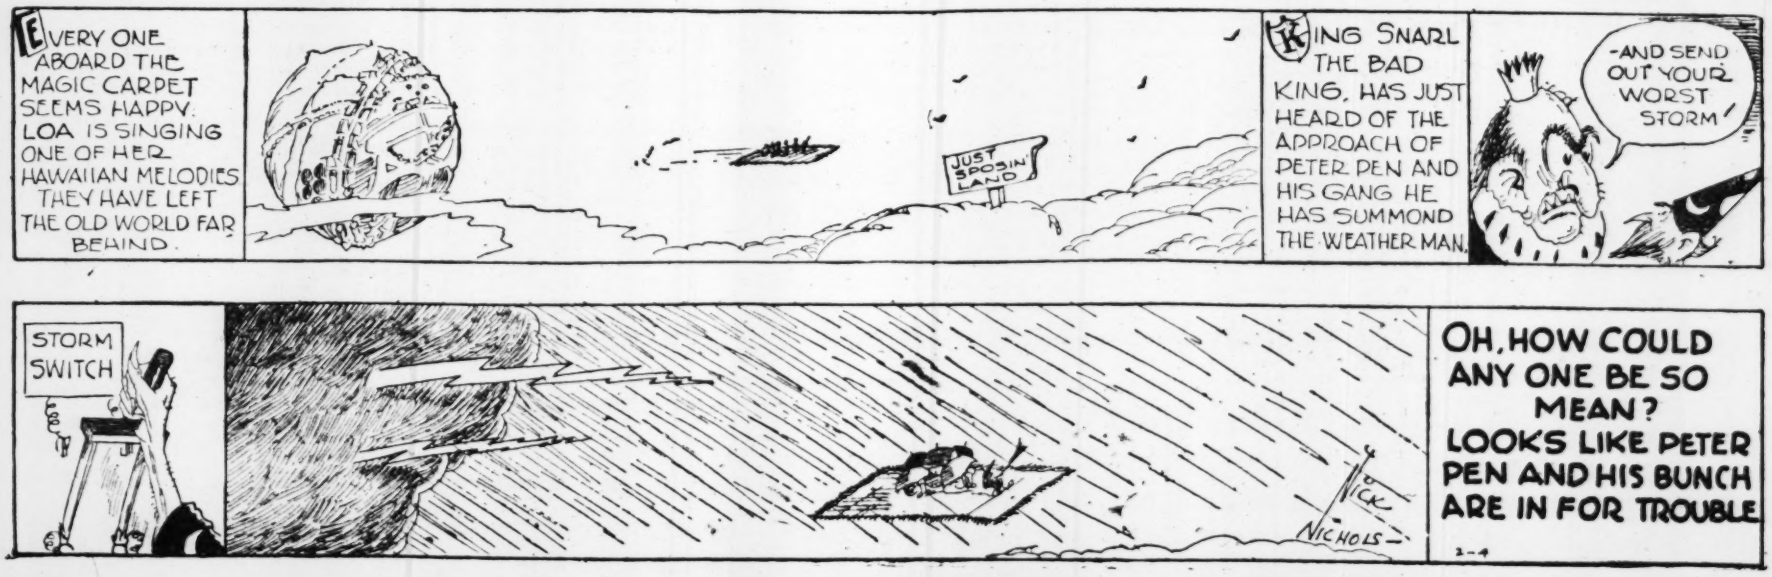

1. Mark Twain. 2. "Little Women," "Little Men" and "Rose in Bloom." 3. Norwegian. 4. In the Scottish highlands. 5. Athos, Porthos and Aramis. 6. Harvard. 7. Nathanial Hawthorne. 8. Ralph Henry Barbour.

ANSWERS TO RIDDLES.

1. Because it has a tail and the Dog Star has not. 2. When she is a sweet tart (sweetheart). 3. One lays at pleasure, the other plays at leisure. 4. Because it is made up of good stories. 5. Because she is admired for her cheek.

THE ADVENTURES OF PETER PEN

BY NICK NICHOLS

High Chivalry

Continued from Page 7

Jones could not resist the slurring ironic temptation. But he reconsidered immediately. It was now his new cue to make friends with Mustaffa Bek; so he added hurriedly contritely: "I'm devilishly sorry. Slip of the tongue. Didn't mean it."

"It's perfectly all right."

"Let's bury the hatchet. We've to work together in Kivastan, you know. I suppose I haven't always been polite to you in the past—"

"At times you've been damned arrogant."

"Well—forgive and forget—won't you?"

"Never mind." Mustaffa Bek turned to go; spoke over his shoulder: "After all, your arrogance can never rise to the heights of my disdain."

O, yes—there were moments when he was quite the prince, quite of the blood royal.

* * * * *

On the following Wednesday a good many people clustered on the railway station platform about the Mervistanis who were returning to their own country.

Seventeen young French girls were there wishing affectionate farewells to an equal number of turbaned, bearded, picturesque Asiatics—Mustaffa Bek's retinue—who were thinking, some remorsefully and some impenitently, about the legal wives whom they had left back home and whom they would soon see again. Miss Sadie Hawkins was there, looking decidedly Liverpool—or, perhaps Manchester—with the three scarlet ostrich plumes topping her enormous, floppy hat. Platon Fyodorovitch Kuprine was there, resembling more than ever a particularly sardonic and cruel conspirator out of some incredible Drury Lane melodrama.

Too, there was a baker's dozen of reporters buzzing about, making notes and sketches.

Not that they cared about Mervistan.

Mervistan? Enfin, mon cher vieux—where is it? In Africa? No! Ah—in South America—between Brazil and Milwaukee.

Mervistan! Bon Dieu! What a name!

But these were the journalistic dog days. For quite a while now no French cabinet minister had been shot by the wife of his best friend; no member of the house of deputies had been caught red handed in accepting bribes; no American woman had swum the channel; no Russian grand duke had tossed another Russian grand duke through a seventh story window in a spirit of childlike Slavic fun—and something had to be printed in the papers.

So quite a few people were on the station platform, except—

"I say!" suddenly exclaimed Captain Jones, "Where is his royal highness?"

"Where is his royal highness?" echoed the reporter from the Figaro.

"Where is his royal highness?" chimed in his colleague from the Gaulois.

"He left the Ritz at the same time as the rest of us." Captain Jones turned to his servant. "Haydar—you saw him didn't you?"

"Yes, saheb."

"He drove his own car, saheb," said another servant.

"Perhaps he had an accident?" suggested a reporter.

And a second reporter:

"Let's telephone to the police."

A third

"Or to the hospitals—"

"Letter for Captain Jones!" came the shrill cry of a red capped messenger boy who ran down the platform. "Letter for Captain Jones! Letter for—"

"Hey, boy! Here!"

The letter changed hands, so did five francs, and the Englishman tore open the envelope and read.

"From his royal highness!" he told the reporters. "He has decided to motor all the way to Marseilles—he will join us there."

Then he drew Kuprine to one side.

"Take a look at this," he said in a low voice.

Kuprine read.

The letter was very much to the point:

"My Dear Fool:

"I am now a happily married man, and have decided to remain in Paris. Please tell my father that I abdicate all my rights to succession. I quite agree with an American whom I met the other afternoon at the Ritz bar, and in whose company I lapped up a few cocktails—charming chap, called Jake Epstein, who is in the ladies' underwear business. He said the royalty is 'the bunk.' Topping expression, don't you think? Hereafter I shall no longer be 'the bunk,' nor his royal highness, but plain.

"MUSTAFFA BEK."

"P. S.—What the deuce are you going to do about it, old trout?"

"The postscriptum puts the whole thing in a neat little nutshell," commented the Russian. "What, indeed, are you going to do about it?"

"His father will—"

"He'll be furious—but helpless. Besides, now that the telegraph lines are destroyed, you're not even able to cable Iskandar Bek for advice or instruction. You were right in telling the reporters what you did. Keep up the bluff. We cannot afford a scandal."

"But—I don't see—"

"Don't see what?"

"What's Mustaffa going to live on? He has no money—and very expensive tastes. I wonder—did he marry a rich girl?"

"No," interrupted Kuprine. "Rich girls are properly chaperoned in France. There would have been an engagement, regularly announced—"

"Perhaps she's a rich American."

"There would have been reports in the society columns." Kuprine was silent; went on suddenly: "I have it. I know where he got the money."

"O—?"

"From me." Kuprine was not indignant; was, on the contrary, faintly amused. "From Russia."

"You mean—?"

"The ransom. The kidnaping was a trick, a take—and we tell for it."

"You're right. Why—look here." And hurriedly Captain Jones told the other about the I. O. U.'s and how, a few nights before, he had seen the sultana and Lord Carmyon at supper together. "What's the connection between them?" he wound up, rather hopelessly. "What am I going to do?"

"Hop aboard your train. I'll find out what I can and I'll do what I can—and I'll keep you informed by wireless."

Kuprine's method of finding out was very simple. Quite unlike the secret service agent who moves through life in asinine disguises that are never twice alike, and shoots at people and gets shot at and pops out of coal holes and disappears in ink black tunnels, and does a dozen similar silly things, the Russian relied mainly on the one weak spot in the average human character—greed. By catering to this greed he usually, sooner or later, found himself in possession of a second weapon—fear; the fear of exposure and disgrace.

In the present instance he began by using the first weapon.

He spent money lavishly, with both hands, in true Muscovic style—gilding the palms of policemen, waiters, mail carriers, bank clerks, janitors, and employees of railroad and steamship ticket agencies. He did it with the utmost speed and efficiency, using a number of confidential agents and giving them only one bit of advice:

"Don't haggle. Pay them what they want."

Thus, by 9 o'clock that evening he knew numerous details.

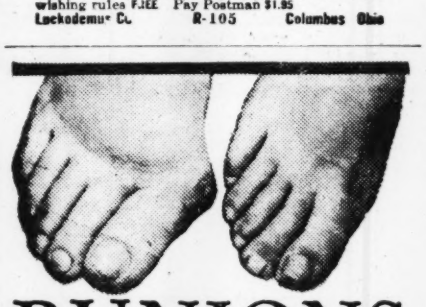

(Copyright, 1928, for The Constitution.)

Continued in Next Sunday's Magazine

LUCK Money, Happiness, Success. There is health, wealth and happiness, joy in love in games, in business all around you. Get your share. Send at once. Wear Luckodemus the Wizard of Good Luck. This beautiful Good Luck Ring embodying all the famous symbols can be yours. Never Good Luck wishing rules FREE. Pay Postman $1.85

Luckodemus Co. R-105 Columbus Ohio

BUNIONS

Pain Stops Instantly

— Hump Vanishes —

HERE is a new, marvelous solvent that actually conquers bunions. Stops pain almost instantly—actual reduction of the enlarged growth starts so fast that your next pair of shoes can be a size smaller — often two sizes smaller. And you may prove it by actual test.

Trial FREE

The Pedodyne Process is scientific, and cannot be explained here. But the full treatment to bring complete results may be yours to try — if you'll only clip this Special Coupon and mail it NOW — TODAY

KAY LABORATORIES
Dept S-25
180 N. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill.

Please arrange for me to try your Pedodyne Process, to dissolve bunion formation and restore normal ease and flexibility of affected joints.

Name .....

Address .....

(This is NOT an order; ship nothing C. O. D.)

TOBACCO HABIT BANISHED

QUICK, SURE, LASTING RESULTS

Tobacco Redeemer banishes the habit completely, almost before you know it. An absolutely scientific, thoroughly reliable treatment. No matter how long the habit, or in what form used, you will have no craving for tobacco after you take this pleasant, inexpensive treatment. This we positively guarantee. Your money returned without argument or question if not satisfied. Write for free explanatory booklet and proof of what Tobacco Redeemer has done for men addicted to the tobacco habit. Send post card or letter today

Newell Pharmacal Co., Clayton Station
Dept. 846. St. Louis, Mo

Marriage a Failure

DO NOT GROPE IN DARKNESS

Find Out the Mysteries of Life!

Read the Most Sensational Book in Years, "The Eternal Question" —and Know Why Marriage is So Often a Failure.

JUDGES granted over 2,000,000 mismated couples divorces last year. Why? What's wrong with marriage? Is it spiritual? Is it physical? Is it the man's fault? Or does the woman fail? Will trial marriages solve sex mistakes? Is your love-life and sex-life complete? Are you unhappy because of ignorance of the fundamental facts of life? Are you committing errors which may ruin your future happiness? Do you know your desires, impulses, energies? Can you fascinate the other sex? These are but few of the subjects discussed in the amazing BRAND NEW book "The Eternal Question."

Sex Secrets!

This sensational book, now published for the first time, reveals sex secrets never before seen in print—true stories of grief caused by ignorance. Clears the way to successful marriages, happy matings, contentment and fulfilment of sexual desires. Discusses every side of sex relationship, mental, spiritual, moral, physical. Talks plainly, unafraid but decently. Analyses moments of exultation, petting, adolescence, disease, vicious sex practices, anatomy, marital bliss, measles of marriage, "the dangerous age" and similar topics. A book you will read from cover to cover and then keep for future reference as you face the problems dealt with in everyday life. And everyone must face these problems at some time.

This book is not a novel—it is a penetrating searchlight fearlessly turned on the most intimate relations of men and women. It tells all you must and should know about Limitation of Offspring and why a wife should be permitted to decide when she shall become a mother, smashing indisputably every argument against Voluntary Parenthood. Its astounding facts, upon which the very laws of life are based, convey a vital message to brides, grooms, husbands, wives.

Life's Tragedies!

A beautiful and happy bride today. Too soon a mother, then more children. The result—overwork, strained constitution, broken health, unhappiness and too often a divorce. Why is this so often the case? Why should marriage convert a healthy, normal girl into a tired old woman? Why not a continuous, happy married life, with children in proportion to the mother's strength and the means of the family? Why such sex tragedies? Authoritative answers to these questions and priceless other revelations are contained in the 406 pages of the latest and greatest sex book ever published.

This startling book—vividly illustrated—gives "human interest" stories, proving "TRUTH" stranger and more fascinating than fiction—"NEVER TOLD TALES"—that seldom reach the public. It frankly answers questions everyone wants to know, but hesitates even to ask a physician.

What's the Trouble? Who's Fault Is It?

Is the problem of too many children the cause of much hardship, suffering, unhappiness and many divorces?

The straightforward discussion of Birth Control in its many phases is a personal and intimate message of untold value to every husband and wife.

27 REMARKABLE, OUT-OF-THE-ORDINARY BOOKS—ALL IN ONE.
(Over 400 pages)

Strikingly Illustrated

Partial Contents

Love, Courtship, Marriage,
Wooing to Win,
Glands—Fountain of Youth,
Psychoanalysis,
Keeping Love Young,
Monogamy,
Secrets of Marriage,
Wedlock,
Mistakes of Bridegroom,
Heredity,
Parturition or Confinement,
Pregnancy,
Immorality in Marriage,
Rejuvenation,
Sex Determination,
Sex Magnetism,
How Babies are Conceived,
The Social Evil,
Physiology of Reproduction,
Limitation of Offspring,
Sterilization,
Woman's Error and Her Debt.

Learn the Truth!

Learn the truth about your Love-Life and Sex-Life, portrayed in this great work on "LIFE'S GREATEST SECRETS." Take no foolish chances. Don't pay the dreadful price of ignorance and suffer possible untold, agonizing grief later.

"The Eternal Question" is different from any other book you ever read, although many sad faced men and women could tell similar tales if they only had the moral courage to bare their hearts.

Letters from doctors, mothers, fathers, young husbands and happy brides testify to the importance and value of the information crowded into the 406 pages of this book. "Its frankness is refreshing" says one reader. "Worth $10 of anyone's money" writes another.

This amazing 406-page book contains numerous full-page illustrations, beautifully Cloth-Bound. Its regular price is $3.50, but to introduce this vital knowledge into a million homes, for a limited time only we will send "The Eternal Question" to those who write for it, for the astonishingly low price of $1.50, which barely covers cost of handling.

We predict a rush on this fascinating and entrancing volume at this ridiculously low price, so order early—today if possible as we must charge its regular price of $3.50 immediately after this edition is exhausted.

Send No Money!

Just your name and address and this sensational, BRAND NEW book will be mailed at once in plain wrapper. Simply pay postman Special Introductory Price of $1.50 and postage on arrival. If not satisfied, return the book within five days and your money will be refunded. Don't Wait—Order Now!

STANDARD PUBLISHING CO.
Dept. 309 TOPEKA, KANSAS
(If you prefer send $1.50 and book will be sent postpaid)

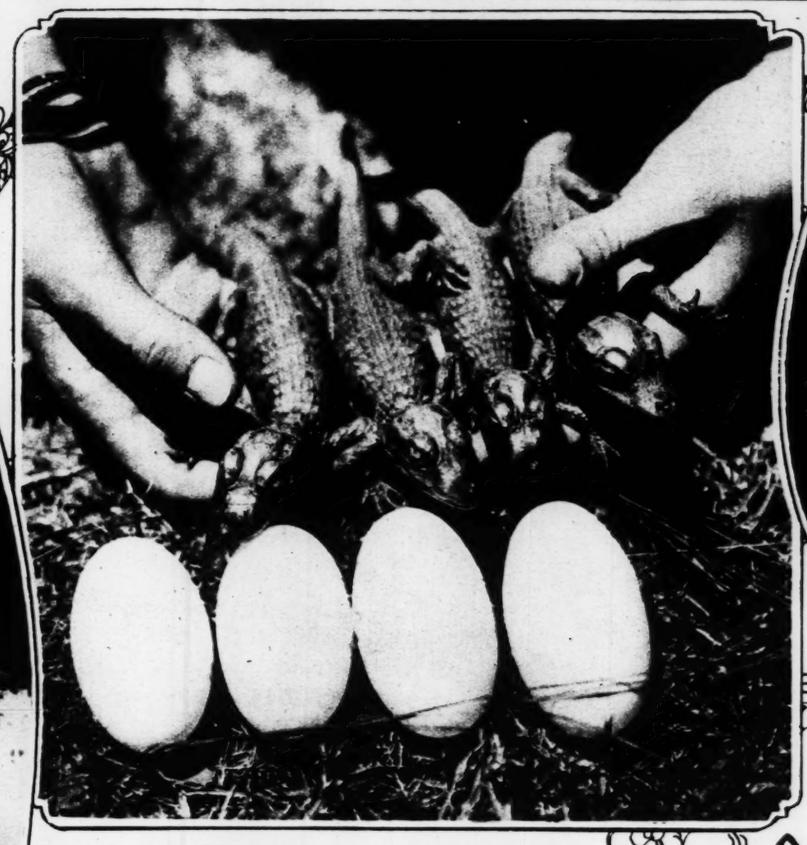

GRAVURE PICTORIAL SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

SUNDAY FEBRUARY 5th, 1928

"SURE AS THE VINE GROWS ROUND THE STUMP" — This delightful picture of Audrey Ferris, silver screen favorite, reminds that Valentine day is just in the offing, when minds may be expected to "lightly turn to thoughts of love."

BEFORE AND AFTER—This quartet of one-hour-old alligator babies is shown in comparison with eggs similar to those from which they had just emerged. The heads of the youngsters seem almost too big to go into the shells. (Herbert)

WAITS UNTIL AFTER EXAMS TO REVEAL WEDDING—Miss Elizabeth Richardson Jenkins, pretty student as Wesleyan college, Macon, Ga., startled her schoolmates after final term examinations recently by announcing to them that she had been wedded on Christmas day of 1927 to Garland Frederick Steele. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's mother in Columbus, Georgia. (Warlick)

MUDDY—BUT FUN!—Mud slides in New Zealand supply as much sport as snow slides in Switzerland. Here's a youthful New Zealander making the mud fly. He doesn't worry because he wears old clothes. (Herbert)

SHE TAKES BIG CHANCES—Miss Henrietta "Babs" Dugmore, African hun er-photographer, who for years has followed the trail of big game making pictures of the beasts of Africa's jungles. When a mere babe she began her hunting with her father, who has devoted more than half his life to the pursuit. (Herbert)

CHARGING!—A rare "shot" showing a monster rhinoceros in headlong charge at the camera. It is one of many big game pictures made by Miss Henrietta Dugmore, 21-year-old African hunter-photographer and lover of the wilds. (Herbert)

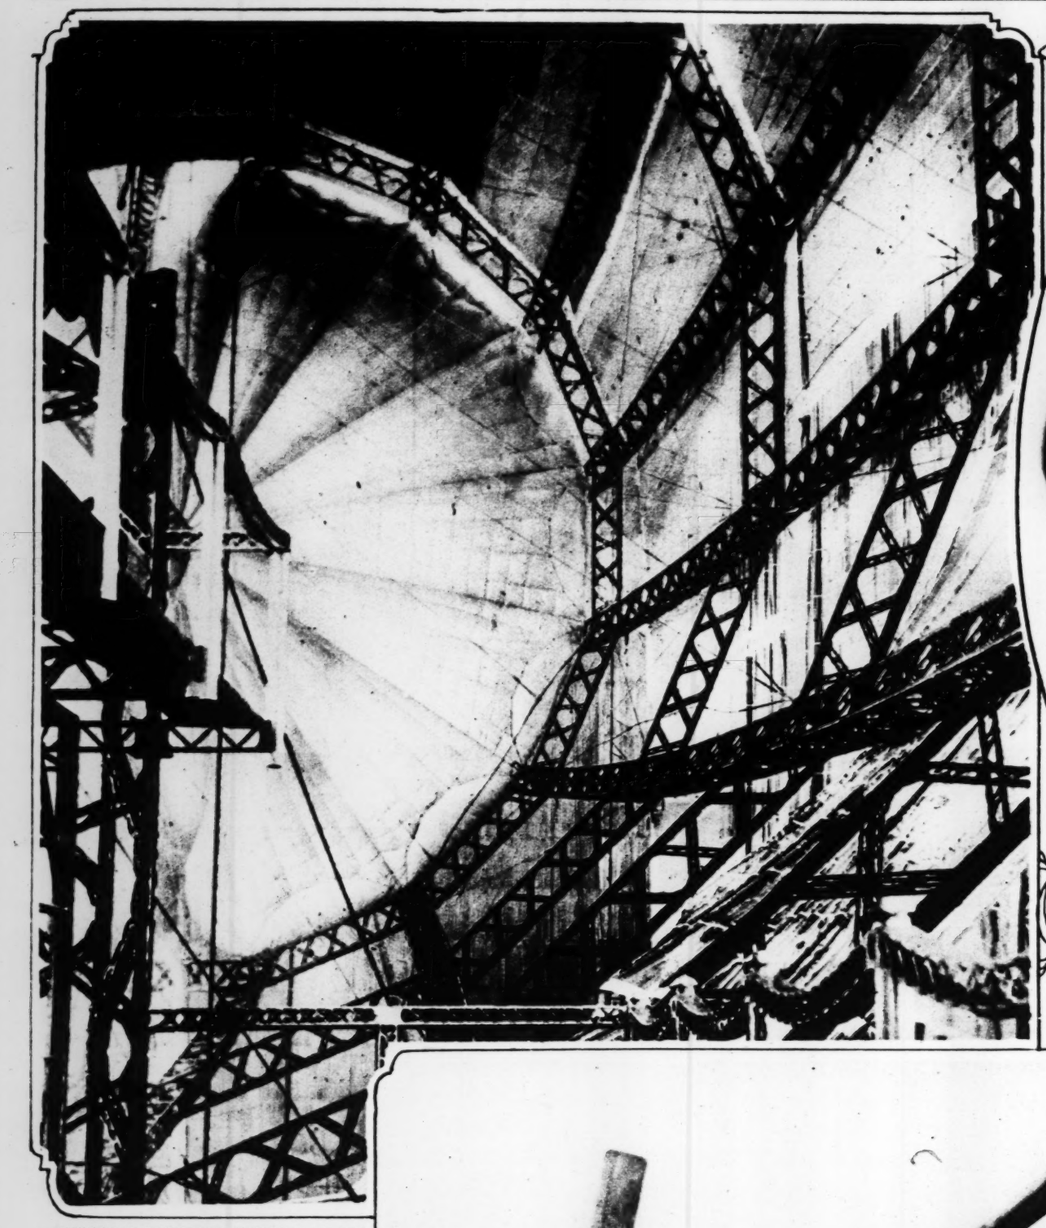

"ROSE MARIE" COMING TO ERLANGER—The charming Arthur Hammerstein operetta will appear at the Erlanger all this week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. Here's a scene from the attraction, with Peggy Pates and Charles Meakins before the camra. (White Studio)

SPECTACULAR is this scene from "Rose Marie," in which Beulah Berson and her beautiful bridesmaids hold the stage. "Rose Marie" is the attraction of the week at the Erlanger theater. (White Studio)

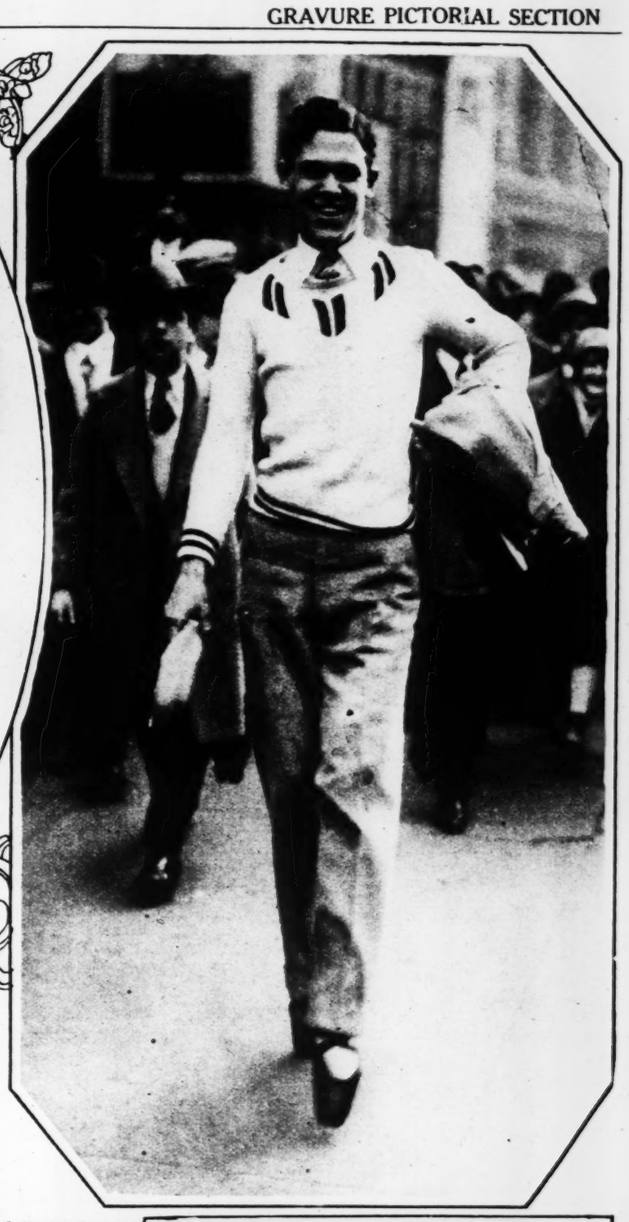

YOUTHFUL NEWLYWEDS OPPOSE ANNULMENT SUIT—Here are shown George T. Brent, 19, of Washington, and his 13-year-old bride. The husband has announced he will fight efforts of his wife's father to have the marriage annulled. (International)

WORLD'S LARGEST AIRSHIP NEARS COMPLETION—A view of the inside of the R-100, new 5,000,000 cubic feet dirigible being built for the British government at Yorkshire. The ship will take its trial flights in July. (International)

YOU'VE SEEN HER ON THE SILVER SCREEN—A new and striking portrait of Lya de Putti, famous foreign actress who has won fame before the kleig lights of Hollywood, world's film capital. (Herbert)

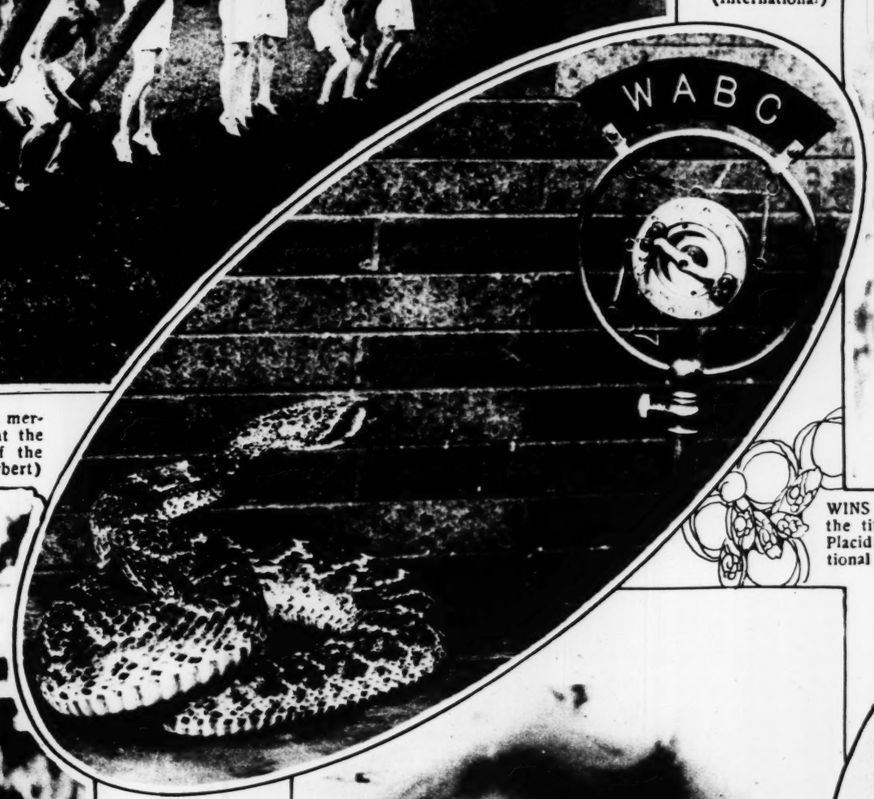

WHAT WILL THEY THINK?—This photograph of Miss Florence Wehener was placed on the century box of the Union Central Life Insurance company's new building in Cincinnati so that girls of the year 2028 may know how their sisters dressed in 1928. (Associated Press)

THEY "TOSS THE CABER"—Students of the school for merchant marine officers of Germany demonstrate their skill at the old Scotch sport. Gymnastics are an important part of the training of Germany's future marine commanders. (Herbert)

ALWAYS "ON HIS TOES" is Dick Barstow, 17-year-old dancer, who was trained from earliest infancy to walk on his toes. He rarely appears on the streets and then walks in specially made shoes. It is said he can jump a distance of six feet on his toes and experiences no discomfort in walking. (International)

WINS SLED DOG RACE—Leonard Seppala, who captured the title in the first event of its kind held at the Lake Placid club, New York. He is well known for his sensational dash carrying serum in the Alaskan epidemic. (Paramount)

AN EMPEROR IN OXFORD BAGS—The young ex-Manchu emperor, Hsuan Tung, dressed in smart London togs. The youthful Chinese is attending college in Great Britain. (International)

MISSING PILOT — Lieutenant Ted Mosely pilot of the plane which was lost while carrying news reels of President Coolidge's reception at Havana from Daytona Beach, Fla., to eastern points. (Associated Press)

A NEW BROADCAST — He's "Mr. John J. Rattlesnake," who hissed into the microphone his story of what transpired at the Garden of Eden. The event was staged in honor of M. Georges Chapelle, noted European expert on reptilian life, who visited America. (Herbert)

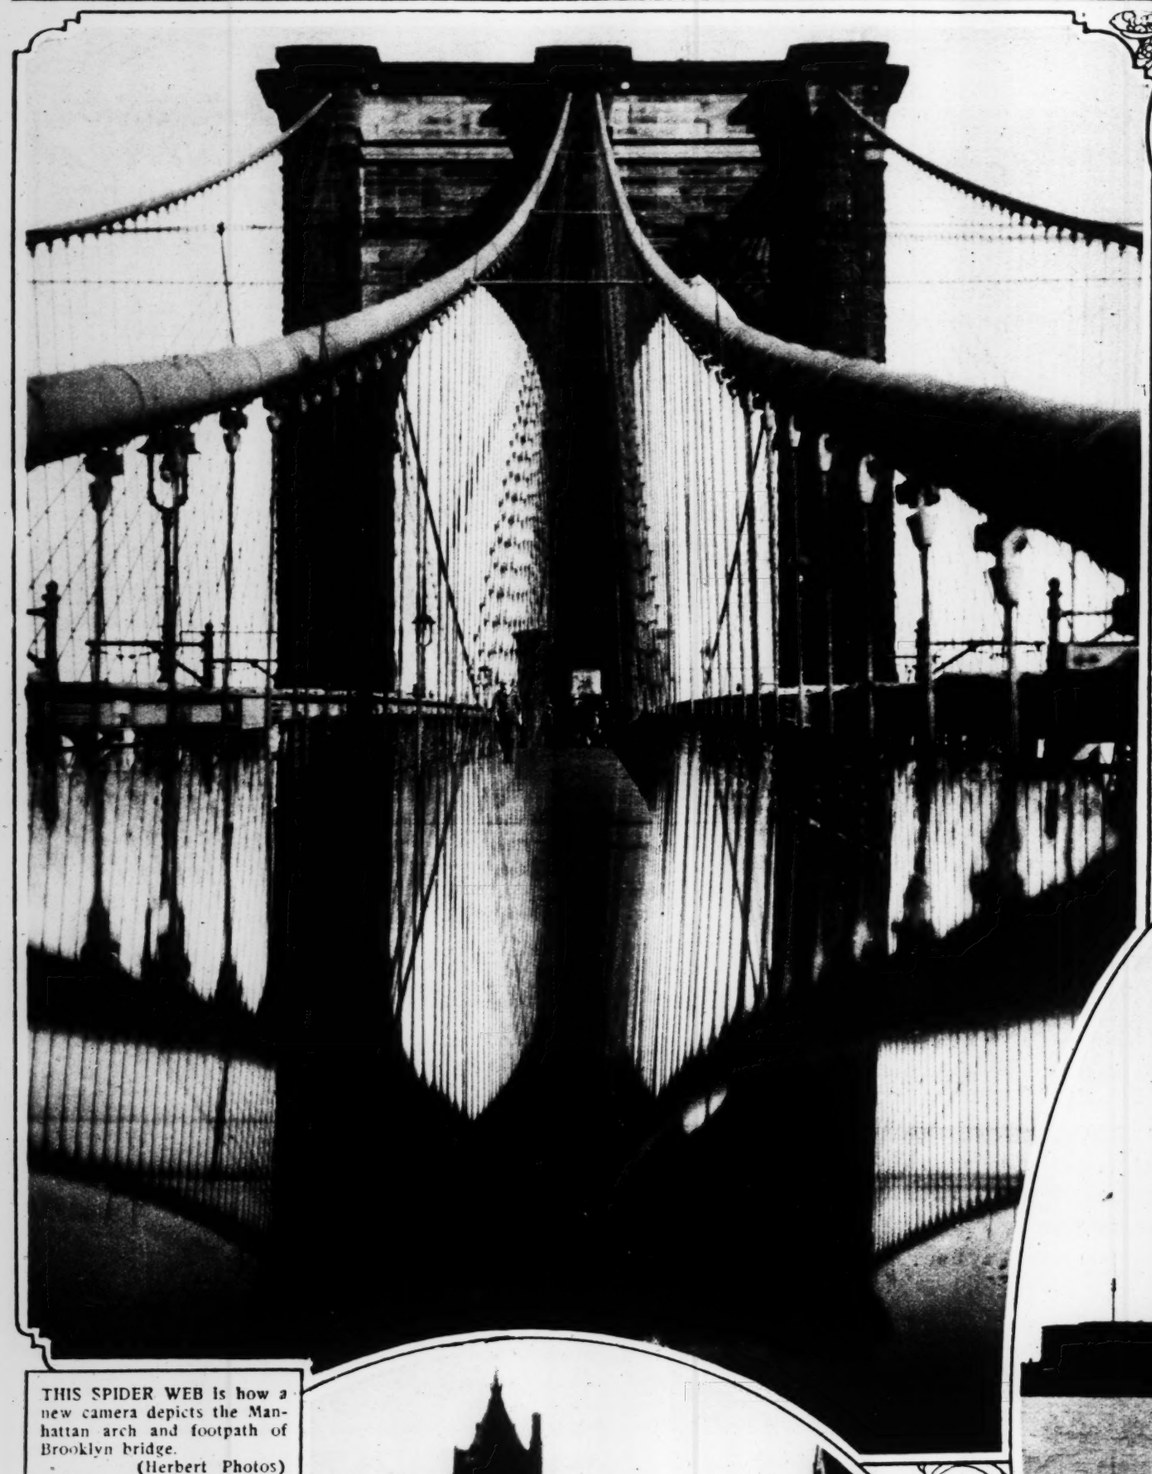

(Right) WELCOMED TO UNITED STATES—William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish Free State, photographed on his arrival in New York on the Homeric. (Paramount)

PROTECTED!—Joseph Cox, of Richmond, Va., star player on the Hampden-Sydney college football team, underwent an operation which made playing hazardous. This specially built nose and head covering was designed for him and he's all set for the coming grid season. (International)

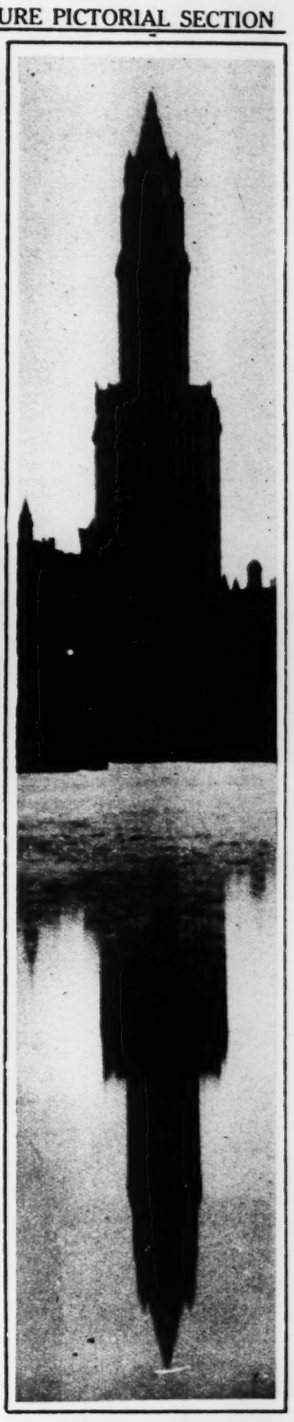

Reflections on Little Old New York

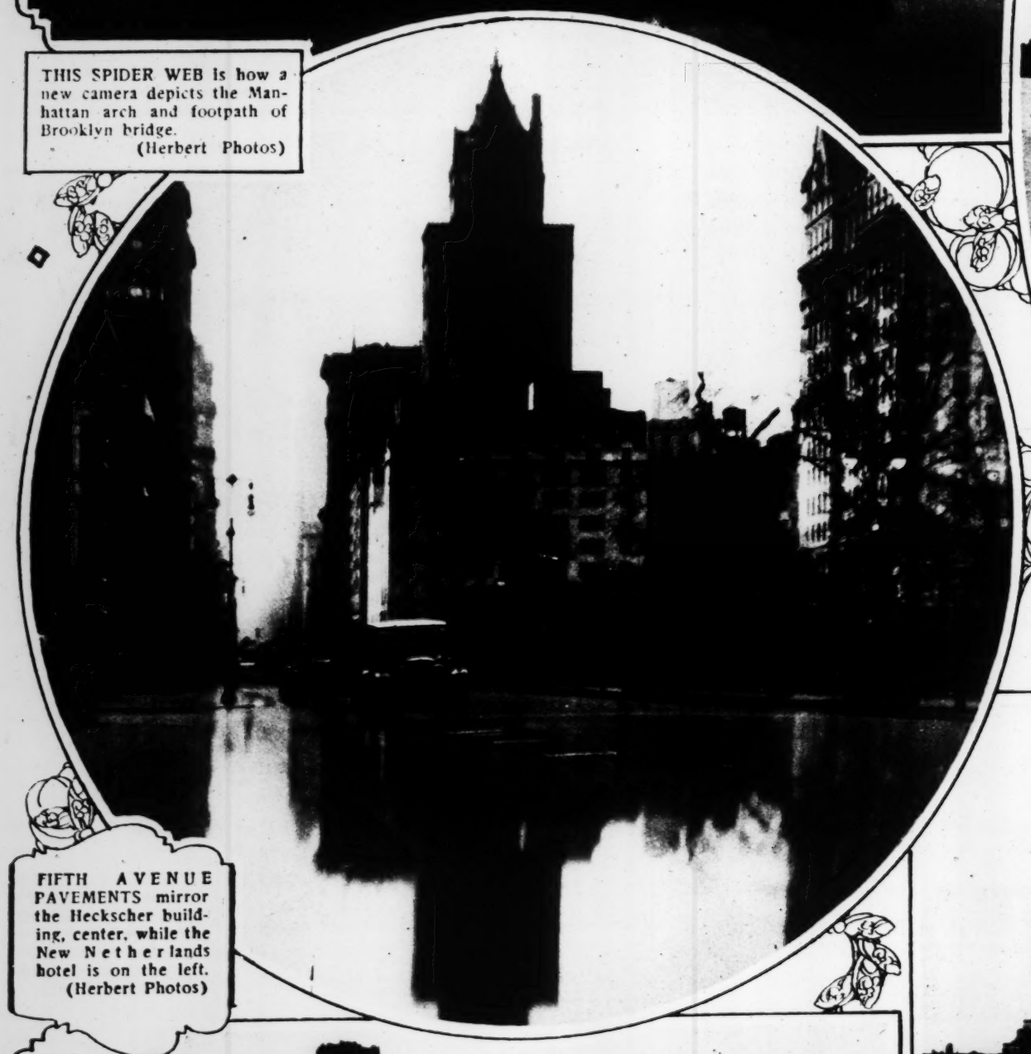

THIS SPIDER WEB is how a new camera depicts the Manhattan arch and footpath of Brooklyn bridge. (Herbert Photos)

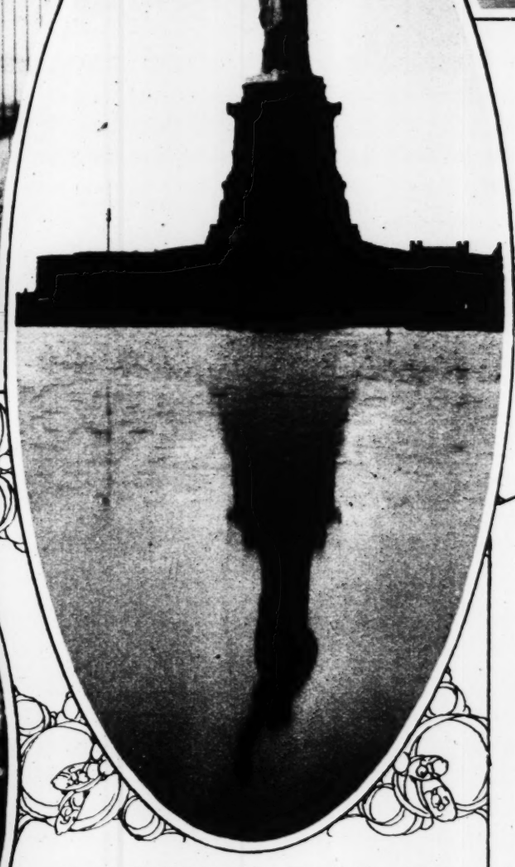

THE LIMPID PAVEMENTS, which react to Brooklyn's monument to the boys of '61, are made sensitive by a novel photographic device. (Herbert Photos)

A NEEDLE OF THE SKY towers above a dual image in the water. The Woolworth building here seems to belie its massive proportions. (Herbert Photos)

FIFTH AVENUE PAVEMENTS mirror the Heckscher building, center, while the New Netherlands hotel is on the left. (Herbert Photos)

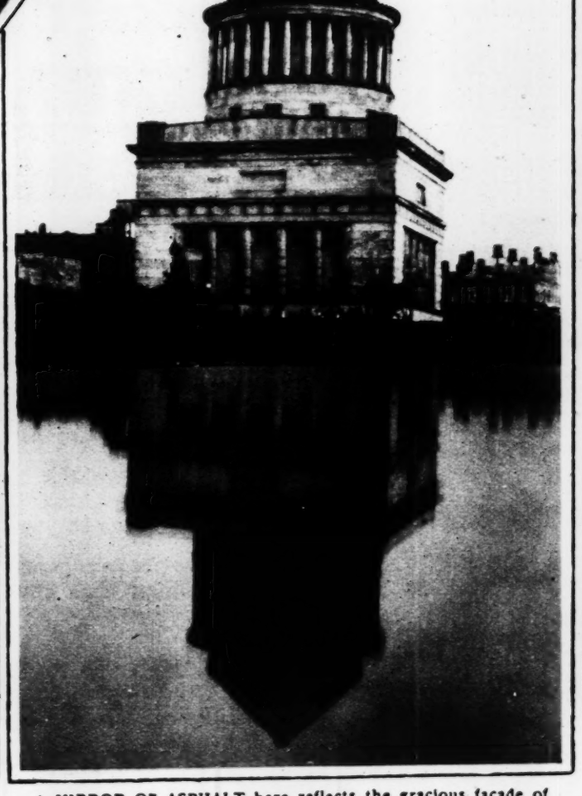

THE LADY OF THE LIGHT projects a clearly defined shadow across the harbor. (Herbert Photos)

THE MAINE MEMORIAL overlooks the Columbus Circle entrance to Central Park. Notice its reflection in the street. (Herbert Photos)

THE RIVER SIDE OF THE CANYON, as glimpsed from the harbor. The placid water in the near-foreground reflects the sentinel-like towers of lower Broadway. (Herbert Photos)

A MIRROR OF ASPHALT here reflects the gracious facade of Grant's tomb. This novel photo was made with the aid of a device perfected by a Herbert Photos staff man.

INTERIOR VIEW OF NEW JUNIOR LEAGUE TEA ROOM—An architect's drawing of the attractive Junior League tea room, showing the many beauties of the establishment at 91½ Peachtree street. It was designed by Cooper & Cooper, prominent Atlanta architects.

NEW JUNIOR LEAGUE TEA ROOM MODEL ONE.

One of the most artistic institutions of its kind in the south and one that is entirely new in architecture and appointment is the Junior League tea room at 91½ Peachtree street, operated by young society women of Atlanta. Proceeds of the tea room are devoted by the Junior League to maintaining 10 beds in the Henrietta Egleston Hospital.

Thanks to the Junior League

We thank the Junior League for calling upon us to help furnish the groceries and produce for the

New Junior League Tea Room
91½ Peachtree St.

We assure them of our full cooperation and support. Their enterprise is a worthy, charitable cause.

CEFALU & COMPANY
You Know Our Quality — The Best of Everything
WALNUT 5882-5883-5884 77 ALABAMA ST., S. W.

Congratulations to the Junior League
Upon Opening Their New Tea Room
91½ Peachtree St.
WE ARE GLAD TO HAVE BEEN GIVEN THE PRIVILEGE TO COOPERATE WITH THEM
H. L. Singer Co.
Wholesale Fancy Grocers of Atlanta
21 Haynes St. MAin 2600

Congratulations to the Junior League Girls who are conducting their new Charity Tea Room at 91 1-2 Peachtree St.

We Are Indeed Glad to Serve Them With Our High-Grade Meat and Produce
Kistner Market
29 Broad St., S.W. WA. 2070

At the New
Junior League Tea Room
91½ Peachtree St.
The splendid menu includes poultry and eggs from R. L. Warren.
Because of the constant assurance of the best of fowl and service, the Junior League and other of Atlanta's most desirable clientele have come to us.
We thank the Junior League for the honor of serving them and feel sure that their charitable efforts will be well rewarded by splendid patronage.
R. L. Warren
WHOLESALE POULTRY AND EGGS
195-7 Edgewood Ave., S. E. IVy 1503-4

Gray Hair
ENDED—Test Free
THROW away messy, old-time, "crude dyes." They are dangerous and noticeable. Call back natural shade by clear, colorless liquid combed through hair. Does not work off. Leaves hair live looking and lustrous. Keeps easy to curl. May supply only to parts.
Test free — or get bottle at drug store. Few cents' worth is sufficient. Money back if not amazed.
1 You try it first on a single lock of your hair to see what it does. Thus have no fear of results.
2 Then simply comb this water-like liquid through your hair. Clean . . . safe. Takes only 10 minutes.
3 Arrange hair and watch color gradually creep back. Restoration will be perfect and complete.
TEST FREE
Mary T. Goldman, 1858 Goldman Bldg., St. Paul, Minn.
Check color: Black....dark brown....medium brown....auburn (dark red)....light brown....light auburn....blonde....[Print name]
Name.....
Street.....
City.....
MARY T. GOLDMAN'S
Hair Col. Restorer

The Permanent Way
With Tricho System at your service, superfluous hair can be removed forever from any part of your body.
Treatments are painless and harmless, and the charges very reasonable. Lady operator in charge. Write for Free Booklet.
TRICHO SYSTEM of Atlanta, Inc.
IVy 3030

Capitola FLOUR
Is Used Exclusively
in the Kitchens of the
New Junior League Tea Room

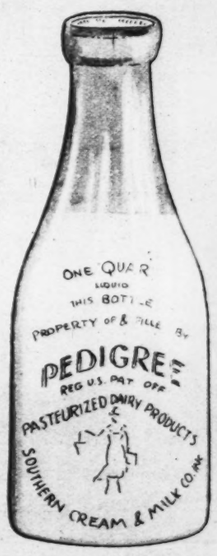

In presenting the newly located Junior League Tea Room at 91½ Peachtree Street, it is known that one of the essential parts in the preparation of their splendid cuisine is Capitola Flour.
We are exceedingly proud of the reputation our product has gained, and are glad to have been called upon by the Junior League to furnish Capitola for their Tea Room.
The Junior League work is a creditable undertaking and merits the hearty patronage of the public.
ATLANTA MILLING CO.

Folks Prefer KINGAN'S Products
That's why we have been privileged to supply the New Junior League Tea Room
At the new Junior League Tea Room at 91½ Peachtree Street will be served the famous meat products of Kingan & Company.
The worthy and charitable cause that has prompted the Junior League girls to sponsor this splendid Tea Room should receive your hearty cooperation.
It will receive our ever prompt and notable attention, and we trust that your patronage will be bountiful.
KINGAN & Co.
153 Alabama St., S. W.
Phone WAlnut 3776

Silverman's BREAD and Rolls are on the Daily Menu at the New Junior League Tea Room at 91½ Peachtree St.
In making a selection of the best bread for patrons of the Junior League Tea Room, Silverman's was chosen. We appreciate the honor serving this notable charitable organization.

Visit the New Junior League Tea Room. It is deserving of your support and patronage.
Silverman's Bread The Toast of The Town
SANDWICH - PLAIN - RYE
At all Independent Grocers and Delicatessens
444 Marietta St., N. W. IVy 7232

Pedigree Milk and Cream used Exclusively in the
Junior League Tea Room
Newly Located at 91½ Peachtree St.

Such an organization operated in behalf of many charitable institutions and also serving its customers with the very highest grade products, should merit the cooperation of everyone.
Pedigree Dairies, Inc. has been called upon to supply the milk and cream which is to be used in the tea room and it is our utmost pleasure to give this organization the complete and wholehearted support of our company.
Pedigree Dairies Inc.
165 Haynes St. MA..3453

Seemingly safe with teeth so white YET...

Many, many people while in the heyday of life are relegated to the background — unwilling spectators who have surrendered health to the disease of neglect (Pyorrhea). This grim enemy attacks the unwary.

4 Out of 5 Pay This Price

Although teeth may be clean and glistening white, the gums break down. When this occurs, Pyorrhea poison moves through the system, often causing stomach disorders and such serious troubles as anemia, neuritis, and facial disfigurement. And according to the figures of famous dental clinics, the toll of this disease of neglect is 4 persons out of 5 after forty, and thousands younger. These odds are unfair. Because it is so easy to keep teeth white and at the same time protect health against Pyorrhea.

More Than A Toothpaste

Just follow this simple regime: See your dentist once every six months. Have him examine teeth and gums thoroughly. And start using Forhan's for the Gums today.

Without the use of harsh abrasives, this dentifrice keeps teeth clean and pearly white. It protects them against acids which cause decay.

And moreover, if used regularly and in time, it helps to keep gums firm and healthy. As you know, Pyorrhea seldom attacks healthy gums.

The formula of R. J. Forhan, D. D. S., this dentifrice is compounded with Forhan's Pyorrhea Astringent, the preparation used by dentists in the treatment of Pyorrhetic conditions. It helps to protect precious health. When used as a massage for exercising gums daily it keeps them sound and healthy.

It is folly to wait for flashing signals, for gums to bleed and recede from teeth, for teeth to loosen in their sockets. Prevention is the sensible course.

Morning and night, every day, brush teeth and gums with Forhan's for the Gums. Teach your children this good habit. They'll like the pleasant taste of Forhan's. And it is the means of safeguarding health, beauty, and youth. At all druggists—in tubes, 35c and 60c. Forhan Company, New York.

If gums bleed easily, if they are tender, apply Forhan's. With the index finger vigorously rub with a circular motion the upper gums, both inside and out, until they feel invigorated. Then massage lower gums. Do this regularly and gums will soon become firm and sound.

With your thumb and forefinger massage the gums both inside and out and the roof of the mouth as well. Massage until you feel the pleasant tingle of increased blood circulation.

Your gums should always look like this—even, sound and healthy. Keep them so by exercising them. Twice daily, massage them with Forhan's for the Gums—the dentifrice that safeguards the health of the gums and cleanses teeth.

We Were Right. More and more people are realizing the importance of oral hygiene. Every morning and every night, they use Forhan's Antiseptic Refreshment. It prevents mouth, nose and throat from infection. It keeps breath sweet and fresh. It is safe, effective and pleasant. Try it.

Forhan's for the gums

YOUR TEETH ARE ONLY AS HEALTHY AS YOUR GUMS

HARMONY of materials and colors marks this Doris Reid three-piece outfit for sports wear. Skirt and blouse are of beige flat crepe and the coat is Worumbo. (Styles Service Syndicate)

LEAFY SPRING EFFECT — Beautifully adapted to the vernal season is this design of black on a ground of cream. An onyx buckle and diamond inset add a Doris Reid effect. (Styles Service Syndicate)

THE EVENING FROCK—Modeled by Fay Webb, beautiful screen star, this bouffant frock is of pink taffeta trimmed with pleated flowers of lavender. The skirt is much shorter at the front than at back.

For Milady's Smart Wardrobe

Here are presented the latest in spring apparel for the well-dressed woman. The designs are American and the beautiful costumes are modeled by glorious American girls.

AN INTRIGUING SPORTS COSTUME—It is of black and white flat crepe combining with pepper and salt cashmere kasha jersey to give smartness. (Styles Service Syndicate)

ON A NATURAL GROUND, Doris Reid has imposed queen blue and maize trim, enhancing the simplicity of line treatment in the straight bodice and box-pleated skirt. (Styles Service Syndicate)

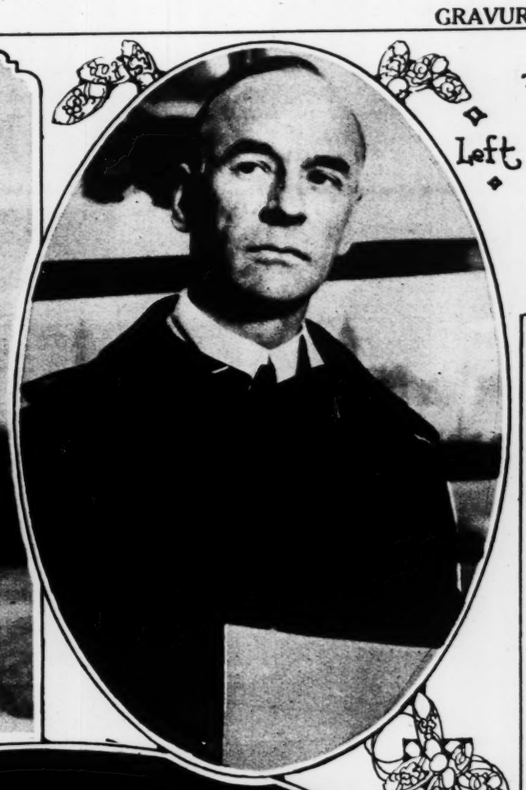

FOR THE EVENING MODE this gown in pink taffeta and tulle is tastefully suited. A close-fitting bodice and full skirt endow simple lines with a subtle charm. (Styles Service Syndicate)

A BEIGE CASHMERE JERSEY, geometrically trimmed in orange and brown, gives this novel costume for tea time or sport wear. The bone buckle and red slash in front lend smart touches. (Styles Service Syndicate)

Left

FROM LEVIATHAN TO ATLANTA — Captain Herbert Hartley, pilot of the Leviathan for the past five years and a follower of the sea for 35 years, has quit his post aboard ship.

(Underwood & Underwood)

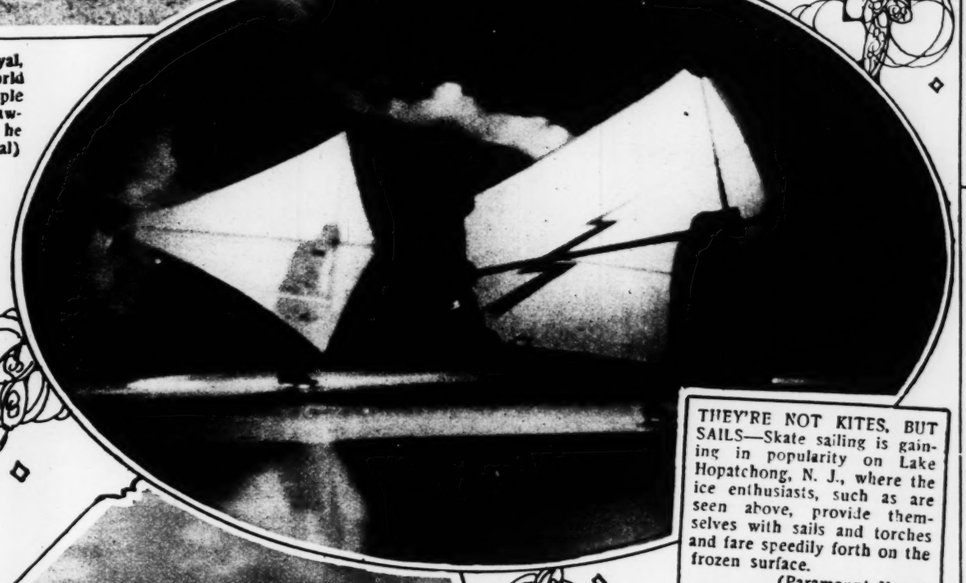

John Westbrook, Jr.
Will positively teach you to play the—
HAWAIIAN GUITAR
TENOR BANJO
UKULELE
GUITAR
By special arrangement you can complete a course in two months; no previous musical experience necessary.
Removed from our Cable Piano Co. studio to our NEW ADDRESS
Venecia Apts. No. 4
1073 W. PEACHTREE
Between 10th and 11th Sts.
Hem. 7724

TRY THIS ON YOUR SCOUT TROOP—Gordon Royal, member of Kansas university tumbling team, set a world record for diving over the greatest number of people when he plunged breezily over 14 Boy Scouts in Lawrence, Kan. Imagine what might have happened if he had slipped—— (International)

A SOLON OF VIRGINIA—Mrs. Sarah Lee Fain, of Norfolk, is the first woman ever to head a major committee in the Virginia general assembly. She led the ticket in the primary and general elections while running for her third term, and has been appointed chairman of the house committee on schools and colleges.

THEY'RE NOT KITES, BUT SAILS—Skate sailing is gaining in popularity on Lake Hopatchong, N. J., where the ice enthusiasts, such as are seen above, provide themselves with sails and torches and fare speedily forth on the frozen surface. (Paramount News)

NO! NO! NO!—It is not Humpty-Dumpty climbing back on the wall, but Miss Doris Carlyn, of Brooklyn, wearing one of the new masks to keep her face from being burned by the sun's rays while taking a swim at Palm Beach. Fashion, it seems, has decreed that tan complexions are no longer desirable. (Herbert Studios)

"SMOKING GLOVES" ARE NEWEST—They perserve the hands, 'tis said. Anywzy they are the newest and, of course, are fireproof and employed only when smoking the finger-staining cigarette. At least, we hope they are only used for cigarettes—but you never can tell. (International Photo)

It's Easy to Lose Fat

Millions Are Telling About It

A great number of slender women are telling this story to others. They have done so for two decades. Now you see the results in every circle. Note how slenderness prevails. Excess fat is nowhere near as common as it was.

The story is this: "I took Marmola prescription tablets – four a day. No abnormal exercise or diet was required. New beauty came, new health and vitality. I ceased them when my weight came down to normal. Now I take Marmola only when I start to gain again."

Marmola contains a scientific discovery, based on wide research and thousands of experiments. Men thus found a substance which in the body turns food into fuel and energy, rather than into fat.

Marmola supplies that substance, plus other helps. The complete prescription is in every box, also the reasons for results. Thus you may know just why the good comes, and have no fear of harm.

Marmola has for 20 years brought priceless benefits to people over-fat. Those people have told the results to others, and the use has spread. Millions of boxes have been used to contribute to the slender figures of today.

Go try it for a little time and watch how the fat disappears. Then tell others about it, in kindness to your friends. It means a great deal to many. Go order before you forget it.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

MARMOLA
Prescription Tablets
The Pleasant Way to Reduce

MINER WINS MUSIC SCHOLARSHIP—Less than a year ago Fiorenzo Tassa, an Italian emigrant, landed in the Pennsylvania coal fields. He sang for his brothers of the pits at odd times until Geraldine Farrar heard of his voice. After hearing him sing, she suggested training. Wealthy Pittsburghers have made it possible for him to take a complete course of training. (Herbert Photos, Inc.)

CHAMBERLIN ON TOUR—The conqueror of the Atlantic and the blazer of the New York-to-Germany air trail is shown hopping off of a concrete road in his tiny biplane for a 30,000-mile lecture tour to boost aviation. (Paramount News Photo)

FIFTY YEARS OF SYMPHONY CONCERTS—Frank Damrosch, left; Walter Damrosch and Marie von Heimberg, who heard the first concert of the New York Symphony orchestra 50 years ago, are shown celebrating the golden jubilee of the organization.

BOY SCOUT SAVES CHILD—Doing a good turn daily was put into heroic effect by J. C. Rucker, of Alpharetta, Ga., below, when he saved Charles Erwin, 6, from his burning home near Alpharetta, with only the hair and the clothing of Charles scorched.

Mary Garden
ROUGE By RIGAUD-Paris

Rouge is the final touch of piquant charm milady lends to her individuality. Hence, it must be superior, choice and distinctive. You will find that Mary Garden ROUGE will delight you. It has ever been the choice of the most discerning. In 7 shades at 50c. Also, in 5 shades.

Mary Garden Poudre

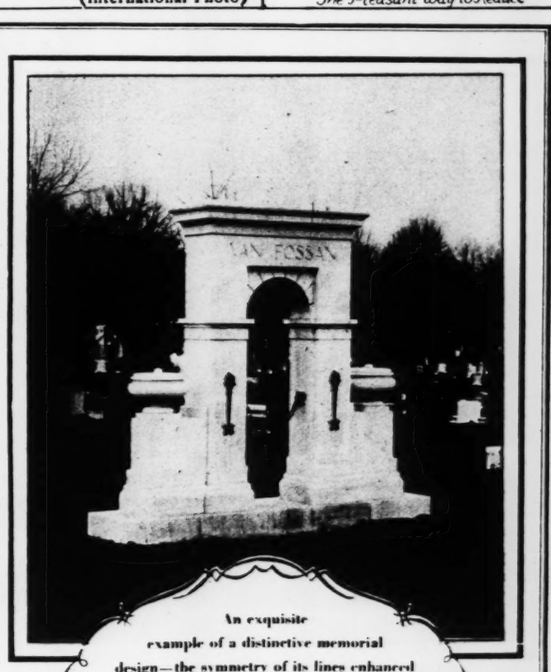

Corns
Relief in one minute
That's how instant is your relief from corn pain when you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads—the world's fastest, safest method. Zino-pads remove the cause—friction and pressure of shoes. Powerful liquids or caustic plasters ignore the cause—often leave the toes sore from acid burn. Zino-pads won't irritate the tenderest skin. At all drug, shoe and dept. stores—35c.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads
Put one on—the pain is gone!

Charming EYES instantly!
Touch your lashes with Maybelline. No matter how scant they may be, they will instantly appear much longer, delightfully luxuriant and dark. The lovely, rich fringe which Maybelline makes of your lashes will impart a striking new note of charm to your whole appearance, for it will transform your eyes into deep, shadowy pools expressive and noticeably beautiful. Used regularly by millions of women in all parts of the world. Insist upon genuine Maybelline because it is easier to apply, and is harmless.
Solid or Waterproof Liquid Maybelline, Black or Brown, 75c at all toilet goods counters
Maybelline
Eyelash Beautifier

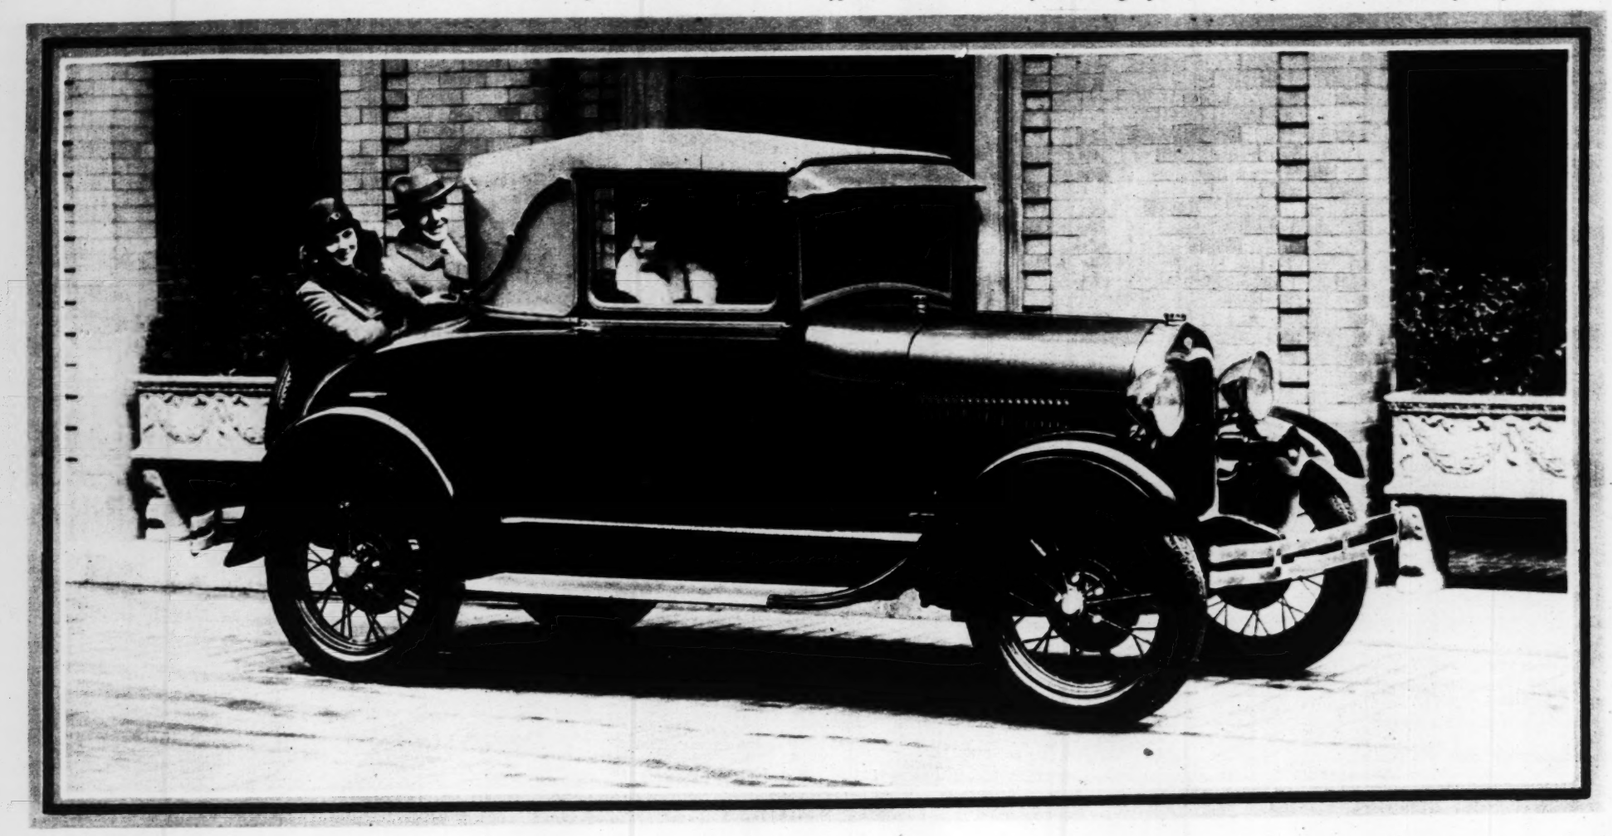

An exquisite example of a distinctive memorial design—the symmetry of its lines enhanced by the beautiful Georgia Marble of which it is carved

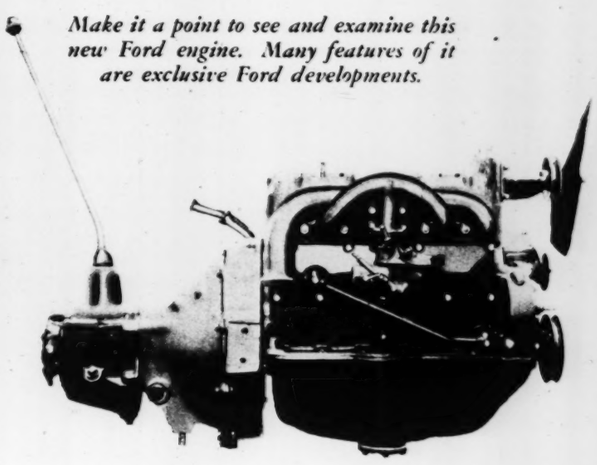

THE GEORGIA MARBLE CO.
TATE - GEORGIA

GEORGIA MARBLE

All the features of the new Ford cars are brought to you in this new Sport Coupe . . . beautiful low body lines and choice of colors . . . Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield . . . 55 to 65 miles an hour . . . 40-horse-power engine . . . remarkable acceleration . . . 20 to 30 miles per gallon of gasoline . . . Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers . . . four-wheel brakes . . . typical Ford reliability and long life . . . low first cost and low up-keep cost.

Make it a point to see and examine this new Ford engine. Many features of it are exclusive Ford developments.

The new Ford has a remarkable engine

Development of 40 horse-power at only 2200 revolutions per minute an example of fine automobile engineering

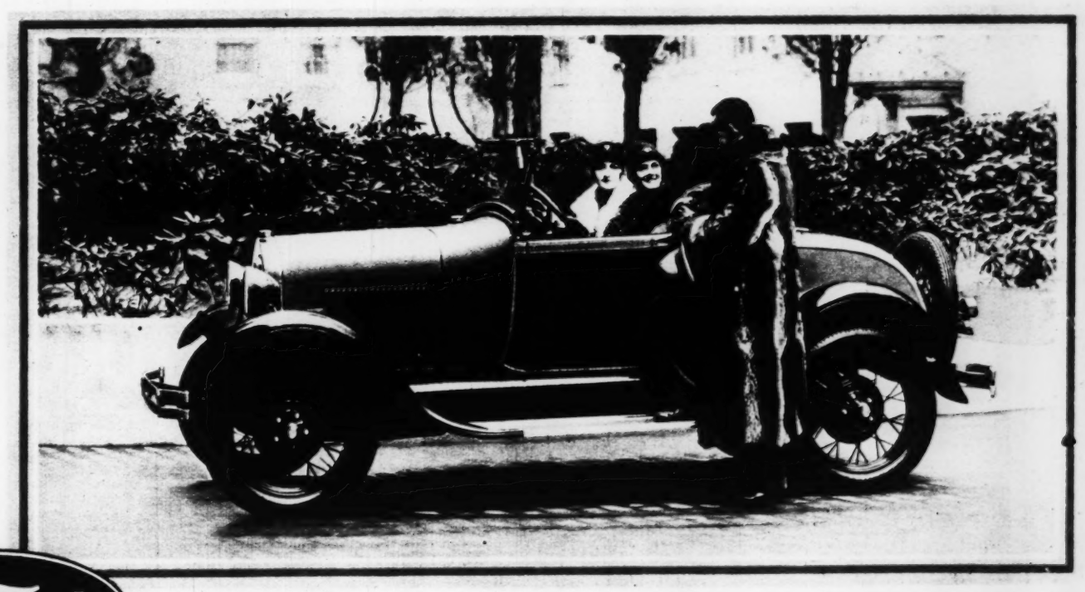

The four-cylinder engine in the new Ford represents a new development in modern automobile engineering. It is unique in design and performance because it develops 40-brake-horse-power at only 2200 revolutions per minute.

This means you can do 55 to 65 miles an hour in the new Ford and yet you do not have a high-speed motor.

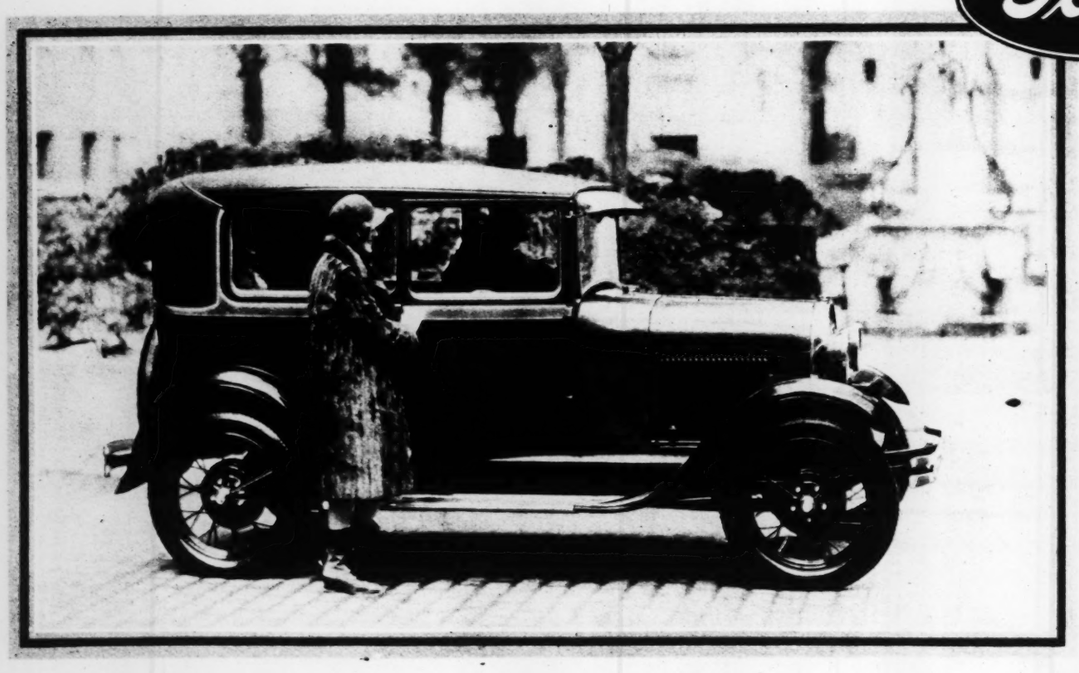

The low r.p.m., or revolution speed, also means greater efficiency and longer life because the lower the speed of your engine, the less the wear on its parts.

Some of the factors which have contributed to this power are the specially designed carburetor, the new hot spot manifold, larger valve diameter, the carbon chrome nickel alloy valves which resist the oxidizing and scaling effect of hot gases, the shape of the combustion chamber which helps to insure higher compression and complete explosion of the gas, the aluminum pistons, the 63-pound fly-wheel, the heavy crankshaft which is statically and dynamically balanced, and built to withstand a twisting stress up to 60,000 inch-pounds, the five-bearing camshaft, and the newly designed exhaust system which minimizes back pressure.

The fine limits of measurement in the new Ford cars are shown in the diameter of the piston pin, which is held within three ten-thousandths of an inch (.0003). An even closer limit is maintained in the diameter of the hole into which the piston pin is fitted. Here the limit of tolerance is two ten-thousandths of an inch (.0002).

Low, smart and fleet is the new Ford Roadster—a car for Youth and the Country Club. Your choice of a number of beautiful two-tone color harmonies.

The new Ford is the complete car, giving you everything you want or need in a modern automobile. Standard equipment includes five steel-spoke wheels, four 30 x 4.50 balloon tires, windshield wiper, speedometer, cowl gasoline gauge, dashlight, mirror, combination stop and tail light, oil indicator rod, complete tool set, theft-proof coincidental lock, pressure grease gun lubrication, and Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

Ford

All of this may sound a bit technical, but there is nothing complicated about the engine in the new Ford. It has been designed for reliability and long life as well as speed and power. There is, in fact, no automobile engine so simple in construction as the engine in the new Ford, yet so capable and efficient in operation. "Make it better—make it simpler" has always been the policy of the Ford Motor Company. This policy has been carried forward to new heights in this new car.

A further indication of the efficiency of the engine in the new Ford is shown in its smooth, quiet running at all speeds. It is practically vibrationless, because of its low r.p.m. and the many mechanical improvements that have been built into it. To insure quiet, the timing gears are made of bakelized fabric instead of metal and the cams on the camshaft are so designed that the valve push rods follow closely, preventing valve clicking.

These are but a few of the many reasons for the speed and power of the new Ford—for its quick acceleration—for its reliability, low up-keep cost and long life—for its alert, capable performance under all conditions.

Arrange now to see this new Ford and know the thrill of driving it. You will know then that it is not just a new automobile—not just a new model—but the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern. economical transportation.

The Roadster sells for $385; the Phaeton for $395; the Coupe for $495; the Tudor Sedan for $495; the Sport Coupe for $550; the Fordor Sedan for $570. (Prices F.O.B. Detroit.)

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

Detroit, Michigan

© 1928, Ford Motor Company

STANDARD GRAVURE CORPORATION, LOUISVILLE, KY

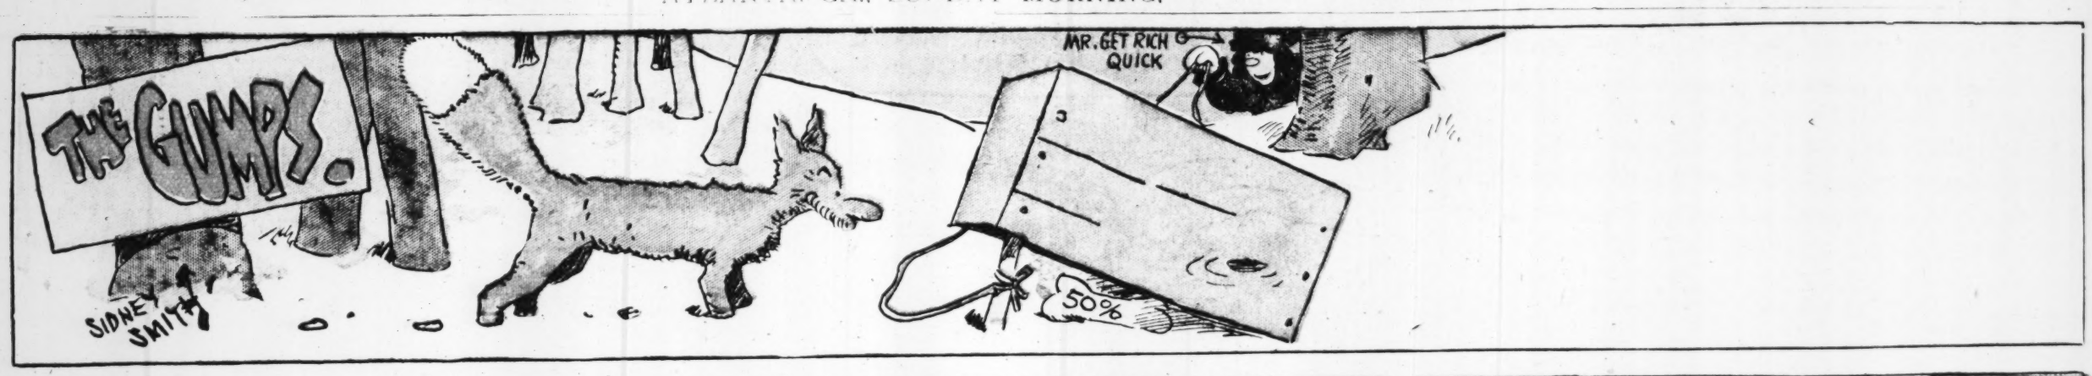

8 PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

1st COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY [illegible], 1922

Little Orphan Annie

SEA OF LIFE

HAROLD GRAY

'S ALL RIGHT, SANDY- THOSE BIRDS'LL NEVER GET YUH 'LESS YER SINKIN'- WHAT'S TH' USE O' WORRYIN'? LONG AS YER KEEPIN' AFLOAT YUH'VE ALWAYS GOT A CHANCE-

SICKNESS

HUNGER

HOPE

POVERTY

HM-M-M- PULSE A LITTLE FAST AN' SOME TEMP-TURE- BUT YOU JUST TAKE IT EASY, HELEN, AN' KEEP WARM AN' YOU'LL COME OUT ALL RIGHT-

TH' DOC. SAID A TABLE-SPOON FULL EVERY HALF HOUR, SO HERE GOES-

THAT'S TH' STUFF, HELEN- NOW DOWN TH' HATCH- I KNOW IT TASTES AWFUL, BUT TH' STUFF THAT TASTES TH' WORST DOES TH' MOST GOOD, SEEMS LIKE-

ALL RIGHT, YOU TWINS- BILL, GRAB TH' BROOM- AN' YOU GET TH' DUST CLOTH, BOB- WE'VE GOTTA KEEP THIS PLACE REAL CLEAN AN' TIDY-

POOR HELEN- DOC SAYS IT'S A TOUCH O' TH' FLU- SHE'S REALLY AWFUL SICK, BUT SHE DOESN'T KNOW IT AN' I'M NOT GOIN' TO TELL HER-

LOTS O' TIMES, IF FOLKS KNOW HOW SICK THEY ARE, THEY WORRY 'EMSELVES LOTS SICKER- SHE THINKS SHE'S ONLY GOT A COLD- POOR KID-

ALL RIGHT, NOW- YOU FELLAS CAN TAKE THAT DIRTY DISH-WATER OUT AN' THROW IT OVER TH' FENCE- BUT BE CAREFUL- DON'T SPILL IT ON YOU-

I COULD HAVE DUMPED THAT WATER MYSELF, BUT I WANTED TO GET TH' TWINS OUT O' TH' WAY FOR A MINUTE-

NO NEED O' THEIR KNOWIN' WHERE I KEEP THIS OLD COFFEE POT- NO TELLIN' WHAT KIDS'LL SPILL BEFORE STRANGERS- BUT IF THEY DON'T KNOW THEY CAN'T CRACK ANYTHING-

IT'S NOT VERY MUCH, SANDY, BUT IT'S ALL WE'VE GOT- WE WERE JUST BEGINNIN' TO GET ALONG PRETTY GOOD- BUT NOW WITH SICKNESS, AN' A DOCTOR COMIN'- GEE- BUT IF HELEN ONLY GETS O.K. I DON'T CARE IF IT COSTS A MILL-YUN-

L'SEE, NOW- GOTTA PUT FOUR DOLLARS AWAY EACH WEEK FOR TH' RENT- AN' I'VE GOTTA KEEP OUT SOME FOR PAPERS- AN' THERE'S GRUB TO BE BOUGHT- AN' TH' KIDS'LL NEED CLOTHES 'FORE LONG- BUT MEDICINE COMES FIRST OF ALL, RIGHT NOW-

GEE- NO MATTER HOW MUCH YUH MAKE YUH CAN ALWAYS FIND PLENTY O' PLACES FOR IT, I GUESS- BUT WHEN YUH ONLY MAKE A LITTLE, LIKE WE DO, YUH SURE HAVE TO FIGGER CLOSE TO KEEP HALF-WAY EVEN- BUT WORRY DON'T HELP- JUST KEEP PLUGGIN'- THAT'S TH' BEST WAY, I GUESS- EH, SANDY?

ARF!

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. | Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune

HOW TO CARVE- LESSON 27-

By INK

WHAT TIME DO YOU HAVE DINNER AT HOME?

SIX BELLS.

DO YOU SERVE?

YOU BETCHA-

YOU'VE CARVED A CHICKEN, I SUPPOSE.

WITH DIFFICULTY,- IT USUALLY SLIDES ALL OVER THE TABLE.

DO YOU WHACK OFF THE LEGS AND WINGS FIRST?

NO, NOT EXACTLY.- WHY?

WELL, IF YOU DO THAT THE CHICKEN WONT GET AWAY FROM YOU.

Smitty.

PA- I DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO- I CAN'T GET SMITTY AND HERBY TO CLEAN THE SNOW OFF THE WALK

WAIT- LEAVE IT TO ME- I'VE GOT A GOOD IDEA

SAY OFFICER- THE LAW SAYS EACH CITIZEN MUST KEEP THE WALK CLEAR, AM I RIGHT?

YER RIGHT

WELL, THERE'S TWO YOUNG FELLERS IN THERE THAT REFUSE TO CLEAN THE SNOW OFF

I'LL SEE ABOUT THAT

GET YOUR COATS ON AND GRAB A SHOVEL! THAT SNOW HAS TO BE REMOVED

YES'R YES'R

AND MAKE IT SNAPPY

YES'R YES'R YES'R YES'R

YETH THIR

DIG IN !!

HA! HA! LOOK AT THEM WORKING -- AND HOW

YESIREEE! I PUT A GOOD ONE OVER THAT TIME

PSST! C'MON SMITTY! BIG SNOW FIGHT DOWN AT THE OLD WAREHOUSE

I'M WITH YOU

PA- THERE'S A POLICEMAN AT THE DOOR AND HE WANTS TO SEE YOU

OH YES- THAT'S THE COP WHO'S HAVING THE SNOW REMOVED FROM OUR HOUSE

YOU SAID IT YOURSELF- THE LAW SAYS EACH CITIZEN MUST KEEP THE WALK CLEAR --

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1928,

BERNDT

JUST NATU'ALLY DUMB -

BY INK

NO, I HAINT GOING, WOULD YOU?

MY! OH MY! SUCH ENGLISH.

NOW WOTS WRONG?

"HAINT" — THERE AINT NO SUCH WORD.

WELL THEN AINT.

NO USE, YOU'RE DUMB. DO YOU KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT SYNTAX?

SYNTAX?? I'VE HEARD OF THE INCOME TAX AND LUXURY TAX, BUT I DIDNT KNOW THERE WAS A TAX ON SIN.

8 PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION COMIC SECTION

SUNDAY FEBRUARY 5, 1928

Mr. and Mrs.

By Briggs

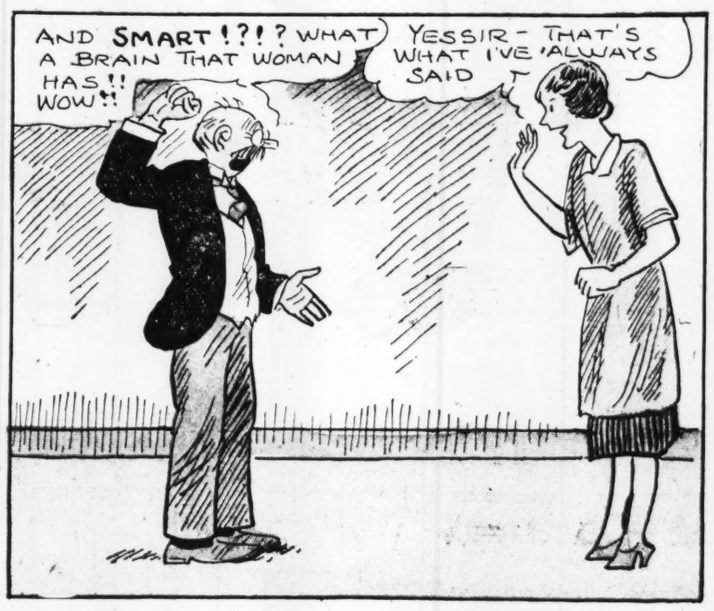

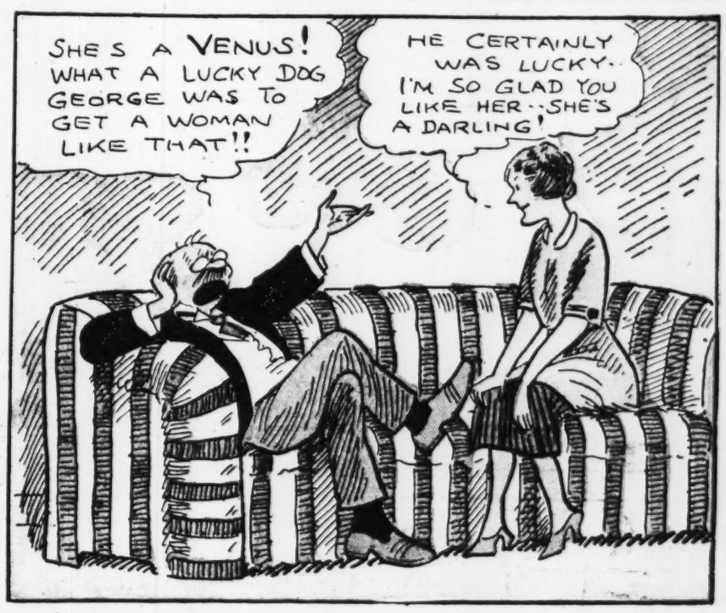

8 PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

2nd COMIC SECTION THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION 2nd COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1928.

Moon Mullins

YEAH- I HEARD THAT DAME SAY MOON WAS QUITE A WIT

WELL THE LADY WAS HALF RIGHT, KAYO. I WOULD SAY A HALF-WIT.

JOSEPH- FETCH THAT YOUNG FELLOW TO THE CAR—I WANT TO TAKE HIM HOME WITH ME- I HAVE SOME PAINTING TO BE DONE AROUND THE HOUSE

VERY GOOD, SIR.

EMMY'S GETTIN' LAZIER EVER' DAY— WHY DON'T SHE PAINT HER FENCE HERSELF?

SWELL JOINT YOU GOT HERE MISTER-UH- I DIDN'T GET YOUR NAME.

MR. McFEELEY IS MY NAME- MRS. McFEELEY SEEMS TO BE OUT- SIT DOWN AND WHEN SHE RETURNS SHE WILL SHOW YOU WHAT TO DO.

MY DEAR, I JUST SAW THAT REMARKABLE PORTRAIT SENOR PANATELLA DID OF YOU— IT IS BEAUTIFUL, WHY I HARDLY RECOGNIZED YOU- I WOULD GIVE ANYTHING TO MEET THE SENOR AND POSE FOR HIM.

MY DEAR MRS. McFEELEY I WILL PHONE HIM AND MAKE AN APPOINTMENT FOR YOU- BUT SENOR PANATELLA IS TERRIBLY TEMPERAMENTAL. HE ONLY PAINTS WHEN THE SPIRIT MOVES HIM.

OH- I DIDN'T EXPECT TO FIND YOU HERE SO SOON SENOR I AM MRS. McFEELEY YOU KNOW. I HAVE HEARD SO MUCH OF YOUR WONDERFUL PAINTING- NOW IF YOU WILL KINDLY EXCUSE ME WHILE I CHANGE MY COSTUME.

SURE WHAT DO YOU WANT ME TO PAINT?

WHAT?

YES, PAINT ME JUST LIKE I AM. I AM GOING TO THE FINE ARTS BALL AS "CLEOPATRA, QUEEN OF THE NILE" AND I WANT YOU TO PAINT ME IN MY COSTUME, SENOR.

O.K., SISTER YOU'RE TH' DOCTOR.

OH!

SMACK SMACK SMACK

BUT I WAS JEST WONDERIN' HOW YOU WAS EVER GONNA GET THAT PAINT OFF AFTER TH' BALL, MRS. McFEELEY-

OH!- YOU IMBECILE!! HOW DARE YOU?

WHAT A WOMAN- WHAT A WOMAN!

ES ZIS ZE HOME OF SENOR McFEELEY?

WELL, IF YOU CAN CALL A ROUGH HOUSE LIKE THAT A HOME, YES.

SENOR PANATELLA IS AT THE DOOR, MADAM!

WELL THROW HIM OUT!

CUANDO ELEGEMAS DELE A ESTE BOBO UN CASCIA EN LAR NARIS.

TELL 'EM I THINK TH' OLD MAN IS ONE TOO, KIDDO.

Willard

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.

GASOLINE ALLEY

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE LIVED IN THE OLD DAYS WHEN PEOPLE BELIEVED IN THE SEA SERPENTS AND SEA MONSTERS THEY PUT IN THEIR MAPS?

I PREFER TO LIVE NOW, WHEN WE KNOW THERE ARE NO SUCH THINGS.

AW I WOULDN'T BE AFRAID OF 'EM ANYWAY. I'D SAIL RIGHT OUT TO MEET 'EM.

BLOW THE WIND THE OTHER WAY UNCA WALT.

THERE'S ONE NOW, SKEEZIX - SEE HIM SPOUT WATER TWENTY FEET IN THE AIR!

IT'S LUCKY FOR YOU HE DIVED JUST WHEN HE DID.

HERE'S THE OLD BOY WHO MAKES THE WIND BLOW. NO USE TRYING TO SAIL AGAINST HIS BREATH.

THAT'S NEPTUNE WITH HIS TRUMPET. HE'S BOSS OF ALL THE SEAS.

HERE'S ANOTHER KIND OF A SEA MONSTER. I WOULDN'T ADVISE YOU TO GET TOO NEAR HIM.

AND YOU CAN'T LAND ON SHORE- THOSE ARE FIERCE HARPIES READY TO TEAR YOU TO PIECES.

THAT'S A SEA SERPENT. THE SAILORS USED TO TELL ABOUT SEEING THEM AS LONG AS HALF A DOZEN SHIPS.

THAT'S A MONSTROUS SEA HORSE - WITH A FEW IMAGINATIVE ADDITIONS.

OLD NEPTUNE CAN BLOW SHIPS AND BOATS AROUND HIMSELF WHEN HE WANTS TO.

YES, THE SAILORS WOULD COME HOME WITH WILD TALES AND THE PEOPLE WOULD BELIEVE EVERY WORD OF THEM.

I'D LIKE TO LIVE IN THE OLD DAYS IF FOLKS WOULD BELIEVE THE STORIES I CAN TELL.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1928, by The Chicago Tribune.

WINNIE WINKLE

HEY POP - GET THEM LETTERS OUT'A TH' WAY, WILL YA ??

I CAN'T! THAT'S TH' HEADING FOR THIS PAGE!

WHERE YA GOING, PERRY?

SLEIGH-RIDING - TH' SNOW IS GREAT, POP!

I WILL, PERRY, AFTER I FINISH DOING SOMETHING FOR MA !! COME BACK FOR ME !!

COME ON ALONG! I'M GOIN' BELLY-WHOPPIN' DOWN TH' HILL!

OH, BOY!

ALL RIGHT, POP! I'LL BE BACK IN A FEW MINUTES !! WHEEEEEE!

GUESS I'LL GIT BUNDLED UP AN' GO SLEIGH-RIDIN' WITH PERRY!

ARE Y'LOSIN' YER MIND, RIP?? THERE'S LOTS OF WORK Y'COULD DO HERE INSTEAD OF INDULGING IN CHILDISH PLAY !!

WONDER WHY PA DOESN'T HURRY OUT? HE SAID HE'D GO SLEIGH-RIDING WITH ME !! HEY, PA !!

MAYBE HE'S AROUND IN BACK OF TH' HOUSE! I'LL LEAVE MY SLED HERE AND GO LOOK FOR HIM!

HEY, PERRY, DON'T WAIT FOR ME — I'M NOT GOIN' — WHAT TH'—— ??

HEY!

BLUB BLOB

OOOH!

OH, HERE YOU ARE, PA! I'VE BEEN ALL OVER LOOKIN' FOR YOU! AIN'TCHA COMIN' OUT SLEIGH-RIDING ??

BR-R-R-R-!! NO!!

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.; Copyright, 1928.

BRANNER.

LA LA - HE SINGS LIKE A BIRD, - JUST LIKE AN OSTRICH -

DID YOU EVER HEAR JACK SMITH SING? YOU BET.

HASN'T HE AN AWFUL VOICE? YOU BET.

HE NEVER COULD SING. HE USED TO SING IN MY CAFE.

HE DID? WHY, HE DROVE THE TRADE AWAY, DIDN'T HE? NOT AT ALL! HIS VOICE BOOSTED BUSINESS -

HE DROVE PEOPLE TO DRINK.

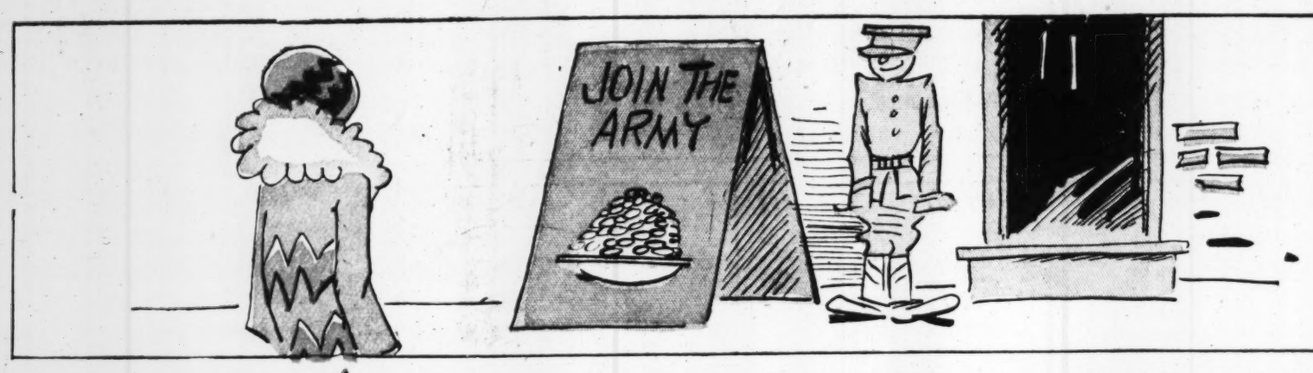

8 PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

2nd COMIC SECTION

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

2nd COMIC SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 5, 1928

SOMEBODY'S STENOG

by A·E·Hayward

Registered in U. S. Patent Office

